HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The German government, with startling firmness, declined to entertain the vigorous French protest made against its rearmament program. Baron Konstantin von Neurath, reich foreign minister, took the official French protest from the hand of Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet and then frigidly remarked: "The arguments adduced in the French note do not take the actual situation into account, wherefore the German government must decline to entertain the protest." The Italian ambassador, Vittorio Cerrutti, received the same curt reply when he delivered Premier Mussolini's protest to the foreign office two hours later.

The American Red Cross Saturday moved to provide aid for southern Colorado, where suffocating dust storms, prevailing more than a week, were held at least partly responsible for six deaths, serious illness of more than 100 persons, and outright destruction of virtually all farm crops.

President Roosevelt's desire to make the work carried on by the civilian conservation corps permanent, was made known at a dinner commemorating the second anniversary of the organization. "It is my earnest hope," the president said in a letter read at a dinner in honor of Robert Fechner, CCC director, and the advisory council, "that the work carried on by the civilian conservation corps will find a permanent place in our government."

Dust, snow, wind and rain, weapons of the storm gods, made life miserable for citizens in various parts of the Pacific northwest, Monday. Five of 17 passengers in a Spokane-Seattle bus suffered cuts when a falling tree struck the bus during a blizzard seven miles west of Snoqualmie summit on the Sunset highway. The accident occurred half a mile east of the point where three persons were killed December 7, when another bus, piloted by the same driver, Bruce De Good, Ellensburg, was struck by a tree during a gale.

A luncheon conference Friday between President Roosevelt and Senator Borah, Idaho's lone wolf republican, stirred widespread speculation in the capital, but if there were any positive developments they were closely guarded. Borah, who speaks for congress on international affairs such as Senator Glass (D. Va.) does on banking matters, would not disclose what took place. Asked if he and the chief executive discussed the German situation, or NRA legislation, Borah said: "We discussed all of those things, but I have no idea why he invited me."

Strong intimations that Herbert C. Hoover intends to become increasingly active in a steadily-formulating two-fold republican campaign into 1936 were available Friday at Washington. While quarters in touch with him said it was too early to talk of set speeches, it was added that the former president certainly would speak out on more than one issue henceforth. The titular chief of the G. O. P. was disclosed to be planning to travel east from his Palo Alto, Cal., home again next month. Although the trip will be of a business nature, it was considered inevitable that his visit—and conference—would toss a straw or two into the political winds.

A senate torn and weary from eight weeks of tussling with the largest single legislative appropriation in world history, Saturday capitulated to big stick pressure from Democratic leaders and passed the President's $4,880,000,000 relief bill. Only six democrats and ten republicans answered a meek "no" when Vice President Garner, on top of things all day, put the final question. All four of the senators from Washington and Idaho voted for the bill. The measure carries $880,000,000 for continuing direct relief until the 3,500,000 employable on relief rolls can be given jobs elsewhere.

P.-T. A. Meeting

The Parent-Teacher association held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the music room of the high school. While the program was not as complete as had been hoped for, nevertheless the time was very pleasantly and profitably spent. There were two numbers by a male quartet composed of N. E. Walker, Roy Ramey, James Lyle and Lester Hill, a solo by Roy Ramey, some community singing and a good story by Rev. T. E. Poindexter—and last, but not least, some good eats, served in the domestic science room before going-home time.

Nobody is a failure until the quitting trying.

"What Is A Democrat?"

Back in '26 the Pathfinder offered a prize of $50 for the best answer to the question, "What Is a Democrat?" The following letter won the prize: "A Democrat is one who believes in the fullest freedom of speech, press and religion; separation of church and state; laws that bear equally upon all classes without special privilege or monopolistic advantages; rights of states guaranteed by the Constitution, and less national paternalism."

If those are the attributes, wouldn't it be fun to count on your fingers how many simon pure Democrats get elected to congress and state legislatures, just to see how many fingers you'd have left over. —Troy News.

IDAHO STATE LIQUOR BOARD BEEN APPOINTED

It will be good news to the thirsty to know that Idaho will soon have her own "likker," Gov. Ross having appointed a liquor board last week, composed of the following:

Robert Coulter of Cascade, M. B. Yeaman of Idaho Falls and Homer Moore of Craigmont as liquor commissioners. Idaho's state-owned liquor package goods stores probably will be operating within a week, Gov. C. Ben Ross announced.

The chief executive made the appointments Friday.

Yeamen is a republican; Robert Coulter was Democratic state chairman. Each commissioner will receive $4,000 annually.

The commission met briefly Saturday and named Coulter chairman, then adjourned until Monday.

The commission, under the law passed by the 23rd legislature which just adjourned, is charged with issuing and revoking licenses, with setting up stores, appointing distributors in places too small to maintain stores, purchase liquor and generally administer the provisions of the act. It is estimated there will be approximately 20 stores and 100 distributors.

Dry Bean Crop

Following is an estimate of the number of acres of beans that will be planted in the State of Idaho and the United States in 1935:

According to advice from the agricultural division of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Boise, Idaho, Idaho bean growers intend to increase their acreage from that of 1934 of 122,000 acres to 138,000 in 1935.

The indicated acreage in the U. S. A. for dry beans for harvest is 1,909,000 acres of dry edible beans, is somewhat greater than the average of 1,792,000 acres harvested in the years 1929-1933 and much greater than the drought shortened acreage of 1,378,000 acres harvested for beans in 1934. The greater part of the increase over last year's acreage is due to increases in Colorado and New Mexico where the drought destroyed more than one-half of last year's planted acreage. In Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska, which together produce most of the Great Northern beans, a substantial increase from last year's low acreage is also indicated. In California the expected increase in lima acreage is somewhat greater than for the other varieties. In Michigan and New York, where most of the ordinary beans are produced, only a slight increase in acreage is indicated.

More Winter Weather

While March came in like the proverbial lamb, it certainly has been keeping up the lion's share of diversified weather—sunshine, clouds, snow, rain, wind—all mixed in a conglomeration that would make anyone recognize the month, even if he had no calendar. However, we are still much better off than some of our neighbors. Moscow and the upper country had 10 inches of snow. Genesee was reported as having a foot, the Cedar creek country six inches or more and other sections had dust along with their snow and wind. The Potlatch section had a snow of blizzard-like proportions for a time, but none remained on the ground in the canyon, but it was plainly visible on the fringe of the canyon rim.

Suffers Broken Arm

Little Beverly Ann Schupfer had the misfortune to break one of the bones in her left arm, between the wrist and elbow last Friday afternoon, while she and little Chloe McKeever were riding a tricycle, she falling from the machine to the ground where the sidewalk is quite high.

The fracture was reduced by Dr. D. A. Christensen and she is getting along nicely.

TWO PER CENT SALES TAX IS NOW AN IDAHO LAW

The two-percent sales tax, which had been before the legislative bodies in one form or another, for almost the entire 75-day session, was finally passed and signed by the governor, as stated last week. There was no possible chance for killing the bill for the governor insisted that it was the only way of raising the necessary money to carry on relief work, and for other necessary expenditures. While Gov. C. Ben Ross disavowed the parentage of the bill, he kept pushing it to the fore after it had been defeated, tabled, and otherwise maimed by the law-makers at Boise, and insisted on its passage.

Of course the bill, as passed, will make every purchaser in Idaho realize there is a sales-tax bill and that they are helping pay it. While the governor tried to make it as painless as possible, it nevertheless will take from the consumers of Idaho an estimated $1,700,000—that is, the consumers who buy, to give to the consumers who do not buy. The justice of the bill is something that will have to be settled in the mind of each individual, but there is one thing certain, it is a nuisance to the merchant and an expense to the buying public.

The caption of the bill and to what uses the tax is to be put are herewith set forth, and we pass them on to you without comment:

H. B. No. 76, An Act

To provide for the method and manner of raising revenue for emergency purposes of imposing a tax upon the retail purchases of certain commodities, admissions and services and for the ascertainment, assessment and collection of said taxes; to provide for the distribution of said revenue and for penalties for the violation of the terms of this act; making appropriations for the administration of this act, for refunds thereunder, for the cooperative emergency revenue fund, the state board of education for use of common schools in distress; the public school income fund, the general fund of the State of Idaho, and declaring an emergency.

The bill being declared an emergency made it in full force and effect as soon as signed by the governor.

After defining the terms of the bill, which are multitudinous, the exemptions are set forth, which are of more real importance than the definition, to the ordinary person. They are as follows:

Six Specific Exemptions

Section 7. Exemption.—There are hereby specifically exempted from the provisions of this act and from the computation of the amount of the tax levied, assessed or payable under this act, the following:

(a) All sales of tangible personal property or service and other items which the state is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution of the United States of America or under the constitution of the state; including interstate transactions;

(b) All sales of tangible personal property or service used in or for the performance of a contract for public works executed prior to March 15, 1935.

(c) All sales of tangible personal property or service to the United States of America, to the state of Idaho, its departments and institutions and political subdivisions, cities, villages, school districts, irrigation districts therein and other municipal and quasi-municipal corporations or taxing units of the state, or electrical service used for irrigation or drainage pumping;

(d) The gross receipts from sales of motor vehicle fuel upon which the state has heretofore imposed a tax and so long as such tax shall continue in force;

(e) All sales of tangible personal property or service made by religious, educational, charitable and eleemosynary institutions in the conduct of regular religious, eleemosynary, charitable or educational functions and activities;

(f) All sales of farm products and livestock when sold by the grower or producer thereof.

There isn't a farmer within the state of Idaho, nor a householder, who will have an opportunity during the life of the bill to forget that Idaho's sales tax is in full force and effect. Of course the farmer will not have to pay on what he sells, but he will have to pay on every cent's worth he buys, providing he buys more than 14 cents' worth at a time. But it is the law, and there is no way to get rid of it except through legislative action.

WRITES MR. STEMMER RE: FLOOD CONTROL

N. E. Walker, secretary of the Kendrick Highway district, on March 18 addressed a communication to J. H. Stemmer, director of highways, enclosing an estimate of the approximate cost of rebuilding that portion of the Cedar creek road washed out during the flood of December 22, 1933, and which was recently overflowed and practically made impassable for cars, asking that something be done to give relief to this section of road under the head of flood relief.

No word has yet been received from Mr. Stemmer, but a reply is expected soon. Of course any such relief depends entirely upon the final passage and distribution of funds of the huge appropriation bill still hanging fire in Washington, but if such relief is available, the people of this upper section may rest assured that it will be forthcoming.

Relief was promised last year by Gov. Ross, but word was later received that no funds would be available for this particular section of highway, so badly in need of repair.

No Change In Wheat Allotment

Considerable confusion has resulted, says County Agent L. V. Benjamin, from press reports concerning the abandonment of planting restrictions on wheat for 1935 harvest. Numerous inquiries have been received at the county agent's office as to whether or not the contracts were still in force, whether contracted acreage could be planted to wheat this year, and so forth. Some official information has been received that owing to the drought and crop failures in the middle-west, there may be some planting changes made for 1935, but as yet no definite information has been received as to how these limitations will affect wheat growers and contract signers in the Palouse country.

As soon as information is received in the county agent's office, a letter will be sent to all contract signers explaining in detail what changes, if any, have been made and also how contract signers may take advantage of changes, stating the requirements and necessary procedure for 1935 harvest.

Until such information is available, the present contract, with its limitations and restrictions, is in full force and no contract signer should make any change in his plans until he receives full and definite information through the office of the county agent and from the county allotment committee.

Sectional Spell Held At Leland

Four schools participated in the Sectional Spelling contest held at Leland last Friday afternoon. These were the Stony Point school, Walker school, Cameron school and Leland school.

The teachers from the various schools acted as pronouncers. The judges were Jesse Hoffman, Mr. Yenni, Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Vincent.

The pupils who won first and second place in their respective grades and who will represent this section at the county contest in Lewiston next Saturday are: Eighth grade—Myrtle Schmidt, Leland; first: R. Cole, Leland, second: Seventh grade—B. Hoffman, Leland; first: Helen Newman, Cameron, second: Sixth grade—Edward Wegner, Cameron, first: Rosalie Kruger, Cameron, second: Fifth grade—Harry Newman, Cameron, first: Harold Brammer, Cameron, second: Fourth grade—B. Heimgartner, Stony Point, first: B. Steigers, Stony Point, second: Third grade—Wallace Newman, Cameron, first: Herbert Harrison, Cameron, second.

The third grade winners were declared winners by default, as no contestants in that grade appeared against them.

About The Sales Tax

The following interview discloses what the merchants of Kendrick think of the sales tax (sponsored by Gov. Ross) which became effective on Wednesday of last week:

Relief Work Started

Relief work in the Kendrick sector began again last Saturday morning, when some 20 men were put to work in Brady gulch, where all relief workers will be used until that project is completed.

Entertained At Dinner

Sunday dinner guests at the Ben Cummings home were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlson, all of Troy.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was given for Mrs. Nella Harmon, Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Raby, when some 26 friends gathered at the Raby home for the occasion, three of whom, Mesdames Boyd Cook, Lloyd Cook and Robert Logan, were from Lenore. The guest of honor was presented a beautiful friendship quilt. The afternoon was spent socially and refreshments served.

Mrs. Harmon, a sister of C. C. Blackburn, has been living at the Blackburn home for the past year or more. She will leave about April 1 for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will make her home.

U. S. SIGNS AGREEMENT TO TAKE FRENCH WHEAT

Paris, March 22—An agreement was reached today for the exchange of American apples for French wheat to feed livestock in the eastern section of the United States.

The United States was understood to need at least three million bushels of grain for feed on the eastern seaboard. Informed quarters said, however, that American imports from France would fall far short of that figure.

Apple importers indicated they are "entirely satisfied" with the increased quota, which is expected to absorb the American surplus and raise the export price in the United States 15 to 20 cents a box.

It is expected to enable the north-west American growers to dispose of most of their export surpluses, and at the same time will help France to dispose of a portion of the 75,000,000 bushel grain surplus.

The French apple and pear quota increase amounts to 1,000,000 quintals, or 22,000 tons.

The United States government, it was said, has arranged to have the feeding wheat sold at the world price in eastern states and where French wheat would be cheaper than the American product shipped from the west.

Barnum Sells Many Licenses

Geo. P. Barnum, dispenser of fish and game licenses for Kendrick during 1934, reports he sold $511.50 worth to local nimrods. The amount includes several big game tags, which cost $1.00 in addition to the regular license.

Fish and game licenses will again be on sale at the Barnum Hardware store beginning about April 1.

Those who may fish without licenses are veterans of the Civil or Spanish-American wars, all citizens over the age of 70 and children under the age of 14, according to an act of the 1935 state legislature.

Brought Home From Hospital

Grover Poindexter, son of Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Poindexter, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Lewiston some ten days ago, was brought home Tuesday afternoon. He stood the trip home in good shape and is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Double-Eight Bridge Club

The Double-Eight bridge club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silvie Cook, with four tables in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. B. Deobald and Mrs. Ethel Emery.

George Denner, Sr., and son Adolph, took a load of hogs to Lewiston Tuesday.

An inflated currency is one that is doubled, redoubled and vulnerable.

MARKET UNSETTLED—FEED GRAINS BARELY STEADY

Grain markets were quite unsettled toward the close of the week ended March 22, influenced by threatened spread of the western drought to adjacent winter and spring wheat areas and the unsettled political and economic situation in Europe, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat was independently firm with a steady demand for the light current offerings. Reduced shipments from the southern hemisphere were a strengthening influence at Liverpool and advances at that market were reflected in part in American markets. Feed grains failed to gain with wheat but were mostly lower as a result of continued slow demand and further importations of foreign grain.

Domestic cash wheat markets gained 2c to 3c on most classes with limited current offerings in good demand. Marketings of winter wheat were smaller with only 498 cars received at the principal central and southwestern markets. A good part of the arrivals at Kansas City were applied on contracts, leaving very small quantities for sale in the open market. Shipments exceeded receipts and public elevator stocks were reduced 600,000 bushels, bringing the stocks to the lowest point since 1928.

A more active inquiry from shippers and interior mills strengthened the cash market at Chicago where No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.03 per bushel. More activity was reported at St. Louis due to offerings from elevator stocks. No. 2 hard winter was quoted at the close of the week at $1.02. Premiums for cash grain increased at Fort Worth where the lack of country offerings and a rapid reduction in elevator stocks were the strengthening influences. No. 1 hard winter was quoted delivered Texas common points at $1.11 per bushel. Soft winter wheat strengthened with hard winter but trading was restricted by the scarcity of offerings. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at the close of the week at St. Louis at 94c, at Chicago at 96c and at Kansas City at 96c per bushel.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets advanced with the general strengthening in the wheat situation. Denver mills were bidding 86c for No. 2 hard winter FOB Colorado points. Ogden, Utah, mills were bidding 73c for No. 2 hard winter and soft white and 84c for No. 2 dark hard winter and dark northern spring FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

The Portland market advanced about 1/2c per bushel, but demand remained slow with local mills providing the only outlet for the limited offerings. Only 191 cars were received at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals, with growers generally awaiting the outcome of proposals to move Northwestern wheat eastward or into export channels. At the close of the week, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 89c, soft white at 82c, northern spring at 84c, western white at 82c, hard winter and western red at 81c, per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. At Seattle western white was quoted at 82c, western red and hard winter at 81c and Baart hard white at 90c per bushel, basis No. 1, sacked.

California markets advanced 2c to 5c per 100, reflecting principally the gains in outside markets. Marketings by Sacramento valley growers was unusually light with farm reserves low in that section.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets continued their downward trend during the past week, reflecting the dull demand for both feeding and malting types while continued offerings of lower priced feed barley from California were an additional weakening influence. The movement of malting barley was light with demand from the midwest negligible.

Oats markets tended downward influenced principally by light demand and improvement in pasturage and green forage supplies. The indicated acreage of oats for harvest for 1935 is 39,109,000 acres compared with 30,395,000 acres harvested in 1934 and 39,673,000 acres the five-year average. The largest acreage increases are indicated for drought areas of west central states. Pacific Northwestern markets were dull and lower with a slow inquiry from both local and outside markets. Further arrivals of 6,784 tons of Argentine oats at Gulf ports were also a weakening influence. On March 21, No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.45 per 100 and No. 2 gray oats at $1.40 per 100, sacked basis.

Make Our Town Your Social Center As Well As Your Trading Center

The greatest Industry in our Town and Community is Agriculture. It is our basic industry and its field of activity is outside our Home Town but upon the progress and prosperity of Agriculture and of those engaged in it, our Home Town is dependent.

Farm lands and farm values won't rise and increase as they should, where there is no Home Town.

Money deposited in Banks in big cities and in other towns takes capital away — It builds up other communities at the expense of Our Community.

Our Community is made up of the people within the Town and of the people round about the town.

It takes all the factors to build a Community fit to live in — it requires cooperation of farmers and townspeople, of banks, schools, churches, stores, service institutions — all working together — trading together — associating together — to make a worthwhile Community!

From the profits of business is found the wherewithal to provide better Homes, better Schools, better Churches, better Government and better Business and Business Service. People within and without should Work Together and Associate Together. The spirit of working together and associating together is Community Spirit from which Community Progress must come — it is just good, old-fashioned neighborly Spirit!

INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOL

On Tuesday of this week fire drill was practiced. The building was emptied in less than one minute. There has been better attendance this week, although the percentage is still higher than it should be. It is urged that parents make it their duty to see that their children are in school regularly. The past week marked the close of the first half of the second semester, so it is imperative that students be regular in attendance, due to the fact that it is much more difficult to make up work toward the end of the year than at the first of the year. The Senior pictures arrived Thursday. The remaining pictures will be taken on Thursday morning, April 2. It is urged that all who expect to be in the pictures for the Annual be present as this will be the last time there will be an opportunity to have the annual pictures taken. Chemistry class is taking an intensive review of the Halogen and Nitrogen groups of elements. Algebra class is reviewing the multiplication of algebraic expressions. The business science class is taking up the study of cash receipts and disbursements.

Grade Notes
The first grade are working on their phonics. Jean Crocker of the third grade won first place at the sectional spelling contest at Lapwai. Paula McKeever won fourth place for the fourth grade. The county spelling contest will be held in Lewiston on March 30. The fourth grade are working with fractions in arithmetic. The sixth grade has started a study of Asia.

"Here Comes The Groom"
"Rob a bank or I won't marry you!" That is the ultimatum given by Angry to Mike Scalon, her piccoloplaying, droopy fiance. When he is scored by his sweetheart for not being a good burglar, he tries a "great scoop," but gets caught in his own plans. Big, bad bandits interfere with him and take everything, including his pants. In making his getaway, the cops spot him and give chase and he finds escape in a Pullman compartment on a railroad train waiting at the station. But his troubles aren't ended.
The compartment in which he hides belongs to a young bride, whose husband, a famous masked tenor, has deserted her because her father's money has suddenly disappeared. She is on her way home and forces Haley to pose as her husband—and right there the fun really starts. It's a real comedy.
Then there's chapter 14 of "The

Itemize Your Electric Bill

Do you ever stop to think . . . as you look at your electric service bill . . . that it covers 30 days of service? That during those 30 days electricity was "right there" when you pressed a switch for lighting, or for the use of your various appliances?

How much was your electric service bill for last month? Divide this amount by 30 and discover what this service cost you per day.

In how many ways do you use electric service . . . ? Besides the basic service of lighting, for what other purposes are you using electricity? Check over the following list:

- | | | | | | |
|---------|--------------------------|----------------|--------------------------|--------------|--------------------------|
| Cooking | <input type="checkbox"/> | Water Heating | <input type="checkbox"/> | Ironing | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Radio | <input type="checkbox"/> | Refrigeration | <input type="checkbox"/> | Percolator | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Toaster | <input type="checkbox"/> | Washing | <input type="checkbox"/> | Air Heating | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Grill | <input type="checkbox"/> | Vacuum Cleaner | <input type="checkbox"/> | Curling Iron | <input type="checkbox"/> |

There are many other uses, some of which may apply in your home. When you consider this widespread use of electric service you realize the VALUE of it.

Isn't electric service, therefore, just about the cheapest thing you buy? Use more of it!

Well, Folks—Here it is the last of March and the old "saw" about March coming in like a lamb and going out like a lion seems to be bearing out in good shape. And in so doing it's hindering your farm work — so in order to make up for the delay — pay more attention to your cows — feed them better — reap the results through increased income from your cream at our station. Give it a whirl — it will pay you dividends in cash and in time saved. Try us today. Don't wait — do it now!

Mrs. Blewett (at concert): "She has quite a large repertoire, hasn't she?"

Dick Blwett: "Yes, and that dress makes it look all the worse."

Tramp—"Could you give a poor fellow a bite?"

Mrs. Christensen: "I don't bite myself, but I'll call the dog."

Mrs. Long—Tommy, don't you know it's wrong for a little boy to fight?

Tommy — Yes'm, but Morris doesn't know it and I'm proving it to him!
