HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The possibility of a life sentence in a federal penitentiary confronted Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley Saturday evening after her conviction by a U. S. district court on charges of kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap George Weyerhaeuser. She was convicted on both the Lindbergh law indictment counts on which she was tried—kidnaping and conspiring to kidnap, and both carry maximum sentences of life imprisonment and no minimums are specified. Judge E. E. Cushman, who received the verdict after the jury had deliberated five hours and 44 minutes, gave no indication of how severe her punishment will be.

Moves for peace gained a portion of the Italo-Ethiopian "war" spotlight Sunday as Secretary Hull of the United States issued a statement in support of the Kellogg-Briand pact. His action evoked comment in London circles that "united front" with Great Britain against war in Ethiopia was possible if the United States joined Great Britain in opposition to such a war. In Rome, Italian authorities declared they had "in no way" violated the Kellogg-Briand pact.

An increasing demand by the soviet for raw cotton from the United States was predicted by some observers as a result of the new trade agreement between the two countries. This commodity, it was believed, might figure largely in fulfillment of Russia's promise to take 100 per cent more imports from America than it has in the last three years. Americans in Moscow were happy over the agreement, not merely because it means an increasing trade turnover, but because they believe it will have a general salutary effect on Russo-American relations. Since the breakdown of previous negotiations many American business representatives had been uneasy about future orders and some firms were arranging to close their Moscow offices. While the sum involved in the agreement is relatively small, it was pointed out it does not necessarily fix a limit.

Six persons died amid flames when a giant Dutch commercial airplane carrying 14 passengers and a crew of six to Sweden crashed Sunday soon after the takeoff. The heroism of the ground staff, a steward and a Norwegian passenger was credited with saving 12 lives. They risked their own safety to free the other trapped occupants. The plane was American built (Fokker). Shortly after the plane had taken off something went wrong with the engine and the pilot headed back for the airport.

Week-end traffic took at least 64 lives in 22 states. The toll in Illinois was highest with 11 killed. Seven of Texas' nine deaths were caused by three head-on crashes. New York state reported six fatalities, one in New York City. Wisconsin had four deaths, three men dying in one collision when their automobile struck a tree. There were three deaths each in Massachusetts, Georgia, Michigan and Pennsylvania. Two deaths each were reported in Arizona, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Utah, Maine, Tennessee and Minnesota. Single fatalities occurred in Arkansas, Ohio, California, Colorado, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Florida and Indiana. Twelve persons were injured when a holiday bus went off the road in New Jersey.

Big Rattlesnake

Cecil Emmett, one of our champion rattlesnake killers, showed up Sunday morning in town with the granddaddy of them all. This big fellow measured exactly four feet from end to end and carried ten rattles. He was thicker than a large man's wrist and carried a tint of green on his sides. At some time in his life his tail had been smashed, for his rattles were in a vertical rather than the conventional horizontal position, and the tail showed a constriction about two inches from the end.

Cecil, who was on horseback and found him on the hill below the tram, said he was one of the most vicious he ever encountered. He roped him three times and tried to get a loop of wire about below the head to bring him to town but was finally forced to kill him.

All in all, he was a real snake.

Appendicitis Operation

Raleigh Smith of Leland was operated on for appendicitis at the St. Joseph's hospital in Lewiston Wednesday, July 10th, Dr. D. A. Christensen performing the operation.

Barn Destroyed by Fire

Fire Saturday evening destroyed the large barn on the Fred MaGee farm at Cedar Creek. About midnight the fire was noticed by W. H. Weyen, who, with several other neighbors, helped Mr. MaGee fight the flames, but they had made too much headway. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Practically everything in the barn was destroyed, including one horse, harness, a wagon and two loads of hay which had just been hauled that day.

Mr. MaGee plans to rebuild immediately.

JULIAETTA CHERRY PACK FINISHED THIS WEEK

The packing of Juliaetta's annual big cherry crop ended this week, with the final shipment of a car of Bings and Lamberts, making the eighth car to go. Six cars were put out last week. This crop is gradually becoming one of the mainstays of the Juliaetta section, replacing to some extent their watermelons and tomatoes, for which the section won wide fame. In fact, it is known throughout the Northwest for its wonderful products and many cans are to be found on grocers' shelves bearing the Juliaetta label.

All of the cherries packed this year departed for the east, some going as far as Chicago. They were, perhaps, not quite up to standard as the recent rains caused some splitting and the marking of others, but were still of sufficient goodness to warrant wide shipment. Only Bings and Lamberts were packed, no Royal Anns being taken this year.

At the height of the pack some 90 were employed at the tables in the Farmers' Union Warehouse Co., from which the White Fruit Co. operated. Asa Cook, W. K. S. Gregory and Dan Holbrook are listed as the three largest producers of cherries in the Juliaetta section, but there are hosts of others who raise many pounds of the fruit.

The cherry crop now constitutes the largest source of seasonal employment in the Juliaetta section, releasing many hundreds of dollars in wages, besides the sums paid for picking and hauling, not to mention the cherries themselves.

Now What Do You Think of Business?

Here are some business briefs of interest:

Employment: Has gained 60 per cent in heavy industries since March, 1933; shown a lesser advance in consumer industries. The unemployed are now estimated at about 9,000,000.

Industrial Activity: Has fooled the forecasters, by holding up better this year than was anticipated. Was at 85 per cent of the 1923-25 average in May, and the first half of 1935 was five per cent better than the same period last year.

Automobiles: First half production was 35 per cent over same period in 1934, represented the highest volume since 1929.

Steel: Steel makers are hopeful, and the usual summer decline has been less severe than in the past. Structural steel business is good, due to government orders.

Mining: Copper prices recently took a sharp drop, following the elimination of NRA price-fixing. Silver values also declined lately, due largely to the Treasury's refusal to buy additional silver stocks in large quantities.

Agriculture: It is estimated that the farmers' 1935 income will be about the same as in 1934, which registered a billion-dollar jump over 1933. Crops will be larger this year than last, but prices will probably be lower.

Labor: Latest trouble has occurred in New England textile mills, where the union recently called a strike on one large operator, is threatening others. It is said to be inevitable that there will soon be a strike of cloak and suit workers in the east. Potential labor troubles have most big industries nervous.

Swimming Beaches In Use

Many took advantage of the beaches along the river Sunday even though the Clearwater is a bit higher than usual at this time of the year, and evening saw many gay swimming parties in full tilt. The swimming holes along the Potlatch were equally popular, but cannot be for long, as the excessively hot weather is causing it to drop rapidly, and it won't be long until it becomes unfit for use.

If all the automobiles in the world were placed end to end it would be a Sunday afternoon.

WHEAT REPRESENTATIVES FAVOR CONTRACT CHANGES

A proposed new basis for making wheat adjustment payments was tentatively approved by the farmer-representatives from principal wheat states who met with Agricultural Administration officials July 1 and 2 to discuss the proposed new wheat contract. By adjusting the final payment each year to the actual difference between the average farm and parity prices during the year, the new basis would protect farmers against declines in prices. The delegates considered also the possibility of making adjustment payments for each year in a single payment, thus reducing the clerical work necessary in Washington, and making it possible to get out checks to farmers without clerical delays caused by making payments in two installments. A single check for a year's payment would be issued later than the first check but earlier than the second check under the two check system. The majority of the delegates urged a tightening up of the restrictions governing the use of land taken out of cultivation under adjustment contracts. Farmers from the western states especially declared that local administration became more difficult as the bars are let down on the use of these areas. They favored limiting the use of this land strictly to summer-fallow, erosion-preventing crops, and to a few forage crops. Opinion was practically unanimous that county allotment committees should be given discretion to approve changes in landlord-tenant relationships in order to protect tenants from being deprived of their normal share of the adjustment payments through changes in lease arrangements. Another feature of the new contract which was favored by the representatives is a provision whereby a farmer signing a contract may designate a beneficiary entitled to receive the adjustment payment in the event of the death or disappearance of the signer. This provision has been proposed mainly in order to care for cases where widows and children who need adjustment payments badly and who, under the present system, may encounter delays in getting the payments. The delegates emphasized that when the original wheat contracts were signed many farmers signed up from patriotic motives, even though it resulted in sharply reduced acreages which are not economically efficient for them. The new program should allow for adjusting these cases, the representatives said. They suggested that some acreage allotments might be taken from farmers who received allotments larger than normal or that the adjustments might be made and the national acreage reduction made somewhat larger in order that the wheat acreage of the country be kept within reasonable limits. The representatives urged that the present restrictions in the contract that prohibit assignments of benefit payments be continued, although they agreed that certain exceptions might be made in the case of agents who manage farms for estates, or under similar arrangements. That previous violators of the contract should be subject to the loss of further adjustment payments and should repay the previous year's payments was approved by the producers.

Allotment Elections Scheduled

In accordance with instructions received from the Washington office, there will be community elections to elect community committees to serve from July 1, 1935, to June 30, 1936. These men will have charge of the completion of the present contract and the sign-up for the new contract. Each community should elect one community chairman and two committeemen. The chairman is automatically a member of the County Allotment Board, from which the County Allotment Committee is selected and who set the budget for the association. If possible, these community committeemen should be wheat growers who plan to sign the new contract, when it is available.

The schedule of community elections is as follows. Please try to attend your meeting.

Bear Ridge—Community Hall, Tuesday, July 23, 2:30 P. M.
Deary—Legion Hall, Tuesday, July 23, 8:00 P. M.

THERMOMETER HITS THE TOP — 106 DEGREES SUNDAY

Sunday was the hottest day here and at points in this section for a number of years. The thermometer here touched 106 degrees, the highest for several years, while at Lewiston it reached 116 degrees, said to be within one degree of the all-time official record for that town. Those visiting Lewiston that day said that as far as they were concerned, it was the all-time record and that they didn't believe it possible for the neither regions to get any warmer.

In the evening a cool breeze sprang up in Kendrick that made possible a cool night's sleep, and that is a lot to be thankful for, at any rate.

On Friday the temperature reached a high of 92, Saturday 94, Sunday 106 and Monday 96, with Monday perhaps the most noticeable of all, since the sky was overcast and the humidity high.

Southwick Wins From Local Club

After what seemed to be a certain victory for the Cameron-Kendrick ball club Sunday on the local ground, Southwick who was trailing 10 to 3 at the end of the seventh inning put on a batting spree to garner nine hits and nine runs from Blevins in the eighth and ninth innings and walk away with a 12 to 10 score over the local boys. Koopp pitched good ball for seven innings, holding Southwick to seven scattered hits and three runs when he retired with a sore arm in favor of Blevins, who seemed to have just what the Southwick boys were looking for.

Some errors and bad head work coupled with the injury of Koopp in the eighth when he was run into and went out for the count of nine helped to upset the Cameron-Kendrick boys.

Koopp allowed seven hits and three runs and struck out six in the seventh innings. Blevins allowed nine hits, nine runs and struck out two in two innings. Triplett, who went all the way for Southwick, was touched for fourteen hits and ten runs.

Due to the excessive hot weather, this will probably be the last game this year.

W. W. P. Cooking School

With valuable prizes given away and all the variety of a three-ring circus, the Washington Water Power Company's free electric cooking school will be held Thursday, July 25, at 1:30 p. m. in the Community church basement, it was announced today by H. C. Schupfer and W. R. Foster, of the local power company.

The school will be conducted by Lucile Ramirez, noted cooking expert and director of home economics for the W. W. P. Co., who will lecture and demonstrate on scientific and economic food preparation. She will be assisted by Emily Williams.

The school will bring to this area all that is new in scientific and healthful food preparation, including miracle cooking, that new kitchen science made possible by the perfection of the electric range. By this method it is possible for the housewife of today to have the most modern kitchen in the world and to serve foods cooked to delicious perfection with unrivalled economy and a very minimum of effort.

The school is offered as a part of the Washington Water Power Company's home service to its customers.

The program will start promptly at 1:30 and include: Date pinwheel cookies and filling; thrift cooker dinner—pot roast of veal, steamed potatoes and carrots and chocolate pudding; chocolate pudding, raisin orange cake, miracle chicken. Oven dinner—oven-fried chick, new peas and potatoes, refrigerator rolls and cream puffs wrapped in cellophane, steamed beets, broiled steak, refrigerator salad.

The school inaugurates the enlargement of the home service facilities of the company in this area.

Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family, (Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts and family, Miss Rilla Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Watts' nieces, Betty and Katherine Watts of Seattle, returned Saturday evening from a vacation motor trip through Glacier and Yellowstone Parks. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Eichner and daughter of Troy joined the party at Troy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knepper and family of Salmon joined them at Missoula, Montana.

They report a wonderful time, with good weather and good fishing. On their return via south Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. Deobald visited Mrs. Deobald's brother, J. J. Becker, and family at Nampa, Idaho.

HOLD ANNUAL KENDRICK PIONEER PICNIC SUNDAY

Sunday, July 14, was a gala day for one hundred former and present residents of Kendrick, who gathered at the Manitou Park in Spokane for their annual Pioneer Picnic.

Following a bountiful picnic dinner, a short program and business meeting was held. Ramsey Walker, who was the first banker in Kendrick, gave a review of times as they were many years ago. He painted such a vivid picture of the "old times" that Wade T. Keene was forced to answer him with an account of the bustling little city as it is today. Mr. Walker bared his contentions on the weekly trips he used to make on horseback to Moscow for change. Sometimes, he said, he carried as much as fifteen or twenty thousand dollars and never once thought of hijackers, but times have changed. Wade then had to answer with a few facts concerning the financial condition of Kendrick now. The audience soon found themselves listening to a rousing debate. Alvira Atchinson, daughter of Ed. Atchinson and former resident of Kendrick, whistled two selections. The program closed with an address by J. I. Mitcham, old timer.

At the short business meeting, Bob Shumaker, Pullman, was elected president for the coming year, to succeed Walter Thomas. Mrs. Byrd Davidson, Pullman, was chosen secretary, succeeding Mrs. John Hoyt, Spokane. It was decided to have the Kendrick Pioneer Picnic at Pullman next year. Several pictures were taken, among them being a picture of the "old timers." Those in the picture included: Mrs. John Roberts, the oldest pioneer present; J. I. Mitcham, Colville, Wn.; Mrs. Rod Drury, Moscow; Mr. and Mrs. George Drury, Bear Ridge; Prof. John Barackman, Moscow; Ramsey Walker, Wallace; George Young; and Mr. Bohlen, who ran the first locomotive into Kendrick in 1890.

Those who attended from Kendrick were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Long, Mrs. Lucy Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. S. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Keene and Mrs. Thorvald Nelson.

Annual Family Reunion

The annual Craig family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Craig near Crescent Sunday, July 14.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alva Craig and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Craig, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robbins, Juliaetta; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and family of Seattle, Miss Minnie Robbins, Seattle; Tom Fox of Juliaetta; Vern Whittinger, Misses Neva and David Craig and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Craig.

The day was very pleasantly spent in visiting and playing games.

Wheat Burns

Saturday evening Fred Newman had the misfortune to lose some 18 acres of fine wheat by fire. The flames originated as a grass fire from an unknown cause, and rapidly ate into the wheat, which was, to the eye, almost too green to burn, but did so with a vengeance.

About 25 neighbors and friends armed with shovels, hoes and wet sacks responded to the alarm and the flames were put under control.

Former Texas Ridge Resident Dies

Word has been received here of the death Tuesday of Lawrence W. Gibson, retired farmer at Spokane. Mr. Gibson was 76 years of age and for many years farmed on Texas Ridge, moving from there to Deary and then to Spokane five years ago.

MARKETS UNSETTLED, NEW CROP OUTTURNS IMPORTANT

Grain markets were unsettled and prices fluctuated over a wide range during the week ended July 12, with uncertainty concerning final outturns the principal disturbing influence, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Threatened rust damage caused a strong undertone in the wheat market earlier in the week, but better harvesting weather for winter wheat and increased offerings brought about an easier situation toward the close of the period. Rye was fairly steady despite good crop prospects with some improvement in demand at current values. Corn was steady reflecting the backwardness of the crop, unusually small stocks of old grain and light market receipts. Oats and barley were independently weak, and prices were lower with a slow inquiry and prospects of more abundant supplies this season. Flax advanced slightly with a better demand.

Crop developments were again the determining influence in grain markets and fluctuating prices reflected uncertainty concerning final outturns. The condition of the domestic wheat crop at the first of July indicated a total production of approximately 731,000,000 bushels of which 458,000,000 bushels is winter wheat, about 337,000,000 bushels durum and 236,000,000 bushels other spring wheat. The winter wheat harvest has extended as far as northern Ohio and Indiana, eastern portions of Iowa and Nebraska and only slight rust damage has occurred except in a few eastern Nebraska. The lateness of the spring wheat crop, however, together with abundant moisture has increased the prospect for a general spread of rust in the hard red spring wheat areas. Stem rust is becoming epidemic in eastern South Dakota and throughout Minnesota, decreasing to a trace at Fargo, N. D. Widespread infection resulted from extremely favorable rust weather following the distribution of spores by strong southwest winds on June 23 and 24. Because of the lateness of the crop Marquis wheat in many localities in the infested area will probably be seriously damaged while the Ceres variety is showing considerable resistance and will not be damaged as much as the Marquis variety.

The condition of spring wheat in Canada at the first of July was reported at 96% of average. On the basis of the intended acreage, this condition would indicate a crop approximately 100,000,000 bushels over the 1934 harvest. European wheat prospects have improved materially in recent weeks, according to the U. S. Agricultural Attache at Berlin and an outturn about 50,000,000 bushels over the 1934 harvest and nearly 100,000,000 bushels over the five-year average was in prospect at the first of July. This would be the second largest crop for Europe since the World War. The most marked improvement over earlier prospects has been in Italy, Spain and Poland. In a few countries, including Spain and France, harvests will be somewhat under last year, but Germany, Poland, Italy and the lower Danube countries outturns will exceed those of 1934. Widespread rains have benefited late fields in Russia but have been unfavorable for harvesting which is now in progress in the earlier districts. The North African and Italian wheat crops are expected to total about 106,000,000 bushels this season against 123,000,000 bushels a year ago.

Marketings of winter wheat increased materially with a total of about 4,415 cars at the principal central Western markets. These arrivals were about equal to those of the previous week, but only about half the number received during the corresponding week last year. The heaviest receipts were at Wichita, but arrivals were also large at Enid and Hutchinson. The condition of the new wheat has improved with better harvesting weather.

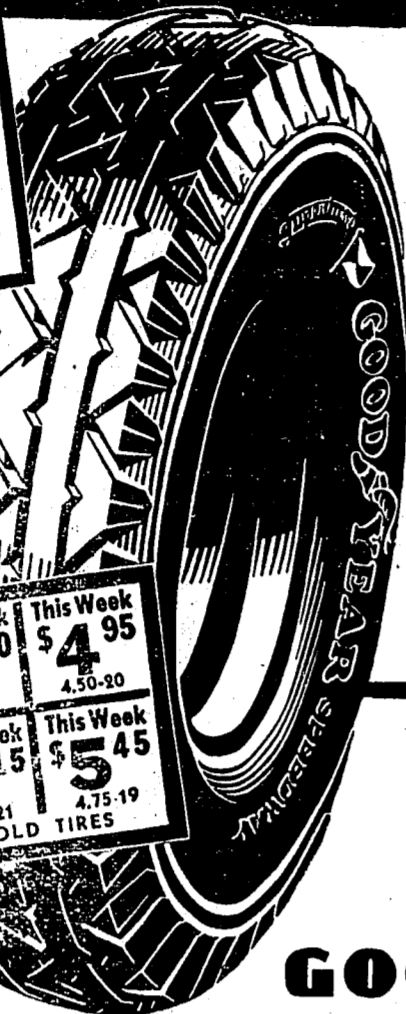

Soft Winter wheat was also moving in larger quantities with increased receipts at Chicago and Kansas City and heavier arrivals at St. Louis. Marketings of spring wheat tapered off materially during the week and while milling inquiry was rather slow prices held fairly steady, with ordinary protein No. 1 dark northern at Minneapolis bringing 2c-3c per bushel over the July price of $1.00½. The July delivery commanded a premium of about 15c over the September option. Durum remained firm for milling with ordinary to choice milling durum quoted at Minneapolis at 7c.

Shirley Temple At Theatre
Once again little Shirley Temple will appear at the local theatre with Lionel Barrymore in "The Little Colonel," a delightful story set in those gorgeous scenes you all love so well—the old South. The story deals with the loves and hates of an old Kentucky Colonel, who is finally won from his hates by (unknown to him) his grandchild, a part so well fitted to little Shirley. It's a tender, romantic picture set amid the beauties of the south, and Lionel Barrymore and Shirley Temple play it to perfection.
In addition, the fifth episode of "Rustlers of Red Dog" will be shown, besides the other regular features.

Dr. Simmons Here

Farmer's Interests at Stake in Twine Situation

To Farmers Who Use Binder Twine:

We, the undersigned dealers, feel that we would be un mindful of your welfare if we failed to bring to your attention the danger to your interests of the increasing sale of foreign-made binder twine.

We have no selfish interest to serve, for we can sell foreign twine if we wish and can make just as much profit on it as on American-made twine, but we are convinced beyond doubt that there are two vital reasons why we should not sell and you should not buy the foreign product.

During recent years these sales of foreign twine have greatly reduced employment in American twine plants, thereby affecting the sale of the products of the farm. Every increase in the sale of foreign twine reduces this employment still further. These sales are retarding the progress of recovery. Let's remove this obstacle.

The foreign producers and their employers are not buying your products, but the American manufacturers and their employes are.

We are sure you do not consider it advisable to give these foreign producers a monopoly of the American market, thereby placing them in position to charge you exorbitant prices.

We are sure you do not want to run the risk of heavy loss through a shortage of twine, which would result from an incorrect estimate of the amount of twine required, or from other causes which might appear if foreign mills controlled the American

We ask that you give us an opportunity to discuss this important matter with you before you buy your supply of twine for next harvest.

to 20c over the Duluth July price of 79½c.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were fairly steady. Denver mills were bidding 84c for No. 2 hard winter or No. 2 northern spring FOB shipping points. Mills at Ogden were offering 65c for soft white, 68c for No. 2 hard white and No. 2 northern spring and 71c for No. 2 hard winter FOB Utah-Idaho common points. First truck loads of new hard wheat received at Ogden were of good weight, low moisture and low protein.

The Portland market held practically unchanged except for Bluestem hard white which advanced about 4c per bushel. Harvesting began in the winter wheat districts under favorable weather conditions and good yields are reported. Marketings of old wheat, however, were light but generally sufficient for trade needs. At the close of the week 13% protein Bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 94c, ordinary Bluestem hard white 90c, soft and western white at 75c, northern spring at 74c, hard winter at 73c and western red at 72½c, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle western white was quoted at 76c, western red and hard winter at 75c and Baart hard white at 95c per bushel, sacked, No. 1 basis. 16% protein dark northern spring from Montana was quoted at Seattle at $1.19 per bushel.

Oats markets reflected the improved prospects for the new crop and light demand for current offerings with prices tending downward both in Pacific Coast and Middle-western markets.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were steady reflecting the light offerings from California which offset the seasonally light trade. At the close of the market July 11, No. 2 bright Western barley advanced 2½c per 100, and was quoted at Portland at $1.50 per 100, with California feed barley unchanged at $1.10 per 100.

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

Howdy, Folks—How did you like the nice cool day Old Sol presented us with Sunday? Wasn't it a corker? 106 degrees in Kendrick—116 degrees in Lewiston. It was certainly some day. And speaking of warm days—how about some ice cream? Our has that delicious "home made" taste. You're sure to like it.

Going further—we need cream to make ice cream—how about bringing us a can—and getting your check right now? No wait, no fuss—no bother. One trail will convince you. And you don't have to wash the can—we steam sterilize it for you!

"That lady has a magnetic personality."

Marvin Long: "Yes, everything she carries out of here is charged."

Librarian: "Are you fond of fiction?"

Customer: "I used to be, but my husband has fed me up on it."

The old-fashioned girl who hid skeletons in her closet now has a daughter who makes no bones about it.

Every day in every way, the U. S. is getting debtor and debtor.

SOUTHWICK NEWS ITEMS

At a meeting at the Methodist church in Southwick Tuesday evening, E. F. Stamper, Townsend club organizer of Lewiston, formed a local unit of the Townsend club. Milton Davis of Lewiston was the speaker of the evening and explained the workings of the plan to about fifty people, who turned out for the meeting. The club got off to a rousing start with about fifty-seven members who had been signed up during the preceding week. Mrs. H. D. Hayward was elected president, Mrs. Frank Souders, vice-president and William Kauder, secretary-treasurer. Besides these members, there will be appointed a committee of six to act as advisory council. It is the intention of the Townsends to form a club in every voting precinct in the country. Each club will hold its own social activities and will hold meetings occasionally with speakers who will be provided by the county or state organizations.

Farmers May Apply For Loans

Part-time farmers and owners of small suburban farms will now be able to apply for Land Bank Commissioner loans. This was the statement made by E. M. Ehrhardt, president of the Federal Land bank after the passing of a recent act of congress which gave authority to value such farming tracts at an amount representing a "prudent investment."

The Federal Land bank acts as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner in making this long term loan based on 75 per cent of the appraised normal value of the farm property and not exceeding $7,500 to any one individual.

"The new provision should provide more adequate financing for part-time farmers in communities where dependable manufacturing or industrial employment is ordinarily available, and also for owners of small suburban farms and farmers who derive additional income from other sources such as a gravel pit, filling station, roadside marketing stand or other commercial enterprise, provided such additional earnings meet the test of dependability and availability," explained Mr. Ehrhardt.

"Previously all loans by the Land Bank Commissioner, like loans by the Federal Land bank were based almost entirely on the normal agricultural value of the farm. Earning power of the land is the principal factor in determining value. Farms of small acreage, however, often have stable sales and rental values in excess of their agricultural values because of location and residence improvements. Under the new act the Land Bank Commissioner is authorized to offer more adequate financing assistance in such cases.

"Where the farm income, together with earnings from other dependable sources ordinarily available, is sufficient to support the borrower's family, pay operating expenses, keep up the farm and meet the loan payments, the property may be valued at an amount representing a prudent investment, consistent with community standards.

"The broadening of the purposes for the Commissioner's loans should help to provide more adequate credit for part-time farmers, especially in areas where part-time employment is ordinarily available in established industries such as in factories or plants, pulp and excelsior mills, or fishing and seafood industries."

LITTLE BEAR RIDGE

Several friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Ernest Bovecamp last Sunday for a picnic dinner and general social time.

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Westendahl when several relatives gathered at the Westendahl home Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westendahl and the Misses Clara and Mildred Westendahl of Lewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ross and family from near Genesee, Mr. and Mrs. Sten and Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Olson and children from Blaine.

Earl Thomas is getting along very nicely, we are glad to report. A minor operation was necessary for a mastoid infection.

Several from the community have gone in search of the elusive huckleberry. No report as yet is available.

Why The Tin Cans?

The mention of the junk and garbage pile last week was not intended to cast any reflection on Kendrick. Some of us living in the country, who have grown up with Kendrick, are as proud of its development and civic beauty as the ones living within the immediate limits.

We understand the highway board advised the location of the junk yard, thinking it might in time turn the current of the creek. Two years ago a great deal of energy and money were expended on a deflection dam constructed of huge rocks and heavy timbers. This Bear creek, in one of its tempestuous moods lost no time in taking out. Does it make sense that a miscellaneous collection of junk and filth could change its course?

We wonder if the highway crew ever thought of filling some of the tin cans with pebbles and anchoring the same to the cottonwood trees. This would add ballast, furnish nice light employment for the relief crew, give our children something new to ask questions about and might do some good.

We have only a rocky trail to travel. Must it be ornamented with junk?

It is like adding insult to injury and our sense of humor is becoming quite threadbare.

Needed—one short phrase to complete the following limerick:
There's a way down Bear creek we all know well,

We must hit when our cream is to sell;

But for rocks, crooks and shale, Slides blocking the trail,
It has Switzerland beat

There were just as many careless drivers thirty years ago, but the horses had more sense.
