HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

The members of the republican national committee has been summoned by Chairman Henry P. Fletcher to meet in the capital December 16 to arrange for the national convention. Simultaneously, he appointed a finance committee of 16, headed by William B. Bell of New York, president of the American Cyanamid Company, to secure money for the campaign against the alien doctrines and mal-administration of the new deal." Fletcher said the purpose of the national committee meeting is "to fix the time and place of the 1936 republican national convention; announce the appointment of delegates to that convention, and the manner of their selection; and to transact such other business as may come before the committee." The committee has 106 members drawn from the states, territories and insular possessions.

A stratosphere height record of slightly less than 14 miles was credited officially to Captain Albert W. Stevens and Orvil A. Anderson for their amicitia day flight. The National Aeronautics association certified the mark of 72,395 feet above sea level attained by the huge balloon of the National Geographic Society-Army Corps expedition.

An outwardly unperturbed 20-year-old youth said that he was not sorry he shot his brother, 29, in a violent quarrel at the brother's home, in Spokane. The widow and relatives of the slain man rallied to his defense. Alex Bulloch is the youth whom Prosecutor Ralph Foley said admitted the shooting of his married brother, John, at 3 a. m. last Thursday. Alex is held in jail on a murder warrant. "He got what he deserved," the youthful prisoner said after describing John's abuses of his young wife. The prosecuting attorney said an investigation indicated that John had been drinking before he returned home at about 3 a. m. Alex said his brother was abusive, and that he entered the argument after John had accused Mrs. Bulloch of undue interest in him.

A reduction of $500,000,000 in the margin by which government expenditures exceed income during the next year was predicted by Chairman Buchanan of the house appropriations committee. Buchanan called President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga., Sunday to go over the budget estimates with him and Budget Director Bell. Asked how the budget could be brought near to a balance the Texan replied "By a devil of a fight."

Word From The Doughartys

The Gazette has received a short letter from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dougharty, former residents of American ridge, who left here a few weeks ago for California, in answer to a request that they tell their former neighbors, through the Gazette of their trip to the land of sunshine, which is as follows:

We came by way of southern Idaho. At Salt Lake City a guide took us through the Mormon tabernacle, and museum. In Arizona we visited Zion National park, at the south entrance, and took the southern route to San Diego. We spent a week there and enjoyed the Fair, which closed the 11th of November, to open January 15, 1936.

While in San Diego, Mrs. Don Parkin, Mrs. Everett Fraser's sister, took us on a short trip into Mexico. Have been in Los Angeles over a week. Sunny weather but cool evenings. Saw the orange groves, also oil wells. There are bananas on the trees in a park here in the city.

Best wishes to everyone. We expect to leave there in a few days.

Tom Long At Home

Tom Long was brought home on Monday from a Lewiston hospital, where he had been for the past four weeks recuperating from a major operation. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Remodeling Home

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald are remodeling their home by improving and enlarging their kitchen and in building a wash-room. Other minor improvements will be made to modernize the home.

Shipped Cattle To Spokane

Dave Gentry last Saturday night shipped a car of fat cattle to the Spokane market. The shipment was accompanied by John Heath, who returned home Monday night.

Work On Ditch Going Forward

Work on the ditch for laying pipe for the addition of a big spring to the Kendrick water system was started last Thursday, as per schedule. The report is that some 600 feet of ditch, has been dug of the approximate two-mile length. The spring will be dug out and concreted. Six men are employed thus far.

KENDRICK RESIDENT SINCE 1920 DIES AT HOME HERE

From there he moved around to various points, finally locating at Spokane, Wash., the twenty-third day of September, 1900, where he met and married Mrs. Gertrude Luckens September 7, 1912. They continued to live in Spokane until 1920, when they came to Kendrick, where he lived until his death, Friday morning, November 22, 1935, aged 91 years, five months and 21 days.

Funeral services were held at Bethany church and interment was made in Bethany cemetery, on Big Bear ridge, with Rev. Peter Hesby preaching the funeral sermon. J. J. Pickard of Troy was in charge of the service.

Pork Chops May Be Shy

From the Washington Star: Many a western farmer is enthusiastic over a system which enables him to collect cash for food destruction. But the farmer himself may find the income insufficient to buy pork chops and potatoes for his own family.

A Small Matter

In the excitement of starting a war, Mussolini probably gives no thought to the fact that his country will owe us a war debt of $2,000,000,000.

Who remembers the good old days when a college could gain prominence without a hot football team?

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

On Thursday of last week the student body met and elected Nolan Weeks and Doris Crocker for yell leaders for the coming year. Both were promised the support of the student body at the basketball games to be held this winter. Evidence of this support was to be seen at Friday night's game.

The World history class is studying the war situation in Europe as well as the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Each student makes a weekly report on the situation of most interest to him.

The geometry class is studying construction work on angles, bisectors and other points in connection.

The English II class is studying literature. Mr. King has been giving some very interesting lectures on its beginning.

The Tiger's Lair

By Spoof Pumpnickle
Spoof Pumpnickle will bring to you, by this column, the past, present and future of basketball. Follow very closely—this promises to be a lively season.

Did you see the thrilling finish the Tigers made last Friday against Bovill? It was great—a la Notre Dame style. For the opening game of the season both teams showed flashes of brilliance, especially in the ball-handling department. Last week ended the second of regular practice for the Tigers so the rest of us Tigers on the hill are looking forward to a great season.

Friday's game started with both teams showing fine spirit and displaying a fast-breaking style of play. Ramey looped the ice-breaker, and the war was on. The first quarter was especially fast and ended with Kendrick leading. The second quarter was very evenly matched. The score was tied and re-tied several times before Kendrick broke into a three point lead before the half ended. Score—Kendrick 13, Bovill 10.

We are not sure what Dawald said between halves, but the boys came back in the second half to hold their opponents on an equal basis. It was in the third quarter that both teams showed raggedness in shooting. A number of tries failing. The quarter ended with a tie score—17 to 17.

The fourth quarter featured the fighting, never die spirit of the Tigers against a stubborn Bovill defense. As minutes passed, neither team was able to break through for a point. The crisis was reached and was met when Ramey was fouled twice while shooting and converted four free throws, which virtually cinched the game. From that time on, it was a well organized Tiger team against a frantic Bovill defense. The locals, taking advantage of the breaks, piled up a 33 to 21 score at the final whistle.

The game between the second teams was much the opposite. The local boys were much the smaller and were handicapped greatly by inexperience. The Bovill seconds outclassed our locals in all departments.

The lineup was:
Johnson F Niskles
Abrams F David
Ramey C Noble
Hartung G Carman
Wallace G Donner
Substitutes were Tarbox and Smiley for Bovill; Emery for Kendrick. High point men were Ramey (14) for Kendrick and Donner (9) for Bovill.

HawkShaw On Duty

HawkShaw did some of his usual first-class snooping this week and found something startling. The Tiger Spirit has been raised from the grave, and was one of the finest features of the game. Also:

Wonder if the diamonds the Curtiss' are flashing are on the right hand? Better be careful third period, Mr. Lyle, HawkShaw caught you nodding. * * * There seemed to be a dash of red in the features of the person sitting in seat 7 of row 3 after Schoeffler's speech. * * * Have you seen the latest in permanents? See Hund and Johnson for full particulars. * * * Evidently the safety devices on the assembly seats are not strong enough!!!!

Beware of Thanksgiving vacation. HawkShaw never rests. He's probably looking over your shoulder while you're reading this. HawkShaw?

LAUNCH WILLIAM E. BORAH FOR PRESIDENT

New York, Nov. 25—The ground-work for a professional and business movement to elect United States Senator William E. Borah to the presidency was laid here today at a meeting of business men.

It was announced a "Borah-for-President" campaign will start officially December 11 at a massmeeting in historic Cooper Union. Senator Borah will be invited to speak.

Today's meeting was held at the office of Dr. Edward T. Curran with about a dozen business and professional men in attendance. Andrew J. Byrne, an attorney, was selected to head the organization work.

After the campaign is launched here, Dr. Curran said, Borah-for-President clubs will be formed upstate to receive both democrats and republicans opposed to the new deal. Of the dozen Borah enthusiasts at today's gathering, Dr. Curran said, 11 were democrats.

"We're ready to go the limit for Borah," Curran said. "If Borah will be a candidate he can win. If it is anybody else, Roosevelt will win."

"We hope, with this movement, to put the pressure on the republican party to nominate Borah and come through to win in 1936."

Idaho "Bandits' Lair" Raided

Federal and county officers arrested several men in a raid on what they described as a "bandits' lair" in an abandoned lumber camp near Orofino Monday.

The officers, led by Sheriff Harry Dent, Nez Perce county, and Sheriff Joel Wilson, Clearwater county, found a quantity of guns and ammunition, food supplies to last a dozen men through the winter, and $700 in cash. Two men in the camp and several more found near by were arrested.

Prosecuting attorney William J. Hannah of Clearwater county said the men were suspected of participating in several robberies and holdups in that vicinity recently. He declined to name the prisoners until all officers had reported back and charges had been filed. More arrests may have been made, he said.

The camp was on Poor Man's creek, 20 miles northeast of Orofino.

November 30 Contract Deadline

Word has been received by the Community Allotment Committee of the Latah County Wheat Production Control Association that Saturday, November 30, is the final day upon which applications for the new 1936-1939 contract will be received.

Any person who operates a farm upon which wheat was grown during the base years 1928-1932 inclusive, is eligible to make an application for a contract.

It is understood that making an application in no way binds the applicant to accept a contract when they are completed. However, if no application is made on or before November 30, it will be impossible for a contract to be issued.

All wheat farmers who have not already done so are urged to see their Community committee at once and make arrangements for completing their application.

Coal Going Up

The bituminous coal industry is now under the little NRA, or what might be called the Blue Canary. The Guffey coal act went into effect November 1, and one of the chief effects so far as the consumer of coal is concerned, will be a rise in the price per ton to the fellow who has to fill his bin.

It is estimated that the price to consumers will be increased from 20 cents to $1 per ton, partially due to the cost of administering the act. In order to prevent coal from getting to the consumer too cheaply the act provides that the coal commission has the power to set minimum prices to prevent unfair competition and sales below cost. This provision certainly has the old NRA ring to it.

Two commodities which do not seem to have been greatly increased yet in price to the poor consumer are potatoes and bituminous coal. We now have federal regimentation of both, and perhaps later on they will be delivering coal and potato products to us in cellophane. Who knows?

Afternoon Bridge Club

The Afternoon Bridge club met last Friday with Mrs. Edgar Long. Bridge was played at three tables, after which delicious refreshments were served. High score for the afternoon went to Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

Bridge Dinner Party

The ladies of the Afternoon Bridge club entertained their husbands at a 6:30 dinner Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary. After dinner bridge was played at six tables.

High score for the ladies was awarded Helen Boyd, while Dick Blewett took high honors for the men.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ethel Emery, Mrs. F. H. Rider, Mrs. Helen Boyd and Mrs. W. L. McCreary. Miss Nina Bartlett was an invited guest.

IDAHO WPA SETUP NOW CONSISTS OF 204 PEOPLE

J. L. Hood, works progress administration director for Idaho, has announced completion of the administrative force of 204 employes which will conduct the WPA program in Idaho and place an estimated 10,000 employable needy persons in the state at work on WPA projects.

The 10,000 employables have approximately 30,000 dependents, Hood estimated.

"We have aimed to create a simplified, efficient and thorough administrative organization," Hood commented.

The WPA is rapidly assuming the works relief program formerly sponsored by the Idaho emergency relief administration, which in December, 1934, had a staff of 966 administrative employes who drew salaries totaling $111,432 for the month to administer relief to approximately 100,000 persons.

The IERA staff, since the closing of the works program, has been reduced to about 483, with 200 being dropped throughout the state following the closing order on IERA works projects a few days ago. The IERA now has 4,908 unemployment cases, or approximately 14,724 persons on its rolls, and 9,101 employable cases representing about 41,864 persons.

The employables will be taken over by the WPA as projects are made available. The WPA staff is under the immediate supervision of Hood, who is responsible to Harry L. Hopkins, national administrator.

There are 78 persons employed in the WPA state office at Boise, 44 in the district office at Pocatello, 34 in the district office at Coeur d'Alene and 48 in the district office at Boise.

1935 License Sales High

Idaho's 44 counties shared $1,488,934 of the $1,705,537 collected during the first ten months of 1935 from licenses for passenger automobiles, trucks, motorcycles, trailers, chauffeurs and motor and cycle dealers, T. P. Graham, statistician of the state department of law enforcement, announced.

Of the total collections, the department of law enforcement received $51,166 for administrative purposes and the state bureau of highways, $165,437. The total receipts amounted to $208,868 more than collected during the first ten months of 1934 and $176,512 more than collected during the entire year of 1934.

Receipts during October this year totaled $25,193, 20 per cent more than during October last year, Graham said.

Total receipts for 1935 up to November 1 were divided as follows: 93,772 passenger cars, $1,209,357; 7682 private trucks, $199,957; 10,520 farm trucks, $165,986; 1641 commercial trucks, $84,823; 420 dealers, $25,200; 10 cycle dealers, $150; 400 motorcycles, $20,000; 12,190 trailers, $16,685 and 689 chauffeurs, $1398.

Bordering On Socialism

And now our junior senator, James P. Pope, according to a news dispatch, as taken a stand for "free" speech, taking to task the officials of the southern branch of the University of Idaho, at Pocatello. Because they refused to allow Norman Thomas, socialist, use of that institution's auditorium in which to preach his socialist doctrine.

There is such a thing as being "too free" with speech and besides a state institution is no place in which to preach politics, whether it be for democrat, republican, or socialist.

Mr. Pope said, in part: "I have no respect for those dictatorial methods which deny to students, to the faculty and to the people as a whole, the right to study and teach freely both sides of every question."

Buys Kendrick Property

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Porter, former residents of the Cedar creek section, have purchased the Onstott place, just below town, and have moved there to make their home.

WHEAT FIRMER; FEED GRAINS BARELY STEADY

Wheat markets strengthened/ while feed grains held barely steady during the week ended Nov. 22, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A more active European inquiry, together with uncertain new crop prospects in the Southern hemisphere was the principal strengthening influence in foreign wheat markets. Advances at Liverpool and Winnipeg were reflected in gains in domestic markets toward the close of the period. Corn turned slightly weaker with increased offerings and a less urgent demand. Oats and barley were about steady but demand was only moderate and current market receipts were about sufficient for trade needs.

Uncertainty concerning Southern Hemisphere supplies remained the outstanding feature in the wheat situation. The Argentine crop is late and unusually susceptible to weather conditions. Trade agencies place the new crop surplus at around 75,000,000 bushels, which suggests very small exportable supplies since stocks of old wheat are back to normal. Harvesting extended further in early sections of Australia with first arrivals showing excellent quality.

The announcement of the new trade agreement with Canada, modifying certain tariff rates between that country and the United States, had little market influence since both countries are normally exporters of grain. United States duties on imports of Canadian grain remained unchanged except for hulled oats unfit for human consumption, on which the duty was lowered from 16c to 8c per bushel, and for cereal breakfast foods on which the duty was reduced from 20 per cent to 15 per cent advalorem. Under the agreement, the United States agreed to bind unchanged the present rate of 10 per cent advalorem on cereal by-products for animal feed, mixed feeds, and wheat unfit for human consumption. Canadian duties on United States corn lowered from 25c to 20c per bushel, on wheat from 30c to 12c, on rye from 15c to 9c, oats 16c to 9c, and barley, not otherwise provided for, from 25c to 22½c per bushel. The duty on wheat flour and semolina was lowered from $1.35 to 50c per barrel, rye flour from 50c to 45c per barrel, oat meal and rolled oats from 80c to 50c per 100 pounds, and on barley, roasted, ground, from 30 per cent to 27½ per cent advalorem. Canada in seasons of short feed crops affords a market of some importance for United States corn but in recent years has imported only negligible quantities of United States rye, oats or barley.

Domestic cash wheat markets reflected not only the strength in futures, but also a good milling inquiry for diminishing receipts and cash premiums were increased in a number of instances. Marketings of winter wheat continued to decrease with receipts at the principal terminals totaling only 913 cars against 931 a week ago and 829 a year ago. Shipments from the principal terminals exceeded receipts and market stocks were further reduced. Milling inquiry was fairly active and provided the principal outlet for current offerings. At Kansas City, good sales were made to interior Kansas and Missouri mills, which usually supply their needs locally.

Intermountain and Pacific Northwestern wheat markets followed advances at Eastern points but California markets were independently weaker, reflecting a limited milling demand and slow inquiry for feed wheat. At the close of the week, Denver mills were bidding $1.09 per bushel for 15 per cent protein No. 2 hard winter and for No. 2 northern spring. Mills at Ogden, Utah were offering 75c for No. 2 soft white, 92c for No. 2 northern spring, 93c for No. 2 hard white and 85c for No. 2 hard winter, FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

At Portland, 13 per cent protein No. 1 hard white was quoted at $1.23, ordinary protein hard white at $1.20½, with 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at $1.13½, soft white and northern spring at 85½, western white and western red at 84½c and hard winter at 88½c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle western white and western red were quoted at 85c, hard winter at 86c, hard white (baart) at $1.20 per bushel basis No. 1 sacked. California markets were quiet and prices did not follow advances in northern and eastern markets because of the slow local demand both for

POTATO SACKS TO WEAR SAMPs NEXT SEASON

There'll be a new chore around the farm next season—pasting stamps on potato sacks.

One kind of a stamp will show that a tax of 3/4 of a cent a pound of spuds has been paid to Uncle Sam. Another kind will show that no tax has been paid.

There is little chance however, potato stamps will become as familiar to Americans as the stamp on a pack of cigarettes. Grocers probably will rip them off the sacks before they weigh out five and ten pound packages.

The internal revenue bureau was ready today to start the presses on the government's newest stamp, one to show that a farmer exceeded his potato allotment and had to pay a tax.

The farm administration will distribute the tax exempt stamps, to show that the farmer is marketing potatoes within his allotment. These stamps won't cost him any thing.

The internal revenue stamp will display a pretty girl's picture. It will be about the size of a special delivery stamp and be printed in several colors and denominations.

Many farmers selling in excess of their individual allotments may not have to buy stamps—which will be on sale at the postoffices—because the new potato control law provides for the exchange of tax exempt stamps among growers who exceed their allotment and those who do not sell as much as their quota.

Both the tax stamp and the tax exempt stamp must be destroyed by the person who empties the container of first sale.

Idaho Earthquake Free

Stable rock formations underlying northern Idaho and eastern Washington offer little foundation for any fears of possible earthquakes in this region, believes Dr. Alfred L. Anderson, professor of geology at the U. of I.

Earth movements, says Dr. Anderson, are most likely to occur along breaks or fractures already developed. The area roughly within a circle of 100-mile radius from the University of Idaho is notably lacking in these extended breaks or fault lines along which huge rock masses slip, causing earthquakes.

As a whole, the geological formations of the Inland Empire are fairly stable, Dr. Anderson reports, sufficiently so to make it one of the most earthquake-free areas in the entire west.

Tremors have been felt in this region and will be in the future, Dr. Anderson explains. Such movements may be transmitted from other regions, but can be disregarded as of minor significance.

Texan Knows His "Jograpy"

This from Dallas, Tex.: The sweet scented lilac, state flower of Idaho, will be featured in the $200,000 landscaping plan of the Texas centennial exposition which opens next June.

Sections of the exposition's grounds will be landscaped with flowers and trees which have been adopted as emblems by the states of the union. In the Idaho section the lilacs will predominate.

Centennial park will be made one of the nation's beauty spots with more than 100 varieties of native Texas flowers and trees included in the landscaping plan. The only exception to the use of native flora will be the official state flowers and trees.

Most Idahoans are of the impression that the syringa is the state flower.

Saved $85,000 On Wages

Robert Painter, 74-year-old accountant, who died at Walla Walla, September 14, worked only for wages or salary until he retired because of feebleness about five years ago.

But during his life he saved $85,000, it was revealed when his estate was filed for probate in superior court. Of this amount $37,000 was in cash and $38,000, in "guilt-edged" bonds.

Two-thirds of the estate will be divided equally between two sisters, Zulette Z. Painter, and Octavia J. P. Nolan, both of Salem, Ore., and the remainder equally between nine nephews and neices.

He was unmarried and had worked for many years in the county assessor's office at the time of his retirement.

Our "Widow" Is Dead

While there is not a great deal of "mourning," we have had a death in the Gazette office—our Black Widow spider Monday night decided she didn't like so much early cold weather and has presumably gone to spider heaven or some other place.

We had the shiny black insect for just a little more than a year. We have had other specimens that were marked with a true "hour-glass," but we thought we would see how long this one would live. Of course food was scarce and the weather cold, which probably accounted for her untimely passing. We are now permanently out of the spider business.

FREE FARM RECORD BOOKS AVAILABLE AGAIN IN 1936

The AAA farm record books will again be available for the coming year according to information received by County Agent L. V. Benjamin. The books will be identical to those supplied for the current year, and can be secured without cost to the County Agent's office in about two months.

Any farmer interested in keeping a farm record will be able to secure a record book whether he signed an adjustment contract or not.

Many farmers are now keeping a detailed record of their business for the first time, according to Mr. Benjamin. The books being used are largely those supplied by the Agricultural Adjustment administration in cooperation with the Extension Service.

The importance of keeping good farm records has been repeatedly emphasized by the AAA and the Extension Service. Such records are of great value in proving compliance with adjustment programs. County Agent Benjamin points out that farm records are useful in many other ways, such as establishing a fair farm credit rating, recording of important dates, disposal of products, accurate list of property in case of fire losses, production data for assessor and census reports, and income for income-tax returns. A farm record is especially valuable in helping point out the weak spots in the organization of the farm business.

Many farmers are behind with their record books, says Mr. Benjamin, and he emphasizes the importance of bringing them up-to-date at once before the details of harvesting costs, crop yields, ect. are forgotten. Any farmer who is having difficulty with his record in any way should call on the County Agent for help.

You Don't Have To Know Anything

It doesn't take brains to push the throttle of your car to the floor board.

It doesn't take cleverness to weave in and out of traffic at sixty miles an hour to the consternation of the slower moving highway-users.

It doesn't take any intellectual capacity to hang onto the steering wheel give her the gun, and see if you can make the speedometer touch ninety-odd.

In other words you don't have to know anything to drive fast.

Drivers who regard streets and highways as the Indianapolis bowl, might be divided into two classes: First, those who are weary of living and don't mind if they take innocent parties along with them to eternity. Second, those who are so stupid as to not realize that several thousand pounds of metal moving at terrific speed is as lethal a weapon as a machine-gun—both for the occupant and for anyone else who happens to be in the locality.

Speed—and speed alone—is responsible for the great majority of automobile accidents. All other causes pale into insignificance beside it. As even the most mentally deficient driver should be able to realize, an accident occurring at sixty miles per hour is almost invariably more serious than one occurring at 20.

The roads of America are strewn with corpses because a relatively small number of drivers are doing their best to emulate Malcolm Campbell.

Dude Ranching 1 and 2.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer: The University of Wyoming extends its curriculum to include, among other things, a course of four years in dude ranching. According to members of the faculty, the course is introduced to meet an insistent demand for instruction in this field; instruction that will teach ranch operators how to separate their guests from their money, entertainingly and painlessly.

It is a far cry from the course of study introduced in the early American colleges 300 years ago to dude ranching. Some of the pioneers in the field of higher education would rest uneasy in their graves if they knew of the extension of college curricula from the natural sciences and humanities through the social sciences to business and household administration and finally to, dude ranching.

Kissing Dangerous In Vienna

Kissing while driving a car usually has consequences.

In the case of a Vienna banker, who returned from one of the wine places near Vienna, with a blond companion, the non-stop kisser steered his car straight into a lamp-post. The girl lost four teeth.

When the case came to court, the banker defended himself by saying that the girl began the kissing and while she had him overpowered, the accident occurred.

The court seemed to feel sorry for the poor man; sentence was suspended and the girl, who had meanwhile sued the banker for $3,000 damages, had to be settled with a new set of teeth.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM OUR PUBIC SCHOOL

cd their practice pads and will soon start on their readers.

The fifth and sixth grades have just finished reading "Fruit Center" from the Land Carnival. They have again changed calendars. For art the pupils have been making designs on paper plates.

Masel Porter has enrolled in the sixth grade.

The third and fourth grades have been painting designs on muslin. Some have been making pot holders of paper plates.

Mr. Dawald had the misfortune to cut his left thumb quite badly.

Charlotte Porter has entered the eighth grade. She is from Gold Hill.

Lord Churchill says that the Italian invasion in Africa is really the fault of Adolph Hitler. We are surprised but relieved to find this out. We have been afraid they would pin it on to Uncle Sam, and ask him to pay the cost of "restoring peace."

It is said to be 125 degrees in the shade where Italians and Ethiopians are fighting. This doesn't sound so good now, but when the thermometer in America gets down to ten below zero it may stimulate enlistments for the African campaign.

Has Sore Left Hand

Art. Dawald, eighth-grade teacher in the Kendrick school, is nursing a very sore left thumb, having received a bad cut during the operation of cutting wood. The reason for the hurt, probably, is that Mrs. Dawald had been suffering with inflammatory rheumatism and was unable to take proper care of the woodpile.

Another Rogers Picture
Here's good news to those picture fans who loved the homely philosophy of Will Rogers. It is the homely story of a bachelor (Will Rogers) physician of a small country town, who had tended the ills and ailments of the community for years, often enough receiving potatoes for fee, but more often receiving nothing. He makes frequent visits to the home of a wealthy, attractive widow, which starts the straight-laced scandal-mongering tongues of the town wagging, and arouses the opposition of the town's wealthy family, the Bannings. As usual, Rogers is the easy-going gentleman at all times and while he faced many obstacles in the discharge of what he saw as his duty in looking after the health of the community, he wins out and finally marries the rich, comely widow.

There will be another installment of the serial story, as well as other features to finish out the evening's entertainment.

37 Projects In Idaho

Under the new WPA set-up there are to be 37 projects calling for an estimated $411,000 for the Idaho fish and game department.

These projects now have the approval of all federal officials who are required to pass on such matters.

"The final approval of this program means that we will be able to accomplish more during the year to come than we would have been able to accomplish during the next 40 years with state funds that are now annually available for the work."

The state now has 11 fish hatcheries and several score rearing ponds which during the past year produced 5,000,000 trout that were used to stock Idaho streams.

WHEAT FIRMER; FEED GRAINS BARELY STEADY

milling and feed grades. Bay region mills purchased only scattered lots of high protein wheat and feeders were utilizing cheap Milo, which was offered about 35c per 100 under No. 1 soft white wheat. Mills and dealers at Los Angeles were drawing on previously accumulated supplies and displayed little interest in current offerings. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard white wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.52½ to $1.55 and No. 1 soft white at $1.47½ to $1.50 per 100. Both No. 1 hard and soft white wheats were quoted at $1.60 per 100, sacked, at Los Angeles.

Oats markets tended downward in sympathy with the weakness in corn. Pacific Northwestern markets were lower with slackening demand despite only moderate to light offerings from growers. Cereal mills continued to take the light offerings of gray oats but needs were not urgent and previously accumulated supplies were about sufficient for current requirements. Prices were down 2½c per 100 for the week, with No. 2 white oats quoted at Portland at $1.15 and No. 2 gray oats quoted at $1.20 per 100, sacked basis.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets continued dull with prices unchanged from a week ago. Local inquiry for feeding types provided the principal outlet, while lack of selling pressure from growers was a sustaining market influence. Receipts at Portland for the season to date have totaled only 152 cars as against 315 cars during the same period a year ago, with the lighter arrivals this year reflecting the lack of inquiry for malting barley from Eastern areas. On November 21, No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland at $1.17½ per 100, sacked.

Two Days To The Government

Already government is absorbing $1.30 of every $3 of America's income. This means that you and I, the people of this country, have to work between two and two and one-half days a week solely to support the government and tax eaters. And still heavier levies, especially by the federal government, confront us. Before long, judging by federal expenditures and mounting debts we may have to toil three days a week to keep tax leviators going. History reveals that powerful nations have invariably been ruined by mounting tax burdens. No nation ever spent as much money as America is spending today to maintain its federal and local governments. How much further can we go in debt, how much further can we go in governmental expenditures, without inviting ruinous hardships?

Potato Judging Trip

Five ag. boys left Friday, Nov. 22, for Spokane to attend the Pacific Northwest Potato judging contest.

The boys were Herman Renfrow, Donald Bencotter, James and Larry Langdon and Nolan Weeks. M. C. Grover, Ag. instructor, drove the boys to their destination. Friday night was spent in Moscow and an early start made Saturday morning for Spokane. Breakfast was eaten in Colfax and the Spokane Y. M. C. A. reached at 8 a. m. The judging began at 9:00 and continued until noon.

The boys who judged were Herman Renfrow, Donald Bencotter and Larry Langdon. Kendrick took 10th place out of 17 competing teams.

The afternoon was spent in seeing the town and taking in a movie. Lucky for the boys the day was cloudy or there would have been some sunburned tonsils.
