KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB IN MONTHLY MEET

A very pleasant and interesting meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held in the Raby Hotel Monday evening with 22 people of the community in attendance.

The first thing on the program, of course, was another of those splendid chicken dinners served by Mrs. Raby and her aides, which was duly appreciated by those in attendance, as attested by the clean "platters" when the tables were cleared.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and communications read, among which was one which had been forwarded by the club to the public utilities committee at Boise regarding a truck line between Kendrick and Lewiston, permission to operate which had been asked by Clyde Daugherty, recommending that a P. U. C. I. license be granted and Mr. Daugherty at this time stated that he had received notification that his request for a permit had been granted.

Mr. Walker reported for the highway committee that nothing new had developed regarding the building of the road over Bear ridge, but that a government representative would visit Kendrick some time this week for the purpose of looking over the situation. At the present time the road question is at a standstill.

E. H. Dammarell, chairman of the relief committee, reported that to date 20 Kendrick men had been given employment in the CCC and blister rust work and that since last November 286 families with 1210 dependents had been aided and a total of 1496 people represented. The total amount expended was $3,012.10.

The number registered to date for the national recovery service is 62 and Mr. Dammarell states that he expects that the total registration will reach 100. He stated that unless some form of relief work is worked out the condition here will become acute during the coming winter.

A rather delicate matter was brought before the meeting in the form of a complaint that the Lewiston papers were not publishing grain markets that were correct—that is, some of the farmers and others who evidently read the Lewiston papers, say the markets quoted in Jullietta and Kendrick are not the same as those quoted in the Lewiston papers, and since the Kendrick markets are corrected each Thursday afternoon before they are printed, it would seem that the Lewiston markets are not always corrected day by day as the farmers think they should be. However, this is a matter over which the club has no control and no recommendations were made.

J. M. Lyle, superintendent of the Kendrick school, made a short talk regarding our school and stated that they had had a very auspicious opening and that everything pointed to a very successful year; that pupils and teachers were settling down to business and everything is running smoothly. In speaking of school work he mentioned sports, stating that there probably would be no football team this year on account of a lack of "heavy timber" and the expense connected with the sport, but that there would probably be a good basketball team as there seemed to be considerable good timber for that sport. He also stated that girls would be given a chance in athletics as well as the boys.

Mr. Whelchel, music instructor, made a very interesting talk regarding music in the schools and community and asked that all students who have music instruments they would like to learn to play, bring them to the schoolhouse on Wednesday at 3 o'clock and he would see what they can do with them. He stated that he wanted to work with the community in any way possible and stated that a choral society, as well as a community orchestra, could very easily be put over. All present were very much interested in his remarks, as well as those of Supt. Lyle.

O. Sherbon, who recently purchased the Ellis Cash Grocery, was present and made a few fitting remarks and was given a welcome by the club.

M. O. Raby, who had been selected as delegate to the NRA meeting held recently at Moscow, stated that he had been appointed to look after the NRA work at Kendrick and was happy to report that the business houses had signed up 100 per cent. The holding of a sales day this

W. B. Deobald Family Return

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald returned Saturday evening from a two-months trip that took them to Nelson, B. C., where they visited relatives for a time, thence to Chicago to the Century of Progress exposition, by way of the King's Highway through Canada. They also visited relatives at Tonica, Illinois, and at Denver, Colorado. They report a splendid trip and they all came home feeling fine.

NIGHT RACING AND SHOW PROGRAM AT LEWISTON

Special features are being added daily to the program of the night show at the Lewiston fall fair, September 14, 15 and 16. Not less than 19 of these entertainment acts to be interspersed with the five races each night have already been engaged.

One of the sensational acts will be by the acrobatic dance pupils of Miss Laura Small and Professor R. C. Ribak, presenting a group feature. These pupils range in ages from 4 to 12 years, and the act consists of solos, duets, trios and ensembles.

From eight to ten musical features are assured with vocalists of Lewiston and others from neighboring places.

The four boxing matches each night by members of the CCC are expected to be a strong drawing feature, as they are the climax of district elimination contests which are now in progress. The same men have promised to contribute street and parade features that will advertise the night show.

The three ball games arranged are expected to draw many people to the grounds in the afternoon of each day.

The Walla Walla Elks will bring a band of 35 pieces to the fair for the parade on Saturday, and to take part in an initiation that night. The band will be accompanied by a large delegation of Elks and others from Walla Walla.

The most sensational features of the night show at the Lewiston fall fair this week-end will probably be the special stunts by the cavalry. One of these will be a "fire ride" in which horses jump hurdles and through flaming loops of fire.

Another thrilling feature will be an attack by "Indians" and the rescue of a wounded comrade. These will be given by Sergeant Erskine and others.

The cavalry horses began practice on the electrically lighted track Tuesday night. They have been trained recently at the cavalry barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Entertain

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Woody, on American ridge, was on Saturday the scene of a very pleasant gathering, when the following people were entertained during the day: Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Baldwin of Caldwell, New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin and sons Donald and Neil, Mrs. Naomi Davis and Lester Stringfield, all of Pomeroy, Wash., and Mr. Stringfield's mother, Mrs. Stringfield of Nebraska.

Frank Baldwin is a cousin of Mrs. Woody. Mrs. Naomi Davis and Charles Baldwin are sister and brother of Mrs. Woody.

Miss Gladys Woody, who is teaching at Spangle, Wash., was home for the week-end and attended the gathering.

Assisting at Farmers Bank

Miss Nettie Mae McDowell is assisting Cashier W. J. Carroll at the Farmers Bank, taking the place of her sister, Mrs. Allan Zell, who resigned to make her home in Spokane.

fall, probably in October, was talked of, but no action was taken, the matter being left with the committee having the matter in charge.

On the whole, the meeting was a very pleasant and interesting one. It was one of those where good fellowship rules and under those circumstances much good can always be accomplished. It is to be regretted that more men of the community cannot be brought to realize the real benefit to the community as a whole these meetings bring about. However, there are always a few in each community who bear the brunt, whether it be good or bad, so those faithful ones are to be congratulated on the good that has been accomplished and that that will undoubtedly be accomplished in the future.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM OUR KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Wednesday, September 13, the Student Body met for the purpose of electing officers to act the first semester. The following students were elected: Roy Long, president; Kathryn Emery, secretary; Clem Lyons, treasurer; Bud Carlson, vice-president; Miss Spencer was elected critic; Mr. Whelchel, pep critic; Thomas Blevins, student representative; Oscar Hartung boys' yell leader; Leola LaHatt, girls' yell leader; Mr. Lyle, director of student body.

After the election plans for some social activities were offered and will be discussed later.

There are at the present time over 80 registered in the high school and in all probabilities more will enroll at a later date. The following class schedule has been arranged for the teaching staff:

Miss Swayne: English II, English I, English III and World History.

Mr. Whelchel: Bookkeeping, Spanish, Shorthand, Manual Training I and II, Typing II and Music.

Miss Spencer: Typing I and II, U. S. History, General Science and Home Economics.

Mr. Lyle: Algebra, Geometry and Physics.

Mrs. Whelchel has been secured to direct grade music and to assist with the music in the high school.

The Home Economics class completed the first unit of their work this week which was on "Health and Personal Appearance of the High School Girl." Appropriate clothing, Good posture, well-kept nails, cosmetics used only in moderation and good health habits were some of the subjects stressed.

On Wednesday Miss Spencer gave this class a demonstration, using the open kettle, hot pack, and cold pack methods of canning fruits and vegetables. Both the water bath and the pressure cooker were used. A very thorough discussion covered reasons "Why We Can" and emphasized control of those enemies of canning: bacteria, yeast and mold. The slogans, "Safe Canning Only" and "Two Hours from Garden to Can" were adopted.

About a dozen students brought instruments to the beginning instrument class. There are now two sections; one for the violins, and one for the horns. We need a dozen more students who want to play some instrument.

To Have City Orchestra

The demand for a city band in Kendrick this winter has lessened so in its place we are going to have an organization which has more advantages and which will reach more people and give them an opportunity for musical expression. This is an orchestral society. The first rehearsal is at the high school Tuesday night, September 19 at 7:30 o'clock.

Everybody in the city from six years of age to 90 is eligible who can play an instrument. This doesn't mean that you have to be an artist. Far from it. Maybe you can not read a note, but if you will come you can soon learn. There are about 15 high school musicians who play well and the same number of adults who play and are interested. This gives the husbands a chance to get away from home at least one evening a week, but it also gives the wife a chance to go too, and she can keep one eye on her husband and the other on her music.

An orchestra this size can do some very nice things during the year. We have two new folios of music and complete instrumentation with which to begin work.

P-T. A. Meeting

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers association will be held in the school house next Monday evening, September 18, commencing at 8 o'clock. This will be in the nature of a get-together meeting and all parents and those interested in the school are especially invited to be present.

A meeting of the executive committee was held at the home of the president, Mrs. A. K. Carlson, last Tuesday evening, when tentative plans were made for the coming year.

Will Reside at Kamiah

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gallaher, old-time residents of Jullietta, will make their home at Kamiah during the coming winter, Mr. Gallaher having gone to that place on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Gallaher will follow at a later date.

FREE EDUCATION FIGHTS FOR ITS LIFE

September, calling the children back to school, this year meant more and deeper wrinkles for educators who think this country's free education system is threatened, if not doomed.

Belmont Farley of the National Education association publication division said opponents of free education demand that parents pay at least for high school education.

"Only 55 per cent of those eligible for high school education were in the schools last year," he said, "though high school enrollment was fast rising. Elimination of child labor will this year send it shooting higher."

"Education costs must increase one-third or one-half in the next decade, or the system will go by the boards. "Certainly there is no immediate prospect of increase. The recovery program of the schools, tax-supported institutions, will inevitably lag two or three years behind recovery in private industry."

"The whole situation just about simmers down to this," Farley said. "The country itself is free to have to decide whether the free educational ideal of our founding forefathers can go on."

Fifteen thousand fewer school teachers than last year, Farley said, this September will start teaching perhaps 300,000 more school children than last year.

They will do it, he emphasized, on lower salaries, fewer supplies, and with deteriorating plant equipment, under the discouragement of having personally to pay higher prices for what they buy.

"In prosperity days, the average teacher's salary, lumping in $10,000-a-year-or-over superintendents and on down to country school teachers getting $300 a year or less, was $1,400 a year.

"Decreases have taken place so fast there is no comparable figure.

"If this new deal works and prosperity returns, bringing better wages in industry, ambitious teachers will, of course, desert their profession for the world war."

Such a hegira, Farley pointed out, would mean a cut in competence. But there is remote likelihood of a shortage in teacher supply.

Harry Hopkins, the relief administrator, recently reported 33 states had announced 80,000 unemployed teachers, a figure Farley called "too low" in view of reports reaching N. E. A. headquarters.

An Appreciation

In subscribing for the Kendrick Gazette, Mrs. Minnie B. Hewett of Morgan Hill, California, says: "As I lived in Southwest for many years and the news the Gazette brings is like a real letter from home."

This is not only a tribute to the Gazette, but especially so to our correspondent at Southwest. And we want to say right here that our readers are not the only ones who appreciate the many items from different sections of this entire community sent in by our splendid corps of correspondent. The Gazette duly appreciates them all, for were it not for our splendid correspondents, the Gazette would have no way of finding out what is going on in the different neighborhoods—items that are not only of interest to those at home, but doubly so to those who reside elsewhere and are readers of the Gazette.

Visitors From Coast

Mr. and Mrs. W. Finley Peets have returned to their home in Seattle after a short visit at the home of George L. Frederickson. Mr. and Mrs. Peets taught in Nez Perce county about 17 years ago. He is now a deputy county assessor in Seattle and Mrs. Peets is Grand Musician for the Order of Amaranth of the State of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Peets say they have seen nothing more beautiful than the hills and canyons here.

Culdesac Corn Show

Culdesac is making preparations for their annual corn show and county educational exhibit, to be held Sept. 29 and 30. This annual event is one that draws large crowds from all parts of Nez Perce county and is considered one of the best mediums for bringing to the attention of citizens the resources of the county.

Short Change Artists

Short change artists, three men and a woman, visited Lewiston Sunday and succeeded in securing sums ranging from $5. to $10 by working their short change game at two or more service stations.

The "changers" were later located at Grangeville and returned to Lewiston to answer for their "short-comings." They made good their short-ages and were ordered out of the city.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The nation's bankers were told that deposit insurance was for their own good and for the good of the public—and were given to understand by the administration that their opposition would be of no avail. J. F. T. O'Conner, comptroller of the currency and one of the men who will direct the deposit insurance plan, listed before the American Bankers association replies by President Roosevelt to all their many objections to deposits guaranty. "Injustice to none," O'Conner said, "is the first aim of the national banking act of 1933, which provides for guaranty of deposits of $2,500 or less. The act becomes effective in part next January 1."

A sanguinary plot, started by 12 long term convicts during a prison baseball game at Angola Penal Farm, Louisiana, Sunday afternoon, resulted in the death of two guards and a convict and the escape of 11 of the desperadoes in a visitor's automobile. A half dozen persons were wounded as the prisoners opened fire on the baseball crowd to cover their retreat. One of the original 12 rioters was shot and killed as the heavily loaded machine sped through the main gate of the penitentiary with its occupants sending volleys of rifle and shotgun fire at pursuers.

An expressed desire Monday by the new Cuban president for friendship with America brought an official response in Washington that the United States is prepared to welcome any Cuban government representing the will of the people and capable of maintaining law and order throughout the island. The Washington administration maintained an attitude of watchful waiting, remaining silent on proposals voiced in Havana for a re-writing of the Cuban constitution to do away with the Platt amendment, which sanctions intervention by the United States. Secretary of State Hull announced the question of recognition had not been formally taken up.

September 25 was the deadline set Monday by the agricultural adjustment administration for receiving applications for wheat-allotment contracts in the effort to reduce the 1934 production. Chester C. Davis, director of production, said preliminary reports showed more than 100,000 had signed up in nine states and favorable progress had been reported in more than a score of others. The campaign affects approximately 1,200,000 growers in 1,200 counties. It is planned to distribute among them a maximum of $90,000,000 for cutting down production.

Assurance that shipments of 40,000,000 bushels of wheat, the exportable surplus stored or now being harvested in the Pacific northwest, would be made to foreign markets under a bounty arrangement, was contained in a plan received by members of the agricultural adjustment administration board at Portland on Monday. Details of the plan were withheld by Douglas McIntyre, chairman of the board sent from Washington, D. C., to conduct a hearing on evolving a plan early in August, when shippers, grain growers, millers and exporters drafted an arrangement that is closely followed, McIntyre said, in the plan received Monday.

$200,000 For Relief Roads

Idaho will have about $200,000 to spend on projects that may be classified as relief work, according to an estimate of the state highway department. The figure might vary if any contracts are let for state highway work. All the money will have to be spent on road work.

The statement was made in connection with a statement of Governor Ross that state highway funds would be spent in cooperation with the counties in such a way as to qualify as relief funds for obtaining additional relief money from the federal government. Federal money for relief is now allotted on the basis of $1 of federal money for each $2 spent by the state and the communities.

GRAIN MARKETS WEAK AND MOSTLY LOWER

Domestic grain markets were weak, with prices mostly lower than a week ago, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, for the week ending September 8. Wheat loss was 2c to 3c per bushel, influenced by slack milling demand, lack of export sales and weakness in the European markets, where Russian, French and German wheat were freely offered at relatively low prices. Corn also declined 2c to 3c per bushel under moderate offerings and a slow inquiry from industries and shippers. Oats and barley were fairly steady at most points, with good malting barley in better demand than feed grades. Rye declined with wheat despite small market receipts. Flax was steady to slightly higher, with marketings moderately large considering the short crop.

Wheat harvesting in the northern hemisphere is nearing completion, with a record output in Europe outside of Russia, and larger Russian and Chinese harvests partially offsetting short crops in North Africa and prospective shorter supplies in the southern hemisphere. United States harvest is practically completed and marketings of spring wheat have apparently reached the peak for the season. The quality is better than last year with the protein content high. August inspections at Grand Forks show 95.4 per cent of the wheat inspected at that point grading No. 2 or better, compared with 86.3 per cent during August of last year. Rains delayed harvesting in Canada and frost did some damage to spring wheat in northern sections. At the close of the week, however, harvesting was well advanced in Manitoba, southern and central Saskatchewan and southern Alberta. Early samples from Manitoba and Saskatchewan show slightly lower protein on an average than last season. Canadian marketings were fairly heavy during the week with receipts at Winnipeg totaling 4,867 cars.

Official reports of quality are not yet available for Europe, but trade advices indicate a large proportion of excellent milling wheat in the principal producing areas. English millers who normally mill imported wheat are reported using new crop English wheat, which is of excellent quality, with low moisture content. In other parts of northwestern Europe, and in Germany, France and Italy, the wheat is of better quality than a year ago and above average. Danubian basin wheat is also of excellent quality except in Russia, where the grain is grading low with a high percentage of foreign matter. Little information is available as to the quality of the Russian crop, but sales of Russian wheat in English markets at prices only slightly lower than Canadian wheats, indicate good quality of the early offerings.

Argentine wheat was quoted at Liverpool at 61½c, but German and French wheat was offered for September shipment at around 55c per bushel. While German and French wheats are underselling other wheats in the English markets, French wheat continues to sell at Paris at the fixed price of $1.79 and native wheat at Hamburg, Germany, at $1.71½ on the basis of current exchange. Native wheat was quoted at Genoa, Italy, at $1.84 per bushel.

Domestic cash wheat markets were generally dull and prices declined 2c to 3c per bushel along with futures. Marketings of winter wheat were relatively lower, with receipts at the principal central and southwestern markets totaling only 918 cars compared with 2,670 cars a year ago. The quality is good with 90 per cent of the receipts at Kansas City grading No. 3 or better. Demand was principally from mills, but was of only moderate volume, reflecting the slow inquiry for flour. Some improvement in flour demand, however, was reported at Kansas City toward the close of the week. Soft winter wheat commanded a premium of about 1c per bushel over hard winter at St. Louis, with a fairly active demand.

Inquiry for spring wheat was sufficiently active to increase premiums for cash grain about 1c per bushel at Minneapolis. Demand at Duluth fell off as a result of labor troubles in Buffalo. Durum markets were rather unsettled, but a fairly active mill demand for high quality durum wheat held the cash market firm, with best

Has New Kind of Beans

Cecil Choate of Teakean brought to the Kendrick Bean Growers warehouse Wednesday a sample of what is known as Bayo beans, a new variety for this section of the country.

Mr. Choate has about two acres of this variety of the "fruit." The yield is said to be far heavier than that of the ordinary beans and the price quoted is almost twice that paid for the white variety. The new bean is of a rather variegated color, yet is not a pinto. Many of this variety are said to be raised in California.

Mr. Choate estimates that his yield will be between six or seven sacks per acre. He is threshing them by hand.

The east portion of the Kendrick Hardware store room is being prepared by Harold Thomas for the removal, later, of his cream station to that location.

In excavating for the concrete work Sid Thomas, who is doing the work, found three hammers, dozens of harness snaps and several hundred pounds of burned nails, all of which had gone through the disastrous fire of 1904, when the building occupying the location had been burned, along with most of the town.

Denner's Rodeo

A large number of visitors and guests enjoyed themselves on Mrs. Kuni Denner's farm on Fix ridge last Sunday, when the Denner boys, who have just purchased 24 young horses, ranging in age from two to four years, showed their good horsemanship in breaking some of the animals to lead and become accustomed to the collar and harness, preparing them for work this fall on their farm.

The audience watching the boys got many thrills as the animals cut up their tactics when first haltered, by refusing to lead or to carry harness. However, in short order the boys convinced the animals that the performance was only a part of the NRA program and in a jiffy had them accustomed to leading and initiated them into the harness.

The horses the boys brought in are the best stock that has come into this territory for a number of years, all being young and healthy, without blemishes of any kind. The boys are doing a service to the community, as good horses are getting scarce, few having been raised in the last ten years. Many farmers are going back to horses at this time and deserting the tractor has increased the demand for good work horses over the entire country. The Denners do all their farm work with horses and while they will use a good number of the animals just purchased, they will dispose of some to their neighbors.

Among the guests and visitors were Rev. and Mrs. Ehlen and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll and Lida Jane, Rev. Klickman and Mr. Koster of Genesee, Ella, Elsie, Martha, Willie and George Denner, John Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilcox, Ward, Alexander, Alfred and Carl Giese, Robert Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. GRAIN MARKETS WEAK AND MOSTLY LOWER milling lots quoted at Minneapolis at 91c to 96c per bushel.

Pacific Northwestern markets declined, with prices of cash wheat at Portland down 2c to 3c per bushel, compared with a week ago. Threshing was nearing completion in most sections of Oregon and Washington. Marketings were of fair volume but were largely shipments to terminals for storage to make room for country warehouse needs for new wheat. Trading was dull at Portland, with no export business possible at current prices and with California buyers mostly out of the market. Mills took only moderate amounts of special qualities for immediate needs. At the close of the week bluestem hard white was quoted at 79c to 82c, with soft white, western white, hard winter and northern spring at 69c to 71c, with western red at 69c, basis No. 1. Most of the light transactions were toward the bottom of the ranges.

California wheat markets weakened along with eastern and northern markets, and prices at San Francisco declined 2 1/2c to 5c per 100. Offerings of local wheat increased but demand was light, with feed wheat in better request than milling grades. Millers were slow buyers because of a dull flour demand and were working quite largely on accumulated stocks. Inquiry for feed wheat was fairly active at interior points. Purchases of northern wheat were small and intermountain offerings were too high to effect sales. No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at the close of the week at $1.35 and No. 1 soft white at $1.30 per 100.

Eagles Seem Scarce

There doesn't seem to be a very large "flock" of NRA Blue Eagles arriving at the Gazette office in the papers printed throughout this district. It may be that they are all signed up, but just haven't bothered to put an eagle in their ad—or carry one at the head of their paper.

The big blue eagle is a nice bird, but Hank Ford just doesn't seem to care much about him.

How Times Do Change

In the good old days when the West was West, people used to attend "rodeos." Now, when they go they are attending a "ro-day-o," according to announcement made over the "raa-de-o." At any rate there were quite a few who attended this kind of a fete at Orofino at some time during Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

BEAN OUTLOOK IN THE UNITED STATES

The outlook for beans in the U. S. is for considerable improvement over the conditions of the past year. Recent reports indicate that the crop has suffered severely from heat and drouth during July in New York and Michigan, with an estimated loss in these two states of over a million bags. A total United States crop of 9,365,000 bags of dry edible beans is indicated by August 1 growing conditions. This is a reduction of about 9 per cent over last year's crop, and far below the average crop for the past four years. The reduced production in the eastern states will be partly offset by gains of about a quarter million bags in the western states where improved conditions are general. Idaho production as indicated on August 1, will be 1,436,000 bags as against 1,060,000 bags last year.

Reports indicate that there is a great possibility of reduced stocks of beans this year. California warehouses show a stock of nearly 60 per cent less than holding as of August 1, last year. Stocks are quite unevenly distributed among the various classes, with California reds the only variety above last year.

Total imports of dry beans into the United States for the 1932-1933 season to date show a reduction of 21 per cent over the 1931-32 season and 91 per cent over the five previous seasons. For the 10 months ending July 1, exports of foreign domestic beans exceeded imports by 21,437 bags.

Prices of all the more important classes of dry beans have been rising in recent months from a low point which was reached for most classes in January. Some of this advance is coincident with a rise in prices of goods farmers buy and part may be attributed to dwindling bean stocks. Western beans, on the prices f. o. b. California shipping points rose from 69 per cent pre-war in February to 118.5 per cent in July. Great Northern prices have advanced during recent weeks more rapidly than the average for all varieties due to the somewhat light shipments from the Great Northern regions.

A Challenge To Young People

During the past forty years tens of thousands of young men and women of many nationalities and denominations have sought free training for Christian service at home or abroad offered by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. More than 2,000 students enrolled in its day and evening classes last year. While for certain special courses a high school background is required, and college training desirable, yet grammar school training will admit to its general course. English is taught to any deficient in its use.

The Bible ranks first in all institute courses, but instruction is furnished in such subjects as Sunday School Administration, Daily Vacation Bible School, Gospel Music, Public Speaking, Home Economics, Hygiene and Manual Training. In special courses are offered Theology, Homiletics, Church History, Apologetics, Hebrew, Yiddish, Greek and medical subjects for foreign mission work.

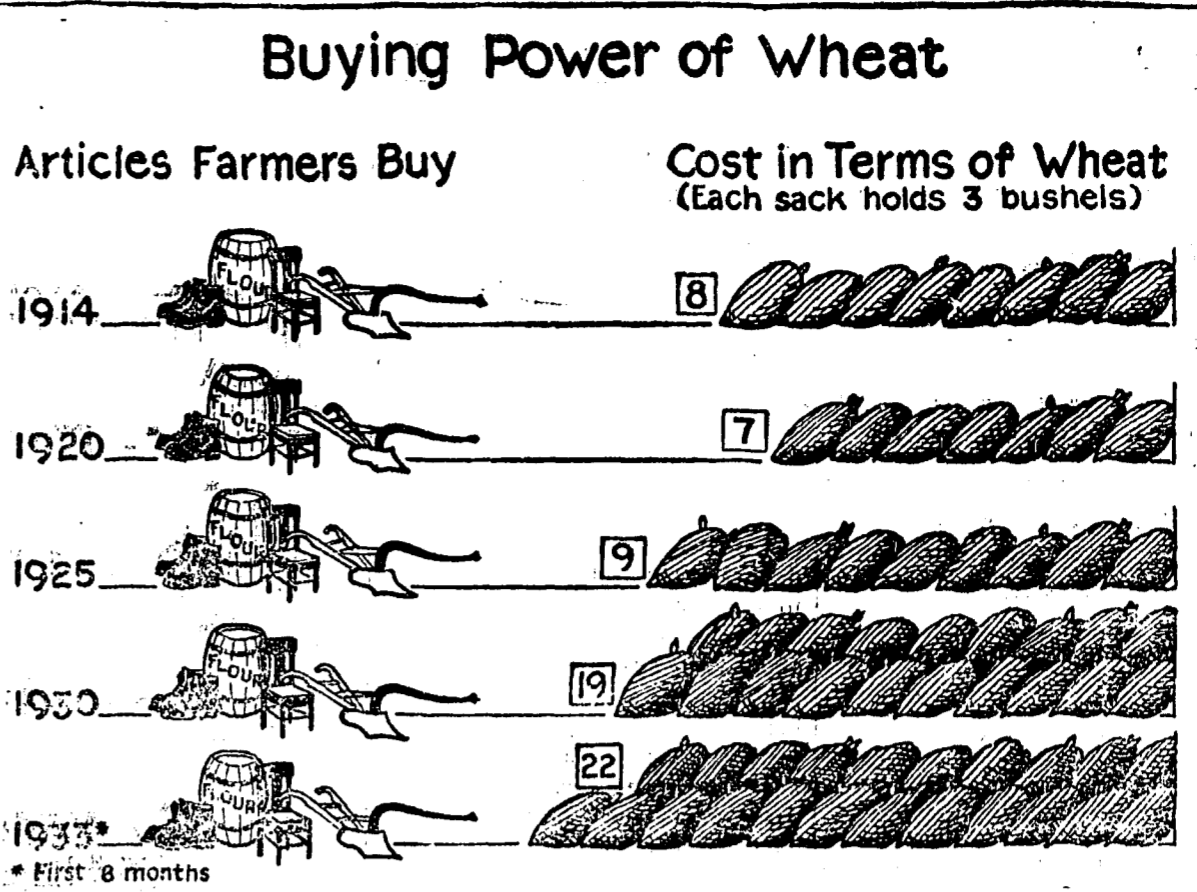

There are three terms a year—Fall, Winter and Summer—but students may enter at any time. An illustrated catalogue will be mailed on request. Address, 153 Institute Place, Chicago Avenue Station, Chicago, Ill.

Kate Smith in "Hello, Everybody"
"Hello, Everybody." Kate Smith's first full-length feature picture, made from the story by Fanny Hurst by the same name, will be at the Kendrick Theatre Friday and Saturday nights, September 15-16. Everyone who owns a radio has heard Kate Smith sing, and you will want to see her in this wonderful picture.

The film tells the story of a competent and big-hearted farm girl, who has successfully managed a large farm since her father's death. Surveyors from a San Francisco power and water company appear in the neighborhood to buy up the valley farms. Kate refuses to sell, and the farmers, accepting her natural leadership, also refuse.

Litigation results, the long court battles eating up the life savings of the farmers. Kate, seeking a way out, signs a radio contract with a radio company and lets her voice raise the money which saves the valley farms. Randolph Scott and Sally Blane play the romantic leads. The new songs which Miss Smith introduces in the course of the film are "Moon Song," "Pickaninies' Heaven," "Out in the Great Open Space," and "Twenty Million People."

Einstein Flees To England
Professor Albert Einstein, fleeing from threats against his life reported to have come from a nazi organization, arrived unexpectedly Monday night in London from Belgium.

GIVING wheat the same buying power that it had in the period before the World War is the goal of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. This chart shows how big the problem is. In 1914 8 sacks of wheat would buy a pair of shoes, a barrel of flour, a chair, and a plow.

In 1925 it took 9 sacks of wheat to buy the same set of articles. In 1930 it took 19 sacks of wheat and early in 1933 it took 22 sacks of wheat. The cause of the low buying power is too great a supply. To remedy the situation, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has begun a campaign asking farmers to reduce their acreage for the 1934 and 1935 crops so that the return from a bushel of wheat will be once more what it was in the pre-war period. Its power to buy the goods which farmers need. The goal of the wheat administration is the 1914 basis, on which 8 sacks of wheat would buy the bill of goods pictured here.

Many Idle Men in Idaho

With approximately 5,000 men registered for work, John Foreman, director of re-employment in Idaho, said he was going to determine why more public works projects were not being let in Idaho.

He said highway money had been appropriated for the state but there appeared to be difficulty in getting projects into final shape for putting them under contract. Much of the delay, he said, appeared to be in the federal bureau of public roads offices, which pass on all highway jobs entailing the use of federal aid.

Estimating the final registration would approximate 10,000 in the state, he said:

"The amount of unemployed is somewhat surprising, and it is imperative that we get more work under way before snow comes to interfere."

There are more than sixty men registered in Kendrick for the proposed road work that has been, for some reason or other, seemingly de-laid. More men are applying every day for some kind of work, and should the road work fail to materialize, E. H. Dammarell, who has charge of the registration of unemployed, said the local situation may become acute before the winter has come and gone.

Corn Musicians

The green corn eater who said he could reach two octaves on a regular-sized ear of corn, sure started something. Now corn-eating champions are bobbing up all over the country. A woman in Minnesota ate 44 ears. A man ate 50 ears. Out in California one fellow ate 51 ears and another 52 ears.

The only way to enjoy green corn is to eat it harmonica fashion. It is very easy for some to run the scale. Some might be able to play, "Down in the Cornfield," etc.—Ex.

A pound of phosphorus will tip a million matches, or about enough to smoke a cheap cigar.

Hep, Hep! The wets are marching to victory in their effort to repeat the old 18th amendment. State after state has gone wet and wetter than wet—but wet or dry, as the case may be, we want to see you at the old cream station. We want your cream. We want your business.

We have always made it our business to keep up in the cream market, often paying a premium—and folks, we always paid spot cash, even when there wasn't a bank open in the U. S. A., we paid cash. So come in—bring us a can of cream and get our cash. Come in anyway, cream or no cream—we're always glad to see you.

The Community Church Library

The ladies of the Kendrick Community church have given much time and thought to the library they have recently opened in the basement of the church, and which now houses many worth-while books—books that should be read by many who not only wish to improve their minds, but for the real pleasure of reading good books as well. There are books for children as well as adults and parents are asked to take out cards for their children should they care to read any of the books there for the general public.

The library is open each Wednesday from 3 to 5 p. m. and each Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock.

A short synopsis is given of one of the books, "Splendor of God," a religious novel by Honore Willis Morrow, which will give some idea of the class of reading that may be had at the library:

In the year 1813 a young, impetuous crusader from New England and a delicate girl of great beauty landed at Rangoon. Adoniram and Ann Judson, the first Baptist missionaries had come to Burma—Burma, the land of darkness, where "foreign devils" with Western ideas and their queer story of Jesus Christ were promised persecution, torture and death.

This biographical novel is the magnificent story of Adoniram Judson, the great missionary, the great spiritual leader; the story of twenty dramatic, thrilling years filled with color and action and romance. The story of a life lived hour by hour; today in a hut so near the execution grounds that he could hear the victims scream; tomorrow in an audience with the great king, who held the whole land in the hollow of his hand.

And so the story goes, through trials and tribulations, to come to its final and happy ending. It must be read to be appreciated.

Given Farewell Dinner

About sixty-five people attended the farewell dinner given Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whisler at their home Sunday. They are soon leaving for Caldwell, Idaho, to make their home. The good old Cedar Creek dinner was served cafeteria style in their large dining room and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Whisler have made many warm friends during the 12 years they have lived here, who regret seeing them leave our community. The good wishes of all follow them.

"Tex" Guinan Now "4-Square"

"Texas" Guinan, a former New York night club hostess, recently went to Los Angeles, where she has declared her intention of hitting the saw-dust trail, and has joined Aimee's Four-Square gospel parade—and some parade it will be, too, when Tex gets into action.

Aimee and Dave are now in New York appearing at different show houses, Aimee at $5,000 a week, while Dave is only getting a measly little $1,000. But with Tex to help them "whoop'er up a bit," they should be able to get considerably more front-page publicity than they have been drawing.

COUNTY AGENT HOLDS MEETING IN KENDRICK

A meeting of farmers was held in the Kendrick Theatre Wednesday afternoon and was addressed by L. V. Benjamin, special county agent, when he explained the agricultural adjustment act to a fair-sided gathering of farmers of this section.

Mr. Benjamin gave illustrations on a blackboard showing just how much land it would be necessary for each farmer to allow to lie idle and approximately what he would receive as his share of the allotment for the idle ground.

The deadline for applications is set for September 25. Growers who do not sign and turn in their applications for adjustment will not be able to share in the adjustment payments for 1933-34-35.

Mr. Benjamin stated that he expects that about 90 to 95 per cent of the farmers of the county will sign up under the allotment act. Many of the farmers present at the meeting on Wednesday signified their intention of signing for the allotment acreage reduction.

Another meeting will be held in Kendrick on Monday, September 25, when all farmers will be given an opportunity to sign up for adjusted compensation. Mr. Benjamin will again be present and will explain further details to those who do not thoroughly understand them and will take your applications.

Reception For Teachers

A reception for the teachers of the Kendrick schools—both new and old—was held in the Community church last Friday evening and a fair-sized gathering of patrons and friends of the school attended to give them welcome. A short program was given as follows: Address of welcome by Rev. Elmer E. Beckman; response by Supt. James M. Lyle, who in turn introduced the teachers to those present. There was a piano duet by Mary Elizabeth Thompson and Alene Rider; a vocal solo by Mr. Granthal and a reading by Mrs. E. H. Emery, which concluded the program.

After the program the crowd adjourned to the basement of the church where refreshments were served.

Has Corn On Display

Ed. Galloway is of the opinion that corn can be raised in this section of the country, so he planted about two acres. In going through the patch the other day he discovered several stalks that contained two ears each. Some one said that Ed. had marked some of his better hills during the growing season with a stick and when looking over the field the other day—when he discovered the stalks containing two ears each—he also found that the stalks he had stuck by the hills each contained a nubbin!

Some of the stalks bearing two ears each are on display at the Kendrick Hardware store—but he forgot to bring in the stalks.

New Bean Warehouse Completed

The new addition to the warehouse of the Kendrick Bean Growers association has been completed with the exception of a few minor details. There has been an approach built on the south side of the building and new scales have been installed for weighing hand trucks.

The company shipped a carload of beans to Tacoma on Monday of this week, besides a few truckloads to local points.

Between June 30, 1932, and June 30, 1933, the association handled an even 3,795,855 pounds of beans—aggregating approximately 1898 tons. This is indeed a good showing, considering the fact that last year was their first year.

Masonic Notes

Dr. Geo. W. McKeever was in attendance at the Masonic grand lodge session held at Moscow on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, he being a delegate from the local lodge. M. O. Raby also attended the Tuesday session.

The first meeting of the Masonic lodge will be held on Thursday night, September 28. No meetings have been held during the summer season.

The Order of Eastern Star will also hold their first meeting of the fall on Tuesday night of next week.

Beans Yielding Fair Crop

Beans are now being threshed and brought to the local warehouses and warehousemen state that the yield is considerably above that anticipated by most growers. The general yield was expected to be from three to four sacks per acre, but many fields are yielding from four to five and a half sacks per acre and the quality is said to be very good.

Now, if the price would only go to approximately 3½c to 4c per pound, the bean-growers of this section would indeed "be in clover."
