STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Tax Topics
This series of articles has revealed that the state of Idaho is a heavy offender in the matter of increased governmental costs. However, on turning our attention briefly to the counties, we find that they are not without guilt. Costs of county government during the 17-year period from 1913 to 1930 increased amazingly, to say nothing of the creation of 17 new counties, each with a full set of officers and a complete list of functions.

The current expense costs of the 17 county governments created since 1913 reached an annual total of approximately 400 thousand dollars in 1930. Yet, running through the expenses of the counties already established in 1930, one finds that with but one noteworthy exception, the office of assessor, the costs have invariably increased. In other words, county division did not achieve a reduction in county costs.

Nine Divisions
For the purpose of tracing the increase as close as possible to the offices responsible, the figures have been compiled for the year of 1913 and 1930 for each of the nine executive divisions of county government.

Considering first the office of clerk, auditor and recorder (one official) we find that in 1913 the then 27 counties needed $178,499.66 for this department. In 1930 the same counties expended $213,933.16 in the same department, and the 17 new counties added $83,024.95, making a grand total of $296,958.11. The net increase was about $118,000.

The 27 sheriffs in 1913 spent a total of $183,573.05 in keeping law and order. In 1930 the sheriffs of these same counties expended $257,874.46, and the sheriffs of the 17 new counties added enough to make the grand total $348,029.27. Thus it is seen that law and order cost nearly twice as much in 1930 as in 1913.

Assessors' Costs
Coming now to the assessors, we find an actual decrease. The cost of this function in the 27 counties in 1913 was $179,836.03; in 1930 it was, for the same counties, $174,889.79, a reduction of almost $5000. But the assessors of the 17 new counties added $64,468.74 in 1930, making the grand total $239,358.53, which is about $60,000 in excess of the 1913 costs.

An unusually heavy increase is noted in the costs of the office of treasurer and the tax collector. The expenses of this function in 1913 totaled $36,135.98; in 1930 it was $158,355.27 to the same 27 counties, and the new counties expended $56,355.27 to bring the total to $214,391.76, or about six times the cost 17 years previous.

Probate court costs during the period in question increased from $59,557.80 to $107,304.55, the sum of $29,326.48 in the 1930 total being represented by the probate court expenses which came into existence subsequent to 1913.

Costs Mount
Superintendents of public instruction spent $65,621.13 in 1913; this cost, with the expenditures of the 17 new counties being added, was practically doubled in 1930, being $128,676.99.

County supervision, which is the function of the boards of commissioners, cost the first 27 counties a total of $69,210.52 in the year of 1913. Seventeen years later, with 17 new boards added, this cost reached the grand total of $136,922.06. Of this amount $35,424.37 was spent by the new boards. The 27 old boards spent $101,497.69, a noteworthy increase over their expenditures of 1913.

Corner and surveyor expenses are practically nominal in all counties. Corner costs in 1913 totaled $9,184.10 for 27 counties and the total cost for 44 counties 17 years later was $10,106.17.

Net Increase $690,000
Surveyors' charges in 1913 amounted to $16,855.30 for 27 counties. The cost of this function in 44 counties was $9,870.06 in 1930, an actual and indisputable decrease of about $7000.

Summing up these figures we find that the first 27 counties expended for the nine divisions of government a total of $798,473.57 in 1913. During the next 17 years these expenses increased $293,075.71 bringing the 1930 total for the counties in question to $1,091,549.28. And, in addition, the 17 new counties expended in 1930 a total of $399,968.22. Thus the grand total for county office expenses in 1930 was $1,491,517.50, making a net increase in costs to the taxpayers of more than $690,000 for the seventeen year period.

More Wild Apples

Some months ago T. O. Greene, field representative of the Lewiston Tribune, wrote an article telling of wild apples being located in several sections of this part of the country, but it remained for N. E. Ware to bring to this office last week six varieties of wild apples, one of sweet crab, one of prunes and two of plums, all of which are to be found in the Pine Creek canyon, to the east of Kendrick.

Some of the apples are of good size and some have a very pretty color, some being yellow and some red-striped. The plums and prunes are of good size and flavor.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Mayor John F. Dore has called an end to the feeding of unemployed without their working in return, saying in a radio talk that the city "must clean up these commissaries." "Of the 60,000 persons being fed," the mayor said, "it is estimated that 25 per cent are not entitled to their supplies."

Overriding objections of the reconstruction corporation South Trimble, clerk of the house of representatives, Friday made public its second monthly report, showing that loans aggregating $186,209,310 were authorized in August.

One of the last of the group of men who figured in the discovery and development of the rich Coeur d'Alene silver-lead region in Idaho, Harry Baer 82, committed suicide with a pistol in his home at Spokane, Friday.

The Sites Commercial club has filed a protest with the Idaho public utilities commission against closing the station of the Camas Prairie railroad there.

A second life was added to this week's toll of destruction exacted by western Oregon forest fires when John A. Quiry, 51, of Portland, fighter on the Wilson river blaze near Forest Grove, was struck by a falling snag, and almost instantly killed. Another fire-fighter had lost his life earlier in the week in the blaze that destroyed the mill town of Cochrane.

The body of an unidentified woman, about 45, was found Saturday beneath the bridge at Multnomah Falls, on the Columbia river highway east of Portland. Police said evidence indicated she had jumped or fallen from the top of a 350-foot precipice.

Col. George B. Lamping, president of the Seattle port commission, has outlined a plan for the construction of a huge new terminal on the Seattle waterfront, which "will provide work for 5,000 men for six months at least." Under Colonel Lamping's plan the commission would borrow $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to finance the work.

Forced down by a broken water pump, the plane in which Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau, German flier, and three companions were leisurely flying around the world, was Monday being tossed around in rough water about 200 miles south of Rangoon, said radio messages from the plane received at Manila.

Alpine Blitch, whose picture has adorned many sideshow banners above the caption, "World's Fattest Woman," died at Richmond, Va., Sunday. She was 18 years old and weighed 732 pounds.

Bring Back Bear, Elk, Deer

A hunting party that some of the would-be hunters might sit up and take notice of returned from a ten-day hunt in the Selway country, returning to Kendrick Tuesday afternoon. The party was made up of Norla Callison, Walter and Warnie May, and they brought out an elk and deer each and Norla bagged a fine brown bear that measured just six feet from tip to tip—from the "tip of his tail" to the tip of his nose. They reported plenty of elk but said deer were not so plentiful.

Billions of Blue Aphids

The air has been so full of blue aphids for the past week or more that one should wear a mosquito netting over their heads to keep from swallowing or allowing them to get up one's nose while breathing.

We wish the election was over—Hoover must be to blame.

Delegation Goes to Lewiston

Quite a delegation, mostly republicans, went to Lewiston Wednesday afternoon to hear Vice-President Curtis speak. They were very much pleased with what they heard—especially the republicans.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

Another very interesting meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held in the Raby Hotel Monday evening, dinner being served at 6:30 to some 18 people, who are really interested in the welfare of our little city and the surrounding country—for its activities are for the entire community, and not for the town alone.

There were several things of interest taken up and discussed, among them being the location of the proposed stockyards, or loading chute which the Northern Pacific has been talking about building for the past two years. It seems that the railroad company now wants to put the yards at the back-door of some of the business houses of the town by placing it just across the tracks where an old turntable was formerly located, which position has been protested by the city council, and since that particular piece of ground lies within the city limits, the city can say whether the yards can be put there or not—and the council has already said "no." The Commercial Club also went on record as opposed to such a yard being put in that particular place as it would not be long until it would become a nuisance from a sanitary standpoint, if from no other. There is a splendid location on the spur now being used for the loading of logs and poles and this is ground available. Just why the railroad company wants to put the yards near the business part of town is problematical. It should not and will not be allowed.

In speaking of improvements, the question of improving the cemetery last spring was brought up. The Boy Scouts had done a considerable amount of work at the cemetery for which they had been promised reimbursement for their labors. The Scouts were voted the sum of $25.00 by the club, part of which had been furnished by the village council for the cemetery purposes.

N. E. Walker, chairman of the highway committee, made a very good report to the effect that work had started on the repairing of the Arrow road below Juliaetta and that a shovel was busy reshaping the road and that the highway crusher would soon be moved to that territory and the work of crushing rock for the improvement of the low piece of road that caused so much trouble last winter. These repairs will be only temporary and are calculated to put the road in a passable condition for the winter. Next spring it is hoped to have the grade built over the Bear ridge as well as a permanent road from here to Arrow.

B. B. Brigham explained that an effort is going to be made to have a state-wide school tax, which would take the place of the present form of taxation for school purposes and asked the club to give its endorsement to the plan. It was left with the committee on education for report.

The question of having a salesday was discussed. The event in mind would be similar to the one that proved quite successful some two years ago. This also was left with the proper committee.

Roy Ramey was present and told of his trip east, especially touching on the world's series of baseball games which he witnessed while in Chicago. It was very interesting, but of course it was impossible for Roy to transmit his thrills while watching the big games. He stated that business conditions throughout the manufacturing centers were picking up and that the people are taking on a more optimistic outlook for the future.

On the whole, the meeting was a very pleasant and profitable one for those who attended.

Entertain "6-6" Club

M. and Mrs. Lester Crocker entertained the "6-6" club at a dessert-bridge party Monday evening and a very pleasant time was had by those attending. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts were invited guests.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen made high score and Mr. and Mrs. Silvie Cook were low.

Lost Their Bread

The hunting party made up of Wade Keene, Walt Bigham, Tom Long, Ed. Deobald and Bill McCreary found when they reached Koonkia that they had either failed to pack bread or else had lost it on the road—yet none of them claimed to have been excited when they left town.

ED. LIEN GIVEN BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE

Ed. Lien, who had made his brag that he could never be surprised, received the surprise of his 60 years of life on Sunday, October 2, when a large number of his relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at the Taney school and went to the Lien home en masse. Ed. was out back of the house turning an ice cream freezer when the guests arrived. Little did he think that the contents of the freezer were to be a part of the joke they were playing on him—making ice cream for a surprise on himself. All came with well-filled baskets and at 2 o'clock a real banquet was served, and one of the jolliest and best times that has taken place on Big Bear ridge was the result of the gathering.

Those present were Zack Aas and family and Ingwald Aas from Moscow Louie Aas and family, Walla Walla; Milo Slind and family, Lewiston; Inar Bruseth and family, Clarkston, Wash.; H. E. Dalberg and family, Hans Sveve and family; Rev. P. Hesby and family; Deary; Margaret Lien and Emma Aas, Deary; Ole Lien and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lien; Hans and Andrew Lien; Miss Connie Soli; Mrs. T. Bogar, Deary; Mr. and Mrs. H. Kortemeir; Joe Forest and Ole Klethy; Mrs. Ann Slind and son Oscar; Mr. and Mrs. T. Nelson; Elma and John Jones, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Lien.

A short talk was made by Rev. Hesby in presenting Mr. and Mrs. Lien a purse, with the compliments of the guests.

Refreshments were served again about 5 o'clock in the evening and it is more than likely that Mr. Lien came to the conclusion before the day was over that he could really be surprised.

CONGRESS FRENCH SPEAKS AT KENDRICK

Hon. Burton L. French addressed an audience of perhaps 175 people in the Kendrick Theatre building on Thursday evening of last week, who were attentive listeners and evidenced great interest in the facts and figures given by him from a large chart he had made for the purpose of giving his hearers a better idea of what he was speaking about. He dealt principally with the economic question facing the world today, and the United States in particular.

Mr. French spoke of the immense property losses during the World War and that the day of settlement had arrived. Also that the depression is world-wide and that many other countries are far worse off than we are. The panalties of war are always required to be paid. But the end of all warfare should be the goal of all nations, he said.

He explained the tariff at some length as promulgated by the republicans and criticized the democratic idea of a "competitive tariff."

Personal effort, Mr. French said, can do what the law cannot do in restoring prosperity. Business will improve and America will again be prosperous and happy.

His address was mostly relating to national affairs, than whom there are few who are better posted and more ably equipped to give figures that cannot be denied.

A Little More News, Please!
Now that may sound a great deal like a command, but honestly it isn't. We would like to put it in the form of a request.
Some of our very good correspondents have said it is next to impossible to get the news of their neighborhood and were wondering if their neighbors might not be persuaded to please give them the neighborhood news in more generous quantities. We sympathize with our correspondents deeply for we have the same trouble right here in town, where it looks like it should be very easy to go out and find out all one might want to know but it isn't.
So we would like to make it in the form of a "please" send in, or give your news items to your neighborhood correspondents—and we would also like to make the same "please" answer for news items from town people. We are always more than glad to get news items of any kind and we assure you they are fully appreciated.
Start in this week by helping your neighborhood correspondent—and the Gazette as well. Thank you,
Boost for Kendrick—our town!

Auto Accident Takes Three Lives
Two men, father and son, were killed outright, a third was fatally hurt and a fourth may die as the result of an automobile accident on Greer grade, one-half mile from Greer grade and eight and one-half miles southeast of Orofino, tonight.
The dead are: Emery Burden, skull crushed; Jasper Burden, father of Emery Burden, skull fractured; Orville Burden, neck broken.
All were farmers residing near Potlatch, members of a hunting party bound for Pierce.
Ray Pelton, 37, also of near Potlatch, sustained a fracture of the skull. He was driving the car.
How the accident occurred could not be established. The car left the road about 9:30 p. m. Harry Gamble discovered the accident and obtained help from the coroner, Wayne Harris, and others, in bringing the bodies in. Pelton was found wandering about the scene as if dazed but he collapsed.
There is a sheer bluff 300 feet high above the railroad tracks where the machine came to an abrupt crash. The last 20 feet is a sheer drop and the car must have bounced and shattered like a hollow egg as it halted in its fall.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
Written and Edited by the Senior class in English

Editors—Jack Bailey and George Davidson.

Student Body Tickets
Ticket sale in the High School was begun in earnest by the class presidents Monday morning. At a Student Assembly held Tuesday several students gave talks directed toward rousing school spirit. To date sales have been rather discouraging, however.

It is the privilege of the school and duty of the students to support and further athletic interests. In order that the school may carry out this function, it is necessary that the students, in the schools' behalf, raise something in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars. This is accomplished through the levying of individual assessments upon the students. These dues are used solely to further athletics and other student activities.

There is absolutely no reason why any student deriving the benefits of a high school education should refuse to give in return one dollar and fifty cents.

George Davidson Teachers Meeting

The teachers of the Kendrick High School attended the teachers meeting held at Lewiston October the 6th and 7th. Among one of the many things taking place at the meeting was an address delivered by W. D. Vincent, Commissioner of Education, concerning a proposed tax bill to be brought to the next session of the legislature. The proposed bill would greatly help the weaker and smaller school districts. According to the proposed bill a tax would be laid on tobacco, excess profits and incomes. All of the school districts below a certain assessed valuation would be benefited by this bill. This would increase the revenue of the Kendrick district by about one third. Mr. Vincent made a special plea for all communities to write to the county representatives in their respective districts urging its passage when the legislature convenes.

At present the education committee of the Commercial Club is studying the bill and will be able to submit a report concerning it at the next meeting.

Basketball Schedule

At the Teachers Convention at Lewiston October the 6th and 7th, Mr. Dawald arranged the basketball schedule for the next season. Following is the proposed schedule of conference games:

Dec. 3—Pierce at Kendrick
Dec. 16—Culdesac at Kendrick
Jan. 20—Southwick at Kendrick
Jan. 21—Genesee at Genesee
Jan. 27—Culdesac at Culdesac
Feb. 3—Southwick at Southwick
Feb. 10—Lapwai at Kendrick
Feb. 15—Lapwai at Lapwai
Feb. 25—Genesee at Kendrick

In addition to the above it is expected that a number of practice games will be played.

Will Join Athletic Association
At the Teachers Institute held in Lewiston Thursday and Friday of last week, the question of whether or not the schools of this district would join the Idaho Athletic Association was brought up. It was decided that they would join the Association and comply with the rules of the Association. This prevents them from playing any ineligible athletes in practice or conference games.

New Equipment
The Manual Training Department of the school has purchased quite a number of new tools, and all of the students are greatly pleased with them. Additional laboratory equipment has also been purchased for the Chemistry class and is scheduled to arrive today.

Exhibit
As this marks the end of the first six-weeks the D. S. girls will exhibit their sewing in the D. S. Room, Friday afternoon between the hours of one and four. All mothers who care to attend are invited to come and view the handiwork. Most all materials will be reserved for the large exhibit in the spring; but in view of the fact that the girls want to wear the garments made, three individual exhibits will be held in D. S. this year.

Commercial
At the teachers meeting, Miss Deagen was elected to the position of Secretary and Treasurer of the North Central Commercial Teachers Association. Miss Deagen states that the commercial teachers of this section are, for the most part, opposed to having an interscholastic commercial contest this year. In case one is held, however, she declares that Kendrick will probably enter contestants in typing.
