

KENDRICK GAZETTE

VOLUME XLIII

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1933

NO. 36

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN THE TWELFTH DISTRICT

Twelfth District industry and trade continued to expand sharply during July, and activity in practically every important line of production and distribution was higher than in July, 1932. Employment conditions improved substantially during the month. Aggregate wage payments also increased, and for the first time since the autumn of 1929 industrial payrolls in California exceeded those in the corresponding month of the preceding year.

Harvests of the district's field, grain and fruit crops are expected to be smaller in the aggregate this year than in 1932. Estimates of the output of most field and grain crops increased from July 1 to August 1, but production forecasts for several important fruit crops declined. Marketing prospects are also more favorable than a year earlier. Most of the July advance in farm products prices was cancelled by declines toward the end of that month, and at the middle of August prices averaged about the same as at the close of June.

Consumption of electrical energy increased considerably more than is customarily expected in July. Daily average petroleum production advanced further during July and the first two weeks of August, reaching about 500,000 barrels for the first time since the spring of 1932. Lumber mill operators, stimulated by substantial unfilled orders, continued to expand during July, but declined during the first part of August. New orders for lumber fell off considerably during July following rapid advances in April, May and June.

Daily average sales of department stores increased approximately 6 per cent in value during July, although a moderate decline is customary during that month. The seasonally adjusted index of freight carloadings also increased. Intercostal traffic, however, increased less than is usual from June to July, reflecting smaller eastbound petroleum shipments.

Twelfth District banking funds were reduced as a result of Treasury operations and commercial transactions with other districts during the four weeks ending August 16, notwithstanding which total reserve deposits of member banks increased. In order to obtain funds for these purposes member banks borrowed additional amounts from the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. Demand for currency decreased in the early part of this period, but increased sharply in the first half of August.

Push Road Work

Idaho has road contracts under way worth more than $2,000,000 and others are being let as fast as plans can be approved and bids received. J. H. Stemmer, director of highways announced.

Some of the 47 going jobs were continued from last year but others were let early this year and some later in the season with a prospect they will continue through the winter, at least as long as weather will permit.

The number of men employed on them appears to be greatly increased by the NRA contractor's code regulations. Stemmer said, pointing to a six mile job on the Mountain Home highway as an example. There about 160 men are employed with about 200 horses. This is far more than would be employed if the code permitted the amount of machinery utilized two years ago.

All jobs require that hand labor be used as far as possible.

One Dry Officer In Lewiston

Idaho will retain but eight prohibition officers, one of whom will be stationed at Lewiston.

Of the eight investigators retained in Idaho three will be at Boise, two at Pocatello and one each at Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene and Twin Falls.

The force was reduced several weeks ago from 15, the Lewiston office being C. B. Madsen and O. R. Wil-

Farewell Party

Quite a few schoolmates and friends of Evelyn Plocker, Leland, gathered at her home Sunday to tender her a farewell party and extend good wishes on the eve of her leaving for Espanola, Wash., where she will attend school the coming year. A splendid dinner was served, followed by watermelon and ice cream.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Parks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davis and family, Ray Jones, Paul Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Watt Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jawley of Lewiston.

LATAH COUNTY VALUATION $1,250,000 LOWER

County Assessor Walter Q. Taylor estimates that the assessed valuation of Latah county will be approximately $14,000,000 as the result of reductions in various property classifications by the state board of equalization, saying this would amount to $1,250,000.

The railroads in the county, the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and Great Northern—were each reduced 10 per cent; the Milwaukee, 18 per cent; and the Washington, Idaho & Montana, owned by Potlatch Forests, Inc., 10 per cent.

Referring to the meeting of the state board, whose sessions he attended, Taylor said:

"The state board of equalization was made up principally of new members, and as a consequence they were not so familiar with tax valuations. On the whole I believe the counties of Idaho had made their assessment on an equitable basis, although in counties where there was a new assessor, there were some discrepancies.

"The state board found a few counties had made rather unusual concessions to large taxpayers, one case being a county whose valuation was 70 per cent in utilities. That county was unable to operate unless the utilities paid their tax and on that ground concessions were made. In another county concessions were made a lumber company when it agreed to pay its tax for 1932, 1933 and 1934 in one lump sum.

Bank stock in Latah county was assessed but the assessor believes the state board will remove this from the property rolls, based on an opinion by the attorney general.

I. W. W. Camps Raided

Yakima national guardsmen and the state highway patrol joined forces Saturday in a determined effort to wipe out all jungle camps in the valley on the theory that these camps are the nests of agitators and I. W. W.s blamed for the fray that produced a dozen casualties at the Congdon orchards and other labor disturbances.

Jungle camps at Buena, Toppish, Zillah, Wapato and other valley communities were visited by a contingent of 30 officers.

The camps were destroyed and transferred to the valley satisfactorily. The force was reduced several weeks ago from 15, the Lewiston office being C. B. Madsen and O. R. Wilson. Further assembling at the camps was forbidden.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The Mahatma Gandhi was unconditionally released from custody last week by the British authorities and shortly afterward broke a week's fast with a cup of orange juice. The nationalist leader had served only a little more than three weeks of a one year prison sentence for inciting a new civil disobedience campaign against the government. He began the fast in protest against the government's refusal to grant him privileges to carry his campaign in behalf of the untouchables, India's lowest class. He was removed from the Yeroda jail to the hospital and it was reported he would be freed if his condition became critical.

Twenty-one nations last Friday signed an international wheat pact, climaxing four months of negotiations aimed to adjust the supply of wheat to effective world demand and to bring about a rise and a stabilization of prices at a level remunerative to farmers and fair to consumers. The pact was signed at a special meeting after the nations attending the conference reached an agreement earlier in the day. The agreement was possible when the importing and exporting groups finally compromised on 63.02 United States cents in gold (currently 89 cents) per bushel as the price which must be maintained for four months, whereupon importing nations will lower tariffs.

A new move calculated to end Samuel Insull's freedom in Greece was disclosed by the department of justice. Formal application for the arrest and extradition of the deposed monarch of a vast utilities empire has been made to the government of Greece, based upon a secret indictment returned June 1 in the United States district court in Chicago. Insull defeated moves of the state of Illinois last fall to bring him home for trial on larceny and embezzlement charges, but government officials are sanguine today that the new Federal indictment would bring Insull back into custody of the United States.

Texas swept into the repeal column as the 23rd state to approve discard of the 18th amendment early Sunday by a majority of nearly 100,000.

Police in Colorado and nearby states were seeking the trail of two bandits who held up a bank automobile on a busy downtown Denver street and fled with $36,000 loot to a spot a few blocks away, transferred to another car in which a man, a woman and a baby were waiting, and escaped Saturday. The bandits held up Richard Bowden, Dalton Brown and Vern Walker, employees of the United States national bank, covered them with revolvers, grabbed a money sack and sprayed the trio with tear gas. Several passersby also were incapacitated temporarily by the gas, police said.

President Roosevelt Monday signed the automobile code, placing about 450,000 workers under the protection of the blue eagle. The chief executive did not issue a statement but the summer White House staff said he was highly pleased to have this giant industry lined up in the recovery drive. With the steel and oil industries in line, the President is now waiting for the coal industry to reach an agreement.

Raymond Moley, intimate advisor to President Roosevelt for the last two years, resigned as assistant secretary of state, effective September 7. Accepted by the president in an exchange of letters pronouncing the continued friendship of the two, the resignation is the first break in the official family of the president. It was presaged by an under-surface split in the state department between Moley and Secretary Hull.

Building Largest Airplane

Construction of what is intended to be the world's largest airplane has begun at Moscow, Russia.

It will be a duratimum monoplane designed for a crew of six and 70 passengers. It will have a wing spread of 196 feet and eight motors, three on each wing and two on top, capable of generating 4000 horse power and a speed of 200 miles an hour.

Equipment will include short wave radio, a printing press, portable movie camera and apparatus for reflecting advertisements in the sky.

NRA MEETING IN KENDRICK WELL ATTENDED

In furtherance of the NRA program in this and other communities of the county, an intensive campaign of education was put on last week, mostly by speakers from Moscow, who visited the different communities for the purpose of enlightening the people on what is expected of them during this campaign of putting over the NRA program.

On Friday evening of last week Rev. Fr. E. R. Cody, accompanied by Clarence Jenks, came over from Moscow and gave a very comprehensive and enlightening talk concerning the duties of every citizen of the community—and the entire nation, for that matter.

There was a good crowd in attendance and Fr. Cody's remarks were listened to attentively, he explaining that the object of the NRA was not to work a hardship on anyone, but by the co-operation of every one in the community, could be made to be of great benefit to the entire community.

At the close of the meeting M. O. Raby and Mrs. Edgar Long were appointed as delegates to represent this community at a meeting held at the Moscow Hotel on Monday evening, August 28. Their report of the meeting was to the effect that the main object was to get every community in the county to working harmoniously and for the enforcement of the NRA code.

A house-to-house canvass will be made in an effort to get consumers to sign pledge cards to do their part toward putting over the President's recovery act. Many business houses of Kendrick have signed the code agreement and it is expected that all business places will soon have signed on the dotted line.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Honored

At the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey a number of friends and former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomas of Spokane gathered in the city park Tuesday evening to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas at a no-host, no-hostess picnic supper, the Thomases being here for a few days' visit with friends and relatives.

Mr. Thomas remarked that there was probably not another place in the world where a friendly crowd could be gotten together on short notice for such a purpose as was this occasion, where friendship seemed to predominate in the community.

After the picnic supper had been taken care of, many of those in attendance went to the Ramey home, where bridge was played at six tables. Mrs. D. A. Christensen won high score for the ladies while E. H. Emery made high score for the men.

It is such occasions as this and the friendship that exists in the community that makes Kendrick a desirable place in which to live.

Harvest Nearing End

Harvest is almost over in these parts, that is, the small grains harvest is almost done, quite a few machines having completed their runs and pulled in preparatory for bean threshing. Some machines, however, are still in the field, threshing late spring grain and cleaning up odd parcels here and there.

The bean harvest, like that of wheat, promises to be a long, drawn-out affair, some beans being almost ready for the machines, some just now in the process of cutting, and some are yet "as green as grass." The yield promises to be as spotted as the degrees of ripeness, some say they have good beans, some say fair, some poor and some none, but owing to the freak spring that was rather to be expected.

Grouse Scarce

Now that Latah county is to have an open season on grouse those in the know say that they are quite scarce, as are the native pheasants. A couple of years ago they were quite plentiful, but some sort of a disease hit them and almost cleaned many of the large flocks in different localities. It is really too bad that the season should be opened at this time, but local sportsmen are in hopes that a few will be left.

Remember, the open days are Friday, Sunday and Wednesday of each week, your game licenses being in force. Ignorance of the law is no excuse; watch yourself.

Smoke From Oregon Fire

Smoke from the terrible Oregon forest fire that is raging west of Portland, is gradually settling over the entire section of country and may be seen here and is especially noted in the canyons. It was estimated the first of this week that more than $18,000,000 worth of standing timber had been consumed by the flames. Some 4,000 men and boys have been fighting the flames for the past two weeks, apparently without success. The heavy wind threw flaming brands miles ahead of the fighters, causing new fires to start. It is one of the worst fires the northwest has ever known.

NATION-WIDE CHECK-UP STARTED ON AUGUST 28

To ascertain accurately the status of the Blue Eagle, famed insignia of the National Recovery Administration, in every community in the country, local committees of voluntary workers began a canvass on Monday, August 28. Men and women in thousands of towns and cities were drafted by General Johnson and for the past few weeks they have been quietly perfecting local organizations to secure the hearty and prompt co-operation of consumers and employers alike to lift buying power through employment. All employers of every grade and size will be urged by their customers and neighbors to aid in restoring normal business and living conditions by complying immediately with the President's emergency re-employment program and flying the emblem which is a safeguard against the coming of a fourth successive harrowing winter of discontent and misery.

C. F. Horner, in charge of organization, said: "To local committees has been checked up squarely the responsibility of securing 100 per cent compliance in each community. Every day after the drive starts should see intense activity in giving information concerning the purposes to be accomplished. Local committees have seen to it that their workers are thoroughly prepared. They will not fail to induce every consumer as well as employer to sign up and provide themselves with the insignia. Washington headquarters is extremely anxious to hear without delay from committees which have not responded definitely to appeals for prompt action."

Governors of the different states have been asked by Robert Fetchner, director of the conservation corps, to forward by September 15 their recommendations of programs for winter forestation camps. It has been estimated by Mr. Fetchner that some five or six hundred of the 1,466 forest camps now occupied would have to be moved with the approach of cold weather.

Not long ago one of the newspapers of the north part of the state said that some of the camps would be moved to the vicinity of Moscow, but thus far no decision has been reached by those in authority. Just how it can be figured out that a camp could be maintained for any other purpose than that of shoveling snow in that section is beyond the ken of normal people.

Traffic Officers Named

State Traffic Officer Harry Clark the other day received notice of his retention as a member of the state law enforcement department, to which he was appointed more than three years ago. Clark is in charge of traffic enforcement in the central Idaho district with headquarters in Lewiston.

Horace N. Parker, son of Mrs. A. F. Parker, and a member of a pioneer family of Idaho county, is one of the new traffic officers appointed by Emmett Pfoz, commissioner of law enforcement. Parker is well known and for the last several years was employed on newspapers of the northwest. Reappointments include Orville Crooks, Moscow; Robert Thomas, Bonners Ferry; Archie McPhail, Wallace; and Fred Davis, Coeur d'Alene.

"Baritone" Hutton Bombarded

Big Dave Hutton says he is mighty glad they do not have ostrich eggs lower at Seattle where, the other day, while he was telling "his side of the story" someone started presenting him with a case of eggs—one at a time. They all missed Dave, but one of them smashed the orchestra leader squarely in the chest, somewhat musing up his nice evening clothes.

KENDRICK SCHOOLS TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

The Kendrick public school will open for the fall term next Tuesday, September 5. It had been planned to open for registration and assignments next Monday, but owing to the fact that a county meeting of teachers has been called to meet in Moscow on Monday, it was thought best not to undertake registration until Tuesday, when it is expected that all students, as nearly as possible, will be in their places, for it almost necessary that all get an equal start—and the time to do this is at the very beginning of the school term.

The teachers and the subjects they will teach are as follows:

James M. Lyle, superintendent; algebra, physics, general science, commercial arithmetic.

Carver Wheelchel, manual training I and II, bookkeeping, typing II, shorthand and music.

Miss Rhoda Swayne, English, history, geometry, mathematics and girls' athletics.

Miss Fern Spencer, domestic science, typing I, occupations, dramatics and girls' athletics.

In the grade school the teachers will be: Arthur E. Dawald, seventh and eighth and boys' athletics coach; Miss Edna Ferguson, fifth and sixth; Mrs. Silvie Cook, third and fourth and Mrs. Mary Adams, first and second.

Mr. Wheelchel, who is an excellent musician, will handle orchestra work for both the high school and grades and all standers interested may enroll. He will also work with a town band, if the people are interested.

Miss Swayne will direct girls' athletics, assisted by Miss Spencer. She was an active member of girls' athletic teams at the University of Idaho. Miss Spencer has been an active worker in club work for young people of high school age and very active in 4-H club work throughout the state.

In the high school course as outlined it is the intention to give the students of the Kendrick high school as much of a choice of material as possible and to give those who expect to go on to college or normal after finishing high school an opportunity with their commercial work, to make at least a part of their expenses, should this be necessary.

For those who expect to drop out of school on completion of high school, an effort will be made to give them, as nearly as possible, a good general high school education, with as much work as possible in the particular field in which they are interested.

It is our belief that Kendrick has this year one of the most efficient teaching corps that has ever been brought together in this school and the outlook for a successful school year was never better. While the high school is in new hands, all instructors come with the best of recommendations as to their ability and integrity and it is up to the students to take advantage of these qualifications.

Face Burned By Hot Metal

While heating babbit metal in a ladle over the forge Tuesday evening, preparatory to pouring a boxing, E. A. Deobald had the misfortune to have a portion of his face and eyes burned quite badly when the metal exploded, it evidently having come in contact with water in some way. While the burns were quite bad and very painful, it is not thought that any permanent injury will result to his eyes.

Thompsons Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson returned home last Thursday evening from a ten-day camping trip at Red River Hot Springs. They report a wonderful time and Hugh said he could not look a fish in the face for a long time.

Colorado Has Young Blizzard

Down in Colorado, at Estes Park, northwest of Denver, the other day a young blizzard visited that section and covered the ground—and many tourists—with four inches of snow, the wind, meanwhile, blowing a regular blizzard up the canyons.

Coast "Got Hot"

Over at Seattle the temperature shot up to a point 92.2 degrees above the zero mark, which was said to be the hottest August day on record there.

Orofino Sports Shop Robbed
The Sportsman's Shop, owned and operated by R. E. Thomas, former state game warden, at Orofino, was entered and robbed last Saturday night, when some $100 in silver and currency was taken from the safe, upon which the combination had been worked.
It is coming time of year when everyone will have to be on their guard against light-fingered gentry and petty robbers of all kinds. Already talk of some sort of "vigilante" protection has been talked for Kendrick for the fall and winter months. There are many "tourists" of all brands floating around the country, and they will have to be watched. Some of them are undoubtedly honest, but more are not, so it is best to be on your guard.

Repairs At School Building
Several important changes for the better have been made at the school building during the past few weeks. The stage that graced the assembly room has been removed and the library moved from the office to the assembly. This will make it possible to do all library work without leaving the assembly room. Tables will be installed and magazines kept in the new location. This will be under the supervision of the assembly teacher.
The boys' dressing room, which has been open, has been remodeled and greatly improved. A girl's dressing room, which has been lacking, has been added to the equipment. It will contain lockers and benches and a private shower has been installed in direct connection to the girls' locker room. This will be a great improvement and convenience for there has been no provision made for a girls' dressing room.
Other minor repairs have been made around the building and it is being thoroughly cleaned and put in readiness for the opening of school on Tuesday morning, September 5—when every student should be in his place.

Farm Agent Visits Kendrick
L. V. Benjamin, special farm agent appointed by the county to look after reduction by farmers of their wheat acreage for next year, visited Kendrick Wednesday, getting in touch with as many farmers, warehousemen and other interested, as possible. He stated that if farmers of Latah county would sign up 100 per cent the amount received by the farmers for a 15 per cent reduction in acreage would amount to about $346,920 and would pay all the real taxes in Latah county. This would mean that the farmers would receive that much as rental from the government for land that had formerly been planted to wheat. The land may be used for any other purpose than that of raising grain.
Mr. Benjamin said that if there are any farmers in this section of the county that have not received their application for acreage reduction, he would be glad to send them one. Just address L. V. Benjamin, county agent, Moscow, Idaho, and the necessary form will be mailed you at once.

Mrs. M. A. Deobald is the proud possessor of a brand new Chevrolet sedan. It is indeed a beauty, being finished in sage-brown with suitable trim, and Mrs. Deobald is justly proud of it. She says she has made a brand new gunny-sack "outfit" to wear while driving it.

Creek Almost Dry

Operations Unbiblical?
"I'm not going to let those doctors take out Uncle Eli's appendix," exclaimed Aunt Jerusha Podger of Coon Lake, Iowa.
"Why is that?" a neighbor asked.
"Well, it's against the Scriptures," said Aunt Jerusha.
"How's that? I never heard about it," said the neighbor.
Aunt Jerusha replied: "Doesn't it say in the Bible plain as day, 'What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder?'"
You'll like "70,000 Witnesses," for it's different. Kendrick Theatre. Fri-Sat, Sept. 1-2. Show at 8:00. 36-1

Operations Unbiblical?
"I'm not going to let those doctors take out Uncle Eli's appendix," exclaimed Aunt Jerusha Podger of Coon Lake, Iowa.
"Why is that?" a neighbor asked.
"Well, it's against the Scriptures," said Aunt Jerusha.
"How's that? I never heard about it," said the neighbor.
Aunt Jerusha replied: "Doesn't it say in the Bible plain as day, 'What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder?'"

WHAT TO CAN AND WHAT TO DO WHEN OPENING IT

For much of the next three months housewives will be saving food for use during the winter months. The method used may be canning, drying, brining or storage. It is a wise practice to can those foods which otherwise cannot be kept satisfactorily, to dry or brine those foods which one prefers to save by that method, and to store those fruits and vegetables which best can be kept by this method.

Many women have canned successfully over a period of years, but it must be admitted that certain methods of canning are safer with certain foods than other methods. For example: with non-acid foods, such as vegetables and meats, the steam pressure cooker is the safest and the surest. This year will see a greater conservation of foods than for many years. It is to be hoped that every precaution will be used, not only in saving the food, but in safeguarding the health of the family when opening canned foods for use.

Remember botulinus poisoning develops in the sealed cans. Every housewife can help prevent future trouble from botulinus poisoning by boiling in an open kettle for 10 minutes any vegetable or meat which has been canned. This boiling temperature for 10 minutes will kill the botulinus poisoning and thus render the food safe for use. The greatest danger lurks in the can of string beans that was "thought to be good."

This can, used for salad or for any food purpose without boiling, is a source of great danger, but this danger easily can be avoided if the simple precaution of boiling for ten minutes has been observed. One may have unconsciously taken many risks, but the chances are too great, for botulinus poisoning develops in a sealed container, but can be killed by boiling for ten minutes after the can is opened. This assures safety.

In the canning program, plan so that suitable foods will be available for use. There are certain vegetables that are high in food value. For example: the tomato is an important vegetable for use at any time, for the reason that the canning process does not cause the loss of the high percentage of vitamin C. This is also true of raspberries and this point is important to consider.

Corn is another vegetable that either can be canned or dried. The following recipe may be used satisfactorily in drying corn:

To each 8 pints of corn add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup salt, and 1 cup milk or 1/2 cup cream. Stir together in shallow pan and cook 20 minutes. After it has started to boil, stir all the time to prevent burning. Spread out on plates in the sun. When ready to use, it requires only a little water and short cooking. When done add cream, butter and pepper.

At Kendrick Theatre
 Phillip Holmes, Dorothy Jordan, Charlie Ruggles and Johnny Mack Brown head the cast of "70,000 Witnesses," a murder-mystery set on the football gridiron, which comes to the Kendrick Theatre, Friday and Saturday nights, Sept. 1 and 2.

The story has to do with the attempt of a gambling ring to "fix" a big football game by eliminating the star player of the favorite team.

They fix it so well that the star, breaking loose and en route to a touchdown in a clear field, is suddenly seen to stagger, stumble and fall. Physicians find him dead, with not a mark on his body to explain how he was killed—though they know it is murder.

The boy's teammate and buddy and a clever detective finally solve the case, however.
 Holmes plays the role of the teammate, with David Landau as the detective. Brown is the victim; Ruggles, a wise-cracking reporter at the game to "cover" it via radio.

Get Ready For School

Approximately 30,000,000 children, ranging from near-graduates to kindergarteners, will converge on our streets and highways this September, all approaching central points. In the summer they have been scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land; now they are to be mobilized, crossing our city thoroughfares or country roads in long lines going to school or coming home.

It is the solemn duty of every motorist to see to it that these youngsters have a safe passage. By following a few simple rules he can help cut down the toll of 3,400 children killed and 152,550 injured in 1932. Every motorist should remember to approach a school zone with care; to slow down at all school intersections; to watch his speed on curves; near country schools. Above all, he should look out for the unexpected children, who meeting after two or three months' separation, become so absorbed that they forget about the danger of dashing into the roadway, darting from behind parked cars, or trying to retrieve a ball from under the fender of a moving vehicle. The motorist must do their thinking for them.

The reduction in motor accidents to children of school age in the United States, is the brightest picture in the safety movement, but there still remains much to be done to further reduce the number of tragedies—90 per cent of which are avoidable. Educators, school authorities and teachers should constantly emphasize the danger of modern traffic conditions to the children. The one person able, however, to bring about great improvement is the motorist. He should drive at all times as he would if his child were out in that crowd ahead.

The Co-Ops Are Ready

Keep your eye on the farm cooperatives.
 They're ready for recovery. They've had an important hand in legislative action designed to bring it about. And they're all set to go now that it is coming.

They've come through ten years of depression—yes, the farmer has had it for that time, as compared with three years for the rest of us—with flying colors. They've labored mightily in the face of obstacles, and they have produced results. More farmers are organized—more farmers know what cooperative marketing is—more farmers are enthusiastic about its possibilities than ever before.

The groundwork has been done. And the job now is to build a stable structure on top of it.

The average farmer has at last learned that non-cooperation is another word for sheriff's sale. He must sell his products in highly organized distributive channels. Fair prices are possible only when the selling and buying groups meet on equal grounds.

Washington Votes "Wet"

Washington, the 4th state to vote on the question of repeal of the 18th amendment, voted 2 1/2 to 1 in favor of repeal.

If twelve more states follow in the example of the 24 that have already voted in favor of repeal, there will be but one thing to be done—hard liquor will again be made legal in the United States, and the old-time saloon will again undoubtedly be in vogue in many states, for there is no provision made as to how the liquor will be handled. It will be up to the states, counties and cities to say how it shall be handled.

Idaho votes on the question September 19. Should Idaho vote wet, the state would not become wet as many think, for state law still declares this state a "dry one."

Five Beheaded In Germany

Five persons in various parts of Germany were decapitated at dawn last Saturday, making a total of 31 executions by the guillotine or the headman's axe under the Hitler government.
 At Torgau, a widow, Emma Thieme, who had secured two men to kill her own son, was beheaded along with the two men. The executioner, in accordance with German custom, was clad in evening clothes and top hat. He cut off each head with one blow of his axe in the presence of a dozen witnesses.

Will Show Fish and Game

Arrangements are being completed for the showing of live specimens of fish and game native to the five central Idaho counties at the fall fair to be held in Lewiston September 14, 15 and 16. This will be a unique feature and has been accomplished only at the sportsmen's fair held annually at Spokane.

The game birds will be secured from the Lapwai game farm. There will be deer, bear and other exhibits along this line.

COAL, PRICE-PEGGING AND HENRY FORD PUZZLE

A nearly completed bituminous coal code, disputes over price-fixing in the charter for retailers and the question of dealing with Henry Ford's attitude awaited Hugh S. Johnson's attention as he spend back to Boston Wednesday night.

The administrator's chief deputies were pushing the two major codes toward completion—with indications the retail agreement would not be ready for President Roosevelt's approval before next week—but the chief executive had placed the Ford matter squarely before Johnson.

If Ford declines to sign the code, there are three alternatives that might be adopted by President Roosevelt should he decide upon direct action. First, under the recovery act he might license the automobile industry and the owner of any firm then operating without a permit would be subject to a $500 fine and six months' jail sentence, with each day's operation considered a separate offense; second, by withdrawing the blue eagle and singling Ford out for criticism he might direct public opinion against the manufacturer's products; and, third, he might permit Ford to submit a separate code.

Work with the intricate retail code was assuming increased importance at the NRA and officials were endeavoring to have it ready for President Roosevelt when he returns next week. It was not made public, but officials indicated the 'major problem to be solved was how for the government could go in barring price slashing. The master code for retailers as presented by Arthur D. Whiteside provided that no merchandise should be sold below invoice prices plus 10 per cent.

Howdy, Folks: Here we are again with our little discussions of this and that and our little "I told you so." Wheat has done just what we said it would: gone up and down, up and down, and even been off the market entirely, but how about cream? Ever been off the market? No Sir. It has not. We've always been in the market with the good old cash, even on the days when there wasn't a bank open in the U. S. A. and cream checks weren't worth the paper they were written on—we paid cash! We're still paying it. Just bring in a can and see for yourself.

She: "Tony, are you sure it's me yo ulove and not my clothes?" He: "Test me, darling!"

Lawrence Dougharty came up from Juliaetta and took down 1,000 shakes to cover his new garage.

We made a mistake last week in regard to Joe Choate's new barn. He only had part of the roof on and it is not completed yet, but he hopes to get it under cover in time to keep his hay dry.

Clarence Herring went to the Merton Preussler place Monday and cut and shocked the wheat. Merton expects to haul it out to the Wm. Groseclose place and thresh it there.

When School Starts, watch the children's eyes, and if they need glasses, see an experienced specialist. Dr. Jones has taken good care of their eyes for many years. He will make his next visit about the 1st of October. 35-1x Adv.

Waltzes by Franz Lehar, world-famous Hungarian composer, must no longer be played by German radio bands, according to a decree by the German propaganda ministry. Lehar's music nearly monopolized German light opera stages and ballrooms only a little while ago.

The decree dethroning the Hungarian waltz king in Germany is due to some bitter comment on Herr Lehar's part on the Hitler government.
