KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1933

NO. 49

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Alfred E. Smith broke openly last Friday with President Roosevelt's monetary program, declaring he was for "sound money" and a return to the gold standard. "I am for gold dollars as against bologna dollars," said the former governor in an editorial to be published in the December issue of the New Outlook. "I am for experience as against experiment. If I must choose between private management of business and the management of a government bureaucracy, I am for private management. If I must choose between the leaders of the past, with all the errors they have made and with all the selfishness they have been guilty of, and the inexperienced young college professors who hold no responsible public office but are perfectly willing to turn 130,000,000 Americans into guinea pigs for experimentation, I am going to be for the people who have made the country what it is. And I say this with full knowledge of the fact that there are many things in the old order of society which I should like to have changed and which I do not applaud or even condone."

Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty declared he was ready to go to trial immediately against Dr. Alice Wynekoop, 62 year old Chicago physician, who confessed that she shot her daughter-in-law, Reta, 23. The doctor's confession, obtained by police and attested by herself before a coroner's jury, insisted, however, that the death was accidental from chloroform administered to relieve pain during a physical examination. Dr. Wynekoop said that after the girl was dead on the operating table in the basement office of the 16-room Wynekoop mansion she became panicky and fired a bullet through Reta's back to give the death the appearance of a slaying by murder.

Senator Borah, Idaho republican, jumped into the free-for-all battle over President Roosevelt's monetary program Saturday with a direct challenge to critics of the price-raising plan to offer something in its place other than "the policy under which we arrived at our present disastrous condition." Borah's challenge was made in a formal statement directed at Alfred E. Smith and others who have recently attacked the president's monetary policies.

The two confessed kidnapers of Brooke L. Hart were lynched at San Jose, Calif., Sunday night by a mob incited to fury by discovery of the 22-year-old store executive's body in San Francisco bay. The two men, Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, both members of respected San Jose families, were hanged from a tree in St. James park, 100 yards from the county jail, which was wrecked by the mob.

With the suspension of two more non-Nazi pastors Sunday the lines became clear for what was generally considered a decisive struggle for supremacy in the German protestant church. Prayers were said for the two pastors in 3,000 non-Nazi churches throughout the reich. They were the Rev. Mr. Voiet of Berlin and Boitzenburg and the Rev. Mr. Ohse of Mecklenburg, Nazi Christian leader. The impending schism in the protestant ranks received further impetus when Nazi Christians in Thuringia demand a policy even more radical than that of Hossenfelder. The Thuringians said they wanted "a new interpretation of Bishop Hossenfelder's idea in the spirit of the third reich."

May Build New Infirmary

The Latah board of county commissioners have in mind the erection of a new county infirmary (poor farm building) to cost in the neighborhood of $45,000. The building, as tentatively planned, would be of brick construction, two stories in height, with two wings, each containing 21 separate rooms. The plans will be first submitted to the state public works board. If approved there the plan will be forwarded to Washington for approval.

Of the $45,000 estimated cost, the government will put up 30 per cent of the cost. Under the plan Latah county would have to borrow $31,500, at a low rate of interest, repayment to run over a period of 30 years.

Can Now Get Cold Drink

If you ever get that far away from home, you can now get a cold drink in Iceland. They repealed their prohibition law last Monday by a vote of 15,884 to 11,624.

Bridge Club Holds Session

The members of the afternoon bridge club and their husbands held a very pleasant supper-bridge party in their new club rooms last Friday evening when the game was played at seven tables. Supper was served at 6:30, the hostesses being Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. George Leith, Mrs. R. H. Ramey and Mrs. Wade Keene. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Higley made high combined score for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Higley were invited guests.

CIVIL WORKS PROGRAM STARTED HERE TUESDAY

The much-talked-of and much-heralded road work under the Civil Works administration finally got underway here Tuesday morning, when some 42 men were put to work in three sections of this district: On the Cedar Creek road, Brady Gulch and at Juliaetta, they sharing in the work to be done in this section of the county.

No one seems to be real sure just how much money will be ready to be expended, or even just what it is all about yet, but anyway the men have been ordered to put men to work on the roads, the work to be done by hand wherever possible. It is estimated that there will be some $25,000 expended on the road between the Nez Perce county line, below Juliaetta, to the Cedar Creek road. This section of the county takes in Good Roads Districts Nos. 1 and 2 and the Kendrick Highway district. Juliaetta is in Good Road District No. 2 and Kendrick is included in the Kendrick Highway district and both towns will be benefitted thereby.

It is likely that the men will be shifted somewhat from the present lineup as the work gets underway, but that all looking for work will undoubtedly be taken on and kept busy all the time. The pay is understood to be 55 cents per hour for unskilled labor and $1.20 per hour for skilled labor, which should bring many dollars to those in need of work and will practically do away with other relief work in this section, especially among those families who have men folks.

There will probably be more real information next week as things get settled down to business.

Among the projects to be taken up in Nez Perce county that will be of interest to the people of this section is the Arrow-Juliaetta link that will be regraded and surfaced and the two dangerous railroad crossings eliminated, if that part of the intended project is carried out.

Flour Bootleggers Spring Up

The little pigs that go to market in Idaho after November 1 will have a federal price on their heads—but that is only one of the troubles of John Viley, collector of internal revenue.

Most acute of his present problems is "bootlegging"—of flour!

"We get complaints from merchants, millers and others that farmers are violating their privilege of having their own flour milled without paying the processing tax. They appear to be securing large quantities of it to peddle around in exchange for other commodities. I can't understand why this should be the case, since the farmers are the ones primarily for whom the tax is collected. The money collected is to be paid back to them under the various adjustment schedules.

"They are required to sign affidavits that the flour they receive from the mill in exchange for wheat is for their own consumption. Reports we have indicate the amount some families consume is appalling.

His field deputies are checking on numbers of cases, he said.

The job of rounding up the hog processing tax he expects to be quite difficult in view of the number who come under it.

"I estimate that as a minimum Idaho has 500 hog processing plants. That includes all plants which kill hogs for market. Each plant must pay to the government the amount of the tax. Hogs killed for consumption by the owners are not subject to the tax. A farmer killing a hog for market is subject to the tax—not the butcher who buys the hog."

"However," the collector added, summing up his duties, "we'll get along some way."

When the government starts weeding out unfair competition—that's when the busy days will begin.

OFFICER PERSONNEL CCC CAMP S-260 NEAR TROY

The following officer personnel of CCC Company 244, Camp S-260, located near Troy, has been received from Lieut. Charles R. Kirby. Lieut. Kirby states that "As the officers are in town from time to time, this article will serve to familiarize the citizens with the officer personnel."

The 244th Company, of Troy, Idaho, plans to dedicate its new flag pole this coming week. The pole will be placed in front of the administration building, and a flag which has been with the company since its formation at Camp Dix, New Jersey, will be unfurled. Mrs. F. B. Laney of Moscow, in behalf of the Daughters of the American Revolution, offered to present to the company an American flag if it did not already possess one. The company commander, Capt. Murphy, was deeply moved by this kind offer and heartily thanked the women, through Mrs. Laney, in the name of the officers and men of his command.

Captain John G. Murphy, 62nd Coast Artillery, U. S. A., was relieved this week from temporary duty with the CCC and was ordered to Fort Totten, New York, his original post. The company, to a man, regret that Captain Murphy had to leave but appreciate his anxiety to return to Mrs. Murphy and their three kiddies, whom he has not seen for many months.

Since the relief of Captain Murphy, the company has a new commanding officer, Lieut. C. R. Crandall, U. S. N., who is assisted by Lieut. Arthur F. Blasiar, U. S. N., executive officers; First Lieut. Charles R. Kirby, F. A., who is in charge of company administration; Second Lieut. Irving J. Brokaw, C. A., who is responsible for the management of mess and supplies, and First Lieut. Ray Currie, Medical Corps, camp surgeon.

Lieutenant C. R. Crandall was born in Ohio and has served for many years in the navy as a deck and engineering officer aboard battleships and auxiliary ships of both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. During the war he was aboard the transport De Kalb, which traveled in convoy through the war zone carrying troops to France.

Lieut. Arthur F. Blasiar, U. S. N., second in command, was ordered to this company from the U. S. naval gun factory in Washington, D. C. For many years prior to the war, Lieut. Blasiar was an aviator affiliated with the Sperry Gyroscope company of New York. He held a commission in the naval reserve and was called to active duty at the outbreak of the war and remained in the service. Lieut. Blasiar has served in many parts of the world.

First Lieut. Charles R. Kirby, of the Field Artillery section of the U. S. Army reserve, is a native of New York City, and a descendent of an old Colonial family. During the entire period of the war he was with the army transport service at Hoboken, N. J., and later he was assigned to sea duty. He served aboard the transports America and St. Michael, carrying troops to the tropics and to Europe. For three years he served with the 104th field artillery of the New York national guard and later attended the Field Artillery school at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He is a member of the Army and Navy club, New York, and the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, New York.

Second Lieut. Irving J. Brokaw of the 619th Coast Artillery, who resides in New York City, was educated at the New York Military Academy and later attended the University of Virginia. While at the military academy he was Captain of Company "C", which in final competition was adjudged the best drilled company in the battalion. He qualified as a pistol and rifle expert in the army and devotes much time to target practice. He is a member of several pistol teams in the east.

First Lieut. Ray Currie, Medical Corps Reserve, is a native of Spokane. Lieutenant Currie graduated from the University of Idaho and later the Northwestern Medical School at Chicago. Prior to his acceptance of a commission in the Medical Corps he held a commission in the Field Artillery.

An Omission

In reporting the names of those in attendance at the parties given in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyle and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Keene last week, the names of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker were inadvertently omitted, they being among those in attendance at both.

ASSERTS NRA WILL CHANGE METHODS OF ADVERTISING

Chicago—Merchants, bankers, manufacturers and all other lines of business must advertise more and in a new way, according to Maj. A. Heath Onthank, chief of the code control division of NRA, in an address before an advertising association last week. He said that as a result of the setting up and enforcement of standard cost-accounting systems by industries, and the likelihood that through their governing boards industries will prohibit members selling below their own costs, the price factor, which has been "almost the sole determinant," will be supplanted by other factors of more importance.

"The good old-fashioned selling factor of ability, strength, service and salesmanship will again have a real influence," he declared, and added: "It is safe to state that there will be a large increase in all advertising. It will be necessary for everyone to tell the revised story of quality, safety and service in addition to the hackneyed theme of income and price. Advertising will change in both appeal and kind. Copy standards may change to reach new markets with the most productive message."

Highway Work In Winter Aim

The bureau of public roads is considering direct action to force continuous highway work during the coming winter season, says a Washington dispatch.

The bureau plans to issue an order shortly directing state highway departments in letting contracts to limit sharply the time for completion so as to require contractors to keep their forces busy, even though work may have to be done in inclement weather.

Heretofore, highway building in the northern part of the country, and to some extent in other sections, has come to a comparative standstill in winter. But now, faced with the necessity of keeping men employed during the most difficult relief period of the year, the bureau was described officially as determined to keep the let-down to a minimum.

State highway organizations have been prodded on several occasions by Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, to quicken their movements so as to take full advantage of the $400,000,000 fund the bureau is disbursing.

Would "Make" Money

Just when our own Idaho Bill Borah is urging the need of manufacturing more money a Dutchman over at Seattle by the name of Marinus van Houte, a native of Holland, conceived the idea of helping things along and was doing fairly well at the job when secret service men gathered him in, finding a complete counterfeiting outfit, several newly-made dollars and a weapon of defense. It seems that some people just can't make a little money without someone interfering.

Visit White House

Al. Smith made a "social" call on President Roosevelt the other day and Dame Rumor has it that Henry Ford was thinking of making a call on the president. If Bill Hurst and Bill Borah would make a few calls on him it might help things out. Neither one of them agree with the president's plan of managing the government—but for that matter they would never agree with anyone they couldn't run.

Uncle Sam Is Broke

The position of the treasury on October 5 was: Receipts, $29,317,260.04; expenditures, $16,560,107.52; balance, $1,160,728,267.79; customs receipts for month, $5,179,526.18.

Receipts for the fiscal year to date (since July 1) $759,032,103.46; expenditures, $985,953,776.41, including $305,806,499.98 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures over income, $226,921,673.95.

Your Taxes Are Due

The first half of your real and all of your personal taxes (if you have no real estate listed) are now due and payable and will become delinquent after December 23. Either local bank will take care of you in this matter.

Brought Home From Hospital

Miss Allene Rider, who underwent an operation for appendicitis recently at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, was brought home Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Rider going down after her. She is getting along nicely.

$5 Gold Piece Not Worth Face

The Portland city treasurer has found out that a $5 gold piece is no longer necessarily worth $5 and consequently the Portland city water bureau is "out" 12 cents.

A customer paid a bill to the water bureau with a $5 gold piece. The money was sent to a bank, and William Adams, city treasurer, was informed that all gold coins must now be weighed and the value determined by the value of the gold. The $5 gold piece "weighed" $4.88. The water bureau had to make up the 12 cents out of its "over and short" account.

BEAN SITUATION IN THE U. S.—AND IDAHO

The October 1 crop report indicates a gain of nearly a million bags in the dry bean crop over the September 1 estimates, due mainly to favorable conditions during September in Michigan. The effect of this improvement is to bring the total crop of dry, edible beans to 10,771,000 bags of 100 pounds each, compared with 10,164,000 bags produced in 1932, 12,706,000 in 1931, and a 1926-1930 average of 11,107,000 bags.

Production in Idaho is placed at 1,512,000 bags compared with 1,060,000 last year. This represents an increase of 42.7 per cent over the 1932 production for the state and a 16.3 per cent increase over the 5-year average. Production in California increased 35.7 per cent over the short crop of last year, but decreased 10.8 per cent below the 1926-1930 average. Production in the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Montana increased 1,077,000 bags this year over 1932, but failed to equal their 1926-1930 average production by 327,000 bags.

Dry bean stocks held in California warehouses on October 1 this year equaled 754,155 bags, compared with 1,155,517 bags in 1932 and 1,775,114 in 1931. These holdings consist of both old and new crop beans, with the new crop still moving in. 508,092 bags of the total stock on October 1 represent the increase in storage holdings over September 1.

During August 16,986 bags of beans were imported into the United States. This is the largest quantity imported in any month since June of 1931 and compares with 8,522 bags imported during August 1932. Total imports into the United States during the twelve months, September to August of this season, amounted to 101,575 bags as compared with 114,682 bags imported during the 1931-1932 season. Net trade data show that net exports of dry beans from the United States amounted to 16,000 bags the past season compared with 72,000 bags during the 1931-1932 season. In addition 386,512 bags were shipped to Puerto Rico, 16,805 bags to Hawaii and 4,052 bags to Alaska this season, making the total net movement from the mainland of the United States over 423,000 bags.

Shipments of dry beans from points of origin in the principal bean producing states during September totaled 686,319 bags, compared with 339,215 bags shipped in the previous month. Idaho shipped 134,256 bags in September and 49,570 in August of 1933. Michigan had the greatest shipments, with 280,354 bags for September.

The California bean market remained generally quiet during September and the first 20 days in October. San Francisco prices on the principal classes of beans have been gradually moving downward since mid-August. The average decline on all varieties during the period August 12 to October 20 was $1.20 per 100 pounds. Idaho small whites and Great Northerns have been securing the bulk of the Pacific Northwestern business for these varieties of beans during the past month.

Demand for beans during September and the first half of October was materially under normal for this season of the year, due to continued light demand from leading eastern consuming centers, weakness in other farm commodities and prospects for somewhat heavier outturns on some varieties than previously estimated. Wholesalers and retailers continued the hand-to-mouth buying policy they have followed the past year. Therefore any improvement in consumers' demand will have an immediate effect upon the market. It is expected that the declining market price will result in lighter offerings in the next two weeks, and indications are for a material improvement in consumer demand from eastern sections, so prices should soon regain recent losses.

MARKETS LOWER—NOVEMBER GAINS MOSTLY LOST

Domestic grain markets tended downward during the week ended on November 24. Wheat lost most of the advance since the first of the month, while corn and oats lost about half of their recent gains, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The agitation with regard to the monetary situation was the dominant factor in grain futures and prices declined with reports of liquidation in the December and more distant deliveries. Cash grains mostly followed the trend of futures, with prices 3c to 5c lower than a week ago. Offerings were only moderate, but demand was generally slow.

Little change occurred in the general wheat situation during the week. Growth of winter wheat in the Ohio valley was checked by colder weather while lack of moisture retarded developments in western and southern section of the main belt. Winter grain was reported in good condition in Washington and Idaho, but more moisture was needed in both Oregon and California. Agreements signed by growers now indicate that about 8-100,000 acres of wheat will be taken out of production for the 1933-34 season under the acreage reduction program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Domestic cash wheat markets declined with futures, but were influenced also by the particularly dull demand for flour. Marketings of winter wheat continued moderate, with 1,073 cars received in the principal central and southwestern markets. Arrivals at Kansas City were larger than during the previous week and while a large percentage was on previous sales, more wheat was available in the cash market. Milling inquiry was dull because of the light flour trade and elevator interests were the principal buyers to replace grain moving out on previous sales.

Spring wheat markets were weak and lower, despite light receipts which totaled only 637 cars at Minneapolis and Duluth. Milling inquiry was slow, but cash premiums were well maintained.

Pacific Coast markets weakened along with eastern points, but prices at Portland declined only about 1c per bushel under the influence of continued purchases by the Emergency Export Corporation. Marketing increased as a result of the export movement and arrivals at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals totaled 746 cars. Export sales for the week by the Emergency Export Association amounted to around 3,250,000 bushels, bringing the total to about 6,500,000 bushels. In addition, approximately 1,000,000 bushels were sold as flour. A sale to Antwerp during the week was the first from the northwest to that country in the past two years. Other sales were to the Orient, Central and South America and Europe. Local mill demand was quiet and sales to California and Atlantic Seaboard markets were only moderate. Prices on bluestem hard white advanced about 1c, with No. 1 hard white quoted at 77c per bushel. Dark hard winter was unchanged at 79c, while export grades were steady at 74c per bushel for No. 1 wheat, sacked. Bids by the Emergency Export Association for No. 1 soft white, sacked, delivered on track at tidewater terminals, were 75c per bushel on November 24.

California markets were quiet, with prices 2 1/2c to 5c per 100 lower than a week ago. Marketings of local wheat were only moderate but were nearly sufficient for current needs and only a few cars of milling wheat were purchased from northern and intermountain states. Bay region mills reported moderate sales of flour, but were using mostly wheat purchased early in the season. Demand for feed wheat was slight.

Foreign markets were steadier than domestic markets. An export trade was a strengthening influence in the Canadian markets and prices at Winnipeg declined only about 1c per bushel. No. 1 Manitoba was quoted in that market, November 24, at 63 1/2c, equivalent in U. S. money to 64 1/2c. The prices of native wheat in the principal European markets held practically unchanged in local currencies. The import duty on wheat in the Netherlands was advanced to 27c per bushel in American money at current rates of exchange. Russian wheat was quoted November 24 at 60c, Argentine at 61 1/2c, Australian wheat for November shipment at 76 1/2c, No. 1 Manitoba at 83 1/2c and United States

 Is now at hand . . . and we all have many things for which to be thankful . . . perhaps it is for continued good health alone . . . but isn't that a lot?

Commemorating Thanksgiving
 In 1621 our Pilgrim forefathers thanked God for his protection from the rigors of a new, undeveloped land. Today a courageous president bids us join in thanking God . . . this time for bringing us through an unprecedented period the trials of which are largely due to too rapid development of the same country. We have much more to be thankful for than a year ago . . . with patriotic cooperation we can solve the problems ahead.
 Let us all bow our heads and make it a true day of Thanksgiving.

MARKETS LOWER—NOVEMBER GAINS MOSTLY LOST

wheat at 68 1/4c per bushel.
World shipments were only moderate, with 1,297,000 bushels reported shipped from the Southern Hemisphere countries and 1,784,000 bushels from Black Sea ports. Of the latter shipments, 1,400,000 bushels were from Russia.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet, with trading light in both feeding and malting grades. The market tone, however, remained quite steady with light offerings by growers the principal firming influence. Prices held about unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 bright western barley, sacked, quoted at Portland November 23 and 92 1/2c per 100.

Oats markets were dull, with prices tending downward in sympathy with the weakness in other grains and only moderate demand. Pacific Northwest markets were independently firm despite the heavy receipts which were the largest in the past five weeks. An inquiry for Oregon oats and continued moderate but steady sales and movement by water to Atlantic seaboard markets were the principal strengthening influences in the market situation. Inquiry for oats and barley for rail shipments to middle-western states, including the Dakotas, were also strengthening features. At the close of the market Nov. 23, No. 2 white oats, sacked, were quoted at Portland at $1.12 1/2 per 100, or about 2 1/2c over a week ago. No. 2 gray oats, sacked, were unchanged at $1.15 per 100. Middlewestern markets were around 6c to 7c lower than a week ago, with continued slack demand for current offerings.

Better Be Careful

In giving us the ad. for the Vollmer-Clearwater company this week, advertising Egg Mash, Wade Keene, manager of that institution, said we had better warn the purchasers of this mash not to feed it to pullets as it might make them lay too early and too many eggs for their young constitutions; but that it would make good hens lay better and poor hens lay good. We're just about in the notion of getting a hen and trying it out.

Athletics

After playing a fifth quarter in a very hard-fought game the Deary team defeated the Tigers at Deary on Friday evening, November 24. The difference in the size of the floor, combined with the spectacular shots of Waide, captain of the Deary five, were the main contributing factors to the defeat. However, the boys played a very good game in holding the victors to a three-point margin on a floor to which they were not accustomed.

The girls' basketball team defeated the Southwick girls last Thursday at Southwick with a score of 24-16. This was a practice game—the first time either team has played this season. In a return game last Tuesday at Kendrick the Kendrick girls again defeated Southwick with a score of 33-17.

The Wind

(Wayne Wegner)
The summer wind's breeze is gladly received,

By the worker everywhere,
And when it comes it is believed.
He utters a word of prayer.
The autumn wind is hot and dry,
And blows leaves from the trees;
It tells the birds that winter is nigh,
That period when all things freeze.
The winter wind is cold and stinging,
And usually comes from the north;
During his reign no birds are signing,
And few animals venture forth.
But the spring wind is best of all,
For it melts the remaining snow,
And cheers the hearts in every wall,
Wherever it does blow.

Mr. Lyle—"Clem, what is cohesion?"
Clem Lyons—"The after effect of two cars each keeping in the center of the road."

EDITORIAL

Well, Well, Folks—Here we are again with our usual line of chatter, but we sincerely mean every word we say in these editorials. And right now we are manufacturing butter—not a great deal, it is true, but we're mighty proud of it—we think it's really good and we'd like to have you try a pound of it—and give us your honest opinion of the quality. And you cream sellers—we want to buy that cream. It don't make a bit of difference how much or how little you have to sell—we want to buy it. We'll pay you in spot cash the best market price possible for us to pay—give you the best service we know how to give—and return a thoroughly sterilized can—what more can any man do?

One reason bootlegging has been so successful is that, from the start it has been conducted on a cash and carry basis.

Customer: "That chicken I purchased here yesterday had no wish-bone."

Frank Rider: "He was a happy and contented chicken, ma'm, he had nothing to wish for."

Government To Remove Slums

The federal government Saturday formed a housing corporation to provide low cost dwellings and to clear away slums in cities where such work otherwise would not be undertaken.

The Public Works Emergency Housing corporation, owned entirely by the government, was incorporated under the laws of Delaware.

The articles of incorporation, as approved by Secretary Ickes, provide that it may "construct, reconstruct, alter and repair" low cost housing of slum clearance projects, including houses, homes and structures "of every nature and kind."

"College Humor" a Great Picture

"College Humor," a tip-top musical comedy, will be shown at the Kendrick Theatre (Thanksgiving night) Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The cast is made up of many real picture stars, such as Bing Crosby (a real songster), Burns and Allen, Richard Arlen, Mary Carlisle, Jack Oakie and the "Ox-Road Co-eds."

The first thing Barney Shirrel, a cocky high school graduate learns when he gets to Midwest University and is pledged Delta Alpha, is to "Sir" the older men in his fraternity, and to lend them money and clean shirts upon demand.

The second thing is that the "Old Ox-Road" is not a highway leading to any particular place but rather a general term for the students' principal amusement—necking. More attention, he learns, is paid to the Ox Road than to studies, and even the professors don't seem to care.

This is anything but bad news to Barney, and he proceeds to investigate the matter with Amber, a girl from the Omicron house, while Mon- drake, an upper classman and football star, is leading the way with Ginger, his gal.

And so the story goes—it's a really fine musical comedy with lots of snappy songs and dances—and it's almost a certainty that you'll enjoy it.

Big Increase In Idaho Accidents

During the nine months ending in October, 169 persons were killed in automobile accidents in Idaho and property damage of $23,905 was caused, compared with 13 deaths and $30,135 the previous year, department of law enforcement officers announced.

During the period there were 193 accidents reported compared with 143 in the same period of 1932; 153 were injured, an increase from 146 the year previous.

During September of this year, 26 accidents were reported compared with 16 in September of 1932. Injuries dropped to 15 from 20 the year before, but the number killed climbed from two in September of 1932 to seven last September.

U. S. Currency At Discount

Gyrations of the dollar in the foreign exchange markets of the world have created an unusual problem for residents along the Canadian border.

For the first time in many years, the currency that less than a year ago commanded a premium of 24 per cent when exchanged for Canadian funds, now is at a discount.

Two years and a few months ago, the several thousand residents of the Canadian border cities who worked in Detroit found suddenly that each dollar of their pay checks was worth a dollar and five cents when they crossed the Detroit river.

Now it is Canada's turn to figure discounts, but so far the majority are accepting United States currency at par. The banks are collecting the discount specified by exchange rates, but for all practical purposes the commuter or casual visitor from the states finds his money at no disadvantage.

State Banks Show Gain

Idaho state banks made a gain of nearly a million dollars during the year ended October 25, the date of the last bank call, Ben Diefendorf, commissioner of finance, reported.

During the same period, he reported, the banks gained almost two million dollars in cash and cut down borrowings from the federal reserve bank by $900,000.

The report placed the decrease in deposits at only $201,000 despite a decrease in the number of state banks by 14. The report does not cover national banks.

At present there are 64 state banks. The total deposits, as listed in the report, were: $28,206,218 this year compared with $28,408,062 a year ago. Time deposits dropped from $11,735,932 a year ago to $10,374,200 this year and demand deposits increased from $16,672,129 to $17,832,017. Cash in banks increased from $5,001,734 last year to $6,699,481.

Attend Bank Meeting

H. B. Thompson and E. H. Emery of the Kendrick State Bank attended a meeting of the Clearwater group of the Idaho Bankers' association. Hawkin Melgard of Moscow was elected president for the ensuing year.

The latest NRA story concerns the said fate of a man who was given Tuesday off as a result of the five-day week and his wife changed wash day to Tuesday.

LIGHT IS A FOE OF CRIME

Prowlers have great fear of light.

A darkened home, however, is a working paradise for them. But with a sudden light they drop their tools of the night and scurry away.

Don't give them a chance to start their work in your home. Burn a light always! The cost is almost insignificant. To burn a 40-watt lamp for several hours costs less than a penny.
