No Doubt
A judge, failing for re-election, was made cashier of the local bank. A man presented a check to be cashed.
"Don't know you," greeted the new cashier.

The customer produced a Wall street credit card, a business card, and a lot of letters addressed to himself.
"Not sufficient proof of identity," said the cashier, pushing the check back.
"Why, judge," protested the man, "I've known you to hang a man on less evidence than that."
"That may be," said the judge, "but ington of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., delivered a talk on higher education. He described the hardships many students went through to get a college education. It was a very interesting talk and the Seniors will probably profit by the knowledge they obtained from it.

in which all of the plans have been formulated.

Student Opinion
There has been considerable question and debate during the past few years over the practicality and advisability of following the Student Body constitution. At the time the Student Body was organized the activities and functions of the organization were far different than they are at present. Times and customs have so changed that now we are placed in an entirely different situation. It can readily be seen that the old-fashioned constitution is a poor set of laws to cope with the new situation. It has been revised, amended, worked over and added to until at present its meaning in many cases is hazy and ambiguous. No definite conclusions can be drawn regarding the payment of student dues. No accurate provisions are made concerning the participation in girls' athletics. The social functions of the body are very impractical and have not been followed out. The different offices and office holders' duties in the mechanism are overlapping and open to much criticism and disagreement.
It would seem that if the Constitution is going to be followed and the body called an organization, it must strictly adhere to the Constitution.
Either we must follow the old one and comply with its inadequacies or adopt a new one more suitable to our needs.

Grade School News
The pupils in the second grade are making posters to illustrate the story of "Billie Boy."

The fifth and sixth grades have been making salt maps. They have some very clever ones of Australia, South America and Africa.
The maps are made from a mixture of salt, flour and water. This is applied on cardboard with the fingers and let dry. The finished maps have the lakes, rivers and mountains painted on them.

Wednesday the county superintendent, David Ross, gave the state examinations to the seventh and eighth grade students. The eighth grade wrote examinations in all subjects and the seventh grade took physiology.

Thursday, May 4, and approximately pealing all veterans' legislation and tant topics of the business session.

portant held in recent years. The business session will convene promptly at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon and will be followed by a parade, headed by the Lewiston Drum and Bugle corps, in the Odd Fellows hall at 7 o'clock, and the day's program will be climaxed by a big public dance in the evening at Dreamland hall.

perce, Orofino, Genesee, Bovill, Mos-

Planned Prices For Farmers The income of the farmer would be boosted substantially of the Roosevelt farm bill, now before congress, reaches its goal of restoring the average prices for the pre-war years of 1909-1914.
Available market records show the average farm prices for those years for the major commodities were:
Wheat, 76 to 99 cents a bushel.
Corn, 48.8 to 69.1 cents a bushel.
Cotton, 8.86 to 14.23 cents a pound.
Cattle (steers), $6.35 to $8.65 100.
Hogs, $7.35 to $8.90.

GRAIN MARKET HIGHER—
DUE TO INFLATION
was quoted in that market April 21 at 68 3/4c.

Pacific Coast markets strengthened but price gains were less than at eastern points, reflecting the lack of export trade and the relatively large stocks still remaining in Washington, Oregon and Idaho. Supplies at the first of April were nearly twice as large as a year ago and totaled nearly 36,000,000 bushels, not including the merchant mill stocks. Farm stocks totaled about 8,350,000 bushels, country mill and elevator stocks about 25,- 250,000 bushels and market stocks 2,- 184,000 bushels. The bulk of the country mill and elevator stocks were in Washington. The advancing prices have been reflected in heavier mar-ketings and in larger receipts at the terminals. Arrivals at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals during the week totaled 724 cars compared with 267 cars a year ago. Local mills provided the principal outlet with demand most active for milling hard wheat, soft whites and soft winters.
No export trade was possible at prevailing prices although trade advices indicated that bids were not far from a workable basis. Takings by California buyers were only moderate but a steady flour business was reported to Atlantic Coast points at the close of the market April 21. Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 66c to 67 1/2c, soft white and hard winter at 58 1/2c to 60c, western white at 56c to 57c, northern spring at 57c to 58 1/2c and western red at 57c per bushel, basis No. 1; sacked, Baart hard white was quoted at Seattle at 68c, western red and hard winter at 61c and western white at 58c, sacked, basis No. 1. Heavy offerings weakened the Seattle market toward the close of the week, according to trade estimates.

Much Gold Taken
Carl Altmiller, manager of the Orofino creek mines, placer operators along Orofino creek, 20 miles east of Orofino, Friday brought in a cleanup of a 10 days run which totaled 35 3/4 ounces of gold worth approximately $600. It was one of the largest individual firm cleanups in many years.
The company has two sets of sluice boxes and is washing gravel with a six-inch hose supplied by natural pressure from the creek flow above the claims.

SHADE TREES AT COST FROM UNIVERSITY FARM

The planting of forest and shade trees about the home is an economic practice for it not only can be done at slight cost, but it also materially enhances the value of the property. Such planting does not depreciate during times of economic stress but instead it continues to grow and create a more satisfactory environment for home life. The school of Forestry of the University of Idaho has just published its 1933 bulletin entitled "Forest and Shade Trees for Planting in Idaho." This bulletin gives valuable information as to the choice of species for planting in the various counties of Idaho and also advises planters how tree stock should be handled when planted. Information on the care and cultivation of trees is also included.

Seventeen species of conifers or evergreens and twenty-three species of hardwoods or deciduous trees for home plantings are recommended for the various sections of the state. This gives a wide selection to prospective tree planters for practically any type of landscape work.

Considerable quantities of small sized trees in the way of seedlings and transplants are also available for planting on Idaho farms. Such stock may be obtained by farmers at half cost of production for the federal government through the terms of the Clarke-McNary act, cooperates to the extent of taking care of the remaining half cost. Tree stock obtained under this arrangement must be planted on Idaho farms for woodlot, shelterbelt and windbreak purposes only. No restriction, however, is made on larger sized material for ornamental planting.

Spring is the time recommended for planting forest and shade trees. The trees should be planted as soon as practicable after the frost is out of the ground for this insures better survival as the trees become well established and ready to grow as the season warms up.
