INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR SCHOOL

Basket-Ball

We sincerely hope that Kendrick is going to be put on the map this year by her basketball prowess. We have good material to work on and are ready to show the other towns that we're still here. All we need is backing—the support of the public. Every school patron should support the school, and you can do it by buying a ticket for the season's games.

Tickets cost $1.50 each for high school students and $2.50 each for adults. Any two adults in a family may buy two tickets for $4.00. Ten thrilling home games will be played. Considering the number of games and the former price of tickets, the cost this year is very reasonable. In 1928 students paid $5.00 for their tickets.

If you are looking for entertainment and thrills, if you want to support the school, see some of the students who are earning their tickets and subscribe for a season's quota of fun.

Carnival Success

The carnival held at the high school gym last Friday evening was a decided success. In spite of unfavorable weather an estimated crowd of 275 attended—a far larger group than was expected. The whole evening was one of intense excitement and fun. The booths and barkers made the whole scene one of a riot of color and noise.

The Sophomore's "Hall of Science," the Freshmen's "Magic," the Junior's "Imported Fan Dancer" were among the leading attractions. The outstanding attraction, however, was the bar at the famous "Silver Slipper Saloon," where soft drinks were sold to tired and thirsty sight-seers.

Second in popularity was the Shooting Gallery, where the best of the better marksmen congregated to try their luck. The Senior "Spin Wheel," where one could "win every time" drew a large crowd.

All these, and other varied attractions—fortunes, freaks, fish pond side shows for men and women—served to give everyone a really enjoyable evening—one that will be remembered for a long time to come.

Queen Contest Interesting

Intensive last-minute campaigning entirely reversed the expected outcome of the Carnival Queen contest. Arlene Deobald had been in the lead almost continuously during the week, and continued in the lead until the carnival evening was half spent. New enthusiasm for the sophomore candidate increased suddenly, to put Flo Kent in the lead. Although the rivalry was keen, she maintained this position until the final count of votes was taken at 10 o'clock. At that time she had 86,400 votes to her credit and was leading by 25,100 votes.

A very yাত্রice ceremony climaxed the event. Queen Flo and her attendants walked to the throne prepared on the stage, accompanied by music from the orchestra. Arlene, as chosen maid of honor, placed the crown on the Queen's head. All the girls were dressed in long pastel dresses, and Queen Flo wore a velvet train, carried by two attendants, Paula McKeever and Jean Crocker. Patty McCreary walked ahead of the queen strewing flowers in her path. Tommy Long headed the procession as trumpeter. Rosebud Brown, Nona Mae Compton and Jayne Plummer, the other contestants for the honor of queen, were maids of honor.

On behalf of the school Mr. Lyle wishes to thank all the town people for their loyal support in attendance and donation to the school carnival. He also wishes to thank every patron of the district and all others who attended, for their support.

General Short Items

Class basketball tournaments started Tuesday night, with the Seniors defeating the Juniors by a score of 30-20. The teams to play first was decided by draw.

Mr. Reed, a Tacoma photographer, was here Tuesday to take pictures of the various classes in high school and the grade rooms.

Glen Hughes has enrolled in the Junior class. He enters from Juliaetta.

The Algebra and Geometry classes are keeping a graph of their progress made in these subjects. These same

Bus Lines Be Hard Hit

Stage lines in different parts of the country are beginning to get a glimpse of the "Big Bad Wolf" in the form of reduced fares of railroads throughout the country, effective December 1, when the railroads will start their new low rates. Stage lines are of the opinion that they will not be able to meet this rate, especially during the winter months. It took the railroads several years to wake up to the fact that their passenger and freight business was gradually being taken over by the bus and truck lines at lower rates.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The state of Indiana has decided to use its own trigger men in an attempt to trip up the convict gang that has roved Indiana and Ohio states since the Michigan City prison break a month ago. Adjutant General Elmer F. Straub ordered into service 70 officers and 560 enlisted men of the Indiana national guard, selecting for duty men with expert marksmanship ratings. The troops will be stationed at 44 strategic centers in small squads, acting under a captain.

Secretary Wallace has threatened "something of a showdown" with the meat packing industry if the prices of hogs are reduced when the processing taxes to finance his corn-hog production control program becomes effective next month. He asserted that "packers are criticizing the program and word comes from the corn belt that the impression is being spread that the packers are going to drop the prices of hogs 50 cents per hundred weight on November 5 at the time the processing tax is put on." Wallace added that "we hope it may not be necessary for us to have something of a showdown with the packers during the month of November."

Four dangerous convicts, making a break from the Washington state penitentiary at Walla Walla on Friday night were blocked by a rain of bullets, one man killed, one critically wounded and two recaptured. Donald F. Collins, 21, serving 10 years from Clallam county for assault, was slain. James F. Henning, 37, apparently the leader of the plot, was critically wounded in the head, doctors said. Fenning was serving 20 to 30 years for robbery in King county. James McCourt, 27, sentenced to life imprisonment for first degree murder and robbery in King county, and Carl Braham, serving 10 to 25 years for robbery in Pierce county, fled from the prison wall when the guard's guns began barking.

President Roosevelt has decided to extend his price lifting gold control campaign to a world basis, through early purchases of the precious metal in the foreign markets. In going into the international gold market it apparently is the president's intention to assure greater control over the monetary situation to stimulate commodity prices; and to bring nearer his goal of a managed currency.

The French government was represented in official quarters as intending to default on the $22,200,928 war debt payment due the United States on December 15. The new cabinet of Premier Albert Sarraut, it was said semi-officially, will not raise the troublesome debt question when it goes before the chamber of deputies early next month with a fiscal program. This policy will cause former Premier Herriot, an advocate of payment, to stay away from parliament because his participation would surely revive the problem, according to semi-official spokesmen.

Wins First On Pigs

Walter Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Meyer of Southwick, took four of his prize Chester White pigs to the Portland Livestock show last week and walked away with the following prizes: First in Northern Idaho pig contest, first in 4-H record books for the state, fourth in state individual fat hog contest and first in litter of four Chester White pigs.

Walter is an attendant at the University of Idaho this year, but is still interested in the raising of fine pigs and he gives County Agent J. W. Thometz much credit for the interest he has taken in the 4-H club members for Nez Perce county.

Walter has also won several other valuable prizes on his pigs in previous years. He, along with the other 4-H boys, is to be congratulated upon the fine showing made.

AUTO IN CLEARWATER RIVER—MAN DROWNS

Vernon Bulen, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bulen, Culesac, was drowned Monday night when the car he was driving plunged into the Clearwater river after sideswiping a truck driven by Elmer Hammond, Culesac, on the North and South highway, one-half mile west of Spalding. Bulen was half pinned under the car as it turned over on its side, in about 10 feet of water 15 feet from shore.

Mrs. Bulen was riding with her son and miraculously escaped drowning or serious injury. As the car left the highway she was thrown out, rolling down a 35-foot embankment into the river. She was rescued by Hammond. She sustained an injured left knee, a laceration of her right foot and cuts and bruises about the face and body. She also suffered severe shock.

Both machines were traveling in the direction of Culesac when the accident occurred. Hammond's truck stalled on the highway and he was trying to get it started when the coach driven by Bulen was approaching. Mrs. Hammond, riding in the truck, saw a collision was unavoidable and stepped out of the machine and a few seconds later the coach struck the side of the truck and tore off the side of the body, sending it 50 feet distant.

After striking the truck Bulen's car hit the bank on the opposite side of the highway with terrific force and then swerved to the other side and into the river. Whether it turned over when Mrs. Bulen was thrown out could not be determined by those investigating the accident. When the car went into the stream Bulen was thrown half way through the door. The car had to be raised before his body could be recovered from the stream.

The victim was born at Culesac. His father for many years published the Culesac Enterprise and is a pioneer of Nez Perce county. Mrs. Bulen is a sister of Mrs. F. R. Pingree of Lewiston.

Relief Wages Fixed At 30 Cents

Boise—The state relief committee in a resolution made public has reaffirmed its approval of the 30 cents an hour minimum wage paid by the county committees from funds made available through federal, state and local sources.

The resolution took cognizance of a controversy raised when Rep. C. C. Coffin declared wages paid by Bannock county to relief workers were too low in comparison with prevailing wages.

"Be it resolved," the statement of the committee said, "that the minimum rate of pay for relief work in the various counties in the state of Idaho be fixed at 30 cents an hour provided that the local relief committees in the various counties are authorized to pay any amount in excess of 30 cents and provided that the said rate shall not exceed the prevailing rate of pay for the particular type of work performed."

This, the committee said, is in conformity with the regulations set up by the relief administration.

"It is understood," the statement continued, "that the rate of pay is fixed not as a means of giving men work on a steady basis. Men receiving this pay are on relief lists. They are entitled to an amount ranging from $12 to $20 a month to be fixed by the relief committees in each county. They are required, where able to work, to work for this amount and as soon as they earn it they are not to work any longer. If they earn the allotment at wages of 50 cents an hour they work only a few hours."

No More Big Bad Wolves

Idaho's wolf population has been about wiped out.

During September, trappers operating in Idaho county caught two of them, the state predatory animal board disclose Thursday in its monthly report of kills. The deaths wiped out all the known wolves, for the last game census mentioned only two, which ranged along the Salmon river near the Idaho county-Lemhi county border, and at times over into Montana. Forestry officials conducting the latest survey said no others had been found.

During the month of September, 256 coyotes were killed and 13 wildcats. Bounties and salary to trappers paid out during the month totaled $1,095.

MAN FATALLY INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Sam Maxwell, an elderly man, living a few miles below Juliaetta, was perhaps fatally injured Thursday morning when the truck relief workers were riding on was side-swiped by a larger truck bearing a Washington license, near the Marvin and Clay Albright home, on the Kendrick-Arrow road.

It seems that the crew of relief workers were going to work and that Mr. Maxwell was riding on the run-board of the relief workers' truck, when they met the larger truck coming from the opposite direction, which, it is alleged by witnesses, crowded the relief truck into the bank and side-swiped it, catching Mr. Maxwell between the two trucks, nearly severing the right leg just above the ankle, breaking the left leg in several places, cutting a deep gash on one of his thighs and otherwise bruising and lacerating him.

Dr. Christensen was called from Kendrick and went at once to the scene of the accident and gave first aid, calling an ambulance from Lewiston and the unfortunate man was taken to a hospital, although it was thought he would probably not live to reach Lewiston. No one else on the truck was injured to amount to anything.

Commercial Club Entertainment

The Kendrick Commercial club will hold an open meeting in the Fraternal Temple on Monday evening, November 13, when an entertainment well worth your while will be given by the Silver Loaf Harmony Busters from Lewiston.

To this meeting the farmers of the Kendrick territory and their wives are cordially invited, as are the wives of the members of the Commercial club.

The entertainment will be of about an hour's duration. It is not an orchestra, but there will be plenty of musical numbers, dances, and varied entertainment that has taken by storm every place they have appeared.

Light refreshments will be served to all after the program. It is all free and is for the purpose of getting better acquainted as well as spending a pleasurable evening.

Another notice will appear next week. Watch for it.

Hallowe'en Observed

Hallowe'en was properly observed in Kendrick Tuesday night, when the youngsters proceeded to mark up most of the windows of the business houses, pile a few odd things in the street, and misplace loose things generally. However, there was very little real mischief done—and that seems to have taken place after 1:30 Wednesday morning. About the worst thing that happened was the pulling up and carrying away of the "Stop" and "Curve" signs where the streets enter Main street and at the "S" curve at the W. A. Perryman home.

Marshall Ed. Long says it ceases to be fun after midnight, and that is when the signs were removed.

Birds Very Scarce

This season sees as few Chinese pheasants about the usual haunts as has been seen for many years—in fact, at the time of going to press—we have yet to hear of anyone who got the limit.

What few birds there are are widely scattered and quite wild.

This scarcity is probably due to the lack of any planting in this section last fall or this spring.

Weather Still Balmly

Weather in the Potlatch country is still quite balmly—and rainy—most of the time. However, the weather man is evidently not in cahoots with the wood or coal dealers and the prediction has been made by some that we are to have a "very light" winter. Here's hoping, for our thermometer is getting old—as well as our clothes.

Deary Has Burglars

Burglars last Thursday night entered three places at Deary. Losses were small, consisting of merchandise and change. About $10 was taken from the postoffice. Other places entered were the W. E. Gorie drug store and the Bennett grocery.

Much Wheat Stored Here

It is estimated by warehousemen that there is something like 270,000 bushels of wheat stored in local warehouses and an estimated 15,000 bushels still held on the farms.

New Arrivals

A six-and-a-half pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. West of Juliaetta, Tuesday evening, October 31.

Mr. and Mrs. August Brammer of Cameron are the parents of a ten-pound daughter, who arrived at their home Sunday, October 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollis Sherbon are the proud parents of a son, born to them Tuesday night, October 31, at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston.

All concerned in the above cases are reported as doing nicely.

KENDRICK SALES DAY WAS BIG SUCCESS

While the weather was somewhat inclement (pouring rain) on Kendrick's Sales Day, Saturday, October 28, there was a good attendance of farmers from the surrounding country and everything went off as scheduled. Of course there would have been a far larger attendance had the weather been better, but the farmers would have been at work had the weather permitted, so in the long run it is believed that the day was as successful as it might have been had the elements behaved. At any rate, everyone seemed to be well satisfied, and the prices received for articles were, on the whole, satisfactory, the sale bringing in some $150.00.

There were at least three parts of the program that had no entries, totaling $6.50 in prizes, that would have been very easily carried away by only one entrant for each event.

The events that were entered were as follows: The oldest settler present—Mrs. Dora Dougharty, American ridge, who came to this section in 1880. Other old settlers registered were: Geo. T. Davidson, who was born here and has been a continuous resident—1881. Mrs. Effie Ware came here in 1882, as did Mrs. G. Hutchison.

The couple having been married the longest were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Blackburn, who were married Dec. 12, 1869. (And we might say right here that Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn are to be congratulated upon their long married life, for it falls to the lot of but few to live together that long.)

The largest table suash was brought in by A. E. Robbins, Juliaetta.

The largest cow pumpkin was exhibited by Chas. Hoffman, Leland.

The largest potato to be exhibited was brought in by Helen Roberts, the weight being one pound, four ounces.

The men's hog-calling contest was won by Walter Clark, Juliaetta, whose voice carried far and it would have been a well-fed porker indeed that would have refused that call.

The best woman hog-caller was Mrs. Geneva Steadman of Little Bear ridge. One man made the remark that almost any kind of hog would get up in the middle of the night to accept such an invitation as was extended by Mrs. Steadman.

A dozen chickens were thrown out among the crowd, the bird belonging to the catcher. This furnished considerable amusement and one dozen chicken dinners to the "finders."

Last, but not least, was the tug of war—Potlatch against the World. Well, since Kendrick is located in the heart of the Potlatch, it is rather hard to admit that "The World" walked away with the $5.00 purse hung up for the winners. Again it must be admitted that the "Potlatch" really had the most "beef" on their end of the rope, but the "World" seemed to have the know-how, and many of them had hob-nails that were quite handy in sticking to the gravelled street. It seems that while the Potlatch was talking, "The World" was digging in and getting ready for the big event—and the street yet shows the marks of the hob-nailed boots that won the pot.

All in all, the Sales Day was a decided success and everyone seemed to have a good time and it is hoped to make it a yearly event, adding more in prizes and to the program of entertainment.

Schupfer Brothers reported a very good attendance at the show Saturday afternoon, for which they charged 15c admission.

Several farmers were heard to remark: "I wish they'd have one of these days about once a month."

Still Confined To Bed

James Emmett, who has been confined to his bed for the past three weeks, seems to be holding his own at this time.

GRAIN MARKETS SHARPLY HIGHER WITH GOLD

Domestic grain markets advanced sharply during the week ended October 27, influenced by the higher quotations on gold in the newly established United States gold market, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat gained 7c to 8c while corn and other feed grains were up 4c to 6c per bushel. Rye advanced about 9c, but gains in flax were only moderate. Marketings of all grains were only moderate and demand became more active as prices advanced. The announcement of a processing tax of 28c per bushel on corn, effective on November 5, together with plans for loans on corn on farms, was an additional strengthening influence in the market for that grain.

The dominant influence in the domestic wheat situation during the week was the advance in prices of gold as quoted on the new United States gold market, established to control the gold value of the Dollar within the United States and to bring about a rise in commodity prices. For many years the world price of gold has been fixed at the London market, where supply and demand has determined price, apart from the National Treasury or Central Bank.

Following the financial crisis of 1931 and the subsequent abandonment of the gold standard by the United Kingdom and other commercially important countries, the London price of gold has advanced steadily to $31.10 per ounce, at current rates of exchange, as against the Statutory British mint price of $20.67, prior to the suspension of the gold standard in the United States and Britain. The domestic price of gold was advanced on October 27, to $31.76 per ounce, or 66c over the London quotation. As exchange currency values have reacted to the advances in the price of gold, the spread between currencies on the gold basis and those of other countries have widened. While commodity prices in countries not on a gold standard have risen in terms of local currency as the gold prices advanced, the unstable currency situation has been an important influence in restricting world trade, particularly in grain.

Domestic cash wheat markets mostly followed the advance in futures and were 7c to 8c higher than a week ago. Marketings of winter wheat were only moderate, with receipts at the principal central and southwestern markets totaling 990 cars compared with 1,583 cars for the corresponding week last year. Mills were fairly active buyers, mostly of special types for blending purposes. Cash premiums fluctuated somewhat during the week, but at the close were about the same as a week ago.

No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Kansas City on October 27, at 82c to 84½c. No. 2 hard winter sold at Chicago at 86c to 87½c, at St. Louis at 89c and at Fort Worth, delivered Galveston rate basis, at 97c per bushel. A good demand prevailed for soft winter wheat and prices gained with other classes. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at the close of the week at St. Louis at 89c to 90c, at Chicago at 86½c to 88c, and at Kansas City at 82c to 88c per bushel.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast wheat markets strengthened with the advance at eastern points, but gains were less, reflecting the lack of an export demand and continued slow inquiry from local mills and industries. Demand was fair at Denver where wheat was moving out to the west and southwest. Dealers were bidding 64c per bushel for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring, F. O. B. Colorado or western Nebraska shipping points at the close of the week. Marketings in the Pacific Northwest were moderate, with receipts at the Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling 437 cars, compared with 506 cars for the corresponding week last year. A feature of the Portland market was the bidding for wheat by the Emergency Export Association. No export sales were reported, but several lots of grain were purchased. Farmers were selling more freely at the higher bids, which on October 27, were on the basis of 77c per bushel for No. 1 soft white wheat, sacked, delivered on track at tide-water terminals. In the cash wheat market, bluestem hard white was quoted at 83c and other classes at 75c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. Local milling inquiry was rather dull and demand from California was quiet. Sales were mostly occasional lots of special milling grain.

GRAIN MARKETS SHARPLY HIGHER WITH GOLD

Northwestern barley markets were steady, with trading and movement fair to good. Demand at Portland continued active for high grade malting and brewing types, although inquiry for feeding types was dull. Growers were displaying a firm holding tendency, particularly for top grade malting barley. No. 2 bright western was quoted at Portland on October 26 at 90c per 100, sacked.

The oats markets were irregularly higher with other grains. Pacific Northwestern oats markets declined in contrast with the firmness in the situation in other areas. Slackening in demand from eastern markets for Oregon oats was the principal weakening factor in the Pacific Northwest. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.10 and No. 2 gray at $1.15 per 100. Offerings at Kansas City were extremely light and order buyers were unable to supply inquiries.

Hallowe'en Night
 (by Wayne Wegner)

On Hallowe'en night the boys have fun,
 In doing their many pranks;
 But they must beware of the farmer's gun,
 For the farmer gets the "cranks."

But the boys will get his wagon turned o'er,
 And carry his gate away,
 And boy, won't that farmer be mad,
 When he wakes up the next day.

He'll find the wheels are off his buggy
 And his harrows are upside down;
 The barn doors are all nailed shut,
 And his fence posts scattered around.

To get his wagon upright again,
 His neighbor must help call.
 The neighbor laughs, but the farmer says,
 "It's not so funny at all."

New Type Mystery Story
If you've gotten to the point—and many have—where you shudder each time you see a murder mystery advertised at a theatre, you'll enjoy "Guilty as Hell," which will be at the Kendrick Theatre Friday and Saturday nights, November 3 and 4. For here, at last, is a murder picture to end murder pictures. It "kids" all the other murder pictures you've ever seen; it's really funny; and at the same time, there's enough suspense in it to keep everybody happy.

Edmund Lowe and Viktor McLaglen, the battling buddies of previous pictures, are starred with Richard Arlen in "Guilty as Hell," adapted from the successful play, "Riddle Me This," which enjoyed a long run on Broadway last season.

They are cast as a reporter and a detective, who are called in to solve a murder that the audience sees committed at the opening of the film. The audience knows who's guilty of the crime, but McLaglen and Lowe don't. And their bungling efforts to solve it, though they are finally successful, are, meanwhile, highly amusing.
