HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

An overpowering house majority last Thursday sped a bond payment bonus bill to the White House, handing to President Roosevelt the politically delicate problem of deciding within ten days whether to let the legislation become law or risk the over-riding of his veto. For 3,500,000 World War veterans, enactment will mean cash for their adjusted service certificates nine years ahead of the present maturity date. For the government, it will pose the question of raising at least $1,000,000,000 at once and $2,491,000,000 eventually. The House overrode the president's veto by a vote of 324 to 61 and the Senate overrode the veto by a vote of 67 to 19 and the president sent orders down the line to pay off the $2,491,000,000 as quickly as accuracy will permit.

New taxes to finance continued federal payments to farmers were definitely projected as a fresh congressional storm sent the administration's AAA substitute bill to drydock for repairs. Senator Borah (R., Idaho) in a (Colliers) magazine article contended that a more equitable distribution of wealth through smashing of monopolies, would constitute the "primary step toward permanent farm recovery—the restoration and maintenance of farm prices for farm products." He asserted that purchasing power of the people would never be restored "while private interests through combinations and agreements fix prices." Borah added: "Give the farmer a fair market—a market in which he can realize the cost of production with reasonable profits—and he will return the check, take back the idle acres, fight for the life of his pigs, and chase away the first representative of bureaucracy appearing at his farm gate, with a pitchfork."

A furious European air armament race, disclosed by Eugene L. Vidal, air commerce bureau chief, in testimony in Washington, is an open secret in informed quarters in London. Authorities said that only an early war or the admittedly dim chances of negotiating an air security pact among Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Russia could halt the mad scramble to maintain armed altitude in the skies. Diplomatic and military observers said they believed Vidal was, if anything, too conservative when he told the house military committee that one European power recently had ordered 1,500 airplanes. An authority told the Associated Press: "That many and probably a good many more than that had been ordered by Great Britain for completion before March 1, 1937."

In a searing denunciation of the administration as faithless to the platform upon which it was elected, Alfred E. Smith gave notice Saturday night he would "take a walk" during the presidential campaign unless Roosevelt policies are repudiated at Philadelphia. There are only two recourses open to "disciples of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland, if the new deal is endorsed in convention," he told the cheering American Liberty League audience. "We can either take on the mantle of hypocrisy or we can take a walk—and we probably will do the latter."

A prediction by Representative Fish (R., N. Y.) that Senator Borah would formally announce his presidential candidacy on February 22, brought from the Idahoan a statement that he hadn't contemplated such a plan. But even as he spoke, Senator Norbeck (R., S. D.) told reporters after a conference with Borah he was authorized to work for South Dakota to send its delegation of eight to the republican convention pledged to Borah. Asked to confirm Fish's statement, Borah said, with a show of impatience, that, while he planned to speak over the radio Feb. 22, he had not said he would then speak of his candidacy. Then with a wry smile and a chuckle he said it seemed that "to be a presidential candidate you have to announce your candidacy every 15 minutes, like a candidate for constable."

Stork Shower

Friday afternoon the basement of the Community Church was the scene of a very lovely surprise shower, given for Mr. T. E. Poindexter.

Allene Rider gave two piano solos, and Mary Elizabeth Thompson sang a lullaby accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ethel Emery, while Mrs. Poindexter opened the gifts.

Tea was served at the close of the afternoon. The hostesses were Mesdames H. B. Thompson, W. A. Watts, W. B. Deobald and W. L. McCreary.

Received Word Of Death Of Brother

M. O. Raby received word the latter part of last week of the death of his brother, Dr. Geo. W. Raby, at Hickory, North Carolina. The doctor was 62 years of age at the time of his death.

He was a typhoid specialist and his territory covered many miles of his section of the country.

There are quite a few ex-residents of North Carolina living in this section of the country who were well acquainted with Dr. Raby and who will be grieved to learn of his death.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF THIS SECTION PASSES

Funeral services for Mrs. Alvira May, 74, widow of the late Frank May, who died Monday afternoon, January 20, at her home on American ridge, were held Thursday morning, January 23, at 11:00 o'clock from the Bethel church, on American ridge, the Rev. Carroll Fairbanks of Moscow, assisted by the Rev. Philip Bray, Jr., pastor of the Bethel church, conducting the services. Mrs. Ira Draper and Mrs. J. O. McComb, accompanied by Mrs. Josephine McComb, sang "When I Get To The End Of The Road," "The Home Eternal," and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Alvira Hobart was born October 27, 1861, in Illinois. She came west with her parents and settled in the Willamette valley in Oregon in 1864, where she resided until 1879, later settling in Moscow, Idaho, with her father and brothers.

On August 20, 1882, she was married to Frank John May and at that time they established their home on Mr. May's pre-emption, the site of the present home.

Of their traveling west across the plains, many interesting facts are told; how they were attacked by Indians and lost their oxen, her father being wounded by the Indians.

Mr. May and an infant daughter preceded her in death. Surviving are one daughter and two sons: Dora G. and Warney H. of Kendrick and Archie of Leland. One brother, Samuel J. Hobart of Moscow, three grandsons, Jack May of Richland, Calif., Walter and Warney of Kendrick, and two great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were George Barnum, Wm. Cox, D. C. Helm, John L. Woody, Chas. Cummings and Frank Roberts. Interment was made in the Moscow cemetery. Miss Dora May was unable to attend the funeral of her mother because of illness.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many neighbors and friends for all the kindnesses and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our mother and sister, Mrs. Frank May, and for the many beautiful floral offerings sent for the funeral. We thank you all.

Miss Dora G. May,
Mr. and Mrs. Warney May,
Mr. and Mrs. Archie May,
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Hobart.

Death Of Mrs. Wiechman

Mrs. Martha Wiechman, 28, wife of Alvin Wiechman, Juliaetta, passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, Saturday morning, January 25.

Mrs. Wiechman was born at Wardenburg, Germany, December 19, 1907. She came to the United States eight years ago. On December 22, 1928, she was married to Alvin Wiechman at Clay Center, Kansas.

She is survived by her husband, who resides at Juliaetta, and her parents and seven brothers and sisters in Germany.

Funeral services were held from the Brower-Wann funeral parlors, at Lewiston, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in Normal Hill cemetery. Rev. E. E. Krebs was the officiating minister.

Bridge Party

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bacharach entertained two tables at bridge Monday evening. A delicious lunch was served at the close of play. High score for the evening was awarded to Mrs. F. H. Rider.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rider and Allene Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

Snow And Cold

Kendrick was visited with its first real snow of the season Sunday night and Monday morning, when some 3 inches fell in the canyon. Tuesday night the mercury dropped to 6 above zero—the same average as our previous cold snap in October.

The Tigers' Lair

By Spool Pumpnickle

The past week-end marked the turning point on the hilltop. Those supporters of the Tigers who had received a set-back in their hopes of seeing a championship team renewed their spirits with assured hopes.

The Tigers regained their playing stride against Genesee on Friday night and continued it on Saturday in the Southwick game played there. Genesee displayed a fine passing attack, but was sadly lacking in the shooting department. Armstrong of Genesee led his teammates in the futile attack on the Tigers' Lair. The half score was 22-4—the final 42-13. Hund and Ramey tied for scoring honors with 13 points each.

The games at Southwick were fast and interesting to watch.

The girls annexed the first game by coming from behind to win 16-22. The boys' game was a whirl of baskets from start to finish. Ramey opened the scoring and did most of it throughout the first half, which ended 16-4. The last half saw a defense which Southwick couldn't crack, and the game ended 36-12. Ramey was high point man with 17.

Kendrick vs. Orofino

In what proved to be one of the most one-sided games played this season, the Kendrick Tigers took the measure of the Orofino team 38-12 in a game played on the home floor Tuesday evening.

The game opened rather slowly, but the Tigers soon found the hoop and drove through counter after counter. Orofino seemed unable to connect and the half ended 25-0.

In the third quarter Orofino made their scoring debut and managed to run up eight points. The Kendrick second team was then given control of the floor and had the game well in hand when it ended 38-12. Ramey was high point man for Kendrick with 17; Hyland and Dickenson for Orofino with 4 each.

Kendrick plays Juliaetta on Friday evening, Jan. 31, at Juliaetta, and Culdesac on Friday, Feb. 7, on the home floor.

HawkShaw On Duty

Due to the excess moisture on the ground connected with a frost in the form of snow, many people have "slipped" up and down the hill. Some people "slipped" also—the following might be noted as examples.

Henderson when he came to the show alone * * * English IV when they started library reference work * * * Schoeffler when he rode home from Southwick in the wrong car * * * glee club tenors on the high notes * * * Abrams and Wallace when they picked up the paper * * * Keene when he couldn't keep score. It looks as if the members of the "2-B" club are running out of needed funds.

It makes no difference who's paying or what inning it is—HawkShaw is always at bat!! — Super-Snooper?

Farmers Bank Hold Annual Meeting

The stockholders of the Farmers Bank met in the banking rooms on Tuesday, January 28. All stockholders were present, with H. M. Emerson of Lewiston, representing A. E. Clarke and the First National Bank. "The bank report shows," says W. J. Carroll, Cashier, "a remarkable growth in the past two years, having more than doubled its resources in the past two years, and is in a very liquid condition, making it possible to pay any or all depositors at any time, having a large surplus of cash and bonds included in their assets."

The stockholders re-elected the old board of directors, the only change being in the vice-presidency, which was held temporarily by Ira Havens. The new board is as follows: Herman Meyer, president; Warney May, vice president; and Thorvald Nelson, Wade T. Keene and Ira Havens making up the balance of the board.

All employees were retained, they being: W. J. Carroll, cashier, R. J. Keller and Allene Rider, assistant cashier.

Kendrick State Bank Elects

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Kendrick State Bank was held last week, when the old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, as follows: Amos Moore, president; N. Brocke, vice-president; H. B. Thompson, cashier, and L. D. Crocker, assistant cashier. In addition to the above the remaining directors are C. W. Moore, John Schwarz and W. W. McAllister.

The bank closed a very successful year and all concerned are reported to be very well satisfied with the progress made. $2,000 was set aside and added to the reserves of the bank. During the past year business of the bank showed substantial increase and deposits showed an increase of 40 per cent.

H. B. Thompson, cashier, reports that the liquidity of the bank is such that every depositor could be paid in full without the calling in of a single loan.

W. W. P. District Manager Visits

C. R. Hunter, Moscow, district manager for the Washington Water Power company, and W. R. Foster of Troy, local manager, were Kendrick visitors last Thursday, when they came to inform users of "juice" that there would be no electricity during Friday forenoon from 8 to 11 o'clock. But this, they reported, would be the last time the juice would be shut off for some time. It all came about on account of the company rebuilding their transmission line between Moscow and Joel and increasing the voltage from 60,000 to 110,000, which necessitated the shutting off of the electricity for the transference of the lines.

While these close-downs are always annoying, they were, in this instance, unavoidable.

Club To Meet

The Women's Republican League will meet with the chairman, Mrs. W. B. Deobald, Wednesday, Feb. 5, at 2 p. m. Bear Creek, Linden and Juliaetta precincts are in its jurisdiction; also part of American ridge is included in the Kendrick precinct.

Thimble Club

The Woodcraft Thimble club met Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Helen Boyd as hostess.

Another "Black Widow"

When our last "widow" cashed in last fall we were sure we were out of the spider business for good and all, but the other day a very fine specimen of the species was brought to this office by workers on the new waterworks ditch, the "varmint" having been uncovered by Sid LaHatt. It is indeed a fine, lively specimen of the deadly insect. However, it was a little groggy when first brought to this office as it had been put in a cigarette package wrapping and evidently was not used to the brand the package represented.

MAY ORGANIZE WPA NOXIOUS WEED PROGRAM

Moscow—Latah county commissioners met with H. L. Spence, Boise, extension agronomist Thursday afternoon to organize the works progress administration's noxious weed control project for this county.

Work must be started not later than March 1 in all counties. The tentative allotment of $25,500 has been made to Latah county. Similar allotments have been made to other counties in relation to the extent of work necessary. If some counties fail to use the entire amount allotted to them, it will be available for use by other counties.

A supervisor and foreman for this county will be chosen from men not on the WPA roll, but all unskilled labor will be taken from regular WPA rolls. In counties where there is a shortage of WPA labor, workers may be taken from other counties. "We want to start working in as many sectors of each county as possible," said Mr. Spence, "so that if the project is cut off, all parts of the county will have benefited from it."

The rigid regulations of WPA have been modified to allow 40.6 per cent of the allotment to be spent for materials, and the remaining 59.4 per cent for labor. The money may be used for work on private property.

"Latah county is not nearly as badly infested with noxious weeds as many of the counties," said Mr. Spence, "but nevertheless, these weeds are a serious problem."

The county commissioners are heartily in favor of the program he said. They are making definite plans for carrying out the project.

"This project is the first of its kind to be undertaken in the United States, and it is the first weed project of any kind in Idaho in which the entire cost has not been paid by the landowner," Mr. Spence said.

Mrs. Emma Duntz Brown Passes

Mrs. Emma Duntz Brown passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Liddie Ameling, in Kendrick, on Friday, January 24, 1936. She was born September 28, 1862, in Cedar County, Iowa, and died at the age of 73 years, three months and 26 days. Mrs. Brown was one of 13 children.

In the year 1880, as Emma Duntz, she was married to Joseph E. Brown. To this union, two children were born, Eorge and Rose. Her husband and son preceded her in death.

Mrs. Brown had been in ill health for many years and for the last six years has made her home with Mrs. Ameling, coming here from Los Angeles, Calif. All this time she had been a patient and cheerful sufferer and had endeared herself to everyone who knew her.

She leaves to mourn her passing, a daughter, Mrs. Rose Doran, Los Angeles, Calif., five grandchildren (two in Los Angeles and three in Detroit, Mich.), four sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Community church, Rev. T. E. Poindexter delivering the sermon. Burial was made in the American ridge cemetery. Pallbearers were W. A. Watts, E. A. Deobald, Lester Crocker, Ward T. Howell, Harley Eichner and George Brocke.

Card of Thanks

GRAIN MARKETS QUIET—FEED GRAINS IN DEMAND

Domestic grain markets were rather quiet during the week ended January 24, with prices fluctuating within narrow ranges, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Severe weather throughout the central west sharply reduced country marketings and market receipts fell off materially. Demand remained dull for wheat, but inquiry for feed grains was stimulated somewhat by the cold and snow which increased feed needs.

The general wheat situation turned slightly weaker toward the close of the week, with foreign markets influenced by large new shipments from Australia and liberal offerings from Canada. Light Argentine shipments, however, and uncertain northern hemisphere new crop prospects, tended to support prices. Clearances from Australia were unusually heavy for this time of year and totaled 3,845,000 bushels. Argentine shipments on the other hand, were at a record low and totaled only 436,000 bushels, making a total of slightly less than 3,000,000 bushels since the first of January, compared with nearly 15,000,000 bushels shipped during the corresponding period last year. Australian growers were reported offering remaining supplies sparingly and all prices remained firm with CIF quotations on Australian wheat at Liverpool only about 1½¢ below those for No. 2 Canadian Manitoba. The Canadian wheat board continued to offer supplies freely and with some slackening in export demand prices at Winnipeg declined during the week, with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted January 24 at 84½¢ per bushel. Revised figures place the 1935 Canadian wheat crop at 277,339,000 bushels and with the carryover of 203,231,000 bushels, gives a total supply of 480,570,000 bushels this season, compared with 469,839,000 bushels for the 1934-35 crop year.

Winter grains in the northern hemisphere went into winter in only fair shape, with conditions recently reported generally below those of the corresponding period a year ago. Disappearances of domestic wheat has apparently been more rapid this season since stocks outside of commercial mills at the first of January were slightly smaller than a year ago, whereas supplies at the beginning of the season were about 12,000,000 bushels larger than a year earlier. Country mill and elevator stocks at the first of January totaled 76,788 bushels and with farm and market stocks give a total supply of 314,622,000 bushels, not including merchant mill stocks, compared with 320,586,000 bushels in these positions a year ago.

Trading was generally dull in domestic cash wheat markets, with mills supplying only current needs which were somewhat restricted by the limited demand for flour. Market receipts decreased with severe weather but offerings were generally sufficient for current trade needs.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were generally quiet with little change in prices. Denver mills were bidding $1.06 per bushel for No. 2 northern spring. Mills at Ogden were offering 79¢ for No. 2 soft white, 97¢ for No. 2 hard white and No. 2 northern spring and 93¢ for No. 2 hard winter, FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

At Portland soft wheats sold at 87¢ to 88¢ per bushel for No. 1 sacked, with high protein hard white quoted at $1.24 and dark hard winter at $1.14 per bushel. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals increased slightly with a total of 519 cars but arrivals were principally on earlier sales and little new business was reported. Local milling inquiry was dull and sales to outside points were restricted by unsettled labor conditions in the shipping industry. At Seattle, western white, western red and hard winter were quoted at 87½¢ and hard white (baart) at $1.24 per bushel, sacked.

California markets were firm but trading was light. Marketings were relatively small but sufficient for trade needs. Milling demand in the Bay region was only moderate because of the dull flour demand, while inquiry for feed wheat slackened.

Oats markets tended upward with corn and other grains, reflecting the heavier feeding resulting from recent extreme cold weather. Pacific Northwest markets were only moderately active but the firm holding tendency of growers largely offset the

Money Well Spent
It is hinted that the theatrical world is not entirely satisfied with the federal Theater Project of the Works Progress Administration. But there is still time for Mr. Wallace to take hold, and pay the producers a bounty for not producing plays. And even the bitterest critics of the New Deal might be inclined to say that the money for such bounties would often be well spent.

The burglar had evidently made good his escape after assaulting the officer as no trace of him was found after other officers had been summoned and a search was made. Some $20 in five-cent pieces was found outside the rear door on F street.

Idaho Sales Tax Raise $2,000,000
Ben Diefendorf, state commissioner of finance, estimated that Idaho's 2 per cent retail sales tax will produce more than $2,000,000 during 1936. During the time it was in operation in 1935, from March 2 to December 31, it produced $1,513,506. The law, which expires automatically in 1937, provides that $1,200,000 of receipts from it, or "so much of that amount as may be needed," shall go for relief, after that the public school income fund gets $100,000. If Diefendorf's prediction is correct there then will be a balance of $700,000 at the end of 1936. This must be divided equally between the public school income fund and the general fund. An attack on the law is now pending in the supreme court.

U' Of I. Poultry Short Course
Idaho's eleventh annual poultry short course, intended to benefit beginners as well as experienced poultrymen, will be held at the university's poultry plant in Moscow January 30 and 31, reports Prof. C. E. Lampman, head of the poultry department. The two-day program will deal specifically with problems commonly encountered by those engaged in poultry keeping. Economy in production, including low feed cost, reduced mortality, thorough sanitation and disease control and efficient management practices will be featured throughout the course. Instructors will be Prof. C. E. Lampman and J. K. Williams of the poultry department staff; Dr. E. M. Gildow, Idaho experiment station veterinarian; and Dr. G. L. Dunlap, assistant bacteriologist or the experiment station staff. Topics they will discuss include: Recent developments in Industry, Balanced Ration for Layers, Managing the Laying Flock, Selecting Layers and Breeders, Producing Profitable Pullets, Control of Pullorum Disease, Better Houses for Bigger Profits, When Is an Egg Fresh and Common Causes of Disease Losses.

Death Of Mother
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson and Mary Elizabeth and John Brewster went to Pullman Tuesday, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Thompson's mother, Mrs. Inez Amanda Thompson, who passed away at her home at Pullman on Saturday, January 25. Had she lived until February 26 she would have been 81 years of age. While she had been almost an invalid for the past six years, pneumonia was the immediate cause of death.

I. O. O. F. Meeting
The regular meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge will be held Saturday night in Fraternal Temple hall. "Today a fortune teller told me that we would be married." "How foolish; I could have told you that long ago."

PORCUPINE CONTROL WORK IN NATIONAL FORESTS
Region One of the National forests is taking steps to reduce within its boundaries the only "pine" crop, the production of which is so prolific as to cause extensive timber losses. It also causes deaths among young stock. The offender is the porcupine. Control measures to reduce their numbers are under way this winter on the Helena, Custer, and Lewis and Clark national forests. Similar measures were taken a year ago on the Helena, Deerledge, Gallatin, and Absaroka forests, and previous to that on the Custer forest. Timber losses in Montana chargeable to porcupines are about equal to the toll taken by fire in the Treasure State, and the animals are more particular where they conduct their depredations than are flames. Porcupines prefer to work among thrifty young timber stands, climbing to a height of six or eight feet and girdling the trees; that is, consuming a strip of bark all around each tree. Thus they kill vast numbers of young trees in the finest stands, in some of which fully a quarter of them have been thus girdled. Young stock, curious by nature find the porcupine a hard task-master, and many instances have been reported wherein the sting of porcupine's quills has led to deaths of colts, calves and lambs. For many years the porcupine has been respected as man's friend. The belief has been that the porcupine is protected by law because it is the only animal that can be killed by a person lost in the woods and armed with no weapon other than a stick. Thus, the wanderer would have meat to prevent starvation. No such incident has ever occurred in Montana, so far as can be determined. In the meantime, the porcupine goes blithely on his way, increasing in numbers and levying heavy toll on mankind as payment for his supposed benefactions.

Idaho Liquor Revenue $211,274
State Auditor Harry C. Parsons reported that the state liquor law produced a dividend of $211,274 for the state during the eight months it was in operation in 1935. Of the total, $52,818 will go to the general fund; another $52,818 to the public school income fund and $105,831 to the counties. Idaho's public schools were enriched by $512,000. Of this amount $159,550 was produced by the state sales tax law which became operative nine months ago. The schools also received $52,818 from the liquor commission's 1935 profits tonight and $300,326 from the endowment fund, one of the principal sources of income for many years. The $512,000 will be allocated by John W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, to the various counties within a few days.

Underwent Major Operation
Mrs. Geo. Brocke underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday morning. At last reports she was getting along nicely.

Things have come to this: A diligent working man manages to save up $100 and set up a peanut and popcorn stand. Immediately he is singled out as a "capitalist" and "extortionist" and is made the subject of attack by political yawpers, communist agitators and tax eaters and is fortunate if he manages to save the peanut roaster and corn popper.

GRAIN MARKETS QUIET—FEED GRAINS IN DEMAND

slow demand and prices held practically unchanged from a week ago. Pacific Northwestern barley markets displayed a firm tone although trading was of only moderate volume. Consumption at country points continued heavy with the movement from producing to consuming areas reflected in light offerings at terminal markets. Offerings of California feeding types slackened, influenced by the unsettled labor conditions in the shipping industry. At the close of the week No. 2 bright western was quoted at Portland at $1.15 per 100, with No. 2 bright western from eastern Washington quoted at Seattle at $1.20 per 100 pounds.

Two headquarters were opened in Chicago Saturday to press the campaign of Senator William E. Borah for president.

Borah's midwestern candidacy will be launched February 22, his managers revealed, at a banquet which will be conducted as a general patriotic day demonstration on Washington's birthday.

B. C. Lauterbach, formerly of Kendrick, director of the Borah activity club, said the banquet would serve to raise funds to support the Borah campaign.

IDAHO TO HAVE FIRST AID STATIONS ON HIGHWAYS

In its nationwide campaign to prevent the terrific loss of life in all accidents, the American Red Cross has opened or projected 302 Emergency First Aid stations on the highways in the Pacific states, A. L. Schafer, area manager, announced. Throughout the nation the Red Cross highway first aid stations now number 1400.

Schafer said: "The year 1936 opens with Red Cross volunteers everywhere mobilizing to have a part in the national movement to reduce to a minimum these fatal accidents. Men and women are being trained by Red Cross chapters in first aid technique. Physicians and lay instructors are giving many hours of their time, are traveling long distances to reach remote points, including service stations, resorts or inns. Each Emergency First Aid station must have at least two Red Cross First Aid trained personnel.

"The record shows 64 of these emergency first aid stations are open in the Pacific area and 238 more will be open just as soon as persons operating them complete their training. Red Cross chapters reporting stations opened include: Arizona, 1; California, 30; Idaho, 1; Oregon, 8; Utah 5 and Washington 19.

"Projected stations include: California, 79; Idaho, 35; Oregon, 67; Utah, 8 and Washington 49.

"At the same time Red Cross chapters are carrying on the year 'round program for the prevention of home and farm accidents by the elimination of the scores of hazards which cause them. In the Pacific area, 286 Red Cross chapters thus far have named special chairmen of Home and Farm Accident Prevention Committees.

"Home and farm accidents, as well as highway accidents, are receiving attention from all Red Cross chapters. Chairman Grayson, at Washington, D. C., announces that thus far 2305 chairmen have been appointed to carry on aggressive campaigns for accident prevention."

Will Receive Checks By Mail

Idaho's WPA workers will receive their checks from mail carriers and through the postoffice in the future instead of from paymasters, it is announced by O. K. Hine, director of finance and reports.

Hine said the change will speed up delivery of checks to the workers by "several days" and will reduce the hardships which delays have brought to workers because of the geographical isolation and wide area Idaho covers.

Timekeepers are adding addresses of workers to their time sheets in anticipation of the change which is effective immediately.

Paymasters have been forced to travel from 100 to 500 miles from district offices at Boise, Pocatello and Coeur d'Alene to deliver checks to workers on some projects. The delay has brought hardships to workers who have had long waits between pay days.

Experience has taught us that the postman can deliver checks to workers faster than paymasters. The majority of other western states with geographical conditions and areas similar to Idaho's have found the method satisfactory."

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

Robert Harrington is visiting relatives in Lewiston.

Merton Preussler went to Orofino to have his tonsils removed last Thursday. He is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Preussler and Marie were dinner guests at the Harrington home Sunday.

Little Doris Van Airdale has been quite ill the past week, but is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schliefer spent Thursday evening at the R. E. Brock home.

Charles Sewell has moved his family down to the Zinn place near the Sunnyside schoolhouse.

Mrs. Harless and children enjoyed dinner at the Joe Choate home.

Miss Della Herring is visiting in Juliaetta for a few days.

While cat hunting along the North Fork breaks last Friday Fred Schliefer shot a lynx—not a direct hit as the first shot left the beast stunned. Fred conceived the idea of bringing the cat home alive. Restraining his bloodhound, he proceeded to tie a loop around the animal's neck with his gun strap. However, the proverbial "slip twist the cup and the lip" intervened, when the lynx regained consciousness premature to the completion of the operation. Thereupon followed a hand-to-hand combat involving man, dog and lynx. In his haste Schliefer had neglected to untie more than one end of his rifle strap and in the melee the rifle proved quite elusive. For a minute the outcome seemed decidedly unpredictable, with dog and man above board one minute and cat topside the next. By a lucky grab Fred got hold of his Springfield and dispatched his prey. He escaped with a few scratches, the hound, however, was less fortunate.

CLEARWATER FOREST CLOSED TO TRAPPING

The Clearwater national forest in Idaho, long a prolific field for trappers from western Montana and northern Idaho, has been closed to trapping by order of A. H. Eckert, Idaho state game warden.

This action was taken to protect the few fur-bearing animals which remain in the area, and to permit them to increase in numbers to a point where they may again become an important resource of northern Idaho.

The acute situation with regard to fur bearers which has arisen in the Clearwater forest was brought to light by the game studies conducted a year ago by Region One of the national forests. It was determined that red fox, mink and marten were so few as to approach extinction, while other species of fur bearers have suffered serious depletion.

The area covered by the game from a line about 23 miles east of Orofino, Idaho, from Woodrat mountain on the south to the Little North Fork of the Clearwater river on the north. East of that line, the closed area includes the entire drainage of the Clearwater river except the Little North Fork. The Musselshell and Lolo creek drainages, and that part of the Lochsa river drainage bounded by the ridges leading to the Frenchman butte, McLendon butte, and Huckleberry butte, thence following the Lizard creek watercourse to the big bend of the north fork of the Moose creek where the stream bends to the northeast. From the head of the north fork of the Moose creek, the boundary swings along the ridge to Bear mountain, down to Postoffice creek. From there the line passes over Grave Butte to the Clearwater drainage at the Lolo trail.

"The happenings in the Clearwater national forest are a first-class illustration of what Region One is trying to avoid through its efforts to promote sound game management," said Glen A. Smith, assistant regional forester in charge of range and game management. "The game studies now under way will make even more clear the need for methods which will foster the use without depletion to the game resources of Region One's forests. Through adequate planning and administration, the productivity of game can be maintained at a high rate on a stabilized basis."

U. S. Senators Swig $7,000

The senate spent more than $7,000 for mineral water in the last fiscal year and $670 for paper cups.

Total senate expenditures, shown today by annual report of Col. Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the body, were $3,296,852.

This included $923,138 for senate salaries; $34,880 for mileage or senatorial traveling expenses; $14,437 for the vice president's salary; $1,573,683 for salaries of officers and employees; $48,955 to pay capitol police, and $701,756 for contingent expenses.

The last total covered the most interesting terms. It included $236,000 for the senate's famous investigations; and the funds for mineral water, which was used to quench the thirst not only of senators, but of employes and newspapermen.

There was also an item of $2 to buy two tires for Vice President Garner's chauffeur, and $2.98 for a pair of gloves. Cheese cloth and cleaning fluid to keep the big new car shiny cost $2.75.

The legislative counsel, lawyers who draw up bills, cost $23,242. Reporting of the Long senate debates required $57,323.

The telephone costs ranged from $2,000 to more than $3,000 a month; ice cost from a little less than $100 a month to several hundred; thousands of dollars were paid for official telegrams; such items as $31.98 for "laundering 5,814 towels for the U. S. senate" appeared over and over again.

There was less evidence of nepotism than in previous years.

Only 14 employes were shown to be working with senators of the same name.

War On Predatory Animals

Idaho started war on predatory animals and rodents this week as 75 trappers and 75 rodent control workers entered every county of the state with traps and bait under a WPA project which will spend $117,076 of federal money and $20,800 sponsored by the state predatory animal board.

Stockmen's associations and the biological survey will cooperate in operating the project, George W. Kerr, acting district agent, said. Sponsors will contribute a carload of traps, trucks and all the trap line equipment.

Besides moving predatory animals and rodents, the project provides jobs for many isolated relief workers who would be unable to work elsewhere on distant projects, L. J. Hood, WPA administrator said.

Kerr said rodent control work would be concentrated on elimination of rabbits during the winter months as a follow-up to drouth projects of a year ago. Gophers, squirrels and rock chuck elimination drives will be started later in the spring.

Coyotes, bobcats and mountain lions are prey marked for the 75 trappers now in the field, Kerr said. These are distributed in nearly every county in the state. Idaho county, because of its large area and inaccessible mountainous sections, has three trappers in the hills. Other counties have from one to two.

The war on predatory animals will do much to reduce losses of livestock producers on mountain and desert ranges.
