NO. 47

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Sing Sing's (New York) 21 cents a day for feeding inmates is shaded by more than two cents a day in the Washington penitentiary, according to Clarence E. Long, superintendent, who said that for the past week 16,931 meals were served at an average cost of 6.28 cents.

Bert L. Penn, rate expert for the Idaho public utilities commission said that the interstate commission order raising interstate freight rates would cost Idaho shippers about $16,000 a year.

Complete returns from 14 states and partial figures from all others, gave Franklin D. Roosevelt 21,506,742 votes for a plurality of 6,451,302 over President Hoover. This exceeds very slightly the margin by which Mr. Hoover beat Alfred E. Smith in 1928. President Hoover's 1932 count in compilations of the Associated Press, was 15,055,440. He polled 21,392,190 in 1928, to 15,016,443 for Smith, who lost by 6,375,747.

Displaying a broken finger, which he said was a result of trying to vote in the general election, Edward A. Henton said he would sue Spokane county for $99. Henton said he broke the digit on a complicated hasp on the door of a polling place, a converted stable, while attempting to enter the building. A claim for damages from the county was rejected by the commissioners.

Weakened by his activities in the United States senate and winding up his campaign for re-election in an "exhausted condition, Wesley L. Jones, chairman of the appropriations committee and long a prominent figure in national politics, died at Seattle Saturday.

Summoning his cabinet for its first extraordinary meeting, President Hoover Saturday slashed the huge federal budget to an extent that he believes will reduce appropriations by $550,000,000.

William D. Upshaw, prohibition candidate for president in the recent election, passing through Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday, for speaking engagements in Ohio, expressed himself as "sitting on top of the world" with all "beer kegs under my dry feet." He said he had just received a telegram from Washington "establishing the impregnable constitutional status of the Volstead law and the consequent impossibility of enacting the proposed beer legislation at the short session of congress."

W. A. Boyd of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, says he prefers friends to money, so he burned notes amounting to some $27,000 he held against other people and inserted a notice in the local paper asking all of his friends and borrowers to call at his office and talk things over—so they could still be friends.

U. S. engineers have just completed a survey of the Snake river and Columbia rivers. It was estimated that the improvement of the Snake from Lewiston to its mouth would take approximately $5,000,000.

Chink Season Over

The Chinese peasant season passed out Sunday evening in a blaze of glory, but with mighty little shooting.

Sunday morning saw the canyon lined with hunters' cars, dogs and men with guns, but very little shooting was done, infact, almost none.

Local men say that never have they seen the birds as scarce as they were this season, and the outside hunter said the same thing.

We have learned of no limit kills the last day, in fact, from two to nothing was the average, and lots reported going the day without firing a shot.

Just what became of the birds that were released by the game department is a puzzle to most, as no banded birds were reported killed, nor were any of the dark chinese pheasants reported killed.

Common gossip has, it that small boys and people residing near the spot of release, armed with 22's were responsible for their demise. We have no guess to make, but nevertheless, none were reported killed.

Second $150,000 Relief Fund Received
Idaho has received the second $150,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for relief purposes, it was announced at the governor's office Saturday.

Of the first allotment, $117,000 has been paid to 35 counties, the governor said. Requests from the remaining nine counties are expected, as all have indicated such intention.

STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Both the quality and quantity of the educational opportunity provided by the Idaho common school system for the pupils of this state are, as revealed by the recently completed school survey, agreeably surprising.

Idaho children, the report shows, have an excellent chance to become learned in the fundamentals of the three R's, to say nothing of the wide-spread opportunity for additional knowledge offered by the advanced elementary and high schools. No citizen of this state need be ashamed of our educational system as it is doubtless on a par with, if not better than that of most states in the Union.

101,000 Students
The survey dispels the opinion that possibly might have been held by some that educational opportunity is either seriously limited or hampered in any part of the state.

During the school year of 1930-31, a total of 101,000 children attended the 1303 school districts that functioned in Idaho.

Of this total of districts, 189 offered both grade and high school instruction. The number of students attending these 189 districts was 69,743, or approximately 69 per cent of the state's entire student enrollment.

Grade Schools
There are 625 districts in the state offering grade school work for a period of nine months annually. A total of 20,889 of Idaho's 101,000 pupils, or almost 21 per cent, were in attendance in this class of schools.

Combining these totals, we find that 89 per cent of the school children in Idaho, or practically 90,000, have the advantage of nine months instruction each year. From these figures, we may presume that this large group is amply provided for in the matter of educational opportunity.

Turning our attention now to the remaining 10 per cent, the survey reveals that 407 of the 1303 school districts provide grade school instruction for an annual period of eight months. Students attending this class of schools total 9957, or nine-tenths of the remaining 10 per cent in question.

We therefore have left less than one per cent of the state's 101,000 school children to attend seven, six and five-months schools. It is noteworthy in this regard that the average daily attendance of the five schools in the state offering less than seven months schooling was only 23.

Summing up these figures, we find that 69,743 students were, during the school year of 1930-31, in schools offering both grade and high school instruction for a period of nine months in practically every instance. An additional 20,889 children were in nine-months grade schools; 9,957 were in eight-months grade schools, 550 had seven months of grade school instruction and 23 had less than seven months of schooling.

Win Prizes at Seed Show
Nez Perce county won six firsts and other prizes in the state seed show at Pocatello November 10 to 12, it was announced by J. W. Thoemtz, county agent.

J. M. Woodward of Leland won first prize on sweet clover; Harry Stafford of Lenore won first on soy beans, and Mrs. D. J. Bernard won first prize on timothy.

Robert Heimgartner of Juliaetta won fifth on great northern beans and Woodward took sixth place on other varieties of beans.

For the second district, comprising northern and eastern Idaho, O. W. Henry of Cameron won first and Robert Heimgartner won third on yellow dent corn. Virgil Mattson of Culdesac won first and Jack Lucas of Culdesac won second on white dent corn. For the best single ear of white dent corn for the region, Jack Lucas won first prize.

HIS MAJESTY KING TURK

Thanksgiving 1932

PETER MONROE JOHNSON, 83, IS NOW AT REST

Peter Monroe Johnson was born in Christian County, Tenn., Sept. 9, 1849. He came to his death Nov. 11, 1932, at the age of 83 years, 2 months and 2 days.

When a small boy his father came with his family to Harrison, Boone County, Arkansas, making that his home until he grew to manhood. He was married to Miss Susan M. Ross on Nov. 13, 1869. To this union was born five children, three of whom are left to mourn their loss, his wife having passed away Aug. 31, 1930. A son, Eddie Calvin died in infancy, and a daughter, the late Mrs. Columbus Clark, some time back.

In 1875 he crossed the plains, starting for Oregon, but at Ogden Utah, Mr. Johnson and one brother-in-law, left the emigrant train and went to Farmersville, California, where he lived for two years. He then came to the Rogue River valley, near Jacksonville, Oregon, and later in the same year he came on to Weston, Oregon in 1877, during the Nezperce Indian war. However, the Indians never came into that part of the country, so they were not molested by them.

In January, 1884, Mr. Johnson came to the Little Potlatch country. He homesteaded 40 acres of land now owned by W. S. Ross of Moscow, Idaho. He then lived on land known as the Hunter place until 1891. He then bought a part of the school section on Fix ridge and made that his home until he could no longer do his own farming and then sold out. Since that time he has made his home in Juliaetta most of the time.

Mr. Johnson was well and favorably known all over the country and he made many friends while here. He leaves to mourn his passing one son, Fred Johnson of Lenville, Ida., two daughters, Mrs. Walter Clark of Juliaetta and Mrs. Geo. Dygert of Clarkston; twenty grand-children and thirty great-grand-children; one brother, S. D. Johnson, Alping Pass, Ark.; one sister, Mrs. Lucinda Thomason, Leese, Wash., and a host of other relatives and friends. He was laid to rest beside his wife in Fix Ridge cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all the kind friends for their help and sympathy during the death and burial of our dear father, grand-father and great-grand-father.

Road Work Progressing

Work on the road between Juliaetta and Arrow Junction is going steadily forward and much of the bad portion of that slippery road has received a coat of gravel—and the people who have been wont to travel this road are feeling very grateful to Governor Ross for the part he has had in this work. While it is not all we had hoped for, it is a big help and the people of this section are fully appreciative of his efforts—and those of the local road committee of the Kendrick Commercial club and the Kendrick Highway district.

P. T. A. HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING AT H. S.

One of the most interesting meetings ever held by the Parent-Teacher association took place in the music room of the high school Monday evening, when some 40 parents and teachers and interested persons were in attendance. In the absence of both the president and vice-president, Supt. B. B. Brigham acted as chairman.

A detailed report of the district meeting, held at Lewiston recently, and attended by Mrs. H. B. Thompson and Mrs. W. B. Deobald, as representatives of the local organizations was given by Mrs. Thompson. The report brought out the objects of the association and what the P. T. A. is trying to do for the affiliated associations. This district consists of five counties, and fourteen associations were represented at the Lewiston meeting. The delegates were highly entertained by the Lewiston association.

A Thanksgiving drama by the fifth and sixth grade pupils, under the direction of Miss Ferguson, was given. It was well rendered and enjoyed by all present. Two numbers were given by the Male quartet, which were also much enjoyed.

The program committee gave a report outlining the work for the coming year, and Mr. Dawald gave an interesting talk on boys' athletics now being taught in schools over the country, as compared to the mental training each child receives, bringing out the point that being alert at all times makes a good athlete as well as a good scholar and gives them something they can carry on through a business career. Miss Ferguson then gave the girls' side of athletics, which was in line with the talk given by Mr. Dawald, adding a little to each of the points made by him.

The question box was then opened and was found to contain only two questions, which were discussed at length by the parents.

The next meeting will be held the third Monday in December.

Pleasant Bridge Party

One of the very pleasant bridge parties of the season was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Helpman Friday evening of last week when members of the Afternoon Bridge club gathered for a no-host no-hostess party, when the men folks were invited in for the evening's play. Mrs. W. L. McCreary won high honors for the ladies and A. K. Carlson for the men. A dainty luncheon was served after play.

Beautiful Weather

For the past week the weather in the canyon has been about as fine as anyone could ask. It has been for the most part as balmy as spring and everyone seems to be enjoying it to the full.

While we do not lay claim to being a part of the "banana belt," we still have many flowers in bloom in yards, including some roses. Again we repeat that "it is a pleasure, as well as a privilege, to live in the Potlatch country."

Red Cross Meeting

A meeting will be held in the city building this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the Red Cross. Everyone interested in this work is asked to please attend. There is much work along this line to be done and those interested should be on hand and "do their bit."

New Licenses Be Orange On Black

The new 1933 automobile and truck licenses were brought to Lewiston last week by Harry Clark, state traffic officer, and were delivered to County Assessor J. L. Armstrong. The licenses will not be sold until after a January 1, says the Lewiston Tribune.

In size the plates are a trifle larger and narrower than those of 1932. Clark said. The lettering on the 1933 plates was black on orange background. The 1933 plates will reverse this, the lettering being in orange on a black background. Another change on the new plates will be the arrangement of the serial letter and number. The old plates contained the serial letter over the number, while the new plates show the figures over the letter. Otherwise the arrangement is the same.

Nez Perce county was sent 3,700 automobile licenses; 700 truck; 50 commercial; 10 commercial trailer, and 50 for private trailers. The serial is 8K and the plates are numbered from one up for automobiles, trucks and commercial.

The serial for Latah county is 2K.

GRAIN MARKET WEAKER WITH DEMAND VERY DULL

Domestic grain markets were mostly lower at the close of the week ending November 18, influenced by larger offerings of corn and wheat and a continued dull demand for practically all grain, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The unsettled situation in foreign currencies, improved prospects for southern hemisphere wheat and a light inquiry from importing areas, were weakening influences in the wheat market, which more than offset unfavorable conditions caused by continued dryness in western portions of the domestic winter wheat belt. Corn weakened with wheat under a dull cash demand and lack of export trade. Oats were independently firm, while rye and barley were fairly steady as a result of light offerings. The flax market remained dull and prices declined with wheat and corn.

Pacific Coast markets were independently firm, principally as a result of continued light country offerings. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled only 555 cars compared with 857 cars for the corresponding week a year ago. Growers continued to sell only when necessary to obtain funds and this has resulted in larger stocks than usual at country elevators but smaller supplies in commercial channels. Milling demand was fairly active at Portland and Seattle and cash prices were reported around higher than a week ago. No export sales were reported and sales to California were only of moderate volume. Shipments from Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals July through October have totaled only a little over 10,000,000 bushels compared with nearly 23,000,000 bushels for the corresponding period last season. At the close of the market November 18, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 54½c to 56c, soft white at 44c to 46c, western white at 43½c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 44½c.

California markets were unsettled but prices at the close of the week were practically unchanged from a week ago. Offerings of local wheat remained light and trading at San Francisco was almost entirely in wheat from other states. Flour business was reported about normal but mills were obtaining supplies in Washington, Idaho and Oregon, or were using stocks accumulated early in the season. Demand for feed wheat remained dull but slightly more active under the influence of higher prices for feed barley. Increased receipts at Los Angeles were readily taken by mills and feed manufacturers, but a good portion of the arrivals were on previous orders. Some inter-mountain wheat was received at Los Angeles and other coastal points.

Foreign wheat markets were somewhat unsettled but were generally weaker than a week ago. German markets were slightly lower with little export inquiry in evidence and imports of foreign wheat small. Native grain sold at Hamburg at the close of the week at $1.31½. French markets were about 3c lower with milling wheat quoted at Paris at $1.02. Italian markets were about 2c higher with milling grades quoted at Genoa at $1.58. Prices were advancing in Roumania owing to scarcity of local wheat and it was expected by the trade that the import duty would be reduced, since import requirements are estimated at around 10,000,000 bushels. The acreage seeded to new wheat in Russia is reported to be around 3,000,000 acres under a year ago with seeding hindered by continued dryness. Russian shipments for the week totaled 856,000 bushels.

An unusually disturbing element in the world wheat situation at the present time is the depreciated currencies of many foreign countries. Because of the low values of most foreign countries in terms of U. S. money, United States wheat costs European and Oriental buyers materially more than wheat from Canada, Australia, Argentina, or other exporting areas where money values are below par.

To Our Subscribers

We have this week sent out a number of notices to those in arrears with their subscription. This is the first time in two years we have asked anyone for subscription money. The object in sending out the notices is to find out whether those who receive them want the Gazette had enough to pay for it. We want everyone to have a copy of the paper each week, if they want it bad enough to pay for it some time. We have to pay cash for our paper, power, ink, etc., and unless we get some help from our subscribers it will be impossible to continue sending it.

To those who have received notices: If you haven't the money to pay it now, just drop us a letter telling us you would like to have the Gazette and will pay us as soon as you can and we will carry it on our books for you. However, we need money, just the same as everyone else and if you can pay at least a part of it, we will be satisfied until you can pay more—or all. Isn't that fair enough? But we must know whether you want it bad enough to promise to pay when you can. Please let us hear from you.

"Million-Dollar Legs"
Don't get "Million Dollar Legs" wrong!
"Million Dollar Legs" is hilarious comedy. It is not, in any sense, a sports story or a story of the Olympic games, although the Olympic games are used as a background for the action. It is not a serious story of any kind.
Paramount has taken ten of the world's most hilarious comedians and let them loose in a riotous, nonsensical burlesque, giddier and nuttier than any Marx Brothers' foolery you have ever seen. They picked the Olympic games for the fun-making, the wise-cracking and the general rib-tickling succession of laugh gags.

"Million-Dollar Legs"
Don't get "Million Dollar Legs" wrong!
"Million Dollar Legs" is hilarious comedy. It is not, in any sense, a sports story or a story of the Olympic games, although the Olympic games are used as a background for the action. It is not a serious story of any kind.
Paramount has taken ten of the world's most hilarious comedians and let them loose in a riotous, nonsensical burlesque, giddier and nuttier than any Marx Brothers' foolery you have ever seen. They picked the Olympic games for the fun-making, the wise-cracking and the general rib-tickling succession of laugh gags.

Kendrick To Play Elk River
Kendrick will play Elk River, at Elk River Friday evening of this week. Little is known concerning the strength of the Elk River team. Fans recall the close margin by which Kendrick won from the loggers last year, however, and a close game is predicted. Coach Dawald, B. B. Brigham and a squad of seven players will make the trip.

Orchestra
The beginners in orchestra are practicing on new music that they have recently received. The advanced orchestra pupils are also beginning some new compositions. Both groups are progressing rapidly.

Field Trip
Friday, November 18, the biology class went on a field trip, looking for bugs and insects which would be of use to them in their class study.
They hiked up Bear creek, where they found many pill bugs, grasshoppers, and worms.

Boys' Glee Club
The voices of the Boys' Glee club were tested by the instructor, Miss Newman, at a meeting held this week.
The results of this test will go to make up the grades for this six weeks.

Girls' Basketball
More girls are turning out for basketball this year than ever have turned out before. At every practice there are always more than enough for two teams. Even though some of them have to sit on the side lines part of the time they all take a part in trying to make the main team better.
After winning several games from the town team they are more encouraged.

Fifth and Sixth Grades
The fifth and sixth grades presented an interesting drama at the Parent-Teachers meeting Monday evening. Those taking part were Mary Davidson, Leon Lind, Maxine Beige-low, Quentin Dammarell, John Thompson, Ethel Fraser, Barbara Long, Dean Compton, Veve Berreman, Wallace Fraser, Betty Thomas and Gayle Bolon.

inations in history, which will be given the seventh grade will take the state examination in physiology.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Fike of Mos-cove were week-end guests at the John Lind home.

Mrs. Anna Harless has returned to her home after an extended visit with relatives and friends at Spokane.
The Herring family and Merton Preussler were Orofino visitors last Thursday.

Rev. Fike gave some lantern pictures at the church Sunday evening, also a good sermon, after which he administered baptism to two young men, Wallace Sewell and Ned Harless.
Jim West spent Sunday in Orofino at his father's home.

Clarence Herring has been helping Merton Preussler paper his house, getting it ready for his bride.

Mrs. J. C. Peterson of Dayton, Wash., is spending a few weeks here visiting her daughters, Mrs. Lilly Choate and Mrs. Violet Parsley.

Miss Della Herring was not in her place in Sunday school Sunday morning, as she was at home preparing the wedding feast.

The men of the community agreed to meet and build a log house for J. H. Butler on the spot where his house burned. They hope to complete it in a short time so that the family can move in. They are at present living with their son-in-law, Jim West.

After church Sunday evening a bunch of folks followed the Herring car home and charavarded the newly wedded folk. They took the names of those present and they numbered 99 and it was thought that there were still more. They were all treated to candy and cookies.

Quiet Home Wedding
A quiet home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Carrie Herring on Sunday, November 20, at 12:30, when Miss Olive Herring and Merton Preussler were united in marriage by Rev. A. R. Fike.

Those present besides the family were Mr. and Mrs. John Lind, Rev. and Mrs. Fike and Mr. and Mrs.
Clarence Wallace of Peck.

The wedding dinner was served immediately after the ceremony.

The best wishes of their many friends go with the young couple to their new home.
