IDAHO MAY GET $6,000,000 EMERGENCY ROAD FUND

Boise, May 20—Idaho's share of highway money in the emergency public works bill now before congress probably will exceed $6,000,000 Governor C. Ben Ross was advised today. J. H. Stemmer, director of highways, who went to Washington, D. C., to press Idaho's request for an adequate share of the $3,300,000,000 fund, telegraphed the governor that the bill provides $4,120,000 for highways in this state outside of national forests and promises from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 for forest highways.

"With this money," the governor said, "I plan to build and improve market roads in this state. By that I mean roads which reach out into agricultural districts to move crops to market."

He declined to state whether a specific part of the sum had been pledged to any new major highway projects, three of which have been proposed in various parts of the state. These include one from Salmon City to Riggins, across the isolated central Idaho mountain lands; the Lewis and Clark highway from Lewiston to Montana and the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada cut-off connecting southwestern Idaho directly with California.

Idaho has requested between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, which the governor said included not only funds for highway work, but also other public works projects. In connection with the latter he has been urging cities and other units in the state government to send in specific requests for contemplated projects.

"We want facts and figures about each suggested project," he said. "Requests merely hinting at what is wanted won't help."

He referred to the telegram from Stemmer which asked cities to specify exactly what is wanted, saying the state would receive more favorable consideration if the program is considered as a whole rather than piecemeal. There have been between 50 and 60 projects considered to date, the governor said. If all these are approved the cost will approach the entire amount for this state.

In case Idaho should get the sum mentioned above, or a major portion of it, there is good reason to believe that Kendrick will get a share of it, for Gov. Ross has promised that should funds be available the state would help us build our much-needed road over Bear ridge, the cut-off extending from Arrow Junction to Deary.

While Kendrick has no direct "say" in the building of the road from Cavendish to Kendrick, via Wauncher gulch, everyone is vitally interested in its building and no stone will be left unturned that will aid in its completion.

Governor Ross has said that he is vitally interested in building farm-to-market roads and we have every reason to believe that we will get the desired aid. Anyway the Governor will not have a chance to forget the fact that he has promised aid—and we believe he will keep his promise.

Since the above was put in type, a committee composed of N. E. Walker, M. O. Raby, E. A. Deobald, A. K. Carlson and Herman Schupfer drove to Spalding bridge, where they met Governor Ross, who happened to be going to Craigmont to make an address. The delegation was assured by the Governor that if the money allotted to Idaho could be used for farm-to-market roads, instead of all for federal aid roads, that Kendrick was first-out on the list and practical assurance was given that the road would be built. As soon as the proper information is received by Governor Ross, it will be possible to give out definite information here.

George Wilken and R. B. Parks, representing the Potlatch Highway district (Cavendish to Kendrick) were present and had a talk with the Governor, who stated that he was not able at this time to give any definite information regarding that road.

Attend District Convention

A delegation of four ladies from Kendrick went to Deary Wednesday afternoon to attend the district convention of the Odd Fellows lodge, the committee being composed of Mrs. E. H. Emery, Mrs. Lester Hill, Mrs. Edgar Long and Mrs. Silvie Cook. In the evening the Kendrick Male quartet, accompanied by Mrs. R. H. Ramey, went to Deary where they gave several numbers.

Attend Sportsmen's Show

Kendrick was fairly well represented at the Sportsmen's show, Spokane, on Sunday, those making the trip being Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts and sons and Roy Long, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey and daughters, B. N. Emmett—and undoubtedly many others whose names we failed to get. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer and daughters of Juliaetta were also there taking in the sights.

KENDRICK SCHOOL CLOSES NINETEEN ARE GRADUATED

The Kendrick public school was brought to a close last Thursday evening when commencement exercises were held in the Community church and were witnessed by a crowded house. The evening's program was given largely by the graduating class and was well received and duly appreciated by the large audience.

The following program was given: Processional Allene Rider Invocation Rev. Edward J. Smith "Swift O'er The Waters" (Barcarolle) Porter Male Quartet

Greeting June Davis A Brief History of Kendrick Jack Bailey The Coming of the Railroad Hazel Reid A Brief History of the Kendrick Schools Elma Jones Valedictory Mary Johnson "I Love a Little Cottage" O'Hara Girls Sextette

"One Fleeting Hour" Lee Girls Sextette Presentation of Class B. B. Brigham Presentation of Diplomas Wade T. Keene

Benediction Rev. Edward J. Smith Recessional Allene Rider

There were 19 graduates, as follows: Mary D. Johnson, George M. Davidson, Hazel C. Reid, Elma Florence Jones, June Irene Davis, Carrie Lee Riley, Dorothy H. Candler, Ethel May Cummings, Nettie Mae McDowell, Mary Elizabeth Carlson, John D. Jones, Vern G. Spekter, Ralph Walter Blevins, Karl B. Emery, Homer B. Emmett, Jack E. Bailey, Harold F. Abrams, Ellen Margaret Woody, Rowena Mae Ramey.

Teacher Line-Up For Next Term

The following is a tentative line-up for the teaching staff in the Kendrick school for next term:

J. M. Lyle, superintendent, science and mathematics.

Mrs. Francis Lightfoot, domestic science, and other subjects.

Miss Swain, english, history, and girls' athletics.

Mr. Whelchel, music, manual training and commercial subjects.

The above is merely a tentative outline of how the teachers will possibly be placed in the high school. It will be noted that there will be one more teacher in the high school next term than in former years, this being occasioned by a change in the school laws.

The grade teachers for the next term will be the same as last term, all of them having been re-elected. They are, Arthur Dawald, Miss Edna Ferguson, Mrs. Silvie Cook and Mrs. Mary Adams.

J. M. Lyle, the new superintendent, has taught in the Southwick school for the past two years and has been superintendent during the past term. Mrs. Lightfoot (nee Deagen) has been a teacher in the Kendrick school for the past three years. Miss Swain and Mr. Whelchel both come highly recommended for their respective places and there is every reason to believe that Kendrick will have as much, if not more, to offer students next term than ever before in its history.

Not Afraid of "13"

Tom Sturdevant, violin maker, and the Stradivarius of Kendrick, is not afraid of the number "13". He has made to date, just thirteen fine violins and his workshop is often a rendezvous for those who are, and those who would like to be, violinists.

The instruments Mr. Sturdevant makes are beautiful in finish and contour and as they grow older take on a tone that might make some of those who are more pretentious wonder how Mr. Sturdevant puts the fine tone quality in his instruments. He has yet to make one with a "cigar-box" tone. If you love fine violins you should visit Tom's workshop.

3,000 Banks Remain Closed

During the past week 117 banks reopened on an unrestricted basis, the "American Banker" reported. This is by far the largest number of weekly resumpstions since the end of March.

The large number of reopenings, says the publication, indicates rapid strides in the bank reconstruction program under way for the rehabilitation of 3,000 banks which are still in the hands of conservators or otherwise unopened since the March holiday.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Repeal of prohibition, congress was told by the administration, will finance the stupendous $3,400,000,000 bond issue needed to execute the building program of the big public works-industrial control bill. This declaration was made by Lewis W. Douglas, director of the budget, testifying as the measure started on its way with hearings by the house ways and means committee. But, until the states ratify repeal, Douglas told the committee, new taxes must be imposed to raise an annual $220,000,000.

Legalized beer added $9,139,687 to the governments revenue in April when nearly every other important form of taxation showed decreases from the previous month. Collections from the $5 a barrel tax on beer brought the government $8,269,052 while the license fees of retail and wholesale dealers in the 3.2 beverage added $869,811 and the tax on 3.2 wine beverage amounted to $824. While the tax on beer was only for 23 days after it became legal, if the sales continued at the same rate, the collections in a year would amount to only about $135,000,000 and under some estimates of how much revenue the government would receive from this source.

Admitted killer of his father with a rifle, Ernest Kirkland, 16-year-old farm boy, residing near Colfax, Wash., was informed by a superior court jury that he must spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary. Ernest pleaded guilty to a first degree murder charge, but under Washington law a jury must determine the penalty in such cases. Two sentences are possible—death by hanging or life imprisonment.

Grasping almost all the levers that direct national life, President Roosevelt is busily preparing to use them in a steady but persistent upward swing from the depression. Administration of the new government "partnership" with agriculture, banking, currency, railroads and industry is occupying the president who is surrounding himself with hardy veterans to carry out the mobilization for war on the emergency. Congressional leaders assured Mr. Roosevelt of early approval of his final measures to extend government supervision over railroads and industry.

Fatter pay envelopes were held out to the young men in the forest conservation camps as an incentive for harder work, just as it became apparent that the administration offers of forest jobs to veterans had stepped into some popularity. More than 1,500 members of the 1933 bonus army, encamped at Fort Hunt, Va., at government expense, took part in an about-face from previous sentiment at the camp by signing applications for jobs at $1 a day in the forests.

Mussolini's four-power pact, aiming to guarantee peace in Europe for at least ten years, has been informally accepted by France, England, Germany and Italy. Two important provisions which raised a chorus of protests to the original pact two months ago by France and her eastern allies, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania, have been so altered as to be virtually eliminated, Rome reports disclosed.

Putting In Scales

Excavating is being done on the west side of the Barnum Hardware store for the placing of the large scales which Mr. Barnum will move from his former location near the railroad in the east part of town. These are the largest scales in the village and the only ones that can weigh the longer wheelbase truck loads of hay and grain.

Havens Family To Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens and daughter have returned to the farm, where they will spend the summer. Mr. Havens will drive back and forth to his work as manager of the Kendrick Bean Growers Association.

SLACKENING DEMAND WEAKENS GRAIN MARKET

Domestic grain markets lost a part of the recent sharp gains during the week ended May 19, influenced by slackening in demand, continued liberal receipts, slightly improved prospects for winter wheat and good growing conditions for spring grain, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat prices declined 3c to 4c per bushel. Corn was 2c to 3c lower despite unfavorable prospects for the new crop. Planting is the latest in 30 years with only a small part of the crop in the ground in the main belt. Oats and barley were lower with wheat and corn.

Prospects for winter wheat in the United States improved slightly with recent rains and the crop is heading as far north as southern Kansas. In western sections of the main wheat belt where growth was late in starting because of drought, fields are becoming very weedy. Seeding of spring wheat was practically completed in the north central states with general rains followed by warmer weather favorable for germination and growth. Good progress was made in spring seeding in Canada during the latter part of the week and it is now estimated that sowing has been about 90 per cent completed in Manitoba, about 50 per cent in Saskatchewan and 40 per cent in Alberta.

Winter wheat prospects in Europe, outside of Russia, on the whole are somewhat less favorable than last season. Conditions are much better than a year ago in the Danubian countries but present indications are that production will not equal last year's unusually large crops in central and southern Europe. Conditions in Russia appear somewhat better than a year ago with spring seeding well ahead of the past two years but behind the bumper crop of 1930.

Domestic cash wheat markets were weaker with futures but were influenced also by some slackening in demand from mills and elevator interests. Receipts continued relatively large, arrivals at the principal central and southwestern markets totaling 1,813 cars, compared with 1,686 cars a week ago and 1,787 cars for the corresponding week a year ago.

The Fort Worth market was firm with No. 1 hard winter quoted at 81c to 82½c, the highest prices of the season to date. Shipping demand was less aggressive at Chicago and interior mills were also taking smaller amount. No. 2 hard winter was quoted May 19 at 72c per bushel. The same grade was quoted at St. Louis at 74½c. Soft winter wheats were also mostly lower although demand was fairly active. No. 2 soft winter was quoted May 19 at St. Louis at 80½c and at Cincinnati at 82c to 83½c. Milling demand was slack at the latter market but elevator interests were not offering freely since stocks were light and replacement was difficult because of the holding tendency on the part of growers. An important feature at St. Louis was the offering of western white wheat from the Pacific Northwest at prices about 10c per bushel over the local soft red wheat. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at Chicago at 78c and Kansas City at 68½c to 76c. Offerings were small and were readily taken at both places.

Marketings of spring wheat were of moderate volume with receipts totaling 1,004 cars at Minneapolis and 570 cars at Duluth. Milling inquiry was somewhat less active but demand from elevator interests was of good volume and current offerings were readily taken at steady premiums. At the close of the market May 19, No. 1 dark northern spring was quoted at Minneapolis at 72c to 74c per bushel. Durum markets weakened with other wheats but high quality milling types were in fairly active demand.

California markets were relatively firmer than those in other sections, reflecting the poor prospects for the new crop and continued holding tendency on the part of growers. Quotations on local wheat declined only about 2½c per 100, while northern and Intermountain quotations were 5c to 7c per 100 lower. California wheat prospects showed moderate improvement, particularly in the Sacramento valley, with cool temperatures beneficial since subsoil moisture remains far under normal. Trading was quiet in all classes of wheat with sales of local grains confined largely to feeders at interior points. Flour trade was comparatively heavy in the Bay region but mills in both San Francisco and Los Angeles were generally working on previously accumulated stocks and confining most of their purchases to limited amounts of northern wheat to complete milling mixtures. Demand for feed wheat was slow with dealers and industries generally well supplied from recent heavy purchases.

Pacific Coast markets weakened under a slackening demand and prices at Portland and Seattle declined 4c to 5 1/2c per bushel, or slightly more than at eastern points. Lack of an export outlet for wheat and flour, together with less active inquiry from California buyers and a more limited demand from domestic mills, was principally responsible for the weaker situation. The new wheat crop was making slow growth because of the lack of warmth and sunshine but the crop generally was reported in good condition. Country marketings were of good volume but were mostly delivered on previous sales. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 710 cars with an additional 33,000 bushels received at Portland by truck and river boat. At the close of the market May 19, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 68c to 70c, soft white at 62c to 62 1/2c, western white at 59c to 60c, hard winter at 62c, northern spring at 60c to 62c and western red at 59c to 60c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Montana dark hard winter with 12 per cent protein was quoted in bulk at 74c per bushel.

Foreign wheat markets held about unchanged. Prices of native wheats were quoted practically the same as a week ago at Hamburg and Paris but prices at Genoa were slightly lower. Intermountain wheat markets were mostly lower with eastern points but milling demand was fairly active at both Denver and Ogden.

God's Gift to Depression
The potato

To depression.
If
Fried for breakfast—

It gives balanced ration
To the throng of our nation.

They're delicious,
And mealy,
So Idaho is really

Farmers Bank May Open Soon

The following excerpt was taken from an interview with A. E. Clark, president of the First National Bank at Lewiston, published in the Lewiston Tribune of Tuesday, May 22, and is self explanatory:

Plans for reopening the First National bank on an unrestricted basis have been approved by the treasury department at Washington, it was announced last night by Arthur E. Clarke, president, who has returned to Lewiston from the east. While many details incident to reopening the bank remain to be worked out, Mr. Clarke said it is probable that the time required may be shortened to "a few days."

"While our plans have been fully approved, there still remain some details to be worked out. Indications have been that it might require a week or two to complete the work, but from advice received by wire today it seems probable that the time required may be shortened to a few days."

The above would mean, of course, that the Farmers Bank of Kendrick would reopen at the same time, as would all other banks in the Vollmer chain, which would indeed be good news to this, as well as all the other communities where their banks are located.

Attend Church Convention

The Northwestern District of the American Lutheran church concluded its annual convention May 21 in Portland, Oregon. Ways and methods to carry on the church's work with present funds consumed much time. The present times of stress were regarded as a challenge to the church, calling for greater sacrifice and faith and courage. The Apostle Paul's word to the Romans: "All things work together for the good of them that love God," was, in effect, the keynote of the meeting.

Rev. Otto G. Ehlen, together with delegate Carl Kruger of the Cameron Lutheran church, returned on Wednesday and report a profitable meeting.

About 40 pastors and 13 delegates were in attendance. General President C. C. Hein, D. D., and Stewardship Secretary Rev. Sodt, both of Columbus, Ohio, were guests. The Rev. L. Ludwig of Portland was re-elected president of the district for the sixth term.

Boy Accidentally Shoots Self

Last Sunday evening Richard Reid, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, living on the bench of American ridge, saw a large hawk that he thought needed dispatching and he at once went to the house and procured the .22 rifle and had laid the weapon across a fence to take better aim, when in some manner the gun slipped from his hands and was discharged, the bullet entering his left leg just below the groin and coming out some eight inches below in the opposite side of the leg. The bullet luckily missed both arteries in the leg and while it bled profusely, no real harm was done from this score.

The lad is at the Raby Hotel under the care of Dr. Christensen and bids fair to a complete recovery. The accidental shot was a "lucky" misfortune.

SOYBEAN MAY BE MOST VERSATILE U. S. CROP

The soybean promises to become America's most versatile crop—highly valuable both industrially and agriculturally. The United States Department of Agriculture has recently completed a collection of nearly 400 soybean products from the Orient as well as America.

The collection shows that a wide variety of products are made from the soybean in America. It is divided into four groups of flour, bean meal, and oil products. In the flour group are bread, cakes, mararoni, vermicelli, noodles, spaghetti, infant foods, diabetic foods, and beverages such as malted milks. From the bean proper are soy sauce, sprouts, bean milk in fresh, powdered and canned forms, bean cheese, flour, soybean butter, and meat substitutes. The meal provides animal food such poultry, hog, cattle, and dog feed, glue, fertilizers, and flour. The oil has proved a fertile field for development and from it are made soaps, ink oils, salad oil, shortening, core oil used in foundries, rubber substitutes, disinfectants, paints, varnish, chocolate candy, and lecithin, a phosphatic tonic compound.

Soybean products in the Orient differ somewhat from those in America. For instance, from roasted beans the orientals make candies, cakes, confections, and beverages similar to coffee. They make a bean paste which is fermented and used in soups, in preserving foods, and making soy sauce. Orientals also use soybeans widely as a green vegetable, much as Americans use lima beans. Besides the oil uses adopted in America, the orientals use it to make candies and waterproof goods. Another significant product is a fuel oil made by the Japanese from soybean oil. Although this is not commercially profitable now, it indicates a possible future development.

Will Seek Third Term

Governor C. Ben Ross, completing his second two-year term told a Kivani luncheon gathering at Idaho Falls last week, that he will be a candidate for a third term next year. He said his intention is "no secret." He is a democrat.

The announcement made by Governor C. Ben Ross that he will seek a third term drew state house comment that election to a third term would place the governor in a strategic position to make the race for United States senator to succeed William E. Borah.

Should he be elected governor for a third term in 1934, he would be the first governor of the state to hold such a distinction. His most recent democratic predecessor, the late Governor Moses Alexander, sought unsuccessfully for a third term after serving a chief executive of Idaho during the World War.

Gave Evening Party

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas on Friday evening of last week gave a music and bridge party in honor of B. B. Brigham and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dawald, and a very pleasant evening was the result. Several musical numbers were given and bridge was played at four tables. Dr. and Mrs. Christensen won high score for the evening. Light refreshments were served after play.

Those in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dawald, B. B. Brigham and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

Defenbach Still "Interested"

Byron Defenbach, republican favorite for governor in the last primary election, has admitted he would "take an active interest in political affairs" next summer. "I might even be an candidate," he added with a smile, "but it is entirely too early for announcements, I think. Lots of things may happen between now and August, 1934. It is a free country, especially under the primary system."

When asked if he expected to take an active part in Idaho state politics next summer, Defenbach said: "Of course I will take an active interest in political affairs, and quite likely an active part."

Lewiston Urges "Three-Point-Two"

At the instigation and under the direction of W. H. Castner, president of the Pacific Northwest Liquor Control league, some 75 business men of Lewiston signed a telegram addressed to Gov. C. Ben Ross, asking that he call a special session of the state legislature to make possible the amending of the state laws to permit the sale of 3.2 per cent beer within the state.

Mr. Castner seemed to think Gov. Ross would call the legislature within ten days or two weeks—but nothing to that effect has been forthcoming as yet.

It is said that the speakies in New York are reopened and are willing to exchange liquid assets for scrip.

Play Ball Again

Ramey's Sluggers engaged a pick-up team from the town Wednesday evening in seven innings of twilight ball, winning by a score of 11-3.

While the town team had gathered more strength than the previous game played, it is evident they will need still more. Some of their regular players were not in the line-up, however. Those playing were Cook, Hogarth, Plummer, C. Perryman, H. Perryman, Buster Brown, Kenneth May, Orval Sparber and Ed. Deobald for the town. Ralph Blevins, Tommy Blevins, Junior Ramey, Kenneth Brocke, Bud Carlson, Karl Emery, Oscar Hartung, Carl Hund and Herb. McDowell. Johnnie Kite substituted for Carlson when the latter was injured.

The Sluggers play Gold Hill here this week-end.

Salt of the Earth

No truer words were ever spoken than these once said by former Gov. John M. Slaton of Georgia: "No country ever lasts long without a country people. They afford the strength of the church, they maintain the sacredness of the family tie; they supply the reverence for eternal principles not to be found in congested communities. They think for themselves and no temporary fad sweeps them from the lasting paths of truth. From them comes the strong fresh blood that dominates and enriches commerce, industry and the professions."

22 Accidental Deaths In April

Twenty-two accidental deaths, one of them caused by lightning, were reported to the state bureau of vital statistics during April of this year, a summary indicated.

During the month there were 326 deaths. In the same months there were recorded 716 births, of which 380 were males and 325 females. The sex of one child was not stated in the report.

Among other causes of accidental deaths were two by poison, one by burns, three by drowning, two in a railroad accident, five in automobile accidents and one by electric shock.

Nineteen cases of spotted fever have been reported this year, causing three deaths.

Handwriting For Tax Makers

When the Post Office Department admits that three cents first-class letter postage has failed to yield an increase in revenue, and has actually caused a decrease, it submits to the law of diminishing returns. You can't make a taxpayer write letters and you can't make him use a three-cent stamp when he can use a one-cent postcard.

Congress should bear these experiences in mind when it prepares its next tax bill. It will have to make its basis of taxation so broad and spread it so thinly over a variety of articles, that it will scarcely be felt. Otherwise, taxes will decline because an over-taxed people will deny themselves exorbitantly taxed products.

No business man can succeed who uses a pair of shoes for a paper weight.

Certainly Wouldn't

"So you're out of work and want help? What's your trade?"

"I'm a painter, mister."
"Painter, eh? Well, now, my car needs painting. What would you charge to do that job?"
"I'd have to get two dollars an hour."
"Two dollars an hour? Why, I wouldn't pay Michelangelo two dollars an hour in times like these!"
"Well, mister, I don't know this here Michelangelo; but if he paints cars at less than two dollars an hour he don't belong to the union."

Light Up!

Your eyesight is worth it

Are you practising the false economy of going without adequate illumination in your home?

Some people are. They have acquired the habit of switching off lights on the slightest pretext, "must save money, you know". So they squint at newspapers and magazines in the almost impenetrable gloom ...not realizing that they are sacrificing their PRICELESS eyesight in order to save a few pennies a day.

Lighting with electricity is CHEAP. Just that. The average home can be amply illuminated for 4 cents a day ... and for ten cents a day for lighting ... well you'd be surprised at the change in your home ... because adequate lighting saves eyesight, improves dispositions ... LIGHT IS CHEERFUL.

Is it worth as much as a package of cigarettes a day?

tourist were arguing as to which state raised the largest products. "We raise oranges so big," boasted the Californian, "it takes a team of mules to pull off a stip of peeling."
"Is that the best you can do?" said Ed. "Why in Idaho here we raise corn so tall we have to climb up and pull the stalks over to let the moon pass by."

Putting On Trial Show
Schupfer Bros., managers of the local theatre, are putting on a trial show Friday and Saturday nights, May 26 and 27.

It is really a trial show in more sense of the word than one. They are giving an admission price of 10c and 25c, a trial to see whether at these prices a show can survive, and last, whether financial conditions are such as to permit the putting on of regular shows. The management is hoping for success on all three trials.

Attends Committee Meeting
E. H. Dammarell was in Moscow Monday attending a meeting of the county relief committee, when the reforestation work question was taken up and settled upon.

The county was allotted only 64 men for the work and out of this number Kendrick was allotted six out of 13 applications received. It is probable that they will be sent to the St. Joe national forest.

It is expected that a later draft of 35 men will be made from Latah county, but it is not known how many, if any, will be given a place from Kendrick.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary
The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleth on Big Bear ridge was on Sunday the scene of a gathering such as is not often witnessed—especially from a number standpoint and good things to eat. It was a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Kleth in honor of their fortieth wedding anniversary and more than a hundred of their friends and neighbors gathered from far and near to do them honor, meeting at the Otis Forest home, from where the large crowd went in a body to the Kleth home.

We are sorry we are unable to give more about this large gathering, but the information received was meager and we were unable to do justice in a write-up.

Another "World's Series"
Another world's series ball game was pulled off in Kendrick last Sunday when the Cameron town team came down to Kendrick and crossed bats with the Kendrick town team (now don't get them confused with Ramey's Sluggers) the Kendrick ball-players winning by a score of 11-10 in a hard-fought ten-inning game. It was said to have been one of the best games played on the local diamond this season.

BEAN MARKET PROSPECTS AS COMPILED BY U. OF I.

The bean market has given some encouragement, to growers the last few weeks as a result of the steadily stronger prices being offered. This advance in quotations set in about the first of March and has been maintained ever since. At that time Great Northern Beans in South Idaho were bringing about $1.40 per hundred, f. o. b., which has been the level held rather consistently since the decline last September. The 25 cent advance the second week in April brought the f. o. b. price up to about $2.00. The advance in bean prices during the past several weeks at a time when the market is usually dull is largely accounted for by the extremely small stocks in dealers hands at the close of the banking holiday and the holding tendency on the part of the producers influenced by the advancing market. Efforts of dealers to replenish stocks, together with light offerings from growers and country shippers as well, were reflected in advances in the principal shipping areas as well as in the more important markets. Substitution of beans for other food products by relief agencies and consumers tended to further broaden the demand.

Just how the upturn in bean prices will react on acreage planted this spring would be conjecture. Before this price advance had taken place, growers in Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, states producing mainly Great Northern, reported an intended acreage 2.2 per cent greater than the very low acreage of 1932 but 45 per cent less than the average in those states in 1931 and 1930. Such an intended acreage with yields equal to those of the past three years would result in a crop about 8 per cent larger than the crop of 1932 and slightly more than half the crops of 1931 and 1930. Such a situation and coupled with the probability of a smaller carryover has somewhat brightened the outlook. Data on the stocks in Idaho are not available, but the carryover will depend on the willingness of growers and dealers to sell at the better prices now being offered.

Stocks in California warehouses as compiled monthly indicate sharp reductions in holding since the first of the year. The movement out of storage during the past month was much heavier than usual. While information with respect to stocks or holdings in Idaho is not available, the reduction in other areas even though not in directly competing classes of beans, is an encouraging feature.
