Kendrick girls, though winning no awards, made a creditable showing at the Clarkston tournament, Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3. Of eight teams participating, Kendrick was one of four to play in the finals Saturday night.

Joy Johnson, Kendrick's spunky running center, was chosen on the second "All-Star" team from among the seventy or more girls participating in the tournament. Joy has turned out faithfully all year, winning by her effort and loyalty a permanent place on the team, and she deserves the honor of this recognition at the conference. Other girls on our team, it was learned from inside information, were also considered for this honor. The games were as follows:

Nez Perce defeated Anatone in the first game played .25-12. Grangeville defeated Kendrick, which in everyone's opinion was the second best game played, with a score of 32-29. Asotin defeated Craigmont with a score of 21-10. Clarkston defeated Ruebens in a very one-sided game 41-9. Kendrick defeated Anatone 29-12. Craigmont defeated Ruebens 22-24. Although Ruebens had defeated Craigmont twice during the season, four over-times were played, each ending in a tie, which was finally broken in favor of Craigmont. Asotin won from Clarkston in a hard-fought battle 29-13. Grangeville lost to Nez Perce 39-26. Anyone seeing the Kendrick-Craigmont game will know it was a good game, and that our girls had the ball in play much of the time. Much of the opponent strength came from an excellent guard, who was placed on the first "All-Star." The score ended in favor of Craigmont 16-30. The last game played was to determine first and second place. Asotin won from Nez Perce with a score of 32-8. Asotin won first place, Nez Perce second and Craigmont, third.

The Kendrick girls kept the dining room lively and started the yells, which were taken up by other teams and furthered the enjoyment of the evening. In the relaxation period after dinner the Kendrick girls put on an impromptu program, with each girl taking part.

They are doing very nice work, and the desks are 100 per cent improved for the purpose of writing. Though some student will find it 100 per cent improved for monogram carving and whittling, it is hoped that every one will refrain from the latter past-time, and steps are being taken to enforce the rule that students do not indulge in it.

The Home Economics girls are studying the unit "making and keeping friends" and are taking up the subjects, "House Guests," "The Art of Conversation" and "Social Correspondence."

General Science students are making reports on social insects, such as bees and ants. Special stress is being placed on the difference in methods of living and methods of securing food and defense for the colony.

"Moonlight and Pretzels"

Crammed chock full of tuneful melodies, pulchritudinous girls, and the best talent that Broadway, Hollywood, and the radio airwaves have to offer, "Moonlight and Pretzels," which will be at the Kendrick Theater Friday and Saturday nights, is one of the most cleverly mounted, fast moving and refreshing screen musicals made to date.

"Moonlight and Pretzels" is a backstage romance with Broadway as the setting, yet contains none of the stereotyped humok that has characterized and ruined so many such celluloid musical comedies. In straightforward fashion it tells the story of an energetic young song and dance man whose ambition it is to become Broadway's leading songwriter. Stranded in a small town in New York state, he is given a job plugging songs by the pretty proprietress of the local music store. With Sally Upton, owner of the music shop, its a case of love at first sight, but with George Dwight, the ex-hooper, its a case of getting to New York as fast as possible. After many discouraging rejection slips, George receives a check from a leading Broadway producer for one of his numbers. Jubilant, he races off to New York, leaving a broken hearted Sally behind him. In a year's time he becomes New York's ace writer of musical comedy hits. Sally decides to go to the Big Town and try to get a job in one of George's shows. What happens from this point on forms one of the most unusual and exciting stories ever told on the screen.

MARKET UNSETTLED WITH IMPROVED PROSPECTS

movement is the heaviest on record with the exception of a brief period during the 1925-1926 crop year, when supplies of soft winter wheat were unusually small in the Ohio Valley. The sale included both hard and soft white wheat with a large percentage of Club variety. Local mills in the Bay Region were supplied principally from local offerings, although some high protein wheat for milling mixtures was purchased from Washington and Oregon. At the close of the market, March 2, 1 hard white wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.20-1.25, and at Los Angeles at $1.25-1.27 1/2. No. 1 Soft white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.15-1.17 1/2 and at $1.22 1/2 to $1.25 per 100 at Los Angeles, sacked.

Foreign wheat markets were steady to firm. Prices at Winnipeg advanced about 2 1/2 c with No. 1 Manitoba quoted March 2, at 66 3/4. 64 pound Argentine wheat was quoted at Liverpool at 57 1/4 c, Australian wheat at 68 3/4 c, and No. 2 Manitoba from Vancouver at 75 3/4 c. Pacific white wheat was quoted at 60 5-8 c per bushel.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets held fairly steady. Local demand for feeding grades was dull, while Eastern inquiry for malting types was also light and confined principally to scattered cars of special high quality lots from the Willamette Valley. Lack of selling pressure from growers was a steady influence tending to counterbalance the light demand from all classes of trade. At the close of the market March 1, No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland at 90 c per 100, and malting barley at $1.10-1.12 1/2 per 100, sacked.

The oats market weakened and prices tended downward with a slack market inquiry. Pacific Northwestern markets were dull with local demand for gray oats from cereal millers light and a dull inquiry for white oats from feeders. An increase of $1.75 per ton in ocean freight rates to March 21, was an important weakening influence in the market for white oats. At the close of the market on March 1, No. 2 white oats were quoted at $1.07 1/2-1.10 per 100, with gray oats quoted nominally at $1.05 per 100. Middlewestern markets were dull and prices tended downward. Local demand at Kansas City was only fair but a good shipping business continued and outlandings were about double current receipts. At the close of the market Mar. 1, No. 1 white oats were quoted at Kansas City at $1.01 1/2-1.07 per 100. Offerings were liberal and stock continued heavy despite the short seasonal supplies. Shipping demand was negligible with cereal millers in nearby areas absorbing the usual quantities. Feeding demand was light and No. 2 white oats were quoted at $1.00 1/2-1.03 with No. 3 quoted at 97 5-8 to $1.00 1/4 per 100. No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at Los Angeles at $1.11 per 100.

There's a saying both witty and sage, We accept it without demur. A woman stops telling her age When it begins telling on her.

 Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered from backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Bootlegger Going Strong

Nearly three months after the repeal of prohibition, the administrator of the alcoholic beverage unit of the department of justice at Detroit, Michigan, believes the majority of the drinking public still is patronizing bootleggers.

Major W. A. Ray, who was head of the special investigation division of prohibition enforcement before repeal, said he was convinced "there are more stills in operation here, since repeal, and their capacity is double what it used to be."

"If this liquor they distill wasn't sold and consumed, these racketeers wouldn't be manufacturing it," he said. "The fact that the alley distilleries continue to operate—and on a larger scale—is evidence of a market for their products."

"The drinking public still calls up the bootlegger from whom it can get fair quality liquor at one third the liquor store prices."
