HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Austria and Hungary, key actors in another and never-to-be-forgotten drama of Mars, rudely jolted hopes for a common league of nations front on sanctions against warlike Italy. Those nations, Italy's neighbors, yet her foes two decades ago, came to the rescue of Benito Mussolini in the setting of a grave, twilight session of the league assembly and threw Geneva into a turmoil.

The American Legion has asked the American Federation of Labor to join a nation-wide drive to stamp out communism. Ray Murphy, the legion's newly-elected commander, delivered the invitation in a speech at the federation's convention. In view of the recent suggestion of Matthew Woll, federation vice president, that the two orders unite to fight red activity, acceptance of Murphy's bid was generally expected. "For long, the legion has had an Americanism commission and a director of Americanism," Murphy said. "To a committee of the federation of labor as such committee may now or hereafter be constituted we extend an invitation to work with our commission in close cooperation and complete sympathy and understanding to the end that such subversive elements may well be identified and vigorously and unreservedly opposed."

The death sentence, imposed on Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., has been unanimously upheld by the court of errors and appeals, leaving him only three very doubtful avenues of escape from the electric chair. Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard will fix a new execution date for Hauptmann and unless his lawyers successfully pursue one of the three courses open, the stoical German carpenter will pay the penalty decreed at Flemington by a jury of eight men and four women.

Informed circles expressed belief that the apparent lack of progress on the proposed reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada merely represented a "breathing spell" until after next week's Canadian national elections. At the same time, however, it was said the new potato control bill passed by the last congress added a new obstacle to the pact. Canada had sought, among other concessions, lower tariff duties on potatoes and other farm products. Observers say it will be difficult to lower duties on potatoes while restricting their production. Lumber is one of the major commodities on which Canada seeks lower tariff rates in exchange of concessions to the United States. Canada has asked that the $3 per 1,000 feet excise import tax on lumber be eliminated and that the $1 per 1,000 feet tariff be cut to 50 cents.

The action of the assembly of the league of nations in voting sanctions against Italy "has changed nothing," an official Italian spokesman said. Italy is following her same program in Africa, he asserted, the one "she has moved in all along in the full light of day." The Italian people, however, are "stupefied" at the action, he stated. Italy "kept the world informed of every move" and had a right to suppose that the world's silence and failure to act gave her consent to go ahead with "colonial preparations for defense of her colonies," the spokesman asserted. While the league decided upon sanctions, the fascist army moved slowly but relentlessly ahead in northern Ethiopia.

Turner Battle, assistant secretary of labor declared Mrs. Anna Sage, the "woman in red," who said she betrayed the gangster John Dillinger to federal agents, was guilty of moral turpitude and must be deported. Battle denied that department of justice agents promised her she would not be deported, in return for her services in the Dillinger case. The department of justice, he added, had no authority to offer immunity from charges not in its jurisdiction.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, lean, soft-spoken originator of the old-age pension plan bearing his name, believes its adoption by either of the major political parties would swing the presidential election next year. "We are not concentrating on that, however," the physician leader of the $200-a-month pension campaign for the aged, said in an interview. "We are lining up for the election of congressmen and senators. If we

FARMERS TO DECIDE ON 1935 CORN-HOG PROGRAM

A referendum on the question of whether there will be a corn and hog adjustment program in 1936 will be conducted among all corn and hog producers on Saturday, October 26, the Secretary of Agriculture announced. The Secretary said that the investigation being made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which included a hearing held in Washington on September 26 and 27, has shown economic justification for another program, but that the practicability and effectiveness of a program will depend upon the indicated degree of support by producers.

In the referendum, corn and hog producers will vote on the question: "Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires November 30, 1935?" The referendum will be by secret ballot and will be conducted by county and community corn-hog committees and by the extension service. Community polling places will be open from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. All operators and owners of farms which produced corn or hogs in 1935, whether or not they signed 1934 or 1935 corn-hog contracts, are eligible to vote in the referendum.

Ballots are being mailed to all corn-hog raisers in Latah county by the county agent. These may be marked and returned by mail or deposited at the voting booth which will be open at the county agent's office from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., on Saturday, October 28.

Death of Mrs. Sylvia Perry

At the age of 3½ years, she came west with her parents, who homesteaded on Cedar Ridge, near Linden, Idaho, where she grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage March 4, 1902, to Joseph Perry. To this union eight children were born, six of whom survive.

We wish to express our thanks to friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and for the beautiful floral offerings, at the passing of our beloved wife and mother.

Bill Has On War Paint

And now our own Bill Borah is getting hostile because young Teddy won't put in with him and try and overthrow the old order of things for the republican party. Bill is an old war horse, but he seems to have young ideas—about upsetting things. Bill says the old order of things must make way for the new and he has put on his helmet and knee-pads and is all ready for a grand rush. We don't know whether he is figuring on a forward-pass or bucking the line, but the latter is generally his way of doing things.

Ag. 3 and 4 classes have been adding an artistic touch in the way of paint to the newly erected workshop. Meanwhile the Ag. 1 and 2 class are working out means of proper poultry housing.

Come To The Carnival

Spinning wheels and graveyard stew; Will be there in red, white and blue; If your future you wish to know, Come and cross our hands with dough.

If you have a little money, Come and bring your little honey, And if HawkShaw intervenes Come inside and close the screens. Peanuts, popcorn, candy too. Try some of our latest stew. If the fishpond you have in mind, All you do is drop your line. Plenty of trinkets you can use. Five cents a spin and you never lose. Believe is or not, for a nickle or dime, You can come and have a darn good time. —Beatrice LaHatt.

HawkShaw On Duty

Startling news! HawkShaw discovers some new talents among our worthy students that have never come to light. It's song writing—listen to the latest compositions and notice the composer: "I Never Sausage Girls Like You"—Quentin Cole. "Butcher Head Upon My Shoulder"—Joe Watts. "She Says She Doesn't Love Me, But I'll Weiner Just The Same"—Roy Ramey Jr. "Oh, How Chicken Love"—I wonder who Earl Hund could have written that about? ? ? Mr. Lyle's remark about the queen contest when it was announced that Jean Fry was a candidate, come under Famous Last Words—I guess we'll have to get Cameron to work on that. * * *

The only activity in the Frosh row these days seem to be Lawrence Bartlett picking up his books, and Quentin Perryman walking around like a marathon runner with the jitters.

Oh! Oh! I see some more news coming my way. So until I see you at the carnival, I remain, on duty—HawkShaw?

HUNTERS BRING IN GAME — OTHER PARTIES GO OUT

Several hunting parties have returned with their kills, but we have failed to learn who they are, with the exception of Dr. G. W. McKeever and Merton Pierce and son Alvin, who each brought back a fine elk. There were 14 in the party and they brought out 13 elk, which is not such a bad record. They hunted in the Larch and Hemlock mountain country (wherever that is).

Wayne and Denzil Kuykendall also brought out their kill in "jig time." They hunted in the Elk mountain section. It was said they were hunting just 3½ hours when they each brought down an elk and a deer.

A hunting party made up of Walt Bigham, Tom Long, Ed. Deobald and Bill McCreary left early last Saturday morning for a hunting trip in the wilds of the Salmon river country. They had quite a long list of game animals they hoped to bring back with them.

Another party made up of K. D. and Jerry Ingle, Clarence Morey, R. B. Parks, Harry Thompson of Lewiston, Hugh Thompson and Bill Watts left Kendrick in the wee hours of the morning for a big game hunt in the Jerry Johnson hot springs section, going over into Montana and then coming back into Idaho. They will meet Ralph Knepper and party of Salmon City and the big hunt will be on.

In 1880 she was united in marriage to Michael Bleck, who passed away in 1921. To this union six children were born, all living.

She leaves to mourn their loss, two sons, Henry of Southwick, William, residing in Canada; and four daughters, Emma Brunswick and Mrs. Russel Rodgers of Cameron, Amanda Thornton and Mrs. J. Bechtol of Moscow; also one brother and four sisters, all residing in Minnesota. Also seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Beans Moving Slowly

WHEAT MARKET WEAK; LESS URGENT DEMAND

Grain markets lost some of their recent strength toward the close of the week ended October 11, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat turned weaker following declines in foreign markets which reflected a less urgent European inquiry despite war activities in Ethiopia and the continual unsettled political situation throughout Europe. Showers in Argentine and the unwillingness of millers to follow the advance were further weakening influences. Feed grains were barely steady with declines in wheat and nearness of new crop supplies caused an easier situation in corn, oats and barley turned downward with a slow inquiry for current liberal offerings. Rye declined with wheat while flax dropped 2 to 3 cents per bushel despite a continued good inquiry from crushers. Failure of European demand to broaden materially and some improvement in Argentine wheat prospects were weakening influences in the general wheat situation and prices dropped 2 to 3 cents per bushel in both the domestic and foreign markets. Aside from beneficial showers in Argentine, no important developments were reported in crop prospects. From present indications, the northern hemisphere wheat harvest, outside of Russia and China, will be about 100,000,000 bushels above last season's output. Larger crops in Russia may about offset smaller harvests in China.

The October 1 official estimate placed the domestic spring wheat crop at 167,000,000 bushels, of which 28,000,000 bushels are durum. With a winter wheat harvest of 432,000,000 bushels, the United States crop will total 599,000,000 bushels this season against 497,000,000 bushels in 1934. Farm stocks of wheat at the first of October totaled 2,940,000 bushels against 2,221,000,000 bushels on farms a year ago. Market stocks at the first of October, however, totaled only 80,000,000 bushels against about 120,000,000 bushels in store at this time last year.

During the week Northwestern millers and elevator interests purchased considerable quantities of Canadian wheat at about 16c over the Minneapolis December price for 15% protein, No. 1 dark Northern delivered Duluth, duty paid, and at 13½c over the December for the same protein of No. 2 Manitoba Northern.

Intermountain and Pacific coast markets declined 1c to 2c per bushel along with eastern markets although cash prices were somewhat irregular. Denver mills lowered quotations 2c per bushel and were bidding $1.12 per bushel at the close of the week for No. 2 hard winter, 14% protein and $1.17 for No. 2 Northern spring fob Colorado shipping points. Mills at Ogden were bidding 83c for No. 2 soft white, 99c for No. 2 hard white and 91c for No. 2 hard winter fob Utah-Idaho common points.

At Seattle, western white was quoted at 91½, western red at 92½, hard winter at 99c and hard white (baart) at $1.29 per bushel. Receipts at Puget sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 750 cars. Local milling inquiry was quite active but sales to the Central West were somewhat smaller. Movement on previous sales however, continued fairly heavy. Moderate quantities were sold to Gulf and Atlantic seaboard ports but only small quantities of high protein hard whites and hard winters moved to California.

California markets were quiet and somewhat weaker with prices down 2½c to 5c per 100, compared with a week ago. Inquiry from Bay region mills was less urgent reflecting some slackening in flour demand while substitution of barley and grain sorghums reduced the use of feed wheat. Dealers and industries were inclined to use storage stocks and were limiting current purchases. Inquiry from mills and feed manufacturers was also less active at Los Angeles with trading largely confined to feed grades although mills took limited quantities. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.70-$1.72½ and at Los Angeles at $1.67½ and No. 1 soft white at San Francisco at $1.62½-$1.65 and at Los Angeles at $1.65 per 100.

"The Cowboy Millionaire"

These picture fans who like a real Western picture will have the opportunity of seeing another one of those famous George O'Brien pictures you all like so well. George was a genial guide at the El Reposo ranch, a swanky Western resort, and was about to leave his job with his pal, Edgar Kennedy, to work a mining claim they own jointly—but once a cowboy, always a cowboy—and a scrapper. George was flung into the net of swanky society. Struggling for his life, the only law he knows is the law of hair-trigger action. He fights his hardest fight. He plunges into society's whirl to save a girl and a fortune—and finds more excitement than he bargained for. It's a real Western—and you'll like it—at Kendrick theatre this Friday and Saturday nights.

Also chapter 5 of "The Call of the Jungle," and other features.

"Permanents" Barred In China

Chinese women who curl or wave their hair have fallen under official displeasure.

The Nanking municipal government has ruled that hair curling is contrary to the principles of General Chiang Kai-Shek's "new life" movement and will henceforth be illegal. Barber shops and beauty parlors have been prohibited to do permanent waving or any similar work.

When a girl's face is her fortune, it generally runs into a good "figure."

Asked Middle Name—And Got It
Over at Portland, Oregon, not long ago clerks in the police record bureau experienced a sudden attack of "the stutters," combined with writer's cramp, when they filed the name of Marcus Weisbarth, a Hawaiian, arrested as a disorder suspect. They wanted his middle name. Weisbarth pronounced it several times and finally had to write it for them. It was "Kamakanikaouliokaalani."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES
win congress, no president can stop us." Dr. Townsend declared he believed his plan will come before the national conventions of both the major parties in 1936. He did not say what action he expected from either the republican or democratic conventions.

Without a dissenting vote, the Idaho republican "grass roots" convention Saturday afternoon adopted its resolution committee report which included a warning against any increase in the national public debt, demanded bimetallic stabilization of the currency and appealed for preservation of the American market for the farmers of the nation. Under the leadership of Donald Callahan of Wallace, former state senator from Shoshone county, the 15-man committee kept away from highly controversial subjects. Rumors that a floor battle might break out over the leadership of the party failed to materialize. Some high in the councils of the party, however, hinted that R. P. Parry of Twin Falls, chairman of the state central committee, and Mrs. Beth Laubaugh of Boise, vice chairman, might turn in their resignations.
The census bureau counted 1934's automobile death toll at 33,980, a 15 per cent gain over 1933 and "a new all-time high." It averaged the death-rate of 26.9 persons out of every 100,000. In 1933 the rate was 23.3. In 1934, in addition, 1,789 persons were killed in collisions between automobiles, railroad trains and street cars. Latest figures covering 86 major cities for the 52 weeks ended September 28, have indicated the death rate was continuing upward in 1935.

EDITORIAL

AGAIN, FOLKS, we are asking you to join in the chorus of the same old song we have been singing for several months now. It's about old bossy and that can of cream that she produces, and the fact that you can always get cash right now for her product—cream. We are paying the highest market price and giving correct tests—at least, the inspectors say so—which makes it a certainty.

And, too, we make butter and ice cream from selected cream and thus you are always assured of THE BEST.

"Say, Granddad, what does it mean when the paper says some man went to a convention as a delegate at large?"

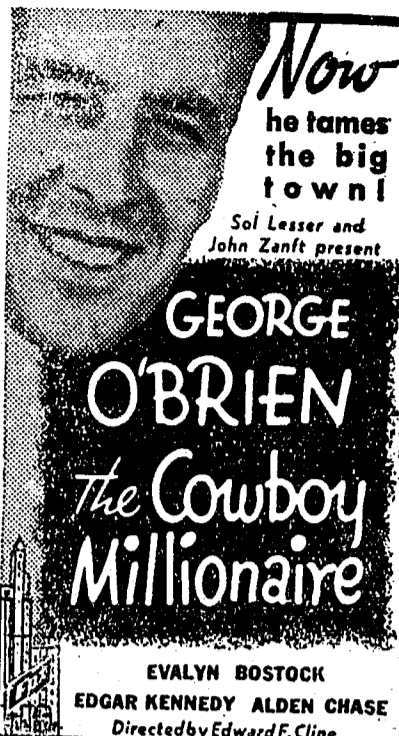

F. B. Higley: "It means his wife didn't go with him, son."

Doc. Christensen says "After the age of 40, movie style love making is just another way of making your glasses hurt your nose."

Marvin Long says—Business is improving all right, but there are still oleomargarine eaters who have seen butter days.

"River Of No Return" a Fact

The trip recently started down the Salmon, "The River of No Return," was indeed a fact for Forestry Radio Operator Howard Flint, who was in charge of the radio operations on the barge being used by the National Geographic scientific expedition, who is attempting a trip down the Salmon on a barge.

Mr. Flint was ill for five days on the barge being buffeted about by the swirling waters of the turbulent Salmon in what is said to be the deepest river canyon in the United States—even deeper, according to scientific data, than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

The barge was finally landed on a sandbar and an airplane from Missoula, Mont., landed in the deep gorge and took Flint to Missoula, where he died.

The Ag. instructor, M. C. Grover and five agriculture boys left Thursday morning for the Pacific International Livestock show. The boys were Donald Benschoter, Frank Arnett, Herman Renfrow, Willard Schoeffler and Nolan Weeks. We went down the Clearwater to Lewiston and on to Walla Walla, where we visited the penitentiary. We drove on across the mountains and on down the Columbia river. It was a very beautiful drive and we saw many things of interest. There were many little streams and falls along the way. We saw the Bonneville dam where they are still working. That evening found us entering Portland, our destination.

We spent the next day in seeing the city. Later we went through a large lumber mill on the outskirts of Portland, and saw how lumber is made in a large mill.

Saturday morning we went to the stock show. Most of the morning was spent in judging. The boys that judged were Renfrow, Schoeffler and Arnett. The rest of us spent the time by sight-seeing on the fair grounds. The afternoon was spent in swimming and enjoying ourselves. Sunday morning we left for home by way of Seattle. After spending the night in Seattle, we continued on our way to Spokane. Leaving Spokane at 3 p. m., we arrived in Kendrick at 6 p. m.
