HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Sinclair's Epic Plan by which unemployed men would be placed on idle farm land and in defunct factories to produce their own necessities, was embodied virtually in full in the platform overwhelmingly adopted by the democratic state convention at Sacramento, Calif., Thursday. The vote was 113 to 4. Among those voting in favor of the platform to which only one minor amendment was added in the convention as a whole, were George Creel, chairman of the convention and a man who ran second to Sinclair for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, and United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo.

Around a fugitive from German justice, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, already linked by gold notes with the sensational Lindbergh baby kidnaping, the mightiest forces of the law have worked confidently toward a full solution of the abduction and murder. After one of the greatest manhunt in history, they had recovered $13,750 of the money from the garage of the Hauptmann home in the Bronx. They had identified the handwriting of the 35-year old carpenter as the same as on the ransom notes. They had established that Hauptmann had worked as a carpenter in the neighborhood of the Lindbergh home near Hopewell in the New Jersey Sourlands mountains; that Hauptmann was the man who paid a taxi driver a dollar to take a ransom note to the home of Dr. John A. F. "Jafsic" Condon, the intermediary in the negotiations that like other leads, were of no avail.

Japan's vast export program faced serious curtailment with her richest manufacturing area laid waste in a disastrous typhoon. Latest estimates placed the death toll at well above 2300. The injured, in official compilations, numbered 4,975, and hundreds missing. These were casualties on land only. It was impossible even to estimate the loss of life at sea, although larger shipping suffered but little.

President Roosevelt has approved the Baker board's report on army aviation and authorized the air corps to prepare a budget calling for the purchase of 700 to 800 new airplanes each year until it has 2,300 first-class fighters. In so doing, the executive turned thumbs down, at least for the present, on agitation for recreation of a unified air corps combining army, navy and other governmental aeronautical activities.

The fiery General Hugh S. Johnson resigned Tuesday night as administrator of the national recovery act and President Roosevelt accepted his withdrawal with a mutual understanding to project NRA into an immediate reorganization. The retirement of Johnson, much speculated about in the trying days of the recovery campaign, came as little surprise and was announced at the summer White House, apparently by previous agreement. Mr. Roosevelt set out for Washington late Tuesday night to bring about the reorganization of NRA which is regarded by the administration as the key of the new deal.

Flying from the west, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were back Tuesday night to aid the revived investigation into the murder and kidnaping of their first child as authorities announced discovery of important new evidence against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, accused recipient of the ransom. Col. Lindbergh was to appear before the grand jury considering extortion charges against Hauptmann. Coincidentally with the arrival of the Lindberghs from the Pacific coast, Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey declared his state stood ready to try the suspect on charges of kidnaping and murder.

First Day of Fall Season

Sunday was the first day of the "new" fall season—if you don't believe it, just look at the calendar. However, there was plenty of evidence for proof in the decided drop of the mercury during the night. "Soft" garden stuff is now a thing of the past in this section, although there are many flowers of various kinds in bloom, including some very beautiful roses.

Improving Store

The store of N. B. Long and Sons is being vastly improved on the interior, making ready for a rearrangement of the different departments. When the work is completed a full account of Mr. Long's intentions along that line will be given.

First Snow Of Season
The first snow of the season fell in this section last Sunday night. While there was none in the canyon, reports from the uplands said there was about two inches. The mercury reached 32 degrees during the night. Monday night, though, old Jack Frost bore down on the mercury until it reached 28 degrees above zero—almost as cold as the lowest point reached all last winter.

All kinds of predictions as to just what kind of winter we are going to have are being made freely, but people will know more about it next spring. The best way to enjoy a cold winter is to be prepared for it.

KEITH DAMMARELL DIES AT PARENTAL HOME

Donald Keith Dammarell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dammarell, died at the home of his parents Monday evening, September 24, at 5:30 o'clock, death being caused by heart failure. He was 20 years and 18 days of age at the time of his passing, having been born in Kendrick September 6, 1914, and had lived here all his life.

Keith had not been strong since he had a severe spell of flu during the epidemic of 1918, when just a child, but it had left its bad results over a period of all these years.

He was sitting at a table writing a letter to one of his sisters and the family had been expecting almost momentarily the arrival of his sister, Mrs. Melvin Wirt (nee Edith Dammarell). A car came by the Dammarell home and Keith, thinking it was the sister he was expecting, became excited and started to get up, when he was seized with a heart attack and the end came within a few minutes.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dammarell, seven brothers: John of Lewiston, Kester of Reubens, Edgar of Kendrick, and Robert, Howard, Paul and Quentin, living at home, and two sisters: Mrs. Philip Asplund of Elk River and Mrs. Melvin Wirt of Shelley.

Funeral services were held from the Community church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. T. E. Poindexter in charge. Interment was made in the Kendrick cemetery.

Music was by R. H. Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Walker and Mrs. W. A. Watts, with Mrs. E. H. Emery at the piano.

The pallbearers were six brothers—John, Howard, Robert, Kester, Edgar and Paul.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Dammarell, Lewiston; Kester Dammarell, Reubens; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Asplund, Elk River; Mrs. Melvin Wirt, Shelley; Edgar Wilson, Asotin and Miss Corabelle Teachman of Spokane.

Graveling Big Bear Highway

Work was begun in earnest the first of the week on the graveling of the new highway up Big Bear ridge. "The Big Bearers" should be proud of the splendid road they will have within a few weeks. There are few places in the entire road that cannot be taken at a lively speed and it is one of the most scenic sections of road in this entire section.

All we need now is the same kind of a road to Southwick, Deary and Arrow, and we fully believe that a concerted action in that direction will bring the desired results.

The burden rests principally with Lewiston. We would not like to openly accuse any of their citizens with trying to block any of the Kendrick projects, although it is plain to be seen that Lewiston and her merchants are not interested in having a decent road leading from this great Pottlach country—as indicated by the deplorable condition the Arrow road has been in since the floods of last December.

Two Trucks Over Grade

Last Sunday evening as Keith Clark was on his way home from Kendrick to Juliaetta, his truck went over the grade on the Powell hill, falling to the railroad track. The fall was broken by brush and neither the driver nor the truck were very badly injured.

Bob Thornton, living near Leland, was driving a new Dodge commercial truck home Monday night and when just beyond the bridge across the Pottlach, his car left the grade and went into the canyon. However, slight damage was done to the truck and the driver was not injured.

Old Man Winter gave us a reminder that he will soon be moving in on us. Monday morning everything was covered with snow.

A wicked book is the wickedest because it cannot repent.

GEO. WRIGHT, PIONEER, DIES AT KENDRICK HOME

George Wright, a pioneer of the Kendrick section, passed away at his home in Kendrick Wednesday morning, September 26, death being caused by infirmities incident to old age, he being 80 years, five months and 15 days of age at the time of his death.

George Wright was born April 11, 1854, at Viroka, Wisconsin. He came west in 1871, stopping at Amity, Ore., where he remained until 1876, when he moved to Dayton, Wash., and in 1886 he moved to a ranch on Big Bear ridge, 1½ miles from Kendrick, which he had homesteaded, residing there until 1910, when he moved to Kendrick to make his home.

On July 4, 1876, he married M. Helen Danforth at Amity, Oregon. To this union two daughters were born, both of whom survive. His wife passed away January 28, 1910. On September 9, 1925, he was married to Katharine Wheeler, who died December 3, 1933. He leaves to mourn their loss his two daughters—Mrs. Flo LeCornu of Richland, Mont., and Mrs. Georgia Rowe of Spokane, the latter having been with her father almost constantly during the past several months; also three grandsons and several nephews.

Mr. Wright was perhaps one of the best-known men about town. He had seen Kendrick grow from just a place in the canyon to a good shipping and marketing center. Had seen it emerge from the conflagrations of flood and fire to its present high standing as a trading and shipping point. He had many friends with whom he passed the time of day as he met them, almost daily on the streets.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Friday from the Community church, the Rev. T. E. Poindexter officiating, with interment in the Wildrose cemetery on Big Bear ridge.

The acting pallbearers were Edgar Long, Geo. W. McKeever, W. J. Carroll, Wade Keene, W. A. Watts, and Harold Thomas.

The honorary pallbearers were James Emmett, John F. Brown, N. E. Ware, Frank Curtiss, G. C. Compton, Ira Havens, B. N. Emmett.

MATRON AND YOUNG GIRL PASS TO GREAT BEYOND

Mrs. Rose M. Pontius
Mrs. Rose M. Pontius passed away Tuesday, September 18, 1934, just before 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hanks, Lenore.

Rose Marguerite Schetzel was born at Juliaetta May 30, 1901, making her 33 years, three months and 19 days of age at the time of her death.

She was united in marriage to Fred N. Pontius, December 20, 1924. To this union were born two children—Jean Nelson and Evelyn Maude—one of whom preceded her in death.

Left to mourn are her husband, Fred N. Pontius; her son, Jean Nelson; an adopted daughter, Lillie May; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schetzel, and one brother, Charles Schetzel, all of Lenore. Beside the above mentioned, she leaves a host of relatives and friends. About four years ago she was united with the United Brethren church. She has been a faithful member until death. She was a very earnest worker in Sunday school and missionary work, of which organization she was president. She was always a willing helper to those in need and her greatest desire was to win other hearts to God.

Funeral services were held Thursday, September 20, at the U. B. church, Lenore. Interment was made in Sunnyside cemetery, with Rev. George Calvert in charge.

Singing was by Mrs. Bruce Hersey and Mrs. Raddigath, with a duet by Mr. and Mrs. John Frisbee. Miss Walk of Lewiston presided at the piano.

Alice Pearl McIver

Contributed
Alice Pearl McIver, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McIver, of near Cavendish, was born October 30, 1916, and passed away September 18, 1934, age 17 years, 10 months and 19 days.

She was a senior in the Southwick high school and it is needless to say that her untimely departure has left a vacancy in the schoolroom, as well as in the hearts of all who knew her. She was a conscientious student, dependable and loyal. It was her nature to be of service to others, whether at home or at school. Her ideals were of the best and her work as a student ranked high. Mr. and Mrs. McIver have received letters of sympathy from many of Pearl's teachers, telling of the high esteem with which they regarded her.

She enjoyed attending Sunday school and church services, attending mostly at Cavendish. She was sick only a few days and her condition was not considered serious until a few hours before her death. She realized the end was near and bid the members of the family goodbye. It is impossible for us to understand why one so young and ambitious should be taken from our midst, but we know that the angels called, and in the ways of an all-wise providence, it was best that she should go. Due to the nature of her sickness, it was decided best to have private funeral services at the home, which were held outside. Rev. Geo. Calvert gave a short talk and Rev. and Mrs. Anderson sang. Interment was made in the Southwick cemetery Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Selway Forest Split Up

Officially the Selway national forest will cease to exist, and its hundreds of thousands of acres will be annexed to the Nez Perce, Bitter Root and Clearwater national forests, with headquarters at Grangeville.

The Nez Perce forest gets the largest share; the eastern portion will be annexed to the Bitter Root reserve and the northern portion to the Clearwater national forest. The portion of the old Selway forest nearest Kooskia will be administered from the office in that town, but the chief business will be handled at Grangeville.

The change was apparently made to cut down administrative expense.

The Selway forest bore the brunt of the 1934 forest fires. Hundreds of thousands of acres of standing timber were burned over. The fire lasted for more than a month and was only brought under control by the recent rains.

MARKET BARELY STEADY

Domestic grain markets were barely steady during the week ending Sept. 21, with demand only moderate and offerings of foreign grain on near an import basis, tending to check prices advances, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat and rye were relatively weaker than feed grains, since the former were influenced more by the foreign situation and the latter by the short domestic supplies. Cash wheat closed 1c-2c lower than a week ago at most markets, while corn advanced 1c-2c per bushel. Oats held about unchanged but barley declined with larger offerings. Flax was independently weak, reflecting the continued slow inquiry for oil and increased marketings of new crop seed.

The general wheat situation turned somewhat weaker, influenced by more favorable conditions for seeding winter wheat in the U. S., increased offerings for January and February shipment of new crop Southern Hemisphere wheat at Liverpool and a continued slow demand from importing areas. Liverpool future prices declined about 3c per bushel and exerted a weakening influence on the wheat market in Canada and other exporting countries. This in turn was a weakening factor in domestic markets since prices of several classes of wheat are on an export basis.

Domestic cash wheat markets were generally slightly firmer than futures although milling demand was less urgent as a result of some slackening in the flour trade. Marketings of Spring wheat were only moderate, with 880 cars received at Minneapolis and 562 cars at Duluth. Minneapolis inspections, however, showed 234 cars of winter wheat and 189 cars of Durum, leaving only 357 cars of Spring bread wheat. The protein of the cars tested averaged 14.22 per cent. Low protein light weight was slow sale, but premiums were firm on heavy weight and high protein wheat.

Durum wheat declined about 1¢, but premiums held steady on best milling lots. No. 2 Hard Amber Durum ordinary protein, sold at 2c under to 2c over the Duluth December price of $1.25, while fair to Choice milling lots sold at 8c-15c over and Choice to Fancy lots at 18c to 27c over the December price.

Marketings of winter wheat fell off sharply with receipts at the principal Central and Southwestern terminals totaling only 1,388 cars against 1,928 cars for the previous week and 1,416 cars a year ago. Milling inquiry was only moderate, however, and current offerings were about sufficient for trade needs. The protein of the week's inspections at Kansas City averaged 14.04 per cent. In the cash market low protein was about ¼c lower, while high protein types and heavy weight wheat held steady.

Soft winter wheat declined ¼c to 1c per bushel, with No. 2 soft winter quoted at St. Louis at $1.04, at Chicago at $1.05, and at Kansas City at $1.02 per bushel.

Oats markets were irregular with the moderate inquiry for current offerings offsetting the lighter movement and smaller seasonal supplies. Pacific Northwestern markets were fairly steady. Heavy white oats were in active request from Atlantic Seaboard buyers, but lighter weight oats were dull, with trade advices indicating offerings of Argentine red oats at Atlantic Coast ports at prices below the delivered price of Pacific white oats. At the close of the market Sept. 20, No. 2 white oats sacked, were quoted at Portland at $1.75 per 100, with No. 2 Gray oats steady to slightly lower at $1.55-1.60 per 100. Light offerings in Middlewestern markets were a firming market influence and heavy weight oats of good color maintained firm premiums at Minneapolis as compared with futures. Lower grades were in slow request and prices for these types tended downward.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets held about steady during the week with a fair inquiry for feeding types. Demand from Central Western markets for malting barley from the Willamette Valley was less active and trading slackened. Remaining supplies of malting quality barley in growers' hands were comparatively light and growers were displaying a firm holding tendency with offerings of small volume. On Sept. 20, malting barley from the Willamette Valley was quoted at Portland at $1.95-2.00, delivered Valley points, and No. 2 Bright Western at $1.50 per 100, sacked.

New Refrigerator and Range
A new low cost electric refrigerator and electric range, which is a revolutionary departure from the standard equipment now being used in the home, will soon be on display for the first time at all Washington Water Power Company salesrooms, it was announced yesterday by Lewis A. Lewis, assistant general manager for the Washington Water Power Company.

This electric refrigerator and electric range can be purchased either separately or together in one compact unit. Together they make a single appliance that is both a refrigerator and a range. "Never before has such a revolutionary change been made in electric home appliances as will be found in those ranges and refrigerators manufactured by the General Electric Company," said Mr. Lewis.

"In order that our customers may always know about the very latest in low cost electric equipment, as well as the larger electric ranges and refrigerators, we are displaying this new range and refrigerator combination in all our stores as soon as it is possible to get shipments," continued Mr. Lewis.

It is asserted by General Electric engineers that this little refrigerator has the lowest operating cost of any refrigerator in the world. It is also claimed that food for a family of eight can be stored in this new 2 cubic foot machine. The refrigerator departs from the conventional by having the door lift up at the top instead of opening at the side as the more commodious refrigerators now do. A sturdy, rust-proof food basket slides freely from left to right which enables the housewife to have access to all parts of the box. There are two ice trays freezing 20 ice cubes at one time.

The new low cost electric range is daring in conception, radically different in design and revolutionary in construction, according to General Electric company engineers. The range is fully automatic, modernly styled and has ample cooking capacity for a small family. It has three surface heating units, one 8½ inches in diameter. The oven is 14 in. x 18 in. x 18 in., and it is claimed that it will accommodate a 15-pound turkey or bake eight 1½ pound loaves of bread at one time.

This new model, range and refrigerator combination, is designed especially for use in homes where space is limited, or as auxiliary refrigerating and cooking equipment for butler's pantry, recreation room for summer cottages, road-side stands and club locker rooms.

Mr. Lewis states that "the Washington Water Power Company's policy is to be the first to make available for their customers any new development in electrical equipment for the home at prices, plus freight, as low as any in the United States."

This Is News
The first real old-fashioned covered wagon to be seen on the streets of Kendrick for many a day went through town Thursday forenoon, headed west. We do not know who they were or where they were going, but we will gamble that when they find a mud hole that all of these new-fangled cars with their rated horsepower would stop in, their two-horsepower hayburners will take them safely through.

They were up-to-date in this—they had a trailer, too.

INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOL

Editor—Joe Watts.
Reporters—Rosebud Brown, Reva Berreman, Lucille Lewis, Roberta Weeks.
Advisor—Mrs. Briens.

Miss Lennox's business science class should make Kendrick prosper in future years. They are learning how to save money by spending—through the use of the modern budget system.

Kendrick High School is proud to announce that it is one of the four high schools of Northern Idaho to be teaching Smith-Hughes agriculture.

The 12 ag. 1 and 2 boys are studying the culling of hens—having already taken a field trip. The six junior and senior boys enrolled in ag. 3 and 4 have been selecting breeding stock and doing some judging. Mr. Grover, the ag. teacher, remarked, "The old farmers had better look out or their sons will put them out of business."

Office News
Class and student body elections for the semester will be held in the near future. Elections were held in the spring, but vacancies occurred as some of the officers have dropped out of school.

The enrollment at this time is somewhat less than at the same time last year. A checkup shows that several students from last year who would have been in attendance this year have either moved or dropped out of school.

Class work is going along nicely this time. Fortunately, every class has the books necessary for regular class work.

It is the plan, since football is not offered as a sport here, due to the prohibitive cost of the game, to organize a "touch" football league within the school for the purpose of having competitive games. It is felt that this will give the students a chance to have some competitive athletics which will give them a great deal of exercise. It is the plan to include every one possible under this system.

Work on the roof of the school building and outside painting have practically been completed.

Grade Notes
There are 12 students enrolled in the first grade. They are progressing nicely with their preparatory work.

The third and fourth grades are working out a project of bordering their blackboard with farm animals. The fifth and sixth grades are decorating their room with brownies and fairies.

The seventh and eighth grade girls have decided to organize a basketball team.

Nudists are writing a new book of life—with the leaves left out.

The Soil Erosion Service is preparing a series of radio broadcasts that will be of special interest to people living in the Pacific Northwest. The programs will originate in the studios of Station KWSC of the State College of Washington, Pullman.

Featured on many of these programs will be short talks on erosion problems and control methods by W. A. Rockie, Regional Director, A. L. Hafenrichter, Agronomist, G. R. McDole, Agronomist, and C. C. Johnson, Agricultural Engineer.

Entertainment as well as educational information will be heard on these programs as the Radio Guild of the State College of Washington is cooperating with the Soil Erosion Service. Through plays, skits, and musical programs, the Radio Guild will present the most outstanding talent on the State College campus.

A full hour a week will be used by the Soil Erosion Service. The first program will be presented each Monday evening from 6:45 to 7:00. The second will come at the same hour on Thursday evening and the final program of the week will come from 7:30 to 8:00 each Friday evening.

"Wild Cargo" at Opera House
Life or death for victor or vanquished. That is one of the laws of the jungle. In "Wild Cargo," it is Frank Buck against the man-eating tiger, the enraged rhino, the king cobra, the jungle's hooded death, and crunching orangutan! There is but one fight of animal against animal—but there are many with Mr. Buck, armed with his strange paraphernalia, all made to capture rather than kill. "Wild Cargo" has a background of the jungles of Malaya, Sumatra and Ceylon, with the Van Beuren Corporation the producers and Armand Denis the director.
At Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday evenings.

Why Wait?
Some candidates for political office are issuing promises of "cheap power," and are seemingly oblivious of the fact that the people of this territory already have very low rates for electric power.
The benefits of electric service are widely enjoyed throughout the Inland Empire. Among the customers of this company one out of every four uses an electric range—and practically all of our customers use several electric appliances.
This widespread use of electricity is proved by the fact that the residential average for our customers for the month of August was 136 kilowatt hours—the highest in the state and more than double the national average. And the average August bill of our 49,604 residential customers was only $2.95.
Consider your own use of electricity—isn't this service worth much more than what you pay for it?
This company, which has been serving the Inland Empire for 45 years, pays more than a million dollars a year in taxes and still gives you excellent electric service at exceptionally low cost.

The Locomotive

I always wondered why locomotives are called "she" and understand it is because they wear jackets with yokes, pins, shields and stays. They have aprons and laps, too. Not only do they have shoes, but they sport pumps, and even hose, while they drop trains behind them. They also attract attention with puffs and mufflers and sometimes they refuse to work. At such times they need to be switched. They need guiding and require a man to feed them. They all smoke, and are much steadier when they are hooked up.

STATE GAME DEPARTMENT EXPECTS LARGE KILL

Plans for caring for 4,200 elk and deer in the Lochsa and Selway herds, following devastating forest fires which swept away their fall and winter grazing, were perfected at a conference of state and federal officials at Orofino and cooperation between the state game department, the U. S. forest service, the U. S. bureau of biological survey, commercial organizations, farmers and sportsmen has been assured, said the Lewiston Tribune.

With the opening of the big game season only a few weeks away, officials predict that hunting in the burned-over area will be good and that a kill of about 1,000 deer and elk is anticipated, as against a normal 300. The heavy kill will reduce the size of the herds, lessen dangers of starvation of the remainder and minimize the problems of feeding. Several hundred tons of hay are to be scattered at vantage points.

The following statement, prepared following the conference, has been issued for the information of sportsmen:

The Selway and Lochsa herd in regions affected numbers about 4,200 elk and approximately the same number of deer. About 2,200 of these elk range the Lochsa river and about 2,000 on the Selway. Below Deadman creek on the Lochsa, about 50 per cent of the winter range has been burned; and above, about 85 per cent of the Selway range is all gone to the falls, and below this point the range is about 50 per cent gone. The game loss by burn is slight, a close survey revealing a known loss of 14 head of elk.

Some of the herd may drift to other winter ranges, but it is thought that they will feed on the ridges at the upper border of the burn until the snow drives them lower, and then they can not cross back over the high ridges and must be fed in their usual winter feed grounds.

To meet this situation it was deemed necessary to establish feed grounds along the roads on both the Lochsa and Selway rivers, and plans are to place 100 tons of hay at each of four stations: one at each end of the remaining natural feed on each river, and to place feeding crews on the job, when the snow is such that feed is required.

Highway Soon Finished

Grading of the new highway from Pullman to the Idaho State line west of Moscow will be completed this week, but the road will not be finished and subject to travel for another month, contractors announced.

The first layer of coarse rock and a part of the second layer has been placed, leaving the final coating of fine gravel to be spread. The roadbed is 22 feet wide and the contract calls for construction of 6.8 miles. The new highway is north of Paradise creek and eliminates the need for bridges.

Savings Deposit Interest Cut

Effective October 1, interest paid by banks on savings accounts will be cut from 3 per cent to 2½ per cent by all members of the Idaho Bankers' association, a statement by Boise banks said.

The Boise banks sent out a statement to depositors saying "this is to advise you that the member banks of Idaho Bankers' association are reducing their savings interest rate on October 1, 1934, from 3 to 2½ per cent.

"It is hardly necessary to advise our depositors of the necessity for this. However, one of the major reasons is the cost to the banks of deposit insurance.

"Another reason is that the banks have found it necessary to invest heavily in government bonds. This is because of a lack of sufficient home demand, and as you know, the yield of government bonds at this time is averaging less than 3 per cent per annum."
