DOINGS OF THE 22ND IDAHO LEGISLATURE

Passage by the national congress of a resolution submitting the prohibition question to the people caused the Idaho legislature, in its final week, to turn its attention once again to alcoholic liquor.

A movement was put under way for a "ratification convention," to which delegates will be elected, sometime during the coming summer, June being the month mentioned. Also a bill (later indefinitely postponed by the house) was introduced that would repeal practically all the existing state liquor laws, thereby paving the way for resumption of the traffic, if the Eighteenth amendment is repealed.

Since the legislators' pay stops by constitutional provision at the end of the regular session, adjournment was made.

Sales Tax Killed

Appearance of a third sales tax in the house last week created such a furor of criticism, delegations of indignant citizens journeying to the capital from various sections, that the administration reversed its position, saying that the sales tax wasn't necessary, and the house hastily killed the measure.

That ended a determined attempt on the part of those who are wondering where the money for the next two years is going to come from to pass a tax of this kind.

Some relief to this group is seen in the passage of house bill No. 159, amending the present income tax law by lowering exemptions and increasing rates. This bill, lacking only the Governor's signature (which is considered certain) to become a law, will increase the income tax revenue.

Store Tax Passes

Another revenue measure which bids fair to bear fruit is the chain store tax, passed by the senate last week. The Governor's signature on this bill will make legal a license tax on chain stores varying from $5 for one store to $500 for each store of chains of 19 or more. The resulting revenue, which is variously estimated at $50,000 to $100,000, will go to the public school fund. The bill permits an offset to concerns owning real property in the state.

The Governor unexpectedly vetoed a bill that would prohibit deficiency judgments in mortgage foreclosure cases, declaring that it would drive such loaning companies as the Federal Land Bank out of the state.

A bill that would levy a 2 per cent tax on the net profits from mine ores was killed in the house.

Bills providing for recall, initiative, and referendum, which were storm centers of former years, quietly passed the senate and need only the Governor's signature for enactment.

Jobs Eliminated

The Donhart bill, abolishing certain departments of state government and distributing their duties among other departments, passed in the house. This bill, it is estimated, will effect a saving, mostly in salaries and personal expenses, of $35,000 annually. Opinion is that the Governor will not hesitate to sign it.

A bill to increase the tax on insurance premiums in the state from 2 to 3 per cent was successful in the house; but there is considerable doubt in view of the nearness to the close of the session, if it will run the gauntlet to enactment.

A second attempt to divide the salaries of state officials, "permitting a savings of about $200,000" several declared, was a storm center in the house when it was rumored that the sifting committee expected to let it die a natural death by not reporting it out before the close of the session. Proponents of the bill asserted that they wanted a chance to vote on it.

No Gas Tax Division

As second attempt to divide the gasoline tax between the state and the counties was killed in the house.

A bill that would permit counties to issue bonds to retire their outstanding warrant indebtedness was successful in both house and senate. Another bill, permitting an issuance of bonds to cover all county debts, as of January, 1934, was introduced.

With practically all appropriation bills having been enacted, a tired and weary legislature last week waded and walled through a great mass of legislative proposals in an effort to consider as many bills as possible before the final blows of the gavel marked the end of the session.

Death of Mrs. Victoria Pickens

Mrs. Victoria Pickens, a resident of Juliaetta for many years, but a resident of Glendale, Calif., since 1922, passed away at her California home February 20, 1933, death having been caused by hemorrhage of the brain. She was born in North Carolina May 9, 1868. All her children were at her bedside at the time of death. They are: Mrs. Elgin Woody, Mrs. Ray Thomas, Mrs. Code Morgan, Mrs. Otto Janzen, Scott Pickens, Fred Pickens, Gould Pickens.

Burial was made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, Calif.

Idaho Fatalities Cut 23 Per Cent

There was a decrease of 23 per cent in automobile fatalities in Idaho in 1932, 36 compared to 47 in 1931, Emmett Pfost, commissioner of law enforcement, said in his accident report. Accident and injuries each showed a decrease of 21 per cent.

In 1931 the property damage was $82,385, Pfost said, compared with $40,270 last year, a drop of 51 per cent.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

United feminism rose to praise Franklin D. Roosevelt for appointing Frances Perkins to the cabinet but the American Federation of Labor, in discordant note, officially declared it can "never become reconciled to the selection." Thus, even before inauguration the new president has brought down upon himself bitter criticism from a powerfully organized social group. The disapproval, however, had been anticipated.

Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, a veteran of the U. S. senate for more than 30 years, died on a train in North Carolina early last Thursday as he was returning to Washington, D. C., from Havana, Cuba, where he had been married only five days previously. He had been selected by President Roosevelt for U. S. attorney general. Burial was made at Helena, Montana.

Following on the action of several surrounding states, Acting Governor George E. Hill last Thursday, March 3, declared a 15-day "bank holiday" in Idaho, ending at midnight on March 17. Basing his action on the law enacted by the legislature and which he signed at noon on Thursday, Lieutenant Governor Hill, chief executive in the absence of Governor C. Ben Ross, issued the proclamation as provided in the new measure. Under its operation he predicted every bank in the state would close for the 15-day period.

Obedying a sheriff's mandate backed by a city commissioners' resolution, approximately 2,000 demonstrators who invaded Olympia to demand jobless insurance and a cash dole from the legislature made a peaceful departure for their homes in various parts of the state.

Army, navy and civilian relief workers plunged into the immediate task of providing shelter for 50,000 persons made homeless by earthquake, tidal waves and fire which devastated the northeastern section of the main Japanese island Friday, leaving 1,535 known dead.

A bullet intended for Prisedent Franklin D. Roosevelt brought death to Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago in a hospital in Miami, Florida, Monday and about 10 hours later Giuseppe Zangara, the assassin, was indicted for first degree murder, and will in all probability be hung.

R. E. Thomas, warden of the Idaho state penitentiary, submitted his resignation to the state prison board, to be accepted "at the pleasure of the board." Thomas, a republican, was placed in charge of the penitentiary two years ago by the board, then composed of one democrat and two republicans. He went to this post after serving seven years as state game warden under the republican regime.

Street Graded

The Main street received a much-needed smoothing up the first of the week, the large road grader having been used for the purpose of knocking off the knots and filling up depressions. It is almost as smooth as pavement now—that is, some pavement.

Marshall Ed. Long is busy every day putting the streets in condition for spring and summer and, regardless of the depression, we expect Kendrick to be in the front line when it comes to a pretty, home-like town. We're proud of Kendrick.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT CALLS SPECIAL SESSION

Washington—Dramatically clothing himself with war-time authority, President Roosevelt Monday proclaimed a four-day modified bank holiday and took full command of the nation's currency.

In a sweeping proclamation finding precedent only when the nation has been threatened by a foreign foe, the new chief executive ordered an embargo on exports of gold and silver and prohibited the ear-marking of American gold for foreign shipment.

In addition, the proclamation authorized the issuance of clearing house certificates to provide a medium of exchange with which business can function during the holiday.

Hardly had Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation been issued than the question arose whether the nation had departed from the gold standard, and the proclamation was widely interpreted as having that effect.

Secretary Woodin, however, was quick and emphatic in denying such was the case. He indicated that the cash windows of the treasury would be closed throughout the holiday and with the federal reserve banks closed, too, all redemption of currency in gold would be stopped completely.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his proclamation less than 36 hours after he had stood before a great inaugural throng and pledged himself to seek war-time dictatorial powers of congress if and when the situation justified such a step.

He did not wait to ask congressional permission.

Returning from worship early Sunday afternoon, he summoned his cabinet into its first meeting and then called congressional leaders of both parties and senate and house into consultation. There followed a proclamation convening congress into special session Thursday at noon.

Thus the holiday proclamation overlaps the convening of congress by a few hours. In the meanwhile, Mr. Roosevelt plans to perfect a program of legislative action to meet the situation and if it cannot be enacted by Friday morning the holiday can be extended. It was indicated the proclamation and reconstruction steps have been under way for weeks.

The modifications placed upon the holiday would permit any bank that can gain the permission of the government to stay open to conduct its business as usual and accept new deposits to be placed in trust accounts subject to full withdrawal.

Boise—An extra session of the Idaho legislature probably meeting early next week to act on the banking crisis appeared likely tonight although Acting Governor George E. Hill said only tentative plans had been made.

Declaring the state could not well act before congress had pointed the way nationally, he told newspapermen in an interview that "our state program must be made to conform as nearly as possible to the federal program. Governor Ross is now in Washington in close touch with the situation and no action will be taken without word from him."

He said he was advised Governor Ross would return about Saturday, adding that "in event it is decided to call a special session he will then be able to give the legislators about three days notice to bring them into session Tuesday."

He said it appeared to him unfeasible at present to call a special session until after congress, meeting Thursday, had enacted what remedial legislation it planned. However, he said, if Governor Ross found conditions justified he would be prepared to act immediately.

The acting governor met at noon with the banking committee which is considering problems raised by the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shove's niece, Mary Kirchnopf, hearing the noise, called to Albert Shove, but by the time they arrived on the scene the intruder had slaughtered half the chickens, but was shot while making an attempt to kill the rest of them. The cat apparently was not in the least afraid, as he looked at them as if to try and say "Try and stop me." The cat measured 30 inches from tip to tip.

These meetings are for the benefit of the entire community. There is nothing selfish about them, so it is up to you, Mr. Citizen, to come out and show your colors.

PROSPERITY MUST START ON THE FARM

The quickest way to break the back of the depression is to restore the buying power of the farmer. If this one thing is done a cycle of improved business will result, reaching into all other fields of endeavor.

The reconstruction of our distress must start at the bottom, not at the top, if we are to overthrow our business lethargy within a reasonable time. Farming communities are without buying power, merchants stocks are low, trade is at a low ebb, credit is tight and naturally so because of low priced commodities. Communities, such as ours, will not regain their purchasing power until prices of farm products are boosted.

When the farmer cannot buy, the manufacturer does not operate, his employees do not work and so the cycle of unemployment and business listlessness goes on in metropolitan centers. When the farmer buys, the merchant moves his goods and restocks his shelves from the manufacturer. Then the wheels start to turn.

So far we have witnessed a congress devoting its time to beer. And its time was wasted in this session. The important thing is not beer, but business—the business of putting the farmer back on his feet. The froth on beer discloses no prosperity.

But take hope. Just now there is indication that congress intends to take up farm relief. The Domestic Allotment plan came up for consideration. There are arguments in favor and against it, but we have reached the point where it behooves us to try something new. If it fails we will be no worse off than we were; if it succeeds, we are ahead.

It wouldn't take much to start the cycle of business and industry on the upgrade if buying power were in the right place, but until the wealth that comes out of the soil is recognized there will be no buying power and no prosperity. Better days will come to all when corn, wheat and hogs are put on the pinnacle of respect, and not before.

Spring-Like Weather

The Kendrick canyon is again experiencing spring-like weather and several people have taken advantage of the sunshiny days and have begun digging in their yards and shaping things up for spring. Many of the early spring flowers have shown their tops through the ground and it will not be long until early gardens will be in the making. This, in the face of the fact that there is still much snow on the uplands and roads and fields are yet boggy.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE APPEARS LIKELY

(Written by Glenn Balch for the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce). Lightning-like paralyzing developments in the financial world, bringing the depression to a monetary crisis, causes an extraordinary session of the recently adjourned Idaho legislature to appear probable.

A study conducted by the State Chamber of Commerce reveals two imperative legislative needs: first, protective measures for banks to prevent draining of deposits at the end of the present holiday and, second, the establishing of some acceptable and valid medium of exchange by which business may be carried on.

Immediately when the crisis arose, the State Chamber drew into conference business men and financial leaders from throughout the southwest section of the state.

Committees Organized

An executive committee, composed of R. E. Shepherd, Jerome, president of the State Chamber; M. L. Hibbard, general manager of the Idaho Power company; Jess B. Hawley, Boise attorney; Homer Pitner, executive vice-president of the First National Bank of Idaho; and J. L. Driscoll, president of the First Security banks, was established.

A sub-committee appointed to draw up the necessary legislation consists of Jesse B. Hawley, Ed. Snow and Dean Driscoll, all well-known Idaho attorneys.

While formulation of definite plans was postponed until the action to be taken by the federal government is disclosed, the committee is of the opinion that state legislation limiting bank withdrawals is essential before Idaho institutions may reopen.

Money Plan

As a medium of exchange to offset the currency shortage, the committee favors clearing house certificates, such as were successfully used during the panic of 1907 and such as are now being put into effect in several states.

The plan, as tentatively set up, makes use of the established banking system. The certificates would be printed under the supervision of some properly authorized board and issued, in exchange for acceptable security, to banks for use in lieu of currency to cash checks.

As soon as the clearing house certificate system is in operation the limitations on bank withdrawals could be raised, those studying the plan say.

Chamber Takes The Lead

While calling of an extra session Monday awaited definite word from Governor Ross, who is expected back Thursday night from the governor's conference in Washington, it is agreed in Boise as certain that the session will be called.

Anticipating this action, the State Chamber is now engaged in formulating legislative proposals to be placed before the extra session and in study of the operation of the clearing house certificate system of exchange with a view of expediting the work of the legislature and the subsequent task of putting the new system into effect.

What The Banks Can Do

Washington—Under regulations issued by Secretary Woodin banks are permitted to exercise the following functions:

1. Handle drafts or other documents in connection with shipment, transportation or delivery of food or feed products.
2. Accept payments on account of or in settlement of obligations due it by customers.
3. Make change.
4. Allow customers free access to safety deposit boxes.
5. Cash checks drawn on the treasurer of the United States on the condition that no gold or gold certificates be paid out.
6. Return without restrictions all cash, checks and other items delivered for deposit or collection after the last closing of business hours and which have not been entered on the bank's books.
7. Pay out without restriction new deposits made in special "trust fund account" on the condition that no gold shall be paid out.
8. Complete settlement for checks charged to accounts on or before March 4, provided the completion does not involve payment of money or currency.
9. Return to customers documents and securities held for safe keeping.

Local Bank Situation

During the hectic day of March 2, when the entire United States was having financial difficulties, many banks having their reserves tied up in various centers and the State having issued a holiday proclamation, The Farmers Bank of Kendrick operated until closing time Thursday night, when it became known that the Acting Governor had made proclamation declaring a bank holiday for the State of Idaho.

W. J. Carroll, cashier, said the officers and directors appreciate the loyalty shown by the local business houses and firms, there being no withdrawals whatsoever, except small amounts which are customary on the first of the month to meet current bills. The Farmers Bank at the last call showed a substantial reserve which has been maintained, has no borrowed money or bills payable, and is only marking time until definite policies have been outlined at Washington and when the wheels of progress again moves they will be operating on whatever schedule is determined.

Student Assembly
A student assembly was called on March 2, by Vice-President Roy Long for the purpose of making a student collection to buy flowers for Harold Abrams, who was hurt in a coasting accident.

Those that were appointed on the committee were: Walter Koepp, Elizabeth Carlson and Jean Ramey. A potted plant has been sent to the St. Joseph's hospital, where Harold is receiving medical care.

Examinations Completed
The students of K. H. S. completed their six-weeks exams last week and are starting the second six-week period. Realizing that only 11 weeks will elapse before the final examinations in May, all are working hard. Very few failures have been reported thus far.

Civics
The students enrolled in Civics are posting a bulletin board on which they are pasting pictures and clippings of the inauguration of the President of the U. S. and the new cabinet. After these have been up for one week the students will make scrap books of them.

Glee Club News
The girls' and boys' glee clubs are working hard on new selections that will be sung at the glee club program in the near future.
A program of concert pieces, skits and novelty numbers is being arranged.

Accident Victim Recovering
Harold Abrams, who was quite severely injured while coasting on the Wauncher Gulch grade last Monday, is at this time on the way to recovery in the St. Joseph's hospital at Lewiston.
He was expected home Wednesday. Vern Spekker, who was also injured in the coasting accident, has returned to school again.

Spring Sports
After the class tournament it has been decided that baseball and track will be taken up for the spring sports. Both teams will be very limited because of the lack of entrants. The track team will be very small and will not have an entry in every branch. The last two years there has been no baseball team, because not enough turned out to make up one.
This will be the first time track has been taken up for eight years.

Student Opinion
Since the school term ends in barely eleven more weeks, now is an opportune time to see how Student Body funds have been handled this year. According to the latest treasurer's report, we have deposited in the Kendrick State Bank the sum of $88.30. Also in the Farmers Bank we are credited with $42.32 or a total of $130.62.

Total indebtedness, marking the accumulation of several years' unpaid bills, amounts to $113.00. Assuming prompt payment of all obligations upon reopening of the banks, we will be left with a balance of $17.62.

These figures are the result of a concentrated effort toward economy on the part of everyone concerned with the handling of school funds.
It seems to the observer that the entire student body is to be complimented on this efficiency. Money has been made by the carnival, dances and athletic games. The Finance Committee has cut all possible corners and made the student body operate on a sound financial basis.

The students are very appreciative of the sportsmanship shown by local fans and the support we've gotten in all our school functions. Also we wish to thank those who have given us such cheap transportation to our out-of-town basketball games.

Grade School News
The following children of the third and fourth grades have perfect attendance for the past six weeks:
Odetta Lohman, Jaunita Lohman, Lois Deobald, Annabel Deobald, Betty Boyd, Marjorie Baker, Marie Baker, Bobby Watts, Dale Miller, Roy Hill, Billy Deobald.

The fifth and sixth grades are industriously preparing for the state examinations, to be given in May. Attendance has improved considerably, since the beginning of the spring weather, and all are making a concentrated effort to secure passing marks.

"It is said that in the springtime, 'the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love,' but it is also true that the young woman's fancy turns to thoughts of dress. Fashions have gone from one extreme to another, and where formerly one layer after another was piled on in skirts, the silhouette idea now prevails and the fashionable woman must carry out the ensemble idea."

A TALE OF HARD TIMES

Two gay young frogs from inland bogs,
Had spent the night in drinking,
As morning broke and they awoke,
While yet their eyes were blinking,
A farmer's pail came to the swale
And caught 'em quick as winking.
'Ere they could gather scattered senses
Or breathe a prayer for past offenses,
The granger grave—that guileless man—
Had dumped them in the milk-man's can.
The can filled up, the cover down,
They soon are started off to town.
The luckless frogs began to quake,
And sobered up on cold milk shake.
They quickly find their breath will stop
Unless they swim upon the top.
They swim for like and kick and swim,
Until their weary eyes grow dim.
Their muscles ache, their breath

grows short,
And gasping speaks one weary sport—
"Say dear old boy, it's pretty tough
To die so young but I've enough
Of kicks in life, no more I'll try it,
I was not raised on a milk diet."
"Tut, tut, my lad," the other cries.
"A frog's not dead until he dies.
Let's keep on kicking, that's a plan,
We yet may see outside this can."
"No use, no use," faint heart replies
Turns up his toes and gently dies.
The brave frog undaunted still,
Kept kicking with a right good will
Until, with joy too great to utter,
He found he'd churned a lump of butter,
And climbing on that chunk of grease,
He floated round with greatest ease.
Moral
When times are hard don't fret and frown,
Don't get discouraged and go down
But struggle still, no murmur utter
A few more kicks may bring the butter.
