HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday, dynamic and colorful revivalist who left a promising baseball career to exhort sinners to "hit the sawdust trail," died suddenly at the home of relatives in Chicago last Thursday. The evangelist, who had dedicated the major portion of his 72 years to indefatigable attacks on "the devil and rum," died of angina pectoris after having been in failing health for a year. Sunday went to Chicago from his home at Winona Lake, Ind., several days ago with his wife, Helen, to stay at the home of Mrs. Sunday's brother, William J. Thompson.

The Arizona state board of pardons and paroles has refused to remove the death penalty which overshadows Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted in 1932 in connection with the "trunk" murder of two friends. Applications for a full pardon and for a parole in case the pardon was denied were rejected by the board. The action means that in event Mrs. Judd, now in the state hospital for the insane, regains her sanity during the tenure of the present board she must be executed for the slaying of Agnes Ann Leroy. She also faces murder charges in the death of Hedwig Samuelson, for which she was never tried.

The 1935 holding company act—designed to give the government the power for a sweeping reorganization of the utility industry—has been held invalid "in its entirety." Federal Judge William C. Coleman ruled that that effect and in those words in instructing the trustees of the American States Public Service company to treat the act as "invalid and of no effect."

Democratic railery over Gov. Alf Landon's chances to become a presidential nominee and another republican charge of misused relief funds rounded out a politically confusing week. Following the Tuesday elections, which pleased neither major party completely, the powers-that-be or would-be in both were slowly, tentatively getting down to business about 1936. Postmaster General Farley and Attorney General Cummings, speaking in New Haven, moved to meet opposition emphasis on the big spending issue with arguments that recovery has more than made up for the costs. Chairman Hastings of the republican senatorial campaign committee contended "relief as administered by the new deal reeks with hypocrisy and everyone is beginning to know it." His statement was by way of challenge to the insistence by Harry L. Hopkins that politics has no place in the FERA.

E. H. Myrick Transferred

Transfer of E. H. Myrick, at present Supervisor of the Clearwater National Forest, to Supervisor of the Lolo National Forest, effective about November 16, is announced at headquarters of Region One of the National Forest here. He succeeds former Supervisor Theodore Shoemaker, now with the Regional Office.

Mr. Myrick entered the Forest Service in 1913, after having been a student at the University of Idaho School Forestry. He first served as Forest guard, then rose through various grades until in 1920, when he was appointed Supervisor of the Blackfoot National Forest. Since then, he has been Supervisor of the Lewis and Clark, St. Joe, and Clearwater National Forests.

Mr. Myrick is president of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce and has been a leader in civic activities. He has exemplified to a high degree the type of community service that the Forest Service encourages on the part of its members.

Warren-Ingle Nuptials

Miss Grace Margaret Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Warren, 1212 North 12th Street, Boise, and Gerald Adams Ingle, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Ingle of Kendrick, were married at the home of the bride, Friday evening, November 1, at 6 o'clock, the Rev. Albert E. Martin of the Immanuel M. E. church performing the ceremony in the presence of the bride's relatives. Miss Warren wore a rose-colored knit suit and a corsage of sweet peas and rose buds.

Following the ceremony a small reception for close friends of the couple was held and a buffet supper was served.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ingle attended the University of Idaho. Mrs. Ingle has been teaching near Moscow for the past three years. They will make their home at Kendrick, Idaho.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The regular monthly meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held on Monday evening, November 18. A program will be given by the High School faculty. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

On Armistice Day, November 11, Lieutenant Bursleson of Lewiston gave the students a short talk on the Armistice and World Peace. It was enjoyed very much by students of both high school and grades.

Both Physics and Algebra classes were very interested in the flight of the two army fliers into the stratosphere. Both classes are studying falling bodies.

The history class is studying the development of the Parliamentary system of government.

Business Science class is studying telegraph service.

The following was overheard at basketball practice: Mr. Dawald—"Snap into it! Get going! If you want to sleep, get off the floor. You guys are as swift as a bunch of snails. Hurry up! Get your hands on that ball and keep them there. Here—duck your head and run. My gosh! You run like an old woman with the lumbago. A fine chance we've got to winning any games. Now, duck your head! Rush in there! Make that basket! Oh *#! *#! *#! *#!). Missed again. Go to the showers."

Hawkshaw On Duty

Snow blanketed Kendrick for the first time this week. Hawkshaw covers every event equally as well. But there's no cold shoulders in this stuff—It's hot!

Beware boys—watch your step. Keene is so popular that even the cats like him * * * They're at it again—that Crocker-Tarzan team. * * * Results of the football game Saturday—Lenox returns weary and worn. Humpty-Dumpty sat on a wall Humpty-Dumpty took a great fall All the King's horses and all the King's men Couldn't—but Hawkshaw can! Hawkshaw!

Grade Notes

Miss Hockaday is reading the story of Eskimos to her class. They are making clay igloos, dogs, sleds, and seapans to illustrate the story. They have decorated their room with black curtains and green and orange oilcloth elephants. Flower boxes are in the windows, and various pictures make the room very attractive as a whole. The fifth and sixth grade health contest is a very close race.

Mrs. Cook has her windows adorned with planets and many pictures on the wall.

Truck Turns Over

A big International freight truck and trailer, loaded with 15 tons of spuds, belonging to Everett Crocker and driven by George Crocker, went into the ditch and turned over Saturday morning eight miles this side of Grangeville.

Mr. Crocker was coming this way with the big truck, and meeting a car, when another car turned out from behind the approaching one and attempted to pass. Mr. Crocker pulled over onto the soft shoulder in order to avoid a collision, the shoulder gave way and the truck slid into the ditch.

The big van body was badly wrecked, and a spring broken, otherwise no damage resulted. Mr. Crocker was unhurt, and just eight spuds (not sacks) were lost.

Birthday Surprise Party

Mrs. Edgar Long gave a surprise party for Barbara Jean Monday evening in honor of her thirteenth birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served.

KENDRICK TO ENLARGE PRESENT WATER SYSTEM

According to advice received from WPA headquarters at Coeur d'Alene and Harvey J. Smith, relief administrator at Moscow, the Kendrick waterworks project, application for which was made some months ago, has been approved.

The Kendrick jobs calls for extending the present water system to a large spring, to augment the city's present water supply. The Kendrick community furnishing $6,443 in materials and supervision while the federal government furnishes $5,356, in wages for workers.

A Juliaetta project calls for augmenting the present water supply from a spring. The total cost of the project is $7,761 with the Juliaetta community furnishing materials and supervision at an estimated cost of $3,400 and the government the remainder in wages.

Idaho Makes Membership Progress

During the Idaho membership campaign, Idaho Red Cross Chapters increased their membership 26 per cent over the previous year and during the 1934 campaign 1 per cent over the 1933 campaign, Parker P. Carver, State Roll Call Chairman reported today. "These increases have brought Idaho from a place below the average," Carver said. "However, we are still below other northwestern states and if we had a membership to compare with Nevada we wouldn't be asking for 23,425 members, but we would have 30,218 members. Economic conditions are no better in other states of this section of the United States, and members are no easier enrolled in them. It all depends on organization plans and work. If Idaho Chapters have the will to win, a plan that covers their whole territory, a sufficient number of workers, good publicity and a short businesslike campaign they not only will reach their membership quota but will make it possible to reach the State quota of 2,425 members. After all, the state quota is only the sum total of 44 chapter quotas. We hope every Idaho Chapter will give every adult, within its jurisdiction an opportunity to join the Red Cross." Carver said.

Dodge Question Of Age

Be she ever so famous, woman apparently still hesitates to tell her age. "American Women" contains biographies of 6,214 women chosen for earned fame. But 2,507—more than one-third—declined to tell their age. Frances Perkins, cabinet member, and Mae West, movie star, alike were given alphabetical place in the volume. The famous woman is mostly unmarried, 59 per cent to be exact. If she is married, she's most likely not to have children. If she has, it's most likely to be only one child. At least two famous headlining teams were divided: Dolly Gann was listed; Alice Roosevelt Longworth wasn't. Helen Jacobs got in; Helen Willis Moody didn't. Aimee Semple McPherson was not among the 13 woman preachers catalogued.

Double-Eight Bridge Club

The Eight-Eight bridge club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald on Thursday evening. Refreshments were served before the start of play at four tables. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary and John Laing.

High score for the ladies was won by Mrs. W. B. Deobald and high for the men by Silvie Cook. Low scores went to Mrs. E. A. Deobald and W. L. McCreary.

Burned While Starting Fire

Mrs. Manning Onstott, who was severely burned about the face and arms last week is reported as getting along nicely. She was kindling a fire and started to pour some kerosene in the stove when the can exploded, catching her clothing afire. Mr. Onstott was at home and managed to smother the flames almost instantly or far more serious burns would have resulted.

To Our Correspondents

Some of our correspondents, in writing up their items, use both sides of the paper. We would ask them to please use only one side and write the long-way of the sheet instead of crosswise. Thank you.

CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING MONDAY EVENING

The Kendrick Commercial club met in regular session in the Raby Hotel dining room Monday evening, and following a delicious fried chicken dinner, served by Minnie McCoy and assistants, the business of the meeting was taken up.

Following the reading and approval of bills and scanning of accounts submitted, correspondence was delved into, the chief item of interest being a letter from Congressman Compton I. White, regarding the roads in this section of the country. Mr. White stated that a planned inspection trip of J. L. Hood, Joe D. Woods, Cov. Ross and himself, had been delayed, but that it would be made at a later date, which item it is sincerely hoped will mean at least some good things for this section. A letter was also read regarding the annual Red Cross roll call, which is expected to start soon and end about Thanksgiving Day.

The Highway committee, consisting of N. E. Walker and M. O. Raby, accompanied by Scotty Wilson, gave their report on a recent trip to Boise, on which they had much to say. They arrived in Boise Friday evening, and on Saturday morning contacted Rep. Compton I. White, who went with them in the necessary departmental offices. It was discovered that it would be necessary to switch the original plans to a WPA project on the Cedar creek road, and plans were worked out whereby the WPA, State, Kendrick-Highway District and the Cedar Creek road district would cooperate in the necessary work and financing. This plan was approved in Boise following meetings of the committee with J. L. Hood, WPA supervisor, Joe D. Wood of the Department of Public Works, Rep. Compton I. White and Gov. C. Ben Ross, and the plans dispatched to Washington, D. C. The Arrow-Kendrick road was reported to be in the next batch of contracts to be let soon, and all hope that both projects materialize. Lieut. Gov. G. P. Mix, who was to have accompanied the party, was unable to go.

The Industrial and Finance committees had no report.

Edgar Long of the membership committee reported that $42.00 more had been collected in memberships, and that still more would come, which should put the club on a sound financial basis for the year.

W. J. Carroll of the Merchants committee reported sales day a success and that farmers and merchants alike were pleased with it.

Rev. Poindexter of the Publicity committee reported on the advertising methods used for sales day—and results seemed to point them out as effective.

James Lyle of the Educational committee reported two NYA students as enrolled in the high school. He further reported that the new Smith-Hughes building was now complete, some equipment installed and more on the way. Mr. Lyle further stated that in connection with Armistice Day, he had secured a speaker, the Rev. Mr. Burlson of Lewiston, who gave an address to the students, and whom he now introduced as the guest speaker to the club. Rev. Burlson then delivered a short but very interesting talk to the club on the significance of Armistice Day and the meaning of the cross, as used in churches, touching on the new danger of armed conflict about the world.

There being no further business to come before the club, it adjourned and a half hour or more was spent in good fellowship about the room. It is indeed to be regretted that more do not attend these meetings—for much good work has been done by the club and more will be done—why not come out and do your part?

Parents Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Grover are the very proud parents of a young son, who arrived on Thursday, November 7, to make his home with them. He has been named Milton Dec. Mrs. Grover and son are at the Critman Hospital, Moscow.

GRAIN MARKETS UNSETTLED WITH FEED GRAINS STEADY

Grain markets were unsettled during the week ended Nov. 8, with wheat weak and lower and feed grains steady to firm, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Weakness in foreign markets was again the dominant influence in the domestic wheat situation and declines abroad were reflected in lower prices in the United States. Wheat futures declined 1½¢ to 1¼¢ and most cash prices were correspondingly lower. Corn turned firmer toward the close of the week, with reduced offerings as a result of delayed husking and curing. Oats and barley were steady with corn, but rye declined with wheat. Flax was firm with an active crusher inquiry for the somewhat smaller market receipts.

Continued dullness in world markets remains the dominant influence in the general wheat situation. World shipments this season are nearly 20,000,000 bushels short of the small movement of a year ago and amounted to only 118,000,000 bushels to the first of November. These reduced shipments have tended to offset the smaller world supplies which are now apparently only about 175,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago, compared with an indicated reduction of around 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels at the beginning of the season August first. Wheat stocks in the United States are 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels below those of last year.

Marketing of winter wheat held at about the previous week's level, with a total of 1,029 cars at the principal terminals. Milling inquiry was moderately active and current offerings were readily taken at unchanged premiums. The quality of the Kansas City receipts remained low with only 65 per cent of the October inspections grading No. 3 or better, against 88.6 per cent for October, 1934.

Pacific Coast markets were generally lower, influenced by declines in Eastern markets and some slackening in demand. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals dropped to 440 cars but growers were reported offering more freely toward the close of the week. Local milling inquiry was only moderate with mills using previously accumulated supplies. California business was light and demand from Middlewestern markets and the Atlantic Seaboard was dull with bids mostly below current values. At the close of the week, 13 per cent protein hard white wheat was quoted at Portland at $1.21, ordinary protein hard white at $1.16, 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at $1.11, soft white and northern spring at .83c western white and western red at 82c and hard winter at 86½¢ per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle, western white was quoted at 83½¢, western red at 84½¢, hard winter at 86½¢ and hard white (baart) at $1.22 per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. 16 per cent protein dark Northern spring from Montana was quoted at Seattle at $1.13 per bushel.

California markets were rather unsettled. Prices declined 2½¢ to 5¢ per 100 at San Francisco, but held about unchanged at Los Angeles. Milling inquiry was light in the Bay Region and central California feeders were turning more to grain sorghums and barley. Local inquiry was moderately active at Los Angeles with buyers replenishing stocks. Current receipts however, were mostly applied on previous sales. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.53, and at Los Angeles at $1.57½—1.60. No. 1 soft white sold at San Francisco at $1.50 and at Los Angeles at $1.55—1.57½ per 100.

Oats markets were quiet but prices held steady as the moderate receipts moved readily into consuming channels. Pacific Northwestern markets maintained a steady tone with light offerings from growers the principal sustaining influence. Local prices were above a working basis for shipment to Atlantic Seaboard and trading was limited to occasional cars moving to local interests. Cereal mills at Portland continued to furnish the principal outlet for grey oats suitable for milling at current values. Receipts of oats at Portland from July 1, have totaled 120 cars as compared with 736 cars during the same period last year when the relatively heavy movement from the Pacific Northwest to Eastern areas was in progress. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.17½ per 100, compared with No. 2 grey oats at $1.22½ per 100.

W. W. P. TO PROMOTE USE OF ELECTRICITY

The appointment of three managers in the sales department of The Washington Water Power Company to promote the greater use of electricity is announced by Lewis A. Lewis, assistant general manager in charge of sales. The appointments are those of Ross B. McElroy, as manager of residential sales; E. E. Schofield as manager of industrial sales; and Arthur H. Wegner, as manager of commercial sales.

"The activities of the sales department of the company fall naturally into three divisions, residential, industrial and commercial sales," states Mr. Lewis. "Under the new set-up we hope to continue to increase the sales of electric services for all purposes by giving special attention to the needs of the various classes of customers, and by emphasizing the benefits of the greater use of electricity."

Mr. McElroy will have charge of the promotion of electricity in the home. Mr. McElroy was graduated from the Washington State College in 1913 with the degree of electrical engineer, joining the staff of The Washington Water Power Company shortly thereafter.

Mr. Schofield as manager of industrial sales will direct all industrial activities and the promotion of industrial development throughout the territory served by the company. He is an electrical engineer, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and joined the Washington Water Power Company in 1922 in the engineering department. The following year he transferred to the sales department being assigned to industrial sales work.

Mr. Wegner, who will direct and promote all commercial activities in the territory served by the company, joined the Washington Water Power Company in 1925, and after one year in the engineering department transferred to the sales department. He graduated from Washington State College in 1922 with the degree of mechanical engineer. The following year he had a teaching fellowship at the college and received his degree in electrical engineering. He then spent two years with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., from which organization he came to the company.

"The Inland Empire is one of the leading regions in the nation in the use of electricity," stated Mr. Lewis. "Under the new plan we shall direct our efforts to further increasing the use of electricity in the home, store, farm and factory by emphasizing the benefits of its liberal use by our customers."

LITTLE BEAR RIDGE

(Delayed)

The Halloween program and carnival sponsored by Miss Hardman and the pupils of the Yellow Rose school was a decided success. The room was made very attractive by decorations of orange and black crepe paper and cut-outs of cats, witches and jack o'lanterns. Miss Hardman arranged a display of pupils' work which was especially appreciated by the patrons. The spinning wheel and fish pond were very popular, and the supply of squawkers, horns, balloons, candy and peanuts were soon exhausted. During the evening the fate of one and all was foretold at the fortune teller's booth. The men enjoyed guessing the number of beans in a jar at five cents a chance. Hi Galloway happened to be lucky at this and received a box of chocolates. Refreshments consisted of cake, sandwiches and coffee.

Some who attended out of the community were: Mrs. Wade Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Norla Callison, Ernest Roberts, Barbara Long and Ellen Benjamin. The proceeds of the carnival, amounting to $7.00, will be used to buy something useful for the school-room.

George White's 1935 Scandals
"George White's 1935 Scandals" is a musical comedy that everyone who loves good singing and appreciates the fine art of real tap dancing will get a thrill. The motivating story is entirely new and different from anything heretofore produced. It features many musical and dancing numbers, some of which are thematic to the story. Others are specialties—but they are all good and you will enjoy every minute of this splendid musical comedy. "According to the Moonlight" is the theme song, along with "Old Southern Custom." The most fantastic chorus group is "Hunkadola," and the fantastic dream song feature is "I was Born Too Late."
Then there will be another installment of the serial and other interesting features.

The Use Of Silver

The use of silver per capita in the United States is by far the largest of any country in the world.
Silver has been known since very early times and is found widely in nature, as shown by spectrum analysis. It is usually found only in small quantities, altho masses of several hundred weight have been mined. Although silver is also present in seawater in minute quantities, the quantity of this metal in all the seas and oceans of the world is estimated to amount to two million tons.

Nightshade Kills Sheep

Between 60 and 70 sheep out of a band of some 1,000 owned by Andrew Nelson and on range at the John Shefer ranch in the Rimrock section of Nezperce county, died after apparently partaking of the night-shade weed, a poisonous growth and made more poisonous by frost. The night-shade weed has all the principles of belladonna, Dr. Thomas A. Elliot, deputy state veterinarian, who was called to the ranch, said.
It was estimated by the time Dr. Elliot arrived more than 100 sheep had been stricken but 40 or more were saved. After partaking of the weed the sheep lie down and go into a coma and remain in that state until death intervenes.

Need Tight-Rope Walker

And now comes forth Mr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, master mind of the brain trusters, and says the government budget will be balance in 1938. From the way things look at the present time it will take an old-time tight-rope walker to do the balancing act. Or, if scales are used, then what is the going to use for the "balance"? We're not criticising, mind you. We're just curious.

SALMON RIVER FOLK CARE-FREE AND INDEPENDENT

"People living in the wilderness regions along the Salmon River are the most independent in the world, and they are more carefree than any we have encountered, other than the negroes on southern plantations."
Such is the statement of Dr. John C. Reed of the U. S. Geological Survey and Dr. Maynard Owen Williams of the National Geographic Society, in Missoula en route to Washington, D. C., after a scientific expedition into the territory traversed by the Salmon River, "The River of No Return."
The intelligence of those people is extremely high, the visitors reported, and they are in touch with current problems and events. They asked pertinent questions about national and international affairs and appeared well informed. None is affluent, yet all seemed to be comfortably situated. All agreed that whatever each had "it's better than relief."
"The trip was one of geological surprises," said Dr. Reed. "We discovered that the granite mass in the Idaho batholith, while it is huge, is not as large as we had believed. The course of the river is curious. The grain of the entire area is north and south, but the Salmon River runs from east to west across the grain. It is evident that at one time the level of the country was much lower, and that tells the story of the country's rise, terraces in the wall showing that there have been a series of uplifts with a sufficient time between to permit the water to cut through the rock for a considerable distance. It is on some of the terraces that gold-bearing gravel has been found."
The change in characteristics between the granite mass and the lava country of the Columbia plateau was the cause of exclamation because of its suddenness. The action of the river there was surprising. The geologists found that it had cut through the lava, in some places many hundreds of feet into the underlying older rock formations.
"Although the country is extremely rough and wild, it at one time was a plateau," Dr. Reed explained. "All of the so-called peaks or elevated plateaus are of the same height. Of course there are some places where sumps occurred, and the filling of those sumps with the gold-laden gravel made possible the placer mining basins. The Elk city and Florence areas are examples of deposits of this kind."
Although he undoubtedly has recorded the grandeur of the area in black and white, Dr. Williams expressed some disappointment at the lack of color.
I work principally on color photography and require plenty of light," Dr. Williams said. "There are places in the canyon where sunlight never reaches the floor at this time of year. The uniformity of foliage—all conifers—did not lend itself to color photography."
It was on the expedition discussed by Dr. Reed and Dr. Williams that Howard Flint, senior forest inspector, in charge of aerial mapping and widely known in the northwest as a scientist, was taken ill. He was rushed to Missoula by airplane which made a precarious landing on a bar in the river. Mr. Flint died in Missoula, October 14.

Milk Of The Moose
Attempts at domesticating the moose finally have become successful. A ranch now has been started in Canada, on which moose will be raised for their milk.
In addition to being a source of meat, the moose is the natural beast of burden in many parts of Canada. It is strong and can be ridden and driven.
Winter feeding, expensive in the case of cows and horses, is economical, for moose thrive on lichens found beneath the snow and on willow tips which protrude above. Far harder than cattle, they are extremely docile when bred in captivity.

Room For Improvement
Two little boys were talking about the president. One of them said: "My father thinks he has done a lot of good."
The other boy replied: "Oh, I don't know. He hasn't closed the schools yet."

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Now that winter is really with us, how about the old winter income? Are you satisfied to live up the profits of the summer, or do you prefer to make a bit of money during the winter? If you do, here's how it can be done—just you milk old bossy, and then bring the cream to us. We pay you spot money and return a thoroughly sterilized can—steam sterilized—no caustics or acids are used—the can is ready for use when returned to you. Just try bringing us a can—you'll like our service and our money. Have you tried our butter?

"So you got a good piano player for the concert I'm giving," he asked his newly acquired secretary. "Yes, a truly great virtuoso." "I don't care anything about his morals. Can he play?"

"Helen, don't go too far out in the water." "But look, mother, daddy's out a long ways." "He's insured, dear."

"Who's there?" inquired Saint Peter.

"It is I," was the answer. "Go away. We don't want any more school teachers."
