NO. 22

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Swiftly overriding President Roosevelt's forbidding veto warning of "disastrous consequences," the house last Thursday repassed the Patman bonus bill and sent the new money plan to an almost certain death in the senate. The representatives voted 322 to 98 to make the $2,200,000,000 measure law over the presidential veto.

Siding with President Roosevelt in his warning of "disastrous consequences," a band of 40 senators Friday killed the inflationary Patman bonus bill—only to find the whole bonus issue immediately resurrected on both sides of the capitol. The vote to override the chief executive's veto was 54 to 40. Not only did this fall short of the necessary two-thirds, but the Patmanites lost in strength from the original 55-33 vote for passage of the $2,200,000,000 new currency measure.

With the approval of the president of the first allocations under the work program, a total of $44,326,755 was released for use in seven Pacific far western states. By far the greater part of this money will go for new roads and grade crossing elimination, of which amount Idaho will receive $3,897,226.

The American Federation of Labor accused "organized business" of withholding 4,000,000 jobs as a protest against pending business control legislation. "No strike of labor ever reached such proportions or has any labor strike conditioned the nation to continue in depression as this strike is doing," the federation said in its monthly business survey. The legislation the federation cited as the cause of the capital "strike" included the social security bill, the Wagner labor disputes bill, the 30-hour week bill, the utility holding company bill and the banking legislation.

The government asked the country for a $100,000,000 loan Saturday in a security offering which invoked the seldom-used privilege of selling bonds to "highest bidders." Secretary Morgenthau announced the new borrowing was designed to build up a shrinking treasury cash balance. He offered for sale $100,000,000 in 3 per cent bonds for 1946-48, to supplement and bear the same date as $825,000,000 of this issue sold June 15, 1934. But since these bonds are now quoted on financial markets, at more than $103, Morgenthau said that all bids for the additional issue will be thrown out if they fall below the par value of the securities.

Authoritative sources disclosed that the German military command plans a highly mobile infantry and artillery, which will enable the army to move at 80 miles an hour "over most anything except woods." Two motor vehicles for every four infantrymen is the new army's ratio to obtain unprecedented flexibility and speed. Light field pieces, splendid highways strategically extending to the frontiers, commissariat equipment, motor vehicles and tanks are included in the array of improvements that a foreign expert describes as "leaving nothing, not even the weather, to chance or the luck of an enemy."

I. O. O. F. Gathers At Lewiston

A district convention of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was held in Lewiston last Friday and Saturday in which some 14 lodges of central Idaho took part, with approximately 300 members and delegates in attendance.

John Kite, former president of the assembly, was elected vice-president and Thomas Dowdy of Moscow was elected secretary-treasurer. L. S. LaHatt was also one of the presiding officers. Art Ozman and Mr. LaHatt were the only men in attendance from Kendrick.

Ladies in attendance from Kendrick at the Rebekah assembly were Mrs. E. H. Emery, Mrs. Joe Davis, Miss Josephine Davis, Mrs. L. S. LaHatt, Mrs. Silvie Cook, Mrs. Lester Hill, Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mrs. Edgar Long.

Vaccine Arrive Soon

Diphtheria and smallpox immunization vaccine is expected to arrive within a few days and all children of school, or pre-school age, may take advantage of same by calling at Dr. D. A. Christensen's office. The arrival of the vaccine was unavoidably delayed.

Died Of Heart Failure

S. I. Ringsage, living near Park, died very suddenly Wednesday morning, presumably from heart failure. No further particulars were obtainable before going to press.

Stork On Job In Idaho

Births in Idaho during April were more than double the number of deaths, figures at the office of Mrs. Pearl Dillingham, director of the state bureau of vital statistics, showed.

There were 423 deaths, 247 male and 181 female, and 856 births, 455 males and 401 females.

The youngest mother of the month was 14 years old; the oldest 47. The youngest father was 15; the oldest 62. There were eight pairs of twins.

Of the deaths 43 were suicides. Forty-five of the deaths were those of less than a year old.

Heart ailments took the heaviest toll, 69 lives. Pneumonia was second with 41.

IDAHO SALES TAX LEGAL SAYS DIST. JUDGE KOELSCH

Idaho's 2-per-cent retail sales tax is constitutional and the state referendum machinery cannot be used to halt its operation, Judge Charles F. Koelsch decided in an opinion handed down late last Thursday in the district court at Boise.

On the basis of his conclusions he dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by a group of Boise merchants who sought to have it made permanent and extended to prohibit the state from enforcing the tax act against anyone.

The judge, however, did issue an injunction restraining Ben Dieendorf, commissioner of finance and administrator of the law, from collecting the tax on any schedule other than that approved by the seventh district court at Caldwell in a decision handed down there by Judge J. C. Rice several weeks ago.

Under provisions of that decision the tax can be collected by merchants only on sales of 50 cents and on multiples of a half dollar.

Dieendorf repeatedly has contended that the merchants must collect on gross receipts amounts as Judge Rice decided.

"I'm glad the decision wasn't any worse than it was," commented Dieendorf.

James F. Ailshie, Jr., and J. L. Eberle, attorneys for the merchants, said they have studied it thoroughly.

J. F. Martin, legal adviser of Governor Ross, who was associated with State Senator George Donart of Weiser in defending the state in the case, announced immediately that an appeal would be taken to the supreme court "finally to settle any doubt as to any provision of the law."

Governor Ross could not be reached for comment.

"I doubt if there has been any belief in the mind of anyone that the act conflicted with the constitution," Martin declared.

"Likewise I doubt if anyone ever seriously felt the referendum applied to any law passed in Idaho whether or not it carried any emergency clause.

"We shall of course appeal this case to the supreme court because the people of Idaho want the matter definitely settled in every detail."

N. P. Crack Train Here

The Northern Pacific's crack North Coast limited, with its new air-conditioned cars, passed through Kendrick last Friday afternoon, stopping for a few minutes. There were few at the depot to look it over, but little could be seen other than what was visible from the outside, as it was not opened for inspection here.

However, it will be one of the crack trains between Seattle and Chicago in the future. Air conditioning takes all the dust and dirt out of the cars and keeps them at an even temperature, making travel really a pleasure instead of something to be dreaded, especially in the summer-time.

Famous Song Writer Passes

James Blake, who 35 years ago wrote the words of "The Sidewalks of New York," the song made famous by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign, died May 24 in St. Vincent's hospital, New York, at the age of 73.

He had been confined there two weeks suffering from cancer.

During his last illness, Smith visited him at the hospital and expressed his sympathy and also made arrangements for his coffin.

Locust Trees In Bloom

The hundreds of locust trees in and around Kendrick are just now coming into bloom and within a few days the air will be fragrant. Kendrick has more locust trees than any town of like size in the country and when they are in full bloom make a very pretty sight indeed.

NRA SCRAPPED BY RULING OF U. S. SUPREME COURT

Washington, May 27—The NRA's vast code structure tumbled by a sweeping supreme court decision of unconstitutionality, tonight suspended "all methods of compulsory enforcement."

Acting a few hours after the high court held unanimously that the president had been given too much "unfettered" authority in proclaiming the codes, and that code provisions went too far in regulations affecting interstate commerce, the administration took two preliminary steps.

Donald Richberg, NRA administrator, after a conference with President Roosevelt, issued a plea that employers continue to operate under their codes until some new structure could be reared. In the same statement Richberg added:

"This decision of the court makes codes of fair competition unenforceable as a matter of law: and in deference to that ruling all methods of compulsory enforcement of the codes will be immediately suspended."

"This will not affect the enforcement of any contractual obligations which may have arisen by agreement of the parties requiring no sanction of a federal authority."

Wide confusion and bewilderment followed the court's decision, delivered in the tense atmosphere of a crowded courtroom by Chief Justice Hughes.

Sweepingly, he ruled that in the A. L. A. Schechter Poultry company case, upon which the decision was based, that congress had no authority to go into a community and tell a poultry man whose activities did not directly affect interstate commerce what wages he should pay his help and how long they should work.

The president hastily summoned his chief legal aides and sought without immediate success a means of creating a new NRA on the debris of the old.

New dealers generally pondered apprehensively the possible effect of the decision on other administration measures—the codes of AAA, federal control of the liquor industry and the Wagner labor disputes bill, designed to supplement the famous section 7-a.

Labor was bitterly disappointed. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, hastened to Washington, promising a statement in the morning. Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the United Textile Workers, warned that immediate strikes would greet departures by manufacturers from the textile code's wage and hour provisions—the first of the blue eagle agreements established.

In his statement after the White House conference, Richberg said:

"We now face the question of maintaining the gains which have been made in the last two years and retaining the values which have been created under the national recovery administration.

"It seems clear that that question must be decided by the administration and the congress and the people of the United States within a very short time."

Situation In Brief

By The Associated Press
National industrial recovery act ruled unconstitutional by the supreme court.

What does the decision mean?
The nation's business and political leaders classified themselves in three groups.

Some said with Senator Borah, Idaho republican, "the constitution has been saved." And with Senator King, Utah democrat, "Thank God for the supreme court."

Others heard eagerly the opinion of Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, that:

"The law can and should be changed and extended, adopting adequate amendments with reference to the delegation of authority which the court seems to have refused to accept, and to restrict code operations to transactions in interstate commerce."

The third group begged for time to read the court's decision and study it.

Commencement Exercises

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of 16 boys and girls from the Kendrick High school was held in the Community church on Thursday night of last week and was well attended (even standing room being at a premium) and thoroughly enjoyed. The program as published in last week's Gazette was carried out in its entirety.

STAR-MIRROR STILL COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

The suit heard before Judge E. E. Hunt of Sandpoint in district court April 9, brought by the Review Publishing company, owned by Pearl B. Robinson, against the county commissioners action in awarding the county legal proceedings to 'The Star Mirror' was ordered dismissed by Judge Hunt in an order filed Friday.

The Review company sought to obtain reversal of the commissioner's order, which was denied by Judge Hunt, who ruled that 'The Star-Mirror' consisted of two editions of one paper, the one daily and the other weekly, and that its two editions comprised the paper "most likely to give notice" of the county's official proceedings.

The Star-Mirror entered the case as interveners, represented by Abe Goff, attorney. The Review Publishing company and Mrs. Robinson was represented by A. L. Morgan.

The decision, in effect, approved the findings of the county commissioners that 'The Star-Mirror' was the newspaper most likely to give notice by reason of its larger subscription list, continuing to designate it as the official paper for Latah county.—Star Mirror.

Quarterly Conference

Rev. Paul H. Ashby, D. D., delivered a Memorial address Sunday morning at the Community church, which greatly stirred the hearts of those in attendance. Dr. Ashby remained in the community and conducted the Quarterly Conference at 2:30 p. m.

Reports were rendered by the Trustees, the Superintendent of the Sunday School, President of the Ladies Aid, Financial Secretary, and Pastor. The church appears to be in a little better condition than it was last year at this time. Committees were elected for the coming year. Trustees and Stewards also were elected. There was also a brief report from the American Ridge church.

Following is a list of Committees for the coming year:

Membership and Church Records—Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mrs. W. A. Watts.

Music—N. E. Walker, Mary Elizabeth Thompson, Mrs. E. H. Emery.

Religious Education—Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mrs. N. E. Walker, Paul Lind, F. B. Higley.

Finance—N. E. Walker, H. B. Thompson, R. H. Ramey, E. H. Dammarrell, Wm. Mattoon.

Benevolence—Mrs. H. Schupfer, Mrs. L. Hill.

Social Service and Local Hospitals—Mrs. J. Emmett, Mrs. B. Cummings, Mrs. F. B. Higley.

Auditing Accounts—R. H. Ramey, N. E. Walker.

Parsonage—Paul Lind, Mrs. Pearl Long, Mrs. E. L. Pearson.

Pulpit Supply—H. B. Thompson, Mrs. Paul Lind.

Pastoral Relations—Lester Hill, E. H. Dammarrell, F. B. Higley.

Nominating—Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mrs. N. E. Walker.

Idaho Laws Cost $430 Each

The average cost of the 218 laws passed by the 23rd session of the Idaho legislature was $430, figures compiled by N. O. Clemenson, chief classification accountant in the state auditor's office showed.

The approximate cost of running the legislature during its regular and extraordinary sessions was $94,000, the figures revealed.

They included salaries of the 104 lawmakers, attaches and other expenses.

A balance of approximately $8,000 of the appropriations that totaled about $102,000 remains in the general fund.

Weyerhaeuser Boy Kidnaped

George Weyerhaeuser, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma, formerly residents of Lewiston, was kidnaped last Friday noon while on his way home from school. $200,000 ransom is demanded by the kidnapers. To date no clew had been obtained as to the boy's whereabouts.

Have Up New Awnings

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll have had several very pretty awnings put at the windows of their home, adding very materially to its prettiness and comfort.

Mr. Carroll has also had new awnings put at the east windows of the Farmers Bank.

Idaho Farmers For AAA

Encouraged by returns from Saturday's referendum, administration officials Monday began drafting new four-year benefit contracts for wheat farmers and looked with fresh confidence toward favorable congressional action on Secretary Wallace's long-delayed proposal for "clarification" of the AAA law.

A slightly better than six to one lead was being maintained on the basis of early returns. Figures available gave: 171,828 for, 27,325 against, approximately 86 per cent.

FLAX CAN BE MADE A PROFITABLE CROP HERE

A new product—flaxseed—adds one more item to California's long list of agricultural products, making the total nearly fifty. Although small quantities have been grown there for the past several years, its production had not assumed the proportions of an industry until last year, when 24,000 bushels valued at $423,000 were harvested from 11,000 acres—all in the Imperial Valley. This year 48,000 acres have been planted—25,000 in the Imperial Valley and 23,000 in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys to the north, and if present plans are carried out, California this year will be the third largest producing state in the country, second only to Minnesota and North Dakota.

The flax plant is remarkable in that it is grown for either its fibre (for linen) or its seed (for linseed oil); apparently, it cannot be grown for both at the same time. In California, as in most other flax-producing states, production is limited to the seed-producing varieties, which are crushed locally there. Last year, California flax produced a higher yield-per-acre than any other state (22 bushels, as against 11 bushels in Wisconsin, the next highest average yield) and was said to be exceptionally rich in oil content.

One bushel of flaxseed weighing 56 pounds will produce about 2.5 gallons of linseed oil and 37 pounds of linseed meal, the latter being one of the best concentrated feeds for livestock in use today. Of the linseed oil produced in the United States, about 70 per cent goes into paint, 25 per cent into linoleums, and 5 per cent into lithographic inks, cosmetics, hair oils, poultices and various other drugstore items.

The United States normally uses 32,000,000 bushels of flaxseed annually, producing domestically about half of it, or 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 bushels, and importing the remainder, chiefly from Argentine and India.

The major flax-producing states are in the order named, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, South Dakota, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Wyoming and Missouri. The principal markets for domestic flaxseed are Minneapolis, where there are several large linseed-oil mills, and Duluth, from which the raw seed is shipped via the Great Lakes to Chicago, Toledo, Buffalo and New York for crushing.

(Editors Note: It is said that flax can be grown with great success locally, and W. J. Carroll of the Farmers Bank has considerable information on hand regarding this product. Any one interested may obtain it from him).

4-H Club Achievement Day

The 4-H girls held their Achievement Day program, Tuesday, May 28, in the Presbyterian church. The girls were awarded achievement certificates by L. V. Benjamin. First year certificates were given to Arlene Deobald, Annabel Deobald, Betty Boyd, Lois Deobald, Helen Farrington, Lola Fry, Evelyn Farrington, Beatrice LaHatt, Jewell Cummings and Nina Slead.

Second year awards went to Ethel Fraser, Mary Belle Mattoon and Clara Mattoon. Third year awards to Enid and Eleanor Hill and fourth year awards to Enid. Mrs. Fraser was given a certificate for one year's leadership and the club was given its charter.

The exhibits were judged by Miss Bumgartner of the Extension Service, Moscow, and highest honors were given to Lois Deobald for first year work and Mary Belle Mattoon for second year work.

Visitors were Mr. Benjamin, Miss Bumgartner, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Fry, Mrs. Mattoon and Mrs. Hodgins. Refreshments were served by the girls and plans were made to attend the Short Course at Moscow, June 11 to 16.

MARKET DOWN—WHEAT LOWEST SINCE LAST JULY

Grain markets continued their downward trend during the week ended May 24, with further improvement in new crop prospects the principal weakening influence, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A slow demand for current receipts and liberal offerings of foreign grain also contributed to the weakness. Wheat futures at Chicago declined to the lowest point since last July and corn receded to early April levels. Oats reached the lowest point of the season and some Argentine oats at New York reported reshipped to Europe. Barley was sharply lower with feed grains since demand was slow. Rye weakened with wheat but flax was about steady with an active crusher inquiry for the limited supplies holding prices at about last week's quotations.

Generous rains in most of the central Great Plains including the dry Southwest, were beneficial to winter wheat and the new crop was heading as far north as the central Ohio valley and eastern Kansas. Spring wheat seeding was practically completed with the crop in good condition for rapid growth since a good root system developed during the cool weather. Spring seeding in Canada proceeded rapidly during the week with trade reports indicating most of the seeding done in Manitoba, 75 to 80 per cent in Saskatchewan and 60 to 65 per cent completed in Alberta. A survey by the Manitoba Free Press indicated a spring wheat acreage of about 10 per cent under the 1934 seeding. The acreage prepared last fall for this year's crop of spring grain totaled 21,943,000 acres compared with the record of 22,847,000 acres prepared in the fall of 1929. Generous rains in April and May have provided abundant moisture and conditions on the whole are exceptionally favorable.

Domestic cash wheat markets generally followed the decline in futures despite only moderate offerings and a fairly active milling demand. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal markets totaled 856 cars, or the same as the previous week. High protein wheat continued in active request but low protein samples moved more slowly.

Marketings of spring wheat were relatively light with arrivals totaling only 242 cars at Minneapolis and 305 cars at Duluth. A large percentage of the Duluth receipts, however, was reshipped from Minneapolis for movement down the lakes. Minneapolis inspections for the week averaged 14.4 per cent protein. Of the week's arrivals, 19 cars were winter wheat and 34 cars durum.

Durum markets continued weak and declined 4c to 5c per bushel, influenced by favorable new crop prospects and the availability of sufficient Canadian durum to meet mill requirements until new wheat arrives. The Duluth July declined to 97c with ordinary protein No. 2 amber quoted at Minneapolis at the July price to 6c over and ordinary to choice milling durum selling at 6c to 17c over the Duluth July.

Intermountain and Pacific coast markets were lower, influenced by declines at Eastern points and favorable new crop prospects. Denver mills lowered bids to 86c FOB Colorado common points for No. 2 hard winter and 88c for No. 2 northern spring. Prices at Ogden declined about 1c per bushel with mills bidding 71c for No. 2 soft white, 74c for No. 2 hard white and 79c for No. 2 hard winter FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

Marketings in the Pacific Northwest remained relatively small with total receipts of 415 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals. Demand at Portland was rather slow with local mills providing the principal outlet. California takings were confined to occasional lots of high protein wheat and some feed wheat. Prices were out of line for shipment to the Atlantic coast and Central Western markets. At the close of the week, 13 per cent protein bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 96¹/₂c, ordinary protein hard white at 92¹/₂c, soft and western white at 79¹/₂c, northern spring at 80c, hard winter at 79c and western red at 78¹/₂c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle, western white, western red and hard winter were quoted at 82c, baart hard white at 95c, and 15 per cent protein dark northern spring from Montana at $1.25 per bushel.

San Francisco wheat markets were dull and lower with mills and industries purchasing only for immediate needs and awaiting the arrival of new crop grain. Harvesting was excepted

Viamineral-Fed Cattle Top the Market

HAGEN & CUSHING PAY ROY EVANS $9.25 STRAIGHT FOR STEERS AND HEIFERS

These cattle were conditioned with V. P. C. KAMELA Worm Expeller when they went into the feed lot—then, along with their daily ration they received a supplement of VIAMINERAL. Buyers from Spokane made several trips to the Evans ranch just to show their friends these cattle. Mr. Wilson, Bristol's buyer, said they were the choicest cattle ever finished in the Palouse country. Bristol also made the same statement. We claim a share in this wonderful achievement by Mr. Evans, due to the part Viamineral played in producing this superb finish.

Quality beef can be produced with our home grown feeds when they are supplemented with oil meal and Viamineral. Condition with V. P. C. Kamela Worm Expeller.

"365 Nights In Hollywood"

Hollywood's doors were open, so they could throw her out. The laughing lowdown on a couple of upstarts. The story is from the private notebook of a famous Hollywood columnist and is the story of a boy and girl and two ambitious ice-men, who turned Hollywood into a center of screams and suspense—"365 Nights In Hollywood." You'll need a zipper to pull yourself together after you've split your sides laughing at the merry antics that go on inside this fake movie school. It's a wow—and will be shown at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights.

Then there's chapter 9 of "Tailspin Tommy," in which "The Earth Gods Roar," and Tommy is rescued. Also the usual other interesting features.

Will Go On Cruise

Word has been received from Carl Hund aboard the U. S. S. Marblehead that they were leaving San Diego for San Francisco and expected to leave soon on a cruise to the Hawaiian island and return.

AMERICAN RIDGE

Sunday, May 26, saw one of the largest gatherings on the ridge ever to attend a school gathering, when many of the patrons of the district gathering at the school house to help celebrate the closing day of school (Friday) but the program was to start about the middle of June in the San Joaquin valley. Old crop wheat is practically exhausted and the limited supplies available were moving to interior points where northern wheat is at a freight disadvantage. Mills were working on supplies accumulated early in the season, supplemented by limited purchases of high protein wheat from Washington and Oregon. Trading at Los Angeles was confined principally to new crop Imperial Valley wheat, offerings of which were smaller than a week or two earlier. Demand was not urgent, however, with buyers awaiting new crop wheat from central California.

Foreign wheat markets were also weak and rather unsettled. The Winnipeg market declined about 1c per bushel and closed May 23, at 85½¢ with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted at the same price. No. 5 Manitoba northern was quoted at 65c per bushel. 15,000 bushels of Canadian milling and 14,000 bushels of Canadian feed wheat arrived at Buffalo during the week.

Oats markets displayed some independent strength although the market situation in the middlewest was somewhat unsettled. Pacific Northwestern oats markets were extremely quiet with only an occasional car moving into local trade channels and little outside inquiry for Pacific Northwestern oats. Eastern Washington heavy white oats were around 5c lower for the week at Seattle and were quoted $1.45 per 100, sacked basis. No. 2 white and No. 2 gray oats were quoted at Portland at $1.37½ per 100, sacked. The dull demand in middlewestern areas with favorable new crop prospects tended to offset the light market receipts.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet with trading extremely light and favorable prospects for the large California crop a weakening influence in this area. Inquiry for malting barley from Middlewestern markets was dull while demand for feeding types was only moderate and comprised mainly inquiry from feeders and mixers. Prices in the Northwest were largely nominal and unchanged from a week ago with No. 2 bright western, sacked, quoted at Portland at $1.35 per 100. Offerings of California feed barley were quoted at $1.12½ per 100 and both Seattle and Portland.

LITTLE BEAR RIDGE

Friday, May 24, the patrons of the Yellow Rose school on Little Bear ridge joined the teacher, Miss Ada Ferguson, and the pupils in a general good time at the school house.

There was an excellent exhibit of work done by the pupils under Miss Ferguson's guidance, including free hand drawing, painting, poster work, text booklets, embroidering, poems and book reports; evidence of a very busy and profitable school year.

Just before the noon hour the school entertained the patrons by a pageant depicting a May Day celebration in the court of King Henry VIII. Miss Eileen Benjamin, one of the eighth grade graduates, was May queen.

After the program everyone enjoyed a picnic lunch, for which occasions such as this are famous, then followed contests, races and a ball game. The winner of each in turn was given a badge bearing the school's emblem, a yellow rose.

Copeland - Ryder Shoes

It is because of the built-in qualities, beneath the distinguished appearance of Copeland & Ryder Shoes, that they have for three generations enjoyed the reputation of being Always Reliable. CO-PEGS are double-lasted by hand. They are hand-pegged. Their arches are hand-built, and the shanks are made of the finest tempered spring steel. Nothing but extra heavy solid leather insoles, full grain leather counters and toe boxes, pure silk threads, and the highest quality of materials are used in making CO-PEGS.

held Sunday in order that all might attend.

Following a program, all gathered about the picnic tables, spread with all kinds of good things to eat, and to which all did ample justice. Thirty-three cars were parked about the school and those in attendance were estimated at 150—it was indeed a gala day.

First Kid—Gee, Jimmy, when I went by your house this morning I heard somebody swearing awful!

Second Kid—Aw, that was my dad. He was late for church and couldn't find his hymn book.
