STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Who pays our school costs? That question is raised in the report of the recent survey conducted under the direction of the Education Committee of the State Chamber of Commerce. The thoughtless answer is: The Public. While literally true, this answer leads to erroneous conclusions. Many persons, being non-property owners, pay no school taxes directly whatever; many others, having but little property, pay only a small percentage of the school taxes; and a third group, composed of relatively few but large property owners, pay the lion's share of the common school costs.

To bring out this condition more clearly, a survey was conducted of 14 different school districts in the state. It was found that 92.6 per cent of the taxpayers pay only 32.94 per cent of the taxes, leaving the remaining 67.1 per cent of the costs to be paid by only 7.4 per cent of the contributors.

Who Pays Bonds?

Popular opinion has long been that school bonds and similar indebtedness are paid by the persons who vote them. The State Chamber survey proves that such is not necessarily the case.

Two-thirds of the taxpayers in a district, sufficient to vote bond indebtedness upon the district, may pay only 11.98 per cent of the taxes, leaving the other 88 per cent to be taken care of by persons who may have cast their ballots against the proposed bonds.

Fairness Questioned

The fairness of this system is being questioned. Non-property owners and small property holders are the parents of most of the children for whom education must be provided. They are interested primarily in the quality of this education, and since the financial obligation involved to them personally is small they are inclined to look with favor upon all conveniences and facilities proposed, whether essential and in keeping with the financial ability of the district or not.

As an illustration—one district in Idaho provides transportation for its children at a cost of $7.74 per child. The average taxes per property owner paying less than $100.00 in that district is $7.04, which means that the average property-owning parent pays less in school taxes than the average cost of getting his child to and from school. A few large taxpayers pay the rest.

In the matter of school taxes it is noteworthy that there is a wide variation between districts in average payments of those paying $100, or less, ranging from $7.04 in McCammon to $42.90 in Moscow.

Average Payment $19.80

Immediately the question arises as to why, presuming educational opportunity to be uniform and both schools to be abiding by the state regulations regarding common school operation, a parent taxpayer in Moscow is forced to pay six times as much for educational purposes as one in McCammon?

Statistics brought out by the survey show that 92.6 per cent of all the taxpayers pay an average of only $19.80 annually in school taxes. On this basis, it will be seen that the average parent taxpayer in the state of Idaho in the 92.6 per cent of classification pays about one-fifth of the average expenditures made in behalf of his child. The other four-fifths are paid by the small group of heavy taxpayers coming with the 7.4 per cent.

Two interesting and contrary to the general opinion facts are indicated by these figures: first, that the people who vote the bonds and control the school districts are not necessarily the people who pay the bills; and, second, that the parents who send their children to school pay, on the average, only a small portion of the actual cost of educating their offspring.

Cause Of Cure

An Omaha hospital patient is getting along nicely without a stomach, possibly because this prevents him from taking the doctor's medicine.

Winter Has Arrived

Our balmy weather was brought to a sudden close Tuesday night when snow began falling early in the evening and continued until some two inches covered the ground. At some time during the night the mercury took a downward plunge and did not stop until it had reached 16 degrees above zero—which finally put an end to many pretty flowers that were still blooming in some of the well-kept yards of Kendrick.

FORMER AM. RIDGE RESIDENT PASSES AT MOSCOW

T. F. Lathrop, 89, resident of Moscow for many years and member of the G. A. R., died Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 30, at his home in the northeast part of Moscow.

He had been in poor health for several years. His wife died about four years ago.

Mr. Lathrop is survived by two sons, John of Moscow and Oral of Omak, Wash., one daughter, Mrs. Amy Butler of Madison, Wis., and by one grandson, Glenn Aldrich of Moscow. The sons and grandson were with him when the end came.

Funeral services were held from the Short chapel, Moscow, on Friday afternoon, with Rev. Charles C. Curtis in charge of the service.

Mrs. H. D. Martin, accompanied by Mrs. Arnold B. Lyon, sang: "Asleep in Jesus" and "Rock of Ages." Members of the Daughters of Veterans and his surviving comrades, Taylor W. Johnson, Robert Martin and E. L. Burke, attended the service in a body. George Bricker, Daniel C. Helm, and William Chaney of Troy and O. A. Stout, Scott Reeder and Joseph Driscoll of Moscow were the pallbearers. Interment was in Moscow cemetery.

Mr. Lathrop was formerly a resident of American ridge, but left there about 20 years ago. He will be remembered by many of the old-timers of that section.

Rebekahs Elect Officers

At a meeting of the local Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening, December 6, officers for the ensuing term were elected, as follows: Mrs. Frank W. Ellis, noble grand; Mrs. E. H. Emery, vice-grand; Mrs. Edgar Long, recording secretary; Mrs. R. H. Ramey, financial secretary.

Two criminal cases and five civil cases are scheduled to come before the court.

Degeneration

The first American soda fountain has been installed in Madrid, Spain. Probably it will be the ruination of many a promising young bull fighter.

Futility of Argument

Why argue? If you are right, you learn nothing. And being wrong makes you so mad you don't want to learn.

KENDRICK STOCK YARDS NOT FORTHCOMING

Kendrick has been without stockyards for more than a year and a half. While there is not a great amount of stock shipped from here, shippers of what there is are greatly handicapped by the lack of any loading facilities whatever, furnished by the railroad company.

The village council some time ago decided the railroad company the necessary ground for the purpose of putting in small stock yards, but it seems that the company does not care whether any stock is shipped from Kendrick or not—at least their dilatory actions in that direction would indicate as much since they have made no effort whatever to put together the material that was brought here for that purpose many weeks ago.

If the railroads would make half as much effort to secure freight shipments as do the trucks, they might have better luck corralling much tonnage that is now going via dirt roads.

Gravel Work Completed

The work of graveling that portion of the Kendrick-Arrow road lying within the old Clearwater Highway district was completed Wednesday of this week. It was reported that some 2600 yards had been spread, covering the worst part of the road and the fill near the Albright place.

There are a few places within the Kendrick Highway district that a good coat of gravel would help very materially, especially on the clay points, which get very slippery during the wet season.

It is hoped the entire distance from Arrow to Kendrick will be taken care of early next summer.

Could Things Be Worse?

Listen to an Associated Press dispatch from Perth, Australia. It tells how the sheep raisers of northwest western Australia are destroying their sheep after shearing because they cannot get even as much as 12 cents apiece for them in the market. They take the wool and then destroy the sheep to get rid of the expense of keeping the animals. Things are far worse in Australia—and in many other countries—than they are in the United States.

Christmas Cantata

A Christmas cantata will be given by local talent in the Community church on Sunday evening, December 18, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, by the largest number of singers gotten together in Kendrick for a number of years. There will be solos, duets, trios, quartet and full chorus singing. It will be a musical treat. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Installing Bean Machinery

The Kendrick-Rochdale company has received a new bean picker and polisher, which will be added to the bean equipment they already have in their warehouse. Manager Watts states that it will probably be a month before the machinery will be in place and ready for use.

Had Car Accident

Horst Gunther of Bovill, who was visiting his family at Juliatta over the week-end, had the misfortune to upset his car near Helmer, on Sunday, badly damaging it. Mr. Gunther was just recovering from a bad case of flu and said he became weak and lost control of the machine.

Pomeroy Man Injured

Crushed internally when an automobile slid off the highway and rolled over a 300 foot grade near Pomeroy, December 7, Sam Gibson was still unconscious.

Mr. Gibson is a cousin of Mrs. Frank Ellis and will be remembered as doing contract work here some four years ago.

Shipping Beans

The local warehouse of the Kendrick Bean Growers association reports that a few beans are being shipped all the time—almost enough to keep their cleaner and polisher busy.

Dance Well Attended

The dance given by the Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening was well attended and the lodge netted a neat sum as the result.

Has Infected Hand

Virgil Flesham of Leland is suffering with a badly infected left hand, which has caused him many sleepless nights.

Entertained at Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. George Leith very pleasantly entertained a few friends at bridge on Thursday evening of last week, when four tables were in play, those present being Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rider, Miss Josephine Deagen, P. C. McCreary and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith.

Mrs. W. L. McCreary made high score for the ladies and A. K. Carlson for the men. Wade Keene received the consolation prize.

A dainty luncheon was served at the close of play.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Methods for modifying the prohibition law in Idaho in the next session of the legislature in event the Volstead act is changed to permit light wines and beer will be outlined to Idaho hotel men meeting at Boise December 10 by Karl Paine, leading Boise attorney.

In its first announcement of postal receipts since rates were increased last July 6, the postoffice department said that 50 selected cities had shown a reduction in revenue "of 1.20 per cent."

Col. Charles A. Lindberg, with officials of the Pan-American Airways, has unfolded plans for trans-oceanic aviation by which they hope to dominate intercontinental air transportation. Within two years, this airline plans to set out upon oceanic schedules a fleet of four-motored, all-metal monoplane "clipper ships."

Earl Browder, a member of the secretariat of the American communist party, said at national headquarters in New York that ever since William Z. Foster first suggested a march on Washington the party had been active in organizing and supporting such a movement both among communists and non-communists. Speaking for Foster, the party head, who is ill, Browder said the present march was decided on by the national committee of unemployment councils on October 10, but that Foster first suggested the action in a speech last September 13. "The communist party has definitely supported this move from the beginning," Browder said.

Our Uncle Samuel last week received notes from England and France asking for a further moratorium on the debt payment from those nations due December 15, stating that it would seriously hamper them financially. Be that as it may, during the year 1931 France spent $575,000,000, England $460,000,000 and Germany $170,000,000 for new military armament.

A resolution favoring modification of the Volstead act and the return of beer, was adopted by the board of directors of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Friday.

Nine women, seeking presidential help for the demonstrators marching on Washington, found the social register holds no key to the chief executive's office. The group, including several of social prominence, was informed by Theodore Joslin, President Hoover's secretary, that it would be impossible for them to see the president. However, Vice-President Curtis agreed to see a delegation of not more than three of the "marchers" to talk things over.

New Auto Plates

Walter Q. Taylor, county assessor, has announced that the new 1933 auto plates have been received by him and will be put on sale on and after January 1, 1933. Some 5400 of the plates have been received. They are orange and black and they bear the county designation as "2K" instead of "K2" as last year. The plates for private passenger cars will be numbered from 1 to 3700 and the truck numbers will also start with No. 1. The 1932 license plates will be lawful until March 31, 1933.

Picked Bouquet Dec. 1

Mrs. M. O. Raby had on display last week a bouquet of calendulas that she had picked out in the yard on December 1—and they were perfect in every way. However, the balmy weather was somewhat shattered Tuesday morning when it was evident that Old Man Winter was "just around the corner." The first real touch of winter was in evidence at that time, but it moderated slightly during the day.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER; OTHER GRAINS STEADY

Domestic wheat markets strengthened materially toward the close of the week ending Dec. 2, following extreme weakness earlier in the period, when future prices declined to new levels under the influence of a sharp break in English currency and uncertainty concerning foreign debt settlements, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Further deterioration in domestic winter wheat, particularly in western Kansas and Nebraska, and less favorable prospects in Argentina, were principally responsible for the firmness towards the close of the week. Corn remained weak with demand very dull for the moderate offerings. Oats and barley markets held about steady, with offerings light and inquiry fairly active. Rye and flax were steady to slightly higher, but receipts were light and trading was of small volume.

New crop prospects were an important factor in the wheat market during the week. Large areas in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado were particularly in need of moisture and the crop deteriorated during the week in many sections. The condition of winter wheat in the western third of Kansas was reported at only 36 per cent of normal, with some counties as low as 15 per cent. An average condition of 65 per cent is reported in central Kansas. In Europe, dry weather prevailed in many parts of the Balkans and germination is irregular. Seeding made satisfactory progress in Germany and about the same acreage as last season has been seeded in France. Russian seedings at the close of November were about 5,000,000 acres smaller than last season, with the largest decrease in winter-wheat areas. Droughty conditions continue in southern sections of the country. Rains were beneficial to new wheat in northern African countries, but more moisture is needed to insure satisfactory germination. Moisture is reported insufficient in the Indian Punjab. Rains were received in Argentine wheat regions but were mostly too late to be helpful to the crop and irregular yields are reported in the western, southern and north central areas. Present indications are for a smaller crop than was expected earlier in the season.

The disturbed situation in the wheat market this season is reflected in the smallest world movement in recent years. World shipments of wheat, including flour, during the four months' period August through November, totaled around 195,000,000 bushels, compared with 275,000,000 for the corresponding period last year. The bulk of these shipments, as is usual in the fall months, was from North America. United States and Canada overseas shipments during the period totaled about 127,000,000 bushels as against 125,000,000 bushels last fall. An export bounty, which is not now effective, stimulated shipments last year. Russian shipments this fall have been only about one-fifth as large as last season and have totaled slightly less than 13,000,000 bushels.

Pacific coast markets were rather irregular. At Portland futures prices declined about 1c and cash about 3/8c during the week, while in California prices ranged unchanged to slightly higher. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals remained relatively small and totaled 502 cars, a considerable portion of which went into storage. No export business was reported since local values remain above foreign quotations. Domestic millers took moderate amounts at Portland, principally of high protein wheat, while feed manufacturers took occasional cars of feed grains. The quality of this season's crop in the Pacific Northwest is below that of a year ago. Of the November inspections only 17.7 per cent graded No. 1 compared with 29.7 per cent last November. Smut is less prevalent this year, however, and only 36.8 per cent graded smutty this November compared with 48.3 last year. At the close of the market December 2, Blue-stem hard white was quoted at Portland at 5c, soft white, western red, hard winter and northern spring at 44c, western white at 43c and 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at 52 1/2c, sacked, basis No. 1. Western white was quoted at Seattle at 43 1/2c, western red at 45c, hard winter at 45 1/2c and Baart hard white at 54c, sacked, basis No. 1.

The neighborhood was grieved to learn Thursday night of the death of C. L. Trail. The family had started for California for the winter some time ago, on account of his health, but had to stop in Lewiston, as he was not able to travel. Death of Clarence Trail

Clarence Lee Trail was born at Harpers Ferry, West Virginia, March 20, 1868, and died December 1, 1932 at the home of his daughter in Moscow, aged 64 years, 10 months and 11 days.

When 10 years of age he moved with his parents to Nebraska City, where the family lived until 1885, moving then from there to Rawlins county, Kansas. In 1890 he was married to Nettie Wilson of Colby, Kansas.

In 1905 he moved his family to Genesee, Idaho, and in 1918 to Southwick, where he has since resided.

He is survived by his wife and their ten children: Mrs. Grace O'Dell, Moscow, Mrs. Vickie Darby of Drayton Valley, Alberta, Mrs. Imogene Armitage of Spokane, Wash., Clarence and Bryan of Lewiston, Lenox and John of Merced, Calif., and Charlie and Warren of Southwick.

Services were held at the Short Chapel, Moscow, with Rev. Beach of Genesee, an old friend of the family, in charge. Interment was made in the Moscow cemetery, Dec. 4.

The school house floor received a good coat of oil Saturday. Mr. Grantham supplied the power necessary for the improvement.

The children are showing a great deal of interest in the Christmas program that is being planned by the school. The date for the program has not yet been determined.
