STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Tax Topics

Every government has certain primary functions which are essential to the welfare of its citizens and the conduct of society and business. Of recent years our state government has been delving into activities which, although in some instances worthy, are apart from these essential functions and we are prone to cite this as the cause of increased expenses. The records however reveal that there have been material increases in the cost of those functions which we describe as essential and it shall be the purpose of this article to compare these increases for the years of 1913 and 1930.

In considering these figures it is only fair that the reader keep in mind the fact that the 17-year period in question encompassed the World war and its chaotic political and economic aftermaths. There is no just comparison between the years from 1913 to 1930 and any other period of like length in our history.

Essential Functions

For the purposes of this article those functions of government that might be termed essential are divided into five classifications: general government; protection to persons and property; conservation and development of natural resources; health and sanitation; charities, hospitals and corrections; and education.

Looking first at aggregate figures, we find that in 1913 the total annual cost of these five functions of government was $731,080.35. Seventeen years later this annual outlay had grown to $2,670,320.00, an increase of two million dollars that eventually finds its way into the taxpayer's bill.

General Government

During the period in question the cost of general government, which includes the executive offices, supreme and district courts and their appendages, increased from $181,830.39 to $400,180.00. We find that in the latter year, 1930, the budget bureau, purchasing agent and the bureau of public accounts were among those added, Capitol maintenance, which costs $50,000 in 1930, also comes under this classification.

In protecting persons and property the state government in 1913 expended a total of $54,264.95. During the subsequent 17 years this task became, presumably, so difficult and complicated that in 1930 the sum of $227,644.00 was required, an increase of more than 400 per cent. Under this division is the national guard, banking, blue sky, insurance, mine inspector, public utilities commission and timber fire protection.

Resources And Health

The cost of conservation and development of natural resources during the 17-year period was practically doubled, mounting from $83,904.28 in 1913 to $160,854.00 in 1930. Under this classification comes the departments of agriculture and reclamation, the bureau of mines and geology and reforestation, the latter two of which were added during the period and cost in 1930 a total of $26,300. The remainder of the increase is represented in a general broadening of the functions of the agriculture and reclamation departments.

Charities And Schools

Charities, hospitals and corrections cost $114,862.56 in 1913, the state then supporting or contributing to five institutions, the penitentiary, the two asylums, the state colony at Nampa and children's home find and aid. Seventeen years later the annual appropriations for these same five institutions totaled $414,045.00.

Coming now to education, we find that this function of government is also well represented in the increase in taxpayers' bills which occurred between the years of 1913 and 1930. During 1913 the state appropriations for educational purposes totaled $287,643.97. Seventeen years later, in 1930, this function cost the taxpayers the sum of $1,427,147.00, an increase roughly of about one million two hundred and forty thousand dollars. Items added during the period were pure seed, rodent control, experiment stations, vocational education and vocational rehabilitation, all of which cost in 1930 about $52,000. The remainder of the large increase is represented in a broadening of functions and schools established in 1913, together of course, with the natural increases in cost resulting from the diminished value of the dollar.

Culdesac Corn Show Success

The annual Culdesac corn show was an unqualified success this year, the same as has been the case for the past several years that it has been given. There is nothing like a small fair, or gala day show of some sort, for the smaller communities. Kendrick could put on a good show of some kind—and it should be done. Kendrick is the center of one of the best farming communities in the United States and we should let "the world" know of it, as well as have a real get-together day with our farmer friends.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

And now some of the heartless democrats down in Texas are trying to prevent the name of Mrs. Miriam (Ma) Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor of that state (according to the count returned) from being placed on the ticket this fall. Governor R. S. Sterling objects.

Wheat farmers who had received crop loans from the government have been informed that it will be necessary to repay only 25 per cent of the loan this fall, to which Senator Smith of South Carolina objected on the grounds of "discrimination", saying that the tobacco and cotton planter should have the same favor—which the administration says they shall have if they are in need of it.

Germany notified Uncle Sam last Friday that they would be unable to meet the payment of $7,800,000, due that day.

Flanisenaga Kagina, a Filipino, was taken from a Seattle hospital today by the city health department and placed in confinement after physicians said they had found symptoms of leprosy.

Ballard Turner, federal prohibition taker from a Seattle hospital today by fellow agent, Ed Vlasich, Seattle, was seriously wounded while they were launching a raid at Proebstel, Wash., 20 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Sheriff W. I. Dailey, of Whitman county, said employees of the First Savings & Trust Bank of Colfax, had identified "two ex-convicts" as members of the gang which robbed the bank Sept. 21.

The terrible hurricane that visited Porto Rico last week killed 212 persons, injured 2,000 and left 145,000 homeless. A large part of the island's crops were destroyed.

Twelve bodies had been recovered in the mountainous Tehachapi pass region where upwards of 40 persons are believed to have perished in a cloudburst, near Bakersfield, Calif., last Saturday night. The deluge overflowed canyons and streams, wrecked two freight trains at Woodford, hurled a 45-foot wall of water down the pass, ripped up hundred of yards of railroad track, washed out at least nine bridges and flooded at least half a dozen villages.

Although the price level of commodities produced in Asotin county, Wash., this year has been the lowest since the panic of 1893-97, pioneers say, estimates compiled indicate more than $1,000,000 worth of new wealth was produced, which is from 25 to 50 per cent less in value than that from 1917 to 1929.

Station agents of the Camas Prairie railroad at Headquarters and Stites will be abolished on October 14, according to notices posted by R. E. Hanrahen, manager of the road. Residents of the two towns will be given opportunity to protest to the state utilities commission against the action, should they so desire.

Attempt To Wreck Train

Just before noon on October 4, someone wired a track spike on the railroad track just above the bridge near John Kite's place. It so happened that extra freight No. 1508, east bound, came along first and was going slowly at the time they hit it, or a serious wreck might have happened.

Special agent Geo. D. McDowell, who was in town investigating the incident, said that had the passenger been the first to hit it, traveling as fast as they do, in all probability a serious wreck would have occurred. This offense comes under the head of attempted train wrecking and is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

LAPWAI GAME FARM PRODUCES MANY BIRDS

A record season at the Lapwai state game farm is drawing to a close.

Several important achievements have been chalked up, among them the maturing of 167 Chukar partridges from a breeding stock of only eight hens; distribution of 3,753 pheasants and others still to be shipped, and introduction of a new stock of Virginia bobwhite.

"Of the birds placed," said James Marshall, superintendent, "3,327 were ringnecks and 426 Milanistic mutants. The pens are still full of pheasants but no further shipments will be made until after the hunting season."

"Nez Perce county has received 702 birds and there will be no further plantings in the county after the hunting season."

Marshall promised that one planting of the Chukar partridge would be made in the county during the spring.

"The new equipment developed at the farm last spring for handling the Chukars has been very satisfactory," said Marshall. "Difficulties encountered in other methods of brooding have been overcome. These young birds will be held at the farm until spring when plantings will be made in two or perhaps three different parts of the state, one of them in Nez Perce county."

More than 600 Milanistic mutant pheasants have been raised at the farm this year, according to Marshall.

"These birds will add much to the variety of the sportsman's bag," he said. "The hen of this species is very dark brown in color and the male bird shows a dark green and blue neck, shoulder and breast. They are slightly smaller than the ringneck and it is claimed they are faster on the wing and will lay well to a dog."

"The stock of Virginia bobwhite is being held on the farm for breeding stock next year. These birds are from eggs received from a Virginia game farm last spring with the idea of introducing fresh blood into our native bobwhites and increasing their size."

"The results obtained from the new incubators and brooders installed last spring were very satisfactory, the incubator in particular showing success beyond our expectation."

Marshall explained that a new method is being used in an effort to rid the soil of disease. The ground is being burnt with heat blown into it under high pressure. Liquefied petroleum gas is used.

"This is only an experiment," said Marshall. "The results will not be known until next spring, but we are preparing for the next season along progressive lines."

Marshall said that the past season has been a good one for game birds in the wilds. The rains in the spring were too early to have caused much loss to the young and there has been an abundance of heavy cover for protection.

"I might say that this has been a record season for the game farm," Marshall added.

In the rearing ponds at Lapwai which are also under the supervision of Marshall, he said there are 105,000 fish in the ponds, 65,000 rainbows and 40,000 cutthroats.

"There has been practically no loss since the fish were put in," said Marshall. "The fish have doubled in size. When they are big enough the rainbows will be planted in Soldiers' Meadows but a place for the cutthroats has not been determined. The ponds are in excellent condition and there is an abundance of water."—Lewiston Tribune.

THOMAS-VANDEBURG MAKE THRILLING TRIP

Harold Thomas, Kendrick and Jack Vandenburg, Genese, reached Lewiston Saturday night, the end of a thrilling trip by boat, that started at Homestead, Oregon, 160 miles up the Snake river from Lewiston. This trip is one that few "greenhorns" ever make, one that is left almost entirely to seasoned rivermen, and one which has cost the lives of a number who have tried it. Their success, Harold said, might be laid to just two things, "Luck and an exceptionally well-built boat, the boat being a sixteen-foot row boat."

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Vandenburg left Homestead, Oregon, on Thursday, Sept. 22, and reached Lewiston on Saturday, Sept. 30, eight and a half days being consumed on the trip. The boat swamped, while being lined down a sharp rapid, pulling both men into the water, wetting their whole outfit and they were forced to lie over until Tuesday at noon to dry their outfit, a part of which they lost, and among the more valuable, a portion of a mining outfit and pictures of wild animal life taken on the trip. Harold said they saw "deer in droves, almost like cattle, two mountain sheep, a number of coyotes, and rattlesnakes" were an everyday occurrence. "At one place a half day was required to line the boat down a rapids 100 yards long, in other places Mr. Thomas said he believed they made 30 miles an hour, but that it seemed much faster."

In one unusually bad spot in the river, each man handling an oar, Mr. Thomas pulled his oar from its lock, and the boat went down the rapids, spinning like a top. They said they never were so glad to land and get their feet on good solid ground as they were following this experience.

A portage, and lining down the rapids were resorted to four times during the trip, he said, and each one was a test of human strength and endurance, pitted against the power of the river, but "we made it."

Mr. Thomas said the scenery was something to make one gasp, the hills rising sheer into the air for hundreds of feet, and ascending in great stone steps, like the tiers of giant blocks, was in itself almost down the trip, he said. Then too, down the giant box canyon of the Snake, with sheer cliffs rising for thousands of feet, it was indeed a marvelous spectacle.

The boys enjoyed the trip, they say, but do not care to make it again. They also said that the best going and easiest portion of the trip was Pittsburg bar to Lewiston.

Harold said the thrills were enough to last him for a long time, and Jack Vandenburg said the same thing.

Mr. Vandenburg will be remembered here as assisting with the A. K. Carlson and N. B. Long sales last fall.

Culdesac Store Robbed

Al. Fonberg's general store at Culdesac was entered and robbed on Wednesday night of last week and merchandise valued at approximately $100 was taken.

Entrance to the building was gained by boring holes in a door, which enabled the robbers to manipulate the lock from the outside. It was stated by Sheriff Harry Dent of Nez Perce county that the robbers apparently wore gloves as there were no finger prints. The loot included 28 pairs of shoes, 36 pairs of socks, several work shirts and gloves.

Senator Thomas Has Typhoid

Senator John Thomas is quite ill with typhoid at his home in Gooding, where he was taken ill some two weeks ago.

GRAIN MARKETS REMAIN WEAK ON SLOW DEMAND

Domestic wheat markets reflected the weakness in the foreign situation during the last week in September and prices of most classes declined slightly compared with a week ago, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Continued heavy offerings of Canadian wheat, a light European demand as a result of record crops in important deficit countries, fairly large shipments from Russia and the generally favorable progress of the Southern Hemisphere crops, were the principal weakening influences. Feed grains were dull on a continued slow demand. Corn declined to new low levels under fairly heavy offerings and with the approaching movement of the new crop. Rye was lowered with wheat, but flax remained independently firm as a result of reduced marketings, light domestic supplies and a fairly active crusher demand.

The result European demand for foreign wheat remains the outstanding feature in the general wheat market situation. World shipments during August and September were only a little over one-half as large as for the corresponding period during the past two seasons and reflect the unusually large crops in Germany, France, Italy and Spain. Canada is at present furnishing the bulk of the world's exports and the pressure of Canadian offerings has been principally responsible for recent declines. Receipts during the week at the principal Canadian terminals totaled 12,236 cars and prices at Winnipeg declined to the lowest point of the season, with No. 1 Manitoba Northern quoted Sept. 30 at 44½¢ per bu. in U. S. currency. The same grade was quoted at Vancouver at 45¢ and FOB New York at 54½¢.

Pacific Coast markets remained quiet but futures at Portland did not follow fluctuations at Chicago. The Sept. delivery closed at Portland Sept. 30 at 1½¢ higher than a week ago while the December and May delivery were ½¢ to 1¢ lower. The strength in the Sept. delivery reflected the tight cash situation. Country marketing continued relatively light, receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling only 616 cars for the week compared with 1,148 cars for the corresponding week last year. In addition to the car receipts 9,000 bushels were received at Portland by river boat and 5,600 bushels by truck.

Domestic mills provided the principal outlet since no new export business was reported. Local prices continued above Canadian and Australian offerings both in the Orient and Europe. Three cargoes of Canadian wheat were reported sold at Vancouver to Shanghai during the week, with some business each day with the United Kingdom. At the close of the market Sept. 30, Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 61¢, soft white at 53¢, western white, western red, northern spring and hard winter at 52¢ per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Western red, northern spring and hard winter at 52¢ per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Western white was quoted at Seattle at 53¢ and Baart hard white at 61¢, sacked, for No. 1 wheat.

California markets were steady to slightly lower, with trading relatively light. Local wheat continued to be firmly held with growers asking about $1.00 per 100 F. O. B. shipping points for No. 1 hard or soft white wheat. Mill demand in the bay region was of about the usual volume but mills were covering most of their requirements in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Intermountain states. Feeders were taking some local wheat but demand for feed wheat was limited because of the heavy substitution of cheap feed barley and the reduced poultry flocks this season. Industries were working mostly on stocks accumulated earlier in the season. At the close of the market Sept. 30, Washington and Oregon shippers were quoting No. 2 soft white at $1.02½ to $1.05 delivered in bulk at San Francisco or Los Angeles. Bluestem No. 1 hard white was quoted at $1.15 and No. 1 dark northern spring at $1.25 in bulk, delivered at San Francisco docks. No. 2 hard winter from Utah and Idaho, was quoted at $1.05 delivered central California points.

European markets for native wheat held about unchanged but prices for foreign wheats at Liverpool were slightly lower. French millers were reported to be buying cautiously with

Another Toad Story

Not so long ago there came a story out of Texas where a toad had lived in the cornerstone of a building for 30 or 40 years and the "reptile" was seemingly in as good repair when the building was wrecked and he was released as when he was imprisoned—according to published reports at that time.

Now comes a story from over at Franklin, Pa., to the effect that a toad had been released from a cannonball, where it had been imprisoned for 33 years. The story said that when Mr. Tord (or Mrs.) was released, it blinked its eyes, stretched its legs, wobbled a little and then hopped away.

Now what do you think of that!

Cause and Effect

When little Jean was two years old her Uncle Thomas came to visit the family. When he embraced and kissed her mother upon his arrival, Jean signified her objections by crying as loudly as she could. Some weeks later when Jean and her mother were shopping in a department store they heard a child crying angrily on another floor. Jean snuggled up to her mother and whispered "Uncle Thomas must be kissing her mother."

KENDRICK-ARROW ROAD BE REPAIRED TEMPORARILY

A delegation of Kendrick business men met J. H. Stemmer, director of highways, and J. J. McCready, district engineer, on the "missing link" below Juliaetta and talked road construction, especially regarding rebuilding of the Kendrick-Arrow road. After several phases of the situation had been talked over the statement was made by the representatives of the state road department that it would be impossible to rebuild the road this fall and that it might be unwise to tear it up and make it practically impassable—or even more so than it was last winter, when a tractor had to be used to pull cars out of the mud-holes in what was formerly the Clearwater highway district, below Juliaetta. It was then stated that the state would be willing to repair the road and make it passable for winter use, shaping and rocking that portion that gave trouble, as well as take care of other sections where need demanded.

In doing this work the Kendrick Highway district crusher will be used, as well as other machinery, and the crew now running the crusher on Bear ridge, will also be employed by the state to do the crushing and distributing of the rock, all of which will be a help, as the Highway district will get several dollars' rental for the machinery. Men will be put to work with scythes within the next week or two, clearing the road-sides in order to be able to get the grader down in the ditches. An effort will also be made to get as many local men as possible on the job. Men with families will, of course, be given the preference.

While this is not all Kendrick would like to have done to this road this fall, yet it will be a great help, and promise has been given by the state that the Kendrick-Deary road will be taken care of next spring and the Kendrick-Arrow road rebuilt later in the year. This is said to be very satisfactory to all who have taken an active interest in the road program.

Student Body Tickets
At a Student Assembly held Thursday of last week it was decided that the price of the tickets should be set at $1.50. Preparation for the advertisement and sale of the tickets began immediately.

The tickets are to be placed in the hands of each class president whose duty it is to sell and distribute them. Providing the proceeds are large enough to warrant it, the tickets will serve as a pass to about eighteen athletic contests, including both boys and girls games.

It is stated that in order to have athletics at all something in the neighborhood of $100 must be raised. If the students want to further this athletic interest and support student body activities, it is necessary that they buy a ticket.

It might be well noted that each student in order to belong to the student body take part in its athletic activities, hold an office or cast a vote in its assembly must be the possessor of a ticket.

Ticket sale in the high school will start Monday, and the downtown campaign will also begin Monday.

Dance A Success
The hard time dance following the freshmen initiation last Friday, Sept. 30th, was a decided success, about a hundred and fifty students and town people attending. Thirteen dollars was cleared. The proceeds going to the girls athletic fund. The music was furnished by Miss Newman, Elizabeth Carlson, Allene Rider, and Bud Carlson.

The floor was in excellent condition and well managed by Mr. Barnum. Refreshments were served at eleven thirty.

Freshmen Initiation
The final act of the freshmen initiation was presented last Friday evening, September 30th in the local gym. A large crowd attended. The freshmen suffered, such things as airplane rides, walking on gravel and feeling of dead men's brains.

School Party
At a Student Assembly on Thursday September 30th the question of an all-school party was taken up and discussed. Quite a few of the students wanted it Friday October 7th but due to teachers institute on that date it was decided that it should be postponed until October 17th. Committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the cats and entertainment.

Sturdevant Violin Maker

Few people of this section know that there lives in Kendrick a second Stradivarius, when it comes to making violins.

Some two or three weeks ago Tom Sturdevant received through the mail a small piece of birds-eye maple and a fine piece of spruce which he has now put together and made a fine-sounding violin, having carved the entire instrument, with the exception of the ebony sounding board and keys.

It is a beautiful piece of work and has a splendid sound for a new instrument. It will take some eight coats of oil and the same number of coats of varnish before it is completely finished. While Mr. Sturdevant has made many parts for various violins this is the first complete instrument he has ever made—and it is a beauty.

Car Off Highway

A car driven by F. E. Hoppe of Pomeroy went off the North and South highway at a point near the mouth of Hatwai creek Monday morning about 2 o'clock, tearing out about 50 feet of the woven-wire guard fence and some half a dozen supporting posts. He claimed to have been traveling only about 40 miles an hour when the accident happened, and that the steering gear was at fault. If the manufacturers of steering gears were to be held responsible for all the faulty construction claimed by drivers who have accidents—well, it is hard to tell just when or where they would land when they take the "final plunge".

Mrs. A. K. Carlson, who has been ill for the past several days, is able to be up and around her home again.

GRAIN MARKETS REMAIN WEAK ON SLOW DEMAND

compulsory flour extraction lowered to 66 per cent and are required to use 97 per cent native wheat in milling mixtures. German mills in the interior districts are reported to be fairly well supplied with domestic wheat but seaboard mills were moderate buyers of Canadian grain. Takings of foreign wheat, however, are limited, since not more than 30 per cent may be used in milling mixtures. Italian wheat crop is now officially placed at 276,000,000 bushels, or about 16,000,000 bushels over the preceding high record of 260,000,000 bushels produced in 1929. The natural weight of the wheat is reported lower than a year ago. Italian mills are required to use 95 per cent of native wheat in milling mixtures. British millers are reported to be using heavy percentages of Manitoba wheat. At the close of the week German milling wheat was quoted at Hamburg at $1.40, French wheat at Paris at $1.19 and Italian wheat at Milan at $1.50 per bushel.

Domestic wheat markets reflected the weakness in the general situation and were mostly weak and lower. Export demand was almost negligible but mill and elevator inquiry was sufficient to absorb current offerings at most points. Marketings of winter wheat were of moderate volume with receipts at the principal markets totaling 2,070 cars compared with 1,495 cars a week ago and 3,269 cars a years ago. Mills provided the principal outlet for the better grades of high protein wheat, while shippers and elevator interests took the other offerings.
