

THE WHOLE COUNTRY HAS GONE G-3

Tremendous welcome—huge sales—follow announcement of sensational new Goodyear tire—keeps us and factory on jump—Users say "43% more non-skid mileage" understates it.

MARVELOUS NEW "G-3" GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER

Look What You Get—No Extra Cost: 43% More Miles of real non-skid safety... Flatter Wider Tread... More Center Traction (16% more non-skid blocks)... Heavier Tougher Tread (average of 2 lbs. more rubber)... Supertwist Cord Body (supports heavier tread safely)

We've never seen the equal of it—the way car owners have flocked in, looked, listened, bought new G-3's these last ten weeks—and it's the same everywhere we hear. What's more, people who got G-3's months before the public announcement, report it's better than claimed! They cite mileage records to prove they're getting better than the 43% more non-skid mileage averaged by Goodyear's test fleet. Buy no tires until you let us show you this wonderful new Goodyear All-Weather which gives so much more safety and service without costing you a cent extra!

Sure, we have Goodyears at ALL Prices! Because Goodyears are the largest selling tires, you get more for your money no matter what you pay.

YOUNG NEZ PERCE INDIAN ON MISSION TO SIBERIA

Lewiston Tribune: In the isolated wastes of Siberia a young Nez Perce Indian, employed by the soviet Russian government in ethnological research, has discovered that the natives of that region bear a marked resemblance in habits to the American Indians.

The young scientist is Archie Phinney, formerly of Culedecac who went to Russia about a year ago from Columbia university. His mother, Mrs. Fitch Phinney, Culedecac, a full-blooded Nez Perce, was in Lewiston this week and showed a Tribune reporter the following letter she had received from her son, posted at Akepuka, Siberia, on June 18:

"I received your letter of May 20 before I left Leningrad, but I have had no time to write to you. As it is I don't know whether I can get this letter posted anywhere.

"This is one of the most undeveloped parts of Sibiria, but one of the most beautiful. So I am pretty well cut off from the world for the time being.

"Today I went to see a settlement of natives who live nearby and they were an interesting lot. They live in conical-shaped huts made of bark—much like an Indian tepee in size. They hunt and fish mostly, but raise scrubby horses also, for a living.

"Only a few of them can speak Russian. Their own language is a guttural Mongolian one. They have many habits that remind me of American Indians. They sit around and take life very calmly and whenever there is anything to be done it must be talked over indefinitely first.

"When one of the headmen was asked how much land they had here, he said he didn't know but there was very much. Another man when asked how old he was said, 'I don't know but very old.'

"They live largely on fermented mare's milk and gruel. I tasted the milk which is somewhat like buttermilk.

"I'll write again in two or three weeks. In a couple of days I'm going further inland—a five days' trip by horse. All traveling here is by horse—Mongolian mustangs."

Where He Scored

He: "You are my first thought every morning."

She: "Your brother told me the very same thing the other day."

He: "But I get up an hour before he does."

EXTREMELY HOT WEATHER STRENGTHENS MARKETS

Pacific Northwestern markets shared the strength in other areas but also displayed independent firmness with good milling demand from domestic interests and active bidding by the Emergency Export Association, with bids of 86 $\frac{1}{2}$ c per bushel for wheat to cover a flour sale of 20,000 tons to China for July-August-Sept. shipment. Sales were reported by local dealers to Middlewestern markets for rail shipment. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals totaled 331 cars of which 251 cars were for Puget Sound points. Harvesting is well advanced but yields are reported below earlier expectations. On July 20, Big Bend Bluestem Hard White was quoted at Portland at 87-88c, 12 per cent protein Dark Hard Winter at 90c, and other varieties at 84-85c per bushel basis No. 1, sacked. Intermountain markets gained 3c during the week despite more liberal offerings from growers and No. 2 Soft White wheat was quoted FOB southern Idaho points at 66c per bushel, No. 2 Dark Hard Winter at 74c and No. 2 Dark Northern Spring at 74c per bushel.

California wheat markets developed further strength during the week with trading and movement active during the fore part of the period but slackening towards the close of Eastern markets lost part of their early gains. Milling grades were in particularly good request at San Francisco reflecting light local supplies and suspension of shipments from Washington and Oregon as a result of the Longshoremen's strike. A fairly good inquiry at Los Angeles during the week reflected a good demand from all classes of the trade for the moderately heavy offerings. At the close of the market July 20, No. 1 Hard White wheat was quoted at San Francisco at \$1.50, with Soft White at \$1.45-1.47, and No. 1 white club wheat at \$1.42 $\frac{1}{2}$ -1.45 sacked. No. 2 Western white and No. 2 Soft white from Washington and Oregon were nominally quoted at \$1.50 per 100, in bulk. No. 1 Hard White at Los Angeles was quoted at \$1.47 $\frac{1}{2}$ -1.50 July 20, and No. 1 Soft White at \$1.45-1.47 per 100.

Oats markets gained with the stronger situation in other grains and continued light offerings from the relatively small supplies. Pacific Northwestern oats markets were steady to firm, largely in sympathy with the situation in the Middle West. Prices held unchanged from those of a week ago with No. 2 white oats quoted at \$1.35 per 100 and No. 2 gray oats at \$1.20, both sacked basis. Middlewestern markets were dominated by the light supplies and prices were sharply higher. Top grades at Minneapolis were relatively firmer than the medium to lower grades and demand was slightly more active for the smaller receipts. Decreasing elevator stocks in contrast to the usual seasonal gains were also a strengthening market factor. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Minneapolis July 19, at \$1.44-1.48 and No. 3 white at \$1.42-1.44 $\frac{1}{2}$ per 100. Limited offerings at Kansas City were meeting a good demand and prices advanced 10-11c for the week with No. 3 white oats quoted at \$1.45-1.51 per 100.

Pacific Northwestern markets held steady under light offerings which were meeting a fair demand. Trading and movement were moderate and inquiry for feeding types was dull but the strength in other grains was a firming influence in barley markets. Growers were displaying a firm holding tendency but remaining stocks are light with supplies of malting grades practically exhausted. New crop offerings were only moderate with new barley from the Willamette Valley not yet available. Offers for later delivery were being made at $1.25 per 100, while No. 2 Bright Western barley was quoted at $1.00 per 100, sacked.

Ken Maynard Be Here

Bill, who has struck it rich in California, returns to his home town in the middle West to organize a wagon train to make the long trek to the gold fields. With all preparations made, a prayer meeting is held on the eve of departure.

Rocky, a crafty character, plans to have part of his gang at the meeting while some of the others ransack Bill's room at the hotel where they expect to find his location maps. Bill's dad, his sister, Mary, and others are trapped in the hotel by the raders. Fortunately for them, Ken Manning and his pal, Pinwheel, ride into town just as Rocky and his gang are battering down the hotel door. Ken goes into action at once, "pinks" one of the bandits' cars and shoots a button off Rocky's coat.

You can see this at the Kendrick Theatre Friday and Saturday, July 27 and 28.

INCREASE IN FOREST VISITORS PREDICTED

It is predicted that visitors to the National Forests of the country this year will exceed the total of well over thirty-four million people who entered the Forests in 1933. Of this total, approximately two million visits were made to the National Forests of Region One, which includes Montana and northern Idaho, according to Evan W. Kelley, Regional Forester with headquarters at Missoula.

"The extension of highways and good forest roads have been largely responsible for the increased attraction of the National Forests for recreational use," says Major Kelley. "At the present time, thousands of Civilian Conservation Corps and Public Works employees are busy in the Forests as a whole, extending roads and building other improvements to give additional protection from Forest fires. Some of these roads also give access to scenic and recreational areas, and will be used by increasing numbers of people in years to come. For the convenience of these visitors, campgrounds and areas of special recreational value are being improved at the present time largely by Emergency Conservation Corps workers."

Tydings Counts the Cost

Where will the spending end and who will pay? is the question asked by Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, a Democrat. He says:

"Shortly the government will have a debt of $32,000,000,000 which it must pay, and that means that everybody, including the Government employees, the soldiers, the members of Congress, the farmers and everybody else will have to pay taxes and money which will be necessary to amortize and to meet the interest on the $32,000,000,000 debt. Suppose we agreed to pay it off at the rate of 2 per cent a year over a period of 50 years. That would mean that we would have to create a sinking fund of $640,000,000 a year. The interest on $32,000,000,000 at 3% is $960,000,000 a year. So that the interest, plus the sinking fund requirement of 50 years duration would mean that $1,600,000,000 would have to be collected in taxes from the people every year in order to amortize the debt and keep the interest paid."
