STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

The recent survey of the Idaho common school system of education conducted by the educational committee of the State Chamber of Commerce has brought to light a number of facts, some heretofore unsuspected and others already indicated but all of which must be given due consideration in any intelligent attempt to improve our schools and solve the burdensome problem of school taxes.

With the intention of placing these facts squarely before the public, an attempt will be made to summarize them in this article.

Perhaps the most startling revelation of the survey is the astounding range of variation in school costs between the districts. Average district expenditures per teacher range from $552 to $2,115 for the year; per student from $84 to $159. Differences in costs of schools of similar size vary as much as 500 per cent in some instances. Expenditure per teacher, excluding salaries, range from $111 to $1195 in schools with approximately the same attendance.

Student-Load Varies

Wide variations are also found in student-load or the number of students per teacher, which ranges from 11.7 in Clark county to 29.8 in Canyon county. Comparing the educational expenses of these two counties, the report shows that the combined county average district levies on an assessed wealth of $10,908 per student in Clark county amounted to 22.1 mills, while the same levies on an assessed value per student of $3,492 in Canyon county totaled 19 mills.

In other words, the Canyon county levies raise $66.35 per student while the Clark county taxes amount to $21.06 per student, which is an indication of the wide range in funds available for educational purposes.

The report shows conclusively that, on a per student basis, the larger schools are the more economical. The per student expenditures of schools with 1000 or more pupils is $78; while schools with 30 to 50 pupils spend $160 per pupil for the same degree of education.

School Period Uniform

Idaho's school children, the survey shows, are fairly uniformly provided for in so far as the period of instruction is concerned. Approximately 69 per cent of them are in attendance at schools providing nine months of both grade and high school instruction. An additional 20 per cent has the advantage of nine-months grade schools and less than one per cent are in schools offering less than seven months' instruction annually.

The survey does indicate however that there is a wide difference in the instructional service provided in the various districts as well as in conveniences and advantages, such as transportation, athletic fields, gymnasiums and so forth.

Taxes Paid By Few

Another disclosure of the survey is that the major portion of the school taxes are paid, not by the average taxpayer nor by the average parent, but by a relatively few large property holders.

The heavy payers of school taxes are the utilities and big business establishments rather than the small property owners who are finding their obligations to the government so burdensome at present.

The cause of the variations in Idaho school costs and in the degrees and conveniences of education in the common schools must be largely attributed to local control. The patrons and tax-payers of the various districts must, under the present system, assume either the blame of the credit, as the case may be, for the conditions in their respective schools. If, on the other hand, the entire system is to be standardized and a common educational objective established and maintained, then some centralized authority and supervision is essential.

The disconcerting lack of uniformity in Idaho's common school system extends itself into that unit of measurement known as student-load or the number of students per teacher, it is revealed by the report of the survey recently conducted by the educational committee of the State Chamber.

Indeed, the entire report is such as to cause one to wonder if there is not some connection between the variations in per-student expenditures, which have already been noted as astonishingly wide, and the discrepan-

Among the Sick

Mrs. Herman Schupfer was suffering with the flu the first of the week. Mrs. Frank H. Rider and son Frank were confined to their beds the first of the week with flu. Miss Allene Rider has just recovered from a severe attack.

L. A. Bartlett and family are suffering with flu this week.

Lida Jane Carroll went to bed on Tuesday night suffering with flu.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dawald were confined to their home the first of the week with flu.

Joe Watts was ill with flu Friday and Saturday of last week.

A. K. Carlson was confined to his home Monday and Tuesday of this week with flu.

PIONEER OF POTLACH REGION PASSES ONWARD

Charles Benjamin McCoy, resident of the Leland-Southwick communities since 1881, passed away at his home near Southwick on December 10, 1932.

Mr. McCoy was born in Wayne county, Iowa, August 2, 1860, and passed away December 10, 1932, at the age of 72 years, 4 months and 8 days.

At the age of 13 years he came west with his parents, settling in Lake County, California. Eight years later, he with his mother, two brothers and three sisters came to what is now the town of Leland, later moving from there to Southwick, where he homesteaded. At the time of arrival there were only two other homesteaders in the Southwick community, S. R. Southwick and John Reitel.

In the year 1889 he was married to Ella Leona Snell, while residing at Southwick, and to this union six children were born, all of whom survive him. They are: Mrs. Clarence Grant of North Bend, B. C., Mrs. Harry Smith, Leland, Mrs. Wilmer Hanks, Lulu, Elton and Eva, all of Southwick; twelve grand-children, a sister, Mrs. Susie Chandler of Parma, Idaho, and a brother, Austin McCoy.

Mr. McCoy was a man of sterling qualities, loyal to his family and a kind and generous neighbor. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Mr. McCoy had seen the advancement of the Potlatch country from a land of promise to one of fulfillment, from a land where settlers were few and far between to a land of high cultivation, saw sawmills, settlements, roads and railroads built, towns spring up and modern conveniences come to take their place in the scheme of things, saw Kendrick and Juliaetta grow from a mere store to what they are today.

For the past 22 years Mr. McCoy has been carrying the mail between Southwick and Teakean, and few and far between were the trips he ever missed, his great belief being that "the mail must go through."

Funeral services were held at the United Brethren church at Southwick at 2:00 Monday, December 12, with interment in the Southwick cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during our hour of bereavement for our dear husband and father and for the beautiful floral offerings. Especially do we wish to thank Mrs. Jones and family for her kindness and assistance.

Nez Perce District Court

The jury term of the district court of Nez Perce county begins December 19 and the first case to be tried will be that of the state versus Otto D. Burns, attorney, charged with grand larceny. The case against Burns grew out of his allegedly withholding $1,000 more than he was entitled to in the settlement of a case for Herman Wolff of Leland, a client.

Opens Brewmaster School

So sure are some of the brewery owners that the 18th amendment will be modified that they have opened a brewmasters' school in Chicago, the course to last five months. They state that the school is for "men having adequate knowledge of legitimate brewing—not home brewers."

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Another one of those interesting Commercial club meetings was held at the Raby Hotel Monday evening when some 18 interested citizens were on hand to "do their bit" toward solving the problems of the village and the community at large.

A splendid chicken dinner was first served by Mrs. Raby and her capable helpers at 6:30 o'clock, after which the tables were cleared and the business of the evening taken up, the first thing on the program being the report of standing committees.

N. E. Walker of the Highway committee reported that work had been finished on the Kendrick-Arrow road for the winter and that some 2,600 yards of gravel had been spread on the most-needed places. He later asked that a resolution be drafted and sent to the state highway commissioner at Boise and a copy be sent to Gov. Ross, asking that the Bear Ridge highway project be included in the state budget for 1933. The resolution was ordered drafted and will be duly forwarded to the proper authorities.

Herman Schupfer for the industrial committee reported that many local men had been given employment during the past month on the road projects financed by the R. F. C.

Marvin Long for the Merchant's committee stated that many inquiries had been made regarding the community Christmas tree. Many kiddies are looking forward with great pleasure to the coming of good old Santa in his big sled filled with goodies for the youngsters. The matter was discussed at some length and while no vote was taken saying there would be a community tree, it seemed to be the consensus of opinion and taken as a matter of course, that there would be one, and arrangements were completed to that effect. There was also considerable discussion as to where the tree should be placed—whether at the street intersection as has been the case for the past two years, or whether the location should be changed to in front of the Community church and the program held in that edifice, or whether it should be the same as in the past, with a short program and distribution of treats for the kiddies at the street intersection where it had formerly been held.

Some contending that the tree could not be seen if placed in front of the community church and that there is not room in the street at that intersection to place it in the street. President Thompson appointed a committee to make a decision and act accordingly, announcement of which will be given in due time in these columns.

Marvin Long also brought up the fact that it is necessary that there be a branch organization of the Red Cross in Kendrick and asked that all members remain after the closing of the Commercial club meeting for that purpose. He stated that 10 barrels of flour had already been received and distributed to needy families and that five more barrels were due that day (Monday) for distribution; also that many yards of cloth had been received from the Red Cross and distributed to those in need.

E. H. Dammarell, chairman of the committee handling the R. F. C. relief fund, made report that $450.00 had been credited to Kendrick for relief work during December and that 133 people had been given employment under that system, very materially relieving the situation so far as local charity is concerned. He also stated that $450 had been asked for for both January and February for the same cause. This is a splendid work and Mr. Dammarell and his committee are to be congratulated upon the splendid way this fund has been handled. There are certain restrictions and the committee has tried to live up to them, yet give each and every applicant due consideration and relief such as they seem entitled to.

At the conclusion of the Commercial club meeting a local Red Cross branch was organized and the following officers were unanimously chosen: Mrs. H. B. Thompson, president; Marvin Long, vice-president; E. H. Emery secretary and Mrs. Sylvia Cook, treasurer. These people will have all local Red Cross work in hand and all who receive benefit from this source will apply to the above mentioned.

The meeting Monday night was indeed a very profitable one and should

Portoffice Broken Into

Unknown persons broke into the postoffice last Wednesday night. A pick was used to break a panel from the back door, then reaching in for the key, the door was unlocked. Whether they were frightened away is not known, but Postmaster Ed. Taylor has failed to miss anything. The key remained in the outside lock.

Quilting Party

Mrs. Bert Sherman entertained with an all-day quilting party on Wednesday of last week. A delicious cafeteria dinner was served at noon. Guests were Mesdames W. I. Combs, Clem Israel, W. J. Cochran, D. E. Buckallew, Cecil Gruell, Frank Vincent, M. Nutt, Lulu Buchanan and George Bowen.

White Cross Christmas

The Ladies Aid is sponsoring a White Cross Christmas in honor of the Rev. Howard Graybeal and wife, at the Methodist church next Tuesday evening. A short program will be followed by a social evening in the basement, to which the public is invited.

News Notes

Frank Vincent was a Moscow visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Custer were visitors from Genesee Wednesday.

Ernest Walsh is home from his work in Montana, because of illness.

Mrs. Godfrey Ottosen and son returned to their home at Seattle Tuesday, after a two-months visit with relatives here.

Lawrence Dougharty returned Friday from the Veterans' hospital at Boise, where he had been receiving medical treatment for the past three months.

Had Narrow Escape

H. B. Thompson and Harold Thomas had a very narrow escape from serious injury or death last Friday evening about 7 o'clock, when on their way to Lewiston.

The road was very slick, ice having formed on the roadbed, and Mr. Thompson was driving very slowly but when rounding the little "u" curve and taking the dip in the road just this side of the Marion Grose-close place, the car took a sudden notion to go elsewhere. It skidded to the right, then to the left and plunged down the high embankment onto the railroad track about 120 feet below.

The car went off sideways, but for some unknown reason failed to turn over, righted itself and set out on its wild dash down the hillside. Mr. Thompson steering it between big boulders that would have ruined it beyond repair. It came to a rest with the front bumper resting just over the first rail.

Harold Thomas went to Albricht's to phone for help, but in the meantime B. N. Emmet and two men with him came along, saw the wreck and helped Mr. Thompson push it back off the track and brought Mr. Thompson and Mr. Thomas on into town.

The axel on the car was bent, a tire blown out and oil pan bent, but otherwise the car was undamaged, and the two men in it escaped without a scratch.

Ed. Deobald pulled it from the canyon and brought it to town.

The Community Christmas Tree

The community Christmas tree that has adorned the intersection near the telephone office for the past two years, will be in its accustomed place again this year and will be erected as soon as a suitable tree can be procured.

This is a splendid custom, and is given primarily for the distribution of treats to those who might not otherwise have an opportunity to see good old St. Nick drive in which a load of "goodies" for the kiddies. The date has been set for Friday evening, December 23, commencing promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be a short program of Christmas carols, a short talk and prayer, the whole program lasting only a few minutes. Then the treats will be distributed to the youngsters. The entire community is invited to come. This is not a strictly town affair, as some might think, but for the entire countryside—all who care to come. You will be more than welcome.

Governor Asks For More Cash

Gov. C. Ben Ross said Saturday he would ask additional funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation but had not determined upon the amount.

The state received $300,000 as a first allotment, of which little will be left by the end of the month, reports in the governor's office indicate. A questionnaire has been sent out to all county wide organizations through which the fund is being spent to determine needs of the remaining winter months and calling on the counties to show what they are doing for local relief.

"We will ask for what we need," the governor said, "and no more than that."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The Spokane city council cleared the books of all liquor ordinances excepting those providing punishment for sale to minors, drunken driving and habitual intoxication last week. Four of the five commissioners voted for the repeal legislation, which contained an emergency clause and will be effective immediately.

The house of representatives for the 1935 legislature in Idaho will consist of 83 members compared with 63 at present and 72 in 1931, an unofficial check made by Secretary of State Fred E. Lukens indicated. Under the law each county is entitled to at least one representative and additional ones for each 2,500 votes cast for governor and one for any 1,000 votes cast in addition to the 2,500.

Arnold G. Strom, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strom of Troy, where Mr. Strom is marshal, died last Thursday night at the University of Idaho infirmary of spinal meningitis. He had been ill of influenza but was released several days ago and went to the home of his parents to recuperate. He returned to Moscow Wednesday and entered the infirmary and was soon stricken with spinal meningitis, succumbing 36 hours later.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, said it was "exceedingly doubtful" whether three-fourths of the states would approve repeal of the 18th amendment without safeguarding against return of saloons or protection against liquor dealing gangsters.

Livestock died on the prairies of the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and other states during the extreme cold spell. The midwest feared for its winter wheat, although protecting snow fell in several states. The lowest official temperature was 37 degrees below zero at Elko, Nevada, while Deeth, Nevada, recorded an unofficial 51 below. Thirty below at North Platt, Neb., 26 below at Lander, Wyo., and Webster City, Iowa, and 22 below at Pueblo, Colo., Winnemucca, Nevada, and several other points were among the many places where it was colder than 15 below, Monday night.

Robert Kirk 46, unemployed credit manager, found death Monday, but his wife, Isabella, who had agreed to die with him, failed in her quest. Kirk jumped from his third floor apartment to a paved alley below and died without regaining consciousness. Police, finding the body, rushed to the apartment where they found Mrs. Kirk slumped over an open jet in the kitchen stove. Upon being revived, police said, Mrs. Kirk attempted to follow her husband through the window, but was restrained and taken to a hospital. Physicians said she had suffered no ill effects.

Kendrick School Closed

The Kendrick public school closed last Monday forenoon until after the Christmas holidays. When school was called Monday morning it was found that more than 40 students were out of the high school and almost as many out of the grades on account of illness, the principal ailments being bad colds, flu and kindred ills. Two teachers, Miss Deagen and Arthur Dawald, were also missing from their places on account of illness. It being impossible to hold school under these circumstances with any degree of success, it was decided by the school board to dismiss the school until after the holidays, it hardly being worth while to undertake to hold school before the holiday vacation.

Several of the teachers have gone to their homes and will not return until the New Year, when school will again convene.

WHEAT SLIGHTLY FIRMER; FEED GRAINS WERE WEAK

Domestic wheat markets strengthened slightly during the week ending December 9, influenced principally by the poor prospects for winter wheat, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Below zero weather with lack of snow covering over a good portion of the winter wheat belt and in the Pacific Northwest, threatened further damage to the crop, the condition of which at the first of December was the poorest on record for that date, according to private estimates. The strengthening influence of the unfavorable crop prospects however, was largely offset by weakness in the general market situation and slow world-wide demand for surplus wheat in the principal exporting countries. Feed grains continued weak and futures and prices on both corn and oats reached new records during the week. Marketings of corn, oats and barley were relatively light but easily sufficient for trade needs. Rye was firmer with wheat but flax was barely steady under continued dull crusher demand.

Pacific coast wheat markets were barely steady. Export demand was still lacking and inquiry from domestic buyers was of moderate volume. Growers continued to market slowly and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled only 480 cars during the week, compared with 625 cars for the corresponding week last year. Wheat and flour shipments from these terminals during November were only about half as large as last season and totaled 2,642,000 bushels, bringing the season's total to 12,825,000 bushels, compared with 28,466,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The smaller shipments this season reflected reduced export movement to the Orient. Local mills and feed wheat dealers provided about the only outlet for current offerings at Portland and prices did not follow the full advance at eastern markets. At the close of the market December 9, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 54½c, soft white western red, hard winter and northern spring at 44½c and western white at 43½c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Baart hard white was quoted at Seattle at 56c, western red and hard winter at 47c and western white at 45c, basis No. 1, sacked. No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana with 16 per cent protein was quoted at 58c per bushel in bulk.

Stock Yards Be Built

Word was passed on to the Gazette on Friday of last week that the Northern Pacific railroad company had decided to build the stock yards asked for long ago by the Commercial club. It was stated that Mr. Taylor, division superintendent of the Idaho division on the N. P., had been in Kendrick on Tuesday of last week and had passed along the information that the yards would be built at the log-loading siding in the east part of town.

The Gazette was not aware of this when the article was written last week. However, we did not write the article simply to "lambast" the N. P. railroad company—that is not our way of doing things. We did it because we are of the opinion that Kendrick should have a small stockyard to take the place of those washed out more than a year and a half ago, and that the railroad company has had ample time to have had them built and save the local shippers much unnecessary trouble in loading stock and brought themselves more income. Sometimes things are as "Skippy" in the funny strip says: "—well, my father says if the government would sell all its red tape at a penny a yard, everybody in the United States'd be millionaires."

Community Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid of the Community church will meet at the home of Mrs. Edgar Long Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Long and Mrs. F. B. Higley as hostesses.

Each member is asked to bring a Christmas offering, which will be distributed to the needy of the community.

cies in teacher-strength.
Te report shows that in the one-teacher districts the average daily attendance ranges from 2 to 35 pupils. The attendance in two-teacher schools varies from 9 to 86. One three-teacher school has only 16 pupils and another of the same teacher-strength has 108 students.

Wide Ranges
Such wide ranges in the number of students per teacher seem to extend all the way through Idaho's system of common schools. Two large districts with a difference of but five pupils in average daily attendance have a difference of 35 in the number of teachers employed.
One district with an average daily enrollment of 589 pupils employ 34 teachers; another district with 980 pupils, 391 more than in the first district, manages to get along with 30 teachers, or four less than the first district.

This great disparity of teacher-strength is shown even more clearly in the tabe of the average number of students per teacher in each county. In Clark county there is one teacher for each 11.7 students, while, to quote the other extreme, in Canyon county the figure is 29.8 students per teacher. The other 42 counties range between these two figures, the average being 21.6 students for each teacher.

Normal Load
Educators generally estimate the normal student load per teacher at 30 pupils. If conditions in Idaho would permit the strict observance of such a student-load it would mean, as the report points out, an annual saving of approximately $2,500,000 in education costs.

Because of the geography of the state and the sparseness of the population in some sections, there is need for a large number of small schools, many of them with only one teacher and very few students. The survey shows that of the 1114 districts offering elementary instruction only, 718 of them have one-teacher schools. During the school year 1930-1931, a total of 8772 children attended these one-teacher schools, or an average of slightly more than 12 pupils to each school and teacher.
In the two-teacher schools, of which there were 254, we find that the average student-load is 18 children per teacher. For the three-teacher schools, 67 in number, the student-load is almost 20.

Many Small Schools
The student-load, it is noted, increases with the size of the schools, reaching a high figure of 26 students per teacher in the eight-teacher schools. In the one-12-teacher elementary school in the state, the student-load is 25.
In all there are 1114 districts providing elementary instruction. The total attendance in those districts is 31,426 pupils. Reducing these figures to percentages, we find that 85 per cent of all the districts in the state provide instruction for only 31 per cent of the students. The one-teacher districts, which constitute 55 per cent of all the districts in the state, gave instruction to only 8.5 per cent of the students in average daily attendance.
In 50 per cent of all the districts providing grade school instruction the average attendance was less than 15 pupils daily, and 50 districts had less than five pupils in average daily attendance, which is not permissible under the Idaho laws.

CEDAR RIDGE NEWS
Roy and George Kent called at the Magee home Sunday evening.
R. C. Wingardner called on Elmer Hudson Saturday.
George Magee spent the week-end at Frys.
Robert Alexander visited with Raymond Hudson Sunday.
Elmer Hudson was a Kendrick visitor Wednesday.
Bill Zimmerman called at Magees Sunday.
Raymond Butler visited at the Hunt home Sunday.
George Magee was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening when a number of the neighbors gathered at his home. The evening was spent by playing cards and pulling taffy.
Ed. Kents have moved from the Worsley place to the Martin Thomas place.

School Notes
Jean Hudson and Walter and Bill Zimmerman were ill Monday and we did not have perfect attendance.
We are planning our Christmas posters, and hope to complete them Friday.
The seventh and eighth grades reported on Dickens' stories last week. The eighth graders have completed one of their book reports. So much toward earning a diploma.
Due to the cold weather we have been heating water with which to wash at noon. We can't neglect our health.

Kendrick To Play Culdesac
Kendrick will play its first conference game of the season with Culdesac in the local gymnasium, Friday, December 16 at 7:30 p. m. Little is known of the strength of the Culdesac team, but in view of the fact that conference honors are at stake, a fast game is predicted.
Coach Dawald's boys are developing into a fast-breaking, well organized team and should give a good account of themselves Friday. A number have been ill with flu recently, but all except Ramey, forward, will be in condition to play. Chet Woody will referee.

Christmas Program Postponed
The Christmas program that was to have been given on the evening of December 18, has been postponed until after the holidays. Practice for the performance has been practically impossible on account of the flu epidemic.

To Hold Turkey Shoot
The Kendrick Gun Club will hold their annual Christmas turkey shoot (weather permitting) at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, December 18.
The shoot is open to everyone, but each shooter will be squaded and handicapped according to his ability in order to make the shoot fair to everyone. No one need feel that he will stand no show against the more experienced members of the club, for he will shoot only against men of his own ability.
Shells may be purchased on the grounds or you are welcome to bring your own, but only trap loads will be allowed. Postively no field loads permitted.
The event entry fees will run from 35c to 45c (plus your shells and cost of targets) as this is strictly a no-profit shoot.
Come on out and try your skill and have a really good time.

Watch local ads for Christmas bargains.
