KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1933

NO. 9

DOINGS OF THE 22ND IDAHO LEGISLATURE

With definite hopes of adjournment Saturday, the Idaho legislature is concentrating on those measures essential to the operation of the state government during the biennium; namely, appropriations and revenue.

In addition to clipping some four days from the session's legal limit and saving the state an estimated $5,000 in legislative expenses, adjournment Saturday will make it more convenient for Governor Ross to attend the White House conference called by President-elect Roosevelt for March 6.

Additional evidence of early adjournment is seen in the introduction last week of House bill No. 268, which is generally believed by observers to be the revenue bill that legislative leaders have agreed upon. With this solution of the revenue problem enacted, the legislature, already having most of the appropriation bills out of the way, will be in a position to adjourn sine die.

House Bill No. 268
House bill No. 268 provides for a 2 per cent tax on the gross income of vendors, meaning merchants and retail business firms in general that sell and handle personal and tangible property, professional services and intangibles being exempted. Governor Ross, while not publicly endorsing the measure, has admitted that it was drafted under his personal direction.

Belief has been expressed that this bill, with the revenue derived from income tax (revised as proposed) and the kilowatt tax, would enable the state government to relieve counties and real property of the state ad valorem tax entirely, a condition that would have the advantage of placing tax responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of local units, in that all funds raised by the ad valorem levy would be spent at home. Thus relieved, the various localities could more effectively attack their respective tax problems, it is pointed out.

More Cuts Promised
Major appropriation bills, for the university and the southern branch, the normal schools, various state institutions and departments, passed the senate last week against the will of a minority, which protested that the reductions were not drastic enough.

Governor Ross subsequently secured promises from members of the state board of education to use utmost economy in expending the appropriations for state educational institutions.

The senate last week assumed the role of executioner. In the face of a threatened march on the capital by unemployed and protesting organizations, it killed the house bill which would provide a two-year moratorium on mortgage foreclosures. Likewise the senate axe fell on the "beer" bill and the women jury bill, both of which, as well as the moratorium bill, had passed the house. The bill to distribute the veterans' welfare fund among the counties was also killed in the senate.

The house added its bit by killing the tobacco tax proposal. The chain store license bill, which provides a sliding scale of fees ranging from $5 to $500, was successful in the house.

Other Tax Bills
Other revenue proposals in the process of legislation were three measures (including a revision lowering the exemptions and increasing the rates of the present law) based on incomes; a bill that would increase the tax rate on insurance premiums from 2 to 3 per cent; a $5 per year tax on marble games and "skill" machine games; and a bill that would provide a reduction in automobile license fees corresponding to ages. Gasoline tax division, although once defeated, is a recurring subject of discussion.

The bill creating a county municipal budget control board to supervise and co-ordinate all local unit spending, which the State Chamber believes would be materially beneficial in reducing the high cost of government and which was favorably acted upon by the senate, is one of the bills assured definite action before the session closes. Governor Ross has already given it his unofficial support.

Progress Made
At this writing, with the close of the session looming, it would seem that the 22nd Legislature has made

Attended Red Cross Meeting

E. H. Emery on Monday attended a meeting of the Red Cross chapters of Latah county at Moscow when the matter of relief work in the various communities was taken up, more especially as regards the distribution of government flour. A statement was made at Moscow that enough flour had been received there to last until May 1, but that sacks have not been received for the purpose of putting it up in the proper amount. Distribution to the various communities will be made later.

TRYING TO DODGE RESPONSIBILITY SALES TAX

A sales tax bill was introduced in the Idaho legislature last Friday calling for a two per cent tax on all "personal property" transactions, which would mean that the merchant and business man of whatsoever kind would have to bear the brunt and pay over to the state two cents out of every dollar taken in by him, even though he were operating at a net loss at the time he took that dollar in! The Governor explained that the bill was drafted under his direction, but that he is not sponsoring it! What in the name of time is meant by the Governor by disclaiming the paternity of the child?

The business man will now have to pay a personal property tax, a national income tax, a state income tax—and now a sales tax looms. It can't be so different over in Russia.

If passed the law will become effective April 1, and will be for a period of two years—and in the meantime those legislators who have been instrumental in bringing this unjust tax about, had just as well look for new jobs—so far as politics are concerned. And Gov. C. Ben Ross may have a lot of explaining to do about the parentage of the bill he "disowns" yet practically urges its passage.

We wonder if Gov. Ross has ever been a merchant and tried to make ends meet, realized what mail-order competition means, and that the tax will all the more put the Idaho merchant at the mercy of the mail-order house and in the towns bordering other states, give the other fellow an unfair advantage?

"A Vision Of Taxation"

The following verse was sent to the Chicago Daily News by G. A. Haywood. Try it on your piano to the tune of "Pink Elephants":
Each day you see me out working on the farm.

I have a little forty, a chicken coop and barn.

I love to work upon the farm and keep it neat and clean,

But when I'm in bed at night, I have such awful dreams.

I see taxes on the ceiling, I see taxes on the wall,

I see taxes in the kitchen, I see taxes in the hall,

I see taxes in the dining room, I see taxes on my plate,

I believe I can taste taxes in everything I eat.

I believe in paying taxes, I believe in being sane,

I believe these unjust taxes are taxation of the brain.

I see taxes on my children, I see taxes on my wife,

I see taxes on my income, I see taxes on my life.

The next bum rap that we predict with no other can compare;

It's a meter on our windpipe, then tax us for the air!

Building Deflection Dam

Another deflection dam is being built with R. F. C. money in the Potlatch just above town, near the N. E. Ware place. The dam will be some 200 feet in length and is expected to cause the water to flow along the south bluff instead of its spreading over the highway, should a spring freshet bring high water.

Three hundred and sixty dollars have been received for relief work and 39 families are now being assisted, which makes it rather hard to meet the needs of all. It is not known whether more money will be received for February or not, but the chances do not seem very bright.

Wilkins Have Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilkins are the proud parents of a daughter, born February 15, at their home in Shoshone. Mrs. Wilkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Buckles of Lewiston and well known in Kendrick.

Plant Cottontail Rabbits

One hundred eastern "cottontails" were planted last week by Lewiston sportsmen along the brushy draws of the Clearwater river and Lapwai creek. The sportsmen asked that the rabbits be protected rather than hunted during the first year or two, in order that they may get a good start. There were 30 bucks and 70 does in the shipment. They are of the "Kansas strain" and should be able to take care of themselves in good shape and within a few years there should be plenty of shooting for those who like to hunt these little animals.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Guispe Zangara, Italian, who made an attempt upon the life of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt at Miami, Florida, last Thursday, is declared to be sane, but a crank on bolshevism and communism. He stated that he had originally intended to assassinate President Hoover, but changed his mind and tried to kill Roosevelt. Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who was hit by two of the assassin's bullets, is said to be in a fair way to recover and the other wounded are doing nicely. Zangara was given 80 years in prison. Says he is sorry he didn't kill.

A mob, of between 4,000 and 5,000 unemployed took possession of the King county-Seattle county-city building on Wednesday of last week and proceeded to hold the fort for 48 hours, when they were finally evicted. They were said to be orderly and that no disturbance resulted by their stay in the building. Their demands were "unreasonable" the city and county officers said.

On Thursday of last week the U. S. senate voted to repeal the 18th amendment by a record vote of 63-23—five more than the necessary two-thirds majority. The bill provides for submission to the state conventions for ratification instead of the legislatures and would protect dry states from liquor importations. The bill was then sent to the house for ratification. On Monday the house gave a favorable vote of 289 to 121, which action sends the prohibition issue back to the states for ratification. Both senate and house gave more than the necessary two-thirds vote so it is not necessary to get the president's permission by his signature. Thirty-six of the 48 states must ratify the amendment before it can become effective.

Nelson Nash, 24, negro, was lynched by a group of 500 angry citizens at Ringgold, La., Sunday night. Less than 14 hours after he assertedly had beaten to death J. P. Batchelor, 51, cashier of the Ringgold bank. Nelson was hanged from the limb of a tree at the scene of the killing. About 75 shots were fired into the negro's body.

Truck loads of milk were spilled Sunday on Wisconsin highways as striking dairymen forced tight picket lines in their campaign for higher prices. Nine truck loads of milk, approximately 25,000 pounds, were dumped near Manawa. Order was maintained by picket lines, however, and no physical violence was reported.

Crop production loans will be ready to disburse in about 10 days, according to the Associated Press, and application blanks for borrowers are expected here by that time. Secretary Hyde of the department of agriculture announces that $300 will be the maximum loan to any farmer from the $90,000,000 fund set aside by congress for crop production financing.

P. T. A. Meeting

The Parent-Teachers meeting was held in the assembly room of the Kendrick school Monday evening, with about 35 in attendance. An interesting program was given, as follows:

A story by Mrs. Mary Adams, primary teacher, to the tiny tots, who dramatized it; the Boys' Glee club gave three numbers; there was an instrumental trio, and interesting talks on the subject of Good Reading, by Mrs. F. H. Lightfoot and Mrs. A. K. Carlson, all of which were very interesting to those in attendance.

After the program the teachers served oyster stew to all in attendance.

Oregon Has "Gin Marriage" Law

Now that Idaho has repealed her "gin marriage" law, Oregon has just adopted one and it has been signed by Governor Martin, which requires a notice of three days intention to wed before a marriage license can be secured. Idaho knot-tiers may have a chance to get back some of the money they lost to Oregon during the past two years by marrying Oregon couples who will undoubtedly come across the line to avoid the three-day wait.

Craig-Kimberly Wedding

LATAH COMMISSIONERS TRIM EMPLOYEES SALARIES

Latah county commissioners have notified deputies in all county offices that payroll warrants covering the current month will be reduced 12 1/2 per cent. The board announced a voluntary cut in its own salaries of 10 per cent although the law sets $900 a year as the commissioners' wage.

All but three elective county officials have accepted a 10 per cent reduction as requested by the board. One of the three was not present at the meeting, Attorney Abe Goff, and Auditor Harry Thatcher and Treasurer Leola King asked time to consider.

Sheriff Charlie Summerfield and Probate Judge L. G. Peterson, both of whom took voluntary cuts of 10 per cent last winter, have volunteered to take another 10 per cent decrease along with the other officials who have been getting legal salaries up to the present.

The total saving to the county by the proposed reductions would be $301.47 a month, or approximately $3600 a year.

A Legislative Pastime

There probably never has been a legislature assembled in Idaho or any other state, that has spent as much time "reconsidering" measures as has the one assembled under the capital dome—and various other "domes" in the capital city. Perhaps if they would spend most of their time reconsidering some of the bills already passed it might be better for the taxpayers than to have many more new ones placed on the statute books of the state.

Pending action by the governor, and a possible reconsideration, Idaho again has a "butcher bill" prohibiting the sale of animals slaughtered without inspection.

The measure, buffeted about for three sessions, was aimed by cattle men at stopping cattle rustlers who operate in the modern fashion by killing choice livestock out in the field and hauling it to distant markets in fast trucks.

It passed the house last week and the senate passed it Friday, although it was held up for reconsideration Monday.

Herd of Elk Seen

A herd of 13 elk were seen last Friday morning by Everett Fraser when he looked across the canyon from his place to Big Bear ridge, the animals very evidently having been driven down by the heavy fall of snow in the hills. They were seen again on Saturday morning, but have evidently gone back to higher levels. They are supposed to be a part of the herd planted by sportsmen some three years ago.

GRAIN MARKET STEADY ON LIGHT OFFERINGS

Domestic grain markets were fairly steady during the week ending February 17, although trading was dull with offerings very light, according to the weekly grain market review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Reports of further deterioration in winter wheat in western Kansas and Nebraska, in Oklahoma and eastern Colorado and also in eastern Oregon and Washington, together with very small current receipts, maintained a steady tone in cash wheat markets and premiums on all milling types were slightly firmer. Corn and oats remained weak, with prices near the season's low point. Demand continued dull and moderate arrivals at most markets moved very slowly into consuming channels at barely steady prices. Barley and rye strengthened slightly at some points under a somewhat more active inquiry and flax prices gained about 1c per bushel, with a fair crusher demand for the extremely light receipts.

Little change occurred in the general wheat situation. Southern Hemisphere marketings continued fairly heavy, totaling 5,170,000 bushels from Argentine and 6,583,000 bushels from Australia. Demand from Europe and other importing areas remained dull so that the unfavorable prospects for winter wheat in the U. S. was apparently of little influence in world markets. World stocks are still large although somewhat smaller than a year ago, reflecting principally reduced supplies in the United States, Russia and the Danube basin. United States stocks at the first of January based partly on trade estimates were apparently about 60,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. Total stocks at the first of the season including this year's crop, were around 130,000,000 bushels less than a year earlier. No shipments were made from Black Sea ports and trade reports indicate a shortage of wheat both for seed and food in parts of Russia. The issuance of certificates for the export of wheat from Germany was discontinued at the end of January. The domestic milling quota in Holland was increased to 35 per cent, effective Feb. 13.

Prices of native wheat in Europe held about unchanged but quotations on foreign wheats at Liverpool were slightly lower. At the close of the market Feb. 17, No. 1 Manitoba loading at Vancouver was quoted at Liverpool at 50 1/2c and No. 2 Manitoba afloat at 49c. Argentine Rosafé due to arrive was quoted at 43 1/2c and Australian wheat afloat at 49 1/2c per bushel. United States wheat remained well above an export basis, in part due to the depreciated currencies in most of the foreign exporting countries which place foreign wheat well below American prices. At the first of August, 1931, when the British pound sterling was at par, it would buy about 8 1/2 bushels of Argentine, Australian or United States wheat and about 8 bushels of No. 2 Canadian Manitoba at the prices then prevailing at Liverpool on wheat from these countries. At the middle of February, 1933, however, when the British pound was worth about $1.43 less in United States money, than at the earlier date, it would buy about 8 1/2 bushels of Argentine wheat, about 7 bushels of No. 2 Canadian or Australian but less than 6 bushels of United States No. 2 hard winter on the basis of prevailing prices for these classes of wheat. Canadian and Southern Hemisphere wheats have even greater advantages in countries whose currencies are relatively cheaper than the British pound in terms of U. S. money. In addition, shippers in depreciated currency countries have been more willing to lower prices to secure world trade since returns from such sales have represented relatively higher prices in terms of their local moneys.

Pacific Coast markets declined slightly during the week, despite the slightly firm situation at central western points. No export trade was possible at Portland at prevailing quotations and inquiry from local mills and California buyers was dull. Mills were working principally or earlier purchases. Prevailing low prices and unfavorable prospects for fall-sown wheat tended to restrict country marketing and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled only 250 cars for the week compared with 1,011 cars for the corresponding week last year. Heavy damage to winter wheat from the recent cold material progress towards correcting governmental conditions. Already it has two definite accomplishments to its credit: (1) The placing of the service departments on a fee basis that requires the group receiving the benefits to pay the costs, and (2) A material reduction in appropriations. If it is able to add to these (1) an assurance of cash revenue to finance its borrowed appropriations and thus avoid the necessity of additional borrowing and (2) an effective means for reducing local expenditures (the municipal budget control board) it will have been measurably successful in remedying a highly critical situation.

Local governing units of the state of Idaho have approximately seven million dollars worth of uncashable warrants in the hands of employees and others, it is indicated by figures assembled by the State Chamber of Commerce from 15 counties.

The necessity for issuing these warrants, as well as the inability to retire them, is traced directly to delinquent taxes.

Thirty-eight per cent of the taxes for 1932 are estimated to go delinquent, as compared with 16 per cent for 1929. Which shows that our delinquencies, during a three year period have increased 135 per cent.

Figures gathered indicate that the counties are reducing their expenditures only an average of 7 per cent as compared with state reductions estimated from 25 to 35 per cent.

The local units in reducing their expenditures, have been unable to keep pace with the reduction in their incomes brought about by failure of the people to pay taxes. This has meant a falling back on credit, with its accompanying interest charges, until that credit is now practically exhausted.

It has been made plain that the various taxing units should reduce their expenditures to the level of their cash receipts instead of to the level of taxes levied.

The 2000 governing units in the state levied taxes totaling $18,500,000 in 1932, or approximately 25 per cent of the gross 75-million dollar income from farms, forests and mines, as further evidence that the people are being taxed beyond their ability to pay.

This condition is resulting in a direct conflict of demands on the legislature. The units on the one hand are demanding cash and relief from debt, while the people, on the other hand, are demanding relief from taxes.

It is believed by the Chamber that the only feasible solution to the problem is a really drastic reduction in local unit expense budgets, bringing the expenditures down to the place where the people can and will pay them.

Editors Note—We agree with the last sentence in the above—"bring the expenditures down to the place where people can and will pay them." But that argument and the proposal of a 2 per cent tax on all our incomes just doesn't jibe.

It might also be of interest to the local tax payers to know that the city taxes here were cut 10 per cent long before the state or county cut any of theirs, likewise the Kendrick highway district cut. The city cut was 10 per cent, with a still greater cut being considered, and still they propose to give the last ones to cut control over us. Does that hold water?

Robbing Peter To Pay Paul

In your left-hand trousers pocket you have the sum of 50 dollars. In your right-hand pocket is another $50. For a period of time you spend entirely from the left pocket, until the 50 suffers alarming depreciation. Then you begin spending from the right pocket. Would you consider this economy and reduction of expenses? You certainly would not. It is unimportant whether the dollar comes from one pocket or another, whether your left or your right passes it out.

But, when tax commissions and politicians announce a program of tax reduction, it usually does precisely what has been described above.

It taxes a dollar off the property tax and puts another dollar on the income tax. It shifts burdens from an inheritance tax to a sales tax. It discovers intangible taxes—supposed to lower some other tax, but increases the total volume of money taken from individuals and industry. And so it goes.

The average tax reduction program is a farce and misrepresentation. It robs Peter to pay Paul. It does not recognize the fact that there is but one way to lower taxes—to spend less money.

Keep the pocket illustration in mind next time your politicians announce an economy drive. See if they actually do lower the cost of running the government, or simply dip into your other pocket. Then act accordingly.—Camden Times, East Camden, N. J.

GRAIN MARKET STEADY ON LIGHT OFFERINGS

wave was indicated by trade reports in eastern Washington and Oregon and much spring seeding in normally winter wheat sections is in prospect. Stocks at country points remain unusually heavy as a result of light marketings this season. Some export inquiry from China was received and there were reports indicating that some sales had been made for June and July shipment.
The Atlantic Coast markets furnished a fair outlet for northwestern wheat and flour this season and a moderate business continued in that direction. At the close of the market

Feb. 17, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 53c, soft white, hard winter and northern spring at 44½c, western red at 43½c and western white at 42½c. Western white wheat was quoted at Seattle at 45c, western red at 47c, hard winter at 48c and baart hard wheat at 55c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1.
California wheat markets were reported unchanged to 2½c per 100 lower. Slightly increased offerings of local wheat in advance of the tax assessment period were principally responsible for weakness in that market. Flour trade in the Bay region continued of about seasonal volume, but mills were using largely supplies accumulated early in the season and purchasing only high protein types needed for milling mixtures. Demand for feed wheats was only moderate, reflecting the cheap feed barley which was selling at new seasonal lows.

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS

HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

VOL. I NO. I

Editorial

Well, folks, the new "cow money" went off to a flying start Saturday, and every man who took Scrip for his cream was more than satisfied. He received 25% more for his cream, and took more goods home with him than he would have any other way.

We must commend highly the merchants in town for getting behind this movement to advance the price of the only farm crop that is now being sold. It will put more money into circulation, and that is what we need. We have heard it whispered around that some few will not accept scrip because it is only worth eighty cents on the dollar, plus accumulated stamps. However, these same men will accept a silver dollar at face value, and we'll gamble that not more than 25c could be squeezed out of one if it were melted down.

Besides, wouldn't it be the sporting thing to spend a few cents for cream stamps in order to give the farmer a big increase in his butter-fat return?

John A. Thomas of Little Bear Ridge has the distinction of being the first person to receive scrip.

TWENTIETH AMENDMENT TO U. S. CONSTITUTION

It is said to be very difficult to amend the United States constitution. Yet the 20th amendment to that venerable document has just gone through the state legislature with a bang and with but little opposition. Yet it took ten years to get it through congress.

This difference may be thought to show where the real difficulty lies in getting needed legislation. Yet the real difficulty is not with the legislators, but rather with the indifference of the people. If they had demanded with any emphasis that congress pass this amendment, it would have been done years ago.

The people often refuse to be roused to political action until they actually feel some kind of pinch personally. When they find that the actions of the government cause them some personal inconvenience and loss, then they get busy with a wrath so violent that it often does an injustice. A little more excitement in ordinary times, and a little less under disturbed conditions, would promote more satisfactory results.

The purpose of the 20th amendment is to remove the prolonged waiting period that exists between the election of a president and congress, and the time when these officials assume their duties. This too extended delay is a harmful influence this year, with business interests waiting to see what the new government will do. But such a long interruption will not again occur. The congress to be elected in November, 1934, will begin its work January 3, 1935, which will make Uncle Sam look more like a business man and less like a back number.

The success of this amendment should suggest that if changes are needed in our government they can be made, if people really insist upon them. But they will not be made for a long time, if ever, if people acquire a violent headache when asked to consider the problems of government.
