STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Tax Topics
In 1925 Idaho's total assessed wealth amounted to $453,405,250. During the succeeding five years it increased to $482,790,644, an average growth of approximately six millions annually. During 1930, however, the assessed valuation slumped to $428,018,004, a decrease of some 54 million dollars.
Coming so unexpectedly and in such a sizeable amount, the natural result of this decrease was a monkey-wrench in the machinery of governmental revenue. We are now engaged in the laborious and tedious process of getting it out.

What Happened
Since this decrease in taxable wealth is one of the foremost causes of our current tax troubles, it might be well to look into the matter and determine, if possible, just what happened. For purposes of comparison, the state's taxable wealth is segregated into six groups: agriculture, mining, timber, business property, residential property and utilities.

Considering first agriculture, which includes all farm, grazing and waste lands, livestock and farm machinery, we find that during the adverse year of 1930 the value, for tax purposes, of this class of property slumped from $207,589,668 to $169,563,745, or $38,025,923.

Twenty-one million dollars of this decrease was in irrigated farm values; five millions in grazing land values; three millions in dry farm assessments; better than three millions in sheep and goats; and about three and a half millions in other forms of livestock.

Mine Profits Slump
Mining property valuations decreased from $11,013,749 to $7,745,565 during the year. The heaviest part of this decrease was in net profits on mine operations, which are a basis for taxing ore values under the Idaho law. Net profits decreased from $7,822,631 in 1930 to $4,432,475 in 1931, which, it may be taken for granted, was through no desire on the part of the owners.

The decrease in the taxable wealth of the lumbering industry during the year amounted to approximately five million dollars. About four million of this increase is found to be in timber, cut-over and burned-over lands, a considerable proportion of which was doubtless permitted to revert to the counties.

Town Property Down
Business property, largely from sympathy with real estate, decreased in taxable value during the year from $69,503,171 to $65,877,698, or $3,625,473. Residence property decreased from $49,171,882 to $42,354,445, or a net of $6,817,437. Of the net decrease in residence values, about three million dollars was in household goods and jewelry, which means that citizens either sold, failed to declare or the assessors failed to assess considerable personal property and effects.

Coming now the sixth class, utilities, we are surprised to learn that while the taxable values of all other forms of property in the state were declining the valuation of the utilities—railroads, light and power companies and telephone and telegraph companies not only held their own but actually increased. Utility valuations increased during 1930 from $115,400,793 to $117,230,987, or $1,830,194.

Per Cent Declines
That the upholding of the utility values was more because of the difficulty of getting the reduction machinery under way than any desire on the part of the owners is indicated by the fact that utility representatives made equalization at its recent meeting.

Reducing the foregoing figures to percentages, we have the following decreases during 1930 in taxable property values: agriculture, 33.5 per cent; mining, 29 per cent; lumbering, 16 per cent; business property, 5 per cent; residence property, 15 per cent; and utilities, increased 1.7 per cent.

That there is no provision for counter-balancing sharp fluctuations in the state's taxable wealth, which throw our governing units into such financial confusion, is doubtless one of the weaknesses of our present system of raising governmental revenue.

Robbers Loot Colfax Bank

Four unmasked bandits robbed the First Trust and Savings Bank at Colfax Wednesday afternoon of an amount estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000 in cash and securities.

Sees No Repeal Modification

Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said in a statement Monday that it "appears certain" the congress to be elected in November will not submit a resolution for modification or repeal of the 18th amendment.

McBride said he based his conclusion "on the failure of the wets to defeat or replace a sufficient number of congressmen who voted against the Beck-Linthicum resolution."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

At the closing session of the American Legion convention at Portland, Oregon, last week the veterans went on record as endorsing the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and asking for full payment of the bonus which will amount to more than two million dollars.

A young would-be bandit attempted to rob the Old National Bank and Union Trust company Thursday evening of last week. Robert Grimm, the teller, said he answered the man's demand for money by dropping behind his desk and sounding an alarm. The would-be robber has not yet been apprehended.

In retaliation for the arrest of 24 farmers overpowered at their picket posts by 60 special deputies earlier in the day, a band of farm strikers ambushed three carloads of deputies and pelted them with missiles as they sped through the blockade lines near Six City, Iowa, on Friday of last week.

Edward D. Fountain, 78, who helped bring Lewiston its first telephone line, was a pioneer hotel operator and provided the city with its second hack service in the horse age, died at St. Joseph's hospital, at Lewiston, Sept. 16, at 7:30 o'clock of paralysis, from which he had suffered five strokes in recent years.

The Rev. Dr. E. F. Harold of Lewiston was appointed grand orator of the Idaho grand lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons at the state convention which concluded a two-day session in Boise Wednesday. Moscow was chosen as the place for the 1933 session.

More than half a million dollars came to the board of regents of the university during 1931 from federal state and other sources aside from regular legislative appropriations, a report of the state auditor disclosed Saturday. The total was $515,836.

Orders for lumber from the sheds of the Craig Mountain Lumber company have been larger during the last 15 days than the total during the last eight months, according to J. L. Geddes, sawmill superintendent.

Five men, two officers and three outlaws are dead as a result of pistol fights growing out of the slaying of Mrs. Susie Sharp, a motorist, in a holdup on a mountain in Oklahoma, two weeks ago.

Farmers of southwest Idaho have opened an exchange in Boise by which they will exchange their produce for scrip which in turn may be paid to laborers.

T. W. McDonough, federal director of employment for Idaho, said organizers of the farmer-labor exchange were confident it would work by stimulating trade of labor and farm produce where a shortage of money prevented them from cooperating otherwise.

Explaining the system, he said the farmers may exchange their produce at the store in Boise for scrip. With the scrip they may pay their laborers who in turn may redeem the scrip at the labor exchange for any kind of produce.

The store will be open to traders in both cash and scrip, he said.

Mrs. Keene Entertains Club

Mrs. Wade Keene very pleasantly entertained the Afternoon Bridge club Monday evening at a bridge dinner, when members of the club were invited to her home to spend the evening at bridge and partake of a splendid dinner. High score for the evening went to Mrs. Geo. Leith.

After the evening's games had been concluded a business meeting was held and the club reorganized and officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. W. L. McCreary being chosen president and Mrs. R. H. Ramey secretary. Regular club meetings for the season will be started Thursday, September 29.

At the business meeting it was also decided to make the dues $1 per member, which will be used for emergency relief work by the club.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MONTHLY MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held in the Raby Hotel Monday evening with 20 in attendance. A splendid dinner was served at 6:30, after which the tables were cleared and the business of the evening taken up. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and a bill for $14.00 for 70 20-cent orders given transients was approved and ordered paid. This item is taken care of by the Village and is passed on to the Commercial club in order that there may be no duplication in the matter of handling this form of relief.

Among the committee reports was one made by N. E. Walker, chairman of the highway committee, relative to the road situation. While the designations asked for by the committee that made the trip to Boise were granted by the governor and the highway department of the state, it does not seem that anything will be done this fall as had been hoped for, it seeming that the highway department is financially embarrassed, just the same as all the rest of us and it is hardly probable that anything will be done to the road between Kendrick and Arrow Junction with the exception of some repairs (a long fill) that will of necessity have to be made near the Albright place, where the roadway was washed out a year ago last spring. However, we have a good survey on Bear ridge that will stand and will be useful when the time comes for building the road through to Deary.

Under the head of the educational committee, Supt. Brigham asked for full co-operation of the parents. Such co-operation, he stated, would eliminate much misunderstanding and perhaps hard feeling over problems that arise during the course of a school year. It is necessary that they give moral as well as financial support to make a successful school.

Marvin Long, as chairman of the merchant's committee, made some valuable suggestions regarding the necessity of keeping as much "trade" at home as possible in order to keep our little city on the map and make it possible for the business men of the town to stay in business. There is little to be made now out of any business, but if what we have is to remain here, it is necessary that everyone patronize their home-town merchants. It was suggested that a survey be made along this line and that home people be educated to trade at home.

Several other subjects of importance were discussed and will probably be taken up again at future meetings.

It seems that there are still some business men in town who do not fully realize the work the Commercial club is seeking to do; that it is unselfish and helpful and is for the benefit of the community as a whole, and not for any particular thing or person. We sincerely wish all could come to this realization and come and help by doing their share and not leaving it up to a few, who are often criticised for doing what they themselves fail or refuse to help do. Let's all get our shoulder to the wheel and help keep Kendrick on the map and make it even a better place in which to live.

Some Fine Peaches

Ralph Richardson, living on the bench above Julietta, brought to the Gazette office Tuesday morning a sample of peaches raised on the place of his cousin, Eddie Richardson, living in the same neighborhood. They were of the Elberta and Hale variety and were the finest specimens we have seen this year—not excepting those brought from Lewiston or Clarkston. The Hale's were the finest specimens and five of them weighed an even 2½ pounds. The largest one of the lot weighed an even half pound and measured just 10 inches in circumference. The flavor was delicious.

Rebekahs Hold Card Party

The Rebekah Benedit card party, held in the Fraternal Temple Tuesday night was not very well attended, but those present reported a jolly good time.

H. B. Thompson was high score winner at bridge and E. L. Kuykendall was high score winner at pinchle. Refreshments were served.

Ladies Aid

The ladies aid of the Community church will meet with Mrs. Ira Bohn this (Friday) afternoon.

SUIT BROUGHT TO ALLOCATE FEDERAL FUNDS

Twin Falls county asked the Supreme court Saturday to compel Governor Ross to distribute relief funds of the Reconstruction Finance corporation "proportionately, equitably and ratably" over the state rather than "to build bridges and roads indiscriminately, without regard to need."

The petition, filed by the county commissioners, asked the court to direct a distribution on a different basis or to call the governor to show cause by October 10 why he should not. The commissioners are James L. Barnes, chairman; E. J. Finch and George R. Hart.

Chairman Barnes, commenting on the action to newspapermen, declared it was not a "political move."

"We are all three good democrats and expect to support Governor Ross for reelection," he said, "but in this matter we cannot see eye to eye with him. It is our contention that this money is intended to be distributed where it will do the most good in actually relieving destitution, and not to build bridges and roads indiscriminately, without regard to need."

"It seems to us, after a series of conferences, that the differences between our point of view and the governor's can be settled only by appeal to the courts, and in this he agrees with us, so we are bringing suit."

"We feel that we are doing only our duty in protecting the interests of Twin Falls county taxpayers and the destitute of our county."

The governor has already received $150,000 of the $300,000 allotted to the state, the petition said, and to get the money has certified to the finance corporation that the funds were to be used for relief of destitution in the state and the state had exhausted private and public resources for the purpose.

The petition said Twin Falls county asked for $20,000 as its "equitable and pro-rata" share, after certifying its resources were inadequate for caring for the needy. The demand was refused by the governor, the petition stated, unless the county "issue to him an emergency warrant therefor, payable in 1933 which your petitioner cannot legally issue."

Continuing it stated the governor had "wrongfully and unlawfully and in direct violation of the terms and provisions of the act" refused to allocate any sum to the county without the repayment agreement.

Large Still Seized

"By the light of a silvery moon" Sheriff Harry Dent of Lewiston last Friday night aided Washington deputy sheriffs in seizing a 25-gallon, copper-coil still and seven gallons of finished moonshine. Mike Mayer at the site of the still was arrested and taken to Colfax jail.

The outfit confiscated was being operated just 100 yards north of the state line, and although Sheriff Dent learned of the existence of the still there before the Washington authorities, he invited them to assist in the raid because the outfit was located in Whitman county, outside his jurisdiction.

Game Warden Driscoll Visits

Walt Driscoll, deputy game warden for Latah county, was a Kendrick visitor Saturday. He had been down the canyon toward Julietta tearing out the beaver dam which had again been put in place by the busy little animals. For many years the dam has been placed in a concrete culvert under the railroad track by the beaver and it is necessary to tear it out at least two or three times a year.

Some two years ago an attempt was made to trap the animals and it was reported that they had been caught, but it seems there are still a few of them left and they are wary enough to keep out of the man-made pitfalls.

Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Clark of Fix ridge are the parents of a 7¼-pound daughter, who came to make their home happy on Saturday, September 17. Mrs. Clark is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cochran. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Leases Barber Shop

Chuck O'Hara, formerly of Elk River, has leased the Guntar Barber shop at Julietta for the winter and he and his wife have taken up their residence in Julietta.

Mr. O'Hara will operate a general barber shop.

Lewiston Will Entertain I. O. O. F.

Lewiston lodge of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are planning to welcome the grand lodge of Idaho three October 17, 18 and 19 with elaborate programs and exhibitions, according to F. A. Swingle, chairman of the publicity committee, who pointed out yesterday that this will be the fifth time the grand lodge has met there since the granting of the Idaho charter Sept. 22, 1883. The last Lewiston session of the grand lodge was in 1921.

MRS. W. ZIEMANN KILLED BY TRAIN SEPTEMBER 16

The following, taken from the Eau Claire (Wis.) Leader, will be of much interest to the people of the Southwick section especially:

Mrs. Wilhelmina Ziemann, 79, pioneer resident of Fall Creek, Wis., was instantly killed when struck by an Omaha freight train on the State street crossing, in this village, Friday afternoon, September 16, at 2:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Ziemann, who has been making her home for the past ten years with her son, J. O. Ziemann, Fall Creek hardware dealer, was supposedly on her way to the cemetery at the time of the accident. She sustained fracture of both legs, several broken ribs and a gash and several bruises about the head. The attending physician said that death was practically instantaneous.

According to the engineer he did not see Mrs. Ziemann, due to a curve in the track near the crossing, until the train was quite near. He blew the whistle and rang the bell and applied the emergency air brakes and Mrs. Ziemann seemed to hesitate and appeared confused. The right side of the engine pilot struck her just as she was about to step to safety and she was dragged about 50 feet. The body was taken to the Keller funeral parlors.

Mrs. Ziemann, who was born in Germany, had been a resident of Fall Creek since 1874. She was 79 years old June 21, last, and had been in good health with the exception of her eyesight, her son said. Two other sons, G. H. Ziemann and H. F. Ziemann, live at Southwick, Idaho. Her husband, Ferdinand Ziemann, died about 30 years ago.

Funeral services were held at Fall Creek, Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Her two sons from Southwick left last Friday for Fall Creek to be in attendance at the funeral.

Mrs. Ziemann will be remembered by many about Southwick, she having visited a number of times at the homes of her sons there.

Attend Highway Meeting

N. E. Walker and Thorvald Nelson, representing the Kendrick highway district, attended a state convention of commissioners of good roads and highway districts of the state at Moscow Wednesday afternoon, when problems confronting the commissioners were taken up and discussed and an address was made before the convention by Hon. Burton L. French, which was well received.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Payette in September of next year.

Thomas A. Feeny, Moscow, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year.

Fall Is Here

The sharply cool nights and the bright, sunshiny days, with their touch of Indian Summer haze all serve to remind us that fall is here. Hunters are beginning to overhaul their equipment and talk of guns and pack horses, brings to mind only too vividly that fall is here. Our summer has been short, but perhaps a pretty fall will make up for it.

Suicide at Moscow

Arthur Holt, 23, an employee of the U. of I., committed suicide last Friday by hanging himself from the rafter of a barn. He had securely bound his hands at his back and a cloth had been stuffed in his mouth. The coroner pronounced his death as suicide, regardless of the fact that his hands were tied and a gag used.

First Frost of Season

The first real frost of the fall season was very noticeable Wednesday morning on roofs of buildings in the canyon and "wilted" what might be left of tender garden truck. It was a gentle reminder that Old Man Winter is "just around the corner" whether General Prosperity has reached that point or not.

WHEAT MARKET LOWER WITH CANADIAN SELLING

Domestic wheat markets declined with foreign markets during the week ending September 16 under the influence of increased offerings of Canadian grain and sharply larger Russian exports, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Declines in security markets was a further weakening factor in the domestic wheat situation, but this was largely offset by a more active inquiry for U. S. wheat as price spread between domestic and European markets would indicate. Rye remained dull, while prices of corn and oats declined to the lowest point in many years, influenced by fairly large offerings and continued limited demand. Flax remained independently firm as a result of good crusher inquiry for the relatively light current offerings.

Developments in Canada appeared to dominate the general wheat market situation during the week under review. Canadian growers are reported marketing heavy from this season's relatively large crop and the pressure of these offerings was a weakening influence at Winnipeg and Vancouver, where prices declined 3c to 4c per bushel. Canadian market receipts totaled 11,533 cars for the week, according to trade reports. Canadian wheat is of good quality this season with protein tests showing a high average.

Pacific Coast markets were sharply lower, reflecting declines in eastern markets, lack of export inquiry and continued moderate demand from domestic mills. Country markets were somewhat heavier in Washington and Oregon and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 930 cars. A large proportion of these shipments, however, were for storage or for deliveries or earlier sales. Domestic mills provided the principal outlet but demand from this source was only of moderate volume. Export inquiry was still lacking since Canada and Australia were underselling all American wheat in Europe and the Orient. One small special lot of 500 tons was sold Japan by domestic exporters but no other business was reported. Local prices were near an export basis to the United Kingdom but British importers were holding off on account of uncertainty regarding possible import duty on American wheat. At the close of the market Sept. 16 bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 58½c, soft white at 50½c, western white, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 49½c per bushel sacked, basis No. 1. These quotations compare with 44½c in U. S. currency for No. 2 Manitoba at Vancouver. Shipments of wheat and flour from Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals this season to Sept. 1 have totaled approximately 4,795,000 bushels compared with 8,541,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year.

J. H. Butler went to Gold Hill to help in the bean harvest.

G. Groseclose went back to Juliaetta the first of the week.

Bean Harvest Nearing Close

With the weather again cleared bean harvesters are making a determined effort to get their crop taken care of and another week or ten days will see this accomplished.

A report from the Bean Growers association is to the effect that the yield is very good—averaging close to four sacks per acre—and that the quality is extra good. Now the only thing that should be good is the price.

The association has shipped within the past week some 800 sacks, a truck load (300 sacks) having been sent to the Spokane market Monday.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"
Everone has heard of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" but few have ever known that it originated with that famous writer, Robert Louis Stevenson. In this famous story Jekyll represents the "good" and Hyde the "bad" personalities of one person.

Dr. Jekyll is the originator of the theory that man's evil nature can be driven from his body by medical means and so destroyed. Jekyll concentrates on his experiments, hoping to convince his friend, Dr. Lanyon of the truth of the theory. Jekyll is in his laboratory determined to find the drug that will eliminate evil. After mixing several liquid chemicals he becomes greatly interested in the compound. Nervously he jots down a few notes, then drains the glass. Convulsed with pain, he is immediately transformed into a hideous being with the ugly sneering face of Mr. Hyde. You can see just how this is accomplished Friday and Saturday evenings, at the Kendrick Theatre.

Football
Football practice is being held regularly now under the management of Mr. Dawald. So far only about twelve men have turned out and it is rather doubtful as to whether or not a regular team is in the offing. The boys are willing enough but for the most part they are small and inexperienced. As yet it hasn't been decided whether or not there will be a regular team to travel away from home, but it is expected that a few practice game will be played.

Chemistry
Enrollment in the chemistry class is exceedingly large this year, 23 having registered for it. Experimental work will begin as soon as the necessary equipment arrives.

Orchestra
Orchestra practices are being held regularly now under the Supervision of Miss Newsum. Beginning and advanced courses in instrumental music are being offered.

Glee Club
Enrollment this year in vocal music instruction is unusually large. The boys class numbering 22 and the girls class 28. Miss Newman, music instructor states that she has planned a vocal concert to be given sometime before the end of the first Semester. If successful, the proceeds will be used to further advancement along these lines. Glee Club, though classed as an extra curricular work, is a subject offering one half credit per annum. It is well worth the effort of ever student to take advantage of this opportunity.

Freshman Initiation
The date for the freshmen initiation has been definitely set for Sept. 30th, and the Sophomores have high expectations of preparing the freshmen for a notable high school career. Cheer up freshmen, and remember that you have to pass through the ordeal only once!

Manual Training
Lester Crocker reports full classes in Manual Training, a total of 24 having enrolled for the work. Two classes are being offered this year.

Students Enroll
Elmer Fraser and John Jones from Big Bear Ridge and Reva Berriman from Cameron enrolled Monday. This boost the total enrollment in high school to 89.

Elementary
Work in the elementary grades is progressing nicely with the enrollment practically the same as last year. 23 are enrolled in the primary grades; 29 in the 3rd and 4th grades; 21 in the 5th and 6th grades; and 23 in the 7th and 8th grades.

Jokes
Johnnie K. "Are mine the only lips you ever kissed?"
Neva C. "Absolutely—and the nicest."
George D. (returning home soaked to the skin) "Don't scold me Mother. I just saved three men and two boys from drowning."
Mother. "Oh, George, how brave of you! How did you do it?"
George. They were just going on the ice when I fell through."

School Notes
The 1932-33 school term of the Cameron school opened Monday, Sept. 12, with an enrollment of 27 (10 girls and 17 boys) as compared to 21 (7 girls and 14 boys) opening day last year.

The enrollment by grades this year is: First, 3; second, 3; third, 2; fourth, 4; fifth, 5; sixth, 1; seventh, 1; eighth, 8.

Beginners this year are Marjorie and Esther Wendt.

Emma Danner of Fix Ridge has enrolled in the eighth grade.

This being election year, the eighth grade civic class, in connection with their work, will conduct a primary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for the school offices.

The book exchange conducted Saturday previous to the opening of school netted the pupils a saving over $25 on texts. During the four years this custom has been followed, the number of books changing hands has increased from year to year. The total number of text books being handled this year exceeds ninety.

"Their engagement is still a secret."

"So everybody is saying."

Union School News

Maxine Ross and Carol Chapman entered school Thursday of last week. Monday, Sept. 19—we began practicing on our harps at school. A dramatic club was formed in English class Monday. Maxine Ross was elected as president and Evelyn Heimgartner as vice-president.

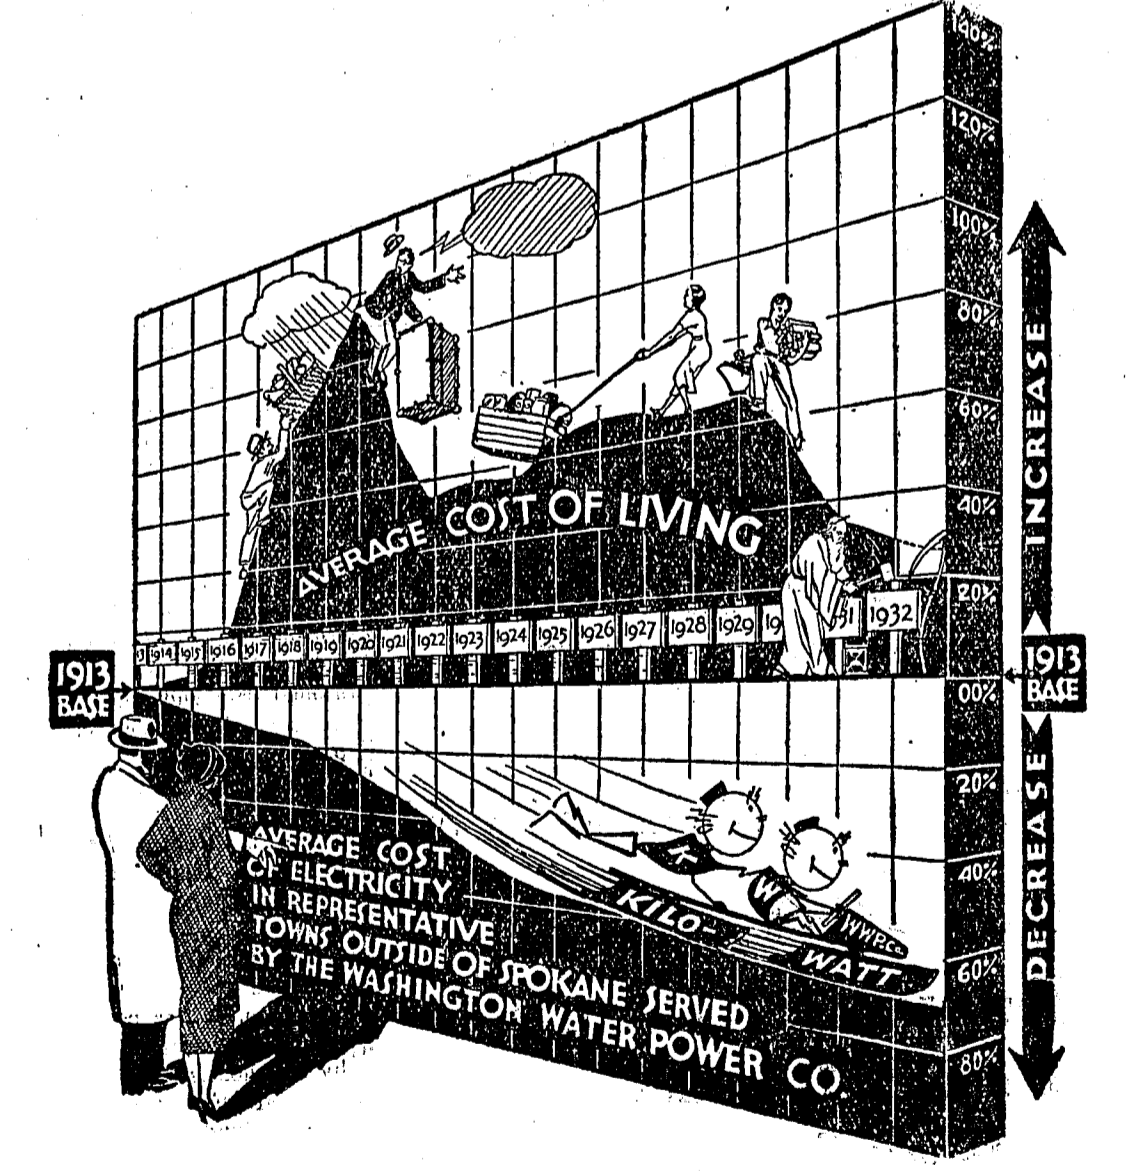

Each of us have leaves attached on our desks, when our desks are clean we get holes punched in the leaves. If they are not clean we do not get the holes.

In spelling class in the eighth grade we are trying hard to make 100 every day. If we do not get a 100 our cars on our chart on the wall get into a mud-hole and get stuck. We all want to be good drivers.

Maxine Ross was appointed as the health inspector this week.

In reading classes every pupil is the driver of some car. The automobile is his book, his voice is the motor, mispronounced words are bumps in the road, commas are curves, missing small words are rocks in the ditch. A smooth reading voice shows the automobile has been greased and is ready to run. A soft, jerky reading voice shows that the motor is in need of repairs. Everyone is trying hard to keep a good automobile.

"The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble. Nah 1:7."

Wind and Dust Storm

This section of the country, along with the entire Palouse, Big Bend and Walla Walla sections, was visited by one of the worst dust storms ever experienced, Saturday. Sunday was the coolest day of the fall season and many homes lighted fires to make them more comfortable.

JUDGE WM. MORGAN ADDRESSES DEMOCRATS

Judge Wm. Morgan, democratic candidate for judge of the state supreme court and Mrs. Myrtle Enking, candidate for state treasurer, addressed a fair-sized audience in the Kendrick Theatre Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the speakers being introduced by J. F. Brown, local chairman.

Mrs. Enking was first introduced and made but a short talk, stating what she was here for and asked for support.

Judge Morgan taking the floor, stated that he was glad to again be back in Latah county and greeted the audience. He made a very pleasant talk for a short time, gradually warming up to his subject, stating we were up against a very serious situation, taking up the unemployment situation and placing the blame on Hoover, principally, and the republican party generally. He stated that the object of the visit was to secure votes for his party—not to abuse anyone—and, with the exception of paying his "respects" to President Hoover in no uncertain way, reading a great deal from a hand-book containing statements made by Hoover during his campaign of 1928, stating that everything he (Hoover) had undertaken had been a failure and asking the people present to ask Mr. Defenbach a few questions the next time he came to Kendrick, one of which was to find out if he (Defenbach) intended to support Hoover for the presidency, and saying, if so, that "he is not a fit man to be governor." This may not come under the head of "abuse," but it's a large statement.

Mr. Morgan failed to tell at any stage of his speech just what his party had to offer the people that is better than what we now have. Had he done so, and been able to put it over, his quest for votes in this section would undoubtedly have been rewarded. Merely telling what you might think of the what the other fellow has to offer is not much of an argument.

He closed his speech pleading for a non-political judiciary for the state and telling how it had been taken from non-political and placed in the political column, for no reason whatsoever, by a republican legislature.

With the few exceptions named above, Judge Morgan made a very good talk and was really enjoyed by republicans present as well as democrats, for he is really a pleasing talker. Most any good citizen likes to hear both sides of an argument.

Beans Blown Into Canyon

Issac Isaken, farmer on the Rimrock southeast of Genesee, lost about 150 sacks of beans when the high wind of Saturday picked up the shocks and scattered them over several miles of canyon of the Little Potlatch. The wind in that section was one of the worst ever seen there.

A Fine Rain
The first rain to visit this section since July 4th fell Monday and while it was welcome to many, there were several bean farmers who would like to have it held off for another ten days or two weeks so they could care for their crop, the heavy wind of Saturday put a crimp in threshing operations in several sections. Those who have their crops all cared for will welcome the moisture at this time.
