NO. 4

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

With a presidential guide before it congress on Jan. 17, set out to enact a five-phased program to help the jobless, the aged, mothers and their children and to closer safeguard their health. In one bundle the President sent to the capital a message outlining what he thought was necessary to establish "sound means toward a greater future economic security of the American people," and a report portraying the conclusions reached in a half-year study by a large group of "experts." General opinion in the capital was that the move represented the most sweeping effort in the country's history to provide against the "hazards" of life.

Not a gun barked, but department of justice agents and Philadelphia detectives, working quietly and with precision, Friday "picked off" five members of the notorious "tri-state" gang. Unwittingly, Mary McKeever "fingered the mob," who in contrast to the department's machine-gunning of "Ma" Barker and her son, Fred, Bremmer kidnap suspects, were arrested without a shot being fired. The McKeever woman was one of the prisoners. The others, Robert Mais, 29, and Walter Legenza, 41, desperadoes under sentence of death in Virginia, and Martin Ferrell, 28, and Edwin Gale, 23, both escaped convicts, were picked up quietly.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is expected to take the leading part in the conquest of another ocean for United States' aviation—just as soon as the court decides whether Bruno Richard Hauptmann murdered his son. The famous flier, it was revealed by intimate associates, is expected to fly the Pacific ocean preliminary to the establishment of an experimental air transport service between America and the orient which will reduce the transportation time between the orient and the new world to 60 flying hours.

Washington's democratic legislature hurled two bombshells at President Roosevelt Monday, when the house chamber passed one memorial demanding immediate payment of the war service bonus and defeated another, which would have urged the entrance of the United States into the world court. It went on record as favoring payment of the bonus 88 to 7, with four members absent, and repudiated the world court measure after two hours of stirring debate, 58 to 36, with five absent.

An unexpected and determined stand against democratic leaders' plans to jam the administration's $4,800,000,000 relief program through the house under "gag" rule was successfully staged Monday by insurgents in the powerful rules committee. At least another day of delay became certain after rebellious committee democrats balked at the request of their leaders for rigid procedure during house consideration of the bill. Speaker Byrns and other democratic leaders, with White House pressure on them to get the bill to the senate by tomorrow night, were in a quandary. Under cover resentment against granting blanket authority to the chief executive to delegate power to subordinates to handle distribution of the big fund for work projects has been growing in the house since the proposal was submitted.

Prospects of a state sales tax rose Saturday night as Gov. C. Ben Ross and P. C. Meredith, Idaho emergency relief administrator, wrestled with the problem of making $70,000 in available relief funds provide for Idaho's thousands of needy the rest of the month. "Some new form of revenue will be necessary," governor Ross announced, after he had been informed by FERA officials in Washington that no more federal funds will be available to Idaho after March 1, 1935, unless the state contributes at least $100,000 monthly to the cause of its own distressed citizens.

Asks Probe Of Pardon Board

Senator Whitten, Boise, on Monday introduced a resolution in the state senate asking for a complete probe and report of all pardons and paroles granted by the pardon board, of which Gov. C. Ben Ross is chairman, during the past four years, and "the reasons therefor."

There have been many questions asked along this same line during recent years regarding the freeing of convicts who had been sent up for many years, freed by the present board, including a murderer or two. A real airing of the board's actions is promised.

P.-T. A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers association was held in the assembly room of the school building Monday evening. A short business session was held and a short program given, including a flute solo by Harold Thomas, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas at the piano.

Refreshments of maple sticks, doughnuts and coffee were served in the doemstic science room of the school after the meeting.

IDAHO MUST RAISE $100,000 PER MONTH

Blame for relief conditions in Idaho has been placed on the state administration by a federal emergency relief administrator spokesman who denied knowledge of the reported purging of relief rolls in the state.

The spokesman, who declined to be quoted by name, said T. J. Edmonds, field representative of FERA, was in the west on a regular tour of duty, but added that headquarters at Washington had received no statement, indicating he had ordered a clean-up of the Idaho situation. He said the administration knew nothing of 16,000 persons having been cut off the rolls to eliminate those on the rolls through political influence.

Gov. C. Ben Ross has been notified by Administrator Hopkins, the spokesman said, that the state must assume "its fair share" of the unemployment relief burden in order to obtain any federal funds for that purpose after March 1.

Figures given out by FERA showed that since the first payment to Idaho on May 23, 1933, the state has received to date $8,746,546 in federal funds for relief purposes. The December, 1934, allotment was given as $1,009,072 and that for January as $895,004, exclusive of $140,000 allotted January 18, but which has not gone out. This brings the January federal contribution to $1,035,004, slightly above the allocation for the last month of last year.

The FERA spokesman said that during the 21 months ended September 30, 1934, the federal government had spent $4,330,869 toward financing relief in the state, exclusive of CWA funds, and the state government had contributed only $5,161 and local governments $910,634, largely for work relief on highways.

Reubens-Culdesac Banks Merge

At the regular annual meeting of stockholders of the Bank of Reubens held last week it was voted to consolidate its business with that of the First Bank of Culdesac, owned by the same interests, said Arthur E. Clarke, president of the First National bank, Lewiston, of which the Reubens bank is an affiliate.

The decision was reached by the fact that the banks at Culdesac and Reubens, each located on a paved highway, have drawn business from the Reubens territory to such an extent that the volume remaining was not sufficient to justify retention of a financial institution at Reubens.

The stockholders also considered that the needs of banking facilities for the community could be handled at Craigmont and Culdesac without inconvenience and in a manner satisfactory to residents of the Reubens territory, Mr. Clarke said.

F. K. Dammarell, cashier of the Bank of Reubens, has been transferred to the Craigmont State bank.

The Bank of Reubens was organized about 26 years ago by the late John P. Vollmer.

Hold Farmers Meeting

County Agent J. W. Thometz of Nez Perce county and Dr. T. A. Elliot, veterinarian, of Genesee, were in Kendrick for a short time Wednesday on their way to Leland, where a meeting of farmers of Potlatch ridge was scheduled for 2 o'clock. The object of the meeting was to outline a treatment for horses afflicted with bots, an intestinal parasite.

Eastern Star Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star Tuesday evening, John L. Woody was installed as associate patron and Mrs. F. B. Higley as conductress. These two officers were unable to be present when the other officers were installed.

Work Train and Snow Plow

On Monday a work train, putting the new steel bridge in place near Arrow, and doing other necessary work, was in Kendrick a portion of Monday, as was a snow plow that was seeing that the track was clear of snow.

'TOO MANY 'REDS' SAYS CHAMBER OF C. LEADER

A warning that there are 1,500,000 communists in the United States today plotting to overthrow the government was sounded by E. R. West, president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce at Los Angeles.

He made the statement in addressing a banquet opening the 11th western divisional meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

"This menace, today, is infinitely worse than the most of us even dream," said West, who lives in Los Angeles.

"All communists are atheists. They not only deny the existence of a God, but they prohibit religious worship. In Russia they have destroyed the churches and banished or killed a large number of the priests.

"Until a few years ago, they practiced the nationalization of women—which means that the woman was the property of the government, to be handed about and used under a system of permits. And even now she is still, in a measure, a public institution, while the children belong to the state.

"Here in America, in 1934, these things seem unbelievable. Yet they represent the doctrines which the communists preach and practice, and which they plan to put over on the people of America in exchange for our present beliefs and our present form of government.

"They, moreover, plan to bring about this change, not by peaceful methods, but by force and violence—through a process of bloody revolutions."

County Committee Appointed

A county-wide committee has been announced by Harvey J. Smith, Latah county administrator for the IERA, to help "purge" the list of relief workers of those who are not entitled to such help, the command coming through Boise from Washington, D. C. The state is trying hard to reduce the relief load, Mr. Smith said, apparently because the cost has run away from the appropriations available.

Members of the committee to serve in this county are I. E. Snow and Charles Laherty, Moscow; W. J. Gamble, Potlatch; Dr. J. Peterson, Troy, and N. E. Walker, Kendrick.

Similar committees have been named for other northern Idaho counties. Mr. Smith believes the check will be finished in Latah county by the first of February, when it is expected that relief projects will be resumed.

Real Winter At Last

Real winter has finally arrived in Kendrick, notwithstanding the sayings of various prophets, including some college professors, that we are apt to have another winter such as last, or that it was possible that we might have warm weather here for the next 20 years, or such a matter. Saturday night the mercury hit the zero mark with a dull sickening thud, and stopped at eight degrees below zero (on the schoolhouse hill). It was somewhat lower by some thermometers lower down in the bottom of the canyon. Monday morning it was 14 above. Some two inches of snow has fallen in the canyon, but on the ridges it ranges to as much as two feet and more and many of the roads are badly drifted.

E. E. McDowell Feeds Ducks

E. E. McDowell came up town on Monday, reporting that wild ducks were starving to death on the Potlatch just below town, and offering to carry feed to them if it were provided. This was shortly forthcoming from the Vollmer-Clearwater Co., the Gazette and others, then "Mac" reported on his pet.

It seems that Monday morning while making his rounds on the creek he came across a bunch of ducks, one of which couldn't fly. He carried it home, put it in the chicken yard, and set food before it. The duck ate, and showed no inclination to leave. In the evening "Mac" reported four more of its wild bretheran had joined it and were quacking happily in his chicken yard.

Made Director Walton League

At a meeting of the Izaak Walton League at Moscow last week, Marvin Long was made one of the directors of the league, as was Dr. A. M. Wygant of Potlatch, thus giving recognition to members who reside outside of Moscow. Clarence Jenks, retiring president, is also a member of the board of directors.

ROOSEVELT WANTS GARNER FOR 1936 RUNNING MATE

Word has been quietly passed that President Roosevelt wants Vice President Garner to team up with him again for the 1936 presidential campaign.

This information dashed cold water on the aspirations of some half a dozen prospective candidates.

There had been talk among pronounced liberal democrats in the administration about getting Garner replaced by Secretary Ickes or Wallace.

To clear up the matter, some democratic leaders sought the president's attitude, any doubt about Mr. Roosevelt wanting Garner to be his running mate has been definitely dispated.

With this development, political interest turned to the prospects of leading senators of both parties to return in 1936.

Besides the floor chieftains Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democrat, and Senator McNary of Oregon, republican—many of the best known members of that branch—32 in all—will be up for reelection.

Senator Borah, Idaho republican independent, who has seen the longest service in the senate, and Sen. Carter Glass, Virginia democrat, who recently celebrated his 77th birthday anniversary, are both veterans whose terms expire at the end of this congress. Borah entered the senate in 1907.

Already Gov. C. Ben Ross of Idaho has indicated that he would seek the democratic nomination to be run against Borah.

The Presidential Family

There is just one thing about it—the presidential family seems bound to keep themselves in the limelight. A picture of "the first lady of the land" greets one in nearly every newspaper picked up—large or small, there have been two divorces and two marriages in the family within recent months; one of the president's sons was recently arrested for speeding and paid a small fine for the privilege ($10 and costs for 80 miles per) and is now facing a heavy damage suit as the result of another car accident—and the president bobs up in congress or the senate at short intervals and keeps both houses reminded that he still insists on having things his own way.

"Uneasy lies the head of the great—or near great," said Bill Shakespeare, Upton Sinclair, Townsend, or someone else.

Has Addition To Sheep Herd

Sunday morning when the mercury was hovering some 18 degrees below zero, Archie May, who resides near Leland, sallied forth to do his chores. Now, Archie has some very fine Shropshire sheep and they are very close to his heart, so he was naturally quite interested when he was sure he heard a new voice from the sheep shed. Going there he was greeted by a fine lamb—and was Archie proud! He says the little thing withstood the severe cold and bids fair to make a fine animal.

Idaho Winter Wheat Plantings

The acreage of winter wheat planted in Idaho for harvest in 1935 is estimated at 580,000 acres, according to Richard C. Ross, Federal agricultural statistician. This is an increase of about 10 per cent over the acreage planted in the fall of 1933. Fall rains were generally favorable and the crop was reported in good shape on December 1. Condition on that date averaged about 89 per cent, which compares with 72 per cent on December 1, 1933, and with the 10-year average of 87 per cent.

Better Pay Your Subscription

Fred Gertje, editor of the Latah Journal, Deary, went to Moscow the other day where he was sworn in as justice of the peace of District No. 1. If you owe the Journal a year's subscription, or more, and you should happen to get into trouble and be hauled before the bar of justice, better pay up your subscription first—you might get off easier. Not that the judge would be, or is, susceptible to a bribe, but he would have your number beforehand.

Held Annual Meeting

The Farmers Bank held their annual meeting Tuesday, January 22, when all old directors were re-elected. It was most gratifying to the stockholders to note the remarkable increase in business in all departments, total having more than doubled during the past year.

Tommy Keene Improving

Word from St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, to the effect that Tommy Keene, who was operated on ten days ago for ruptured appendix, is getting along nicely and is in a fair way for recovery, which will be good news to the many friends of Tommy and the Keene family.

Miss Maxine Keene, who was summoned from Pocatello, where she is attending the southern branch of the University of Idaho, is at home for a short time. Tommy's mother is with him at Lewiston.

GOFF ENDS RECORD TERM AS LATAH PROSECUTOR

Abe Goff stepped out of office on Monday afternoon with the record of having served Latah county as prosecuting attorney the longest of any other attorney. Mr. Goff was prosecutor for 10 years. He was not a candidate at the last primaries, retiring to devote his full time to private practice.

"While I am glad to leave the responsibilities of the office to others, it is with regret that I leave the friendly atmosphere of cooperation which was extended me by other county officers," Mr. Goff declared Tuesday morning.

In March, 1925, Mr. Goff became assistant county attorney to C. J. Orland, appointed after the death of William Stillinger. Mr. Goff handled much of the prosecutor's duties under Mr. Orland, and in 1926 was elected to the office, serving four elective terms. In 1930 he entered partnership with Mr. Orland in general civil practice.

During his tenure of office Mr. Goff handled hundreds of criminal cases in the various courts and many civil cases on behalf of the county. For two years he was president of the State Association of Prosecuting Attorneys. He was admitted to practice here in 1924 upon graduation from the University of Idaho law school.

GRAIN MARKET WEAK AND UNSETTLED, SAYS BUREAU

Grain markets were unsettled during the week ended January 18, and sharp price declines in most grains early in the period were not fully regained, states the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A continued slack demand, weakness in foreign exchange, and uncertainty as to the final court decision in the interpretation of the monetary laws, were unsettling influences. Wheat lost 1c to 2c both in cash and futures, despite relatively light offerings. Corn and other feed grains were lower with wheat. Rye was independently weak, but flax gained around 1c per bushel, influenced by a more active inquiry from growers as demand for oil improved.

Prospects for wheat in 1935 are now coming into prominence as a market factor. Acreage estimates are still lacking for many important winter wheat areas, but such as are available indicate an acreage equal to or in excess of that of last year. The condition of the crop as a whole is average or better and considerably above a year ago. Winter wheat seedings in the United States were increased nearly 6 per cent last fall and the condition of the crop at the first of December indicated a harvest about 70,000,000 bushels larger than 1934. For Europe no important changes are in prospect although a slight increase over last year's acreage is indicated. The Danubian countries have increased wheat seedings by more than 1,000,000 acres, largely as a result of favorable seeding conditions last fall and the relatively high prices received for the 1934 crop. Crop conditions throughout most of Europe are average or better with germination regular. Russian winter wheat seeding was earlier in 1934 than in any other recent year since 1930. The planned acreage for wheat is placed at 32,000,000 acres against 31,000,000 acres a year ago. Indian crops have suffered somewhat from inadequate moisture supplies, with deficiency of the monsoon causing lack of winter rains.

Domestic cash wheat markets were weak and mostly followed declines in futures which in turn reflected a weakness in foreign markets and uncertainty concerning the court decision of the monetary question. Marketings remained relatively light with receipts at the principal winter wheat markets totaling 666 cars compared with 1,105 cars a year ago. Only 123 cars were received at Kansas City with a large percentage applied on previous sales. Current offerings were limited and inadequate for trade needs with the result that elevator supplies were further reduced. Mills experienced some difficulty in obtaining supplies and paid premiums for heavy weight rather than for high protein types. At the close of the market January 18, No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at 99c to $1.01½. Offerings were light at Chicago with outside mills the principal buyers. Premiums were reduced about ½c, with No. 2 hard winter quoted at the close of the week at $1.05. The same grade was sold at St. Louis at $1.04 per bushel. Mill inquiry slackened but elevators were active buyers. Demand at Fort Worth was rather light but receipts were light and offerings were entirely from storage stocks. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at $1.12 per bushel, delivered Texas common points. Prices of soft winter wheat moved within narrow limits with supplies limited. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at St. Louis at $1.00, at Chicago at 99c and at Kansas City at 99c per bushel.

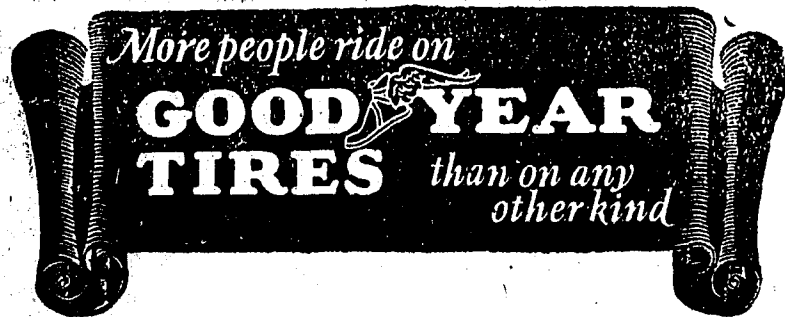

Marketings of spring wheat were very light. Receipts at Minneapolis totaled 339 cars but inspections showed 244 of these were winter wheat. Only eight cars were received at Duluth. Durum markets were firmer than those for bread wheat, reflecting the very limited offerings and good demand. Only one car of durum was received at Minneapolis during the week. No. 2 amber durum, ordinary to choice milling quality, was quoted at 10c to 14c over the Duluth May price of $1.23. Some Canadian No. 1 amber durum in store at Duluth was offered at 20c over the Duluth May price.

Intermountain wheat markets were rather irregular. Denver mills lowered bids 6c to 8c per bushel and were offering 88c for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring FOB Colorado common points.

Pacific Coast markets followed declines at eastern points and were 1c to 2c lower. Marketings in Washington and Oregon increased with re-

Zane Grey's "The Last Trail"
Everyone who loves a Western, loves Zane Grey's pictures, and if you know your Western players, you know George O'Brien as one of the "shoot-in'est shooters" in the picture game. And all who like comedy love to see El Brendel, one of the most comical comedians in pictures.

While O'Brien is taking care of a bunch of crooks and racketeers who are trying to steal a ranch, Brendel is the laughing case of mistaken identity. He plays the role of a killer, and seeing his image in a mirror, blazes away. What happens afterwards is said to be one of the best comedy scenes in the entire production. Claire Trevor has the leading feminine role.

Office News
The first semester of school ended Friday, January 18. The grades as a whole, were about average, and there was about the usual number of failures. These are due, generally, to the fact that the person receiving them isn't fully aware that school is in session until 10 or 12 weeks have passed. Then it is generally too late to remedy the cause. Some low grades are attributed to the fact that the individual is very irregular in attendance. In case of illness the student has every opportunity to make up the work. However, students who are so irregular in attendance find it difficult to get much from the subject in spite of the requirement that all work be made up.

In some schools one percent is deducted daily from the grades of a student for each absence regardless of cause, it being estimated that this much is lost. Thus the student who is ill, and wants to attend school will start as soon as possible and the student who is irregular in attendance for particular reasons automatically eliminates himself. It is reported that the attendance is much better where this system is used. We would like to urge that you, as parents or guardians, take it upon yourselves to see that your children get to school on time and attend regularly.

Mildred Kite, who was a Junior in high school, withdrew at the end of the semester to enter Moscow high school.

The Achievement tests for high schools have been received and will be administered soon. The results will be published at a later date.

J. H. Adams visited the school last week to get information and estimate the amount of repair work that needs to be done. Mr. Adams, a former contractor, is collecting data for the State Department of Education.

School notes were subordinated to the tension and hurry of semester exams and failed to reach publication last week.

Sports
Basketball fans witnessed one of two thrilling games here Saturday evening, January 19, when Kendrick came in fast during the closing seconds of the game to nose out a close 27-25 victory over the Lapwai Indians. The Tigers started off with a lead but were trailing 10-7 at the half. They came back in the third quarter to tie the score. From then on it was a furious battle with both sides scoring but neither able to gain a lead. During the closing seconds of the game, Blevins, flashy Kendrick guard, came to the front with two sensational shots to win the game. Blevins was high point man with 12 points.

This was Kendrick's third consecutive conference victory and puts them at the top of the conference. Coach Dawald is to be congratulated upon the fine team he has turned out this year and he will no doubt be rewarded by their bringing home the conference championship—we hope so, at any rate.

The Kendrick girls lost a game to the stronger Lapwai team by a score of 31-21. Lapwai got ahead early in the game and soon had it "on ice." Our girls also lost a game to Orofino, played there last Friday night. The Kendrick boys and girls play at Southwick, Friday, January 25.

God Forbid!

Huey Long, the Louisiana Kingfish says there is just one way to keep him out of the Whitehouse, and that is redistribution of wealth. Huey said: "We are now in the third year of the Roosevelt depression" and that "there is one sure way to avoid Huey Long for President"—redistribution of wealth.

The Louisiana senator, at odds with the national administration over things political and economic, made his declaration in an address broadcast over the Columbia network recently and embodying a reiterated plea for nation-wide participation in his share-our-wealth plan.

With a tense prelude saying that laws should be enacted to "compel the multi-millionaires and billionnaires to share our wealth," Long swung into action with:

"We are now in the third year of the Roosevelt depression with conditions now admitted to be much worse than during the Hoover depression."

This was his only direct reference to the national administration.—Page Upton Sinclair!

Adolph Dennler was a week-end visitor at the Weaver home.

Thelma Davis stayed down this week with Laura Groseclose.

The ridge had a real taste of winter Saturday and Sunday. Temperatures going down to 16 below zero. Monday they rose to 32 above zero, accompanied by a dust storm, which ended in a chinook.

Sam Taber helped Ira Fix butcher hogs on Tuesday.

BIG BEAR RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koretmaier returned Tuesday from a trip to the coast, where they have been visiting friends and relatives for the past month.

Mrs. D. J. Ingle visited at the James Emmett home in Kendrick last Friday.

Ruby Hecht was home from Deary over the week-end.

Have You Any of the Pests?

"Judy O'Grady or the colonel's lady," both can have bedbugs in their homes, according to Dr. Claude C. Wakeland, head of the entomology department at the University of Idaho.

Having bedbugs is no disgrace, but it is a disgrace to have them very long, says Dr. Wakeland, quoting the homely philosophy of Bill Nye. The pests are so widespread and easily transported that before the housewife realizes it, the insects can infest the finest house on Snob Hill or the poorest cottage across the railroad tracks.

Fumigation with hydrocyanic acid gas is the best way to get rid of the bedbugs, as well as every moth, fly, and other living thing in the house.

The gas is so deadly a poison that Dr. Wakeland does not advise its use without exact directions. These may be obtained on request by writing to the College of Agriculture, Moscow, for Extension Circular No. 38, "Control of Bedbugs." Houses must be reasonably tight to be fumigated properly and vacated for 24 hours.

For local application Dr. Wakeland advises the following mixture: Corrosive sublimate, 1 ounce; wood alcohol, 1 pint; and turpentine, 1/2 pint. Paint this mixture into cracks and other places where bedbugs may take shelter, and repeat until the infestation is under control.

What Girls Are Made Of

When Albany Medical college students conducted a survey to find out what girls are made of, someone asked a professor to translate the findings into everyday terms.

The resulting reports showed that the female of the species contains:

Chlorine enough to sanitize five swimming pools.

Oxygen enough to fill 400 cubic feet.

30 teaspoons of salt, enough to season 55 chickens.

10 gallons of water.

Five pounds of lime, enough to whitewash a chicken coop.

31 pounds of carbon.

Glycerine enough for the bursting charge of a heavy navy shell.

Enough gluten to make five pounds of glue.

Magnesium enough for 10 flashlight photos.

Fat enough for ten bars of soap.

Enough iron to make a six-penny nail.

Sulphur enough to rid a dog of fleas.

"And believes it or not, boys, only one-quarter of a pound of sugar."

Them Topcoats

Oh, Reginald! how perfectly lovely you look in your new topcoat! Yes indeed, for the new overcoats (oh dear, I meant to say topcoats; one must say topcoats) are quite long, much longer than the dresses the girls wear, and flare out in a bell shape. How cunning men, we will look in our new long, flaring topcoats! If only we could have a little lace around the edge, but that will come, no doubt, in time.—Chicago Tribune.

R. L. Moore, proprietor of a small grocery and fuel store, in Seattle, who changed its name from the "New Deal Grocery" to the "Raw Deal Grocery" recently after state tax commission agents visited it and took away his cash register and contents for an unpaid occupational tax, was visited again.

This time, he reported, the agents took 37 sacks of coal, all he had on hand.

D. H. Webster, agent in charge of the Seattle office, reported that Mr. Moore had still owed $7.75 on his tax. Moore expressed inability to pay it.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

We are having real winter weather now. The thermometer has been going below zero for a few nights but today (Monday) the temperature has gone up about 30 degrees and it is snowing again.

Mrs. Anna Harrington is slowly recovering from an attack of lumbago. Mrs. Virgil McVicker is suffering with a severe cold.

Had Narrow Escape

Last week the following item was sent to this office too late for publication:

"Archie Candler and Ben Westendahl were coming down the road with entirely too much speed and tried to make the crossing at the Vollmer-Clearwater warehouse, where they were going about 15 miles per hour; the road was slick and so were the tires. The crossing moved up the track and Archie couldn't find it. The car crossed several railroad tracks and landed in a hole about seven feet deep (so it seemed) with a bang. The only damage was one 'busted' tire and a very bad scare. The boys said they would see if Wade Keene would make the road a little wider."

GRAIN MARKET WEAK AND UNSETTLED, SAYS BUREAU

Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling 578 cars. Mills were more active buyers but cash demand remained dull since only small quantities were moving to California and bids from middlewestern and Atlantic Coast markets were below current values. Growers were not selling freely and were awaiting the outcome of proposals for the disposition of surplus grain. At the close of the week No. 1 bluestem hard white, northern spring, western red and hard winter were quoted at 84 1/2c and western white at 83 1/2c per bushel. At Seattle, western white was quoted at 85 1/2c, western red at 86 1/2c and baart hard white at 93c per bushel, basis No. 1, sacked.

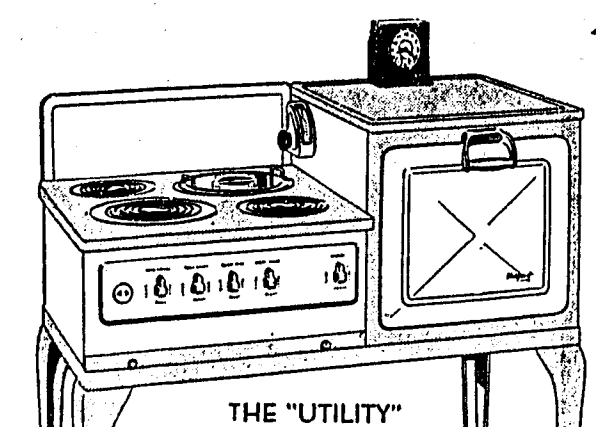

California markets were down 2c to 3c per bushel with a slow demand from all classes of trade. Only about 138,000 tons of wheat remained on farms and in country warehouses in California the first of January, compared with nearly 292,000 tons a year ago. The smaller stocks have been reflected in relatively light country marketings. Current offerings, however, have been sufficient for trade needs, except for high protein wheat, which has been obtained mostly from Washington and Oregon.

Canadian feed wheat was offered at around 90c per bushel delivered at Minneapolis from certain areas in Alberta.

Oats markets followed the downward trend in other grains with light demand for continued small offerings. Pacific Northwestern markets were dull with little inquiry for white oats from the Atlantic Coast where imports of Argentine oats restricted demand for oats from the northwest. Growers, however, displayed a firm holding tendency and prices held practically unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 white oats quoted at Portland at $1.70 and at Seattle at $1.65.

Pacific Northwestern markets remained quiet with little demand for either feed or malting barley. The light offerings were a firming influence which tended to offset the very dull demand and to hold price declines in check. Local mixers were taking the limited amounts of feeding barley but inquiry for malting types from middlewestern markets was negligible. At the close of the market Jan. 17, No. 2 bright western barley, sacked, was quoted at Portland at $1.57 and Seattle at $1.60.

No Liquor Bill Passed

Both of Idaho's branches of government, in session at Boise, are seemingly weighing the various liquor control bills that have been introduced. It is quite certain, however, that the scheme advanced by the Governor's liquor control board will not be passed, the majority seemingly being in favor of state control and sale of intoxicating liquors. The fight has been hot, and promises to be still warmer before a conclusion is reached.

The Idaho Pig Crop

That the Idaho pig crop produced in 1934 was about 45 per cent smaller than that of 1933; that the combined spring and fall pig crop of 1934 was about 27 per cent smaller than that of the year before, and that the indicated number of sows to farrow in the spring of 1935 may be about 21 per cent smaller than the number which farrowed in the spring of 1934 are shown in the December 1 pig crop report, just released by Richard C. Ross, Federal agricultural statistician.

This year's fall pig crop, estimated at 74,000 pigs was the smallest in years, comparing with 134,000 pigs saved in the fall of 1933, 136,000 in the fall of 1932 and 174,000 in the fall of 1931. The average number of pigs saved per litter was about 6.2 this fall, compared with 5.6 last fall. The 1934 spring crop was also light, being estimated at 196,000 head. Estimates of spring crops in other years are: 234,000 in 1933; 243,000 in 1932; and 297,000 in 1931.

Idaho Editors To Meet In Lewiston

At the annual meeting of the Idaho Editorial association at Boise last week, it was decided to make Lewiston the meeting place for the association in 1936.

The meeting at Lewiston will commemorate the birth of Idaho's printing industry at the old Spalding mission where the first printing press in the state was set up in 1839.

The press was secured by the Rev. Henry Spalding as a gift to the mission from a native church in Honolulu. It was packed to the mission on horseback and was accompanied by a printer remembered only as a Mr. Hail. With this crude equipment, the mission printed a primer, a hymn book, a code of laws for the Nez Perces and a translation in the Nez Perce language of the book of Matthew in the Bible.

The old press now is on display in the museum of the Oregon Historical society at Portland.

"Morning After" Glass Eye

Denver claims the distinction, among other things, of having the largest glass eye factory in the world. The business, established many years ago, knows no depression and has some 35,000 regular customers.

The company, which makes a standing offer of $2 for the name of any one-eyed person, does its business largely by mail, sending out samples until the right shades and size have been determined by the customer. After he is fitted, a spare is kept ready.

The return of legal liquor is said to have complicated matters for the company. Recently a customer ordered two eyes, one a little bloodshot for use the morning after.
