

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Senator Pope (D., Idaho) has introduced a bill providing for the appropriation of $35,000,000 to purchase and distribute surplus wheat among the needy, use as feed for livestock and exportations. Under the senator's measure any wheat producing area shown to have large surplus would be entitled to benefits. At present the most congested area is the Pacific northwest, with its more than 30,000,000 bushels surplus and prospects for a large crop this year, Pope said.

Thieves seized $75 in gold coin and 11 imitation gold bars inside the United States treasury, one of the world's most carefully guarded buildings, but all of the glittering lot probably is worthless to the criminals. The eleven bars and ingots made of scrap metal and washed in gold, were stamped with values approaching $30,000, but actually were without value. This was literally true, too, of the coins. President Roosevelt's money policy prohibits their circulation. The first robbery treasury attendants could recall brought Secretary Morgenthau to the scene of the crime for a personal inspection and an order tightening the guard force.

With the declaration that the "ratio of accidents has been far too high during the past three weeks," President Roosevelt Saturday ordered sharp curtailment of the army air mail service. His command followed the tenth death in 20 days of the army mail flying operations, instituted after the wholesale private cancellation order a month ago.

Criminal prosecutions for alleged tax evasion against Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, and James J. Walker, former mayor of New York City, are to be instituted soon by the justice department.

Acting on instructions from President Roosevelt, Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the air corps, Monday temporarily suspended all army air mail flights, pending the drafting of a new curtailed schedule to insure the fliers' safety. Foulois, Brigadier General Oscar Westover, chief of air mail operations, and post-office department officials immediately set to work outlining a new schedule to meet Mr. Roosevelt's command of Saturday that "deaths in the army air corps must stop." The suspension of flying is expected to last about three days. Either Wednesday or Thursday the army again will take the air on about 12 of the 18 routes now maintained. Fewer trips are expected to be made over the main trans-continental routes.

A growing conviction that John Dillinger, escaped Indiana desperado, led the seven bandits whose bold raid on the First National Bank at Mason City, Iowa, netted more than $52,000 was expressed by investigating officers Tuesday. Two persons were wounded during the raid in which some of the bandits held off a large crowd including vigilantes outside the bank while the others seized the money.

Washington Says Idaho Slow

Progress in highway construction in Idaho under the $400,000,000 appropriation by congress for public works roads is below the average for the whole country, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which is supervising the work of the state highway departments actually engaged in carrying out the program. On March 3, 75.3 per cent of the total $400,000,000 federal highway appropriation had been allotted to work in progress. Of the same date, 67.6 per cent of Idaho's $4,486,249 appropriation of the total fund had been put to work.

In Idaho, a total of 74 projects, estimated to cost $3,090,000, had been advertised for contract, including the regular federal-aid and state funds; 73 projects had been awarded to contractors or started by day labor; and 51 projects, employing 395 men were under construction. The public works fund involved in the advertised projects amounted to $3,040,000, other federal and state funds making up the balance of the total estimated cost of $3,090,000.

P.-T. A. Meeting

Monday night, March 19 the Kendrick P.-T. A. will hold their regular meeting at the school. Fred Uhlen of Lewiston will speak on "The Study of the Child."

All patrons of the district are urged to be present.

Designate Deary-Harvard Road

According to late reports word has been received from J. H. Stemmer, state director of highways, that the Deary-Harvard highway has been designated as a link of the state highway system and it is hoped that eventually it will be a part of the Arrow-Deary highway.

The report says that clearing of the right-of-way will be undertaken at once through CWA appropriations.

UTAH AND SOUTH IDAHO GET EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

Buildings were cracked Monday and some were condemned temporarily following the heaviest earth shocks ever recorded in north Utah and south Idaho. The disturbance was felt at points in southwestern Wyoming, Nevada and California.

At Ogden, Utah, a young woman died, evidently of fright at the quake; at Logan, Utah, the home economics building of the Utah State Agricultural college was damaged so badly it probably will be abandoned, and schools at Salt Lake City and at Logan and Pocatello, Idaho, were closed, pending an examination of all buildings for possible weaknesses. The city and county building at Salt Lake City also was vacated.

Reports said the Preston, Idaho, high school walls cracked, the west wall being forced nearly six inches away from the side walls.

The shocks were reported from Boise, Idaho, to the northwest, to Rock Springs, Wyo., on the east, Elko, Nev., and Santa Rosa, Calif., also felt earth tremors.

Pocatello and Idaho Falls, Idaho, the latter city nearly 300 miles north of Salt Lake City, reported the shocks were felt there. The first tremor was felt at 8:06 a. m., mountain standard time, and another a moment later. One resident of Pocatello reported the shock broke a window in his home. Others said the windows rattled and fixtures in their homes swayed.

Squirrel Poison at Cost

Through the cooperation of the Latah County Commissioners and the United States Biological Survey, County Agent, L. V. Benjamin will be able to furnish squirrel poison to the farmers of Latah County at cost. This will be distributed through the following places:

Deary Mercantile, Deary, Idaho.
Troy Garage, Troy, Idaho.
Allbright's Store, Juliaetta, Idaho
Vollmer-Clearwater Co., Wade Keene, Kendrick, Idaho.
Kendrick-Rochdale, Wm. Watts, Kendrick, Idaho.

These supplies are being handled by these people without cost, to enable the farmers in their vicinity to have this material readily available. Sales will be made for cash only and only in original packages.

Among the supplies handled will be Ready Mixed poison bait, prepared by the bureau of Biological Survey at McCannon, Idaho. This is a strychnine bait, prepared by practically the same formula used by most of the farmers in mixing their own bait and can be bought already prepared at less cost than the poison can be mixed at home.

Widows, Here's Your Chance!

The Gazette has received the following short letter (but to the point) from our old fellow-townsmen, J. I. Mitcham, which is self-explanatory:

After a short "preamble," Mr. Mitcham says: "I have not been well all winter; I have had to doctor, but am up and around. Will be 87 years old the seventh of next month—April 7.

"Am still batching. Say, don't you have some real nice widow woman down there that would like to take an old stiff like me and take care of him. Am able financially to keep her. If you have, send her up here by express, "prepaid."

"Give my kindest and best regards to all my old friends."

There is no one that will deny that Kendrick has some mighty fine widow women within its confines, but when he asks that they be sent up "prepaid," that is asking just a little too much. He might at least ask that they be sent "C. O. D."

Is Convalescing

Fred Schoeffler, who has been confined to bed with a badly infected left leg, is improving nicely and will soon be out again.

MILLIONS OF BAGS BEANS FOR 1933-1934 MARKET

The 1933 dry bean crop totaled 12,280,000 bags compared with 10,440,000 in 1932 and 12,843,000 in 1931. This 1933 crop, together with a carry-over of about 1,250,000 bags, made a total supply for the 1933-34 bean marketing year of approximately 14,530,000 bags. This amount is considerably in excess of the average disappearance during the five-year period, 1927-1931, and is even greater than during the two years of maximum disappearance, 1930 and 1931, when 13,000,000 bags apparently moved into the consumption channels.

There are no figures available at the present time on United States stocks of beans. Figures issued on California holdings indicate that on February 1, California bean stocks were about 29 per cent larger than a year ago.

Rail movements of beans for the period from September through January have been slightly less than the shipments during the same period last season. Since the supply this year was considerably in excess of a year ago, while rail shipments have been practically the same, this fact would tend to substantiate the assumption that stocks in growers and local dealers hands are larger at the present time than they were a year ago.

The general increase in the price level and the increased buying power of consumers have helped to raise prices of beans above the levels of last season despite the fact that supplies on hand this year are greater than the supplies a year ago. The average price of beans followed the general downward trend in the movement of all agricultural commodities during the depression period. In September 1930 the average price of beans in the United States stood at $6.03 per hundred. A decline followed that date and a year later the price was down to $2.58 per hundred, and in September 1932 the price had reached $2.04 per hundred, the lowest average price, considering the U. S. as a whole, was reached in February 1933, at $1.50 per hundred pounds. Since that time prices have shown very marked improvement.

Inspect Road

An item in Wednesday morning's Lewiston Tribune was to the effect that Nez Perce county's commissioners made a visit of inspection over the Arrow-Julietta section of the famous Ross highway, which would make the describers of "The Rocky Road to Doublin" pikers in comparison. It is a crime that such a road should be allowed to exist without so much as a feeble effort to make it somewhere near fit for travel.

Watchful waiting in the hopes that someone else may do something seems to be the main idea. The road is positively dangerous for any save experienced drivers who have been compelled to travel it all these years—and especially since last December 22, when the flood put it in the condition that it remains in today.

Considerable Wheat Moving

The Kendrick Rochdale company reports the moving of an average of a car of wheat per day for the past ten days, also a car of beans was sent out Wednesday night.

The Vollmer-Clearwater company reports a like movement of wheat for the past several days.

The Bean Growers association reports the movement of beans as slow and that the price is entirely too low for any sales.

Has Broken Arm

Kenneth, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones, residing in East Main street, fell from the high walk leading from the house to the street Tuesday and broke his left arm just above the elbow, the bone protruding almost through the skin. The fracture was reduced by Dr. D. A. Christensen and the youngster is getting along nicely.

A Son Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Craig have received word that a son has been born to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Souders, at Kellogg, on Sunday, March 11.

The little gentleman weighed an even seven pounds and he and his mother are doing nicely, the report says.

ELMER H. EMERY PASSES AT HOME IN KENDRICK

Elmer H. Emery, one of the best-known and highly regarded business men of Kendrick, passed away at his home here Saturday evening, March 10, 1934, aged 50 years, 10 months and 14 days, after an illness extending over several months.

Elmer Hutton Emery was the son of Thaddeus and Margaret Emery. He was born at Oxford, Iowa, April 24, 1883. The family moved to Lakefield, Minnesota in 1886 and to Cheney, Washington, in 1902. A year later they moved to Marlin, Washington, where the deceased spent most of his young manhood. He moved to Kendrick in 1925, where he resided until the time of his death.

He was married to Christine Stockman in 1913. To this union four children were born, all of whom survive: Doris, Karl, Kathryn and Elmer, Jr. The wife passed away June 18, 1926. On October 12, 1927, deceased was married to Ethel Rogers, who also survives.

He has been a member of the Odd Fellow's Lodge for almost 25 years and at the time of his passing was Deputy Grand Master. He joined the Methodist church as a young man and later went into the fellowship of the Presbyterian church, of which he was an active member.

Besides his wife and four children he leaves to mourn his departure two brothers, Henry Emery of Mohler, Washington, and Glen Emery of Palouse, Washington; five sisters, Mrs. Wilbur Pierce, Orville, Wash., Mrs. Ed. Engle, Marlin, Wash., Mrs. O. L. Snider, Mohler, Wash., Mrs. A. A. Emery, British Columbia, Canada, and Mrs. Clara Fitzlaff, Lakefield, Minn.

In the death of Elmer H. Emery the entire community has suffered a distinct loss. He was always ready and willing to do his share in whatever was to be done—be it for the church, lodge, or of a civic nature. He was always interested in the betterment of the community, was scrupulously honest; a sincere friend and a splendid neighbor.

He had served as a member of the school board for several years; had been a member of the village council and was at the time of his passing Village treasurer, acting Village clerk and clerk of the school board. He had passed through all the chairs of the Odd Fellows lodge and his willingness to give of his time and strength was the one and only failing he had. While he did this for the benefit of all, he was gradually undermining his health, which led to his untimely passing. His friends were numbered by his acquaintances and he was never known to utter an unkind word against anyone—a virtue that few have.

Mr. Emery had been assistant cashier of the Kendrick State Bank for the past ten years and his host of friends who do business with that institution will miss his smiling face and kindly words of greeting.

Funeral services were held in the Kendrick Community church on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, with Rev. Elmer E. Beckman, pastor, in charge. He was assisted in the service by Dr. J. Edgar Purdy of Moscow and the Rev. Mr. Bell, a former pastor of the Kendrick church, also of Moscow.

The song service was by a mixed quartette composed of Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. R. H. Ramey, R. H. Ramey and Lester Hill, and a solo by Miss Alice Bell of Moscow, with Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson at the piano.

The pallbearers, members of the Odd Fellows lodge, were N. E. Walkers, Carl Hartung, E. A. Deobald, Lester Hill, John A. Kite and Edgar Long. Burial took place in the Vine-land cemetery, Clarkston.

An impressive committal service was held at the grave, an Asotin quartet composed of Mrs. E. R. Downen, Mrs. D. Mabley, P. G. Rinell and Ed Bucholz singing a hymn with Miss Nan Fryxell playing the organ. This was followed by a ritualistic service by members of the Odd Fellows lodge of Kendrick and a benediction by the Rev. Beckman.

A large number of Kendrick friends accompanied the cortege to Clarkston.

Corn-Hog Committee Election

The community elections in connection with the Latah County Corn-Hog Program will be held according to the following schedule:

Troy, I. O. O. F. Hall, 1:30 p. m., Friday, March 16.
Moscow, Court House, 2:00 p. m., Saturday, March 17.
Deary, Legion Hall, 9:00 a. m., Monday, March 19.
Kendrick, Town Hall, 1:30 p. m., Monday, March 19.
Genesee, Legion Hall, 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, March 20.
Kennedy Ford, Grange Hall, 2:00 p. m., Tuesday, March 20.

Each farmer who has signed a Corn-Hog contract should attend the meeting in his community. At these meetings the permanent community committee consisting of a chairman and two to five committeemen will be chosen. The chairman is to represent the community on the county allotment board.

Mr. Benjamin announces that he is planning on holding an accounting meeting at the same time, when any farmer interested in starting a system of farm accounts will be given the necessary instruction.

Typhoid Patient Better

Eugene Lind, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lind, who has been suffering with typhoid fever for the past several weeks, is improving very satisfactorily.

Cord of Thanks

The family wish to express their sincere gratitude to their host of friends who extended them sympathy and helpfulness in their time of need, and especially do they wish to thank those who gave so liberally of the beautiful flowers, and to those who had charge of the song service do they feel deeply indebted.

Dike Is Finished

The dike just east of the Frank Crocker home, extending across the flat to the road alongside the railroad tracks, has been completed by Marshal Ed. Long and will hold almost any water that may in future come over the railroad tracks. Of course it will be necessary to use sandbags in both instances, but the flow will be much easier handled during high water stage.

FARMERS MAY MAKE LOAN ON EMERGENCY CROP FUND

Farmers may obtain an emergency crop loan from the $40,000,000 fund recently made available by congress if they need credit and cannot qualify elsewhere and they are cooperating with the production control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to a statement made by S. M. Garwood, production Credit Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans are entirely separate from production credit association loans. The Emergency Crop Loan Fund is an emergency relief measure for this year, only to aid those who cannot qualify for credit through the regular channels of a production credit association. This year will probably see the last of this type of loan.

The fund will be used primarily to make loans not exceeding the cash cost of growing crops during the year 1934, for summer fallowing, and for winter wheat to be planted in 1934 and harvested in 1935. An amount from the fund, not to exceed $1,000,000 may be used to make loans to purchase feed for livestock in areas designated by the governor of the Farm Credit Administration as drought and storm-stricken. The fund may not be used to make loans to replace work-stock.

The maximum amount which will be made available to any one farmer this year is $250 and the minimum is $25 according to the regulations. The interest rate will be 5 1/2% per annum. Provisions for taking crop liens have been worked out under Mr. Garwood's direction and detailed regulations will be placed in the hands of local emergency crop loan committees soon.

The time and place where these committees will receive applications will be made known locally within a short time.

Before any farmer may secure a loan, however, he must first obtain a statement from the county production council where one exists, that he does not intend to increase his acreage or production in opposition to the A. A. A. Applications for loans from $25 to $150 may be made directly to the emergency crop loan offices provided the applicants do not have sufficient security to obtain loans elsewhere.

Corn-Hog Committee Election

The community elections in connection with the Latah County Corn-Hog Program will be held according to the following schedule:

Troy, I. O. O. F. Hall, 1:30 p. m., Friday, March 16.
Moscow, Court House, 2:00 p. m., Saturday, March 17.
Deary, Legion Hall, 9:00 a. m., Monday, March 19.
Kendrick, Town Hall, 1:30 p. m., Monday, March 19.
Genesee, Legion Hall, 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, March 20.
Kennedy Ford, Grange Hall, 2:00 p. m., Tuesday, March 20.

GRAIN MARKET WEAKER WITH DEMAND DULL

Domestic grain markets turned easier during the week ended March 9, influenced by improved crop prospects, a continued dull demand and the slow reduction of the relatively large market stocks, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat declined to the lowest point since about the middle of January, with the May delivery relatively weaker than the July, reflecting the inclination of winter wheat growers to dispose of remaining supplies as a result of improved prospects for the new crop. Corn weakened slightly as wheat declined, but with offerings light and demand fairly active, prices were not materially changed. Oats were independently weak, with Chicago futures at the lowest point since last October. Barley futures also declined but cash grain was fairly steady, and particularly good malting types which were in light supply. Rye followed the downward course of wheat prices, while flax was lower, influenced by the continued dull demand for oil and meal.

The general wheat situation remains weak and continues to be influenced by the maintenance of drastic trade barriers. Among the principal exporting countries, Canada alone is offering wheat on world markets without some form of Governmental regulation. Exports from the United States have been negligible except from the Pacific Northwest where sales have been effected through the aid of the Emergency Export Association. Argentina has established fixed prices for the purchase of wheat for export. Australia has established a licensing system for controlling wheat exports in accordance with the allotment quota under the terms of the London Agreement. In the Danubian countries, reciprocal trade agreements and various other devices, including special tax provisions, have been factors in the export trade. Effective January 22, 1934, the purchase, sale and export of wheat in Bulgaria became a government monopoly. Russia has maintained a government monopoly of the grain trade since the resumption of exports.

On the demand side, takings of foreign wheat by the former large importing countries of Continental Europe have been greatly reduced through the operation of high tariffs, milling regulations and other trade barriers. Recent trade estimates place European imports for the current year at only 400,000,000 bushels, as compared with 768,000,000 bushels in the record shipping season of 1928-1929 and pre-war takings of around 512,000,000 bushels of wheat, have become practically self-sufficient in the matter of bread grains through the operation of high tariffs and milling restrictions. Recently French and German wheat has been offered in foreign markets in competition with wheats from the principal exporting countries. Netherlands and Belgium departed from their traditional free trade policy during the current year. Belgium inaugurated a valorization plan for wheat through an import tax, while the grain trade of the Netherlands has become a government monopoly with a central agency authorized to regulate prices. The United Kingdom now has a tariff on wheat and wheat flour imported from countries outside of the Kingdom. With the curtailment of European demand, Oriental countries became increasingly important outlets for surplus wheat but the recent imposition of duties on wheat imports into China and the maintenance of relatively high tariffs in Japan are reflected in a slackening in Oriental trade.

Domestic cash wheat markets declined with futures despite only moderate receipts. Winter wheat prospects improved with the beneficial rains in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and western Texas. Scattered showers and melting snows were beneficial in the Ohio Valley but in Iowa and Nebraska and adjacent sections to the northward, soil is still extremely dry with the condition of wheat poor. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal central western markets totaled 884 cars with holders reported more inclined to sell with the improvement in new crop prospects. Demand was fairly active, particularly from warehouse men and shippers.

Pacific Coast markets declined along with eastern points. Cash grain was firmer than futures at portland as a result of purchases by the Emergency

Mr. Dammarel, postmaster in Kendrick, addressed the assembly Friday afternoon in a very interesting talk on the Postoffice Department of the U. S. He spoke of the laws and regulations of the postoffice. He told very many interesting facts about stamp making; that 6,000 spruce trees or about 75 acres of trees are used every year they now use 600,000 pounds of tapioca for glue; 1,000,000 pounds of ink; and for every 1,000 sheets of 400 stamps each, 26 pounds of glue are used; eight hundred billion stamps were sold in 1932; and $335,000,000 was the revenue from revenue stamps alone.

He explained the postal savings system and what a great help it is to the people. He recommended the Post Office Dept. to us by saying that it is the only department which has not so much red tape to it.

English III class held a formal reception during class Monday afternoon. Mrs. White (Rev. Berreman) was hostess. Mr. Schavinski (Glen Hughes) was guest of honor. Others in the receiving line were: Gene Tunney (Thomas Blevins); Daniel Webster (Wayne Wegner); Primo Carnera (John Kite). Among the guests present were: Mr. Adolphus Hitler; Lord Plushbottom; Mr. Al Capone; Mr. A. "Too Much Harmony"

It isn't often that "too much harmony" happens anywhere, but it evidently can—as is shown by the picture of that title that will be shown at the Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday nights.

The picture is another of those splendid musical comedies that most people love to see and hear. The dialogue is good and the songs and music are more than tuneful—and you will be whistling them on your way home from the show. And there are scores of pretty girls, which would make it hard to believe that there is "Too Much Harmony."

OLD STORY RECALLS PRUNE TREE RACKET

By T. O. Greene
 Traveling Correspondent of Lewiston Tribune

In the issue of the Lewiston Tribune of March 4, appeared the following item, reproduced from the Tribune's issue of February 29, 1894:

"Big Potlatch Ridge—Some large orders of nursery stock are being sold hereabouts. Among the plantings this spring in acres will be: Messrs. Evans 10, Edmundson 10, Dumbauld 10, McFarland 23, H. C. Jacks 10, A. J. Black 10, and John Baack 10."

Within itself the foregoing is a very simple statement. But when it is shown that the 83 acres consisted of Italian prunes alone an entirely different picture appears on the canvas.

1894 was the year of the great panic, following the "wet" year of 1893, when bountiful crops of grain were produced in the Inland Empire, but made practically worthless by a long period of rain—the grain having sprouted in the stacks, in shocks, in bins and even the heads of standing grain in the fields. It was worth from 17 cents to nothing per bushel.

The fact that farmers were flat broke, their credit with banks and merchants exhausted, and not one of whom was asking "relief" from the government, made the outlook anything but encouraging.

At this juncture a horde of high-powered salesmen appeared on the scene with a proposition that seemed to point a way whereby a farmer by the investment of "a very small sum" could within four or five years, find himself on Easy street, where he could remain the rest of his life. They had everything "figured out"—on paper.

Even while waiting for the trees to come into bearing the farmer could plant beans in between the rows, which would easily offset the cost of cultivation of the trees. Large dryers would be built to evaporate the prunes and an everlasting "market" would be at their very door.

One of the "victims" who now resides in Juliaetta described his experience as follows:

"The two men with fine team and buggy, arrived just after dinner. They worked on me all the afternoon—and till night. They then asked and were given the privilege of staying over night. Next morning, just after breakfast, they started in again. And, to make a long story short, they got my name down on the dotted line—with an order amounting to $4001. That was quite a sum in those days, and it took me several years to get that note paid off."

It scarcely needs to be stated that none of those farmers today are residing on easy street as a result of profits from their prunes. Which goes to show that there were Ponzi's in this country 40 years ago the same as today—and probably always will be.

GRAIN MARKET WEAKER WITH DEMAND DULL

Export Association. This agency put out a price of 76c per bushel, March 9, for No. 1 soft white wheat, sacked and delivered to track tidewater terminals. In the cash market No. 1 dark hard winter with 12% protein was quoted at 83c, while Bluestem hard white was quoted at 77c, with other varieties quoted at 75c per bushel, sacked, No. 1 basis. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals totaled 1,307 cars and reflected the heavy deliveries on recent export sales. Around 2,000,000 bushels of wheat were sold for export by the Emergency Export Association during the week, bringing the total including flour, to 20,000,000 bushels. Sales during the week were made to China, Japan, Ireland and the United Kingdom.

California wheat markets were dull and lower influenced by a further slackening in demand for both milling and feed wheat, the relatively heavy stocks remaining in central California and generally favorable new crop prospects. Bay Region stocks of wheat at the first of March totaled 33,076 tons as compared with 18,073 tons a year ago. Flour business was reported rather slow and California millers were generally working on stocks accumulated early in the year. Feed wheat was in slow demand because of the low purchasing power of the poultry feeding industry and relatively cheap supplies of feed barley. Only small quantities of northern or intermountain wheat moved to the California markets during the week.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were about steady. Local demand for feeding types was dull but moderate offerings from growers were a sustaining influence. Declines in prices of California barley resulted in the movement of some barley from California to Northwestern markets. Inquiry from eastern points for malting barley from the Willamette Valley slackened under the influence of large arrivals from Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and some from California. At the close of the market March 8, malting barley from the Willamette valley had declined to $1.07 1/2 per 100, with No. 2 bright western barley quoted at Portland at 90c per 100, sacked.

Oats markets were irregular with variable demand. Pacific Northwestern markets weakened with a slack demand for white oats from Atlantic coast points and higher ocean freight rates effective March 21. Gray oats were also in dull request from cereal mills. Trading and movement have continued very dull with growers displaying a firm holding tendency. At the close of the market March 8, No. 2 white oats and No. 2 gray oats were quoted at Portland at $1.02 1/2 per 100, sacked. Receipts at the middlewestern markets were slightly higher but shipping demand was dull.

Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. New Music Club Organized

The "A Sharp" music club, which was organized sometime ago at the home of Mrs. Carver Wheelchel, met last Tuesday with Stephen Foster as the subject for study. A very interesting talk on his life and songs was given by Arlene Deobald. "Old Black Joe," one of Foster's best known negro songs was played as a trumpet solo by John B. Thompson. The song, "My Old Kentucky Home," was sung by a group of four girls. At the end of the study hour sides were chosen for a contest over the material used.

The officers of the club, as selected by the charter members, are: John Brewster Thompson, president; Betty Boyd, vice-president; Davida Craig, secretary; Annabel Deobald, treasurer; Paula McKeever, reporter; Arlene Deobald, refreshment chairman; Marie Sloan, entertainment chairman; Lois Deobald, membership chairman.

At the next meeting Tuesday, March 20, each member is to bring his or her mother as a guest.

Italy Or America?

Rome, March 12—Strings of the gold bags that have poured money into Italian industrial enterprises were snatched by the government from the hands of the bankers today and placed in those of a state institute for industrial reconstruction.

Henceforth Italian banks will engage in commercial banking only, and industrial financing will be conducted by the government institute and the industries themselves through stock issues approved by the government.

Because Italian investors generally prefer state securities to industrial stock, it was considered likely a large share of the financing will devolve upon the government.

CRESCENT CLIPPINGS

Mr. and Mrs. William Ripley and children of Texas Ridge, visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dorendorf, from Friday until Sunday.
Axel Swanson, Jr. went to Kendrick Monday, to see Dr. Christensen. He has been quit ill and it was found he was ruptured; caused by too heavy lifting.
Walter Dorendorf has been on the sick list, having a severe attack of indigestion, but is much better now. The neighbors who attended the dance given by Mrs. Anna Kimbley, Saturday night, reported a very enjoyable time.

Sunday dinner guests at the Andrew Dorendorf home were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Forest and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Grantham and daughters, and Mrs. Mary Dorendorf and children. Mrs. Anna Kimbley and children visited there also in the afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kloster and children were Sunday guests at the Bruce Lockhart home.
Mrs. Henry Loesser visited Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Souders and Mrs. Anna Kimbley.
Mrs. Mary Dorendorf and son spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Lew Wattson.
Mrs. C. L. Trail was a Lewiston visitor, Monday, at the Bryan Trail home.
Only seven more weeks of school and our record of perfect attendance still holds good. We are in hopes for a perfect attendance year.
William Cowger and John Daroy were business visitors in Lewiston and Clarkston, Tuesday.
Mrs. W. Grantham and daughter and Mrs. Bruce Lockhart were school visitors Monday afternoon.
Mrs. Julia Eckman called Thursday afternoon at the John Darby and Frank Souders home.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Betts, of Southwick, made short visits Tuesday with several families in the neighborhood.
When your "demon reporter" inquired of Claud Craig, this morning, he mentioned several trips which he and his wife had made in the past, to Pullman, Spokane, Lewiston, Seattle, and other points on the coast, but which were not reported at the time taken and so were never mentioned in these items. We would be very glad indeed if these interesting items had been reported at the time, but being no mind reader we failed to know of them when they would have been of the most interest to our readers. This "gentle hint" is meant for all who notice that they are seldom mentioned while some have their names in the paper "every time they step over the back fence."

Many of the old-time clinging vines have daughters who are ramblers.

Moving Hardware To Lewiston

A. K. Carlson this week began moving his stock of hardware to Lewiston, where he will open a store at 1204 Main Street.
Mr. Carlson has been in the hardware and implement business in Kendrick for the past 20 years and is perhaps one of the best-known business men in this section of the country. In addition to his line of hardware he will handle the John Deere line of implements, that company giving him a large territory in which to work.
The Carlson family will remain in Kendrick until after the close of school this spring.
