KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1935

NO. 3

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Proposing the almost immediate deportation of "3,000,000 aliens," Representative Dies (D., Tex.) introduced a resolution which he said "would have kept Bruno Richard Hauptmann from kidnapping the Lindbergh baby, if he did." Dies proposed transfer of deportation law supervision from the labor to the justice department and asked appropriation of $50,000,000 so "adequate personnel" could be employed to enforce the law.

Steps to block a brewing revolt in congress against a lump sum appropriation of $4,000,000,000 for the administration's relief program were taken by President Roosevelt and democratic chieftains. A course was charted at a White House conference to prevent efforts of members to allocate the huge fund to various projects and purposes. It was argued by the leaders that all but $300,000,000 to be set aside for regular public works, would be turned over to the chief executive for distribution on projects designed to give work to 3,500,000 now on federal relief rolls. A specific bill to this effect was carried away from the White House.

Louisiana's Huey P. Long and California's Dr. E. F. Townsend are striving with some success, they claimed, to mass America's millions behind their "leftist" economic philosophies—redistribution of wealth and recovery through spending. Willing to run for president on a promise to make "every man a king," Long, from his senatorial office, projected the organization of new "share our wealth" societies to augment the 3,000,000 he now asserts are members. In a tiny hotel suite, the lean, elderly Townsend enlisted a new force of organizers to draft the American citizenry behind his old-age pension movement which would pay every man and woman over 60 years of age $200.00 a month.

President Roosevelt smoothed the way for submission to congress next week of a complex program designed to afford social security in the future to the aged, idle, ill and indigent. The major phase of the Roosevelt program was disclosed at length at the White House conference with congressional leaders, who predicted its passage at this session without much difficulty despite pressure for even more elaborate federal spending proposals. Among the impressions gained by the conferees about the security program were: That while the initial outlay of the federal government for the first year was estimated at $100,000,000 that eventually it is expected the systems will be self-sustaining. That it may require 20 years in which to complete the program. That for the unemployment insurance plan a payroll tax of between 3 to 5 per cent be levied. That it will require at least a year or more for the federal-state unemployment insurance set-up to become effective and that it may be much longer before old-age pensions get into the payment stage of operation. Neither Secretary Perkins nor congressional leaders at the White House session would disclose the level of old-age pensions planned or the exact percentage on unemployment insurance.

Amelia Earhart Putnam, ocean-conquering aviatrix, flashed into Oakland Saturday to complete the first solo flight ever made between Hawaii and California—and hastily combed her tousled blonde hair before turning to face a madly cheering, milling crowd. "I'm tired," said the famous holder of many aviation records as she popped her head out of the cockpit, saw the crowd and reached for her comb. The wheels of her swift red monoplane touched dry land at 1:31 p. m. P. S. T. (4:31 p. m. eastern standard time) just 18 hours and 16 minutes after her exciting takeoff from Wheeler field, 25 miles out of Honolulu.

The Saarland voted to return to Germany under Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler by a large majority, the league of nations plebiscite commission announced Tuesday. Germany took 90.8 per cent of the votes cast in Sunday's plebiscite. The official results follow: Total valid votes cast, 528,704. For Germany: 476,089. Status quo: 46,613. France: 2,083. The status quo percentage was 8.8 and annexation to France .4 per cent.

Snow Heavy At Elk River

Snow is being shoveled off the roofs of some of the company houses at Elk River to avoid their falling in with the heavy weight. Several shacks and sheds have succumbed to the deep snow and with a little rain many fine houses might go the way of these shacks.

County Tax Collections Gain

According to a recent report filed by County Treasurer Leola R. King, a gain of some eight per cent has been made in collections over 1933, the total for the first half collections was $271,582.57, a little more than 51 per cent of the total charge on the tax rolls.

The total collection for delinquent taxes has not as yet been compiled but the December collections amounted to $26,018.63. Out of these collections the state will receive $33,453.72; county current expense $25,725.14; county hospital and indigent, $17,381.09; cities and towns $23,647.79; highway and good roads district $54,409.67; school districts, including both district and county levies, $116,937.26.

MRS. LOU SPRAY PASSES AT LEWISTON HOSPITAL

Mrs. Lou Spray was born July 30, 1877, in Adair County, near Stickerville, Mo. She was 57 years, five months and 10 days old.

She was married to George W. Spray on October 23, 1892. To this union there was born six children, four of whom survive her. They are: Mrs. W. C. Carlton, Mrs. Everett Millard, Ruby Spray and W. B. C. Davis, Santa Ana, Calif.; Mrs. L. L. Spray, Spokane; Mrs. Fred Easter, Farmington, Wash., and Mrs. H. S. Irwin, Juliaetta.

Mrs. Spray was a member of the Rebekah lodge. The Order was present in a body to offer their tribute of respect in memory of a faithful sister member.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, Juliaetta, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. F. O. Sapp officiating. Music was furnished by Mrs. Walter Cochran, Miss Alice Cochran, Mrs. Jess Cox and Eugene Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Gruell at the piano.

The body was taken to Palouse for interment. The pallbearers were: Frank Snyder, Charles Snyder, Herbert Millard, Fred Albright, Walter Cochran and Ed. Taylor. The Rebekahs were very thoughtful and had a hot lunch prepared at the Odd Fellows' hall to be partaken of before leaving for Palouse.

World's Heaviest Guns At Singapore

Three 18-inch guns, the heaviest in the world, are to be mounted in the heavily fortified British naval base at Singapore, rapidly becoming the Gibraltar of the far east.

These giant cannons are reputed to fire a shell of more than 3,500 pounds, weigh 150 tons and to be 59 feet long. It is possible that firing of these guns will break windows in the city, 15 miles away.

When the naval base is made impregnable, which experts believe will be within a year, Great Britain will be able to send fighting ships into the Pacific without fear that they may be crippled 2,000 miles from a repair base. The floating dock at the local base can lift the largest battleship in the world.

Neighbors Of Woodcraft Install

The Neighbors of Woodcraft met at the home of Mrs. Grace Helpman last week and installed the following officers for the ensuing year: Anna Aiken, past guardian neighbor; Mildred Rider, guardian neighbor; Bina Raby, advisor; Violet LaHatt, magician; Grace Helpman, clerk; Elizabeth Cook, banker; Flora Davis, attendant; Helen Boyd, captain of guards. The installing officer was Violet LaHatt.

CHANGES ON KENDRICK RURAL ROUTE NO. 2

A slight change has been made in the delivery time of some of the mail on Route 2 out of Kendrick, the principal change being in the addition of eight new families to the route, it being occasioned by the use of the new Bear ridge road.

The schedule, probably effective about February 1, is as follows: The carrier will leave the Kendrick postoffice at 9:15 a. m., or immediately after the distribution of mail from the 8:42 morning train, going up the Potlatch as far as the Pine creek school; then back as far as the new Bear ridge grade; up the new road as far as the Norwegian church, and from there the upper part of Bear ridge will be served the same as heretofore, as far as the O. V. Morey corner; from there to the D. J. Ingle corner, then back down to Kendrick over the Bear ridge point.

All former patrons of the route will be served and there will be the addition of eight new families on the lower point of Texas ridge. The other change noted is the serving of the Potlatch patrons in the morning instead of afternoon.

Blane Re-elected Chairman

The old board of county commissioners wound up the business of the old board on Monday, paying bills for the last three months of the year and generally putting things in shape for the newly-elected board to take over the reins of county government for the next two years.

The new board is composed of James Blane, Walter Driscoll and R. E. Nordby, the latter being elected at the last general election. Blane was re-elected chairman of the board, both he and Driscoll being re-elected as members of the board in November, to succeed themselves.

It was expected the board would be in session the remainder of the week.

Twilight Driving Dangerous

Statistics show that automobile driving at twilight is three times as dangerous as driving at 8:00 a. m. This is due, in part, to poorer visibility, and, in some degree, to fatigue on the part of drivers, it was explained.

It was also reported that the percentage of accident fatalities are 42 per cent higher at night time than in daylight.

P.-T. A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held in the school building next Monday evening, January 21. All interested in the welfare of our school should be present.

At the close of the P.-T. A. meeting the regular annual meeting and election of officers of the local Red Cross will be held. All are asked to remain and take part in this election.

Degree Team To Moscow

U. S. TO HELP KEEP LIQUOR OUT OF 3 DRY STATES

Word comes from Washington to the effect that special plans for blocking the liquor flow into the country's 13 dry states were disclosed by the treasury department with a flat rejection of proposals for lower liquor taxes.

The spokesman was Arthur J. Mellott, deputy commissioner of internal revenue in charge of the treasury's alcohol tax unit. He substituted for Secretary Morgenthau in giving a one-year-of-repeal radio talk after the treasury chief had cancelled plans for such an address.

Mellott put the first year's liquor revenue at nearly $400,000,000, about equally divided between distilled spirits and beer. He said this income was increasing. Estimating that smuggling had been reduced to five per cent of the pre-repeal figure of 20,000,000 gallons annually, he labelled as "grossly exaggerated" estimates that fully 50 per cent of the present liquor supply was illegal.

"The dry states, of which there are now 13, need special attention," Mellott said. "The 21st amendment by which the 18th amendment was repealed specifically provides a measure of federal protection for the dry states."

As to proposals to reduce the present liquor tax of $2 a gallon, or 50 cents a quart, Mellott said:

"Some people think the federal tax to be reduced. Their argument is that this will stop bootlegging. My feeling is that we have made big inroads on bootlegging with the present tax rate and that eventually we shall come close to stopping it entirely.

"Revenues are rising, the quality of liquor is improving and prices are going down."

Are You Curious?

Are you curious? Do you often wonder why grains and hay are no higher in the face of the purported shortage? Do you wonder why you can't sell your wheat at a profit and are asked to curtail production when putting in a crop and yet wheat isn't a $1.00 per bushel?

The answer to these questions are so easy to figure out if you follow the government market reports as published in the Kendrick Gazette—and the answer so far has been—"Government permitted imports of foreign wheat, oats, barley and corn. Read the grain market reports and think for yourself."

WINTER DESCENDS ON THE POTLATCH COUNTRY

Practically every section of the northern part of the United States felt the icy hand of Old Man Winter, in some form, Monday night and Tuesday morning.

The Banana Belt, of which Lewiston is said to be the metropolis, had only a slight snowfall, but the surrounding hills were covered with several inches.

In the Kendrick section snow was more general, it reaching as much as 20 inches on a portion of Big Bear ridge, but the general depth on the ridges reached from about eight inches to 15 inches. In the Potlatch canyon, from Kendrick west, only a light fall was registered.

Lewiston did not give the temperature, but it was said to be above freezing. The coldest at Kendrick was 24 above zero. At Spokane the mercury reached 12 above. The coldest place reported on the North American continent was at Cottonwood, B. C., where the mercury registered 46 below. The coldest place reported in the United States was at Bemidji, Minn., where the mercury registered 32 below.

Again we say it is a privilege, as well as a pleasure, to live in the Potlatch canyon.

Road Plowed Out

Everett Fraser, carrier on Rural Route 2 out of Kendrick, notes that some 2½ miles of road used by him—from the Morey corner to the Sneve Brothers' farm—where there was some 15 inches of snow, has been plowed out, the work having been done by Sneve Brothers, Wilbur Babcock and W. E. Hecht.

Mr. Fraser is deeply appreciative of this help as it enables him to deliver mail to the patrons earlier than he would otherwise be able to do.

It is one of the stipulations of the government that all rural mail routes are to be kept open so the carrier will be able to get through without undue trouble, otherwise the government might consider it sufficient grounds for discontinuance of rural service.

Kendrick State Elects Officers

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Kendrick State Bank was held in the bank building Tuesday afternoon. All old officers of the institution were re-elected for the ensuing year.

The report made showed a very satisfactory business for the year 1934. It showed an increase in deposits of 110 per cent during the year; net earnings of 23 per cent, of which $2,000 went for improvement of the bank property, $1,000 was added to the reserves, and more than $500.00 carried over in undivided profits.

As a whole, all concerned are well pleased by the showing made.

Evening At Bridge

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen entertained a small party of friends at bridge on Thursday evening of last week, three tables being in play. Mrs. W. L. McCreary was high for the ladies and W. L. McCreary high for the gentlemen. Delightful refreshments were served at the close of play.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

GRAIN MARKET UNSETTLED: WHEAT SLIGHTLY WEAKER

Domestic grain markets were somewhat unsettled during the week ended January 11, with wheat slightly weaker and feed grains about steady, states the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Beneficial rains over most of the winter wheat area, together with continued weakness in foreign markets, were weakening influences in wheat, which declined ½ to 1c per bushel. Cash wheat, however, was independently firm with rapidly diminishing supplies and reduced offerings, strengthening factors. Feed grains held about unchanged with the limited market receipts below current trade needs.

World trade in wheat and flour this season is at the lowest level in many years, with independent shifts in direction of movement. France has become an exporter and French wheat has been placed on foreign markets, and possibly for the first time in history has appeared in United States ports. In contrast, Poland, normally a grain exporter, may become an importing country toward the close of the season. European takings of foreign wheat have been a little below those of a year ago, despite the very short European crops of bread grain. The slack European demand has stimulated interest in ex-European outlets for surplus grain with shipments to ex-European countries showing a moderate gain over last season. The United States, formerly the world's largest shipper of wheat and flour, is now on an import basis, with duty paid imports for consumption and feed, July through December, totaling around 6,300,000 bushels. Argentine export trade increased with clearances for foreign ports, August through December, totaling 74,000,000 bushels as against Canadian overseas shipments of only 75,000,000 bushels. Considerable quantities of Argentine wheat have moved to Oriental ports, with smaller lots to Mediterranean countries and some to the United States.

Domestic cash wheat markets were independently firm, reflecting light offerings and diminishing supplies. Farm stocks of wheat at the first of January, totaled only 136,000,000 bushels, against nearly 196,000,000 bushels on farms a year ago. Market stocks totaled around 91,000,000 bushels on January 1, compared with about 133,000,000 bushels a year earlier. Receipts of winter wheat markets increased slightly with arrivals of 647 cars compared with 463 for the previous week. A large percentage of the receipts, however, was placed on previous sales and spot offerings were quite limited and below current needs.

Marketings of spring wheat remained unusually light with receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaling only 318 cars, of which 170 cars were winter wheat. Milling demand was active and prices held firm, with country shipments selling at a premium.

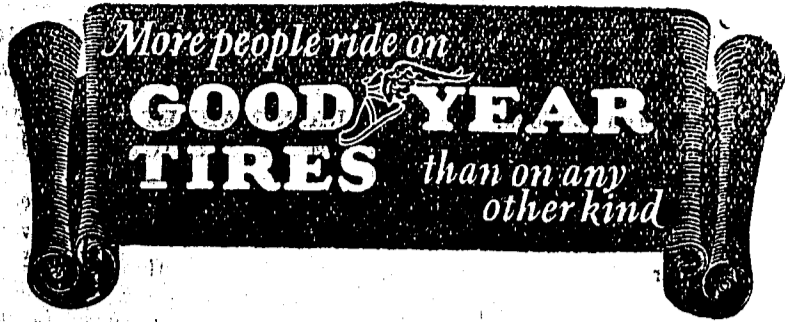

Durum futures declined with other classes but the cash market was firm with an active demand for limited offerings. Approximately 40,000 bushels of Canadian durum were received at Duluth during December. No. 2 amber durum was quoted at Minneapolis at the close of the week at 10c to 14c over the May price of $1.23½ per bushel. No. 1 Canadian western was offered at 21c over the Duluth May for shipment after the opening of navigation.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were relatively firmer than eastern points, reflecting principally the steady local demand. Mills at Denver were bidding 94c per bushel for No. 2 hard winter and 96c per bushel for No. 2 northern spring. FOB Colorado common points, Ogden mills were bidding 81c for No. 2 hard red winter, 85c for No. 2 northern spring, 77c for No. 2 hard white and 74c for No. 2 soft white.

Marketings of wheat in the Pacific Northwest remained unusually small, with receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling only 267 cars. Inquiry from outside markets was dull and practically no sales were reported to the middlewest, the Atlantic Coast or to California. For the season to date, however, shipments from Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals have totaled 22,927,000 bushels, compared with 22,362,000 bushels July through December last year. Domestic milling inquiry improved and local mills provided the principal outlet for current offerings. At the close of the week, 12 per cent protein dark hard winter was quoted at Portland at $1.01. Big Bend bluestem hard white at 93c, soft

G. W. ROWE, CIVIL WAR VET DESCRIBES HARDSHIPS

The following article, taken from a Missouri paper, was handed us by Mrs. Chas. Hicks, who resides on the bench between Kendrick and Juliaetta, and who is a daughter of Mr. Rowe, who is now 93 years of age. While Mr. Rowe probably is not known here, Mrs. Hicks has many acquaintances who will read the article with pleasure:

"It would be difficult to find a more interesting person than our old friend an neighbor, G. W. Rowe. He was born in Wright county, Mo., March 7, 1843 and remained there until 1855 in the same house and on the same farm.

"In July 19, 1862, at the age of 19, he volunteered in the United States army. The regiment was made up in Springfield, Mo., and then sent to Prairie Grove under General Haron, and ordered back to Pilot Knob, Mo., the last of June, 1863. Our orders were then to move on from Pilot Knob to Little Rock, Ark. The roads and swamps being impassable, we were without food for three days and nights," said Mr. Rowe.

"On July 4th I asked my quartermaster if he had anything to eat. He handed me the ham bone of a hog, which I roasted and that made my 4th of July dinner. We then marched to Clarendon, Ark., and there we met old Gen. Steele with 32,000 infantry and two regiments of cavalry. We then started for Little Rock, Ark., and on the 25th of August started fighting at Brownsville, Ark. We had bushwackers to fight all the way. The last day of August we were within four miles of Little Rock. September 1 we made a pontoon across the Arkansas river and eleven regiments of cavalry crossed over. The Southern army found out we were coming and called all of the troops out of the breast works. They were fortified from the river to the hill. We commenced fighting on September 10 at daylight and continued until 11 o'clock that night with the Southern army in retreat. We followed them all the next day, returning to the city that night and remained in camp for a rest.

"In 1864 I cast my first vote for Abe Lincoln in what was known then as the Indian Territory.

"At Fort Smith Arkansas we were starving as were our horses and it was then that we moved into the Territory so that our horses could have cane to eat and all we could get was mutton without salt or pepper, but to us that was the finest eating we had had for many days. We had been sent out with rations to last for ten days but were gone 37 days.

"We then camped at Little Rock and Durall Bluff and other places until February 25, 1864. Small pox broke out and at the time I weighed 195 pounds, and on July 2 I was down to 130 pounds.

"On March 1, 1865, I was moved to the small pox hospital, laid on a bunk by a dying man. That was the last I remember until March 26. I could not move a muscle but laid flat on my back between two sheets for days.

"The Doctor, Ward Master, and steward would come and stand by my bed and I could hear them say, 'He will be dead by night.'

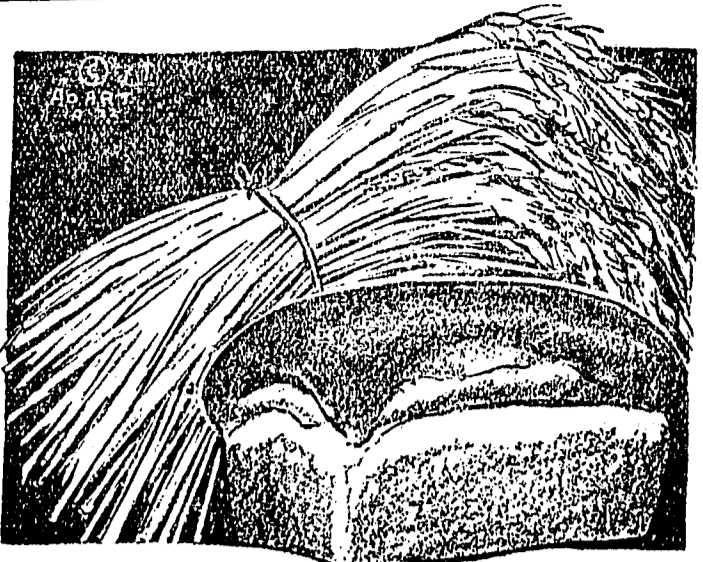

"I was left without finger or toe nails and no hair on my head or any of my original skin. The doctor called me Comanche. He said, 'I am going to tell you something. I have waited on over 500 cases of small pox but you are the worst case I have ever seen, for I never knew of anyone having confluent small pox and getting well.' They had all died out of my ward two different times. He told me if I hadn't had a constitution of iron and the patience of Job I'd have been dead long ago.

"The doctor said, 'When you are discharged I want to make out your papers so that you will get a pension for you will never be able to work again.' In this he was badly mistaken. On June 27 I started for home and arrived there in July. I was married in Webster county to Mahalia C. Hood in October, 1865, on the same place where I was born, and lived there until 1869, when I moved to Howell county, where I now live. Ten children were born to us, nine of whom lived to be grown. Thirty-nine grandchildren, twenty-nine great grandchildren, and eight great-great grandchildren are also living.

"Mrs. Rowe was 88 years old on Nov. 26, being born in Overton county, Ky., in 1846. Mr. Rowe and his wife have lived together 69 years and have made only one move in their life. They are both very feeble.

DeMills "This Day and Age"

"This Day and Age," said to be one of DeMille's masterpieces, will be the feature picture at the Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday nights.

This picture is announced as a true DeMille epic, revealing the same masterful handling of mobs, the same realistic touches that brought fame to his previous classics, "The Sign of the Cross," "The Ten Commandments" and the "King of Kings." "This Day and Age" reaches surging heights when it presents a mob scene in which 5,000 youngsters have put a racketeer on trial for his life in a "kangaroo court."

Then, too, there's the fourth episode of "The Red Rider," cartoon and other interesting features.

It is estimated that more than $2,500,000 will be spent for the new equipment.

Parasites - Politicians

A SUCCESSFUL BOT AND WORM IS LIKE A SUCCESSFUL POLITICIAN—IT EXPLOITS ITS HOST ONLY TO A DEGREE THAT THE EXPLOITATION CAN BE BORNE

It is Wary of "Killing the Goose That Lays the Golden Eggs" The Death of the Parasitized Animal is an Unfortunate Accident for the Parasite

Now is the time to carry on the fight against Bots and Worms, ridding the animals of these parasites will allow them to go through the winter on less feed, fewer cases of sickness and be ready to do more work, and in the case of young animals, make a faster growth next summer. Parasites are constantly doing damage that is hardly noticed for years because the work is so gradual and deadly.

GRAIN MARKET UNSETTLED: WHEAT SLIGHTLY WEAKER

white, northern spring, hard winter and western red at 86c, and western white at 85 cper bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle, western white was quoted at 85c, western red at 85c, hard winter at 87c and Baart hard white at 94c per bushel, basis No. 1, sacked.

California markets were more active with dealers and industries replenishing stocks following inventory. The substitution of wheat for corn tended to increase the demand for feed wheat.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet with the light trading and movement reflecting the slack demand from all classes of the trade. Remaining supplies were firmly held and this was a steady influence on prices. No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland January 10 at $1.57½ per 100 and at Seattle at $1.60 per 100, sacked. Inquiry from middlewestern markets for malting barley from the Willamette valley was slow and prices at Portland were nominal at $1.85 per 100. Malting barley was quoted nominally at about $1.75 per 100 at Seattle.

Oats markets were quiet, but prices were irregularly higher. Demand in the Pacific Northwest was dull for white oats with small lots of the best quality reported sold to the southeast and California. Cereal mills continued to provide the best outlet for gray oats with current offerings moving readily. At the close of the market Jan. 10, No. 2 heavy white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.70 per 100, with No. 2 gray oats at $1.62 per 100, sacked. White oats were quoted at Seattle at $1.65 per 100, with Puget Sound or "flat" oats being quoted at $1.50 per 100 nominally, both sacked basis.

Facts --- Not Politics

To Our Customers:

Doubtless you have recently read in the newspapers the statement that the average residential use of electric energy throughout the United States is 611 kilowatt-hours per year and that an effort should be made to increase such use through reduction of rates. Without discussing the merits of the argument, we think you should be advised that such propaganda is without application in the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

According to the 1932 U. S. Census such residential average in the New England States was 552 kilowatt-hours and in the Middle Atlantic States 542 kilowatt-hours and about the same number in other groups of states, excluding the Pacific Northwest. In our section such annual residential average, according to the said Census, was:

State	Kilowatt-hours
Washington	1212
Idaho	1167
Oregon	1002

According to the published 1933 Annual Reports of the cities of Seattle and Tacoma the residential average for the year 1933 for those city owned electric light systems was:

City	Kilowatt-hours
Tacoma	1210
Seattle	996

As to the larger privately owned electric light systems, such annual residential average at the present time is:

Company	Kilowatt-hours
The Washington Water Power Co.	1606
Pacific Power & Light Co.	1230
Idaho Power Company	1207
Northwestern Electric Co.	1161
Puget Sound Power & Light Co.	1017
Portland General Electric Co.	992

The national residential average use is 611 kilowatt-hours per year and the national average cost for such residential use is 5.5c per kilowatt-hour. It is a matter of common knowledge that such average cost in the Pacific Northwest is very much less than the national average. The companies and merchants in this territory for many years have been actively engaged in selling ranges, water heaters, and other load building appliances, and the companies have established rate schedules which will permit the liberal use of such appliances. For example: as a result of low rates and liberal use of electric appliances, the Washington Water Power Company now receives an average sum of 2.3c per kilowatt-hour for all residential services.

The inference to be drawn from these figures is certainly most favorable to the privately owned and tax-paying electric light systems in this section of the country.

Frank T. Post, President.
