HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Roosevelt forces last Friday pushed a prevailing wage compromise through the revolt-torn senate, ending in a matter of minutes the deadlock that for weeks has held the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill stationary. Gaining six votes, they defeated 50 to 38 the McCarran amendment, written into the bill 44 to 43 nearly a month ago. Opposition to the compromise crumbled as if by magic and it was swiftly adopted, with just two members voting against it. The compromise, bearing full White House approval, directs the president to set wages as would not tear down existing wage levels, but with prevailing wage rates to be paid on all federal public building projects. The McCarran proposal flatly directed that prevailing wages be paid.

Protestant pastors throughout Germany girded themselves in anticipation of a battle on which they said depended the right of religious liberty in Germany. They had an intimation from Nazi German Christian leaders, their foes, that an attempt to read a fiery manifesto denouncing the Nazi religious attitude would be construed as "an effort to sabotage Saturday's conscription decision," by which Adolf Hitler startled the world. To prevent the reading of this manifesto secret police arrested or detained an estimated 700 conscriptional pastors. Many of them are still in jail.

Intense excitement gripped European capitals Saturday as the German government, suddenly sloughing off the military provisions of the Versailles treaty, decreed compulsory military service in the reich. The action following soon after Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering's announcement that Germany has an "official" military air force, was taken in many quarters to be the reich's answer to the French adoption of two-year compulsory service and the recent British white paper criticizing German rearmament. Adolf Hitler's bold sweeping aside of the Versailles treaty with an army of 500,000 men brought four great powers of Europe together in counsel Sunday and left open a question of grave import.

Led by Rep. Isabella Greenway of Arizona, a group of house democrats sought to persuade the president to scrap all the proposed social security legislation for this session save old-age pensions. The directors of the movement were prepared to force party chieftains to call a caucus to test the majority sentiment of the democrats on the issue. They have circulated a petition and have received the 25 signatures necessary to compel the calling of the secret party meeting. Mrs. Greenway, a personal friend of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, said she had the necessary 25 signatures to the petition but added she was withholding its presentation to Representative Taylor of Colorado, acting floor leader and chairman of the caucus. By presenting it to Taylor, he would be compelled, under party rules, to call the caucus immediately. The idea of those backing the caucus move, she explained, was to find out definitely the sentiment for discarding all but the old age pension phase of the social security program so that could be enacted speedily.

County Agent Visits

County Agent L. V. Benjamin was in town from Moscow Tuesday afternoon, leaving several sacks of poisoned oats at the Red Cross drug store, where it will be sold to farmers at actual cost.

Gave Bridge Dinner

The ladies of the Afternoon Bridge club entertained their husbands at a bridge-dinner Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long. High score for the evening was made by Mrs. Helen Boyd and Roy Ramey, while Frank Rider won the consolation, and by such result Frank is now the owner of a new dog, which answers to the name of "Pluto"—and from all indications the name is very appropriate. Frank says its a real dog, anyway.

The hostesses for the evening were Mesdames E. A. Deobald, H. B. Thompson, Harold Thomas and Edgar Long.

GOVERNMENT HUNTERS GET MANY ANIMALS

A true story of wild animal hunting in Idaho is told by Roy and Thomas Tumelson, Whitebird, who were in Lewiston the latter part of last week with some big cougar skins as evidence of their winter's work. They have been employed by the U. S. biological survey in trapping and hunting predators and have a bag this season of 84 coyotes, 10 lynx cats and 17 cougars. Many others have been killed by other hunters.

Their work was done in Idaho county on the Salmon river, from Slate creek to a point about 40 miles above Riggins. A bounty of $15 each is paid for cougars. The Tumelsons brothers captured a young cougar alive and now have it in the city, so tame that it is a pet, says the Tribune.

They saw an abundance of elk and deer and report winter conditions unusually good with a little more snow than in 1934. Much game is destroyed by the cougars. The Tumelsons found the carcasses of 25 to 30 deer killed by cougars and estimated that one deer a week, the year around, is killed on the average by each cougar. Thus the cougars they killed might have destroyed 155 deer each year.

The hunting is done with dogs, bloodhounds and redbones. The dogs tree the cougars, and then they are shot with 30-30 rifles. In one instance a large cougar was wounded and fell and grabbed a dog, sinking its long claws into the animal, which would have been killed within a few moments had not another shot finished the cat.

The largest of the cougars taken measured seven feet, eight inches in length and weighed about 300 pounds. The skins make ornamental rugs but have no value as fur.

The hunters came out March 3. They report the snow from six to eight feet deep on the mountain summits but with the south slopes bare.

Predatory work is done in nearly all counties by the biological survey, cooperating with the forest service and the game department. While predatory animals may not be actually decreasing in numbers, it is believed by the Tumelsons that they are not increasing and are being held down to a number that allow game animals a chance.

Death Of Oscar Nelson

Oscar Nelson, resident of Nez Perce county since 1896, died at the home of Herman Blum, an old-time friend, at Cameron, Wednesday night, March 13. The immediate cause of death being cancer. He had been at the Blum home since last fall.

Mr. Nelson was born in the southern part of Sweden, July 21, 1874. In 1891 he came to America, landing at New York. He went from New York to Fargo, N. D., remaining there until 1892, when he went to LaGrande, Oregon. In March, 1896, he selected a homestead on the reservation about nine miles southeast of Peck, which he owned at the time of his death.

Mr. Nelson had the first contract of carrying the mail from Peck to Steele, long before there were any graded roads or bridges.

Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at Cameron Friday morning, with Rev. Otto G. Ehlen in charge. Burial was in the Cameron cemetery.

Pallbearers were Carl Koopp, C. L. Wegner, Fred Siffow, Herman Siffow, Otto Siffow and Paul Siffow.

Undergoes Operation

Grover Poindexter, son of Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Poindexter, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, about midnight Saturday night, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

He is reported as doing nicely at this time.

TWO PER CENT SALES TAX VOTED FOR DAHO

Boise, March 19—The welfare of 80,000 needy Idahoans was assured tonight when the Idaho senate after a four-hour debate passed a 2 per cent retail sales tax bill by a 26-18 vote.

The measure now goes to Governor Ross, who has estimated it will produce $1,700,000 annually, $1,200,000 of which will go to provide for the state's destitute.

The senate vote paved the way for adjournment of the 23rd Idaho legislature probably tomorrow night at the end of the 13th day of the extraordinary session which began immediately after the close of the regular term of the lawmaking body.

Virtually everyone of the 44 legislators spoke during debate on the measure.

The galleries were packed. Many of the spectators were persons on relief rolls of the Idaho emergency relief organization which ceased operating last night—its fund depleted because of failure of the lawmaking body to enact revenue-producing measures that would permit the state to meet the federal government's demand that Idaho contribute $100,000 monthly to the cause of its own hungry and homeless.

After the vote was announced the senate adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Approval of the bill was an overwhelming victory for the democratic administration forces over bitter opposition.

But in their hour of glory, sponsors of the bill were already threatened by republican, economic bloc members and the other opponents of the bill, who have threatened to resort to the state-wide referendum to defeat the measure.

Plans, first announced days ago by Rep. Harry Harn (R. Clark) to circulate referendum petitions were being completed tonight, Harn said.

On the other hand, advocates of the measure, including Senator George Donart (D. Wash.) floor leader in the battle over the bill tonight, and Senate President Pro Tem Perry W. Mitchell (D. Lewis), contended the referendum could not apply to measures carrying an emergency provision such as included in the sales tax bill.

It will become operative immediately after Governor Ross signs it—a foregone conclusion—Senator Donart said, and it will not be affected by a referendum.

Word from headquarters at Moscow is to the effect that all sales from 15c to 65c a tax of 1c shall be charged; 66c to $1.15, 2c; all sales over $1.15, two per cent. The tax went into effect Wednesday at noon.

It is mandatory that the tax be passed on to the consumer. Thus, if your purchase amounts to 15c, you will be charged 16c, and so on up and down the line. It is required that every merchant keep a record of every sale.

Suffers Broken Leg

Last Thursday while Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blankenship, residing near Leland, were descending a rather steep hill in a spring-wagon, the neck-yoke broke, letting down the tongue, which frightened the team they were driving and they began to run. Mrs. Blankenship becoming frightened at what had happened, jumped from the rig, suffering a compound fracture of the left leg, about four inches above the ankle, the bones protruding through the flesh and sticking into the ground some four inches. Mr. Blankenship, who stayed with the rig, was unhurt. He went to the aid of his wife and carried her to the top of the hill.

Dr. D. A. Christensen was summoned and gave first aid and the sufferer was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, where Dr. Christensen and Dr. Clark reduced the fracture.

It was indeed a very bad break and it was necessary to put a pin through just above the ankle and another just below the knee and braces were applied, after which a plaster cast was put on.

Had Tonsils Removed

Everett and Vern Lohman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lohman of Anacone, Wash., had their tonsils removed at the office of Dr. D. A. Christensen last Sunday.

PRODUCERS SHOULD KEEP RECORD OF HOGS KILLED

Every farmer who sells or exchanges hog products from hogs slaughtered by him should keep a written record of such sales or exchanges.

This point is emphasized by County Agent L. V. Benjamin and local corn-hog committee members in their efforts to acquaint farmers and commercial handlers of meat products with the facts about the liability and collection of the hog processing taxes.

The record of sales and exchanges of hog products is essential in determining the liability of the producer-processor and feeder-processor for the processing tax during any marketing year, County Agent Benjamin said. Though producers and feeders are not required to pay the tax with respect to hog products which are derived from such of their hogs as are slaughtered by them and sold to commercial handlers, they are liable for the processing tax with respect to hog products sold or exchanged directly with consumers—except for certain exemptions allowed to producers only.

The producer, in particular, needs the written record in order to prove his eligibility for certain exemptions allowed only to farmers who slaughter hogs of their own raising. The AAA Farm Account Book prepared cooperatively by the AAA and the Extension Service provides a convenient form for keeping the necessary hog records. Each contract signer is entitled to a copy of this book gratis. If you have not received your copy, you may do so by calling on or writing your County Agent.

The producer is not only exempt from the tax with respect to slaughtering for consumption by his own family, employees or household, but he is allowed a 300-pound exemption on all sales or exchanges made directly with consumers when such sales or exchanges total not more than 1,000 pounds during any marketing year. The current marketing year began November 5, 1934.

As soon as the producer sells or exchanges with consumers more than 300 pounds of hog products, he becomes liable for the tax and must file a processing-tax return. And when he sells more than 1,000 pounds of hog products, regardless to whom sold, he loses his exemption and is liable for the tax upon the entire amount of sales and exchanges with consumers.

The 300-pound exemption is not allowed to feeders who slaughter hogs not produced by them.

In order to take advantage of exemptions allowed him, the producer's written record must show: (1) The date of slaughter; (2) The number of hogs slaughtered; (3) The live weight of hogs slaughtered; (4) The weight, price received, the date of sale of hog products sold or exchanged with consumers and the name and address of person to whom sold; (5) The actual or estimated weight of hog products consumed by the farmer's family, employees or household; and (6) The live weight of hogs processed by or for the producer, his own family, employees or household, together with the name and address of the producer.

Persons who become liable for the processing tax are required to file a processing tax return with the local Collector of Internal Revenue on or before the last day of the month immediately following the month in which the processing occurred.

Farmers, local commercial handlers and others who evade payment of processing taxes legally due from them, or who make false statements with respect to the amount of the tax involved, are subject, upon conviction, to fine or imprisonment, or both.

Administration officials point out that evasion of the processing taxes by any person results in smaller tax collections and thereby lessens the amount available for adjustment payments and for other purposes relating to the Adjustment program.

Keep your farm records up to date and be safe rather than sorry.

Gave Dessert-Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Lyle entertained five tables at a dessert-bridge party Saturday evening and a very pleasant time was the result. High score for the evening went to Miss Rilla Davidson while Mrs. Helen Boyd was given low score.

Those playing were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald, Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. J. B. Helpman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Miss Rilla Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker.

GOVERNOR ROSS SIGNS STATE LIQUOR STORE ACT

With a stroke of the pen Governor Ross ended legal prohibition in Idaho at 3:35 o'clock Monday afternoon when he signed the state-owned package goods liquor stores bill.

He did not name the personnel of the three-man commission which is to administer the act that became law as soon as he signed the bill. He will do so within a few days, he said.

The governor signed the bill in the presence of Rep. J. M. Sharp, sponsor of the measure.

Prohibition was first invoked in Idaho in 1916 when the Haight law became operative.

Tersely the bill provides: A three-man commission to administer the act.

Establishment of state-owned stores which will sell liquor in packages only.

Appointments of distributors in the small towns and villages.

Licensing of all purchasers of liquor, at a cost of 50 cents a year.

The revenues are distributed as follows: 25 per cent to the state general fund; 25 per cent to the school income fund; and 50 per cent to the counties, of which one-half is divided among the cities and towns on the basis of population.

The retail cost shall not be more than 40 per cent above the wholesale price.

About Your Contracted Acreage

Judging from the number of questions asked at the office of the County Agent there still seems to be some confusion as to what may or may not be done with the land left out as contracted acreage in 1934.

The principal question seems to be whether or not this land may be seeded to wheat in 1935, or if it still must be left idle or planted to some other crop such as oats or barley.

In 1934 this reduction was to be 15 per cent of the average base acreage, except in cases not following the regular system. In those cases the yearly base acreage was worked out by the producer and the County Allotment Committee.

For the harvest year of 1935 the reduction is to be 10 per cent of the average base acreage. That is, if a producer had an average base acreage of 100 acres in 1935, he will be allowed to seed 90 acres of wheat for harvest and he must seed at least 54 acres if he wishes to receive his full allotment payment. The permitted 90 per cent may be seeded anywhere on the farm but only the 90 per cent will be sown. He must also show at least ten acres of contracted acreage which must be on the same kind of land as that which is sowed to wheat. That is, if the wheat is seeded on summer-fallow, the contracted acreage must be on summer-fallow. If the wheat is on stubble then the contracted acreage may be on stubble. So, in this way the producer may or may not seed wheat on the 1934 contracted acreage depending upon how he wishes to handle it. If he wishes, it may be left as contracted acreage in 1935, but, this is not desirable from the standpoint of land management.

A March Snow

Most people were surprised (or were they?) Monday morning when they looked out-doors and saw snow falling in over-size flakes and gradually covering the ground, or grass, for where there was no grass there was no snow. However, it snowed for some time and made the ground and atmosphere take on a decided wintry appearance. It was gone as soon as the sun got a chance at it.

We are still better off than many parts of the country, even if the banana blossoms did get somewhat frost-bitten. There are plenty of daffodils and like flowers to take their places.

GRAIN MARKETS SHARPLY LOWER—DEMAND DULL

Domestic grain markets suffered further declines during the week ended March 15, influenced by sharp declines in cotton and securities, weakness in foreign exchange and continued dull demand, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Further arrivals of foreign feed grains were additional weakening factors in the corn and oats markets. Barley was independently weak, with inquiry unusually slow.

Further weakness developed in the general wheat situation during the week. Prospects for the domestic crop improved with heavy to excessive rain from the Ohio valley to the Gulf and beneficial moisture in spring wheat states. Drouth still prevailed, however, in eastern Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico and western sections of Kansas and Nebraska. Wheat prospects outside the United States remained favorable except for some local areas. In parts of Europe, alternate freezing and thawing during late January threatened damage but recent reports indicate no extensive injury. Crops have come through the winter in good condition and prospects in northwestern Europe are mostly average or better.

Domestic cash wheat markets declined with futures despite unusually light receipts. Only 455 cars were received at the principal winter wheat markets and only 213 cars at Minneapolis and Duluth. A large part of the daily arrivals at Kansas City was applied on previous sales and current offerings were light. Demand, however, was not urgent because of a dull flour trade and less active shipping demand and current arrivals were apparently sufficient for trade needs. Market stocks at Kansas City and other terminals have been reduced to the lowest point in several years. At the close of the market March 15, No. 2 hard winter was quoted at 94c. Cash prices were well maintained at Chicago, where No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.00. Demand was limited at St. Louis but good milling wheat sold readily at steady prices. No. 2 hard winter was quoted at the close of the week at 98½¢ per bushel. Offerings at Fort Worth were entirely from storage and No. 1 hard winter was quoted at $1.07½ delivered Texas common points. Soft winter was also weak and lower with No. 2 quoted at St. Louis at 92c, at Chicago at 93c and at Kansas City at 93c per bushel.

Spring wheat markets declined 2c to 5c per bushel with the greatest decline in durums. Flour business improved at the lower prices and the mills became active buyers of bread wheats with the result that premiums were advanced about 1c per bushel.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets followed the decline at the eastern points. Ogden mills lowered bids 3c to 5c per bushel and at the close of the week were bidding 69c for No. 2 soft white, 71c for No. 2 hard white, 78c for No. 2 hard winter and 81c for No. 2 northern spring, FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

The Portland market declined 2c to 4c despite light receipts which totaled only 321 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals. Local mills provided about the only outlet since prevailing prices were too high to effect sales in the Central West or Atlantic Coast markets. Only a few lots of high protein milling wheat moved to California. Farmers were inclined to hold their wheat pending the outcome of proposals to move northwestern wheat to the midwest for feed purposes. At the close of the week, Bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 88c, soft white at 81c, northern spring at 82½¢ and western red, hard winter and western white at 80c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked.

California wheat markets were independently firm with prices about unchanged, reflecting light remaining local supplies and a fairly active demand from local mills and feeders. Demand for feed wheat showed the usual seasonal increase despite the greater competition from feed barley. Bay region mills were interested particularly in high protein wheat and further purchases from the Northwest were made to complete milling mixtures. Trading was quite narrow at Los Angeles where most mills and industries were drawing upon supplies previously acquired.

Foreign wheat markets strengthened slightly during the week despite a slow demand from importing areas. Canadian markets declined only about

"Paddy the Next Best Thing"

The feature picture at the Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday nights will be "Paddy the Next Best Thing," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter in the leading roles—two of the top-notchers in screen play.

Paddy (Janet Gaynor) is a curious mixture of repressed younger sister, fiery tomboy, and a magnetic and thoroughly charming Irish colleen. She has the uncanny faculty of enslaving with affection those with whom she comes in contact. She does as she pleases. And what she does, everyone likes; and if they don't, they, at least, pretend to like. In any case they accept it. They have to. They know Paddy.

Lawrence Blake (Baxter)—a charming cosmopolitan — who comes halfway around the world to find love—becomes engaged to Paddy's sister—learns his mistake—and then sets about fascinating Paddy. And what a task! She tears at him, insults him, refuses him, and he comes back for more, with the charm that would melt a Sphinx' heart. It's a tough job to tame the tempestuous Paddy, but Warner Baxter is equal to the task—and accomplishes it!

FOR MILK FEVER

INTRAVENOUS TREATMENT INSTEAD OF THE OLD AIR TREATMENT

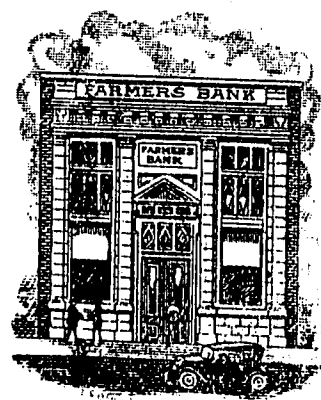

Many valuable cows have been ruined by the pumping of air into the udder. Since the production of 20 to 25% CALCIUM-GLUCONATE this treatment has been found to be very valuable.

CALCIUM-GLUCONATE Intravenous is a Specific for AZOTURIA in horses, the disease sometimes called Monday Morning Disease or Black Water.

Navel Ill or Joint Disease can be cured and prevented by a blood transfusion from mother to colt. This is no more expensive than the other treatments, and is very dependable when used before the trouble has advanced to a dangerous stage.

GRAIN MARKETS SHARPLY LOWER—DEMAND DULL

12c per bushel, with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted at 81c per bushel in U. S. currency. No. 1 Canadian durum was quoted at 87c and No. 5 and 6 Manitoba at 82c per bushel. Exportable supplies in Canada remained fairly large at around 245,000,000 bushels compared with a little over 200,000,000 bushels a year ago, but holders were apparently not inclined to press sales and export business was small. Southern hemisphere shipments, on the other hand, increased to about 7,300,000 bushels.

Oats markets followed the downward trend in other grains and also influenced by a dull demand and by further importations. Pacific Northwest markets were extremely dull with eastern demand negligible, reflecting the active competition of Argentine offerings at Gulf and Atlantic ports. At the close of the market March 14, No. 2 white oats were nominally quoted at Portland at $1.50 and at Seattle at $1.42 per 100, with No. 2 gray oats at Portland at $1.50 and Puget Sound oats at Seattle at $1.35 per 100, sacked basis. A lot of 1,000 tons of Argentine oats arrived at Mobile during the week with 2,816 tons reported at Galveston.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were weak and lower, influenced by the extremely dull demand for both feeding and malting types. Trading was dull although growers were offering more freely. Lower prices in California, with the pressure of California offerings in the Pacific Northwest were additional weakening influences. At the close of the market March 14, No. 2 bright western barley was nominally quoted at Portland at $1.45 per 100 and at Seattle at $1.32 per 100, sacked basis.

Kendrick School Accredited

A detailed report of the condition of the Kendrick school has been received signed by Ph. Soulen, state high school inspector, and approved by J. W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction.

The entire inspection was given a "clean bill"—the building and grounds being commented on as good, and everyone knows that Kendrick has one of the best gyms to be found outside of Lewiston—one of which the entire community is justly proud.

That the administration and supervision of the school is good, James M. Lyle, Jr., superintendent has had five years of teaching and superintendency work and that the selection of teachers was based on special training and that commendable interest and application was shown; that the school spirit was satisfactory, self direction commendable and co-operation good.

Recommendations: I recommend that this school be given a rating on its four-year course for the ensuing year as follows: "Accredited."

It is a known fact that Kendrick has had one of the best-conducted and satisfactory school years (to date) that it has ever had and the teachers and Supt. Lyle are to be commended upon their splendid showing.

F. F. A. Public Speaking Contest

For the past month the Ag. boys have been working on speeches for the national F. F. A. public speaking contest. The final contest was held on March 19. Nolan Weeks won first place, Dale Hughes second and Don Benscoter third.

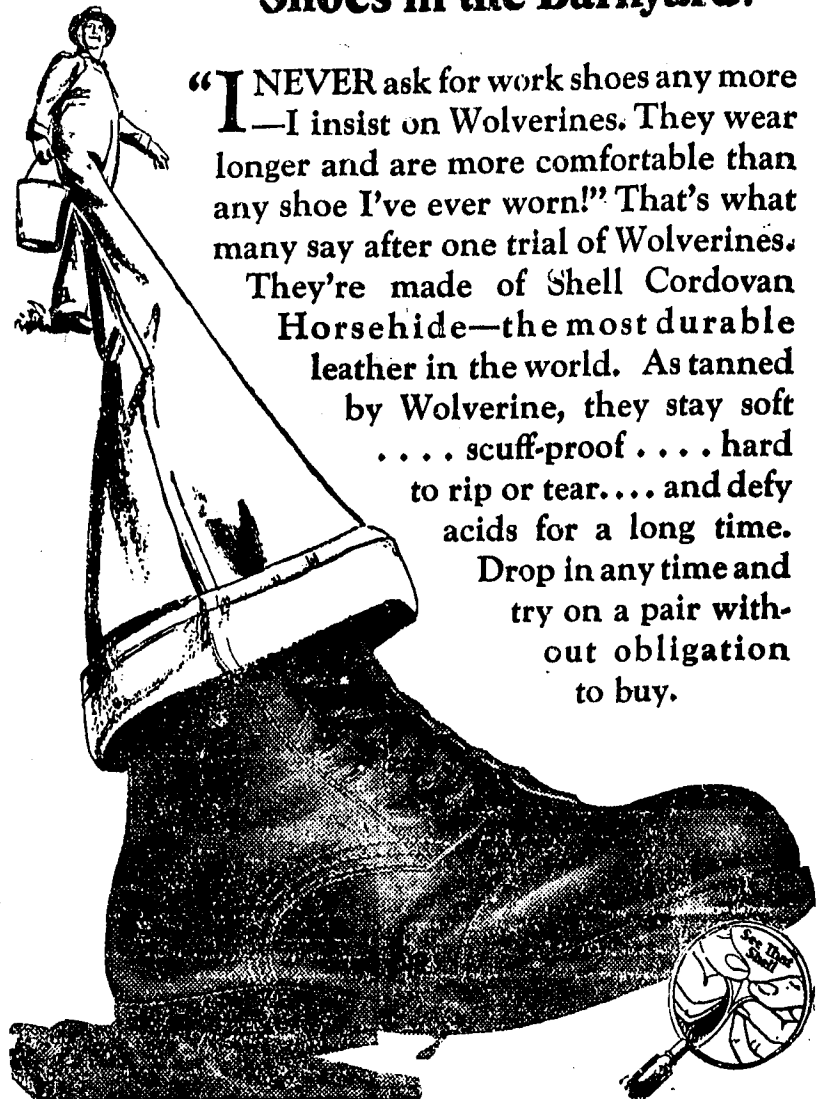

The Commercial club gave three prizes. These were supplied by Marvin Long, Frank Curtiss and Geo. P. Barnum.

Nolan Weeks and Dale Hughes will compete with boys from Moscow, Lapwai and Culesac some time the first week in April. The winner will represent this district in the state meet and will compete against winners from four other districts.

The winner of the state meet goes to Salt Lake City, Utah, where competition with the eleven western states is held. The winner of this goes to Kansas City to take part in the national contest.

May one of our boys reach Kansas City.
