STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

An intensive survey of the operation of Idaho's common school districts, made for the educational committee of the State Chamber's tax committee, reveals some startling variations in costs, unit-costs, student-load and teacher-strength of the various districts. These variations are such that, as pointed out in the report, "it is difficult to believe that the districts are in the same state, operating under the same statutes and providing what is presumed to be a uniform system of education". The report indicates our present district system of common school education in that "it does not permit equal educational opportunity to the pupils or equal to the taxpayers".

Wide Variations

Because of the wide variations in operative costs in districts of similar size and operating under similar conditions, the conclusion is drawn that at least one of the difficulties under which the common schools are operating is a lack of competent organization and management.

To drive this conclusion more forcibly home, a number of the variations referred to will be pointed out.

In one-teacher schools having a daily attendance of 10 students or less the low cost for the school year of 1930-1931 was $746 and the high cost $2670.12, each school being operated for nine months. The variations in similar schools with 20 to 35 pupils was from $1097.31 to $5431.13, or a difference roughly of $4400 in costs to the respective taxpayers.

Costs Vary

The variations in two-teacher school ranged from $1431.44 to $7632.42; in three-teacher schools from $2898.34 to $9336.67; in four-teacher schools from $3501.04 to $10,205.94; and in five-teacher schools the low cost was $7,463.39 and the high cost $12,578.49.

Equally wide variations is noted in the costs of combined grade and high schools. For instance, for schools with enrollments of 2000 to 4327 the costs varied from $173,976 to $430,312. One particular case is cited wherein the difference in enrollment was only five pupils while the variation in expenditures amounted to $109,000. This wide variation in school expenditures is equally apparent in individual items. Considering for instance teachers' salaries, we find one one-teacher school pays its instructor $550 while a second school, of similar size and conducted for the same length of time, provides $1800 as the annual salary. Variations of from $300 to $600 in the salaries of teachers in schools of similar size are common.

Per-Teacher Expense

The variations in "other expenses" per teacher are also startling. One school with an enrollment of 99 pupils managed to get along on $111 per teacher over and above salaries, while a second school, with 93 pupils, required $1195 "other expenses" per teacher for the year, or more than 10 times as much as the first. One district expended $664 per teacher to provide a place of instruction and educational supplies for 144 pupils while another district made the same provisions for 4322 pupils at a cost of only $629 per teacher. The average number of students per teacher, or student-load, in the state varies from 11.7 in Clark county to 29.8 in Canyon county.

The logical conclusion to be drawn from these many and wide variations in school costs is that some districts are undoubtedly paying too little. The happy medium, if it could be determined, would probably prove the cure of a good many, if not most, of the state's educational ills.

Hallowe'en Quiet

Hallowe'en was celebrated in Kendrick by the youngsters in a rather quiet way, very little real mischief having been done. The main street of town was somewhat littered with carious movable things and windows were smeared with parffin, soap, paint and ink—but that really doesn't amount to anything for there is no real damage done, and causes many windows to be cleaned that otherwise might go dirty.

The only real damage reported to date was the cutting of a tire on Harold Thomas' automobile, which had been left standing out. The tire was cut in two places in the sidewall, which makes the tire practically useless.

A few clotheslines were cut a few nights previous to Hallowe'en.

Banks Will Reopen

The First National Bank of Idaho at Boise and its affiliates in Idaho and eastern Oregon were reopened Monday under a reorganized plan which will make available to depositors upwards of $10,000,000 for regulated withdrawal, Allan R. Leroy, representative of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, announced.

Besides the local bank others reopening are the Rupert State bank, the Buhl State, Meridian State bank, Nampa State bank, Bank of Emmett, Caldwell State bank, Weiser State bank and Ontario, Ore., National bank. The Vale, Ore., National bank which closed August 30 with the rest of the group has been merged with the Ontario bank.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Two enlisted men were under arrest at army headquarters in Honolulu charged by department officials with stealing confidential documents and then attempting to sell them to an agent whom they believed to be a foreign power representative.

The mystery of the disappearance of Charles Marsh, former judge of Umatilla county, Oregon, who left Portland by automobile October 17, for his Pendleton, Ore., home, and has not been seen since, remained unsolved despite an intense search by state and county police along the Columbia river highway between Portland and the eastern Oregon city.

Two Kentucky mountain families shot out their differences in front of the courthouse in Pineville and sent several hundred persons scurrying for shelter in a fight in which six persons three of them bystanders, were wounded. Three of the alleged participants were arrested and a fourth was taken to a hospital after city and county officers broke up the battle.

An apparently rich gold strike in the long-abandoned Swauk creek mining district, near Ellensburg, the cleaning out of $10,000 worth of gold from a pocket in a day and a half's work, was reported today by Jack Jordan, son of a pioneer miner. The strike was the largest in the area in 25 years. The gold weighed about 32 pounds.

Two unmasked men who beat or frightened the manager into unconsciousness, looted the vault of the Victory Loan company, Spokane, of more than $8,000 in cash, diamonds, jewelry and old coins and escaped Saturday.

Plans for a campaign against blister rust in Idaho's vast white pine stands to employ 2,000 each summer for eight years, were discussed by Inland Empire timber men recently.

Mounted and foot police saved the king's palace and official residences in Downing street from attack by thousands of unemployed and "hunger" marchers" after a hard battle at Trafalgar square, London.

William H. Lane, a Lewiston rug cleaner was drowned in the Clearwater river, below the 18th street bridge Sunday morning shortly after 11 o'clock, while attempting to make his way to shore after having attached a wire to the island below the bridge for the purpose of making a boom to catch drift-wood.

Unconfirmed reports from Madrid said unemployed and police at Santander, Spain, engaged in a gun battle and that 10 persons were injured. They said large groups of unemployed were parading the streets and forcing all business to shut down. Fleeing from shots by police, a large number of agitators were reported to have jumped into the sea from the pier.

A year-old brindle bulldog and a 14 year-old girl who killed an enraged coyote with a club, combined to save from injury, and perhaps death, a girl of six years, attacked by the beast in the wild Gold creek basin county, 20 miles northeast of Sandpoint, Idaho. Reports received by the automobile club of Washington at Seattle said there were six inches of snow on Snoqualmie pass, Monday, 15 on Stevens and Chinook passes, and five on Blewett pass.

Rainier Brewing company, Inc., announced it was offering, subject to prior sale, 200,000 shares of its class A Participating common stock to the public at $10 a share.

Banks Be Closed

Both banks will be closed on Thursday (election day) and on Friday (Armistice day) of next week, and ask those having business with either bank to please bear this in mind.

ADVANCE OF ELECTRIC INDUSTRY SHOWN PLAINLY

On Monday, September 4, 1882, the first commercial electric plant in the world started operation. It was located on Pearl Street, New York, and served an area a mile square in lower Manhattan.

Today that original square mile has been broadened until it includes the 743 square miles that compose greater New York. The electric industry has circled the globe. Every American community of more than 1,000 population now has electric service, as have 50 per cent of all communities of 250 to 1,000 and 25 per cent of all hamlets with less than 250.

That little Pearl Street station had approximately 750 horsepower. Today the four unified companies serving the New York have 3,180,000, and the utilities of the nation control 46,000,000.

The capitalization of the original utility in 1882 was $1,000,000. Today the value of the power industry's plant and equipment is around $13,000,000,000.

All that has been taken place in less than a lifetime. Living persons have seen electricity develop from an element still in the experimental stage, so far as practical useage was concerned to the most vital influence in domestic and industrial life. And what that first little utility meant to the world was best expressed by the late Thomas Edison when he said: "The operation of Pearl Street meant the end of one epoch in civilized life and the beginning of another."

Next Tuesday—Election

Don't forget to remember that next Tuesday is election day—and that one week from today it will be all over but the shouting (and crying). The polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and will remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening of that day.

It don't make any difference how you vote—but vote. It is your duty. America is one country in the world where you can vote your ideas, no matter what they may be, and no one has a right to interfere—and may the best man win.

You have your preference, of course, so have we, but no matter who is elected, it will take a majority of votes to do it. And the majority rules in this great land of ours. If it doesn't suit you—take your medicine and say it's good, just as we expect to do. This old world of ours will revolve on its axis just the same as heretofore. It may take a little slinging of mud to make things work again—but it can and will be done.

Baby's Organs Reversed

Joan Richardson, eight days old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Richardson, Lewiston, is one in a million babies. For all of that, she may be the only one of her kind. Even if she never becomes a great actress or a renowned beauty, she will always be a most unusual person.

Doctors verified the fact that most of the vital organs are transposed in the baby's body, heart on the right side, turned about from usual location. The baby seems normal in every respect, it was stated at St. Joseph's hospital where X-rays pictures were taken.

Community Dinner

The Ladies Aid of the Community church are sponsoring a get-together dinner Friday evening at the church basement. Each one attending is asked to bring a covered dish, sufficient sandwiches for their own family and their own china and silver.

A novelty entertainment will follow the dinner. Everyone is invited to attend. A good time is promised. Come out and get acquainted with your neighbor.

Truck Burned

A truck driven by Carl Davis was burned on the Bear ridge grade on Wednesday of last week. The fire was said to have been caused by gasoline leaking from a can and running down on the exhaust. The truck was almost entirely destroyed and Mr. Davis received slight burns on the right arm. The machine was said to have been insured.

Four Have Tonsils Removed

Quite an interesting little party was held in Dr. Christensen's office last Saturday morning which was attended by Harold Stillow, Warren Wolff, Madeline and Gerald Schuitz, all having their tonsils removed at that time, Dr. Christensen doing the work.

SEVERAL HALLOWE'EN PARTIES ARE HELD

The home of Mrs. W. B. Deobald was the scene of a very delightful party Monday evening, when the "6-6" Bridge club met at her home in regular session for the purpose of celebrating Hallowe'en in a mild way. The affair was in the nature of a dessert-bridge party. Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen won high score and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Emery were low. The rooms were lighted with jack-o'-lanterns made from pumpkins and there were other decorations appropriate to the occasion.

Mrs. Mary Adams was an invited guest.

Another very pleasant bridge party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary when the members of the Afternoon club met there for a few games of bridge. Mrs. Helen Boyd made high score for the ladies and Mrs. R. H. Ramey was awarded low, while Harold Thomas was high for the men and W. L. McCreary was low. Refreshments were served after play.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawald were invited guests.

A very pleasant party took place at the home of Miss Maxine Keene, Monday evening, when 14 of her girl friends gathered to spend the evening. Games were played and refreshments of gingerbread and cider were served. The rooms were appropriately decorated with jack-o'-lanterns and orange and black crepe paper.

Those present were Misses Rowena Ramey, Jeanne Ramey, Ellen Woody, Lois Woody, Phyllis Cummings, Ethel Cummings, Kathryn Emery, Betty Ingle, Jessie Scott, Elma Scott, Mary Elizabeth Thompson, Elma Jones, Annabel Davis and Josephine Davis.

Be Record Vote In U. S.

According to figures compiled and published, the vote at the general election to be held November 8, will be the largest in history. There are more than four and a half million more voters registered at this time than there were in 1928, the registration being 46,965,230 this year as against 42,387,254 in 1928. Idaho is one of six states that have fallen below the 1928 registration, it being 175,000 against 185,000 in 1928.

From all reports the clerks of election this year will earn their fees as it is predicted that there will be more "scratched" votes than ever before.

Winter Near at Hand

From the appearance of the surrounding hills the first of the week, there is no question but that Old Man Winter is near at hand—and is not "just around the corner". He is closer than that, as can be attested to by the fellow that has begun to carry in wood to feed the front-room heater and the range.

While no snow has been in evidence in the valley it has been falling on the surrounding higher ground during the past several days at various times. There is about five inches in the hills.

September Gas Tax

Gasoline tax receipts for sales in September were $279,916 on 5,598,320 gallons, compared with $307,615 on 6,152,241 gallons in September last year, the director of motor fuels revealed.

The total income from this source for the first nine months of 1932 was $1,940,933, compared with $2,301,965 for the same period of 1931.

Name Omitted

In the account given of the dinner at the Mrs. M. A. Deobald home on American ridge a week ago Sunday the name of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family was inadvertently omitted. They were present and enjoyed the hospitality for which Mrs. M. A. Deobald is noted.

"Mud Slinging"

A man remarked the other day that if one could gather up all the mud that has been thrown during this campaign, he could fill in one of our large canyons and have a good farm—taking the B. S. into consideration.

Lutheran Aid Meets

The Lutheran Ladies Aid met with Mrs. D. A. Ingle on Bear ridge on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large crowd present and a splendid time was had.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club will be held in the Raby Hotel Monday evening, October 7, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock. As usual, there will be several things of general interest to the citizens of our little city and as many as possible should be present. The unemployment situation will be discussed and a report from Mr. Dammarell will be made regarding the R. F. C. aid to be received—and what it is to be used for. There will be other things of importance to come before the meeting. Come out and do your duty to your town and community.

NEZ PERCE COUNTY WAR-ING ON NOXIOUS WEEDS

Farmers of central Idaho, especially in Nez Perce county are making war on weeds this fall as they never have before, according to J. W. Thometz, county agent, who declared that this is the best time of the year to secure high per cent kills on plots infested, says the Lewiston Tribune.

The poison solutions sink into the ground with fall rains and seep along the weed roots, as well as saturating the plant itself with the poison. Weeds, known to be the worst enemy of high crop yields and soil fertility, can be obliterated if proper means are taken for a thorough job.

"Chlorates, when properly applied in sufficient quantities, have proven effective in the control of perennial weeds with running 'rootstocks,'" Mr. Thometz said.

"Sodium chlorate, pound for pound, is approximately 25 per cent more effective than commercial calcium or magnesium chlorates but also creates more of a fire hazard.

"Chlorates usually are applied in water solution in the form of fine, misty spray. These applications must be made carefully and thoroughly to insure satisfactory control.

"Weed patches to be sprayed should have been left alone prior to spraying. Weed patches should be isolated when cultivation is attempted. In using sodium chlorate extreme care must be used to keep fire away from spray patches after drying. Friction oftentimes sets the dry sprayed patch afire. Clothes worn by the person doing the spraying should be washed before being worn again.

"Rubber boots, if available, should be worn in spraying and washed off with water after use.

"Commercial calcium and magnesium chlorate are less dangerous but will burn readily after drying. All mixing of sprays should be done away from buildings, as sodium chlorate mixed with dust forms an explosive mixture.

Hunters Return With Limit

A hunting party made up of Geo. P. Barnum, O. W. Henry, Fred Newman and Rev. O. G. Ehlen returned Monday evening from an eight-days hunt in the Lochsa country, bringing with them four fine elk and four deer. Mr. Barnum stated they also bagged two ducks, a porcupine and a coyote.

He stated that there were many hunters in the section they passed through but that they did not seem to be getting any game. He also stated that there was plenty of snow and that the party was "wet" (with rain) practically all the time they were in the hunting country and that the last three nights they did not go to bed but spent the time around a campfire, their tent and bedding was frozen in the canvas and could not be used. The entire crowd claim to have had a fine time, and we presume the reason of that is, they got what they went after.

One of the bull elk would weigh some 600 pounds. It was a magnificent animal and possessed a fine set of teeth and six-point antlers.

Odd Fellows Entertain Rebels

An open meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge was held last Saturday evening, the regular lodge session being dispensed with, and the members of the Rebekahs lodge were invited in to hear reports from the meeting of grand lodge, held at Lewiston recently. After the reports had been read and discussed the meeting resolved itself into a social affair and cards were indulged in, after which a light lunch was served.

WHEAT MARKETS LOWER—FEED GRAINS WEAKENED

Domestic wheat markets were sharply lower during the week ending Oct. 28, and futures at Chicago reached the lowest point in the history of that market, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Weakness in foreign exchange, sharp declines at Winnipeg where buying support was lacking, improved prospects in the Southern Hemisphere and increased moisture in domestic Winter wheat areas, were principally responsible for the weak wheat situation. Cash wheat did not follow the full decline in futures, since offerings were of only moderate volume and milling inquiry was fairly active. Corn futures declined with wheat, but cash grain was relatively firm with smaller marketings meeting a steady demand from industries, shippers and feeders. Oats and barley markets were dull and without special features. Rye was lower with wheat, while flax declined slightly under the same influence.

Declines of about 10c in the English pound sterling, in terms of U. S. currency, and of about 2c in the Canadian dollar were an unsettling factor in the general wheat situation during the week and tended to check European buying of foreign wheat. The slower export inquiry was reflected particularly in Canadian markets, where lack of buying support forced prices at Winnipeg to new record lows for that market. An additional weakening influence in the general situation was improved crop prospects in the Southern Hemisphere. General rains were very beneficial in Argentina and new chops conditions were reported generally favorable in Australia, where harvesting is expected to begin in some districts early in November. Good rains in the domestic Winter wheat belt were particularly beneficial in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma and put soil in good condition where planting had been delayed by dryness. In sections where seeding had already been accomplished the additional moisture favored germination and growth. Good rains relieved the drought in many sections of Russia and seedings of Winter grains at the middle of October totaled approximately 79,000,000 acres compared with about 82,000,000 acres for the corresponding period last season.

Domestic cash wheat markets were mostly lower but did not follow the full decline in futures. Marketings continued relatively light with domestic milling inquiry was of moderate volume. Some export business in Dark Hard Winters were reported to Greece and exports bids at the close of the week were around 7c to 8c over the Chicago Dec. future price and at the close of the week were equivalent to 53-54c delivered Gulf ports. Receipts at the principal Central and Southernwestern Winter wheat markets totaled 1,583 cars compared with 4,491 cars for the corresponding week last year. Millers, shippers and elevator operators were in the markets for supplies at Kansas City and buying was sufficiently active to absorb current arrivals at steady premiums. At the close of the market Oct. 28, ordinary protein, No. 2 Hard Winter, was quoted at 41-41½c and 13 per cent protein at 42½-44½c per bushel.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were also weak and lower although declines were less than at Eastern points. Country marketings in Washington and Oregon were extremely light and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals totaled only 484 cars compared with 638 cars for the corresponding week last year. A considerable proportion of the terminal receipts represented consignments for storage which were not offered in the cash markets. Demand was dull reflecting the limited outlet to domestic buyers and a continued lack of exports sales. Domestic mills were taking relatively light amounts and demand for feed wheat from local and California buyers was of only moderate volume. At the close of the market Oct. 28, Bluestem Hard White was quoted at Portland at 55c, soft white at 46c, Western White, Western Red, Northern Spring and Hard Winter at 5c and 12 per cent protein Dark Hard Winter at 53c, sacked for No. 1 Western White was quoted at Seattle at 46c, Western Red at 46½c, Hard Winter at 47c and Baart Hard White at 57c, sacked, for No. 1 wheat. No. 1 Dark Northern Spring in bulk from Montana, with 16 per cent protein, was quoted at 59c, but the movement of

A TAX FREE COUNTY?

"FALSE IN ONE FALSE IN ALL"

The above is a legal maxim as old as our civilization.

Confident that the average citizen would be unable to realize the untruth of figures presented in paid advertisements, the DEMOCRATIC HIGH COMMAND of this County published broadcast throughout the County the following statement:

Quote: "The Governor's requested Tax reduction for Latah County is $90,986.61."
(Moscow Star Mirror, Oct. 31.)

IS THIS TRUE? IT IS NOT!

The County records show that the entire TAX which Latah County is required to pay to the State for 1932 is exactly $90,986.61.

Hoarded Money Coming Out
When currency that has been all but chewed to confetti by mice, gold pieces in rusty cans, and bills out of circulation for 20 years are thrust through bank tellers' windows, something is happening to hoarding.
That's what has been going on in Spokane, particularly in the last few weeks, when thousands of dollars of obviously hoarded money has been deposited, a round of banks revealed.
For example, a woman offered $1,300 in currency for deposit. Most of the bills had been chewed away. "It has been in the attic a long time," she explained, "the mice must have gotten to it."
An aged woman came into another bank lugging a rusted tin can. The amazed teller counted $2,500 in $10 and $20 gold pieces, the result of several years of hoarding.
A man offered a pack of currency for deposit. There were 10 bills of $100 denomination, bound by a bank strap dated in 1912, indicating the money had been kept out of circulation since it was issued 20 years ago. The owner bought a car with the money, the depositor explained.

Not Lower Farm Tariffs

Seattle, Oct. 27—A personal telegram from Franklin D. Roosevelt today reiterated the democratic presidential nominee's opposition to the lowering of duties on farm products, George E. Starr, democratic state chairman, said. Roosevelt also requested that his stand be brought to the attention of Washington farmers.
"Of course it is absurd to talk of lowering tariff duties on farm products," the telegram said in part.

this wheat was practically at a standstill, according to trade reports. The Vancouver market declined with Winnipeg but considerable quantities of wheat were reported sold for export to the United Kingdom. Approximately 9,000,000 bus. of wheat have been booked for Nov. loading from Vancouver, according to trade reports. No. 1 Manitoba Northern was quoted at Vancouver at the close of the week at 48½¢, which is equivalent in U. S. currency to 43 ¼¢ per bushel.

There was little change in the California wheat situation but weakness in outside markets was reflected in slightly lower prices both at San Francisco and Los Angeles. Offerings of local wheat were relatively small and the timid amounts being marketed were going almost entirely to feeders at interior points where shipments from outside of the State were at freight disadvantages. Mills and industries were obtaining supplies principally from Washington and Oregon since offerings from the Intermountain States were mostly above a trading basis. Mills and industries at Los Angeles were drawing heavily upon supplies previously purchased and were mostly of local and Northwestern wheat. At the close of the market Oct. 28, Local No. 1 Hard White wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.02½-1.05 and at Los Angeles at the same price. No. 1 Soft White wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.00 and at Los Angeles at $1.00-1.02½.

Soft Winter wheat markets were steady compared with other classes of wheat although prices declined slightly along with futures. No. 2 Soft Red Winter was quoted at Kansas City at the close of the market Oct. 28, at 42½¢, at St. Louis at 49¢ and at Cincinnati at 48¼-49½¢ per bushel. Marketings of spring wheat continued to decrease during the week and receipts at Minneapolis totaled 683 cars and at Duluth 844 cars. Heavy test weight wheat with high protein was in fairly active inquiry but demand generally lacked force and premiums on cash grain were barely maintained. The Winnipeg market fluctuated within a wide range during the week but strengthened toward the close when export buying increased. Country deliveries have diminished rapidly during the past week but about 55 per cent of the crop has been marketed to date, according to trade estimates. No. 1 Manitoba Northern was quoted Oct. 28 at Winnipeg at 48¢ per bu. which is equivalent in U. S. currency to 43¢.

Marketings in Utah-Idaho territory were light and a large percentage was reported being placed in storage by growers so that current offerings were relatively small. At the close of the week No. 2 Soft White was quoted at 27-30¢, No. 2 Hard Red Winter at 28-31¢ and No. 2 Northern Spring at 29-32¢ FOB Utah and Idaho common points.

Durum wheat markets declined with other wheats but did not strengthen to the same extent toward the close of the week. Export business was slackening and cash demand was only fair volume.

Award of the Certificate of Merit by the National Safety Council to The Washington Water Power Company and its employes for an exceptional record of accident prevention has been announced by John B. Fiskin, safety engineer for the Washington Water

To win the award the company participated in the annual safety contest of the National Safety Council, competing with 23 other electric service companies. The contest lasted for one year beginning July 1, 1931. During this time the Washington Water Power Company accident reports showed only 7 lost time injuries for 2,061,357 manhours.

Under the supervision of Mr. Fiskin, the company carries on a constant program of first aid training and accident prevention work.

Pork Extras

Pork has made up an increasing proportion of the Nation's meat diet in the last 10 years, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Fifty-two percent of all meat consumed in the United States last year came from hogs. The per capita consumption of pork last year was 69.6 lbs., compared with 69.3 in 1930. A record was established in 1923 and 1924, with 74.7 pounds per capita.

"Did you get my check?"
"Yes, twice. Once from you and once from the bank."

FARMERS!
Stop! Look! Listen!

The only profit made by the farmers in Latah County this year is on the marketing of peas. The Democratic Party proposes to destroy the only source of revenue by which the farmers can survive. Examine the record as contained in the table below:

UNDERWOOD DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL OF 1913
Dried peas	16 2-3¢ per hundred pounds
REPUBLICAN TARIFF OF 1920
Whole peas	$1.00 per hundred pounds
Split peas	$1.25 per hundred pounds
IMPORTATIONS
From July 1928, to June 1929:
Whole, dry peas	15,889,318 pounds
Split peas	2,711,210 pounds
Total	18,600,528 pounds
From July 1929 to June 1930:
Whole, dry peas	20,674,403 pounds
Split peas	13,964,557 pounds
Total	34,638,960 pounds
UNDER HAWLEY-SMOOT REPUBLICAN TARIFF BILL
Tariff on Dried peas	$1.75 per hundred pounds
Tariff on Split peas	$2.50 per hundred pounds
IMPORTATIONS
From June 1930 to July 1931:
Whole, dry peas	7,687,927 pounds
Split peas	203,358 pounds
Total	7,891,285 pounds
From July 1931 to June 1932:
Whole, dry peas	8,519,467 pounds
Split peas	1,210,924 pounds
Total	9,730,391 pounds

PRESENT QUOTATIONS ON IMPORTED PEAS F. O. B. NEW YORK

Tariff of $1.75 paid:
On Dried Peas	$3.24 to $3.90 per hundred
On Whole Green	$4.00 to $4.40 per hundred
Eliminate the tariff from dried peas and foreign peas would now be quoted New York as follows:
Whole Yellow	$1.40 to $1.50 per hundred
Whole Green	$2.25 to $2.40 per hundred

The freight rate from the Inland Empire to New York is 90¢ per hundred. Without a tariff our peas would be practically worthless in the Inland Empire as our market, to a large extent, depends upon the eastern section of the country.

But it will be argued by the opposition that the Democratic Party will not reduce the tariff on peas. Every Democratic tariff has practically removed the tariff from everything produced on the farm. They will do so again. Labor is interested in the welfare of the farmer for the reason that agriculture employs more unskilled labor than all other industries combined. Give the farmer a profit and he will employ more labor.

A vote for Hoover for President, Thomas for United States Senator, and French for Congressman means a stable and profitable price for peas. If the opposing candidates on the Democratic ticket are in sympathy with the pea industry, let the two candidates against Senator Thomas and Representative French produce, over their own signatures, a statement that they will vote against any tariff bill which proposes to reduce the tariff on this most important agricultural industry in Latah County!

BODY REGULATORS

By Dwight Ingle

Science has discovered many interesting things about the body during the last few years. With the exception of the brain and its nervous system the most interesting group of organs in the body is that of the so-called endocrine glands. These glands secrete chemical substances which are absorbed into the blood and while in the blood regulate many important body functions. These chemical substances are called "hormones". This is a Greek word which means "I stir up". There are many of these hormones in the body and it is probable that there are still some which have not yet been discovered. I will describe some of the most interesting of these glands and their hormones.

The best known of the glands is the thyroid. It has two parts, one lying on either side of the wind-pipe. Sometimes the gland becomes greatly enlarged. This enlargement is called a goiter. The causes of goiter are not very well known. When in an enlarged condition the gland may produce too much of its hormone. This over-supply of the hormone causes the person to lose weight rapidly and to become very sick and nervous. It is frequently necessary for the surgeons to operate and remove a part of the gland. If the thyroid produces too little of its hormone, a very different condition results. The individual becomes fat and sluggish, the hands and feet swell, the skin becomes dry, and there is a feeling of weakness and dullness. When this condition occurs in children their mental and physical growth is greatly retarded. They become feeble-minded and remain much below normal size. These children are called cretins. Fortunately science has learned why the thyroid sometimes produces too little of its hormone. The hormone contains iodine and when too little iodine is furnished to the body it is unable to produce a normal amount of the hormone. We usually get all the iodine we need from vegetables. In Switzerland and in the Great Lakes region of our country there is little iodine in the soil and so under-activity of the thyroid is frequent. Doctors treat this condition by giving iodine. Iodine is now put into table salt to make sure that the body gets a sufficient amount. Also chemists are able to make the thyroid hormone in their laboratories and doctors frequently give this artificial product instead of iodine.

Formerly when surgeons removed a part of the thyroid gland to cure goiter the patient frequently died. At present these operations are seldom fatal. It was discovered that there were four tiny glands lying on the thyroid tissue itself. These are now called parathyroid glands and it is known that they produce a hormone which is necessary to life. Before their discovery the surgeons frequently removed them with the thyroid tissue and the patient of course died. Now the surgeon is able to avoid them. The hormone produced by the parathyroids can also be manufactured in the chemist's laboratory. If the surgeon should remove the parathyroid by accident, he can give the patient the artificial preparation in medicine form and death will be prevented.

The most interesting of all the glands are the adrenals. There are two of them. One lies just above each kidney. Both are exactly alike, each being made up of two parts. The core of the gland secretes a hormone called adrenin while the outside covering of the gland secretes a hormone called cortin. Adrenin is excreted into the blood only when the individual becomes very angry or afraid or when his life is threatened by injury.

In short, it protects the body in an emergency. It causes the breath to come faster, the heart to beat more rapidly, and supplies more body energy. If one is very tired, the secretion of adrenin causes a recovery from the fatigue and enables him to do much more work. It is sometimes injected into race horses to enable them to run more rapidly. Its continued use is injurious to the body, however, for nature has intended it only for emergency. Newspapers sometimes report cases of persons who have been brought back to life when apparently dead. Adrenin is the substance which has been used in such cases. Unfortunately these cases are rare. If the body loses blood, adrenin is immediately excreted into the blood and it causes more rapid clotting.

It is possible for the body to live without adrenin but if the outside of the adrenin gland is destroyed, as it may be by tuberculosis, the individual dies. This condition, which is due to the lack of the hormone cortin, is known as Addison's Disease. Within the two years it has become possible to obtain artificial preparations of cortin and now deaths from Addison's Disease can be prevented by its use.

Other glands besides the adrenals produce more than one hormone. The pituitary gland, which lies at the base of the brain, produces at least five.

Its most important hormone controls the growth of the body. Most people who are very short or very tall owe their abnormality in size to either too little or too much of this growth hormone. By injecting this hormone into the body of animals it is possible to cause them to grow as much as twice their normal size. In children who do not grow as rapidly as they should it is possible to increase their rate of growth by the injection of the hormone.

Another well known hormone of the pituitary gland is widely used to check hemorrhage. It acts by contracting the walls of the bloodvessels thereby lessening the loss of blood. Dentists often use it when too much bleeding occurs after a tooth is extracted.

There are other hormones than those I have mentioned. They are not so interesting as the ones I have described nor is so much known about them. Science is finding that many diseases of the body are based on disorders of the glands and it is gradually learning how to cure these disorders.

A PESSIMIST'S TALE OF WOE

"Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, Lo, the thing is junk and he needeth another. He planteth grain in the earth and tilleth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into the barns he oweth the landlord eight dollars and forty cents more than the crop is worth. He borroweth money from the lenders to buy pork and syrup and gasoline and the interest catcheth up what he hath. He begets sons and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar, and Lo, they have soft hands and neither labor in the the fields nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are ornery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another stiketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance.

The wife of his bosom 'necketh with a stranger and when he rebuketh her, Lo! she shooteth him in the finale. He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. He drinketh a drink of whoopee juice to forgeth his liver. All the days of his life he findeth no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until he cometh back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians remove his inner parts and his teeth and his bank roll; his daughters showeth their legs to strangers, his arteries hardeneth in the evening of his life and his heart busteth trying to keep the pace.

Sorrow and bill collectors followeth him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered to his fathers, the neighbors sayeth: "How much did he leave?" Lo! He hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young shiek that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of bridge. Woe is man! From the day of his birth to the time when earth knoweth him no more he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning and his name is mud.—Exchange.

Blister Rust Ravages Forests
Unless something drastic is done to halt the infestation of blister rust in the white pine forests of northern Idaho and eastern Washington the lumber industry of the area is doomed, was the statement made by S. N. Wyckoff, senior plant pathologist of the United States department of agriculture.

Mr. Wyckoff went on to say that recent research of the department shows blister rust to be a far greater menace to our forests than at first anticipated and the inroads into both our virgin and second growth white pine must be halted if the timber is to be preserved.

STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

The opinion of those who have studied the question is that the Idaho tax structure may be attacked on three fundamental points: (1) that taxes are too high, (2) that the tax burden upon real property is unjust and (3) that our system of equalization is faulty.

On the first score practically every taxpayer in the entire state unhesitatingly agree. There is no question about it; taxes are too high, they are an unjust burden against property on which they are paid. Never in the history of this state has the realization that taxes are too high been so keen as at the present time, and never in the history of this state has the demand for reduced taxes been so unrelenting.

However, on digging back into tax history we find that in the final analysis the people themselves are largely responsible for the size of their tax bills. They vote public bonds, ask for and demand public improvements and insist upon widespread government activities—all of which cost money. The people themselves, by judiciously exercising their privilege of the ballot, can to a large extent control the size of their taxes. And unless they indicate an interest in the matter it is hardly fair to expect others to.

Burden Unjust

The second assertion, that the tax burden on real property is unjust, doubtless contains considerable truth. The tax system of this state is founded upon the real property theory; indeed when it originated there was very little property other than real. So the system was built to reach real property; it did, and still does.

However, there is at present much and valuable property other than real estate, including stocks, bonds, bank deposits, business assets and so forth, all of which are to the profit-earning variety. A large portion of the nation's wealth is now in this form, intangible but nevertheless earning a profit dollar as round and hard as that in the laborer's Saturday night pay envelope. But still our unyielding tax system forces practically the entire cost of government upon real property.

The third fault, as charged, of our tax system goes deep into the complicated mechanics of assessment. It is alleged that there are many and flagrant inequalities of assessment, that similar properties of similar value pay widely varying taxes. Not only that, but it is likewise charged that there is gross discrimination between urban and rural property assessments.

Assesment Unequal

A report made to the State Board of Equalization in 1930 revealed that the average assessment of farm land was about 44.4 per cent of its value while city business property paid taxes on only 34.94 per cent of its value. Another illustration cited is that of a farm being taxed on only 25 per cent of its value while another farm in the same county was listed upon the rolls at 62 per cent of its value. Farms on the opposite sides of a road are said to pay widely varying taxes because of the fact that the road marked a county boundary and the assessments were made by different assessors.

In the study of the Idaho tax situation the State Chamber is taking these three charges into consideration and has already been instrumental in reducing taxes by urging reductions in local budgets. The State Chamber is likewise considering methods of reaching intangible property and forcing it to carry, along with real holdings, its fair share of governmental costs. Also, in the task of formulating a legislative program that is now being carried on, the State Chamber has enlisted the assistance of the most competent tax students in Idaho for the task of finding a solution to the equalization problem.

Student Tickets

To date the student ticket sale has been rather discouraging and the amount of cash in the bank is rather small. So far only 14 students of the high school have purchased tickets, and some six adult tickets have been sold. The Seniors have turned eleven dollars that they received from their dance over to the athletic department also. This increases the total amount of cash to about $45.00 which is only about half of the necessary amount that is to be raised. Unless the students get behind this sale and show a little school spirit it may be that some of the games will have to be cancelled. Many of the students seem to think that a team can travel on nothing but still they expect to see the full amount of games played. There should be few reasons why any student deriving the benefit of a high school education shouldn't buy a ticket and support the school, so come on students and lets see if a greater sum of money can't be raised in the next week or two.—Jack Bailey

School Carnival

An elaborate school carnival will be staged in the gymnasium Friday, Nov 11, the proceeds of which will be placed in the high school athletic fund. Many students are working on posters at present, and each class is busy making preparations for the various stunts and booths that will go to make up the evenings entertainment. In connection with the carnival a popularity contest will be held in which each class will nominate contestants and sell votes for their candidates to students and townspeople. The winner of the contest will be crowned queen during the evening of the carnival.

The main show will begin at 7.30. Immediately following this the booths will be opened, presenting a wide variety of fun, eats and entertainment. Principal among the attraction in the booths will be the fortune teller, the undersea dog, the kissing corner, the fish pond, the wild man, the man eating lion, and the hypnotist booth. A dance will be held in conjunction with the evenings entertainment, a local orchestra having been secured.

CALL FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received up to and including November 14, 1932, at the office of the Clerk of Joint School District No. 24, Kendrick, Idaho, for the furnishing of 100 cords of seasoned green cut red fir wood, to be cut 42 inches in length, to be delivered and piled in the wood pit of the Kendrick School building on or before Aug. 15, 1933.

For the purpose of the bid a cord will measure 42 inches, 4x8 feet. Successful bidder to furnish bond for the fulfillment of contract.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The boys basketball team is progressing nicely now under the able management of coach Dawald. Regular practices are being held on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. It is expected that a couple of practice games will be played with Deary sometime in the latter part of November.

Girls Basketball

The girls are to start practicing regularly this coming week for a game they expect to play with Deary in the near future.

Referees Game

Mr. Dawald motored to Troy Friday afternoon to referee a game there between Genese and Troy. Those accompanying him were Mrs. Dawald, Ted Davis, Karl Emery, Ted Davidson and Bud Carlson.

Boys Glee Club

The boys Glee club under the supervision of Miss Newman have begun practicing on several new songs that have been received. The songs consist mainly of two- and three part harmony.

Advanced Orchestra

In spite of the fact that some of the music was delayed and substituted, the advanced orchestra students are progressing rapidly. They have learned the mechanics of the "Universal March" and are now adding expression and various touches of improvement.

Beginning Orchestra

The Beginners in Orchestra are learning the position of different notes on their instruments. They are also learning various scales. A very promising orchestra is expected after they have mastered the first few necessary steps for a foundation.

Hoover Should Stop It!

Word has come from London, England, during the past week or more of the marching of the unemployed upon the palace and the house of parliament, asking that they be given employment—or dole.

Since our presidents are blamed with everything, why doesn't this one stop it.

New Horse and Mule Disease

Dr. A. J. Powell, deputy state veterinarian, Lewiston, last week received word, from Dr. A. J. Exlyne of Olympia and Dr. T. W. White, Idaho director at Boise, asking him to report at once any cases of infectious encephalomyelitis, a brain disease among horses and mules.

According to Dr. White, the disease, more or less prevalent in the middlewest and in Pacific coast states for a number of years, was recently discovered in Idaho. Several cases have been reported in Ada, Canyon, Cassia, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties within the last three weeks. Dr. Powell yesterday urged farmers to report to him quickly any signs of the disease.

Notice to Correspondents

The Gazette has one of the best list of country correspondents of any country paper in this entire section and we are justly proud of them and fully appreciate their every effort to get us the news of their individual neighborhoods. But there is just one suggestion we would like to make and that is that they try and mail their correspondence on Tuesday so it will reach us on Wednesday. While some of it comes as early as Tuesday, we would like to have all mail their letters so they may reach us Wednesday morning. Considerable correspondence is now reaching us on Thursday and that doesn't hardly give us time to lay out our paper in proper shape and get it on the press by Thursday at noon. If your correspondents will please do this, we will appreciate it ever so much—and we'll speak a good word to old Santa Claus about you.

COUNTY CHIRMAN COLLINS MAKES STATEMENT

E. C. Collins, republican county chairman, has received so many inquiries about the individual county candidates that he yesterday gave out the following statement:

"Never in my experience in politics has the Republican party presented so strong a list of candidates to the voters of this county. Too often in the heat of a hard-fought national campaign the importance of the county ticket may be overlooked. The officers you elect in the county represent that part of the government which is most directly in contact with the average citizen. For the benefit of the voters I am pleased to make the following short comments with reference to the local Republican candidates:"

State Senator—Burton C. Rowe combines legislative experience with a thorough knowledge of Latah county's needs.

Representatives—Alfred S. Anderson is a veteran of five legislative sessions and we need his sound judgment.

Thomas A. Feeney is one of the state's prominent ex-service men with a personal acquaintance in every community in the state.

Don't forget, you vote for two.

County Commissioner, First District—Elmer W. Travis is a successful farmer and long identified with matters of public interest.

County Commissioner, Second District—Rudolph E. Nordby, the present chairman of the Board, with a record for careful management and good judgment.

County Commissioner, Third District—John L. Woody, a veteran public servant whom the voters continually insist on returning to public office.

Prosecuting Attorney—Abe Goff, an experienced prosecutor who has made Latah county the outstanding county in the state for conviction of law violators and combined this with the lowest criminal trial cost in the history of the county.

Sheriff—Charlie Summerfield, the best sheriff in the state, and the man who has made the professional crook give this section a wide berth. Nominated on both tickets in the primary and is without opposition in the general election.

Treasurer—Leola R. King, who is efficiently operating a million-dollar volume of business with a minimum of expense.

Probate Judge—L. G. Peterson, an experienced judge whose office records are complete in every detail.

Superintendent of Schools—Ellen Peterson. Latah county has ten more school districts than any county in the state, yet Miss Peterson's office has been run without full-time assistance and at cheaper per pupil cost as than any other county.

Assessor—Walter Q. Taylor, our assessor, whose efforts at accurate equalization of property values has brought noteworthy results.

Coroner—H. R. Short, now in office and owner and operator of the county's largest undertaking establishment.

Surveyor—Harvey J. Smith, present county surveyor and without opposition for re-election.—Adv.

Read Newspapers

The woman who knows her paper from the date line to the want ads can pick an argument with her husband about blondes becoming extinct, or a candidate's chances and the result is that she gets all the argument she wants without interfering in the least with her domestic happiness.

Instead of panning one of her husband's associates' wives she can lam the harpoon into some dame who is dragging her husband through the divorce courts, or she can grill the dramatic critic who doesn't like a certain show as much as she does. She can voice an opinion about a bit of news and throw more of a scare into her husband than if she tried to crown him with the goldfish.

Women read the papers more carefully than men do. At least this is the consensus of opinion in newspaper circles, where a close tab is kept on the tastes of people and the things that interest them.

She: "Now, before we start this ride, I want to tell you that I don't smoke, drink or flirt, I visit no way-side inns, and I expect to be back home by 10 o'clock."

He: "You're mistaken."

She: "You mean that I do any of those things?"

He: "No, I mean about starting for this ride."
