VOLUME XLIII

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1932

NO. 1

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The report of the gasoline tax investigation committee of the state chamber of commerce has recommended bonding gasoline dealers in order to insure collection of the five-cent tax, it was learned, along with information that the report had been formally submitted to the governor.

Exactly what form of farm relief will be recommended to the house by its agricultural committee was still at the discussion stage Friday, with committee sentiment apparently leaning toward a strictly emergency bill limited to wheat and cotton. No action was taken but some members predicted that any legislation reported would be for one year's duration—or at most two years.

Trampling down all dry opposition, house wets jammed the democratic 3.2 per cent beer bill through unchanged and laid it on the doorstep of the senate, where early action is promised. The big vote approving the measure—230 to 165—marked the first successful move by wets in either branch of congress to modify the Volstead act since it became law 12 years ago.

Several lottery tickets issued in connection with the Irish sweepstakes were seized by postal officials at Boise last week. They were addressed to local residents.

A move to bring the house 3.2 per cent beer bill up for action in the senate last week topped off a series of swift developments last week, including a denunciation of the measure by Senator Borah, who asserted it was unconstitutional. "We are betraying the constitution for thirty pieces of silver," he said, and contended that 3.2 per cent was the content of intoxicating beer prior to prohibition.

The comptroller of the currency played Santa Claus last week, ordering more than eight and a half million dollars distributed to the depositors of 59 closed national banks. The amount was the largest disbursed in any month in recent times and compared to $3,000,000 in November. It brought the total for the year paid to depositors to $106,000,000. The receivers of the institutions will make the payments.

Official returns from the 1932 presidential election, as compiled by the Associated Press, disclose a new record popular vote of 39,734,351. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democrats' successful candidate, polled 22,813,786 votes, the highest ever given a winner, and Herbert Hoover, the republican incumbent, received 15,759,226, a record for a loser.

Special delivery and registered Christmas mail for 20 San Francisco residents was stolen Saturday night by a man who drove away with the automobile of a postal employe. Dan McCarthy, the postal employe, told police and government inspectors, the automobile, with its load of mail, was stolen while he was inside an apartment building making a delivery of a parcel.

A procession of blanket wrapped bodies brought poignant grief to Moweaqua, Ill., coal mining community, on Christmas day.

An explosion trapped 54 miners Saturday. Frantic rescue squads worked throughout the day and night to have their efforts met by 12 bodies. But still they and the lines of fear-stricken relatives at the mine opening had hope.

The Most Rev. Edward John O'Dea, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Seattle, died Saturday night shortly before 9 p. m., two days after the anniversary of his 50th year since ordination. He was 76 years old.

"Home Brew" Be Expensive

The home brewer faces the prospect of paying $1,000 for the privilege of pouring his ingredients into a crock.

The law will require the $1,000 for a license to make his own beverage should the Collier beer bill pass the senate and be signed by the president.

Representative Schafer (R. Wis.) made an effort to save the home manufacturer. Representative Bachmann (R. W. Va.) gave support, but the house voted Schafer's amendment down before passing the beer bill.

The bill said that any person who makes 3.2 beer "shall for the purposes of the internal revenue laws be considered a brewer."

Schafer wanted to make the definition of a brewer apply only to those who make beer for sale.

Ice Taken Off Streets

Old Sol and Jupiter Pluvius, working together with Mr. Chinook, were busy the first of the week removing the thick coating of ice and snow from our streets—and a right good job they do, too. The streets were so slick on Friday of last week that it was next to impossible for one to keep their footing. Marshal Ed. Long sprinkled sand on the cross-walks in the business district, which aided pedestrian travel very materially. We again have balmy weather—more like early spring than mid-winter.

RED CROSS SWEATERS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Red Cross chapters in the Pacific area now have available 201,480 cotton sweaters for distribution to distressed boys, girls, men and women, according to word sent out by A. L. Schafer, area manager.

The distribution of sweaters is the third step in the national Red Cross program of providing clothing to needy and destitute and completes the consumption of 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton voted by Congress last July.

Throughout the eastern, midwestern and Pacific areas approximately 2,760,000 sweaters will be subject to requisition by the chapters. Delivery of sweaters will begin immediately.

Red Cross records show the government cotton was used to purchase 50,882,988 yards of cloth of varieties suitable for making dresses for girls and women, shirts and underwear for boys and men, clothing for infants, underwear for all; and to acquire 1,597,069 dozens of knit underwear and hosiery for men, women and children, and overalls, jumpers, trousers and knickers for men and boys.

The sweaters will come from factories that have not received any of the Red Cross cotton orders and will keep a number of sweater factories, which were about to close down, open for six weeks or longer.

Pacific Coast factories also have shared in orders for Red Cross garments, Mr. Schafer says.

Legislation is now pending in Congress to turn over to the Red Cross the remainder of 329,000 bales of cotton held by the Farm Board in order to continue the clothing relief work.

John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, testifying before the House Agricultural committee, said that the 500,000 bales of cotton already consumed was meeting approximately 20 per cent of the requirements for clothing among the more than 3,000,000 families reported in need of garments.

The bill by Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agricultural committee, contains a clause permitting exchange of the cotton for bedding, a distribution not permitted in previous legislation. This bill has passed the house and has been sent to the Senate.

Flour Also Helps

Seeking to relieve human distress in Pacific coast states, Red Cross chapters have to date distributed 438,699 barrels of Red Cross flour milled from government wheat, thereby aiding 422,848 families.

The compilation announced by A. L. Schafer, manager of the Pacific area, includes distribution as of December 15.

The record shows that 303 chapters located in every county west of the mountains, except Inyo county, California, submitted 1010 applications calling for 438,699 barrels of flour to meet the needs of 422,848 families. Of this amount, Idaho received 26,620 barrels of flour to aid 24,315 families.

The latest national compilation as of December 10, shows 6,653,958 barrels of Red Cross flour requisitioned by 3,504 chapters to aid 4,458,204 families in every state and territory of the country.

Freight On Sugar Reduced

Lewiston will enjoy a reduction of 15 cents per hundredweight on sugar, effective next Tuesday, it was announced by C. O. Bergan, traffic manager of the Spokane Merchants association, the Associated Press said.

The reduction applies to sugar shipped in carload lots from San Francisco to Lewiston, Spokane, Coeur d'Alene and other Inland Empire cities. The present rate is 72 cents and the new rate is 57 cents.

Last year nearly 20,000,000 pounds of sugar was shipped to Inland Empire cities, Bergan said.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN TWELFTH DISTRICT

Declines in Twelfth District industrial and trade activity during November were greater this year than has been customary during November of other recent years. The condition of reporting city member banks improved somewhat during the month, although pressure continued evident in country areas. Demand for currency decreased, contrary to the seasonal tendency, during the second half of November and the first two weeks of December.

Rainfall had approached the normal seasonal total in the Pacific Northwest in mid-December, but was less than normal in California and the Intermountain states at that time. Snowfall and unusually cold weather in California during early December damaged winter vegetables and citrus fruits, particularly in northern and central California, and retarded the growth of forage on ranges. The winter wheat was damaged considerably by the cold weather in the Pacific northwest. Volume of crops marketed was seasonally smaller than in October, but approximated the movement in November, 1931. Agricultural prices receded further in November and the first half of December.

Petroleum production in California changed little in the six-week period ending December 17, remaining considerably in excess of proration schedules. Refinery runs to stills decreased slightly, and crude oil stocks continued to rise. Output of lumber decreased more than seasonally from October to November.

Some decline was recorded in cement production, after allowance for seasonal factors. The value of both engineering contracts awarded and building permits issued was considerably enlarged as a result of the letting of Golden Gate Bridge contracts. About the seasonal decreases in employment were reported. Few wage reductions were recorded in November.

Department store sales were markedly smaller in November than in October, although some increase is usually recorded between these two months. Freight carloadings declined more, and automobile registrations less than seasonally. There was a decline in intercoastal traffic, following an advance in the three preceding months.

Reserve bank credit employed in the Twelfth District decreased considerably in the five weeks ending on December 21, reflecting principally an inflow of funds from other parts of the United States and Treasury expenditures in excess of collections in the district. Reserve balances at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco were further increased during this period as time deposits of member banks increased moderately. Both loans and investments of reporting member banks increased slightly from mid-November to December 21.

Gov. Ross Plans Tax Relief

A plan for wiping off the slate all penalties and interest for tax delinquency was proposed by Governor C. Ben Ross for enactment by the legislature in the first few days of its coming session.

The legislation is aimed solely at benefiting taxpayers earnestly desirous of keeping their property, the governor said and the legislation calls for a statement of intention eventually to pay the taxes.

Enactment will be asked in the first four days of the session in order to make it apply before the date for tax deeds, January 6 and 7. It wipes out all interest charges on delinquent taxes from 1928 to 1932 provided they are paid by January 1, 1935, which, in the case of taxes for 1928 would be 40 per cent. To encourage early payment, penalties are added after January 1, 1934, but on a scale far less drastic than the interest and principal charges assessed under the present laws.

It will take four bills to put the program into effect, the governor said, but these are being drafted and will be ready for submission in the first days of the legislature.

He's Right

A minister at Hollywood, California, in discussing the "fad" called "Technocracy," said it appeared to him to be nothing more nor less than Sovietism and Communism, with a haircut and a shave.

When the day of all its purported achievements has arrived, the millennium will indeed be here.

C. A. Oppenborn Heard From

The following was taken from the Waubay (S. D.) Clipper, regarding our former townman, C. A. Oppenborn, which will be read with interest by his friends here:

Waubay is glad to welcome this week C. A. Oppenborn, who arrived Friday from Kendrick, Idaho. He is a lawyer and his office is in the First National Bank building. Mr. Oppenborn is not an entire stranger in Waubay as he spent some time here about 15 years ago. He was very much taken with the town at that time but did not remain, as there was not practice enough for two lawyers, and he left the entire field to Mr. Bush. He will be glad to meet all those who require his services. His family will not arrive until spring.

The following was taken from the Webster (S. D.) Reporter and Farmer: C. A. Oppenborn, a former states attorney of Marshall county, arrived Saturday from Kendrick, Idaho, and has opened a law office in the city. He will occupy the offices in the old First National building which were used by the late C. C. Bush.

Special Program Over KFPY

A special program of Christmas carols from the Columbia Broadcasting system studio in New York and broadcast from Station KFPY, Spokane, Saturday evening, December 24, from 9 to 10 o'clock, will be sponsored by The Washington Water Power company as a greeting to the residents of the Inland Empire, according to W. H. Ude, director of customer relations for the electric service company.

The program will be directed by Channon Collinge, distinguished conductor, and will include readings from the great masterpieces of religious music. Collinge will be assisted by a group of soloists, including Mildred Rose, soprano oratorio singer; Theo Karle, tenor; Crane Calder, bass; a mixed choir of 16 voices and the Columbia Symphony orchestra.

Father and Daughter Get Licenses

Austin W. McCoy, prominent farmer of Southwick and a pioneer of the Potlatch ridge section, got a license at Asotin to marry Dora Livengood of Clarkston, and at the same time McCoy's daughter, Miss Ruby Lovine McCoy, and Daniel Hunt, farmer of the Cedar Creek region, north of Southwick, took out a license to marry at the office of County Auditor Lillie Ausman, says the Lewiston Tribune.

This was the first time known in Asotin county where father and daughter were granted marriage licenses at the same time, courthouse attaches said.

Give Prosperity a Chance

A recent syndicated newspaper article pointed out that present and future congresses must expect to face an army of irate taxpayers. These "rebellious Americans" believe that the increasing cost of government is the greatest menace now facing the country and that drastic retrenchment is vital to the work of recovery.

They are right. We are coming to the point where we cannot afford to own property—where homes and farms and buildings are liabilities, not assets. Thousands of men are out of work because the weight of taxation was too much for firms they once worked for, to bear. Thousands of farms have gone under the sheriff's hammer for taxes. Thousands of home owners live in constant fear of the next tax statement.

Bring taxes down and give prosperity a chance to come back!

Still Much Sickness
 There are still many cases of flu throughout the town and some of the patients have been confined to their beds for several days, although none have been what might be termed seriously ill.

 Many hundreds of turkeys have been shipped from Kendrick this fall and winter and while the price has not been high, they were a very handy source of income for their owners.

VOLUME XLIII

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1932

NO. 1

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The report of the gasoline tax investigation committee of the state chamber of commerce has recommended bonding gasoline dealers in order to insure collection of the five-cent tax, it was learned, along with information that the report had been formally submitted to the governor.

Exactly what form of farm relief will be recommended to the house by its agricultural committee was still at the discussion stage Friday, with committee sentiment apparently leaning toward a strictly emergency bill limited to wheat and cotton. No action was taken but some members predicted that any legislation reported would be for one year's duration—or at most two years'.

Trampling down all dry opposition, house wets jammed the democratic 3.2 per cent beer bill through unchanged and laid it on the doorstep of the senate, where early action is promised. The big vote approving the measure—230 to 165—marked the first successful move by wets in either branch of congress to modify the Volstead act since it became law 12 years ago.

Several lottery tickets issued in connection with the Irish sweepstakes were seized by postal officials at Boise last week. They were addressed to local residents.

A move to bring the house 3.2 per cent beer bill up for action in the senate last week topped off a series of swift developments last week, including a denunciation of the measure by Senator Borah, who asserted it was unconstitutional. "We are betraying the constitution for thirty pieces of silver," he said, and contended that 3.2 per cent was the content of intoxicating beer prior to prohibition.

The comptroller of the currency played Santa Claus last week, ordering more than eight and a half million dollars distributed to the depositors of 59 closed national banks. The amount was the largest disbursed in any month in recent times and compared to $3,000,000 in November. It brought the total for the year paid to depositors to $106,000,000. The receivers of the institutions will make the payments.

Official returns from the 1932 presidential election, as compiled by the Associated Press, disclose a new record popular vote of 39,734,351. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democrats' successful candidate, polled 22,813,786 votes, the highest ever given a winner, and Herbert Hoover, the republican incumbent, received 15,759,226, a record for a loser.

Special delivery and registered Christmas mail for 20 San Francisco residents was stolen Saturday night by a man who drove away with the automobile of a postal employee. Dan McCarthy, the postal employee, told police and government inspectors, the automobile, with its load of mail, was stolen while he was inside an apartment building making a delivery of a parcel.

A procession of blanket wrapped bodies brought poignant grief to Moweaqua, Ill., coal mining community, on Christmas day.

An explosion trapped 54 miners Saturday. Frantic rescue squads worked throughout the day and night to have their efforts met by 12 bodies. But still they and the lines of fear-stricken relatives at the mine opening had hope.

The Most Rev. Edward John O'Dea, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Seattle, died Saturday night shortly before 9 p. m., two days after the anniversary of his 50th year since ordination. He was 76 years old.

"Home Brew" Be Expensive

The home brewer faces the prospect of paying $1,000 for the privilege of pouring his ingredients into a crock.

The law will require the $1,000 for a license to make his own beverage should the Collier beer bill pass the senate and be signed by the president.

Representative Schafer (R. Wis.), made an effort to save the home manufacturer. Representative Bachmann (R. W. Va.) gave support, but the house voted Schafer's amendment down before passing the beer bill.

The bill said that any person who makes 3.2 beer "shall for the purposes of the internal revenue laws be considered a brewer."

Schafer wanted to make the definition of a brewer apply only to those who make beer for sale.

Ice Taken Off Streets

Old Sol and Jupiter Pluvius, working together with Mr. Chinook, were busy the first of the week removing the thick coating of ice and snow from our streets—and a right good job they do, too. The streets were so slick on Friday of last week that it was next to impossible for one to keep their footing. Marshal Ed. Long sprinkled sand on the cross-walks in the business district, which aided pedestrian travel very materially. We again have balmy weather—more like early spring than mid-winter.

RED CROSS SWEATERS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

The distribution of sweaters is the third step in the national Red Cross program of providing clothing to needy and destitute and completes the consumption of 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton voted by Congress last July.

Throughout the eastern, midwestern and Pacific areas approximately 2,760,000 sweaters will be subject to requisition by the chapters. Delivery of sweaters will begin immediately.

Red Cross records show the government cotton was used to purchase 50,882,988 yards of cloth of varieties suitable for making dresses for girls and women, shirts and underwear for boys and men, clothing for infants, underwear for all; and to acquire 1,597,069 dozens of knit underwear and hosiery for men, women and children, and overalls, jumpers, trousers and knickers for men and boys.

The sweaters will come from factories that have not received any of the Red Cross cotton orders and will keep a number of sweater factories, which were about to close down, open for six weeks or longer.

Pacific Coast factories also have shared in orders for Red Cross garments, Mr. Schafer says.

Legislation is now pending in Congress to turn over to the Red Cross the remainder of 329,000 bales of cotton held by the Farm Board in order to continue the clothing relief work.

John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, testifying before the House Agricultural committee, said that the 500,000 bales of cotton already consumed was meeting approximately 20 per cent of the requirements for clothing among the more than 3,000,000 families reported in need of garments.

The bill by Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agricultural committee, contains a clause permitting exchange of the cotton for bedding, a distribution not permitted in previous legislation. This bill has passed the house and has been sent to the Senate.

Flour Also Helps

Seeking to relieve human distress in Pacific coast states, Red Cross chapters have to date distributed 438,699 barrels of Red Cross flour milled from government wheat, thereby aiding 422,848 families.

The compilation announced by A. L. Schafer, manager of the Pacific area, includes distribution as of December 15.

The record shows that 303 chapters located in every county west of the mountains, except Inyo county, California, submitted 1010 applications calling for 438,699 barrels of flour to meet the needs of 422,848 families. Of this amount, Idaho received 26,620 barrels of flour to aid 24,315 families.

The latest national compilation as of December 10, shows 6,653,958 barrels of Red Cross flour requisitioned by 3,504 chapters to aid 4,458,204 families in every state and territory of the country.

Freight On Sugar Reduced

Lewiston will enjoy a reduction of 15 cents per hundredweight on sugar, effective next Tuesday, it was announced by C. O. Bergan, traffic manager of the Spokane Merchants association, the Associated Press said.

The reduction applies to sugar shipped in carload lots from San Francisco to Lewiston, Spokane, Coeur d'Alene and other Inland Empire cities. The present rate is 72 cents and the new rate is 57 cents.

Last year nearly 20,000,000 pounds of sugar was shipped to Inland Empire cities, Bergan said.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN TWELFTH DISTRICT

Declines in Twelfth District industrial and trade activity during November were greater this year than has been customary during November of other recent years. The condition of reporting city member banks improved somewhat during the month, although pressure continued evident in country areas. Demand for currency decreased, contrary to the seasonal tendency, during the second half of November and the first two weeks of December.

Rainfall had approached the normal seasonal total in the Pacific Northwest in mid-December, but was less than normal in California and the Intermountain states at that time. Snowfall and unusually cold weather in California during early December damaged winter vegetables and citrus fruits, particularly in northern and central California, and retarded the growth of forage on ranges. The winter wheat was damaged considerably by the cold weather in the Pacific northwest. Volume of crops marketed was seasonally smaller than in October, but approximated the movement in November, 1931. Agricultural prices receded further in November and the first half of December.

Petroleum production in California changed little in the six-week period ending December 17, remaining considerably in excess of proration schedules. Refinery runs to stills decreased slightly, and crude oil stocks continued to rise. Output of lumber decreased more than seasonally from October to November. Some decline was recorded in cement production, after allowance for seasonal factors. The value of both engineering contracts awarded and building permits issued was considerably enlarged as a result of the letting of Golden Gate Bridge contracts. About the seasonal decreases in employment were reported. Few wage reductions were recorded in November.

Department store sales were markedly smaller in November than in October, although some increase is usually recorded between these two months. Freight carloadings declined more, and automobile registrations less than seasonally. There was a decline in intercoastal traffic, following an advance in the three preceding months.

Reserve bank credit employed in the Twelfth District decreased considerably in the five weeks ending on December 21, reflecting principally an inflow of funds from other parts of the United States and Treasury expenditures in excess of collections in the district. Reserve balances at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco were further increased during this period as time deposits of member banks increased moderately. Both loans and investments of reporting member banks increased slightly from mid-November to December 21.

Gov. Ross Plans Tax Relief

A plan for wiping off the slate all penalties and interest for tax delinquencies was proposed by Governor C. Ben Ross for enactment by the legislature in the first few days of its coming session.

The legislation is aimed solely at benefitting taxpayers earnestly desirous of keeping their property, the governor said and the legislation calls for a statement of intention eventually to pay the taxes.

Enactment will be asked in the first four days of the session in order to make it apply before the date for tax deeds, January 6 and 7. It wipes out all interest charges on delinquent taxes from 1928 to 1932 provided they are paid by January 1, 1935, which, in the case of taxes for 1928 would be 40 per cent. To encourage early payment, penalties are added after January 1, 1934, but on a scale far less drastic than the interest and principal charges assessed under the present laws.

It will take four bills to put the program into effect, the governor said, but these are being drafted and will be ready for submission in the first days of the legislature.

Entering Forty-Third Year

The Kendrick Gazette this week enters its forty-third year of publication—and the third year under its present ownership.

While we have been publishing it but a short time, comparatively speaking, we have tried to give as good a paper as conditions would allow. Our only regret is that conditions will not permit of a larger and better paper, but we promise you this, that if old General Prosperity ever again takes the reins, we will give you the very best paper we possibly can. Our subscribers have stayed with us through these trying times and we want them to know we fully appreciate their loyalty to the paper and to us. We also appreciate the loyalty of our advertisers, for if it were not for them, the paper would not be here. Our country correspondents know we appreciate their efforts, too, and we thank them.

Burns Be Sentenced Jan. 16

Otto D. Burns, Lewiston attorney, convicted by a jury Wednesday night of grand larceny, will appear before Judge Charles F. Koelsch, Boise, at Lewiston on Jan. 16 when judgement will be pronounced at that time. Judge Koelsch presided at the Burns' trial at the request of Judge Miles S. Johnson.

Burns had been at liberty under a personal bond of $1,000. Judge Koelsch ordered that Burns replace his personal bond with another bond for $1,000, giving the defendant until Saturday to make arrangements for a new bond, which must be approved by Judge Johnson.

Burn was convicted of the larceny of $1,000 from Herman Wolff, farmer of Leland.

The Community Christmas Tree

The Community Christmas tree, sponsored by the Kendrick Commercial club, was given last Friday evening in Main street and was attended by a large crowd of townspeople, mostly the roads being in such condition as to make travel difficult for country folk to come in. However, all youngsters were given a nice sack of candy and nuts and an orange. A short program was held and was much enjoyed by those in attendance.

Good old Santa did his stuff in the approved manner and the youngsters were happy—and those who made the occasion possible are also well pleased with the outcome—but wish it had been possible for more of the country folk to come.

Governor Ask $400,000 Relief

Gov. C. Ben Ross last week asked the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for $400,000 in relief funds for Idaho for the next two months, as the $300,000 already allotted to the state has been used the last three months.

The amount requested was virtually equal to the requests from the counties, although four of these had to be estimated on the basis of requirements for the past relief period.

Governor Ross reiterated his statement on the policy of administering the previous fund, that it would not be apportioned to the counties according to population, but according to requirements.

Funeral Services For J. C. Hamil

Funeral services for J. C. Hamil, who passed away December 22 at the Joe Davis home, were held Tuesday of this week, with the Masonic order in charge. The body was taken to Lewiston and placed in Mountain Gem Abbey mausoleum by the side of his wife, who passed on several years ago.

Commitment services only, in the charge of the Kendrick Masonic lodge, were held. Very little is known of the life of Mr. Hamil, only that he had always led an exemplary life and had many friends.

We Appreciate

Everybody who appreciates the importance of comfortable as well as comforting church services in the community, is obligated to the cheerful wood-cutting and hauling party enjoyed by the Messrs. Ben Cummings, Everett Crocker, Gus Blum, Walter Sparber and Bruce Wilson, who so kindly cut and delivered to the Community church sufficient wood for the winter, from trees donated by E. L. Whisler. They have certainly merited heartist gratitude.

G. P. Wayland's name should be included with the names of those who so kindly provided wood for the Community church.

Return From Portland

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hoppe returned recently from a visit at Portland with their daughter, Mrs. James McFadden and family, at that place. They report the roads as only fair.

Another Old Subscriber

Last week we stated that A. G. Wilson was perhaps the oldest subscriber the Gazette had on its books—that is, the length of time he had been taking and reading the paper—but a short letter from J. I. Mitcham, now residing at Tiger, Wash., states that he, too, is one of the oldest subscribers we have. He states that he, also, took one of the first papers published by the Gazette and is still a paid-up subscriber.

Mr. Mitcham states that he settled near Kendrick in 1883 and moved to Kendrick in 1890, moving to Tiger, Wash., in 1920.

The Gazette wishes to state that it is proud of both of these old-time subscribers and that we appreciate such loyalty, not only for ourselves, but for those who have owned the paper before us.

About Your Income Taxes

Blank forms for use in making Federal Income Tax returns for the year 1932 will be released by Collectors of Internal Revenue throughout the country on January 3, 1933.

In accordance with the practice in former years forms will be mailed to all corporations, partnerships and individuals who filed returns for the year 1931. Others requiring forms may obtain them at any time upon request. Returns for 1932 must be filed on or before March 15, 1933.

Many persons will be required to file returns for 1932 who were not required to file for 1931, for the reason that any married person must file a return whose net income for 1932 amounted to $2,500 or more, and all single persons must file returns whose net incomes amounted to $1,000 or more during the year. Every corporation and partnership must file a return regardless of the amount of its gross or net income.

Banks Be Closed Monday

Regardless of the fact that Gov. C. Ben Ross issued a proclamation declaring Saturday a legal holiday, to be celebrated as New Year's day, the banks throughout the country have decreed to the contrary and will be closed on Monday instead. Saturday is a poor day to close up a place of business in a country town, and having this in mind, Monday will be observed instead.

Santa Kisses Pretty Girl

Santa Claus was fired by a department store in Memphis, Tenn, because in his enthusiasm for his work—he kissed a 17-year-old girl.

The girl's father complained to the manager of the store that Harvey E. (He) Mann had kissed his daughter when she went to the store to tell him what she wanted for Christmas. Mann said he didn't remember the incident.

"Lots of the boys and girls sit on my lap and sometimes I kiss them when they put their arms around my neck," he said. "I was enthusiastic in my work."

Man won his nickname of "He" last year by lifting an 800-pound bull daily in a circus. He started lifting the bull when it was a calf and lifted it every day until it was grown.

World's Largest Postoffice

The world's largest postoffice has railroad trains running through its basement, a provision has been made for airplanes to land on its roof—and is costing $21,000,00 to build, in Chicago.

There are 15 miles of wide conveyor belts capable of distributing 19,000,000 letters a day through the building.

Not until just before the Christmas rush of 1933 will decorators apply the finishing touches to the huge building but postal employees will start working there in a few weeks.

The structure has been built with the plan that some day small airplanes will carry mail from the municipal airport 10 miles away to a landing field 800 feet long and 300 feet wide—the size of the building—on the roof.

New Drug Real Elitr of Life

The age of the superman is just around the corner, according to research workers at a London hospital who have discovered a new drug for which they make the following claims: It will, prolong life, eliminate fear, breed courage and stimulate the intellectual and physical strength.

It will make sheep as strong as oxen and cats as ferocious as panthers. Already sheep and cats treated with the drug have fought and killed dogs.

It will add 10 years to the average span of life and produce a race of supermen.

We are afraid to contemplate the ultimate physical and social effects," one of the experimenters said.
