STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

A recent article of the series, dealing with the bonded indebtedness of the state of Idaho, revealed that in so far as the state itself is concerned the situation is well in hand. The amount of state bonded indebtedness is now $3,878,000; reduced to that amount from $5,165,000 since January 1, 1930.

However, considering all of the political subdivisions of the state, we find that the bonded debt picture is not so bright. It seems as if various city, school and highway districts zeal for public improvements override their business judgment.

Total Debt Figures

In 1930 the total bonded indebtedness of the state and all of its political subdivisions was $14,186,632. During the next 17 years, to 1930, this bonded debt total grew by leaps and bounds to $53,421,536, a net increase of 276 per cent.

These figures become more impressive when it is learned that during the 17 years in question the total assessed valuation of the state increased only 13 per cent, or from $427,553,609 to $486,604,365. In 1913 the total bonded indebtedness was 3.3 per cent of the total valuation; in 1930 it was 11 per cent.

To bring the comparison as nearly as possible up to the present, it now appears that the 1932 valuation will be in the neighborhood of 400 million dollars or about 25 millions less than in 1913, while there will be but little reduction below the 1930 figure in the total bonded indebtedness.

Interest Heavy

A still further but exceedingly enlightening comparison is that the yearly interest payments with the taxes levied for state purposes. Interest payments in 1930, based on an average rate of 5 1/2 per cent, are estimated to have totaled $2,938,184. The levy for state administration during that year was $2,862,422. In other words, the annual interest charges on our bonded indebtedness is greater than the total state ad valorem tax.

When one considers that a sinking fund of 5 per cent must be put aside annually for the retirement of the bonds, it becomes obvious that the bonded indebtedness which the taxpayers of Idaho have voted upon themselves now requires approximately five and a half million dollars each year for liquidation purposes.

Certainly no thinking citizen can fail to see the relation between this heavy bonded debt and our current high taxes.

Many Highway Bonds

Keeping in mind that the 17-year period under discussion was featured by wide-spread and gigantic public highway building programs, it is not surprising that highway districts were the worst offenders in bonded debt increasing. The actual figures however are somewhat shocking. The percentage increase was 3,143 per cent—and that is not a typographical error. The actual increase in highway bonds was from $302,650 to $9,827,800.

The increase in county bonded debt was the next largest in point of percentage. County commissioners boosted with the consent of the voters, their bonded obligations from $2,254,248 to $7,385,870, on 228 per cent, during the 17 years of governmental affluence and public optimism.

City and village administration were by no means idle. Bonded indebtedness of this character was increased from $4,396,496 to $11,395,938, or 159 per cent, during the period.

School Bonds Voted

School board officials found cause to propose numerous bonding ventures during the 17 years to the voters, and the voters responded by authorizing a bonded increase for educational purpose of 125 per cent—on from $4,884,488 to $10,987,290.

Also during the comparison period two new subdivisions capable of raising money by issuing bonds came into being. They were irrigation and drainage districts and their comparative infancy did not keep them from adding to the bonded debt total an amount only slightly less than nine million dollars.

In closing, it might be well to observe that one does not have to delve very deeply into the current governmental revenue muddle to realize that a large portion of our current tax grief has been accumulating through the years in the form of bonded indebtedness.

"66" Bridge Club Entertained

The "Double Six" Bridge club was very pleasantly entertained at their first meeting of the fall season by Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen Monday evening at their apartment in the Raby Hotel, when the game was played at three tables. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Emery made high score while Mr. and Mrs. Silvie Cook were low. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts were invited guests. A delicious dessert luncheon was served by the hostess after play.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The official board of election of New York City has agreed that a vacancy exists since Mayor Jimmy Walker turned in his resignation a short time ago and has ordered that an election be held November 8 to fill the vacancy. Walker has been severely criticised for his action and it has not been decided whether he will be given another opportunity to become mayor of that city again. The Flying Hutchisons and their four companions, reported lost when their airplane disappeared a few days ago, have been found, their plane having been forced down along the east coast of Greenland. Their plane was wrecked but none of the party of eight were injured.

Maine, said to be the political barometer of the nation, has elected a democratic governor—the first one in 18 years.

A father, mother and three children were killed by a locomotive at a railroad crossing at Portland, Oregon, Sunday. Two others were badly injured. Two Japanese girls, riding with them, were also killed.

Elsie Friar, 15-year-old school girl of Seattle, tried to commit suicide by taking poison because she had hurt her mother and caused her to cry because she had failed to go to Sunday school.

Ross Pippin, supposed drowned near Shoup several weeks ago, turned up alive Saturday at Riggin's hot springs, according to information furnished Sheriff Walter Altman by Mrs. Margaret Bartlett, owner of the hotel at the springs. Levy Pippin, Ulrich, Mo., father of Ross Pippin, caused a search to be made for his son following a report he had fallen from a saw and drowned. A searching party left Shoup and recovered a body and it was interred as that of Pippin. The mistake was not discovered until Saturday. Mrs. Bartlett told the sheriff Pippin is suffering from a lapse of memory.

Eight days after he held up the First National Bank at Libby, Mont., Joseph Miller, alias Lander, 27, an escaped convict, waited in jail at Portland for Montana officers to come and get him.

With an ear-splitting roar, the wooden steamer Observation was blown into bits in the East River, New York, Friday, killing 38 and injuring at least 70 workmen who swarmed its decks. More than a score were still missing Saturday night as floodlights were brought up to illuminate the scene where divers and rescue squads sought bodies of victims.

Presenting a strong case for navigation, Inland Empire interests last week won first skirmishes to open Columbia and Snake rivers to freight carriers in order to free the great resources of the interior Pacific northwest.

Assurances of farmers' holiday leaders that violence was ended in their battle for higher prices came last Thursday as mid-western governors or their representatives gathered at Sioux City for conference to work out a program of agricultural relief.

Evidence that a number of armed men are mingling in the ranks of Seattle's jobless, coming in from outside the county, was laid before the sheriff's office, during which unemployed at Georgetown were given food under police protection after Mayor John F. Dore had intervened.

Tammany hall's quiet voiced leader, John F. Curry, presented at Friday's meeting of the democratic state committee a resolution pledging New York democracy to the "active and loyal support" of the party's presidential candidate, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the vice presidential nominee, John N. Garner.

Repairing Roofs

The Kendrick Bean Growers association was having the roof of their warehouse repaired this week as was the roof on the Collins building being put in shape for the rigors of winter.

VENISON COMES HIGH TO THE AVERAGE HUNTER

The big migration of hunters into the forests to get the annual venison will begin in three weeks with the opening of the hunting season in 11 southern Idaho counties Oct. 1.

To the confirmed deer hunter it is like the beginning of the baseball world's series and the cost is almost as much as for a season ticket to the big league spectacle. Annually between 8,000 and 12,000 hunters go into the forests to bring back about 4,000 deer, one animal to every second or third hunter, game department statistics indicate.

How good hunting will be this year is still a mystery hinging on what happened last winter when the extreme feed shortage decimated or even destroyed whole bands of deer. Reports from ranchers indicate the fawn crop was light but the surviving deer are in good condition because of the excellent range provided during the summer.

The season opens first in southern Idaho counties, from Oct. 1 to 26, inclusive, in Adams, Blaine, Boise, Butte, Custer, Elmore, Gem, Lemhi, Valley, Washington and that part of Idaho county south of the main Salmon river and east of the Little Salmon.

North Idaho counties have an open season beginning Nov. 1 and a tier of eastern and southeastern counties have a five-day season beginning Oct. 20. In the northern half of Idaho county, hunting is Oct. 5 to Nov. 10, inclusive.

Just what it costs to get a deer will vary with every hunter in every locality every season, but an average hunt, figured out by experienced hunters, should return a deer to the family larder for about 10 cents a pound.

It figures this way: A party of five going out on a four-day hunt will require $30 in food, $15 (minimum) for a guide, $20 for horses, two per man for four days, and ammunition $2 per man, a total of $75 or $15 each. With ordinary luck such a trip should place hunters in a part of the state where hunting is not a science but merely a selection of the kind of deer desired. At $15 a 150-pound deer, dressed, will be 10 cents a pound. Variations from the figures will vary the price of the venison.

For those hunters already in the hills on who know how to ride away from the office a few miles and bag one, the cost will be less—and the fun probably correspondingly less.

Game Preserve On Clearwater

Clearwater river and shore territory between Spalding bridge and the dam will be closed to duck hunting this year, according to authority received from the state game department by the Nez Perce County Game Protective association, says the Lewiston Tribune.

The order says that the open season on migratory birds is "suspended during the year 1932 in the following described area: On the Clearwater river and on a strip of land 100 yards in width along each bank, from the North and South highway bridge at Spalding to the Washington Water Power company dam at Lewiston in Nez Perce county, Idaho."

This order was issued by Amos H. Eekert, on solicitation of the county association, as a conservation measure.

Many ducks rested on the lower Clearwater last year and it was the plan of the association this year to prevent killings because of the large numbers endangered. It is hoped that the ducks will learn to use the waters of the Clearwater each season with full protection.

Hunting is not restricted in any way beyond the 100 yard limit from the river banks and ducks frequent the upper streams and fields in search of food.

Hard Blow To Textile Workers

Mahatma Ghandi has announced that he is going to starve himself to death in protest of the treatment the Indians have received at the hands of the British government. This will indeed be a hard blow to the makers of cloth used by Ghandi in his extensive wordrobe.

Underwent Major Operation

Elgin Fleshman, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fleshman of Leland underwent a major operation at the St. Joseph's hospital Saturday. He is getting along excellently.

COUNTY TAX LEVY RAISED VERY SLIGHTLY

A raise of three-tenths of a mill in the county tax levy was made by the county commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday to meet the deficit which will be caused in the county income by delinquent taxes, the raise being from 9.6 mills last year to 9.9 this year.

Delinquent taxes amounted to nearly $80,000 the past year, according to a statement by Rudolph E. Nordby, chairman of the county board, and we are forced to take up the margin, which may be even larger next year. The levy was made on a county valuation of $15,240,244, which is $368,306 lower than that of last year.

Good Road District No. 2 has the lowest levy in the county, with 2.5 mills, while that of Good Road District No. 1 is the highest, their levy being 28 mills. The Kendrick Highway levy is two mills less than a year ago, the levy being 6.8 against 8.8 last year. There are only three districts in the entire county with a lower levy than that of the Kendrick highway district.

The Village of Kendrick levy has also been cut 2 mills, being 18 mills against 20 mills for last year.

The "Three Bears"

And now it transpires that three bears were seen in the Pine creek section the latter part of last week, shortly after a big black bruin had been seen on Big Bear ridge last week, and Saturday and Sunday several nimrods of that section took the field to try and locate the marauders and "bring home the bear meat" but they failed to do so, although the report was that one of the hunters found one of the bear and treed him—and that he also wasted a box of shells, or some such amount—trying to dislodge the animal from the tree. But it seems the distance was too great—the bear being on one side of the creek and the shooter quite some distance away on the other side. At any rate, it seems the animal was unharmed and after the bombardment had ceased, he climbed down from his perch and went his way, none the worse for the practice shooting at him.

It is queer too, that none of the animals were found and killed, as Wade Keene had made the statement that he was going to kill a bear on Sunday and accordingly got out his trusty smooth-bore and greased it up for the fray. But we haven't heard of anyone having any bear meat to eat or hide to tan.

Highway Districts Meeting

A meeting of commissioners of good roads and highway districts will be held in Moscow Wednesday, September 21, commencing at 10 a. m. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Elk's club room.

There will be a joint meeting with the Moscow Chamber of Commerce at the Moscow Hotel at the noon hour.

The purpose of this meeting is for an interchange of ideas among the road commissioners of the different districts of the state and to obtain cooperation in road problems.

It is expected that from 75 to 100 commissioners from various parts of the state will be in attendance.

Again Opens Law Office

C. A. Oppenborn, attorney, has again opened a law office and is now located in the Perryman building, where he will practice his profession. Mr. Oppenborn has been somewhat incapacitated for some time but is again feeling to handling his line of work. He invites his friends to call at his new office and renew acquaintance.

Odd Fellows Visit Julietta

Eight members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows visited the Julietta lodge last Saturday evening and were treated to an old-fashioned watermelon feed, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Members of the order were also present from Deary and Lewiston.

No Beans Moving

While most farmers who have a bean crop are busily engaged taking care of it, few are being brought to the local warehouses and the market is at a standstill.

Parents of Daughter

A 7 1/2-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brown Tuesday morning. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Asotin, Wash., Gretna Green

Asotin, Wash., is fast becoming a Gretna Green for this section of Idaho and many dollars of good coin that would have stayed in Idaho have gone across the line on account of the "gin marriage law" restrictions placed on those who figure that they should be allowed to marry when and where they please without first giving notice to anyone, if they felt so inclined.

It is a safe bet that something will be done at the next session of the Idaho legislature to stop the flow of good Idaho money to any other state on account of too much publicity about marriages.

BYRON DEFENBACH VISITS KENDRICK—MAKES ADDRESS

Byron Defenbach, republican candidate for governor of Idaho, was a guest of the republicans of this part of the Potlatch section at a chicken dinner served at the Raby Hotel on Monday at noon, which was attended by some 30 members of that party. Mr. Defenbach made a short talk after dinner had been finished along the line of reminiscences of early events in this section of the Gem state, which was very interesting, especially to those who have lived in this part of the state for several years.

Later, adjournment was taken and at 2 o'clock an address was made in the Kendrick Theatre building by Mr. Defenbach, which was very well attended, considering the fact that the farmers were very busy in their fields at this time, especially those harvesting beans.

Mr. Defenbach did not resort to any "mud-slinging" and stated that Mr. Ross (the opposing candidate) is a very good friend of his and a gentleman, although he stated that he did not agree altogether with his policies and methods used in managing state affairs.

He asked for votes on the ground that "I am your friend and neighbor" and stated that he has been able for the past four years in a position at the state house to be able to fathom and work out in detail all the intricacies of the state government and states that he is in a better position perhaps than almost anyone else to know these things, therefore is in a better position to be able to reduce the expense of state government if he is elected at the polls this fall as governor of this state. He also stated that Idaho had not had a governor from the northern part of the state since the election of Governor McConnell, from Moscow, many years ago, and that north Idaho is entitled to representation in the state house.

He stated that he had been on the state board of equalization for the past four years and that he had never ridden a mile in a state car nor used a pint of state gas and oil, although there are any number of state owned cars and that more than 500 permits for use of private cars have been issued to employees in various capacities.

He made the statement that the state government is now costing 32 per cent more than it did five years ago and that the state fish and game department has been depleted and is being used as a political football. He stated that the most important question before the people of Idaho today is a reduction in the cost of state government and that he will guarantee to reduce the cost at least 25 per cent if he is given the opportunity, or quit!

Again in his plea for support at the polls this fall he said: "This is not my fight, it's your fight."

The address was well received by those present and many remarks were made complimenting Mr. Defenbach on the fact that his address had been free from personalities or mud-slinging in any form.

"Drouth" At Portland

A raid by prohibition officers on several Portland "dougouts" that had been supplied with wet goods to be used in laying the dust during the Legion convention held there this week, yielded many gallons, bottles and other containers of thirst-slaking material. Oh, well, they didn't get it any worse than the attendants at both the republican and democratic conventions at Chicago recently, so they don't need to feel "upplish" over the attentions they have received.

Mrs. Fairfield Quite Ill

Mrs. Leonard Fairfield of Bear ridge has been confined to her bed by illness for the past several days.

CANADIAN SELLING WEAKENS WHEAT MARKETS

Domestic winter wheat markets lost most of their earlier gains during the week ending September 9, influenced by weakness in Canadian markets as a result of heavy country marketings, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Sharply lower cotton prices towards the close of the week and some recession in security markets were also weakening factors. Prospects of an early harvest, with a continued dull demand for current offerings, lowered corn prices at most points. Flax held steady under a fairly active crusher demand and further reductions in estimates of the crop.

With wheat harvesting practically completed in the Northern hemisphere prospective wheat supplies for the current season are now more definitely known. World wheat supplies this season appear about as large as those of a year ago. The smaller world stocks of old wheat and the decrease in crop returns in the U. S., Russia, the Lower Danubian countries and North Africa and Asiatic countries, are largely offset by important increases in Canada and the deficit countries of Europe, together with prospective larger crops in the southern hemisphere countries where acreages have been increased and prospects are better than a year ago. In addition to the available wheat supplies, large rye crops of good quality have been harvested in Northern and western Europe, where rye is an important bread grain. Good corn crops are in prospect in southern Europe and the countries of the lower Danube where corn is an important human food and largely offsets the wheat shortage in these areas.

North American wheat supplies are slightly lower than last season. Larger supplies in Canada where official estimates place the crop at 671 million bushels as against 304 million bushels last season, more than counterbalance the reduction of around 136 million bushels in the U. S. The Sept. 1 estimate placed the U. S. crop at 715 million bushels compared with 894 million bushels in 1931, with a decrease of 347 million bushels in winter wheat about half offset by an increase of around 170 million bushels in spring wheat.

The European wheat crop is larger than last season and generally of good quality in most important crop producing areas. Estimates and forecasts of production in 25 European countries which last year produced 99 per cent of the European crop exclusive of Russia, indicate a larger outturn than those of a year ago. It is significant that harvests of practically every country of Western and southern Europe are larger than those of a year ago.

Pacific Coast markets were also weak and lower, reflecting the lack of export outlet and limited domestic demand for local wheat. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals were of moderate volume, totaling 837 cars for the week but consisting principally of consignment for storage or deliveries on earlier contracts. Receipts at Montana country stations were reported only about half those for the same period last year with farmers holding grain on farms. Domestic mills provided the principal outlet since local prices were too high to affect sales in Europe or the Orient in competition with Canadian and Australian wheat. About the usual quantities of flour were reported sold to the Philippines, California and the Atlantic seaboard. The price of cash wheat at Portland held unchanged except hard white, which advanced 1/8c per bushel. At the close of the market September 9, western white, hard winter, northern spring and western red were quoted at 52c, bluestem hard white at 63c and soft white at 54c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. At Seattle western red and western white were quoted at 54 1/2c, hard winter at 55c and baart 63c, sacked, with Montana dark northern spring quoted at 70c in bulk. California wheat markets were all rather quiet. The limited demand for milling and feed grades at San Francisco was offset by continued light offerings. California growers were not selling freely and were asking around $1.00 per 100 for No. 2 hard white and No. 1 soft white at interior points. Most of this wheat was going to interior feeders since mills and industries at San Francisco were obtaining supplies in Washington and

"Passion Play" at Local Theatre

Creating through motion pictures an authentic record of the world's oldest Passion Play (the life of Christ) constitutes one of the most important happenings in entertainment annals.

For centuries, pilgrims have made their way to the distant Alpine foothills to absorb the inspiration from the sacred drama presented at Freiburg and Oberammergau.

Great is the appeal to the emotions and so powerful the unfolding drama that many visitors have collapsed under the strain. Nothing is added and nothing expurgated from the inspired record set forth in the bible.

The entire population of Freiburg participates in some way in the presentation of the Passion Play—thousands of people through life-long devotion to the subject have developed abilities far beyond that of any professional.

School Enrollment Increases

With a high school enrollment substantially larger than it was a year ago, the Kendrick schools are progressing nicely. Enrollment in the grades is practically the same as it was last year.

According to the latest figure a total of 183 have enrolled thus far, with more scheduled to enroll during the week. This is an improvement of four over last year's record of 179.

High school enrollment has jumped considerably over last year's record of 75, a total of 87 having enrolled to date. Heaviest enrollment was from the Cameron and Big Bear ridge districts. A number of students have enrolled from the Pine Creek, Gold Hill and American Ridge districts also.

Fix Ridge Club

The women of Fix Ridge met with Mrs. W. F. Heimgartner, Wednesday afternoon, September 7. In the afternoon the women finished Mrs. Fix's quilt and work was started on Mrs. Tabor's.

Mrs. Weaden played the organ and sang. Minnie Clark also played and sang.

The women of Fix Ridge certainly feel very keenly the loss of their president, Mrs. Weaden, who is going to Moscow for the winter.

A very delightful lunch was served by the hostess, which consisted of cake, ice cream and root beer.

Among the women present were: Mrs. Weaden, Mrs. Walter Clark, Mrs. Hallie Peavey and daughter, Mrs. Ralph Richardson and daughter, Mrs. Keith Clark and children, Mrs. Bill Peavey and children, Mrs. Ira Fix, Mrs. Caus Clark and children, Mrs. Sam Tabor and son, Mrs. Oliver Clark, Miss Minnie Clark and the hostess, Mrs. W. F. Heimgartner and children.

The club will meet September 21 with Mrs. Ralph Richardson.

Still Danger of Fires In Forest

Pointing out that the fire last week on Silver butte "could have been costly," A. B. Curtis, state fire warden, appealed for continued caution by those using the forests as "the woods are just as dry now as they have been during the entire fire season."

Restrictions on smoking and camping have been raised, but Curtis warned that "this does not mean the forests are out of danger, and it is as necessary as ever that every precaution be taken to prevent fire."

The fire on Silver butte was caused by a cigarette, and was extinguished before it spread into the timber.

The Clearwater Timber Protective association is maintaining a skeleton crew of 25 patrolmen and four lookout stations.

Freight Costs Eat Profits

Based on market prices prevailing on September 1, the cost of transporting wheat from Nezperce to the coast was 115 1/2 per cent of the net return to the farmer, members of the senate subcommittee holding the open-river hearing here yesterday were told.

Capt. Arthur Ward, who presented statistical evidence, took an actual sale of forty-fold wheat at Reubens on Sept. 1 as a basis for his estimate which was sold sacked for 53 1/2 cents a bushel on the coast.

The following deductions were made per bushel:

| | |
|-------------------------|------|
| Freight at 30c per cwt. | 18c |
| Bulk discount | 2c |
| Test discount | 2c |
| Warehouse charges | 2.3c |
| Foul and smut | 5.2c |

Total deductions, 29 1/2c. Return to farm, 24c.

Based on this sale, the cost of transporting the wheat to the coast amounted to 75 per cent of the net price to the farmer.

The relation of transportation cost to the net return for the wheat at other points figured on the same basis was announced by Capt. Ward as follows:

| | | |
|------------------------------------|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Craigmont, 75 per cent; | Grangeville 79 1/2; | Nezperce 115 1/2; |
| Lewiston and Palouse stations, 52; | Pomeroy, 49; | Walla Walla-Pendleton, 36; |
| Enterprise, 82. | | |

Kind words cost no money. Don't hoard them.

Football

There has been a great deal of discussion this year as to whether or not football should be offered. At a meeting on September 7th there was a good deal of discussion on that subject. Some wanted to have a football team while others wanted to save the money to promote an excellent basketball team. It was finally decided to wait another week and see if any more likely material turned out. On September 13th, another meeting was held at which it was decided to have a team in spite of apparent lack of material. It has been suggested that our team be called the "Midgets" which is undoubtedly very appropriate as it is one of the smallest teams in the history of K. H. S.

Large Enrollment

It is to be noticed that we have a very large enrollment in High School this year. Especially in the Junior class which boasts an enrollment of 25 and as it happens this is one of the largest Junior classes in the history of Kendrick High School.

Freshmen Initiation

As yet there has been no definite date set for the Freshmen initiation but it will probably be within the next week or two. The Freshmen may rest assured that the Sophomores have a grand reception planned for them.

Jokes

George Davidson: Can you imagine anyone going to bed with his shoes on?
Maxine Keene: No. Can you?
George: Yes. My horse does.
Nettie McDowell: Elizabeth takes plenty of sitting up exercises.
Rosebud Brown: Yes, she sits up with a different boy every night.
Mr. Brigham: What shape is the earth?
Ralph Blevins: I don't know.
Mr. B.: Well, what shape are my cuff links?
Ralph B.: Square.
Mr. B.: I mean my Sunday ones.
Ralph B.: Round.
Mr. B.: Now, what shape is the earth?
Ralph B.: Square on week-days and round on Sunday.

CRESCENT CLIPPINGS

"Why don't we hear from Crescent any more? No items last week or the one before." And because we hear that question o'er and o'er, our clippings writer now will take the floor. Ladies and gentlemen and fellow citizens; since last we met we've entertained the threshing crew, and also been entertained by them. The Alexander-Lyons machine was with us the first of the week.

School opened the twelfth of September. They're all full of pep, lets hope they keep step, at least till the last of December. Then if they should get out of step during vacation time our new teacher Mr. Winifred Granthum of Pullman, Washington will see that they catch step again for the rest of the school year.

Even the weather has changed since last we sent in the clippings. We still have nice warm days but nights Jack Frost does some nippin's.

The good ladies of the community have been most too busy canning, pickling and preserving to go visiting, but a little vacation is required—so a bunch of old friends got together and motored to Leland last Sunday to help Grandpa Robeson remember 'twas again time for his birthday. A splendid time was had by us all, and we hope to go again next fall!

Jim and Zeb Robeson, who have been working for Claud Craig, went down with the bunch, and remained at home, instead of returning with us.

The boys who were out on the lookouts, have most of 'em come home again, so the girls again look happy and for lack of sleep now they complain.

Mrs. C. L. Trail too has lost some sleep lately, although not for such a pleasant reason. She had the misfortune to hurt her hand and wrist while cranking the engine last wash day, and has suffered considerably with it since then.

We're glad to have the Lockharts back once more—and little Joanne Elizabeth we all adore.

Speaking of folks being back—some other neighbors have been making trips—pleasure and otherwise. Mrs. Rose Farrington and daughters spent a couple of days last week in Lewiston and Clarkston.

Bert Kloster visited one day with the dentist—if you call that pleasure, and John Darby made a couple of trips the first of the week to trade wheat for flour for himself and some of the neighbors.

The Bert Kloster family enjoyed a visit from friends from Lewiston Saturday. We failed to get the names of the friends.

Frank Souders, was a Lewiston visitor one day last week. He went to see the doctor, as he is having trouble again with his eye.

Tax! Tax!! Tax!!!

Have you heard this?—
Tax his head, tax his hide,
Let the government officials ride.
Tax his cow, tax her calf,
Tax his horse and tax his ass.
Tax his house, tax his lands,
Tax the blisters on his hands.
Tax his Ford and tax his gas,
Tax the road that he must pass.
Tax the pay roll, tax the sale,
Tax his hard-earned paper kale.
Tax his pipe and tax his smoke—
Teach him government is no joke.
Tax the water, tax the air,
Tax the sunlight if you care.
Tax the living, tax the dead,
Tax the unborn ere they're fed.
Tax his coffin, tax their shrouds,
Tax their souls beyond the clouds.
Tax them all and tax them well,
Tax them to the gates of hell!
