THE MEANING OF FARM RELIEF TO IDAHO

On the 13th day of May, a farmer in Illinois was the first in the United States to take advantage of the Farm Mortgage relief section of the Farm Relief Bill. During the coming weeks thousands of farmers are expected to take a firmer grasp on the old homestead by refinancing their mortgage with the Federal Land Bank of their district.

The provisions of the act leave four courses open to the farmer; which we will take will depend largely upon the financial condition in which he finds himself. First, if he now has a loan with the Federal Land Bank, he can have his interest rate reduced to 4 1/2 per cent and he may be permitted to put off payments on the principal for five years. Second, if he has his farm mortgaged to a bank, insurance company, or private individual, he can apply to the Federal Land Bank for refinancing. The bank will approach the mortgage holder and will make an offer to purchase the mortgage, either by payments in cash or with 4 per cent government bonds with this provision: "The value of the bonds to be exchanged for, or the purchase price of any mortgage, shall not exceed the face of the mortgage, nor shall it exceed fifty per cent of the normal value of the land mortgaged plus twenty per cent of the value of the permanent insured improvements." This privilege is to remain open two years only. As yet the meaning of normal value has not been clearly defined, but it will be somewhat higher than the present appraised value, which is very low. Normal value will be based on the productive value of the land over a period of years.

A farmer should not hesitate to ask the mortgage holder to take a discount if the debt is higher than the normal value of the land because in most cases the cash realized probably will exceed anything the mortgage holder could realize if he forecloses. The cost of foreclosure, as well as the expense of title, would probably fall on the holder of the mortgage because the farmer will have little of value on which to get a deficiency judgment. Unless the mortgage holder wishes to move on the farm himself, to skip and save, it is doubtful if during the near future he could realize enough income to pay expenses. If the land is sold, very little if any cash can be realized. A discount of even 10 to 25 per cent for cash is not a bad bargain for anyone holding a large mortgage on farm land today. Most depositors would certainly like to get as low a discount on their accounts with banks in the process of liquidation. Besides, with cash in hand, the mortgage holder can reinvest on what appears to be a rising market. A little cash goes a long way in buying equities in desirable properties today or, for that matter, in buying supplies and raw materials for the future.

Third, if a farmer is in such a situation as to make it impossible for him to pay even the interest on this Federal Land Bank Loan, he may have these payments postponed for such time as the Bank officials deem fair and proper.

Fourth, if the mortgage has been foreclosed upon since July 1, 1932, the Farm Credit Administration will loan an amount not to exceed $5,000 for redemption. This loan must not amount to more than 75 per cent of the normal value of the property pledged as security. The security offered may be first or second mortgages on land, stock, machinery or crops. The interest on these loans will be 5 per cent with the privilege of paying interest only for the first three years, after which time the whole amount will be amortized over a period of ten years. Two hundred million dollars are available for this form of relief.

This kind of farm relief is of tremendous importance in Idaho. In 1930, 57 per cent of the farms, or 17,418 farms, operated by owners were mortgaged. The combined total of these mortgages was approximately $65,000,000, or $3,800 per farm. This debt amounted to about 39 per cent of the value at that time. With the present value of about half or less than half of the 1930 values, the burden of this debt can be realized.

Applications for any of these types of loans should be made through the local National Farm Loan Associations, or direct to the Land Bank in your district. Applications can be made by either the mortgage holder

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club will be held in the Raby Hotel next Monday evening, June 12. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

Officers will be elected at this time for the ensuing year and all members are urged to be present at this meeting.

All boys taking part in the magpie contest who have 100 points or more to their credit will be entertained at dinner at this time. The prizes will also be awarded.

FARMERS BANK OPENED ON UNRESTRICTED BASIS

The Farmers Bank of Kendrick, which had been closed as to the handling of old accounts since the bank holiday declared by President Roosevelt March 2, opened Tuesday morning on an unrestricted basis—that is, with the exception of withdrawing money for the purpose of hoarding.

Regarding the opening of the First National Bank of Lewiston, the parent bank, the Lewiston Tribune had the following to say:

"The First National bank of Lewiston and its eight affiliate banks in this territory reopened at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning on an unrestricted basis and between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 in deposits was released after a 'bank holiday' of approximately three months.

The authority to open was received but a few minutes before the announcement was made by President Arthur E. Clarke that the federal reserve bank at San Francisco had wired authority to resume business in accordance with a plan approved by the treasury department at Washington in May, the only restriction placed on the banks being the same as applying to all others, that withdrawal of funds for hoarding is prohibited by the government."

In speaking of the reopening, W. J. Carroll, cashier, had the following to say:

"I wish to thank the people of the community for the faith and confidence they placed in the Farmers Bank and for their continued patronage during the time while the bank was not operating to full capacity. Our individual deposits at the end of the first day of full business were more than double the amount they were when the holiday proclamation was declared. Kendrick is indeed fortunate to have had the banking service rendered during the period, as many towns were, and still are, without banking facilities. However, the Farmers Bank assisted the warehouses in the clearing of their drafts, the stockmen in disposing of their stock and other farm products, thus bringing cash into the community, keeping the wheels of progress in motion, until they opened up to full banking facilities on Tuesday morning."

Kendrick State Bank To Open

Word was received on Monday, June 5, from Ben Diefendorf, commissioner of finance for the State of Idaho, that plans for re-opening of the Kendrick State Bank had been approved by the department and letters have accordingly been mailed out calling for a meeting of depositors next week, when directors for the new organization will be elected.

Ships Cattle and Hogs

Dave Gentry, local stock buyer, shipped a car of fat cattle to the Spokane market last week and expects to ship another car on Saturday of this week.

He also shipped a car of choice hogs to the Coast market on Tuesday of this week.

Truck Load of Bees

A truck load of bees was taken through town Monday from Lewiston to the Fairfield brothers' ranch on Big Bear ridge, where there is said to be much material for the making of fine honey.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

A motor bus toppled down an embankment near the top of 4,000 foot Blewett pass late last Thursday and rolled over five times before coming to rest among the boulders. One young girl, Miss Alma Patton, Spokane, was killed and most of the other 15 passengers injured to a greater or less degree.

The city council Friday night passed on first reading by a vote of 5 to 3 an ordinance to legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer at Idaho Falls, Idaho. The action was taken without a word of discussion. The crowd that packed the council chamber applauded as the vote was announced. "I was informed by the prohibition bureau that federal agents would interest themselves only in the transportation of beer," Representative T. A. Coffin said. "They will leave the question of possession and sale to state officers for possession under the state law. In other words, if they can get beer into town legally the federal agents will not bother the sale or possession thereof."

Gov. C. Ben Ross Saturday announced he would call a special session of the legislature "within a few days" to consider legalizing and taxing beer in Idaho and to amend the state law governing sale of securities by the department of public investments. The call, he said, may also include a request for a sales tax. His announcement came after the Idaho Falls city council had passed an ordinance governing distribution of beer in that city and while dealers were securing licenses from the bureau of internal revenue to permit them—as far as the federal laws are concerned—to sell 3.2 per cent beer.

Amid cries of "bad faith" and "repudiation," the senate gave final approval to the administration's resolution permitting payment of all contracts in legal tender money. An overwhelming coalition of democrats and western republicans drove through a vote of 48 to 20 the measure requested by the administration, eliminating the gold payment requirements from all contracts, public and private, either present or future. This means that war debts, mortgages and Liberty bonds, as well as all other governmental and private obligations, may be settled in legal tender money, obviating the requirement that gold shall be used.

The reconstruction corporation, with the full approval of President Roosevelt, has agreed to lend China $50,000,000 to be used in buying American cotton and wheat. It climaxed protracted negotiations started last year when northwestern wheat growers attempted to sell several millions of bushels of wheat to China, using reconstruction corporation money to finance the deal. The money is to be made available to China as purchases are made in the American open market. At present prices, it was estimated by the corporation, this would take over 900,000 bales of cotton and approximately 12,500,000 bushels of wheat out of the American surplus. The loan is to be repaid in installments. It is to run 3 years and bear 5 per cent interest.

Six trains left Camp Dix, N. J., on Sunday at 90-minute intervals, carrying 3,000 forest service recruits to camps in Idaho. About the same number left in special trains Saturday. All are from the second army corps area, embracing New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

James Mattern, American flier, landed at Oslo, Norway, Sunday, June 4, after a non-stop flight from New York, on what he hopes to be a record-breaking trip around the world. He is alone. After a few hours' rest he hopped off for Moscow, Russia.

Divorced From "Woman Bluebeard"

An annulment of his marriage to Lydia Southard, "woman Bluebeard," who is serving a sentence in the Idaho state penitentiary on a murder conviction, was granted to Harry Whitlock of Denver by Judge Frank McDonough, Sr., in district court at Denver. She was convicted of poisoning a former husband.

Testimony that she had been married numerous times and that several husbands had died under mysterious circumstances was given by Whitlock. He testified she falsely represented herself as being unmarried at the time of their wedding in March, 1932.

At the time of their marriage she was a fugitive from the Idaho prison, having escaped with the aid of a former prisoner.

KENDRICK HIGHWAY COMMITTEE VISITS LEWISTON

On Friday of last week a committee of Kendrick citizens interested in the highway situation here, made a visit to Lewiston where they met with the highway committee of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce. Saturday's Lewiston Tribune contained the following account of the meeting:

"A delegation of Kendrick business men yesterday were successful in their mission to convince the highway committee of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce that a farm-to-market road should be improved between Kendrick and Deary, a distance of approximately 17 miles.

"The committee looked favorably upon the proposal and decided to recommend a favorable resolution at the governing board meeting Tuesday evening.

"The proposed road, if constructed, is to be an improvement of the present rough road, the delegates explained. The link is held advantageous to a wide farming area. It would follow along a ridge route and descend into Kendrick over a rather steep grade.

"Those attending the meeting yesterday included N. E. Walker, A. K. Carlson, E. H. Dammarell, H. C. Schupfer and E. A. Deobald of Kendrick and W. E. Gragg, W. P. Hughes, Loyd Harris, Homer Lipps and H. M. Hoyt of Lewiston."

At their regular meeting the chamber board endorsed construction of a standard highway between Arrow and Deary as a farm-to-market road, sending a resolution to that effect to Governor C. Ben Ross. The case for the highway was presented by W. E. Gragg of the chamber highway committee, who pointed to its benefits as a trade artery for the Potlatch ridge section.

Governor Ross has said at various times that he was heartily in favor of farm to market roads and stated to a committee of Kendrick men that if any of the appropriation received by Idaho could possibly be used that way he would see to it that as many farm-to-market roads as possible would be built with it, and heartily endorsed the Kendrick-Deary road.

At the Tuesday meeting of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce the statement was made by J. H. Stemmer, director of highways, "that any funds Idaho receives in addition to those required for existing uncompleted projects will be applied to the extension of the Lewis and Clark highway."

The statements of Mr. Stemmer and those of Gov. Ross have been at variance in many instances since the allotment to Idaho of some $6,000,000 was promised. Mr. Stemmer stating that all of the money spent for new roads would be spent in the south part of the state and that only maintenance work would still be done in north Idaho.

However, we still have faith that Gov. Ross will make his promise good to the Kendrick delegation and give us the promised aid in building the Kendrick-Deary-Arrow farm-to-market road.

Police Warn Speeders

When driving your car in Lewiston, it might be a good idea to remember that an order has gone forth from Chief of Police Gasser that if you drive more than 20 miles per hour anywhere in that city, or more than 12 1/2 miles per hour at street intersections, you are subject to arrest.

The 20-mile law is broken nearly every day on Kendrick's main street and a calling-down of some of the speeders might save considerable expense or possibly the life of some child.

Oscar M. Slind Married

Miss Ruth Olivia Leland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leland of Spokane and Oscar M. Slind were united in marriage in Spokane on Sunday, June 4.

We are unable to give further particulars as Oscar failed to keep his part of the agreement with us—that he would send us all the necessary data—and we have thus far failed to receive it. However, we extend them every good wish for a long and happy wedded life.

To Observe Pioneer Day

Next Thursday, June 15, being Pioneer Day and a state holiday, the banks and a few other institutions will be closed on that day.

Kendrick Locust Trees Blooming

Kendrick at most any time is a very pretty little city, and we are all proud of it and glad to be residents within its confines, but right now the town is a bower of locust bloom and the air is laden with their sweetness. Kendrick is perhaps the only town in this entire section where trees are continually being planted to enhance its beauty and their shade is much appreciated by all, both residents and visitors, during the warm season.

Celebrates 75th Anniversary

On Sunday, June 4, the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Deeter, 2 1/2 miles north of Kendrick, known as The Hillside ranch, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering in honor of Mr. Deeter's seventy-fifth birthday anniversary, when many friends and neighbors gathered to do him honor, and a very delightful day was the result. Mr. Deeter has been a resident of this section for the past 18 years and has a host of friends who will wish him many more pleasant occasions such as was that of Sunday.

A real banquet was served about 10 o'clock and refreshments of ice cream and four large birthday cakes were partaken of during the afternoon, the cakes being among a number of other nice presents received by Mr. Deeter.

Those present at the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. L. Steadman and family, Sam Stanton, Mrs. Westendahl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Candler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Galloway and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oylear and family from Genesee, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Raby, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ellis and Lute Ausman.

Want Beer at Lewiston

The Lewiston Better Business bureau has by resolution asked Governor C. Ben Ross to call a special session of the state legislature soon "for the purpose of taking action to legalize 3.2 per cent beer" in Idaho.

Those who championed the resolution declared the action was in behalf of the business interests of the state. They declared the state is losing both revenue from the sales of the brew and auxiliary business and contracts under the present dry laws, in view of the fact that adjoining states are all selling beer, endorsed by federal law. It was stated that the state will lose more revenue this year than the cost of the extra session, unless action is taken soon by the governor.

The complete text of the resolution said:

"Resolved, that Governor Ross be informed that the Lewiston Better Business bureau is in favor of having a special session of the state legislature called, for the purpose of taking action to legalize 3.2 per cent beer."

The action taken was not unanimous and followed heated debate, says the Lewiston Tribune.

Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis, living in the Gold Hill section, are the proud parents of a baby daughter, who came to their home on Sunday, June 4. Mother and babe are reported as doing nicely.

MARKET FAIRLY STEADY —PROSPECTS IMPROVE

Domestic wheat markets held fairly steady during the week ending June 2, while corn turned somewhat weaker with improved new crop prospects, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Oats and barley were about unchanged while rye and flax were independently firm.

Prospects for winter wheat in the United States improved slightly during May and private estimates June 1 indicated an outturn about 20,000,000 bushels larger than the official May 1 forecast. Harvesting has already begun in Texas and the first car of the season arrived at Fort Worth June 1. This car graded No. 1 hard winter. Spring wheat made good progress during the week with weather and soil conditions, unusually favorable. The June 1 condition according to trade agencies indicated a spring wheat crop somewhat above the 1932 harvest but it is yet much too early to determine definitely the final outturn.

Spring seedings in Canada are very promising. Soil moisture conditions are particularly good, possibly the best since the record crop of 1928. Early seedings are well above ground and growing rapidly but many reports of decreased acreage would seem to substantiate the 5.6 decrease indicated by farmers' intentions as reported May 10. Russian spring seeding is progressing rapidly and is well ahead of any other recent year, including the exceptionally good crop of 1932.

Domestic cash wheat markets held fairly steady during the week although demand slackened somewhat under the pressure of fairly liberal offerings. Receipts at the principal winter wheat markets totaled 2,120 cars compared with 1,769 cars a week ago and 1,725 cars a year ago. Arrivals at Kansas City totaled 1,016 cars with the protein of the cars tested averaging up well. Local demand was only fair with storage interests taking the bulk of the offerings. Mills were more active in the markets toward the close of the week. At the close of the market June 2, No. 2 hard winter was quoted at 68c to 69c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Omaha at 68c per bushel and No. 1 hard winter at Fort Worth, delivered Texas common points at 81c to 83c per bushel. The car of new wheat received at Fort Worth was shipped from Grand Field, Okla., and sold at 83 1/2c.

Spring wheat markets were rather unsettled. Receipts totaled 946 cars at Minneapolis and 738 cars at Duluth.

Pacific Coast wheat markets followed the advance at Eastern points but trading in cash grain was slow as a result of the limited demand from local mills and feeders and the lack of an export outlet. Marketings in the Pacific Northwest were fairly large and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 712 cars compared with 317 for the corresponding week last year. A large proportion of the receipts was delivered on earlier sales. Local mills provided the principal outlet at Portland since California inquiry continued slack. At the close of the market June 2, Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 69 1/4 to 70c. Soft white and hard winter at 61c to 62 1/2c, western white at 59c to 60c, western red and northern spring at 60c and 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at 70c to 71 1/2c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Baart hard white was quoted at Seattle at 72 1/2c, hard winter at 64c, western red at 63c and western white at 62c per bushel, sacked.

California wheat markets held about steady with prices ranging from unchanged to about 5c per 100 higher. The advance was principally on northern and intermountain wheat. Prices on local grain held practically unchanged. Supplies of local wheat in California are relatively light with growers not pressing sales pending more definite information concerning the new crop outturn. Warmer weather hastened ripening of the new crop but harvesting in central California is not expected to begin until about the middle of June.

European crop conditions continued favorable. The French total wheat acreage is placed at 13,321,000 acres compared with a final figure of 13,234,000 acres in 1932. The crop condition of May 1 was well above the average and best for that date in the

Congratulations

Since the dawn of History, Nations, Individuals and Business have had depressions as well as prosperous years. For some time the whole world has suffered terribly, and now, after the storm, the sun is trying to shine again.

Our banking institutions are passing thru a period of reconstruction, and while many banks are yet closed, the number is gradually decreasing. Those banks that are open and those that will be opened in the future will have placed themselves in a position to merit the future confidence and good will of the public.

This week saw the re-opening of the Vollmer Chain of Banks, and it is now our pleasure and duty to congratulate them heartily, and extend our best wishes to our neighbor institution.

Boise Hospital Made Vets' Home

An order from the veterans' bureau in Washington, D. C., has authorized the veterans' bureau at Boise to accept application for domiciliary care, Homer Hudelson, manager of the Boise veterans' hospital announced.

The order established the Boise hospital as a federal soldiers home for all Civil war, Spanish-American and World war veterans in Idaho and eastern Oregon who are eligible for care in the state or national soldiers' homes.

The Boise home will have accommodations for 85 or 95 men, Hudelson said.

Simultaneously it was announced that the hospital may accept any emergency case for treatment whether the patient is service connected or not. Recently federal economy rulings excluded ex-service men from admission in emergency cases. Veterans will still be required to pay transportation to and from the hospital.

MARKET FAIRLY STEADY

past six years. Some deterioration occurred, however, during the latter part of May and trade estimates of the crop have reduced the yield to below that of last year. The carryover of old crop wheat, however, is expected to be well above normal as a result of the government's storage policy and this may largely offset the prospective decrease in the crop.

Receipts of wheat were relatively light at Chicago but demand was limited with mills mostly out of the market and shipping inquiry dull. No. 2 hard winter was quoted June 2 at 72½c. Demand for hard winter was also slow at St. Louis with No. 2 hard winter quoted at 75c per bushel. Demand for soft winter wheat slackened toward the close of the week at most markets with buyers generally awaiting movement of the new crop which made favorable progress in most sections. Country mills demand increased at St. Louis but milling demand was slow with southeastern mills obtaining wheat from other points. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at St. Louis June 2 at 81c per bushel and Cincinnati at 79c to 81½c. No. 2 red winter was quoted at Chicago at 79c to 80c and at Kansas City at 70c to 73c per bushel.

Intermountain wheats held about unchanged. Receipts at Denver totaled 44 cars with arrivals for May placed at 161 cars, compared with 121 cars last May and 248 cars during May two years ago. Receipts were principally from country elevators for storage and cash offerings were small. Local mills were bidding 62c for good milling wheat, delivered Denver by truck, while No. 2 hard winter, 12 per cent protein, was quoted FOB eastern Colorado or western Nebraska shipping points at 54c to 57c.

Beans

Bean markets were less active the first half of May than during the month previous, principally because buyers hesitated to follow the recent rapid advance in price. Lack of selling pressure, together with the general advance in other commodity markets, offset to a considerable extent the reduced consumer demand, although there were some declines for certain classes. Great Northern's middle of May were quoted at $2.60 to $2.70 FOB Idaho shipping points, which range is about a nickle less than the previous week. These prices compare with $1.90 to $2.00 a month earlier and $1.40 as of the first of March.

Reports of warehouse stocks in California indicate that supplies in that state have been markedly reduced. The movement out of warehouses during April was very heavy compared with April movement in recent seasons, but was considerably lighter than the movement during March of this year. Remaining stocks May 1 were about average and much below May 1 stocks of either 1931 or 1932.

CHAIN STORE TAX WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE JULY 1

Store operators subject to the new "chain store" tax will be required to pay only one-half of a year's fee for 1933, J. S. Peterson, director of collections, announced.

The law goes into effect July 1 and under its terms, any business receiving a license to operate on July 1 or later will be required to pay only for one-half year. For those securing licenses earlier, the full year's license will be required. This will apply to 1934.

The license starts at $5 per store for single "independents," but climbs in big strides to $500 per store for those in chains of 20 or more.

With the assistance of county assessors, Peterson has listed nearly 5,000 stores in the state. Each of these must apply for and receive a license from the state commissioner of finance if it is to continue in business. A filing fee of 50 cents each is required and from this there is no exemption. Stores paying taxes on real property, not including their stocks of goods, may deduct the amount of this tax from the amount of the license and remit the balance to the state.

The department has ruled that wholesale houses are subject to the tax and those warehouses as well which act as supply stations for itinerant peddlers.

Possibility that a court test of the constitutionality of the act will be started is recognized in the department but until it is declared invalid the machinery for collection of the license will be kept going.

Revenue expected from it—which is to go to the state school fund—is estimated at from $60,000 to $100,000 a year.

Two Drown In Clearwater

Arthur E. Spaugy, assistant coach at the University of Idaho, and elected last week to be director of men's athletics and manual training instructor at the Lewiston Normal school for the 1933-34 term, and Boyd Brigham, head of Smith-Hughes work in the high school at Moscow, were drowned in the Clearwater river about seven miles above Kooskia Saturday afternoon.

Spaugy and Brigham left Moscow Friday on a fishing trip, arriving at a camp 20 miles south of Kooskia and spending the night there. The hour of their departure from camp was not known to members of the searching parties along the Clearwater looking for their bodies.

The first intimation of the tragedy was when an empty raft was seen floating in the river about seven miles from Kooskia, where a few minutes before Spaugy and Brigham were seen aboard. There was no eye-witness to the drowning, according to what was learned at Kooskia. There was little chance, searchers said, for the men to have gotten off the craft and let it float away without them.

The river is a raging torrent, approximately 15 feet higher than when at normal stage. It is running heavy with debris, and danger lurks in trying to negotiate its course under these conditions.

The Mr. Brigham mentioned above is a cousin of B. B. Brigham, former superintendent of schools here. At last reports neither body had been found.
