HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Complete abolition of the NRA is the "one right answer" which the house of representatives should make to the senate's action extending its life, former President Herbert Hoover told the Associated Press in an interview. The NRA has been crushing the life out of small business and "they are crushing the life out of the very heart of the local community body," he declared. In response to a question as to what, in his opinion, congress should do with regard to the NRA, the former president said: "In reply to your question, the one right answer by the house of representatives to the senate's action extending the life of NRA is to abolish it entirely."

A thinly-veiled threat of a legislative deadlock threatening NRA's existence was flung by Senator Borah at a fresh White House agreement to fight for a two-year extension of the recovery law. On behalf of senate NRA critics, the Idaho republican warned democratic leaders bluntly—although in an almost conversational tone—that he and other opponents of the law would not compromise the senate's plan for a 10-month extension of a close-clipped code rule of industry, but would battle for "precisely what we believe to be in the interests of the country." Borah spoke after Senator Clark (D. Mo.) another blue eagle foe, had assailed Donald R. Richberg's criticism of the senate's 10-month plan as "the most arrogant since the days of the Roman empire." Clark lashed at Richberg as a "Mussolini," and asked, "by what means has our Caesar grown so great?"

Re-arming Germany's newest naval weapon—swift, deadly "vest pocket" torpedo boats as revolutionary as her "vest pocket" battleships—has been revealed. Foreign naval experts stationed at Berlin said the reich, moving swiftly, already has constructed 450 tiny speed boats, capable of 60 knots each, and manned by five men and carrying four torpedoes. A second, similar development, the experts said, is another speed boat twice as large, carrying ten men and having an operating radius of almost 2,000 miles.

The Maxim Gorky, largest land airplane in the world, crashed after a collision with a small airplane Saturday, killing 49 persons, including six children and eight women, in the worst disaster ever to befall a passenger plane. An official report denied the Maxim Gorky exploded, although the plane broke into pieces in the air. The mangled bodies of its 48 occupants were scattered over the village of Socol, three miles from Moscow, Russia. Pilot Blagin of a small escorting plane, which rammed into the Gorky while stunting against orders, was also killed. Soviet officials confirmed the death toll of 49.

Sixty persons were killed and more than 60 were injured in traffic accidents in 20 states as rain and fog spread over many sections of the nation over the week-end. Weather conditions were held responsible for at least seven deaths. Others were charged to speeding, reckless driving and carelessness.

Slashing PWA hourly wage scales all down the line, President Roosevelt Monday fixed labor's monthly wage under much of the $4,000,000,000 work program at a low of $19 and a high of $94. An immediate challenge of this scale, based, except on specific instances, on a maximum 40 hour week and eight hour day schedule, came from Senator McCarran (D. Nev.) who led the unsuccessful prevailing wage fight during passage of the bill. The president's executive order, he said, would "completely wreck the country's wage scale." McCarran asserted he would attack the payment schedule on the senate floor, "probably Tuesday," and added: "After I have studied it completely, perhaps I'll call on the labor leaders over the country to map a course of action."

Is Now "Bob-Tail"

The "Spokane Flyer," plying between Lewiston and Spokane, via Kendrick, now comes under what is commonly termed a "bob-tail" train, having been reduced to two cars—most of the time.

Few people seem to realize that if it were not for the Northern Pacific railroad running through Kendrick and Latah county, the public schools of the county would have mighty hard selding and that in order to maintain them without railroad taxes would be next to impossible.

$30,000,000 For Idaho

Within two years approximately $30,000,000 in federal funds will be spent in Idaho on a variety of public works projects, Governor Ross estimated on his return from Washington, D. C., where he had conferred during the past two weeks with officials of the national government.

The money will be spent on constructing roads, irrigation reservoirs, public buildings and similar projects which are designed to eliminate unemployment and permit the Idaho emergency relief administration to "fade out of the picture eventually," said the chief executive, who is the IERA administrator.

INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOL

This week marks the end of one of the most successful school years that Kendrick High School has ever enjoyed. Everyone is well pleased with the results that have been obtained and it is to be hoped that future years will be as successful as this one.

Of the 17 Seniors who took, as a part of their final examination, the Standard English Placement test for the University of Idaho, none fell below the standard set for University entrance requirements. Clem Lyons, Wayne Yenni, and Wayne Wegner made "proficiency score," and Margaret Daugherty missed that score by one point. Those people would be eligible to take a second test at the University. Should they pass this second test, they would be exempt from one semester of Freshman English.

The Juniors and Seniors went on a picnic Tuesday evening.

On Monday of this week the Seniors held their annual Class Day. Mr. Lyle was in charge of the program which included: Salutatory address by Clem Lyons; Class Will, by Glen Wegner; Class History, by Jeanne Ramey; Class Prophecy, by Ronald Jones; Class Poem, by Wayne Wegner; speeches by the teachers; a song by Joye Johnson, accompanied by Roberta Weeks; and the awarding of the Basketball letters to the players. Boys receiving letters were Thomas Blevins, Glen Hughes, Roy Ramey, Jr., Oscar Hartung, Paul Dammarrell, Willard Schoeffler, Roy Johnson, Floyd Crocker, Tommy Keene and Frank Abrams. Girls receiving letters were Joye Johnson, Roberta Weeks, Jeanne Ramey, Rosebud Blevins, Doris Crocker, Mary Elizabeth Thompson, Jean Fry, Wanda Johnson, Phyllis Thomas and Eleanor Hill.

The Commencement program, held Thursday evening at the Community church was pleasing. Sixteen members of the class graduate. They are: Lawrence Abitz, Reva Berreman, Rosebud Blevins, Margaret Daugherty, Glen Hughes, Joye Johnson, Ronald Jones, Herbert McDowell, Jeanne Ramey, Sherman Schmidt, Roberta Weeks, Wayne Wegner, Glen Wegner, Wayne Yenni, Kathryn Kent and Clem Lyons.

P.-T. A. Held

The last meeting of the P.-T. A. for this year was held on Monday of this week, there being a large number present. The annual school exhibit was also held that evening and showed excellent results from the school year's work.

Kendrick is a good town. Look us over.

IDAHO HAS MORE THAN FIVE HUNDRED 4-H CLUBS

Five hundred and thirty-three standard 4-H clubs, embracing livestock, crops, and home economics, were organized in Idaho in 1934, with a membership of 5,212 boys and girls, reports J. H. Rearden, state club leader with the University of Idaho agricultural extension division, in his annual report. The club program was carried on in 41 of the 44 counties of the state.

The 5,212 boys and girls enrolled in club work produced products with a market value of $47,789, with cost of production amounting to $32,715, leaving a net profit to the club members of $15,074, the club leader reports. "This is a dollars and cents value only and no estimate can be made of the educational value of the work," he added.

The 1934 club enrollment exceeds that of 1933 by 393 and is but slightly below the all-time high of 5,271 for 1932. "The 586 local leaders who gave of their time and advice without any financial compensation were largely responsible for the large number of club members enrolled and for those who completed their projects," says the club leader. Seventy-two per cent of the clubbers enrolling completed the year's work.

Home economics club members made 20,472 articles of clothing and canned 11,874 jars of foodstuffs. Five hundred and seventy-eight club meetings were held during the year with an attendance of 26,976. Boys and girls in livestock clubs own 1,621 head of stock, 675 being purebred animals and 946 being grade. Dairy calf clubs lead in numbers, having 663 animals, 207 being purebred and 456 being grade animals. Sheep clubbers own 533 head, 345 being pure bred and 188 grade.

Teaching Staff Selected

We are sorry to announce that four members of our teaching staff will not be with us next year. Mrs. Brians, who has been our English teacher for the past two years is to join her husband, who is engaged in High School work at Worley, Idaho. Mrs. Waide (nee Edna Ferguson) is not to teach next year, she having been recently married, will be engaged in the activities pertaining to this calling.

Mrs. Mary Adams, who has been with us for a number of years is to be with her family in Moscow next year and will not teach.

Mrs. Grover, who has been our Home Economics instructor for the past year will not teach the coming year.

All of these teachers have done exceedingly well and would have been able to return had it not been that they decided to retire from the teaching field.

The following teachers have been offered contracts for the coming year: Superintendent, J. M. Lyle, Jr., Science and Mathematics; Agriculture, Science, Music, Mr. Grover; Commercial work, Miss Lennox; English, History, Music, Mr. King; A. L. Dawald, seventh and eighth grades and coach; Miss Carolyn Roos, fifth and sixth; Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, third and fourth; Miss Louise Hockaday, first and second.

All of the new teachers come very highly recommended. Miss Hockaday, whose home is in Rupert, Idaho, will also handle all the girls' athletics and it is hoped to work out a schedule whereby practically all of the girls will be able to participate in some form of athletics.

Miss Roos, whose home is in Lewiston, will assist with music in the school and handle the grade school music.

John King, who is graduating this year from the University of Idaho is fairly well known here at this time and especially by the students, having done his practice teaching in this school the past spring. Mr. King will also handle the Music work in High school, with Mr. Grover assisting.

All indications at this time point to a large enrollment at the school next fall.

Many Went Fishing

From reports heard Monday morning, half the male population of Kendrick went fishing Sunday—and all report a fair catch. It seems that a great many small ones were landed—not one of them getting away—but practically every large one hooked is still in its native habitat.

However, we'll venture to say that more fish were "caught" on the sidewalks of Kendrick Monday morning than were landed all of Sunday—and most of them were big ones, too.

GRASS-LEGUME MIXTURES HELP CONTROL EROSION

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Erosion Service, Pullman, Wn.—Grass-legume mixtures are among the most effective of all vegetative covers for controlling soil erosion and water run-off. Many farmers living in the Inland Empire are planning on seeding grass-legume mixtures on hilltops and eroded slopes to help check erosion and prevent silting of low lands. Proper seed preparation is the most important single factor in getting a good grass stand. The Soil Erosion Service makes the following recommendations, therefore, regarding this phase of seeding:

The acreage should be plowed in the fall, and if firm, should be spring disked twice, harrowed once or twice, rolled and drilled. If the ground is not too firm, it should only be necessary to harrow once or twice, roll, and drill. In either case, the field must be rolled.

Spring plowing should never be done. Proper spring preparation of the seed bed should include two double diskings, harrowing (with a spike-toothed harrow) two or more times, and rolling once or twice as is required.

Small areas which are broadcast seeded are rolled after seeding. Rolling the ground after seeding rather than before is the principal difference between seed bed preparation for broadcast seeding and drilling.

"More than 50 million acres of land in the United States has been destroyed for crop production by erosion," says the department. "Another 125 million acres of land now in crops has lost all or most of its topsoil. About 100 million acres is rapidly approaching that condition. At least three-fourths of the farmland of the United States used for clean-tilled crops is subject to varying degrees to erosion, the damage from which to farm lands, roads, reservoirs, irrigation ditches and valley lands is estimated at more than $400,000,000 a year."

May Get Soil Conservation Camp

County Agent L. V. Benjamin was in Kendrick Monday evening in conference with the executive committee of the Kendrick Commercial club regarding the securing of a soil conservation camp for this section.

Mr. Benjamin explained the procedure necessary to secure a camp, or to get the necessary set-up for such a camp. He explained that it would be necessary to get full cooperation of the farmers of the district to carry the project to completion.

Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Grover, Smith-Hughes director in the Kendrick school, expect to go to Pullman this week-end to consult Mr. Rockie, head of the conservation projects in this district, after which they expect to be able to give the farmers a concrete form and full information regarding the conservation project.

A number of Rebekahs motored to Juliaetta Friday evening to visit the order there, when two candidates were initiated.

Those in attendance from here were Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mrs. F. Nesbit, Mrs. Pearle Long, Mrs. Ethel Emery, Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. Silvie Cook, Mrs. Ira Havens, Mrs. Thos. McDowell, Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. L. S. LaHatt, Miss Josephine Davis and Miss Zelma Hartung.

Few Beans Are Moving

The Kendrick Bean Growers association report the moving of one car of beans to the Spokane market and some 300 bags by truck during the past week.

The Kendrick Rochdale company recently made a shipment of beans to Fort George Wright for CCC consumption.

Surveyors Establish Office

A large surveying crew has established an office in the Raby Hotel building, taking charge of the office room on Monday.

Survey work will be carried on from Kendrick for all sections now being worked on in this territory.

A. W. Ahl has been quite sick again of a complication of ailments incident to old age. He will celebrate his ninety-first birthday anniversary in just a few more days.

Had Tonsils Removed

Gus Kruger of Cameron had his tonsils removed at the office of Dr. D. A. Christensen Monday morning.

Still Believe In Santa Claus

It is quite evident that there are still a few people who believe there is a Santa Claus, from the way the chain letter racket is being worked in the larger cities, where thousands of dollars have changed hands within a few hours—but someone is bound to lose. However, each investor is hoping that it will be the other fellow who loses and invests his dollar, five, ten, or whatever the amount might be at the time of "investment."

Most anyone would invest a dime or a quarter, just to see if anything would come back, but when it comes to playing the game as a "racket," it generally gets into big money—and someone is bound to lose.

DO YOU FAVOR WHEAT ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM?

"Are you in favor of a wheat production adjustment program to follow the present one, which expires with the 1935 crop year?" This is the question which the wheat farmers of the United States are being asked to answer on Saturday, May 25.

In order that every farmer in Latah county might have an opportunity to express his wishes on this matter, County Agent L. V. Benjamin has mailed official ballots to the entire mailing list. All any farmer, who receives a ballot, need do is to put an X in the square marked "Yes" or "No," place it in the return envelope provided, and mail. These ballots will then be segregated by communities and turned over to the community committees for the official count.

If, however, any person does not wish to vote this way, or for some reason does not receive a ballot, the polls will be open at the following places on Saturday, May 25:

- Bear Ridge, Community hall; Deary, Legion hall; Kendrick, City hall; Troy, Smith Implement Co.

The important thing is for every wheat grower in Latah county to vote on that day.

Residents of Nez Perce county residing in the Kendrick territory, will vote at the following places:

- Leland—church basement.
- Southwick—Community hall.
- Lenore—Hersey's store.

Boise Wants Sawtooth Route

The Idaho state highway bureau Friday purchased the right-of-way of the old Intermountain Railway company and six of its bridges for $45,000 in a step toward construction of a road that is intended to give Boise a scenic short-cut to Butte, Mont.

The project calls for a standard highway from Boise, through Idaho City to Lowman, then up the South Fork to Grandjean, and over the Sawtooth range to Stanley, where it will connect with the Sawtooth Parks highway.

The new road would provide one of the most scenic highways in the west.

Editors note: Of the untold millions that is planned on being spent on highways, very little, or nothing, thus far, has been said about farm-to-market roads. The main topic of conversation among the powers that be is about "scenic" roads through various parts of the state (principally the southern part). It would seem that about all they have in mind is to get the tourist to pass through this wonderland of ours—and go hang with the farmer that has to plow through mud up to the axle to get his grain and livestock to market.

Will the time ever come when the tax-payers' money will be used for anything but pleasure for some-one else? We wonder!

GRAIN MARKET WEAKER WITH IMPROVED PROSPECTS

Domestic grain markets tended downward during the week ended May 17, influenced by more favorable new crop prospects with further beneficial rains in both the winter and spring wheat belts, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Cash markets however, did not share the full decline in futures with light offerings and small remaining supplies tending to increase premiums and narrow discounts. Wheat declined 2c to 3c per bushel except on high protein types, which remained firm. Corn was slightly lower at most markets but a good demand prevailed for the moderate arrivals. Oats and barley were sharply lower, influenced by a slow demand and favorable new crop prospects. Continued liberal offerings of Argentine oats and increased imports of Canadian barley were further depressing factors. Rye was independently weak and declined about 5c per bushel, reflecting principally favorable new crop prospects. Flax turned firmer despite the general weakness in grains, with improvement in the oil market situation stimulating crusher demand for seed.

Prospects for the 1935 wheat crop are now prominent features in the market situation. The condition of the winter wheat crop which accounts for more than two-thirds of the Northern Hemisphere harvest, is rather irregular. Generous rains improved winter wheat throughout the domestic belt except in dry Southwestern areas, where most of the crop has been abandoned. In southeastern Kansas wheat is mostly in the boot with heads firming. Many fields are jointing in the Ohio valley with some heading in southern sections. In Europe unseasonably cool weather has retarded growth but has forced stronger root development, but on the whole, conditions are about up to average. Northwestern European crops are generally satisfactory, although late. France has suffered from excessive moisture but the condition of the crop May 1 was placed at 72 per cent as against 67 per cent a year ago, but trade advice forecast an outturn about the same as last year. The Spanish crop has suffered from dryness although recent rains have benefited later fields. Italy is still suffering from lack of moisture with a short crop indicated, according to trade reports. Moisture supplies in the Balkans are adequate, and crop prospects are favorable, particularly in Rumania. North Africa harvests have been seriously damaged by hot dry winds and percent prospects are for an outturn only about half that of last year.

Marketings in the Pacific Northwest remained light with receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling only 448 cars. Offerings were about sufficient for local trade needs at Portland with mills confining purchases principally to high protein wheat. California demand slackened with the approaching local harvest. Movement to eastern markets was light with local prices out of line for eastern shipments. At the close of the week, bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 95c, soft and western white at 82c, northern spring at 82½c, hard winter at 81½c, and western red at 81c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle, western white, western red and hard winter were quoted at 84c, with baart hard white at $1.00 per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked.

Oats tended downward, reflecting the weakness in other grains and also influenced by improved pasturage, which reduced market inquiry for all feed grains. Pacific Northwestern markets were quiet. Shipments from eastern Washington to North Central states have been practically completed but a few cars of white oats moved from the Willamette valley to mid-dlewestern areas during the week. No. 2 white and No. 2 gray oats were quoted at Portland May 16 at $1.37½ per 100, sacked basis, and at Seattle eastern Washington heavy white oats were quoted at $1.50 per 100. Middlewestern oats' markets were dull with a light shipping demand and only moderate trading from local interests.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet with the dull inquiry confined to an occasional car for local and nearby mixers. Prices held practically unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 bright Western barley quoted at Portland, sacked basis, at $1.35 per 100, and with California feed barley nominally quoted around $1.30 per 100.

These cattle were conditioned with V. P. C. KAMELA Worm Expeller when they went into the feed lot—then, along with their daily ration they received a supplement of VIAMINERAL. Buyers from Spokane made several trips to the Evans ranch just to show their friends these cattle. Mr. Wilson, Bristol's buyer, said they were the choicest cattle ever finished in the Palouse country. Bristol also made the same statement. We claim a share in this wonderful achievement by Mr. Evans, due to the part Viamineral played in producing this superb finish.

P.-T. A. Installs Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were installed at last Monday night's meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, as follows: Mrs. H. B. Thompson, president; Mrs. Don Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Helen Boyd, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Deobald, secretary.

There was no special program given, the school exhibit taking the place of a program. Supt. James M. Lyle announced that arrangements had been made for the securing from the state of serum for smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid, which will be administered by Dr. D. A. Christensen. This not only applies to children of school age, but also children of pre-school age. The only charge will be 10 cents to defray certain expenses.

This will be a splendid opportunity for parents to have their children made immune from these diseases, or cause them to be in light form, should they be contracted.

Shirley Temple In "Bright Eyes"

Every picture fan loves little Shirley Temple—the one child actor that has attracted universal attention over the entire United States. You will have an opportunity of seeing this beautiful child actor this Friday and Saturday nights at the Kendrick Theatre in "Bright Eyes," one of the best of her many lovely pictures.

Her father was an air pilot and was killed when his plane crashed. Her mother (Lois Wilson) takes the first work that offers and becomes a servant in the home of J. Wellington Smythes—a family of snobs, with a daughter worse tempered, if possible, than her parents. The one redeeming feature of the clan is Uncle Ned, who calls himself Smith, and spells it that way.

The story is one that will be enjoyed by old and young, for in this one little Shirley is at her best.

Then, too, there's a chapter eight of "Tailspin Tommy," in which there is "The Thrill of Death"—in which Tommy and Betty are saved. Also other regular features.

Summer Has "Come"

From all appearances summer has at last put in a belated appearance in the Potlatch section. Monday was the first real summer day experienced thus far this season and everyone was indeed grateful for it, although they would like to have a little more rain than has been our lot for the past few weeks. However, we should have no complaint as we don't really know what "dry" territory is—either from a water standpoint, or otherwise.

Gave Barn Dance

Last Saturday night the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Emmett, on Potlatch ridge, was the scene of one of the best and most successful barn dances to be given in our community for a long time.

About 100 guests enjoyed the well-known Emmett hospitality, with ten musicians taking turns playing violins, guitar, banjo and accordions. It was a happy crowd that danced till dawn.

At shortly after midnight a splendid lunch was served, consisting of sandwiches of all kinds, cake and coffee, after which everyone continued dancing to the merry old tunes that everyone loves—square dances, circle two-steps—as well as modern dances, were in order.

A number of local people were in attendance, along with people from all of our different ridges, all voting it a most enjoyable night.
