COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS INTERESTING SESSION

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held in the dining room of the Raby Hotel Monday evening with 16 interested citizens present at dinner, which was served at 6:30 by Mrs. Minnie McCoy and her aides. After justice had been done to the splendid meal, business of the evening was taken up.

There were several committee heads missing for one reason or another and but few reports were made, but there were several discussions which were well worth the time spent talking them over. The meeting was more in the nature of a round-table affair.

One of the most important things to be discussed, of course, was highway affairs and N. E. Walker, chairman of the Highway committee of the Kendrick Commercial club, stated that work would soon be started on the Cedar creek road; that the reason of delay is on account of the non-arrival of the large shovel, which, it seems, had to be O. K.'d at Washington. The compressor is here and ready to go, necessary repairs have been made to the crusher; WPA tools have been received, as have the necessary corrugated culverts for use along the road. Also gas, oil and powder have been contracted for.

Wade Keene, chairman of the Agricultural committee, stated that a move is on foot for a WPA project in the control of noxious weeds and that the county agent, county commissioners and the government would have a hand in the affair and that the government would pay practically all the costs. It would seem that this would be a mighty good time for farmers whose farms are infested with morning glory and other noxious weeds to get rid of them.

Marvin Long, of the Fish and Game committee, stated that the fish and game situation looked very discouraging and that we would undoubtedly get our share of fingerlings and game birds at the proper time. Mr. Long, as chairman, was authorized to buy necessary feed for game birds.

James Lyle, Jr., chairman of the Educational committee, gave a very favorable report of school conditions in Kendrick. He also stated that all basketball (conference) games had been postponed on account of various contagious diseases being prevalent in some of the conference schools and that the games would be played at Lewiston February 27-28 and 29, with the tournament also held at Lewiston March 4 to 7, inclusive.

The cannery question was again brought up and discussed at some length, some being of the opinion that a small vegetable cannery could be made to pay here—one that could can vegetables of all kinds, fruits—and beans. The Commercial club went on record as being willing to sponsor such a movement and the question was left in the hands of the Industrial committee, which is composed of M. O. Raby, chairman; Everett Crocker and R. L. Blewett.

Edgar Long, who has charge of the WPA crew putting in the new water pipe, stated that he now has 18 men on his list and that satisfactory progress is being made—but they would have to hurry a little as the time limit expires the first of May.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned to meet again on Monday evening, March 9—and we sincerely hope that more of the business men of Kendrick will remember the date than has been the case for the past few months. Come out and do your share and say your say—it might help some, and also might relieve you a lot.

Walter Sewell On Program

Walter Sewell of Orofino, who went to New York about a month ago to appear on Maj. Bowes' amateur hour over the radio, was heard last Sunday afternoon, when he gave several of his hundreds of imitations of wild animals and birds—all time would permit. The entire program is enjoyed each Sunday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock, and Mr. Sewell's part of last Sunday's program was all the more enjoyed because he was from Idaho.

News Snowed Under

The Gazette is the least bit short of real news this week, owing to the fact that most of our country correspondents are snowed-in and the folks in town are frozen-up—leastwise they are not stirring around a great deal. When the snow begins to move perhaps some news will flow out with it.

Eight-Eight Club Entertain

Thursday evening of last week, at the home of Mrs. Ethel Emery, the Eight-Eight Bridge club enjoyed a sumptuous 6:30 dinner, after which bridge was played at four tables.

This was the regular dinner given after the first round of entertaining, the scores for this round were as follows: Mrs. D. A. Christensen was high for the ladies, Mr. F. B. Higley was high for the men, and Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen held high family score.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. J. M. Lyle Jr., Mrs. W. B. Deobold, Mrs. Helen Boyd and Mrs. Ethel Emery. High score for the evening was awarded to Mrs. W. B. Deobold for the ladies and J. M. Lyle for the men. Low scores went to Mrs. F. B. Higley and Lester Crocker. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary were invited guests for the evening.

F. M. LONG AGAIN MADE DIRECTOR WALTON LEAGUE

Moscow—All present officers of the Izaak Walton league were re-elected at the league's annual meeting and oyster supper Tuesday evening of last week at Odd Fellow hall. They are: R. H. Oldenburg, president; Raymond Snyder, vice president; Lester Roberts, secretary; Hawkin Melgard, treasurer; and Clarence Jenks, Dr. W. M. Wygant, Potlatch, F. M. Long, Kendrick, directors.

Pheasant holding pens to be built here, and other conservation projects are drawing nearer to realization, Fred Stone, fish and game committee chairman for the chapter, reported following a conference with Claude Drake, State fish and game commissioner.

Construction will start this spring under the WPA sponsorship, being expected to furnish work for 12 men 60 days. The Walton league will furnish posts and wire, the WPA the labor.

With construction of a $45,000 game farm in Southern Idaho, birds raised at the Lapwai farm will be released exclusively in Northern counties, Mr. Stone reported. Men from this area will be among 40 to be given WPA work in construction of a fish hatchery at Boyd creek, below Selway falls in the Selway forest.

The president named Les Stewart chairman of the prize committee for the sportsmen's banquet, to be held this spring. A general committee meeting is promised for the next week, Howard Short, general chairman, said.

Start For Canadian Home

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bleck and baby of Foremost, Alberta, Canada left Monday on the first leg of their homeward journey, via Spokane, where they expect to visit relatives and friends until about March 1, when they will continue their journey homeward. They have been visiting relatives and old-time friends in Kendrick and at Cameron.

Mr. Bleck says the farmers in his section of Alberta are not complaining; that they have been doing very well and are satisfied. (That must be a wonderful feeling.)

They were accompanied to Spokane by Lou Daugherty, who had spent the past month visiting here.

First Big Egg

While we hadn't figured on starting our annual big egg contest quite so soon, yet we have a good one to start out with, sent in by Mrs. A. W. Schultz of Cameron, the "berry" measuring 61-16 by 79-16, which makes a very good start for this season of the year.

The contest will be on from now until May 30 and the reward for the largest egg will be a six months subscription to the Gazette. In case of a tie, each will be given a six months subscription. So bring or send in your big eggs—have them measured and take them back home with you if you like.

Winter Has Arrived

We are now having our long-delayed spell of real winter weather, with snow falling almost every day, although the mercury is remaining fairly high at present. Friday night of last week the mercury took a nose-dive and did not stop until it had reached 10 degrees below zero and it flirted with the zero mark for several nights thereafter.

About the first thing to expect after the weather turns warm will be a large amount of water coming down the old Potlatch. Better be prepared for such an eventuality.

ALBERTA'S NEW SOCIAL CREDIT PARLIAMENT OPENS

Alberta's legislature, the world's only social credit parliament, was told at its opening session that the government would seek economic reconstruction through establishment of the social credit plan.

The speech from the throne, read by W. L. Walsh, lieutenant governor, said "a measure leading to the formulation and adoption of a plan based upon the principals of social credit will be submitted for your consideration."

"Solution of economic problems offers a challenge to the Canadian democracy which has attracted worldwide attention," the lieutenant governor read, "and I am confident the citizens of Alberta will support my government in this endeavor."

"Provision of adequate seed and feed supplies for needy farmers, stabilization of agriculture by improving prices, and careful administration of direct relief" were cited as necessities.

"Government revenues may decline still further," the speech warned, "and direct agricultural relief demands may increase."

No legislation for payment of social credit dividends—a feature plank in the platform of premier Aberhart—is expected this year.

The basis of Alberta's system of social credit as announced in his campaign was the monthly payment of $25 to every adult and smaller sums to every child in the province. It would not be in cash but in non-negotiable credit certificates, having the same backing as bonds. With these, Aberhart explained, a man could pay his grocer or any one else to whom he owed money.

Aberhart, former Calgary high school teacher and evangelist, swept the United Farmers of Alberta from office with his campaign. Backers of social credit, claim the basis of the depression lies in the fact that the gross income of Canadians does not equal national production and their solution is the bonus to every citizen.

No mention was made in the speech from the throne of a system of retail codes now being planned.

Since no speaker has been elected, there was no presiding officer when the speech from the throne was read. The house, composed mostly of business and professional men, elected in a sweeping political turnover last August, is entirely new. None of the 55 members has ever occupied a seat in the legislature before.

Let's Get One

Boise—Idaho towns and cities soon may be enjoying free concerts by bands and symphony orchestras composed of players paid federal wages ranging from $44 to $59 monthly.

A music project will be set up immediately by the federal works progress administration in Idaho if sufficient talent can be found to qualify among the state's needy, Frank P. Baird, WPA director of education, said.

Musicians qualified for band, orchestra, instrumental or vocal ensembles, music librarians, copyists, binders, piano tuners and musical instrument repairers may appear in the project, Baird said.

Van Vlack To Hang

Douglas Van Vlack of Tacoma was sentenced Tuesday afternoon to be hanged at the Idaho state penitentiary in Boise, on Friday, April 3.

Van Vlack, convicted last Saturday of the first degree murder of his former wife, Mildred Hook, received the sentence with the same stolidity that has characterized him almost constantly since the start of his imprisonment and trial.

More Decorations

Art Perryman took time off long enough this week from carrying in wood for his place of business to put up a few very pretty flower and vine decorations and put in place a couple of palm trees (which he said grew in Chicago) to make customers feel at home and give them an atmosphere of summer, even though snow is falling in great heaps on the outside.

Robins Misdread

There is no question but that someone put up a "tall one" about the fine weather we were having up in this part of the country when the robins left their home in the southland and winged their way north. They are here in large numbers and should be fed. A piece of stuet on a string tied to a tree makes excellent feed for them.

LATAH COUNTY VETS WILL RECEIVE $225,000

If a recent unofficial survey has produced reliable figures, Latah county war veterans will be eligible to receive about $225,000 in bonus money when the federal government's baby bond payment plan goes into effect June 15.

The Latah survey, sponsored by the veterans of the county, resulted in the finding of approximately 450 men who hold adjusted service certificates. Each certificate, the survey revealed, has an average value of about $500 when the money which has been borrowed against the certificate has been deducted. Latah veterans have calculated $500 to be the average amount borrowed against each $1,000 adjusted certificate.

The payment plan, a compromise bill among three leading veterans' groups, provides that all loans against the certificates are to be deducted from its face value—the sum remaining to be paid off in $50 bonds, non-negotiable but cashable at any U. S. postoffice. The values of few certificates however are exact multiples of $50; the fractions remaining will, in each case, be paid in cash along with the baby bonds at the time the latter are issued to the certificate holders.

Veterans of the county have an alternative to calling for the payment of their bonus in the form of baby bonds. They may merely hold their adjusted service certificates, which will begin to draw interest June 15, 1937, and continue to do so until June 15, 1945—the date of maturity for both the baby bonds and the certificates.

The service certificates became "adjusted" about twelve years ago, according to Howard Staples, local commander of the American Legion's second district in Idaho.

"The amount of bonus which was to become payable to a veteran in 1934," said Mr. Staples, "was figured from the number of days he had been employed in the service. Days spent abroad were placed at a higher premium than services at home. A certificate held by an older man, too, was placed at a higher face value than one owned by a younger veteran."

A large proportion of Latah veterans saw service abroad, according to registered membership in the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Although 218 veterans are members of the V. F. W., local officials declare that even that number does not include all the men in the country who served in foreign lands.

Figures are unavailable, according to Mr. Staples, to show by how much money the state will be enriched through the baby bond plan.

"The recent executive meeting in Boise of the American Legion districts estimated that it would cost $18,000 to finance a complete survey of the bonus situation throughout the state," stated the district commander. "The war organizations don't feel capable of affording this amount. Consequently we do not know the number of veterans in the entire state or the average value of their service certificates."—Moscow Star-Mirror

A Correction

In giving an account last week of the serious injury to Claud Stanton near Los Angeles, in quoting from a Seattle paper, we gave the name of "Mr. Eichner" when it should have read "Mr. Stanton, who had been on duty with the marines in Honolulu, was on his way to Seattle to join his wife."

We are always glad to correct errors when they are brought to our attention, because we know when these things are noticed that people read the Gazette. However, we are sorry the error occurred and gladly make the correction.

Word was received Tuesday by Mrs. Eichner that her brother, Claude Stanton, is holding his own and perhaps gaining a little, but that the crisis would not be reached until this Friday.

His relatives and friends here are all hoping for his full recovery.

Honoring Dr. Naismith

The basketball game Friday evening at the High school gym. will be in honor of Dr. James A. Naismith of the University of Kansas, originator of the game of basketball, who designed the game in 1891.

In appreciation of this work, schools all over the nation are raising a fund to send Dr. Naismith to the Olympic games in Germany this year.

Oscar Hartung Ill

Oscar Hartung is confined to his bed with a severe case of pneumonia.

New County Agent

The board of county commissioners on Monday of this week appointed G. T. McAlexander of St. Maries county agent to succeed L. V. Benjamin, who resigned some time ago to take a position with the Soil Conservation service.

Mr. McAlexander is at present county agent for Benewah county, but plans to bring his family to Moscow about February 20, when he will take over the work of his new position in Latah county.

The selection of the new county agent was made by the commissioners and the extension department of the university in cooperation. Under a new plan the extension department will pay the salary of the agent, the county to pay his costs of travel about the county, explained Mr. Blane. Mr. McAlexander comes to Latah county highly recommended, he said.

ZIEMANN BROS. STORE AT SOUTHWICK FIRE LOSS

Ziemann Bros. store at Southwick, one of the pioneer mercantile establishments of the Potlatch section, was completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Monday night, February 10. The fire was discovered at about 9:45 p. m., and by midnight only a heap of smoldering embers marked the spot of this big firm.

The fire apparently started in the back part of store, near no fire, and Dan Ziemann, manager, could advance no cause for its start. At the time it was discovered it was so far advanced that entry to the store was impossible, and the fate of the many records kept in the building, was still in doubt.

As the flames advanced they reached the ammunition department, and a miniature Fourth of July celebration was soon under way, with pieces of the high-power rifle shells being thrown 100 feet or more, and the .22 ammunition and shotgun shells furnished the minor explosions.

As the flames advanced toward the front of the building the big gasoline storage tank buried underground caught fire and furnished a flaming torch, the blaze shooting from 10 to 15 feet into the air. No explosion occurred, however.

The postoffice building, situated about 100 feet away, was hurriedly stripped of its contents, in the fear that the flames might reach it, but owing to an absence of wind, this was saved, and its furniture restored early Tuesday morning.

At the time of going to press the future plans of the firm have not been announced.

32 Punished For Forest Fires

During the year just ended, violations of smoking and campfire regulations in Region One of the National Forests cost 32 persons more than $300 in fines as well as a number of jail sentences for the most part were suspended upon payment of the fines. Prosecutions were in state courts, under the State laws of Idaho or Montana, in whichever State the offense was committed.

There were 18 convictions of persons who had failed to extinguish campfires before leaving them, and 14 were convicted of violating the smoking regulations (the Idaho law prohibits the throwing of lighted cigarettes or similar burning matter in forested area).

The largest number of cases, eight was reported by the St. Joe National Forest in northern Idaho, and the fines totaled $95. The Bitterroot National Forest had the greatest total of fines, $150, from four cases. The Bitterroot Forest's cases arose from acts committed in the Idaho portion of the Forest.

Enforcement of smoker and campfire regulations during the dangerous season in the Forests is an important step in prevention of forest fires, not only on National Forest lands but on State and private holdings. It frequently has been pointed out that the precautions to prevent smoker and camper-caused fires are so simple that it is regrettable that prosecutions should be necessary to reduce man-caused forest fires.

Afternoon Bridge Party

Mrs. W. L. McCreary entertained the Afternoon Bridge club Thursday afternoon. Bridge was played at four tables after which refreshments were served.

High score for the afternoon was awarded to Mrs. Roy Raney. The invited guests were: Mesdames Roy Backarach, J. M. Lyle Jr., Lester Crocker, W. B. Deobold, and J. H. Cairns.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. H. B. Thompson.

FEED GRAIN BARELY STEADY DESPITE SEVERE WEATHER

Domestic grain markets were generally inactive during the first week in February, with severe weather restricting marketings, but failing materially to stimulate demand, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat declined 1c to 2c per bushel, reflecting principally weakness in foreign markets, but domestic inquiry was slow with light current offerings were fully sufficient for trade needs. Feed grains were barely steady despite heavier feeding as a result of continued severe cold weather. Corn held about unchanged with receipts and market demand both only moderate. Oats remained dull and price changes were unimportant. Barley suitable for malting was in good request at steady prices, while feed types sold fairly well at last weeks values.

Slow demand abroad continued the dominating influence in the wheat situation. Limited takings by European deficit areas reflected in lower prices at Liverpool, Winnipeg and in turn at domestic markets, despite reduced supplies in surplus producing countries, particularly the Southern Hemisphere, offerings appeared somewhat in excess of trade needs. World stocks at the first of February were apparently about 300,000,000 bushels under those of a year ago. Supplies in the United States were about 7,000,000 bushels smaller than at the first of January a year earlier. Merchant mill stocks including grain stored for others, totaled 105,176,000 bushels and mill and elevator stocks 76,788,000 bushels. These with the quantity on farms and in terminal markets, gave a total supply of 419,798,000 bushels, compared with 426,978,000 bushels at the first of January, 1935.

Canadian supplies at the first of January totaled around 315,000,000 bushels compared with 335,000,000 bushels a year earlier. Stocks in deficit European countries appeared to be around 120,000,000 bushels smaller at the first of February than at the corresponding date last year.

Domestic cash wheat markets weakened with prices down 1c to 2c from a week ago. Marketings remained relatively light, but milling inquiry was slow. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaled 431 cars, mostly of light weight wheat. The test weight of the Minneapolis receipts averaged 50.7 lbs. or about the same as in recent weeks.

Durum declined about 1c per bushel, influenced principally by competition from Canadian offerings. Trade reports indicate purchases of around 250,000 bushels of Canadian Durum during the past two weeks for immediate rail shipments to Duluth, Minneapolis and interior mills. At the close of the week, No. 2 Amber Durum, ordinary milling quality, was quoted at Minneapolis at 6c to 17c over the Duluth May price of $1.01 per bushel.

Receipts of Winter wheat dropped to 713 cars at the principal terminals as a result of unfavorable weather for country marketings. Farmers were reported offering more freely however, with the approach of tax assessment time.

At Chicago, No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.10—1.17½, with fair demand from interior and local mills. At St. Louis, No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.09—1.10½, with offerings of good milling wheat limited. Soft Winter wheat declined along with the Hard Winters, and No. 2 Soft Winter was quoted at St. Louis at $1.07—1.07½, at Chicago at $1.03—1.04½ and at Kansas City at $1.02½—1.07½ per bushel.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets followed the decline at Eastern points. Denver mills were bidding $1.02 for No. 2 Northern Spring, and 15 cent protein No. 2 Hard Winter FOB Colorado common points.

At Portland, 13 per cent protein hard white was quoted at $1.23½, soft white, western white, western red, and hard winter to 85c, and northern spring at 86c per bushel basis No. 1 sacked. At Seattle, western white, western red and hard winter were quoted at 85c, and hard white (baart) at $1.21 per bushel, No. 1 sacked basis, 16 per cent protein dark northern spring from Montana was quoted at Seattle at $1.40 per bushel. Farmers were differing sparingly at current values and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals dropped off to 344 cars. Local mills were the principal buyers, with Eastern business still lacking and inquiry slow from California buyers.

California markets were weaker, with prices down 2½—5c per 100. Marketings were light, but offerings were adequate for the limited trade

STRATOSPHERE FLIGHT FILMS INTEREST SCIENCE

Striking pictures from high in the stratosphere, showing the earth's actual curvature on the horizon more clearly than ever before, and revealing how the world looks from the greatest height at which photographs ever have been made, have just been developed from films exposed during the recent stratosphere flight of the National Geographic society—Army Air corps balloon, Explorer 2.

The photographs were shown for the first time in connection with ceremonies at which Capt. Albert W. Stevens, commander of the balloon, and Capt. Orvil A. Anderson, its pilot, received Hubbard Gold Medals, highest award of the National Geographic society, in Washington.

The photographs were taken by Captain Stevens while Explorer 2, was at its "ceiling," 72,395 feet above South Dakota, a new world altitude record. He showed them during a lecture describing the flight following the presentation of the medals.

The picture showing the lateral curvature of the earth includes a stretch of the horizon 220 miles in length. This represents more than three degrees of a circle—nearly 1-100th of the total circumference of the earth. The curve of the horizon is easily noticeable when the picture is projected on a screen—photographic evidence that the world is round. When the edge of a ruler is laid along the horizon the curvature is even more plainly visible.

In taking this picture the camera used by Capt. Stevens "saw" a distance of approximately 300 miles, far beyond the range of the human eye. The horizon showing in the photograph was taken by infra-red light which is capable of piercing distant haze. All of the other colors of sunlight are shut out of the camera by a red filter in making this kind of a long-distance photograph.

The picture shows a vast stretch of western South Dakota, covering more than 33,000 square miles. The Black Hills, from which the flight started and which have an area of about 6,000 square miles in the background. The picture was taken from a position above Parmelee, S. D.

The horizon line in the photograph is represented by a stratum of haze, however, conforms closely to the sea level surface of the earth and its curvature reflects accurately the curvature of the earth itself.

Both still and motion pictures taken directly downward from the stratosphere balloon while it was at its ceiling of 72,395 feet, the highest-altitude pictures of the earth ever taken, also were shown by Captain Stevens. They reveal the earth as a huge plain marked with tiny checker-board-like farms and fields. Cutting into the level, smooth farm lands are regions of erosion, with innumerable small stream courses, arroyos and creek beds, forming intricate patterns of delicate tracery like frost on a window pane. Roads appear as thin, knife-edge lines. Towns are practically invisible.

The Tigers' Lair
By Spoo Pumpernickle
The stock market in the Tiger camp has been rising and falling with each day of the week. The report has reached our ears that there will be a sub-district tournament for all teams of the district the 27th, 28th and 29th of February. This will be held in the Lewiston State Normal gym. Due to a great deal of sickness in other schools no more home games will be played by the Tigers following the one with Juliaetta here Friday night, February 14. The dates of the district tournament will be March 4 to 7.

The next report is a disheartening one. After fighting ineligibility, colds, and sore throats all year, Coach Dawald received another blow under the belt early this week when Hartung, one of the most brilliant players of the big five, was taken with a severe case of pneumonia and will be unable to play any more this year. Everyone has banked a lot on Oscar this year and we regret beyond words his loss to the team.

The first and second grades are completed the contest in health. Lois Deobald won first prize.

The first and second grades are studying life on the sea.

Shirley Temple At Theatre

This week's offering at the local theatre will be Shirley Temple, that little star beloved to all, in "Curley Top," one of her happiest pictures. In it she sings, tap dances and does her own version of the hula.

In this picture she sings "Animal Crackers In My Soup," and "When I Grow Up." She dances a tap dance atop a piano—a rope skipping novelty and the hula.—And just watch her smile—for it's her happiest picture. She is assisted by John Boles, Rochella Hudson and Jane Darwell—all well known stars.

The picture opens with Shirley and her sister as inmates of an orphan asylum, and—but that would be telling.

Then there is Chapter 11 of the serial and the usual comedy and shorts.

FIX RIDGE

Last Wednesday night and Thursday a regular old-fashioned blizzard swept over the ridge, blocking all roads. Thursday night the mercury dropped from 25 above at noon to zero at night, and before the cold spell was over it went down to about 25 below. At present the only road possible with a team is the Dygert grade.

School was suspended Thursday and Friday of last week on account of cold weather and the condition of the roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall went to Lewiston Wednesday of last week.

More Glad News

Harvard college observatory has announced the discovery of the heaviest star known to astronomy.

Dr. Sergei I. Gaposchkin, who made the discovery, found the star to be 40,000,000 times heavier than the earth and 70 times heavier than the sun.

He found, too, that it was an eclipsing star, composed of two celestial giants, which, as they revolve about each other, hide each other from the earth. So enormous is the larger of the pair that it has a radius of 10,000,000 miles, 23 times the radius of the sun.

This wonderful star is almost as heavy as our national debt.

Medicinal Value Of Olive Oil Taken daily as a medicine, olive oil is found to be capable of imparting a peculiar healthfulness to the body and fortifying it against many kinds of disease. Used simply as an article of diet, olive oil is a heat-and-energy producing food, easy of both digestion and assimilation; while its value as an internal lubricant is undoubted. Gently laxative, it is an invaluable aid to a clear complexion.
As an external lubricant, pure olive oil is claimed to be very efficacious, because it is not only easily absorbed,
but in addition, the pores of the skin are not clogged by sediment. In addition to more serious complaints its curative value in cases of sunburn, chapped hands, rough skin, burns, etc.,
is well known.
The beautifying properties of olive oil have long been appreciated by women of the East and those of southern Europe, where olive oil is in daily use, both as a beauty food and as a cosmetic.

HEARD PROPHECIES OF MOTHER SHIPTON
For many centuries, Mother Shipton's prophecies have been quoted and something pertinent to the moment is usually discovered. Mother Shipton was born in Knaresborough, England, in 1488, and died at Clifton, Yorkshire, in 1560. Her prophecies passed largely by word of mouth, but in 1641, about 80 years after her death, they appeared in a printed tract.
Mrs. Edith Break Dodge, Sharon, Wash., a pioneer of that region, but born in Canada, recalls that her mother and grandmother read to her as a child about Mother Shipton. Mrs.
Dodge furnishes a copy in meter, as reconstructed by F. N. Lehman. It is not, of course complete. There is probably no complete copy as narrators added verses at will. But the following copy is in the meter and general treatment of Mother Shipton.

A carriage without horse will go.
Disaster fill the world with woe.
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,
Quick as the twinkling of an eye,
And waters shall great wonders do.
How strange! And yet it shall come true!
Then upside down the world shall be
And gold found at the root of a tree.
Through tow'ring hills, proud man shall ride
No horse, or ass more by his side.
Beneath the waters men shall walk,
Shall slide, shall sleep and even talk;
And in the air men shall be seen
In white, in black, as well as green.
A great man then shall come and go,
For prophecy declares it so.
In water, then iron shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found in stream or stone
In land that is yet unknown.
Water and fire shall wonders do
And England shall admit a Jew.
The Jew that was once held in scorn
Shall of a Christian then be born.
A house of glass hall come to pass
In England, but alas! alas!
A war will follow with the work
Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.
The states will lock in fiercest strife
And seek to take each other's life.
When North shall thus divide the south,
The eagle builds in lions mouth.
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.
Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to plan a bloody dance
Before her people shall be free.
Three tyrant rullers shall she see—
Three rullers in succession be;
Each spring from different dynasty.
Then when the fiercest fight is done,
England and France shall be as one.
The British Olive next shall twine
In marriage with the German vine.
Men shall walk 'neath and over streams;
Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.
All England's sons that plow the land
Shall oft be seen with book in hand.
The poor now shall more wisdom know.
And water wind where corn doth grow.
Great houses stand in far-flung vale
All covered o'er with snow and hail.
And now a word in uncouth rime
Of what shall be in future time.
For in those wondrous far-off days,
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear
And cut off all their locks of hair.
They'll ride astride with brazen brow
As witches do on broomsticks now.
Then love shall die and marriage cease.
And nations wane as babes decrease.
The wives shall fondle cats and dogs
And men shall live much the same as hogs;
In nineteen hundred twenty-six,
Build houses light of straw and sticks.
For then shall mighty wars be planned
And fire and sword shall sweep the land.
But those who live the country through,
In fear and trembling, this will do:
Flee to the mountains and the dens
To bog and forest and wild fens.
For storms will rage and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on the sea and shore
And as he blows his wondrous horn,
Old worlds shall die and new be born.
Mrs. Dodge adds a prophecy of her own as follows:
June nineteen hundred twenty-nine,
A gorgeous meteor did shine,
The radio was on that night
When we beheld that wondrous sight.
A figure five was in the sky,
Which marks this dread depression time.
June nineteen hundred thirty-four,
Makes five years of depression o'er.
Bible prophecies near fulfilled!
Be ready ere the last is filled!

What Eyes Tell
Such things as the shape of the eyes and the distance between them reveal many secrets of character to the physiognomist.
The distance between the eyes measured from their corners, should equal the length of a single eye. Eyes far apart lose in vivacity, but gain in calm and gentleness.
Eyes deep in their sockets show profundity or energy and indicate firmness of will.
Eyes moderately protruding are lively, clear and brilliant. When they protrude too much, they give the whole face an air of stupefaction or confusion. This is a symptom of diseases, such as exophthalmic goiter.

Likes City Dialect
Stranger—Are you taking summer boarders this year?
Farmer—Yep. We don't have to—
But my wife likes to hear 'em talk that funny city dialect.

Just a Taset
The nice old lady smiled at the little girl who had been left in charge of the confectioner's shop.
"Don't you sometimes feel tempted to eat one of the cream buns, my dear?" he asked.
The little girl was quite shocked.
"Of course not. That would be stealing, I only lick them."

CANADIAN BEAVERS AID DRY AREAS BY BUILDING DAMS
The beaver typifying the industry and preservation of Canada, is assisting in a practical way the rehabilitation of southern Saskatchewan drouth area.
Working their way to the south and westward in large numbers, the busy little animals have built many dams on small streams, creating much needed reservoirs. Some man-made dams which had fallen into disrepair during the drouth years have been rebuilt by the beavers.
One farmer noticed that after a heavy rain in the autumn a dam he had built years ago and part of which had been carried away was once more holding back water. He found that a colony of beaver had patched it up with old timber, mud and willows.

Watching the colony at work on a bright moonlight night, he was struck by the efficiency of the beaver. Each animal had its own particular job and there was no duplication of effort.
One excavated mud and loaded it on the broad tails of the "trucks."
The trucks scrambled to the unloading point, where the mud was scraped from the tail and passed on to other beavers, which used it to bind willows and timbers into a wall.
Other animals were upstream clipping off willows and floating them downstream to the dam site.
The Dominion government has set aside $730,000 to construct water reservoirs throughout the drouth areas.
Small bodies of water in large numbers are favored by engineers. Farmers may obtain financial assistance in constructing these reservoirs and 5,000 applications for this aid have been received. It is estimated that 1,800 men will be engaged in this work.
In the meantime the beaver has been doing his bit.

AMERICAN RIDGE NEWS
Snowdrifts, sleds, sub-zero weather and snow plows were much in evidence on the Ridge this week. A high wind, following a fresh snow-fall on last Wednesday caused the roads to drift full and school was closed on Thursday and Friday of last week.
Harry Benscoter and George Davidson returned from Moscow Saturday, where they had been serving on the jury. Mr. Benscoter drove by way of Lewiston as the road was impassable from Troy.
Harley Eichner is ill with scarlet fever at his home. Harley, Jr. is the fever. Mrs. Eichner received ton, who was severely injured in an tion was unchanged.

dren drove to Leland Monday night to visit Mr. May's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie May.

Sunday.
Lorraine Woody and Donald Bens-coter were at their homes over the week-end.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benscoter and daughters visited the Norla Callison's on Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. George Havens entertained with a dinner party on Dougharty ponds.

Mary Alice McIntosh was a guest at the Walter Bigham home Monday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benscoter visited the Chester Woody's on Tuesday.

gram will be held at the school on

His Guess
Mr. Softy—You know, I am very fond of little birds. Yesterday one sweet little thing actually settled on my head.
Mr. Tuffguy—It must have been a woodpecker.

FEED GRAIN BARELY STEADY
DESPITE SEVERE WEATHER
needs. Milling inquiry was slow because of the dull flour trade, while feed wheats were difficult to sell because of competition from grain sor-ghums and feed barley. Lower prices of poultry products and desires of dealers to reduce stocks before March first tax assessments, were further weakening influences.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet with the light receipts through terminals reflecting the slow demand from all classes of trade.
Only five cars were received at Portland during the week and local nearly mixed feed manufacturers provided the principal outlet for feeding barley. Inquiry for malting types was negligible, but lack of selling pressure tended to offset the slack demand.
Trade advices continue to indicate relatively heavy feeding at country points and a good movement from surplus to deficit areas. On Feb. 6, No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland at $1.15 per 100, with heavy weight barley from eastern Washington quoted at Seattle at $1.20 per 100 pounds, sacked basis.
Oats markets held firm, reflecting principally the strength in other grains since demand for oats was only moderately active. Grading and movement in the Pacific Northwest were light but offerings were moderate and prices held firm with No. 2 white oats quoted at Portland at $1.12½ and No.
2 gray oats at $1.15 per 100 sacked basis. Heavy white oats from Eastern Washington were quoted at Seattle at $1.17½ per 100, sacked. Demand at San Francisco was slow and relatively heavy remaining supplies firmly held, with red feed oats quoted at 90c—95c per 100.

J. D. Lewis Advanced
The appointment of J. D. Lewis as manager of the Palouse division of the Washington Water Power company is announced by J. E. E.
Royer, vice president and general manager. Mr. Lewis has been district manager for the company at Pullman, Wash.
As division manager Mr. Lewis will have charge of electric service operations and sales in the Palouse territory. He joined the Washington Water Power company in 1910 as an electrician during the construction of the Little Falls power station. Later he was a foreman during construction of the Long Lake plant, local manager at Lind and Palouse and has served as district manager at Wilbur, Colfax, Okanogan and Pull-

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Now that the roads are being opened, and travel is a bit easier—you can take a little of your attention away from the stove and think more of your income—an dwhat easier way is there than selling cream. We'll admit it's not so easy to crawl out of a warm bed and go "juice" a bunch of cows—but you can't raise wheat or beans in a snow bank—so it provides a sure source of winter income—at least. So just take an extra hitch in the old shirt-tail as it pops in the winter breeze—and milk those cows!

Mrs. Christensen: "This is an ideal spot for a picnic."
Doc: "It must be. Five million insects can't be wrong."

Impropriety, says Hugh Thompson: "Is that which you enjoy when your wife isn't around, but which shocks you when she is."

Jack Carroll: "Did you ever fool with the stock market?"
Customer: "No. I was in earnest. The stock market did the fooling."

Wade Keene: "I want to buy some rouge and face powder."
Frank Nesbit: "For your wife, sir, or to match your coat lapel?"

CRESCENT CLIPPING

Monday saw a better attendance at school than there has been for nearly two weeks. The cold and deep snow caused Herman and Frankie Loeser to miss Thursday. Mumps kept Beth and Amy Darby and Don, Warren and Robert Helm out for over a week, and Raymond Helm also missed most of the week because of the deep snow. They were all there Monday, as well as the faithful few who were in attendance last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Souders and son visited from Tuesday until Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Souders and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Craig.

Mrs. Anna Kimbley and daughter Irene and sons Lloyd and Robert visited Sunday afternoon at the Frank Souders home.

Old Man Winter moved in with a vengeance last week. The thermometer registered around 32 degrees below zero at the coldest time noticed down on the creek, and though it was warmer in other parts of the neighborhood, no one suffered with the heat. The wind blew and snow fell and drifted for several days, so that now we have a good supply for sleighing, snow-balling and what-have-you.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Craig and Mrs. Stella Plummer spent Saturday at the Claud Craig home.

A large crowd attended the birthday party for Lloyd Kimbley held at the Anna Kimbley home Saturday night, Feb. 1. A general good time was had by everyone.

The dance at the Walter Dorencoff home Saturday night was well attended and enjoyed very much by those present.

Arne Kloster visited Saturday night and Sunday with Inghard Gjovaag and Charlie Trail at the latter's home.

The neighborhood was well represented at Ivan Craig's birthday party (January 25) which was held at the Claud Craig home. A good time was reported.

Another party we failed to report at the time was Mrs. Julia Ekman's surprise birthday party. About 28 friends and neighbors dropped in on her unexpectedly, Saturday night, January 18, and the usual good time was enjoyed.

Guide (impressively)—"I dunno. They never live to tell what they shot at me for."

Who Works?

Who hasn't at some time, felt that he works too "hard." Generally, of course, it is "the other fellow" who gives vent to the expression. So, when you met up with him, or perchance feel that you are working too hard yourself, show him or glance at the following. He who says he "works so hard" must be dreaming, or else figures really do lie.
