The Freshmen for the second time were the only class given a quarter holiday for their record attendance during the second six-weeks' period. They maintained an average attendance of 97 per cent throughout the last six weeks with less than three tardy marks.

Allene Rider returned to school this week after an illness. An effort is being made to schedule a game for the girls with the championship girls' team of the Prairie League, providing our girls make a creditable showing in the games they have already scheduled.

The Physics class is making an intensive review of all they have covered up to this time.

Typing II class is writing leases. The manual training boys are making towel racks for the Home Economics room.

The Home Economics girls are studying salads in connection with lunches.

The General Science class is studying heating systems and water meters.

Typing I students are handing in weakly assignments of about six pages each and are not allowed more than six mistakes.

Bookkeeping students this week took one of the hardest tests that has been given—concerning the nature of account, financial statements, and the closing and ruling of the ledger.

Spanish class is emphasizing pronunciation.

The Girls' Glee club is practicing on Christmas music.

The Southwick High school basketball team will play its first conference game of the season with Genesee here on Saturday, December 16. Although the Southwick hoopers are for the most part inexperienced the workout with the town team last Friday which ended 24-21 for the All-Stars, would indicate that the Leopards have possibilities of a strong team.

Although the girls' squad has not been able to schedule a regular season, it is probable that a number of double-header games will be arranged, among them a contest with Lapwai. The girls played a mixed team Friday, the all-high group winning easily with a 33-10 count.

The other games as scheduled, with the first four home games, are: Peck, Jan. 6; Kendrick, Jan. 12; Lapwai, Jan. 19; Culdesac, Jan. 26. The following games are to be played away from home: Genesee, Feb. 2; Peck, Feb. 9; Kendrick, Feb. 23; Lapwai, Feb. 14; Culdesac, Feb. 16.

The Southwick Student Association met last Friday at the last period. Among other business was the adoption of the Constitution as revised and amended by the committee appointed for that purpose. Names were drawn for the annual exchange of Christmas gifts among students and teachers. Carl Mustoe was elected from four candidates for yell king.

A new regulation governing exemptions from six weeks and semester examinations based on attendance as well as grades was posted on the bulletin board Tuesday. Hereafter a student who has a "B" average and has been neither absent nor tardy during the period will be exempt. Students with an "A" average will be allowed one days' absence only.

The High school together with the grades, is busy on its part in the school and community program, which is an annual custom here. The program will be presented on the evening of December 22, which is the night before vacation begins. There will be one week and a day of vacation this year.

Wiring materials have been purchased and the class rooms of the school will be wired during Christmas vacation. There are many times during the day when artificial lights are badly needed so this installation is certainly a worthwhile improvement.

Those on the honor roll for the second period in the high school are: Freshmen—Doris Armitage, Dorothy Bateman, Daniel Betts; Sophomores—Wayne Pippinger, Irene Martin; Juniors—Alvira Flesman, Naomi Armitage, Elaine Lettenmaier; Seniors—Dorothy Miller, Eva McCoy.

With the first Monday in December the time schedule was changed for daylight saving purposes. Dismissal is at 3:15, which is one-half hour earlier than formerly. Noon dismissal is at 11:50 with school taking up at 12:30.

WELCOMES THE FRIEND
WARNS THE INTRUDER!

A brilliant porch light welcomes the friend and warns the intruder. To the friend it shows that the hostess is thoughtful. The guest feels his company really is desired.

To the intruder it is the sign of warning. It notifies him that the piercing eye of light is ready to expose him.

Because of the extremely low electric service rate, the cost is insignificant. To burn your porch light for several hours costs less than a penny.

Hello—Everybody! Here it is with Santa Claus about ready to start on his trip south—and everybody in need of a little cash—well, here's the solution—bring us in a can of cream—we're just aching to pay you the cash for it.

Have you tried our butter yet? If you haven't, go to any of the stores in town and get a pound—if they happen to be out—come to us. We're proud of our product—we want you to try it—we know you too will like its tasty flavor—remember, it's made from only the cream of the cream we get.

With Violet cuddling in his arms he drove his car, poor silly. Where once he held his Violet, he now holds a lily.

Wife. (to husband) "Oh, John, you're drunk again! I can smell 'lifesavers' on your breath."

At least when flying an airplane the noise of the motor drowns out any comment from the rear seat.

The measure of a man's real character is what he would do if he knew he would never be found out.

Wonderful Hours of Christmas

CHARLES FREDERICK WADSWORTH

What a pattering and scampering of eager little feet!
 What a look of joyous wonder in the little eyes that stare!
 Was there ever Christmas morning more exciting, more complete,
 As the little hands explore the piles of presents everywhere?

From the kitchen comes the whirring of the beater in its haste,
 And the sklop-sklop of the spoon as Mother stirs another cake,
 With the clicking of the oven as the turkey gets a baste,
 And a hundred teasing odors dinner preparations make!

Now the dining-room is crowded as the folks come trooping in,
 Take their seats and bow in silence as Dad says the Christmas grace,
 Then the clatter and the chatter and the laughter make a din
 That's a tribute from each merry heart and happy, smiling face.

As the darkness settles down again the lights upon the tree
 Seem to glow a benediction on the gladness of the day,
 Like the star that stood o'er Bethlehem for all the world to see
 And to lead the Wise Men to the place where little Jesus lay.

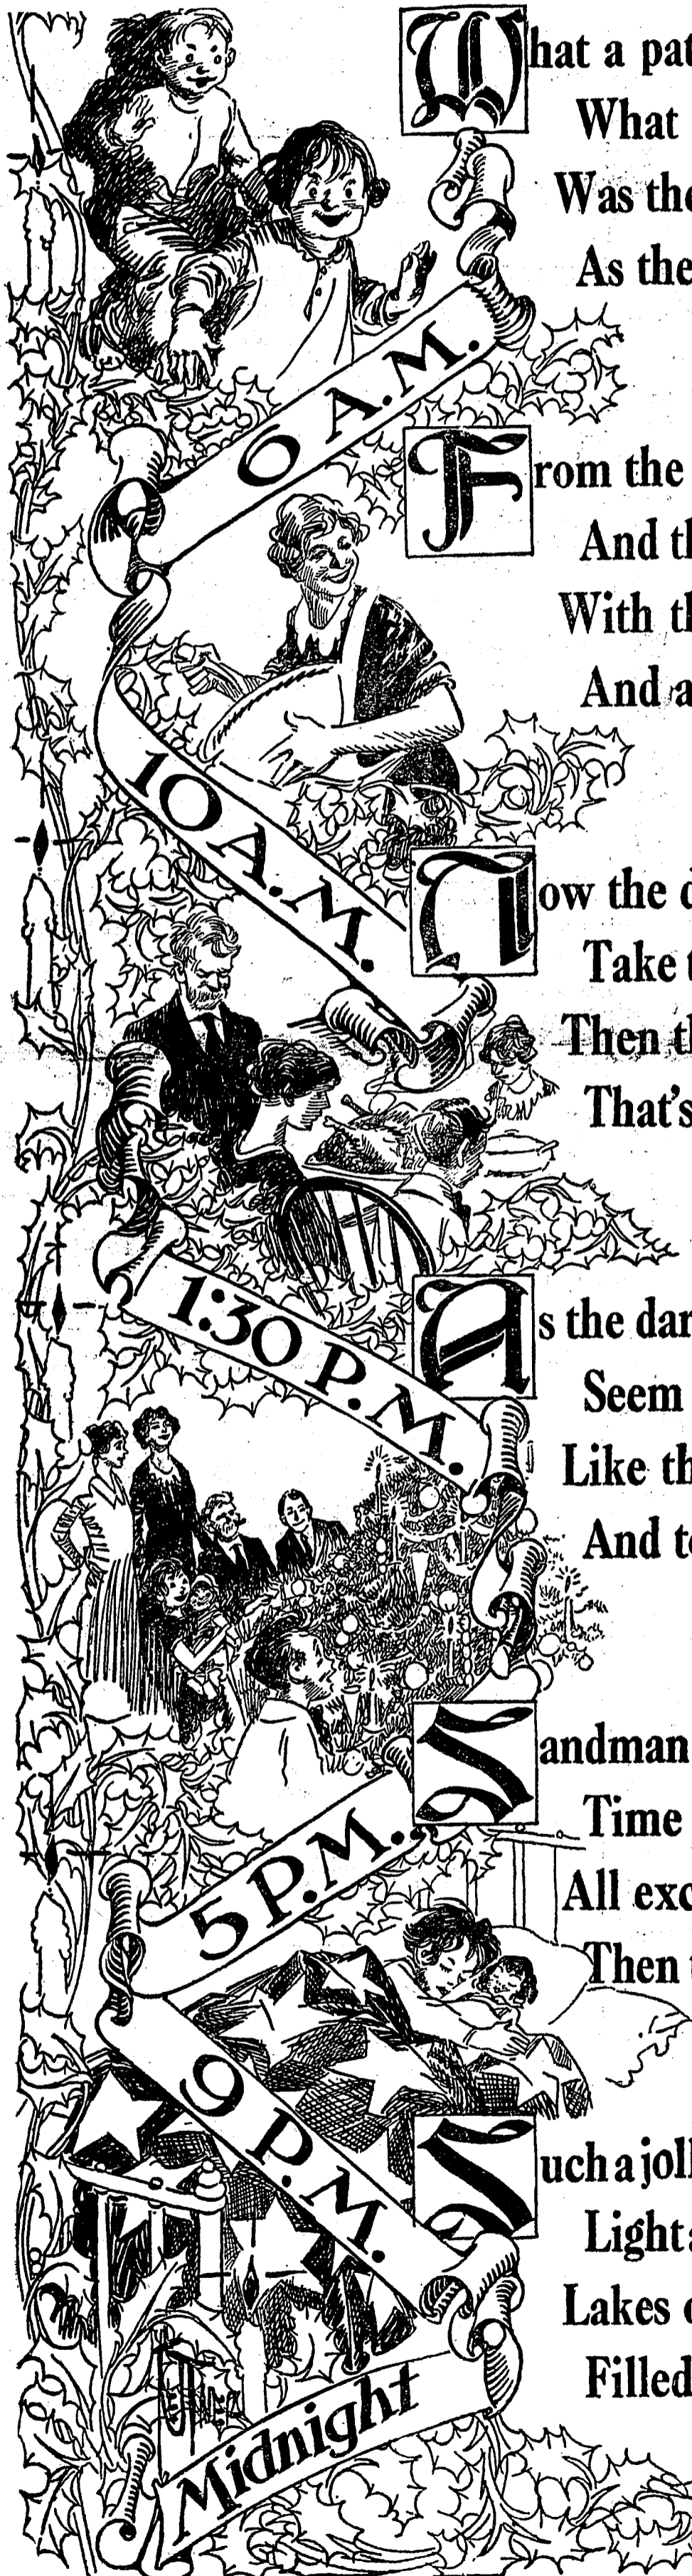

Sandman brings a little wand to wave above each drowsy head;
 Time to gather all the trinkets up and put each one away—
 All except a doll or teddy bear to cuddle up in bed—
 Then the nighties and pajamas and the little prayers to say.

Such a jolly trip through Dreamland with the streets all paved with pie!
 Light and phone poles made of candy and the wires of popcorn strings!
 Lakes of ice cream, cakes for houses reaching half way to the sky,
 Filled with all the nicest presents that a Christmas ever brings!

Charges Grocery Bill To Hoover

A woman with five children tagging at her skirts entered a Boise cash and carry grocery store, took a basket and began to fill it with things to eat. In appearance the family was decidedly ragged. Desperation had written lines in faces, worn tattered clothing thin.

"All packages were carefully inspected. It was a heavy laden basket by the time the woman had reached the cashier's stall, smiled and said: 'Just charge it to Mr. Hoover.'"

By the time the cashier had recovered and located the store manager the woman and her brood had disappeared.

The manager scratched his head.

"Well," he said, "if she had the nerve to do it, I guess I have the heart to let her get away with it this time."

$2,500 For Jobless Teachers

J. W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, announced that Idaho had authority to use $2,500 a month of civil works funds for giving jobs to unemployed teachers.

Condie said there were 261 teachers on the relief lists in the various counties and as fast as jobs can be worked out for them as auxiliary teachers in local schools or to handle adult classes, they will be put to work.

Bits of Nonsense

Mr. Lyle: "Walter, what principle does a nut cracker work on?"

Walter K.: "An over-hand swing."

On Wayne's approach to the gates ajar, he remarked to St. Peter: "It is a fine job you have had here for a long time."

"Well, Mr. Wegner," said St. Peter, scanning his applicant for a moment, "here we count a million years a minute, and a million dollars a cent." "Oh!" said Wayne, "I'm in need of cash. Lend me a cent." "Sure," said St. Peter, "just wait a minute."

Rastus, Be Good

"Rastus, be good," said Mandy, his maw, "Cause Santa is watchin' you close; He knows ef you disobey your paw. An' all the bad things you does, Fo' Santa is the wisest man, De wisest dere' ever wus."

"So ef you be a real good boy, When Christmas comes 'round, He'll bring you dat cute little toy, Dat you saw in de big town, An' de big one dat makes lots a noise, When de steam car comes around."

"But ef you be a naughty boy, Santa's shore to find it out, An' you won't git a single thing, But a chance to set and pout! So, Rastus, be good as you can, And ef you want dat toy, look out!"

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

We're having a chinook wind this week and the snow is almost gone. The heavy rains of last week washed out a bridge or two which had to be replaced.

Several men were called from here to work on the highway on Cedar creek for the next two weeks. Joe Choate took his truck and they all took a camping outfit and will camp close to their work.

William Groseclose and son Carroll are making cedar shakes for Harry Sampson.

Orval Choate went to Orofino on Monday to have dental work done.

Earl Schliefer helped Orval Choate do some butchering Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Harless was a caller at the Joe Choate home Saturday. Chas Sewell has moved his wood saw to the timber place belonging to Wm. Groseclose. He expects to cut quite a lot of wood there.

The Sunday school superintendent has appointed a program committee to get up a program for the last Sunday in December. The program will be given in the morning and a basket dinner served at noon.

Marion Groseclose is rounding up his cattle this week. He will try to get them all out before Christmas.

Mrs. Merton Preussler is staying with Mrs. Elwood Brock this week. Merton and Elwood are both working on the highway so the ladies are sharing their loneliness.

A little school program will be given Friday night at the school house.

Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Fike came over from Moscow last Saturday and preached twice on Sunday.

Says Idaho Will Repeal Dry Law

"With the legislatures of adjoining states now in special session attempting to pass laws governing the sale of liquor within their respective borders, Idahoans in general are wondering what the outcome will be and just what effect it may have in this state," said W. H. Castner, president of the Idaho Prohibition Repeal league and editor of Public Opinion, who spent a day or two in Lewiston on his way home to Spokane from southern Idaho.

"Idaho will vote to repeal its state bone-dry constitutional amendment next November. The legislature must pass the necessary laws to regulate the traffic, which means that Idaho cannot have legalized liquor before January of 1935."

"The fact that repeal is only the stepping stone to legalized liquor in Idaho indicates that we are sure to find the liquor question a real issue in the election next year."

"The very light majority for repeal of the 18th amendment in the second congressional district September 19th was accounted for by the activities of a few self-seeking politicians who tried to make a political issue of repeal instead of using their influence in getting out the vote. The second congressional can register more than 15,000 wet majority if the full vote is cast. Idaho will carry for repeal of the state law next November by a majority of more than 30,000."

Castner said he would resume issuing Public Opinion February 1.

MARKET BARELY STEADY WITH MODERATE DEMAND

Domestic grain markets held barely steady during the week ended December 15, with offerings moderate and demand slow, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Declines in foreign markets and a dull flour trade were weakening influences in wheat and prices of most classes closed slightly below a week ago. Heavy offerings of corn as a result of recent price gains brought about a slight market reaction and prices declined 1c and 2c per bushel. Oats were slightly lower with corn, but barley was independently firm with an active inquiry prevailing for both malting and feeding types. Flax held fairly steady with light offerings, while rye followed largely fluctuations in wheat.

Slow European demand and increased offerings of new Southern Hemisphere grain featured the world wheat situation during the week. Trade estimates place European import requirements about 85,000,000 bushels below last season. This is reflected in world shipments, which since August 1, have totaled about 25,000,000 bushels under those for the corresponding period last year. Supplies of Southern Hemisphere wheat this season from present indications will be about 40,000,000 bushels below a year ago. Argentine production is placed at 256,175,000 bushels, against 235,378,000 bushels produced last year, and the Australian crop at 160,000,000 bushels against 216,000,000 bushels a year ago.

The carryover of old wheat into the new season in these countries will probably be slightly lower than last year. Using preliminary estimates of carryover and crops and allowing for domestic consumption, Southern Hemisphere supplies available for export and carryover, amount to about 290,000,000 bushels compared with 328,000,000 bushels last season. Shipments from last season's harvest to date have totaled 286,000,000 bushels while shipments during the August, 1933-July, 1933, crop season totaled 281,000,000 bushels. The quota allotted to the Southern Hemisphere countries by the terms of the London agreement for the August-July crop year is 215,000,000 bushels. Shipments from August through December 8, amounted to 63,000,000 bushels, leaving about 162,000,000 bushels to be supplied from new crop or from remaining stocks of old wheat.

Foreign wheat markets were weak and lower with trading dull. Canadian markets declined somewhat with No. 1 Manitoba Northern quoted at Winnipeg at 59¢, December 15, in Canadian currency. Prices of native wheats in Europe were unchanged to slightly higher in terms of local currency.

Domestic cash wheat markets held barely steady, with moderate offerings in only fair demand. Marketings of winter wheat were slightly larger with receipts at the principal Canadian and southwestern markets totaling 784 cars. Spring wheat shipments were also larger with the lifting of the North Dakota embargo and receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaled 889 cars.

Demand for cash wheat at Minneapolis was slow during the early part of the week, but improved toward the close. Prices advanced and at the close of the market December 15, No. 1 dark northern was quoted at 1c to 4c over the May price of 80¢. The protein of the week's receipts averaged 14.77 per cent. Durum futures were dull but the cash market was firm, especially for best milling lots. Ordinary protein No. 2 durum was quoted at Minneapolis at 86c to 88c, while high protein choice milling wheat brought 96c to $1 per bushel.

Pacific Northwest wheat markets were relatively weaker than Eastern points as a result of a dull export inquiry and a slow demand from domestic buyers. Marketings continued heavy in the Pacific Northwest, reflecting country deliveries on recent export sales. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 1,185 cars for the week, compared with 422 cars for the corresponding week last year. Shipments from Puget Sound and Columbia river ports during November were nearly 50 per cent larger than a year ago and totaled 3,706,000 bushels, bringing the season's total to 15,196,000 bushels, compared with 12,855,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The quotations put out by the Emergency Export Association was lowered to 72c per bushel for No. 1 soft white wheat, sacked, delivered on track tide-water terminals. Prices in the cash market also declined. Bluestem hard white was quoted at 73c, 12 cent dark hard winter at 75c, and other varieties at 70c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked, delivered Portland.

California markets remained dull as a result of a slow inquiry for flour and a limited outlet for feed wheat. Offerings from growers remained relatively light but were sufficient for local trade needs and only small quantities of high protein grades to complete milling mixtures, were shipped in from outside markets. Mills were using stocks accrued early in the season and industries and feeders were buying only sufficient for immediate needs. At the close of the market December 15, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.25 to $1.27½ and at Los Angeles at $1.30 to $1.32½ per 100 sacked.

Oats weakened with other grains and receipts continued relatively heavy. Inquiry from consuming areas was only moderately active. Pacific Northwest markets held about steady although trading and movement were light. Local demand for gray oats from cereal mills was slow but scattered offerings held the market steady. Inquiry from the Atlantic coast continued moderate but steady. Growers were displaying a firmer holding tendency which was a sustaining market influence. At the close of the market December 14, No. 2 white oats and No. 2 gray oats at Portland were quoted at the same price of $1.12½ per 100. No. 3 white oats at Minneapolis declined slightly and were quoted at $1.00 to $1.03½ per 100 and No. 3 oats at Kansas City were quoted at $1.09 to $1.14 per 100.

Pacific Northwest barley markets were very quiet, with trading and movement from all classes of trade light. The market tone however, held about steady with the moderate offerings by growers largely offsetting the dull demand. Prices held practically unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 bright western, sacked, quoted at Portland at 92½c per 100. Middlewestern barley markets were somewhat irregular.

Heavy Storms Again Visit Northwest

The west coast has again experienced another terrific wind and rain storm—the third within as many weeks. Millions of dollars damage has been done by rain and wind.

And right here in our own section of the country we have had plenty of rain, but no wind in the canyon. A two-inch snow covered the ground Sunday morning, but by Monday morning not a trace was in sight and the weather has again returned to spring-like temperatures.

Monday morning's Lewiston Tribune said: A windstorm, the severest in 15 years, and of longer duration than any for the last 25 years, lashed central Idaho and eastern Washington yesterday (Sunday) for approximately 12 hours, uprooting trees, demolishing barns and other buildings, shattering window panes, and demolishing electrical lighting service in Lewiston and elsewhere.

The wind blew on an average of 22 miles an hour and its greatest velocity was estimated at 40 miles for five minutes.

The storm broke about 5 a. m. and grew in intensity several hours later and continued unabated until after 6 p. m. There was a lull for one hour and once more the wind arose and blew with a fury until after 9 o'clock in the evening.

The only street lights in Lewiston unaffected by the storm were those on Main street. Normal hill remained in darkness until 8 p. m. and pedestrians were forced to feel their way along the streets on account of the moon being obscured by heavy clouds. The lights from automobiles served a good purpose on darkened streets.

Mrs. Archie May In Hospital

Mrs. Archie May is again confined in a Colfax hospital, where she went a short time ago for medical treatment and her condition is not as good as her friends would like to have it. She underwent an operation some time ago for the removal of a goiter and has suffered more or less since that time.

MOTHER OF MRS. THOMAS PASSES AT LEWISTON

Mrs. Phoebe Phillips, wife of George W. Phillips and mother of Mrs. Harold Thomas and a resident of the northwest for 47 years and of Lewiston since 1903, passed away at her home, 223 Twenty-sixth street Monday morning at 7 o'clock from heart disease.

Born at Carlisle, Iowa, in 1859, she was married in that city to Mr. Phillips Feb. 8, 1883, and they moved to Colorado Springs, Colo., where they remained until 1886, then locating at Sprague, Wash., where Mr. Phillips entered the service of the Northern Pacific railroad, which lasted until his retirement a couple of years ago.

The family came to Idaho in 1898 and made their home at Kooikia and other towns along the Clearwater line, which was then in the course of construction.

Mrs. Phillips was a member of the Christian Science church of Lewiston and was first reader of the church for four years. She was active in civic affairs in east Lewiston until recent years, and was a member of the Lewiston chapter of the War Mothers.

She is survived by her widower, George W. Phillips; two daughters and six sons: Mrs. Hugh Dresser, Lewiston; Mrs. Harold Thomas, Kendrick; G. Wendell Phillips, Probate Judge John L. Phillips, Dr. Harry Phillips, Dr. Frank Phillips, all of Lewiston; Fred Phillips, Seattle, and Dr. Roy Phillips, Glendale, Calif. The children living away from Lewiston are enroute for the funeral. Mrs. Fred Scherfenberg, St. Paul, Minn., a granddaughter, is also coming.

The body is resting at the Brower-Wann mortuary. The date of the funeral service has not been definitely announced but in all probability will be held Sunday.

Ladies Aid Play Success

The home talent play, "Her Honor, the Mayor," presented last Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Community church, was well presented and well attended.

The play was under the direction of Mrs. James M. Lyle and Mrs. Elmer E. Beckman and the presentation showed the ladies were perfectly competent as directors and each one taking part carried their part in a manner that showed many hours of work thereon.

CWA Men Going Good

Twenty more men were added to the CWA crews working at Kendrick, Juliaetta and Cedar creek, making a total of 88 men now employed in this section. The local crew is working in Brady gulch, cutting off protruding points, grading and widening the road in several places which, it is hoped, will ease off the grade and make traveling easier at all times.

Just Clothing, Not Fat

In Pittsburg Warden John McNeil looked at Prisoner John Hurt, had him weighed, found he scaled 325 pounds and proudly announced him as the heaviest Allegheny county jail "guest" in the prison's history. Then came the denouement: Examination disclosed that Hurt was wearing eight pairs of socks, 12 suits of underwear, 15 shirts, eight pairs of pants and 11 coats. The big clothes man had been arrested for vagrancy.

Woman Cook Beats Engineer

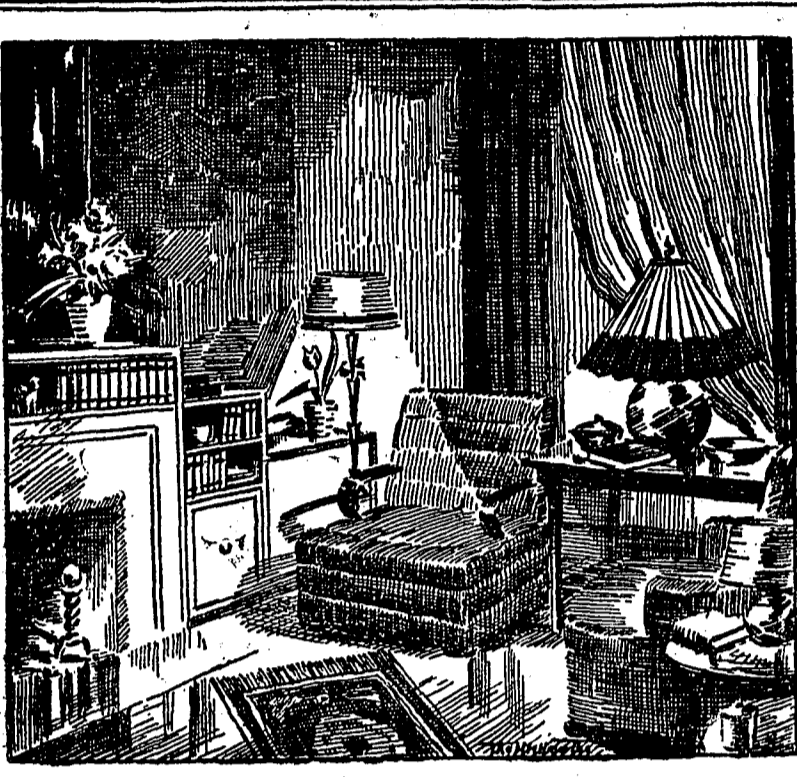

A woman cook on a public works job near Boise whose name was withheld by the state bureau of highways rates a higher salary than the highest paid engineer in the state bureau of highways. She draws 65 cents an hour for skilled labor and there is no limitation on her hours. She works 14 hours a day, 30 days a month, making her salary $9.10 a day or $273 a month.

Strike "Pay Dirt"

As a group of CWA workers were busy with shovels on the north side or Normal Hill cemetery, Lewiston, the other day, the struck "pay dirt" in the form of a 50-gallon cask of what was said to be pre-prohibition moonshine, which had been buried there for safe keeping.

The story goes that when the cash was made the spot was carefully marked with a stick to show its location—but the winds came and the sands shifted and the "marker" was either blown down or covered with sand—anyway, the location was lost and the "cashers" were out one cask of supposedly good moonshine. But it took a crew of 25 CWA workers to discover the hiding place and the "rescue" of a supposedly blood relative of John Barleycorn—John Doe Moonshine.

The cask was finally resurrected and after the loss of some 10 or 15 gallons through "leakage", a sample was said to have been taken and the remainder, some 25 gallons, reentered for the morrow. But when the discoverers returned for their prize, someone had beat them to it and it had vanished over-night.

BRIGHTEN THE CORNERS

There is just no reason for even one dark, gloomy corner in your home. The cost of electric service is too cheap to permit such a thing.

A lamp here and there about the house lends charm and makes your home more inviting and comfortable.

A penny will pay the cost of burning a 40-watt lamp for several hours.

"I'm on the Way"

"I MUST be a little lonely for you here," said Mrs. Carter to Millie, who was cutting up raisins in a bowl.

"Oh, no, I like it."

"But you know so few people; even we are strangers to you. You've come from so far to help me, and it worries me. I want you to be happy and contented with us."

Millie flung her cloud of dark curls over her shoulder. "Worries you, Mrs. Carter?" She was round-eyed with astonishment. "I wouldn't know how to start worrying! I like it here, fine."

Mrs. Carter felt gently rebuked. That night she mentioned Millie to her husband. "Here she is, Charles; eighteen years old, no father, no mother, no money, no home, but where the State Commission chooses to send her, and she says, Charles, she wouldn't even know how to start worrying. Isn't it pathetic?"

"I don't see how it's in the least pathetic," said her husband briskly. "I think it's darn good philosophy. She doesn't use up her energy wondering what will happen to her; she works hard, looks forward, never backward, and always manages to squeeze fun out of the smallest things. I say,

Her Basket Bulged and She Could Scarcely Speak.

hooray for Millie!"

"But it's Christmas time, Charles. We can give her so little; she needs so much. It worries me."

"There you go again, doing the very thing she doesn't even know about. Give her what you can and be sure she'll take it with gratitude and joy."

Millie fairly sparkled on Christmas Eve. She had baked bread and pudding and made three pies. She had scoured the house until it shone. She had even helped Mrs. Carter to wrap up gifts for the neighborhood. "Do let me take them. It's fun," she begged. "I love seeing how happy people are in their houses."

So Millie started out with a large basketful of gifts. "Poor little girl," sighed Mrs. Carter. "Everything for other people; none for herself."

At nine o'clock Millie was home again, cheeks red, hair blowing, looking, as Mr. Carter said, like one grand big time all by herself. Her basket bulged and she could scarcely speak for excitement. "Oh, Mrs. Carter, there must be some mistake . . . but everywhere I went they gave me a present . . . all these . . . I don't understand!" She appealed to her mistress to come look for herself. On every package was "For Millie."

"You see," explained a friend next day, "we simply could not resist giving her something. She looked so happy when she brought the things . . . we couldn't help ourselves, and I judge every one else felt the same way."

"Tut-tut for all your worry!" grinned Mr. Carter when informed of the miracle.

Christmas for Mother and Dad

by Mary Jane Haller

"I DON'T know what's gotten into the children," said Mrs. Coles. "but they have cooked up some new scheme about Christmas."

Mr. Coles remarked, a trifle grumpily, that he hoped it wasn't an expensive scheme.

"No, something quite different. Such bustling and whispering I've never heard. They've been scurrying around like mice in the garret."

"Well, what about our starting to trim the tree and getting their stuff ready?"

"They say they don't want us to do a thing; not a thing."

"But here it is nine o'clock already! We'll be late if we don't begin soon, and you know how it is every Christmas Eve—all worn out before we've finished."

"Hush!" Mrs. Coles whispered. A boy stood in the living room door. He was very solemn. "Will Mr. and Mrs. Coles please come at once to the study?" he asked.

The older couple exchanged puzzled glances and followed; and when the study door was flung open with a great flourish, they both gave a cry of wonder. There on the desk stood a small tree hung with garlands of silver. Icicles dripped from the tips; gifts wrapped in bright papers were thick among the boughs. If the tree were slightly tipsy, if it seemed ready to tumble over at a breath, Mr. and Mrs. Coles were too surprised to notice it.

"For you . . . all for you!" shouted several voices. At once a pudgy Santa stepped out of the closet. In a deep voice he asked the guests to be seated. "I've come all the way from the North Pole tonight especially to give you a pleasant treat." Here he was interrupted by another voice which shouted, "We thought it was time fathers and mothers had a tree instead of the children. We've done it all ourselves; every bit."

"Please be quiet," rumbled Santa severely. Then he stepped to the tree, and reading the names on the packages, passed them ceremoniously to Mr. and Mrs. Coles. There wasn't a present for a child—not one.

"We wanted you to have all the Christmas this year. We told Santa (suppressed giggles) not to dare to bring us a thing. It's your Christmas from us. The children to their parents."

"Well, well, I must admit . . ."

Mr. Coles blew his nose, more touched than he cared to reveal. Mrs. Coles (rankly and happily) wiped away a tear.

"We heard you say last night how tired you got trimming the tree, and doing things after we went to bed . . . so we decided to do the work and the giving. Isn't the tree perfectly beau-u-tiful?"

Both Mr. and Mrs. Coles declared several times it was the very best Christmas they remembered in all their lives. Afterwards Santa was roundly kissed and hugged.

"A very, very pleasant surprise," Mr. Coles kept saying. His wife beamed.

INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU ISSUES WARNING

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering has issued a nationwide warning to all persons not to make improper claims for exemption of processing taxes on wheat, corn, or other commodities subject to tax under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The penalty, upon conviction, for preparing or assisting in the preparation of a false or fraudulent return, affidavit, claim, or document in connection with any matter arising under the internal revenue laws, is a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment of not more than five years, or both.

Persons who sign affidavits to the effect that they are the producers of wheat, corn, or other commodities subject to the processing tax, when such is not the case, to evade payment of the processing tax are liable to prosecution. Actual producers who take wheat, corn, or other commodities subject to the processing tax to the mills or factories to be manufactured into flour, meal, or other products, and who endeavor to escape the processing tax by signing an affidavit that the product is for consumption by their own family, employees, or household, but who in fact sell or exchange it for groceries or other merchandise, are subject to prosecution. In such cases storekeepers who accept from the producer flour, meal, or other commodity with respect to which the processing tax has not been paid are subject to prosecution for conspiring with the producer to evade the processing tax.

It is the policy of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to take appropriate action in every case in which any violation of the internal revenue laws is brought to its attention. Every citizen should regard it as a patriotic duty to report to the Collector of Internal Revenue of his district any violation of the processing tax law that comes to his notice.

Milwaukee Pays Latah Taxes

Christmas Day this year brings to Idaho hundreds of thousands of dollars in railroad taxes.

Word comes from the Milwaukee road that vouchers to cover the first half of its 1933 tax bill will reach the treasurers of the counties in which the road operates on or before December 25. Other railroads in the state will make payment at the same time and in the light of increasing default in tax payments from other sources it is significant to note that railroad taxes are paid promptly.

Latah County receives $9,834.78 of the Milwaukee Road's tax contribution for 1933, which will be used to maintain state and county governments, highways and the schools for the benefit of residents of the communities.

In recent years about half of the money received from the railroad for taxes was used to educate pupils in Idaho schools.

Railroad payrolls and railroad purchases are important to Idaho merchants and industries and safe, dependable railroad service has contributed materially to the development of the state.

Just Common Sense

Editor Terry of the Polo (Ill.) Press tells a lot of truth when he says:

"In our talks with farmers we have been struck by one idea that runs in the minds of the thinking ones. It is this: they do not want more credit-money borrowed from the government. What they want is a better price for their products, which some people like to glorify by the terms 'economic equality.' So far, the government, under both republican and democratic regimes, has done nothing much but loan the farmers more money. This seems to be the weakness of the whole subject of farm relief. What a farmer wants and must have is a market at a profitable price for his hogs and his corn and his butterfat and eggs and so on. Putting him deeper in debt by loaning him more money will never pay his bills."—Tonica (Ill.) News.

Idaho Gets $17,000,000 More

Major crops in Idaho will bring $17,000,000 more this year than last year, the Boise Statesman said after a survey of crops and prices.

The paper took nine major crops, eliminating specialty crops such as celery, onions, small seeds and lettuce.

"The biggest disappointments this year have been in beef cattle and in dairy products," the paper said. "The former of these was not included in the survey because of the lack of accurate information on production; the second is included and shows a 16 per cent reduction in income below the 1932 figures."

Perhaps the movies got the idea for slow-motion pictures by watching Sandy reach for the check.

Large Eggs Are Starting

While we haven't a big egg contest on at this time, still some of the hens in this section of the country have begun practicing for the contest (which is an annual affair with the Gazette). Mrs. D. A. Bishop of Juliaetta said that her White Leghorn hens have been laying some exceptionally large eggs for this season of the year—perhaps thinking the present balmy weather is a harbinger of spring—and that the other day she found one that measured 7x8½ inches, which is near the size of the one that last summer captured a six-months subscription to the Gazette.

The winner last summer measured

Add 5,000 Men To Idaho CWA

Late last week word was sent out from Washington that 5,000 men would be added to Idaho's quota of CWA workers, which would make the number actually employed in Idaho 17,000. One hundred twenty-five men were added in Latah county and a larger number in Nez Perce county.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

A place has been tentatively reserved on the administration's legislative program for a statute which would unify communication agencies—radio, telephone and telegraph—under the strict control of a new governmental unit. President Roosevelt is studying the preliminary report of an inter-departmental committee which indicated it might be best to give the communication systems virtual monopolies and then regulate them through a federal commission.

President Roosevelt carefully checked up on his gold control monetary program last week and made it known he was going ahead with this effort to raise commodity prices. It was stated on behalf of the president after a two-hour parley with his financial aides and Attorney General Cummings that the gold purchase policy would be continued indefinitely and that stabilization was not in prospect.

In his annual report submitted to the president Secretary Wallace declared flatly for federal regulation of grain exchanges, divorcement of commercial banks and savings banks, and adjustment of farm supplies to demand. While admitting that trading in grain futures serves some useful purposes as a reflection of market factors, Wallace said "uncontrolled speculation by individual large operators destroys whatever value the system may normally possess. It is imperative for the government to supervise, and if necessary, to regulate, grain speculation, because such supervision is the only means of preventing abuses."

The framework for a world-wide minimum scale of wheat prices was completed at London Friday night after a four-day exhaustive survey of present conditions and past trends by an international wheat marketing committee. "There is virtual anarchy in the wheat pits today," is was said in authoritative quarters in justification of this step as a temporary and emergency measure. It was considered certain that the average price would be well below the 63.08 gold cents (about one dollar) a bushel rate at which importing nations have agreed to start thinking about cutting tariffs.

Idaho Has Collected $90,100 Taxes

Idaho has collected $90,100 from the income tax this year, approximately the amount collected last year, a report of the commissioner of finance disclosed.

Of the amount $53,700 was from corporations and $36,000 from individuals.

In addition, the department has collected $15,707 from the store tax, not including approximately $40,000 in taxes from the larger chain stores, the payment of which depends upon action of the supreme court.

THINGS OF INTEREST GOING ON AT SOUTHWICK

Smith-Starr

On Sunday, December 17, Miss Bonnie Smith and Johnny Starr, both of Southwick, were united in marriage by Rev. Geo. Finke.

Following the wedding ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chrales Smith.

Bidden guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reece, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Roy and Harold Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Lethsco Reece and three sons and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Betts.

Both young people are well and favorably known throughout the community, and the best wishes of their many friends go with them in their new step in life.

Short Notes

Neva Ware of Kendrick is assisting Mrs. Glen Betts with her housework this week. Geo. Fredrickson and Alden Carey, who are working on the new road, are at the Betts home also.

Little Betty Jo Christensen has been quite sick for the past week, but is better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Pressnal and little Bennie spent the day Tuesday with Grandma Kimes.

Sunday guests at the Arnie Cuddy home were John McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Triplett and three sons, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Southwick, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Southwick and children, Edith Bateman, Aaron Wells and John Cuddy.

Mrs. Roy Martin and Clayton Martin were Orofino visitors Thursday.

Owen Lahman went to Lewiston Tuesday, returning home Wednesday. Miss Aletha Blewett, Mrs. Eva Wright and Edith Bateman visited Friday night and Saturday in Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morris and two small children spent the day Monday at Howard Southwicks, the men folk butchering some hogs.

Despite the stormy night, about 60 gathered at the Charles Smith home Sunday night with their "musical instruments" to congratulate the newly-weds and wish them well. They were awarded candy and cigars in payment for the "lovely music."

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Betts were Lewiston and Clarkston visitors on Saturday. On their way up from Kendrick they overtook a stalled car and towed it and its occupants on up. The car was driven by Wayne Pippinger and the other occupants were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McGuire, Mrs. Lethsco Reece and Jim McGuire, all of Cavendish, who were returning home from a trip to Portland. They all stayed at the Betts home for supper and Claude Pippinger came after them.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA BE GIVEN SUNDAY EVENING

You are urged to attend church Sunday night at 7:30 and hear Holton's Cantata, "The Christmas King" which will be presented by the choir. The action begins with the command "Prepare Ye the Way," sung by the basses. We have a real bass section which can put meaning in these words. The full choir then takes up the theme "Blessed be the Lord, God of Israel, who only doeth wonderful things." This is followed by a soprano and alto duet sung by Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Emery. The choir assists them with the chorus.

A men's chorus tells the story of the wise men who followed the guiding star in order to give praise to the new-born king. Then the full choir bursts into enthusiastic praise of the glorious morn when the Prince of Peace was born.

The fifth number is opened with a bass solo sung by Mr. Thompson. Allene Rider and Phyllis Cummings take up the theme in a most charming duet which tells of the tidings of great joy which the messengers brought from the City of David, where the Savior was born. The choir closes this scene with a contrapuntal chorus which is sure to please every one.

Mary Elizabeth Thompson sings the soprano solo, "The Song is Ringing Still," which is taken from the scripture quotation: "Glory to God in the highest and peace on earth, good will toward men."

The cradle hymn will appeal to young and old alike. Mr. Ramey gives us this story. The subdued a capella choir accompaniment gives this offering a richness that will stay with you through the Christmas season.

Another rousing chorus by the choir, "Praise Ye the Lord," closes the part which deals with Christ's birth and childhood.

Mrs. Ramey and Mr. Walker introduce us to Jesus as ruler of nature. This duet is a most appealing piece of Christmas music.

A quartet, "There Is Room In My Heart for Thee," sung by Mrs. Higley, Mrs. Emery, Mr. McDowell and

Mr. Hill gives the attitude of the faithful who are willing to accept Christ, and who find in Him a means for satisfying deep hungers.

The cantata is brought to a dynamic close with the command and request, "Come Worship the King."

CONTRACT IS LET FOR BEAR RIDGE GRADE

F. H. DeAtley & Co., Lewiston contractors, was last week awarded the contract for the grading, drainage and surfacing of the 4.6 miles of highway from Kendrick to the top of the Big Bear grade, the bid being $74,585.00. It is expected work will begin soon after the first of the year. Awarding of the contract, of course, is subject to the approval of the bureau of public roads at Ogden, Utah, but since some $90,000 had been programmed for the building of this piece of highway, it is hardly probable that there will be a hitch of any sort.

The construction of this link of highway, it is hoped, will be only the forerunner of a completed highway from Arrow Junction to Deary, or Harvard. It is hoped, also, that within a very short time that roads will be built on all the ridges, leading to the main highway, which is being built by the U. S. government and will of necessity have to be built to government standards, which will mean a road that will stand up under all ordinary conditions.

Christmas Tree On Roof

Bill Watts, manager of the Kendrick Rochdale company, is again feeling rather "high-minded" from some cause or other, for he has again placed the company's tree high up on the roof of the elevator. It is strung with a myriad of vari-colored lights and presents a very pretty appearance. Bill says that old Santa now travels in an airplane anyway and the tree will be easier for him to get at on the roof.

Has Opened Pool Hall

Harry Flaig last week opened a pool and card room in the room where for 23 years Thos. McDowell conducted a restaurant.

Mr. Flaig's pool tables have not yet arrived, but will be along about the first of the year. He will also sell beer.

Harry had been in the employ of George P. Barnum for the past ten years but decided to branch out in business for himself.

Juliaetta Youth Dies

Cecil E. Baker, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker of Juliaetta, died Sunday at the family home. The lad was born June 7, 1918. He is survived by his parents and by two sisters and four brothers.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Juliaetta with interment in the Juliaetta cemetery.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE SATURDAY EVENING

As announced in last week's Gazette there will be another community Christmas tree in Kendrick on Saturday evening, December 23, commencing at 7:30, and every youngster in the entire community, under high school age, will be given a bag of candy, nuts, etc., with the compliments of the business men of Kendrick.

There will also be a short program of Christmas carols and a short talk and prayer, the whole taking up only a few minutes. Old Santa Claus will be there in person, right after the program, to distribute the bags of "goodies" to the youngsters. So, kiddies, if you want to get a glimpse of that good old fellow, just be on hand at the big Christmas tree, which is located in Main street, covered with pretty colored lights, and he will have a nice treat for you.

All children under high school age, whether they are old enough to attend school or not, will be given a bag of candy and nuts. It is for all children of the entire community—country as well as town—and they are cordially invited to be present. In case children are detained at home from one cause or another, if the parents will so state, a bag of goodies will be given to each youngster so detained at home. There will be ample packages for all, but only one for each child, as the packages will be quite liberal in quantity.

The enterprise is just to show the good will of the business and professional men of Kendrick toward the entire community, and for the mere joy of celebrating this occasion. The tree is to be given at night, so it cannot be classed as an advertising scheme for personal gain of any merchant or business house. That is not the idea of giving the tree and entertainment. It is a splendid custom and is being done in many towns throughout the country.

Don't forget to come and see old St. Nick, youngsters, and don't forget the time—Saturday evening, December 23—commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

PILOT ROCK NEWSSETTES

The Pilot Rock school Christmas program will be given on Friday, December 22 at 2 o'clock. Santa Claus has promised to pay a visit to the schoolhouse during the program, so we hope all the parents will come and bring the kiddies so they may see him.

We have been busy making Christmas cards and decorations for our tree. We will exchange a gift with the person whose name we drew. By popular consent we decided that the gift should not exceed 10 cents.

The numbers on our program will be as follows: 1 "Welcome Exercise" by Beulah Jean Baker and Gordon Steele. 2 Christmas Pageant with the carol singers Bonnie Albright and Marjorie Groseclose; Shepherds, Wayne Baker and Gordon Steele; Angel, Beulah Jean Baker; Mary, Peggy Jean Albright; Kings, Virgil Groseclose, Darrell Baker and James Albright. 3 Song by Marjorie Groseclose, Peggy Jean Albright and Bonnie Albright. 4 "Santa's Helper", Rolan Albright. 5 Recitation, James Albright.
