STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

A comparison of the tax levies for various purposes in Idaho county seat towns from the years of 1913 and 1930 discloses some highly interesting information that should be valuable in assisting the general public to a more comprehensive picture of the taxation problems now confronting us.

The highest total ad valorem tax in 1930, per each $1000 of assessed valuation, was levied in Dubois, Clark County, the amount being $96.70. It is noteworthy that of this total, $67.90 was levied for city purposes. Since Clark county had not been created in 1913, no figures for Dubois are available for that year.

High Totals

Other high totals for 1930 were: Challis, Custer county, $85.50; Arco, Butte county, $81.80; Caldwell, Canyon county, $79.80; St. Anthony, Fremont county, $78.45; St. Maries, Benewah county, $77.20; Sandpoint, Bonner county, $77.07; and Emmett, Gem county, $76.20.

Lowest of the per $1000 valuation totals was $33.60, levied in Idaho City, Boise county, which has no independent school district.

Highest total tax increases for the 17-year period was in Challis, Custer county, where the levy mounted from $33 to $85.50; a net increase of $52.50. Other high net increases were: Caldwell, Canyon county, $42.30; Preston, Franklin county, $42; Sandpoint, Bonner county, $40.07; Council, Adams county, $39.05; Pocatello, Bannock county, $38.37; and Blackfoot, Bingham county, $38.20.

It should be noted that in two county seat towns, Nez Perce, Lewis county, and Rupert, Minidoka county, taxes actually decreased during the period. The decrease in Nez Perce was from $46 to $39.80; in Rupert, from $57 to $54.50.

School Taxes

The highest increase in school taxes occurred in Sandpoint, Bonner county, where the school levy had a net gain of $24.50 during the 17 years. In the Cassia county seat (Albion in 1913 and Burley in 1930) the net gain was $21; the third highest net gain was in Challis, Custer county, where the increase was $20. The smallest net school tax increase for the period occurred in Nez Perce, Lewis county, where the levy per $1000 valuation mounted from $15 to $18—a net of only $3.

School taxes increased in every county seat town in the state during the 17-year period with the exception of Idaho City, Boise county, which has no independent school district and consequently had no special school taxes for either of the two compared years.

City Taxes Grow

The largest net gain in city taxes for the 17-year period was in Challis, Custer county. The increase was $29. Other heavy city tax increases were: Orofino, Clearwater county, $21; Preston, Franklin county, $18.50; and Grangeville, Idaho county, $18.

The highest levy for city purposes per $1000 valuation in 1930 was $69.90, levied in Dubois, Clark county. During this period when taxes of all kinds were increasing on every side, three Idaho county seat towns managed to lower their city levies. The city tax in Nez Perce, Lewis county, decreased from $21.50 to $4; in Rupert, Minidoka county, from $31 to $13.50; and in Idaho Falls, Bonneville county, the decrease was from $19 to $16.50.

County taxes increased during the period in every county with the exception of Challis, where the levy dropped from $17.30 to $17 per $1000 valuation. The heaviest increase was $17, in Oneida county, whose residents paid a county tax of $26 in 1930. Other heavy net increases in county taxes were: Coeur d'Alene, Kootenai county, $12.92; Nez Perce, Lewis county, $12.60; and St. Anthony, Fremont county, $11.89. Butte had the highest county levy in the state in 1930, $27.40 per $1000 valuation. The lowest county tax in 1930 was $7.80, in Lewis county.

The state levy increased in every county without exception during the 17-year period. Largest net increase per $1000 valuation were: Cassia county, $4.25; Blaine county, $4.10; Power county, $4.00; Bonner county, $3.92; and Custer county, $3.80. Highest state tax in 1930 was $7, the levy in Benewah county. The lowest state tax for the same year was $4, the amount required of property holders in Owyhee county.

Visiting Here

Jacob E. Gibson and family of Creston, Montana, arrived last Tuesday for a visit with friends and relatives in this section. They are visiting at his parents home, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Gibson, at Avon, and with his aunt, Mrs. Amelia Riley, near Kendrick.

Mr. Gibson says the crops are fine there, that fall rains have started and many farmers are plowing. It has been 4 years since Mr. Gibson's last visit here.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Told by his sweetheart that she was "too young" to marry him, Ivan Blair, 26, Post Falls, shot himself in the head and died at Coeur d'Alene, September 1.

Four killer bears which for several years ravaged bands of sheep summering in the Clearwater national forest near the Weitas ranger station and along Burn creek and Liz creek in Idaho county, were trapped and killed last week by Owen Morris, of the United States biological survey, and Ralph Burcham, cooperative hunter for the state and federal governments and county predatory animal boards.

Between 10 and 15 persons were missing at Laredo, Texas, Saturday night, after the collapse of two spans of the international railroad bridge during one of the greatest floods on the Rio Grande in the history of Laredo.

The September term of the district court was convened at Lewiston Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by Judge Miles S. Johnson. The calendar, which contains 90 civil action cases and three criminal, will be called and such cases set for trial as attorneys may designate.

A new land plane speed king was crowned Saturday at the national air races as Major Doolittle blistered over a three kilometer course at an average of 296.287 miles an hour, on the Cleveland, Ohio, air speedway.

The Labor Day holiday death toll was near 200, according to press reports of the day. Auto accidents, airplane smashes and drownings made up the large portion of the accidents.

A long feud over the attentions of one man to another's former wife, Monday, cost the life of Pete Melito, 40, and that of John Mauro, 30, his friend. Charles Potestio, who police said shot both men when he met them on a crowded downtown street, was booked on a charge of murder.

Mayor James (Jimmy) Walker, of New York City, resigned his mayoralship on Thursday of last week, following an investigation into the conduct of his office before Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt. In sending in his resignation Jimmy said: "I hereby resign as mayor of New York City, the said resignation to take effect immediately."

Nineteen were indicted by a federal grand jury at Spokane last week charged with violation of the federal liquor law, many of whom were residents of Wenatchee, Washington.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, in national encampment at Sacramento, Calif., reiterated their policy to fight for immediate full cash payment of adjusted service certificates and passed resolutions urging all ex-service men's clubs to join in coordinated effort to gain this objective.

Senator Borah said he had received "very encouraging" advice from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation board of directors in Washington that efforts will be made to reopen the First National Bank of Idaho in Boise and its nine affiliated banks in southwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon, which closed August 31.

Idaho Gets Large Check

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has authorized an advance of $300,000 to Governor C. Ben Ross of Idaho and $390,000 to Governor Dern of Utah.

Both loans are for destitution relief.

The loan to Idaho was to take care of current and emergency relief need principally in mining and lumbering regions where the board has been informed all activity has been suspended.

The federal funds, the corporation announced, will be used entirely for work relief wages on the basis of need.

The funds will be administered by the governor through the state relief committee.

MRS. AMOS MOORE LAID AT REST—WAS PIONEER

Julia D. Ingle was born in Manard County, Illinois, April 2, 1874 and passed away at her home on Bear Ridge, Wednesday, August 31, 1932, at the age of 58 years, 4 months and 29 days. During those precarious days of early pioneering, she came west with her parents and settled on the frontier of Bear Ridge in 1884.

She had been a sturdy pioneer woman, adding much to the advantage of community life—being one of the many individuals who have paved the way for the improvements and opportunities which the present generation may now enjoy and we owe much to the memory of these dear ones who have gone on to their reward, as they have proved to be a foundation for our Christian civilization and refinement.

She was married to Amos Moore July 23, 1893. There is left to mourn their loss, her widower, Amos Moore; one son, Charlie, and three daughters, Alta, Allie and Claribel, who are all at home; her father, Davis J. Ingle and two full brothers, K. D. and H. L. Ingle, all of Bear Ridge; Dwight Ingle, a half brother, at Mina, Minnesota; one sister, Mrs. Bryan Anderson of San Diego, California.

Interment was made at the Wild Rose cemetery on Bear Ridge.

"Shall We Gather at the River," was sung by the Misses Minerva and Daphenia Holm, in an out-door setting, their clear, sweet voices seemed to be whispering softly that all was well and she was at rest.

The pall bearers were Edward Lien, A. W. Jones, Ernest Jones, Lester McGraw, James Emmett and William Whybark.

She joined the Christian church 17 years ago, and remained a true and faithful follower to the end. She was a loving, devoted wife and mother and highly esteemed by all who knew her. She had been a long and patient sufferer, but The Loving Saviour had hovered about her with his Divine presence so that she might cling to him for comfort during those last and trying hours.

"Since She Went Home"

Since she went home,
The evening showers linger longer here.

The winter days fill so much of the year,
And even summer winds are chill and drear.

Since she went home,
The robin's note has touched a minor strain.

The old glad songs breath out a sad refrain,
And laughter sobs with hidden, bitter pain.

Since she went home,
How still the empty rooms her presence blessed!

Untouched the pillow that her dear head pressed!

My lonely heart hath nowhere for its rest,
Since she went home.

Since she went home,
The long, long days have crept away like years,

The sunlight has been dimmed by doubts and fears,
And the dark nights have rained in lonely tears.

Since she went home,
—Robert J. Burdette.

The above obituary prepared and written by Rev. A. E. Janes.

Bean Harvest On

Those farmers who have been cutting are very busy these days cutting them. While it is not thought the crop will be extra large, there have been some reports of a good crop, especially on the east slopes.

The market is dull at this time and few beans are moving from the Bean Growers warehouse.

Diligence is the mother of success.

BYRON DEFENBACH WILL SPEAK HERE SEPT. 12

Announcement has been made that Byron Defenbach, republican candidate for governor, will deliver an address in the Kendrick Theatre building at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 12, to which the entire community is invited.

Mr. Defenbach is not a "mud slinger" and can be listened to by those of other political faiths without fear of being told they are entirely wrong in such a way as to insult their intelligence. He intends to set forth his views in a way that will be clear to all and he asks that everyone who possibly can, come out and hear him at 2 o'clock, September 12, in the Kendrick Theatre.

May Now Smoke In Forests

The ban against smoking in the Clearwater, Selway and Nez Perce national forests was lifted Sept. 1. Supervisor E. H. Myrick of the Clearwater domain advised the Tribune. During the fire season smoking was restricted to established and marked camp sites.

The anti-fog regulation also has been abolished in the private forests under control of the Clearwater Timber Protective association, A. B. Curtis, Headquarters, fire warden, announced.

Unless unusual weather conditions develop, the forest fire hazard probably is eliminated for 1932, Myrick declared. Rainfall has been light in the forests, but heavy dews have fallen this week which should keep the woods damp enough to prevent fires. The storm on Monday left three inches of snow on the high mountains of the Clearwater forests.

Bear Seen On Big Bear Ridge

For once, at least, Big Bear ridge is living up to its name, for last Saturday a large black bear came out of the timber, ambled through a corn field and then down the road for a mile or two, having gone past the Leonard Daves place, where the tracks looked almost large enough for a young elephant. The animal was later seen in the Pine Creek section and several hunters got their gas-pipe guns and went in pursuit, but Mr. Bruin was evidently a good traveler and was not apprehended. The bear was also very evidently not hungry and in a good humor, seemingly just traveling about for exercise and to see the country.

Commercial Club Meeting Postponed

Owing to the fact that Byron Defenbach, candidate for the office of governor on the republican ticket, will be in Kendrick at the noon hour next Monday, it has been decided to postpone the meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club until Monday evening, September 19. It is planned to give a dinner at the Raby Hotel for Mr. Defenbach at noon on Monday, September 12, and it would be next to impossible for Mr. Raby to take care of two special dinners so close together, hence the postponement of the Commercial club meeting.

Wheat Coming In Slowly

Despite the fact that the wheat harvest is nearing an end, the warehouses report that deliveries to elevators and warehouses are slowing up and that the amount of grain coming in at this time is far short of that of last year at the same time.

The Vollmer-Clearwater company estimates they have taken in some 55,000 sacks and it is estimated that the Kendrick Rochdale company has taken in a similar amount, part of which is in bulk.

Marx Brothers at Kendrick Theatre

Of course you have heard of the four famous Marx Brothers in "Monkey Business" and several other of their famous funny pictures. Well, they will be at the Kendrick Theatre Friday and Saturday nights of this week in their funniest picture, "Monkey Business." It's a scream from start to finish. You know "A little foolishness now and then is relished by the best of men"—or sumpin'.

Underwent Operation

Willis Thornton, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton of Leland underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, Friday for perforation of the small intestines. General peritonitis set in and the lad was in a very serious condition at last report although it is said he has a chance for recovery if he continues to improve.

Made Fortune In Peas

According to a news dispatch sent out from Pullman, William Boyd, a Pullman section farmer, isn't complaining much about "General Prosperity" being just around the corner. He has already interviewed the "General", for he last week sold his pea crop from 785 acres to Joe Zebb, Moscow buyer, for $29,000 cash, out of which he had an even $21,000 net profit. It cost $8,000 to produce and harvest the crop.

WANT NEW HIGHWAY LINK TAPPING RIDGE

Asking for moral support in securing a state designation for the Kendrick-Southwick route as a farm to market road, a delegation of citizens from the Leland-Cameron-Southwick section met with the highway committee of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce Saturday, according to the Lewiston Tribune.

Ford Parks and George Wilkins, commissioners of the Leland highway district outlined the need for rebuilding the hill road between Kendrick and Cameron, the remainder of the route to Southwick and Cavendish being improved and surfaced. All of the route asked for designation except the Kendrick-Cameron link is now a part of the Arrow Cavendish highway, located in the extreme north of the county.

While not opposing a newly designated route from Kendrick to Cavendish via Linden and Crescent, all in Latah county, the delegation said that a small number of farmers would be benefitted with much of the route tapping timber lands. It was pointed out that between 400 and 500 farmers live on Potlatch ridge in Nez Perce county and that "all of these farmers want to haul their tonnage via Wauncher grade, which is now so steep and narrow that it is not practicable."

Parks said that highway districts bordering the new link would improve roads tapping it, especially from Leland. Wauncher grade link is now about 3.5 miles long and very rough, other stated, indicating that if the road were rebuilt to the top of the ridge it would probably be about six miles long. The distance from Cameron to Cavendish is about 10 miles.

Those at the meeting besides the local committee were Parks of Leland, Wilkins of Cameron, Tom King, Henry Brammer, Gus Ziemann and Daniel Ziemann, all of Southwick. The delegates expressed particular concern for the convenience of the eastern portion of the ridge in disposing of products, pointing out that the Latah county road via Crescent would bring no relief to the ridge.

Entertain at Birthday Party

The Roy Ramey home was the scene Monday evening, September 5, of a delightful birthday party, in honor of Mr. Ramey's — birthday, when a large group of neighbors and friends, invited in by Mrs. Ramey, gathered at their home, where a very pleasant evening of cards was spent.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. George Leith, Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rider, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Miss Rilla Davidson and P. C. McCreary.

Mrs. W. L. McCreary received high score for the evening.

Following play delicious refreshments were served, and the guests left, wishing Mr. Ramey many more happy birthdays.

Forest Fire Bugs Arrested

Six men are in the Clearwater county jail unable to furnish bail of $2,000 each for maliciously setting fires on state and privately owned timberland in August. They were arrested by State Fire Warden A. B. Curtis of Headquarters and taken to Orofino for arraignment before Justice John Scott. Each pleaded guilty.

Floyd Wisdom and Robert Reed confessed they started fires five miles east of Weippe on August 15. The blazes were discovered by rangers and extinguished before the flames could spread. Roy Wisdom, Delbert Wisdom, Abe Fiddler and Glenn Weeks acknowledged they started fires Aug. 15 six miles south of Pierce. The flames were confined in a small area by rangers.

GRAIN MARKET FIRMER—WORLD SHIPMENTS SMALL

Domestic grain markets strengthened during the week ending September 2, influenced by relatively light offerings of wheat and advances in cotton and security markets, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Unfavorable weather for harvesting and threshing in Canada, relatively light shipments from Russia and the Southern Hemisphere and the firmness at Liverpool were further strengthening influences in wheat.

Corn markets advanced on reports of new crop damage, but increased offerings reduced premiums on cash grains. Oats and barley held about unchanged. Rye was firmer with wheat but also influenced by a good cash demand at most markets. Flax was independently firm as a result of further damage to late-sown fields and an improved crusher demand.

WHEAT: Wheat harvesting is nearing completion in the Northern Hemisphere. Threshing returns from domestic spring wheat areas indicated smaller output than earlier estimates and trade reports the first of September placed the total crop about 15,000,000 bushels below the August estimate. Harvesting in Canada was interrupted by rain. Most of the wheat has been cut in Manitoba and Saskatchewan but a considerable portion of the crop remains to be harvested in Alberta. Harvesting and threshing is reported to be progressing very slowly in Russia.

An outstanding feature in the general wheat market situation this season is the slack European import inquiry for wheat, reflecting the larger supplies in importing areas. World shipments during August were unusually small and totaled only a little over 29,000,000 bushels, the smallest August world clearance since 1915.

Pacific coast wheat markets were steady, but prices failed to follow the advance at Eastern points. Harvesting was practically completed in Washington and Oregon but marketings continued very light. Receipts at terminals were largely deliveries on earlier contracts or shipments to terminals for storage. Receipts at Columbia river and Puget Sound terminals totaled 935 cars for the week, or about three-fourths of the number received during the corresponding week last year. In addition to the car receipts, 20,000 bushels were received at Portland by boat and about 15,000 bushels by truck. The quality of this season's wheat is well below a year ago, with only 21.4 per cent of the August shipments at Portland grading No. 1 compared with 40 per cent last season. 28.3 per cent graded No. 3 this year compared with only 13.3 per cent last season. Demand was of fair volume but was almost entirely from domestic mills. No export sales of wheat were reported since local prices were still well above the quotations on Canadian and Australian wheat in both the Orient and the United Kingdom markets. Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland September 2 at 62½¢, soft and western white at 54½¢, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 53½¢ per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. Western white and hard winter sold at Seattle at 55½¢, western red at 55¢ and hard white at 62¢, sacked. Montana No. 1 dark northern spring, was quoted at 74¢ per bushel in bulk.

California wheat markets held fairly steady with prices mostly unchanged. Trading was of limited volume at both San Francisco and Los Angeles, reflecting the slow demand from mills and industrial buyers. The low prices of feed barley, together with smaller poultry flocks, have reduced the demand for feed wheat this season. This has been reflected in a lighter market movement. Receipts at San Francisco, June through August, totaled 14,246 tons, compared with 31,147 tons a year ago. Of the August receipts at San Francisco only 3,900 tons were from Washington and Oregon, whereas 16,565 tons of northern wheat were received during August of last year.

Lack of selling pressure from exporting areas was a strengthening influence in world wheat markets during the week. Canadian wheat was offered freely but offerings from Argentina and Russia were light. Marketings of new crop wheat were also reported quite liberal in Germany and France. Prices of native wheat in Paris declined about 6¢ per bushel, while wheat at Hamburg advanced

Your Newspaper

The following was taken from a circular sent to retail merchants by a large wholesale house. The value of your local newspaper to the success of your business cannot be overestimated. It's worth all the support and cooperation you can give it. For the newspaper is a mirror reflecting the life of the community in which you and your store have an important part. Your advertisement is the reflection of your store in this mirror. Everybody sees it there. If it is not there, the mirror is dark where your store should be. You are there but you cannot be seen. Your store is open for business as usual, but "Out of sight; out of mind." To keep in step with the progress of your community; to get your share of business, you must advertise regularly. Take your newspaper publisher into your confidence; he can give you invaluable assistance. Establish an advertising budget. Plan a regular schedule for your advertisements. It's a policy that is followed by the most successful stores; it's an idea that will be profitable for you.

Think It Over

The public is now being regaled with the news that $10,000,000 will have to be raised to conduct the Hoover-Roosevelt battle for the presidency. In 1928 the two parties spent a total of $16,500,000.

When the politicians of both parties are telling how much money it will take to care for the needy people this winter, it looks like an economic crime to raise $10,000,000 to be spent by the two parties largely in black-guarding opposing candidates.

Let both parties, if they are sincere in their advertised desires to help the needy, donate their millions of campaign funds for relief work this winter. And let the people vote in a normal manner for their political choice, free from the high-pressure influence of a $10,000,000 slush fund.

Think About The Present

The past is nice to read about; the future is nice to dream about; but the present requires our action and we should not let the past and future monopolize our attention and make us forget our present duties and responsibilities.

THE LURE OF SPEED

Speed, while one of the blessings of modern life, is also one of its greatest curses. Applied to industry, transportation and commerce, it has advanced civilization to a point where life, while infinitely more complex, seems easier to live.

Yet the benefits of speed have been attended by serious disadvantages, especially as applied to the modern automobile. Statistics of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters show that 15 per cent of all automobile accident fatalities are caused by excessive speed. Last year 3,920 persons were killed and 76,5000 injured in 67,080 accidents because of it. What part of all the other accidents which happen daily can be attributed to speeding, is open to conjecture.

What then is a reasonable and fair speed? The answer is subject to change even as conditions are. James A. Beha, General Manager of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, says: "Police enforcement authorities should consider all speeds over 45 miles an hour on public highways as approaching the danger point. While in some cases it is not necessary to enforce discipline for speeds faster than that 45 miles an hour should be looked upon as a decent standard, departure from which may be considered as generally unreasonable."

It is pleasing to note that automobile manufacturers and makers of automobile equipment and accessories are joining forces with safety organizations to stress "safety" rather than speed as the goal to be obtained. Modern conditions have changed the attitudes of these manufacturers and for the lure of speed they are now substituting the concrete value of safety, in their advertising.

Skilful Railroading

A thrilling race between the fore and hind quarters of a freight train took place on a steep gradient near London, England, after the train broke in two. The engineer, fearing that the last half would crash into the front part and derail it, immediately put on speed, and for four miles there followed a breath-taking race to prevent a crash. Finally, the derelict cars came to a standstill on a level part of the track and the engine backed and hooked them on again.

It is quite fortunate for Dr. Jones that the citizens of Kendrick use their heads. Just because a Doctor runs in two days ahead of him, when he makes his regular visits here, is no sign our citizens are sheep. Most of them wait for our old reliable Specialist—who has visited Kendrick since 1916.

Dr. Jones is no one's assistant. See him and buy direct. "Watch" this paper for date of his next visit."

COUNT YOUR CHANGE

There's no argument in this editorial. It's merely a collection of facts, incontrovertible, eloquent facts that confound those who profess to see America slipping down into a state of effortless despair.

Total bank savings today exceed $29,000,000,000, equal to more than $1,000 for every family in the land. Savings depositors number 52,000,000, nearly two per family.

The number of Americans owning stock has increased almost 40 per cent since 1929.

A group of 102 companies which had 5,539,036 stockholders at the end of the boom year had 7,675,143 stockholders at the beginning of this year.

One company alone today has over 665,000 stockholders, a gain of more than 195,000 since the boom. This company has assets exceeding $3,200,000,000.

Our total stock of gold is $4,000,000,000. No other country ever possessed so much. Britain, for example, has only $588,000,000. Currency in circulation aggregates $5,464,000,000, or $700,000,000 more than in the boom.

Last year $16,500,000,000 worth of new life insurance was written.

Our total national wealth, estimated at $329,700,000, is greater than that of a dozen Continental European countries combined.

The income of the American people comfortably exceeds $1,000,000,000 a week.

The percapita income here is far greater than in any other land.

There are still six or seven persons employed for every person idle.

No fewer than 25,800,000 automobiles are owned by Americans. This total is almost three times the number owned by all the rest of the world.

Americans possess far more telephones (19,500,000) than all other countries. They also own more than 6,545,000 radios—unapproached by any other people.

How many domestic mechanical refrigerators have been bought—would you guess? A grand total of fully 3,750,000, at an estimated expenditure approaching $2,000,000,000. In no other part of the globe do half as many homes enjoy such a luxury.

Americans are rapidly coming to regard it as a necessity.

A recent survey of 29 typical small towns revealed that 71 per cent of the inhabitants owned homes; that 88 per cent had electric lights, 72 per cent had baths, 51 per cent had electric washers, 55 per cent had radios, 41 per cent had vacuum cleaners.

There are more families in America than in any other land that can afford to and do send their children to high school and college. In no other land do so many average families have the means to enjoy foreign travel.

The movie still attracts a weekly average attendance of 75,000,000.

The percentage of our agricultural population who, despite deflation, are acquiring domestic comforts, conveniences, labor-saving devices, improved machinery, the use of better roads, is constantly increasing.

Today more than 700,000 farms are electrified, representing an increase of 400 per cent in eight years, and the total is being swelled rapidly.

In industrial communities hard manual toil is being steadily abolished by the introduction of machinery. Each American worker now has at his command five horsepower—a record not even approached outside our boundaries.

The average working day a generation ago was ten to twelve hours. The standard in this generation is eight hours. The work-week used to consist of six days. Now it is five and one-half days, with the five-day week coming into vogue.

Never in the past was America so well equipped as it is today to resume an epochal forward march. Not only have we changed from a debtor nation to the greatest creditor nation on earth; not only have we vaster national wealth; not only have we an unprecedented supply of gold, but we are richer in experience, richer in inventive brains, richer in scientific knowledge, richer in machinery, richer in productive facilities, richer in managerial skill, richer in discovered mineral and oil resources, richer in transportation facilities; richer in every material wealth-creating product and process, richer in craftsmanship—richer in everything.

The country is all right. What we need is less hysteria and more confidence and courage.—Collier's Magazine.

Just the Scallops

The B family was enjoying a turkey dinner with all the "trimmings" and, of course, scalloped oysters were included. When they were passed to Kathleen, she was asked whether she would like to have some scalloped oysters. She replied: "Well, I don't care for the oysters, but I will have some of the scallops."

GRAIN MARKET FIRMER—WORLD SHIPMENTS SMALL

about 1c per bushel and at Genoa about 6c per bushel.

Canadian wheat at Winnipeg advanced about 1/4c per bushel under the influence of smaller country marketings and No. 1 Manitoba was quoted in that market Sept. 2 at 55c, which is equivalent to 49 1/4c in U. S. currency.

Domestic cash wheat markets were somewhat unsettled. Marketings of spring wheat decreased with indications that the peak of the movement was already past.

Marketings of winter wheat increased over those of the previous week but were still only a little over half those of a year ago. August receipts at Kansas City were the smallest for that month in ten years and totaled 5,285 cars. Arrivals at the principal central and southwestern markets for the week totaled 2,549 cars.

The light marketings in Utah and southern Idaho were about sufficient for current mill requirements. Country elevators were being filled with storage grain as growers continued a tight holding policy.

Only In Love

The night was dark; it was raining hard. In the sweep of the lights, a car showed up ahead, off the side of the road, leaning at a perilous angle. Just the situation for a good Samaritan.

Coming to a stop, the conscientious motorist leaned out of the window. "Are you in trouble, my friend?" he asked, solicitously.

"Nope," was the reply, "just in love."

Two Month's Work For Nothing
 How would the average citizen like to work 61 days without any pay whatever?

The answer is that he wouldn't like it at all. But that, in effect, is what he is doing. Sixty-one days' work out of each year is required to pay the cost of government. In 1924 it was 46 days and in 1913 about 25 days.

The ratio is constantly rising. Carried to the inevitable conclusion, it means that in the not-too distant future, the taxpayers will be working for the taxpayers all the time, and for themselves not at all. Every time a new bureau is created, every time a new department comes into existence, a little more of the money we earn finds its way into the treasury.

As President Hoover has said, to continue on the tax road we are traveling is to impoverish the nation. In the last 16 years the cost of government has increased nearly 150 per cent. The results are found in the hoarding of capital, industrial retrenchment, unemployment. The tax issue, in all its phases, is one of the most vital problems the American people have ever faced.

Faith, Patience, Fortitude, Courage
 In an article on the severity and extent of the depression in this country, the Manchester, England, Guardian says: "Under all these trials the American people have behaved with admirable fortitude and patience."

That is a fine testimonial to the temper of our people. They have, perhaps better than any other people in the world, borne inescapable burdens without losing either faith or courage. They have realized that drastic, thoughtless action is not necessary—that, in the normal course of events, our problems will be solved. They have put shoulders to the wheel and have bent every resource to meeting the exigencies of depression. A people who can do as our people have done in a time of unprecedented stress, need have no fear for the nation's future.

The Post's Fault
 "What went wrong with your car, girlie?"
 "A lamp post ran into it."

Much poor material is covered by a fine coat of varnish.
