STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Since the education of its future citizens is undoubtedly one of the most important functions of any government, it might be well in this series of articles to look into the cost in Idaho of what is known as common school education.

The extensive survey recently completed reveals that during the school years of 1930-1931 a total of 1303 districts functioned in the state, providing educational opportunity for approximately 101,000 children.

The total expenditures of these districts was $11,355,485.32, which is divided into two classifications as follows: operation and maintenance, and capital account and debt service.

Costs Itemized
Considering the first classification, we find that the largest item, $5,866,784.39, was for instructional service or teachers' salaries. Supplies and sundries cost $526,762.00; fuel, light and water totaled $461,035.55; and school wagon operation amounted to $363,785.4. Tuition and miscellaneous items cost $1,753,951.22.

The capital account and debt service expenditures for the year totaled $2,383,535.00; which is divided as follows: apparatus, furniture and wagons, $176,196.09; building and ground improvements, $465,224.95; bond redemption, $961,512.53; and bond and warrant interest, $678,073.80.

4673 Teachers
The above figures reveal that 79 per cent of the total expenditures was for operation and maintenance, leaving 21 per cent for capital account and debt service. Sixty-three per cent of the operating expenses went for teachers' salaries.

The number of teachers employed during the year was 4673, and the average total expenditures per teacher (which must be confused with the average salary) was $2333. The average total expenditure per student was $108.

Now, where did this money come from? The idea that it all came from direct taxation is not entirely correct. The total receipts for the year were $12,395,856.64. The total operating income amounted to $10,116,318.62. Of the latter amount, $6,276,868.57 was paid in taxes by the residents of the respective districts. The county tax levies provided an additional $2,351,408.39.

Endowment Earnings
There was apportioned to the districts by the state, from the earnings of the endowment funds, a total of $681,441.40. Tuition, fines, forests and miscellaneous sources provided an additional $806,600.24.

Other income, totalling $2,279,538.02, came from the following sources: sale of bonds, $436,470.75; special levies for bonds and interest, $1,452,767.73; and miscellaneous sources, $356,180.05.

The figures show that 81 per cent of the total income is provided by ad valorem taxes. Eighty-six per cent of the tax money is used for operation, maintenance and capital outlay and 14 per cent goes for the retirement of bonds and bond interest.

In other words, 14 cents of every school dollar paid in taxes goes to take care of the indebtedness with which the individual districts have saddled themselves.

The average teacher's salary for the year was $1184, and the other expenditures per teacher amounted to $645. The average expenditure per student for purposes other than instructional service was $31.

While these are general figures, they give a definite idea of the cost of common school education in Idaho and must be considered in any intelligible plan for the revision of our educational system for that reason are presented to the public.

Hunters Return
A hunting party, of which John L. Woody was a member (the other names we failed to learn) returned the latter part of last week from a trip to the big game country. There were seven members of the party. They brought out four deer and three elk. Mr. Woody reported snow several inches deep and that the dampness made it rather uncomfortable.

Another hunting party, composed of five, only one name of which we learned, (that of young Bill Clem), returned Sunday from the Marble creek country. They said they saw but one track and that an old one. They also reported bad roads and weather.

Another Granddaughter
Mrs. E. H. Dammarell returned the latter part of last week from Troy, where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Philip Asplund and family. Mr. and Mrs. Asplund are entertaining a little daughter who arrived at their home last Friday, November 4.

Now Able To Sit Up

Word from Mrs. W. J. Carroll in a letter to her husband is to the effect that on Monday she was allowed to sit up for a while and is now taking rides in a wheel-chair, which is indeed encouraging and her Kendrick friends will be pleased to learn that she will be able to leave the hospital within another week. However, she will not be able to come home for some time yet.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Bonds valued at $63,290 stolen from the First Savings & Trust bank at Colfax, Wash., by bandits armed with sub-machine guns on September 21, are back in the bank vaults. Clive Roberts, cashier, who was one of the 10 employees made to lie on the floor while the bandits rifled the vault of the bonds and more than $10,000 in cash, said the securities were ransomed through an intermediary by a Seattle insurance company. Only $500 in Liberty bonds were missing, Roberts said.

As a collector of traffic tickets, Elizabeth Du Bois, Washington, D. C., daughter of Idaho's first senator, was doing pretty well until police finally broke her string of 12 straight since May, 1931.

After a wild pursuit through a down-town residential street, at McMinville, Ore., last Friday, Alex Palm, 57, shot and instantly killed his wife, Effie Palm, 48, then sent a bullet through his own head. He died three and a half hours later in a hospital there.

The depression has caused the cancellation of Endicott's (Wash.) city election. The city council has decided that an election this fall would be too expensive and that the money could be used to better advantage for other expenditures. Council members terms have expired but they agreed to hold over until next year.

R. E. Tilotson, sporting goods dealer of Boise and, said to prominent in sportsmen's circles of that city, paid a fine of $160 and costs of $3 at Grangeville, Saturday, for killing a moose. Judgement was pronounced by Probate Judge Wilbur Campbell after Tilotson pleaded guilty.

Twenty-seven sections of land or 17,289 acres of range land on the Idaho side of the Snake river seven miles south of Pittsburgh landing, belonging to L. C. Johnson, were sold last week to Leonard Jordan and Richard Mixwell, prominent sheep and cattle owners of the Enterprise section. The sale also included two bands of sheep.

Almost 35,000 of Germany's qualified voter voted Sunday for the fifth time in 1932 and administered the first big defeat ever suffered by Adolf Hitler's fascist national socialists.

The Hollywood Examiner said today that Albert James Baron Gugenheim, scion of a wealthy New York family and heir to $800,000, is working as a busboy in a Hollywood cafe where he once tipped waiters $10 a throw.

One railroad bridge guard, along the route of President Hoover's special train through Nevada, was shot to death Monday and another was seriously stabbed, information received by Southern Pacific officials at San Francisco, stated.

A suit charging former officers and employees of the American Bank of Spokane with fraud and asking payment of $30,000 in claims was filed in superior court (Spokane) by 23 depositors in the closed institution.

Sale Started With "Bang"
The big 13th annual sale at the N. B. Long & Sons store started Thursday morning at 9:30 with a big "Bang! One of the largest crowds that has ever attended the opening was on hand and blocked the sidewalk, resembling a bargain sale at one of the metropolitan stores.

The sale will continue for 15 days and offers bargains that cannot be duplicated in out-of-town stores at this time. The 1500 big bills issued by the store tells about the many bargains offered—which are only a few in comparison to what you will find in the store.

Another Granddaughter
Mrs. E. H. Dammarell returned the latter part of last week from Troy, where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Philip Asplund and family. Mr. and Mrs. Asplund are entertaining a little daughter who arrived at their home last Friday, November 4.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Another one of those pleasant and profitable commercial club meetings was held in the Raby Hotel Monday evening, when 20 people interested enough in the doings of our little city came out to "do their bit" toward keeping things on the move—and another of those splendid chicken dinners was served by Mrs. Raby and her helpers, which was thoroughly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present.

After the dinner table had been cleared and smokes lighted, the business of the evening was taken up. After the reading of the minutes, the first thing on the program was the report of the educational committee, Dr. D. A. Christensen, chairman, who gave a detailed report of the school conditions in the state, after which Arthur Dawald, athletic coach for the Kendrick schools, outlined athletic activities of the school and asked for the support of all their endeavors along athletic lines. Supt. B. B. Brigham stated that season tickets for the athletic association activities were not going as rapidly as they should and asked that all who could should buy season tickets to help the boys along. He stated that only about half the amount had been sold this season as was disposed of last year.

N. E. Walker, chairman of the Highway committee stated that work had been started on the Little Bear ridge road, about a quarter of a mile above the bridge crossing Bear creek and that a deflection dam would be built with funds furnished by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The dam is being built for the purpose of deflecting the flood waters of Bear creek away from the highway and keeping it from cutting a channel back where the old creek used to be. He also stated that the rock crusher had been set up on the highway some distance this side of the Albright place and the crushing of rock for the surfacing of the road on the reservation where it was so muddy last winter will begin at once. This work is being paid for by the state.

E. H. Dammarell, chairman of the relief committee, made a report on his trips to Moscow and the result of the meeting of the committeemen from different parts of the county regarding the money being allotted to this county by the Refinance Corporation. He stated that an agreement had been reached for the payment of 25 cents an hour for this work and that no person would be allowed to draw more than $20.00 during any one month. The amount allotted to Kendrick for the month of November is $450.00, which can be used for paying for labor only. He also stated that a crew of 15 men had been put to work Monday morning on the deflection dam in Bear Creek. This work will be divided among those who have no job and close check will be kept on what the money earned is spent for. This is one of the demands of the corporation.

The other standing committees having nothing to report, the attention of the club was changed to things of a lighter vein. Chairman Thompson stated that he had expected Wade Keene to be present and make a report on his goat hunt, but for reason best known to himself, Mr. Keene was unable to be present. However, the local male quartet was called upon and gave a couple of selections, one of which was concocted by Roy Ramey and had a bearing on Mr. Keene's hunting experience (after Billy goats).

Following are the words:
We knew a man of truth and fame,
Went hunting goats, afore to fame,
No task for him, so sure his aim,
He'd shoot poor bill right through the brain.

The billy goat was feeling fine,
But got a chill right up his spine,
When through the trees, he chanced to gaze,
And saw Wade Keene upon that raise.

Wade raised his gun, the bill to slay,
Leaned on a tree, his nerves to stay,
And all the time said to himself,
Won't you look nice upon my shelf,
But when the smoke had cleared away

There stood poor bill with heart so gay,
For Wade had missed with every round,
He'd shot down trees for miles around.

NATION AND STATE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY MIXED

In one of the most sweeping democratic victories ever recorded, the nation and state of Idaho have given the democratic party a full and free rein to handle these governments as they see fit, Franklin D. Roosevelt having been elected by one of the largest majorities ever accorded a presidential nominee. A full congress and senate was elected by the democrats, giving them a free hand in all affairs pertaining to government.

The State of Idaho also returned Gov. C. Ben Ross (democrat) to the office of governor, as well as given him a democratic house and senate to work with. The republicans are not blaming the democrats, as they are the ones who made it possible for the democrats to have a working majority in all branches of national and state governments.

Congressman Burton L. French went down to defeat as did Burton C. Rowe, state senator from Latah county.

Latah county will have a mixed bunch for the next two years, at least. The republicans will be represented by Leola R. King, county treasurer; Abe Goff, prosecuting attorney; L. G. Peterson, probate judge; Walter Q. Taylor, county assessor; Charlie Summerfield, sheriff (unopposed), and Harvey J. Smith, county surveyor. The democrats will be represented by David Ross, county superintendent of public instruction, and the three county commissioners—James H. Blane, I. E. Snow and Walter Driscoll.

Has Redwood "Plant"

Mrs. Archie May was exhibiting a very pretty small specimen of the redwood plant (or tree), it being a knot taken from a California redwood by Mr. and Mrs. May and brought here with them last spring. It is kept in water and the sprouts come out all around the knot, it having a fern-like appearance. It is indeed very pretty and quite a curiosity in this section.

Roosevelt supporters were in the lead by about 40 votes, while the congressional votes were won by the republicans. With the exception of two candidates, Babcock and Barrett, the entire state ticket went democratic. On the county ticket the republicans carried 10 of the 17 offices.

About 240 votes were cast here with the total registration above 350.

PACIFIC COAST MARKETS WEAK—SMALL DEMAND

Domestic wheat futures declined to a new record low levels during the week ending November 4, influenced principally by weakness in foreign markets and the lack of an export inquiry for the U. S. surplus, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Unfavorable reports on crop conditions in western areas of the winter wheat belt, together with some strengthening of securities, and in foreign grain markets, brought about a slight advance in wheat prices toward the close of the week. Cash grain, particularly winter wheat, did not follow the full decline in futures. Corn and other feed grains weakened, influenced by the lower wheat prices, but demand remained fairly active and cash grains held generally steady.

Rye fluctuated with wheat and reached the lowest point in the history of domestic markets. Flax declined under a slow crusher demand for current offerings.

The continued limited takings of foreign wheat by European importing countries and the pressure of new crop offerings from the Southern hemisphere were the principal weakening factors in the general wheat market situation during the week. Maintenance of tariff and milling regulations continues to restrict purchases of foreign wheat in Germany, Italy, France and other European countries. The tariff preference given dominion wheat by the United Kingdom has tended to limit the English purchases to Canadian and Australian grain. Action by the German government on the establishment of import contingents for agricultural products has been postponed as a result of unfavorable reaction to the policy of Italy, Netherlands and the Scandinavian countries, but tariff and milling regulations are being continued. French co-operatives are storing wheat under a governmental subsidy and up to Oct. 11 had contracted for storage of about 6,000,000 bushels.

The British parliament has placed a levy on flour equivalent at present currency values to 3½¢ per barrel. The funds obtained from this levy are used to maintain a fixed price on domestic wheat, equivalent at the current rate of exchange to 88½¢ per bushel in United States currency.

Prices of native wheat held generally steady or were slightly advanced in most European countries. At the close of the market Nov. 4 good milling wheat was quoted at Hamburg at $1.32, at Paris at $1.16 and at Genoa at $1.15 per bushel. Prices of foreign wheats did not share in the strength of native grain, under pressure of heavy offerings from Canada and of new crop grain from the southern hemisphere. Argentine shippers were offering new wheat freely for January and February shipments at 47½¢ C. I. F. English markets, while Australian shippers were offering new grain at around 52½¢ on the same terms.

Cash winter wheat markets were firmer than futures and cash prices at the principal markets closed slightly higher than a week ago as a result of an advance in premiums. Marketings were of only moderate volume and receipts at the principal central western and southwestern markets totaled 1,454 cars compared with 3,722 cars for the corresponding week last year. The protein of this season's crop was materially higher than that of the 1931 crop.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were also weak and lower with cash grain relatively weaker than futures, reflecting the lack of export inquiry and dull local demand. Marketings by Washington and Oregon growers remain well below a year ago, with receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totalling 535 cars for the week compared with 741 cars a year ago. Some export inquiry was received from Ireland during the week but no sales were reported. Canadian shippers were still underselling domestic exporters in the United Kingdom and the Orient. Local mills and feed buyers were taking most of the current offerings but considerable quantities were reported sold to California during the week.

Let The People Think

"The government's functions are executive, legislative, judicial," said the Chilton, Wisconsin, Times, recently. "Its part in private business should be that of the watchful, impartial, inexorable referee."

This thought is always worthy of repetition. It should come home forcefully to us now. We have seen what government ventures in the realm of private business, either as competitor or regulator have produced—a long list of expensive departments, bureaus and commissions, hundred of thousands of new employees for taxpayers to support, a constantly increasing tax bill, making necessary advances in old taxes and creation of new ones—all of which has done much to bring on Treasury deficits.

There is no end to bureaucratic ambition, no end to paternalism. Once politics gets its grasp on one field of endeavor, it is only a matter of time before it reaches for others. There is a reason in this for those short-sighted and sometimes hypocritical business men who have urged government participation in business other than their own. Their business may be next.

Progress demands that government retrench, not only in the cost of maintaining it, but in its activities. An overload of paternalism which has brought economic stagnation to so many other countries can do the same here, unless it is checked.

Let the people think.

High School Carnival
The Associated Students of Kendrick High school are sponsoring a Carnival that is to be given in the local gym Friday night, November 11. The different classes are working hard on the various booths and stunts they plan to put on. Immediately following the carnival a dance will be given, a local orchestra furnishing the music. The proceeds of the carnival and dance will be turned over to the athletic association for the purpose of sponsoring more of an extensive system of athletics. The public is cordially invited to attend and support the school in its activities.

Dracula
One of the feature events of the carnival will be Count Dracula, the world-renowned hypnotist. Count Dracula is the greatest of the great. He has been known at different times to hypnotize wild bulls and cause them to perform miraculous feats, such as turning flip-flops. He can get people into such a state that spikes can be driven through their legs and arms. He also performs other miracles too numerous to mention. It is of great significance that he has been imported directly from the orient for the carnival.

Popularity Contest
At a series of class meetings last week the question of nominating a queen from the class to run in a popularity contest was taken up. The one receiving the highest amount of votes will be crowned Carnival Queen the night of the carnival. Those chosen by the various classes were: Seniors, Hazel Reid; Juniors, Maxine Keene; Sophomores, Rosebud Brown; Freshmen, Doris Crocker; Seventh and Eighth grades, Phyllis Thomas;

CALL FOR BIDS

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Boys' Basketball
A practice game with Deary at Deary November 12 has been scheduled by Coach Dawald. The boys are practicing regularly and are working exceptionally hard. They are going to Deary with the expectations of bringing home the bacon.

Girls' Basketball
The girls' basketball squad, under the management of Miss Ferguson, are practicing very hard for a game they expect to play with Deary in the near future.

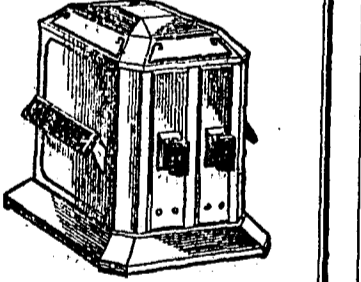

Fortune Teller
Madame X, the great fortune teller, will make a public appearance at the carnival Nov. 11. Madame X is a wizard among wizards. She can read a person's mind to the smallest detail. She has the ability to predict the future. Her powers are unequalled and have never been excelled. Madame X has been imported directly from Egypt for this special occasion.

Orchestra
The beginning and advanced Orchestra students are still progressing nicely in their work. Sometime in the near future the two orchestras are going to meet together in order to help the beginners with their time. When the two classes are combined there will be a total of 27 students.

Alumnae
Lovick Walbeck, a student of the graduating class of last year, is now attending school at Oregon State College, at Eugene, Oregon.
Lois Fry, another of the class of '32, is going to normal at Lewiston, and Robert Fry is working on the railroad at Walla Walla.
Nona McAllister, also a '32 classman, is attending the U. of I. at Moscow.
Another of the class of last year, Lizzie Hoffman, is taking up Nurses' training at Lewiston.
Otto Hermann, also a '32 classman, is attending the college at Grinnell, Iowa.

Poster Contest
On Friday afternoon the Poster Contest, which was being held for the purpose of obtaining posters to advertise the Carnival, came to an end. The first prize going to Eleanor Hill, while Tommy Keene and Thomas Blevins received honorable mention. Much enthusiasm was shown this year for the contest and some very excellent looking ones were turned in by the students.

Good Old Days

The old-time livery stable and corner saloon have given way to the ornate garage and filling station; the movie show has replaced the town hall; we go in an hour now a distance it formerly took a day to travel. One can go from coast to coast in a single day in the air. He can telephone from a ship at sea to any one of 18,000,000 telephones in the United States. He can listen on his radio to speakers thousands of miles away. In a short time he'll be able to see them, too. Our homes are heated by scientific and healthful methods. We have our own cooling systems. Oil gas and electricity have taken the place of coal. We have the news of the world at our doorsteps, morning and evening, thanks to the stride of modern newspapering. Our lives are full of events. We go places and see things. Our horizons have broadened. Back-breaking drudgery has been eliminated in every avenue of activity. Household appliances, electrically operated, have come to lessen the work of the housewife. We have more time for play, and the golf links are an adjunct to every village and hamlet as well as the larger cities. We have improved our highways and have made our cities sanitary and attractive. But why go on? Truth is the so-called "good old days" are only a figment of the imagination. The days we are living now are the best the world has ever seen up to now. And we "hain't seen nothin' yet."

Little Jimmy had been sent to school for the first time and his mother was anxious to hear what had taken place.

"Well, Jimmy," she asked, "How did you get along?" "All right, mother," said Jimmy, "but I did not get the present." His mother then asked what he meant, only to hear this reply:

"Well, teacher said 'sit right there for the present,' and I sat there all morning, and didn't get it."

To the Voters of Latah County
I want to express my sincere appreciation to the voters of Latah county for the splendid majority they gave me in the recent election. I trust I shall merit your continued confidence and approval.

L. G. PETERSON,
Probate Judge
