HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., reported making a gift of more than $25,000,000 in oil securities less than a fortnight after President Roosevelt's big "wealth tax" message. The securities commission was told unnamed "individuals and charitable organizations" received 2,100,000 shares of Socony Vacuum corporation common stock. This gift, made June 28, reduced Rockefeller's holdings in three major oil companies—Socony, Standard of New Jersey and Standard of California—to $180,000,000. In this gift, bringing Rockefeller disposals of oil holdings since the first of the year to $75,000,000, Wall Street read a possible passing of a great name from active management in the petroleum industry.

A return to open silver trading in the United States was voted by the Senate Friday. Without debate an amendment was added to the tax bill which Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) said would "bring the silver market to America." Offered by McCarran (D. Nev.) the amendment would repeal those sections of the silver purchase law which authorized nationalization of silver, tax trading profits at 50 per cent and require licenses for imports and exports. Earlier Thomas, after conferring with Secretary Morgenthau, said the government's silver purchase program was a "farce," because the treasury was seeking to buy the white metal as cheaply as possible instead of driving the price upward.

Mrs. Wiley Post, widow of the famous flier killed Thursday with Will Rogers in Alaska, will receive $250 monthly under a contract signed by Post at the time the Wiley Post Aircraft corporation was organized at Oklahoma City, with the globe girder as its head. The contract made more than a year ago stipulated Mrs. Post would receive $250 a month in event of Post's death. The contract is effective until November, 1936. While Post's friends said he earned considerable money from his flying honors, they believed he had spent most of it for the advancement of aviation and in purchasing equipment for the Winnie Mae of Oklahoma, now in a Bartlesville hangar. A bill passed by both houses of congress provided for purchase of the famous plane for $25,000. It would be placed in the Smithsonian institute.

Behind the tom-tom thumping that already has signaled the opening of the 1936 political campaign, western republicans have set themselves at the job of working out a farm program they hope will get more votes than the AAA. This was disclosed by a leading republican to round out a week of fast political developments. Senator Long (D., La.) promised to run on a third party ticket if President Roosevelt were renominated and he did not like the republican nominee. Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, and Senator Borah of Idaho, were mentioned strongly as republican nominees. New invitations came from republicans for a test of new deal strength in Illinois and Ohio by special elections.

The state of California has challenged the constitutionality of the federal agricultural adjustment act when Attorney General U. S. Webb filed a suit in the United States district court for the recovery of $20,845 paid by the state government in processing taxes. In suing for recovery of the taxes paid by the state on supplies for state institutions, Webb declared the act was unconstitutional because it interfered with the state's control of farm products, because it constituted an illegal delegation of congressional power to the secretary of agriculture, and because the taxing power was being used under the act not to raise revenue, but as a means of controlling agriculture. It was the 13th AAA test case filed in this district. The other suits were brought by private individuals and corporations.

The blister rust control service of the United States department of agriculture has 5400 men at work in the Inland Empire to blot out the disease that threatens to ruin extensive white pine stands. Stephen N. Wycoff, supervisor of blister rust control in the western states, said the call for men on relief to engage in the warfare against the tree blight is meeting with better response than last week. Mr. Wycoff pointed out that the $44 a month wage looks smaller than it really is, considering that the charge for board is $8.80 a month, whereas the food consumed by the men costs the government

A Correction

In writing up the farewell party given in the basement of the Community church last week for Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dammarell, before their departure for Walla Walla, we failed to mention the fact that they were presented a gift as a memento and that refreshments were served.

It has been learned that the Dammarells are nicely settled in a very pleasant home at 315 East Alder, Walla Walla, where they will be glad to welcome their Kendrick friends.

CARL DAVIS KILLED IN ACCIDENT AT PENDLETON

This community was greatly shocked Tuesday morning when the morning papers gave news that Carl Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davis, former residents of this section, had been killed in an automobile accident near Pendleton.

The family left here some two or three years ago, going to Burns, Oregon, where the parents still reside, while Carl was in business in Lewiston.

Of the accident, Tuesday morning's Lewiston Tribune has the following to say:

A vacation trip of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis and their niece, Keoloh ("Cookie") Kiehl, 4, ended in a tragedy near Pendleton, Ore., about 9:45 a. m. yesterday when Davis, 24, and his niece were killed.

Mrs. Davis, 18, driving the car, suffered only minor injuries in the crash and walked three miles before a passing motorist picked her up and took her to a ranch from which she telephoned for aid. She then notified Mrs. Twila (Langdon) Kiehl in Lewiston of the death of Mrs. Kiehl's daughter and brother-in-law.

Davis, part owner and manager of the Mecca, a restaurant and fountain service one door east of the Roxy theatre, accompanied by his wife, the former Billie Langdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Langdon, Clarkston, and their niece, left Lewiston at 11 o'clock Sunday night for Burns, Ore., to visit Mr. Davis' father, Leonard Davis. The cause of the accident, it was reported at Pendleton, was a suddenly deflated tire. The car catapulted over a 50-foot embankment to a rock ledge near Ukiah junction in the Blue mountains. Further details of the tragedy were not available at this time.

Davis and his parents, before he became connected with the Mecca, in which he is associated with his father-in-law, Willis Langdon, was interested in the ownership of the Normal Hill grocery, since disposed of.

Davis was married here to Miss Langdon last June 1. Mr. and Mrs. Al Langdon, Lewiston, are uncle and aunt of Mrs. Davis.

A double funeral service for Mr. Davis and his niece, Keoloh Kiehl, was held in the Brower-Wann chapel at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. F. William Westwood as officiant. The bodies were laid to rest in the Normal Hill cemetery.

Carl Davis was a graduate of the Kendrick high school, and known by everyone in this section, and it is with true regret that news of his untimely passing was received in this community. The heartfelt sympathy of all go to his sorrowing parents and wife.

Convicts To Build Road

Federal prisoners from Fort Leavenworth and other government correctional institutions are to be placed at work on the 52-mile Lolo pass route in the Selway region above Kooakia, according to word received from Washington, D. C., Friday, said the Lewiston Tribune.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, with the approval of Attorney General Cummings and at the urgent recommendations of Representative Compton I. White, plans to undertake something new in the way of forest road construction in this enterprise, according to the Washington word. Plans of federal officials, as announced, call for sending the federal convicts to Idaho to build the stretch through federal reserves, eventually shortening the route between Lewiston and Butte by more than 100 miles.

Under proposed plans the convicts will work from a camp to be established on the middle fork of the Clearwater river above Kooakia, about 90 miles from Lewiston. They are expected to work up the river through Lowell and on over Lolo pass into Montana. The highway route passes through the box canyon of the Lochsa.

COMMISSIONERS PLAN NOXIOUS WEED PROGRAM

The following letter has been sent to all farm owners and operators by County Agent L. V. Benjamin:

Weeds are a community as well as a private menace, but if everyone will do his part, they can be taken care of. We are trying to encourage every land owner and operator in Latah county to at least prevent the noxious weeds on his land from seeding.

In accordance with Chapter 17, Title 22 of the 1932 Idaho Code, the Board of Commissioners of Latah county have declared Latah county a weed district, and specified certain weeds which must be taken care of. These include all our worst weeds. If the property owners do not care for these weeds the commissioners are authorized to have the work done and the expense charged back as taxes against the land. It's cheaper than to have them do it.

For those who wish to use chlorates they are for sale at all of the following places:

Farmers Union Warehouse, Genesee. F. M. Green Warehouse, Troy. Vollmer-Clearwater Whse., Kendrick. John Waide, Deary.

The price is: Sodium Chlorate, 100 lb. drum, $9.50; Atlacide, 50-lb. drum, $5.65; 100-lb. drum, $10.25; 200-lb. drum, $19.75. This is a cash price and is the same at each of these places. Less than full drums will be slightly higher. This is the lowest price for which Sodium chlorate has ever been sold in the county. Last year 46,000 pounds were used. This year we should use 75,000 pounds.

The county sprayer is in operation again. The charge is $1.25 per hour, which includes an operator—you furnish your own chlorate. If you wish spraying done with this machine, please notify this office at once in order that a schedule may be set up. If you have some clean-up work and wish to use carbon-bisulphide, see your County agent and he will be glad to obtain it for you.

Remember—if everyone will do his part, Latah county will have no weed problems.

Driver's Exam Dates Changed

The Gazette is in receipt of a letter from Special State Officer Glenn Taber to the effect that the drivers' license examinations scheduled to be held in Kendrick on Saturday, August 24, have been changed to Monday, August 26.

We are not informed of the place in which the tests are to be held as yet, but presume they will be in the Kendrick city hall.

We are also advised that tests will be held one or two days in September, the dates of which have not yet been set.

Survey Crew Still Busy

The surveying crew that has been working out of Kendrick for the past two years is still busy setting pins. They are now busily engaged with two projects—that of the Cedar creek road—and the Southwick-Kendrick farm-to-market road that is being worked out at the Lewiston office. While no definite information is available regarding the construction of these roads, it is intimated that it will not be long before actual work will be begun—and here's hoping it is no "pipe dream."

Large Shovel Arrives

A 14-ton gas shovel, belonging to the state highway department, arrived in Kendrick Wednesday night and will be used in re-shaping portions of the Bear Ridge highway, making it ready for winter weather.

It is to be hoped that before the big shovel is removed from this section it will be used to help build either the Cedar creek or Kendrick-Southwick roads—or both.

Attend Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bacharach attended a family reunion of the Bacharach family at Lewiston, held at the Bacharach apartment in the Adams block, where they gathered to do honor to their dad, Samuel Bacharach, whose birthday anniversary occurred a few days ago. The gathering was marked by a sumptuous family dinner.

Is Assisting at Farmers Bank

J. R. Keller of Culedas has arrived in Kendrick and is assisting in the Farmers Bank during the rush season. Mr. Carroll expects to spend considerable time looking after outside business, while Mr. Keller and Miss Allene Rider will take care of the business in the bank.

EXTRACT FROM OFFICIAL COUNTY WEED ORDER

The following weeds are declared and specified as noxious weeds by the county commissioners:

Group I—Russian Thistle, Fan Weed, Jim Hill Mustard, California Puncture Vine.

Group II—Canada Thistle, Morning Glory, Quack Grass, Russian Knapweed, Blue Flowering Lettuce, White Top (Hoary Cress).

The following control methods are recommended:

Group I—The first requisite is the sowing of clean seed. Stubble fields where these weeds have matured should be burned and disked to encourage germination. The land should then be clean summer-fallowed or put into a cultivated crop. Harrowing of grain fields when the crop is small will kill many mustard and fan weed seedlings. New infestations should be pulled to prevent seeding and spreading. Puncture vines should be burned whenever found.

Group II—Large Areas: Clean cultivation is the most satisfactory and economical means of eradication. Cultivation should start as early as the weeds begin growth in the spring. A thorough deep plowing for the first cultivation is desirable. This should be followed by sufficiently frequent cultivations to keep all top growth down. Periods of cultivation depend upon the season, kind of weed and type of soil, but no green growth should be allowed above the surface. Occasionally deep plowing may be used to supplant some of the cultivations. Any blade, rod weeder or cultivator with "duck feet," which will cut off the growing plants, may be used. Small Areas: Either clean cultivation, carbon bisulphide or chlorates may be used. If carbon bisulphide is to be used, consult the County agent for recommendations.

Chlorate compounds have proven very effective. These may be applied either in solution or as dry powder. In either case, from two to four pounds per square rod of weed area should be used, preferably applied in the fall. Weed areas should be mowed to prevent seeding during the summer. This mowed top growth should be removed before applying the chlorates. Do not burn this material on the patch. For further directions consult either the department of Agronomy, University of Idaho, or your County agent.

Recommended Application—Three to four pounds of sodium chlorate per square rod, applied dry late in the fall. Be sure and cover at least ten feet outside last plants. This prevents leaving a "ring."

Entertains At Bridge

Mrs. F. H. Rider entertained three tables of bridge Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Arthur Shaw of Orofino, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Bacharach, here.

Those playing were Mrs. J. B. Helpman, Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. Wade Keene, Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. Roy Ramey, Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mrs. W. A. Watts, Miss Rilla Davidson, Mrs. Roy Bacharach, Mrs. R. L. Blewett, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Arthur Shaw. Mrs. Bacharach was awarded high score for the afternoon and Mrs. Shaw was presented with a guest prize. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of play.

Wheat Still Rolling In

Both local warehouses are busy from early morning until late at night taking care of the grain that is being brought to Kendrick. Estimates of yields range all the way from 20 to 45 bushels per acre.

The oats crop is reported in some sections as only fair, with the grain running light in weight, while other sections estimate all the way from 45 to 60 bushels per acre.

However, it is safe to say that this section is faring as well as any other and that the yield is a good average and the quality high.

32 cars of wheat have been shipped from Kendrick so far this month.

Picnic Dinner In Park

A picnic dinner was given in the city park Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. MacPherson of Salmon, Idaho, who were visiting here. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. Ig. Flaig and children of Lewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Long and family, Mrs. N. E. Ware, Mrs. Stewart Compton and children of Lewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and family and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. MacPherson and sons.

About Idaho Beans

Blight is serious in beans and while extent of the damage could not be estimated accurately on August 1, indications point to a crop of about 1,512,000 bags. The blight is causing most damage to certain of the seed varieties and to a lesser extent to the Great Northern and certain other edible varieties. Red beans are mostly reported in good condition, said a crop report sent out from Boise under date of August 12.

THE FARM BOY AT THE CROSS ROADS

How important is the farm boy? He has been in national history and development since colonial days. Rural youth have been in the forefront of every accomplishment that has taken place.

For two centuries the farm boy has had two highways from which to choose. The lure of the west took millions. First the Ohio and Mississippi valleys were the western goal; then the prairies of Oklahoma, Texas, and the Golden West. Any of the boys could stop their high school course, start west, and become a part of the growth and expansion of a mighty territory.

The other highway was to the city. It's lure also took many!

Half a century ago the farm boy could do three things: he could go west; go to the city; or stay at home and farm. Today, farm boys facing the cross roads of life find not three paths, but hundreds. Most of the paths are filled with skilled, technical young men, unemployed. What is the ambitious farm boy going to do? He can't go west. The great city is overgrown, he can't be taken in there.

Farm work is hard and monotonous, but did you ever seek a job where none could be found? Nothing is as monotonous as standing in line waiting for work that never shows up. There is a road open to every boy on the farm. It is a safe and sure pathway that can lead to happiness and a satisfying, useful life. There may be no new lands, the cities are crowded, but the essentials of civilization and life—food, clothing and shelter—will not change, and they come from the soil.

Four years in vocational agriculture under the right guidance will place many young men on the right pathway. Understanding the problems of agriculture, twelve months' experience each year for four years will give valuable training and background. Those who do this will find themselves better equipped for farming than their parents were.

Another important side to vocational education is the Future Farmer organization. This depression should have taught us that organization is essential for the protection of any group. The brains and brawn of one can do nothing without the brains, intelligence, ambition and leadership of others. Future Farmers learn how to take part in meetings, how to conduct them, parliamentary law, and the power of organization and brotherhood.

Every farm boy asks just one thing—and that is a chance to achieve success. Don't pass up the valuable aid that vocational agriculture can give you.

Death Of Rogers and Post

The untimely death of Will Rogers, beloved movie actor and ex-cowpuncher, and Wiley Post, perhaps one of the best-known fliers in the world, aside from Col. Lindbergh, cast a pall of gloom over the entire nation, and there was perhaps no other man, not excepting our own president, who would be more universally mourned than Will Rogers, whom practically every movie-fan has seen in some one of his many pictures, and loved.

Both men died as they had said they wanted to die—when their time came. As practically everyone knows, the accident that caused their deaths, happened within 15 miles of their Alaskan goal, Point Barrow, the northernmost point of Alaska, when their plane nose-dived into a shallow river lagoon after having taken off following their asking of directions to Barrow from Eskimos who were camped there.

The bodies of the two noted and beloved men were taken to Point Barrow where they were prepared for shipment by plane to Fairbanks, Alaska; Vancouver, B. C., via Seattle, to Los Angeles, where the funeral of Rogers was held on Thursday of this week. The body of Post will be interred at his home, Oklahoma City, Okla.

UNCERTAINTY OF FINAL CROP INFLUENCES MARKET

Uncertainty as to final crop returns was the dominant influence in domestic grain markets during the week ended August 16, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Spring wheat prices held fairly steady with threshing returns confirming heavy rust and heat damage while winter wheat was lower at most points, influenced by fairly heavy offerings and mounting market stocks. Barley markets were quiet. Malting types were in good demand but feeding barley moved slowly with prices slightly lower.

Crop developments were again an important influence in the wheat situation. Threshing returns from the spring wheat area substantiated earlier estimates of heavy damage from rust and heat with indications that final returns might be below the August 1 official estimate. Serious damage to the Canadian spring wheat crop was confirmed by the official report which placed the condition of the crop August 1, at 81 per cent of the long-time average. This condition suggests average yields of 13.6 bushels per acre and on the basis of the estimated acreage would give a harvest about 50,000,000 bushels over the 1934 harvest. Further deterioration since the first of August is indicated by the report from the Manitoba Free Press which shows severe and widespread damage with approximately 7,000,000 acres in Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan affected by rust. Excellent conditions, however, still prevail in other sections of that country. Alberta crops, however, are late and frost damage is feared, since two or more degrees of frost have already occurred at several points in that province.

Rapid deterioration of the wheat crops during July and early August brings total prospective supplies and trade requirements more prominently into the situation. Preliminary estimates of wheat stocks suggest a reduction of some 300,000 bushels in world stocks as of August 1, compared with a year ago. United States and Canadian stocks, including bonded grain are 124,226,000 bushels below those of last season. Argentine supplies available for export and for carryover are around 32,000,000 bushels less than last season while Australian holdings are about 30,521,000 less than a year ago.

Domestic cash wheat markets were somewhat unsettled. Spring wheat was fairly steady, reflecting new reduced crop prospects, while winter wheat was slightly lower with the mounting stocks in the markets and fairly large current receipts a weakening factor.

Durum wheat was weaker than bread grains, reflecting the large new crop offerings. Premiums were firm on heavy weight milling types which sold as high as 39c over the Duluth September price of 88½c. Ordinary quality No. 2 amber sold at 4c under to 2c over the Duluth September. The Winnipeg market gained about 1c during the week, influenced by less favorable prospects for the new crop. No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted August 16 at Winnipeg at 85½c and No. 1 Canadian western durum at 80½c per bushel. About 185,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were received at Buffalo during the week.

Marketings of winter wheat fell off and receipts at the principal central and western markets dropped to 5,409 cars compared with 7,074 a week ago. Shipments were somewhat smaller, however, and market stocks increased materially. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Fort Worth, delivered Texas common points, at $1.18 per bushel. No. 3 hard winter was quoted at St. Louis at 95c per bushel and No. 2 hard winter at Chicago at $1.00.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were slightly weaker with larger offerings and only moderate demand. At the close of the week Denver mills were bidding 91c for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring. Mills at Ogden were bidding 71c for No. 2 soft white and 75c for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 hard white FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

At Portland hard winters were in best demand with considerable quantities moving from shipping points to central western markets. Harvesting made good progress with trade reports indicating a better outturn than was expected earlier in the season. Growers were selling less freely as prices declined, but receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river ter-

Transients Being Moved
Recently the Lewiston Tribune stated that many transients had been transferred from relief to blister rust camps. "Transportation" is nothing new to these nomads of the road. Any freight train will show from 25 to 50 aboard, moving from one place to another—and that is all they want—just to move from one place to another.

Reports come from Spokane, Wallace, Coeur d'Alene—the east and west, that transients being cared for at the free government billets had refused to work for the wage being offered, indicating that they are not interested in anything but getting something to eat and wear and travel from one place to another. The old-time hobo, and others of the stripe, are having the time of their lives and living better than ever before—and the dear taxpayer is footing the bill.

Forests Closed
The privately owned forested area of Clearwater county within the jurisdiction of the Clearwater Timber Protective association, which includes hundreds of thousands of acres, has been closed to campers, tourists, fishermen and all others, it was announced by Thomas E. Kinney, assistant general manager of Potlatch Forests, Inc.

"All roads from Headquarters are closed until further notice and to enforce the regulation the protective association has posted the roads and will have men on patrol duty after August 14," Mr. Kinney said.
This is taken as a precautionary measure against possibility of fire, Mr. Kinney stated, and so soon as the ban is lifted the public will be informed.

Idaho Will Receive $350,000
A. W. Jacomini, assistant administrator of the Idaho emergency relief administration, announces that the IERA will receive $350,000 from the federal government for relief purposes in Idaho during the entire month of August.

Under provisions of Idaho law, the state is required to contribute $100,000 per month from receipts from the sales tax.

In addition to these amounts, $50,000 will be received for federal transients and $7,700 will be available for emergency education from the federal government.

Mrs. Verne Knapp of Colville, Wn., is here visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens. Mrs. Knapp is a cousin of Mrs. Havens and Mr. Keene.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rickli and son Jack of Roseburg, Oregon, arrived Sunday noon for a few days' visit at the home of Mr. Rickli's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cairns and his mother, Mrs. Rickli.

Rev. T. E. Poindexter and family motored to Moscow Sunday, where he conducted services in the M. E. church, spending the day with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Poindexter.

O. E. MacPherson and son Donald of Salmon arrived Thursday for a couple of days' visit with relatives. Mrs. MacPherson and son Jerry, who have been visiting here for a couple of weeks, returned with them Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorendorf and children and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorendorf and son returned to their home in Kellogg Sunday, taking Marvin Dorendorf with them. He had been spending the summer with his aunt, Mrs. Rose Farrington.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Janes returned Tuesday from a few days' visit with Mr. Janes' daughters and their husbands in Spokane: Mr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Kayser. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor, after making a trip to coast points, will come to Kendrick soon for a visit at the Janes home.

Mrs. R. H. Ramey and daughters, Rowena and Jeanne, returned home Friday morning of last week after spending seven weeks in the Southland. Their itinerary covered Chicago, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Palm Beach and Miami. They traveled over seven thousand miles in air-cooled and air-conditioned trains and report a most delightful trip.

$18 a month average, even when purchased in huge quantities. This $18 figure does not include cost of transporting the food to the camps, or its preparation. The finest quality of food is served at the camps and plenty of it, Mr. Wycoff said.

The house wiped out another section of the famed "economy act of 1933." It passed and sent to the White House a senate bill restoring free hospitalization and domiciliary care to all war veterans suffering with disabilities, tuberculosis or neuropsychiatric ailments. Their disabilities may have developed after they left the service, but must be directly attributable to service. The economy act limited hospitalization to disabilities developed during a man's service in the army, navy, marines or coast-guard.

"Life Begins At 40"

When Will Rogers made "Life Begins at 40," said to be one of his best pictures and the funniest since "David Harum," he was one of the leading stars of Hollywood. Since that time he has passed to his reward—and there is little question but that his will be ample. But Rogers not long ago said that if anything should happen to him, he would want his shows to go on just the same, so the Kendrick Theatre is presenting, this Friday and Saturday nights, and Saturday matinee, what is said to be Rogers' greatest picture, "Life Begins at 40." He sees the humor in a heart throb—and the heart throb in a laugh. He's a tender-hearted, two-fisted fighting editor who can shoot a shaft of wit as straight as a bullet—and get the same knock-out results. Laughter was his only weapon—and he never missed his mark. He studied

FORMER RUSS OFFICER SAYS
U. S. NO PLACE FOR REDS America should have no place for radicalism. That simple sentence sum-up the attitude of William Haluk, Alameda, Cal., one time captain in the Russian tsar's army, later an officer under Kerensky and later still a captain in the red army of the U. S. S. R.
Overcoming a prejudice against the United States he came to this country in 1921, was granted citizenship in 1926. Haluk hasn't the remotest yen to return to the old country, according to his own statements.
"A few years will see the radicalism that is pestering the world today die out," Haluk said. "The United States steeped in its heritage of individual freedom of enterprise will undoubtedly shine forth as a world leader."
"The average man in the United States is infinitely better off than the peasant in Russia. I speak from personal knowledge. Here one has the chance to make a million or to starve. He is his own master. In Russia one's eating, sleeping and every act is strictly regulated by government decree. Only by currying favor with higher officials may he hope to eat better. There are no other inducements for work."
"Dictators rule by force. They acquire their power by intrigue and deception. People are bound to such systems through generations of servitude. Even Russian children will denounce their parents for state preferments."
"Bolshevist leaders gained their following by deluding the people, 80 per cent of whom were illiterate. The people were converted to confiscation of private property in the same manner. Small holders as well as big suffered and today they have nothing but a subsistence. Now they want to capture the United States and other countries with their doctrine in order to have more to divide.
But the experiences of Haluk in the United States are intriguing. He sought first a job. Found it, and, according to his own statement began learning English and American history.
"I knew not a word of English when I arrived in this country, he said. "But today I can trace every major movement in the development of the United States from Jefferson and Washington to the present administration. I am thoroughly converted to democracy and would give my services immediately to further her interests."
During the World war Haluk served on the eastern front with the Russian army. He was stationed in the Carpathian mountain area. Captured, he worked in a German prison camp on a hydroelectric project. He painted a woeful picture of conditions in Russia and after the red revolution.
"My sister is a teacher," he explained. She gets 150 rubles a month.
But how much meat can she eat at $7 a pound? The fifth five-year plan is probably no better than the others.
People have no rewards for working.
They are without the Americans urge to provide things for themselves and families."
"Bolshevist leaders told us that big corporations had enslaved Americans, but I find them infinitely better off than Russians. Young men are not only healthy in this country but conduct themselves with the bearings of privileged persons of the old world."
Haluk has addressed some 500 business and civic clubs throughout the United States on the topic of American vs. radical governments, he said.

UNCERTAINTY OF FINAL CROP INFLUENCES MARKET
minals totaled 1,267 cars. Some hard winter wheat was reported loaded for water shipment to Gulf ports. At the close of the week No. 1 hard white, 13 per cent protein was quoted at Portland at 95½c, ordinary protein hard white at 91c, dark hard winter at 76½c, soft white and northern spring at 75½c, western white and western red at 75c per bushel, basis
No. 1, sacked. At Seattle western red and western white were quoted at 75½c, hard winter at 77½c and hard white at 98c per bushel, basis
No. 1, sacked.
California markets were weaker, reflecting a light milling inquiry because of dull flour trade and some slackening in demand from feeders.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets displayed a slightly weaker tone reflecting the continued dull demand.
Mixed feed manufacturers provided the principal outlet for current offerings with only occasional cars of feed barley moving direct to consuming areas. Inquiry from middle-western areas for Pacific Northwestern barley has been light. No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland and Seattle at $1.05 per 100, sacked basis.
Oats markets were irregularly lower with increased offerings from the new crop and prices tending downward to a new crop basis. Pacific Northwestern markets were quiet with a dull demand from local interests and inquiry from the Atlantic seaboard light. No. 2 white and gray oats were quoted at Portland at $1.05 per 100, sacked basis, with heavy white oats from eastern Washington quoted at Seattle at $1.15 per 100.

Lewiston To Hold Rodeo
The city of Lewiston has raised the necessary funds and will hold a real Western rodeo at Recreation park in September 26, 27 and 28. It has been officially decreed that all of Lewiston's male residents—and business men especially (who can) shall sprout a hirsute adornment of some sort.
Failing to do so, they are liable to be haled before a kangaroo court that has promised to fine them "a-plenty."

Huey's Hat In Ring
Huey Long is about the first one (after Roosevelt) to make an avowed announcement for the presidency.
Huey says he is going to run as a democrat. Shucks, that don't mean anything. Sinclair ran as a democrat in California, too, but that didn't make him one.

On Vacation
Marvin Long left Sunday for a week's vacation at Spokane and coast points.

A Scourge of Yellow Jackets

Reports have been coming from various parts of the country about an over-supply of yellow jackets. Picnickers and campers have reported a large number of the insects in all sections and seemingly they have been more numerous this year than ever before.

A recipe for their destruction was published in a paper the other day supplied by a Spokane county agent, that will rid the country of the insects if carried out. Take a piece of liver and saturate it with strychnine and hang it near the nest, or where they are numerous. Hang high enough to keep out of the reach of animals or children, and the pests will soon disappear. They are passionately fond of liver.

From Huey Long To You

Senator Long (Huey) told the senate the other day that he wanted to put in the record "something for posterity to read."

He then quoted Senator Borah (R., Idaho), as saying "to one of my friends today," the following: "The constitution of the United States is a powerful enough document to survive the attacks of President Roosevelt and the defense of ex-President Hoover."

Carrolls Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll and Janie returned home Sunday night from a two-weeks vacation trip that took them to various points in the Big Bend country, they visiting at Ritzville, Soap Lake, Coulee and other places; also spending a few days with friends in Spokane. They report a splendid time, but say they are glad to be home again.

Have Leased Dammarell Home

Supt. James M. Lyle and family are expected to arrive this week in preparation for the opening of school here on September 2. They have taken a lease on the E. H. Dammarell residence for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nye of Juliaetta are the parents of a baby daughter, who arrived at their home Tuesday, August 20. Mother and babe are reported as doing nicely.

Mrs. D. L. Shepherd of Troy underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital on Thursday morning of last week. Dr. Christensen reports her as doing nicely.

Blacksmiths Are Busy

The blacksmith shops of Joe Cardinal and Frank Crocker are busy places these days putting bean machinery in shape for the harvest that will soon be on.

They called the baby Steamboat, because they had to paddle it behind.

Death Of Elliott Harris

Elliott R. Harris, a resident on the Mrs. E. M. Grant farm, near Juliaetta, until some three years ago, died suddenly of heart failure at his home at Rosetta, Idaho, above Culdesac, Wednesday morning, August 14.

Elliott Ray Harris was born Feb. 19, 1879, in Jackson county, Oregon, and had lived in the vicinity of Lewiston for about 31 years, and at his Rosetta home for about three years.

He is survived by his widow, Hattie, and five sons: Francis, Craigmont; Earl, Lewiston; Ray, Moscow; John, San Antonio, and Marion, at home; also three daughters: Cecille Harris, Lewiston; Mrs. Vera Shull, Calgary, Can., and Mrs. Ora Nichols, Colton. One brother and four sisters also survive.

Funeral services were held in the Brower-Wann chapel, Lewiston, last Friday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. E. Janes. Interment was made in the Lewiston cemetery.

The pallbearers were Roy Grant, Lou Grant, Ralph McCracken and Wm. Fowler of Rosetta; Frank Snyder and Benton Custer, Juliaetta.

Idaho Liquor Brings In $153,491

Just as an indication that the very thirsty of Idaho have had their thirst alleviated to some extent, at least, is shown by the fact that residents of Idaho, and perhaps a few others, spent $153,491 for hard liquor during the month of July. According to reports the Lewiston store took in an average of $301 daily for the cup that cheers. Up to August 1, there had been 33,504 permits issued for which was received the sum of $16,752.

It must be remembered that this is for hard liquor only, to say nothing of the thousands of gallons of suds that have passed through the taps. And, too, this business is for cash. The grocer or garageman usually charges most of his wares.

Three More Suits Filed

Three state of Washington flour milling companies applied to the ninth United States circuit court of appeals last week for temporary injunctions to prevent government collection of processing taxes, pending outcome of appeals already filed.

The Ritzville Flouring mills, Fisher Flour mills and the Centennial Flouring Mills Co., all have appealed from the ruling of Federal Judge Edward E. Cushman in Tacoma last month which denied them injunctions or temporary restraining orders to prevent Alex McK. Vierhus, internal revenue collector for the district of Washington, from collecting taxes due under the agricultural adjustment act.

Bank Robbers Still at Large

With the exception of a man who was arrested down at Los Angeles recently, who was said to have confessed complicity in the Rosalia bank robbery on Wednesday afternoon of last week, nothing new has developed, and at least two of the trio are still at large. A re-organization of the old-time vigilantes has been suggested for the protection of small towns.

We are a firm believer in vigilante committees and the old Missouri law of putting a criminal out of the way at the least possible expense to the county and state.

A Deep, Dark Mystery

Last Monday afternoon there was quite a commotion in the jungle across the railroad track south of Main street, when Deputy Sheriffs Jordan and Moody selected some three or four of the denizens to accompany them to Moscow—at least they started in that direction. Just what it was all about we have not learned. Be it said, however, that the county officials can come over and clean out the jungles whenever they see fit—and there will be no questions asked.

A Startling (?) Discovery

And now the information comes to light that the Idaho liquor laws are being violated, just as it was thought the state would have a monopoly on purveying hard liquor, it having been discovered that 313 government liquor stamps had been sold to private individuals and concerns out of the 410 that have been issued within the state. This might indicate that the "moon" is still "shining" over various parts of Idaho.

"Educated" Pony Killed

When the Henry Bros. Dog and Pony show visited Kendrick last week they allowed their educated pony to wander too far from the grounds and onto the railroad track, and when a train came along either in the night or early morning, the pony failed to get off the track and is now numbered among those in "horse heaven."

Sales Tax $622,885 Since March

Ben Diefendorf, state commissioner of finance, announced Monday that collections under the 2 per cent retail sales tax law, which became operative last March 20, now total $622,885.
