HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Los Angeles—Dr. Francis E. Townsend has declared his old age pension organization will not participate in any move which would involve a contest or conflict in the presidential preferential primaries of either major party in California or any other state. He referred particularly to the recently announced plan of "California democracy" to enter a Townsend plan delegation slate on the May 5 primaries ballot, nominally pledged to Congressman John Steven McGroarty of California for president. In another statement Dr. Townsend reiterated that his organization will not sponsor or participate in the formation of "any new or third party" in the forthcoming elections.

Washington—Voting down lopsidedly all amendments save those approved by administration leaders, the house passed the new deal's $500,000,000 AAA-substitute bill by a 267 to 97 record ballot. The action returned the measure to the senate. Since that branch already has enacted an almost identical bill, leaders in both houses predicted a prompt conference adjustment of differences that would speed the legislation to the White House. Despite republican cries of "unconstitutional," and contentions that it would carry on the "policy of scarcity of the AAA," the outcome of the balloting was never in doubt. In the only major battle to develop during the three days of house consideration, a determined dairy state bloc met defeat—by a 144 to 111 teller vote—in an effort to add an amendment that would bar from dairy production any land withdrawn from crop production in the name of soil conservation.

Boston—The Boston American says William Mahan, sought for the kidnaping of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser in Tacoma, Wash., was the object of a search today in Quincy, a city near Boston. U. S. department of justice men, the paper says, were conducting the search. The paper says Mahan was sought after a Quincy druggist reported a man resembling the fugitive asked for a type of hair dye reportedly used by Mahan. The druggist, the American says, was asked for the dye three weeks ago. Since then he has received department of justice circulars describing the dye used by Mahan, the paper says. Agents at the local department of justice office, however, denied they were seeking Mahan in Quincy, or in that locality. Another report indicated Mahan might be in this section, the American says, is that some of the Weyerhaeuser ransom money was located here several months ago.

The death toll in one of the worst avalanches in the history of Snoqualmie pass, stood at three Saturday night as rescue workers dug out a body, tentatively identified as that of Len Lighty, of Zillah, truck driver. Four automobiles and five trucks, whose occupants were all reported accounted for, were still buried beneath the 30-foot deep, half-mile long snowslide that fell off mountain slopes early Saturday. The other two known victims, whose bodies were recovered, were Edwin J. Miller, 23, of Redmond, and William Gill, 23, of Bothell. Harold Deveraux, 34, Yakima, truck driver, who was caught under the slide, was rescued by CCC workers after he had been entombed for six hours and 20 minutes. He was rushed by ambulance to an Ellensburg hospital. Another miraculous escape was told by Corey Gustofson, Portland, Ore., skier, and a party of friends, who were trapped in an automobile as the slide fell over the pass. All were dug out, uninjured, after several hours of rescue work. Dr. Clayton Wangeman of Ellensburg, who was driving behind the ambulance toward the slide to get Deveraux, was caught in his automobile by another slide a few miles from the first one. He was also dug out uninjured.

Washington—Directly intimating Great Britain was involved, Senator Borah of Idaho charged that a campaign of "insidious propaganda" has been conducted from abroad against America's neutrality policy in the Italo-Ethiopian war. In his first formal speech since openly avowing himself a republican presidential candidate, Borah confined himself almost entirely to international issues. His Washington's birthday radio address, urging a "tanacious aloofness" from the political affairs and controversies of the old world" as advised by the first president, was made the basis

Just Weather
We haven't much to report to our readers "on the outside," who are always anxious to hear what the weather has been at the old home town. While the mercury has risen to a point consistent with the time of year, the Snow Man seems to think it is his bounden duty to keep everything covered.

Two more days will finish this month and we hope will finish Old Man Winter to such a degree that it will not be necessary to spend half one's time in carrying coal and wood and taking out ashes.

SURVEY ALMOST COMPLETE — BIG SHOVEL SOON ARRIVE

Only about one more week remains of the job of surveying Wauncher gulch by the local crew, who have been located in Kendrick for almost two years.

While we have been unable to get in touch with those directly interested in the building of this road, we have it from a very reliable authority that this section of highway will receive consideration and that the chances are very good to have at least a portion of the road built toward Southwick.

It is the intention to make the road up the gulch uniform and to reduce the sharp and narrow pitches very materially. As much of the present road will be utilized as possible.

It has been learned also that efforts have been made to secure right-of-way for the Arrow-Kendrick road, a portion of which it is expected will be built this spring or summer. It seems, from very good information, that the principal obstacle is the multitudinous rolls of red tape that are being unwound and re-wound by the government. Bids for the construction of this road have not yet been called for, so far as we have been able to learn, although the last date set for same was February 18.

Word has been received by those in charge of the WPA setup for the Cedar Creek road to the effect that it is expected that a 1 1/2-yard gas shovel will soon be received, after which work can be begun in earnest. Just when the shovel will arrive is not certain, but it has been allotted to this piece of work. It is hoped the arrival will not be delayed too long, for the big shovel will have to ford the Potlatch and in case the water should rise rather suddenly—well, it would just naturally have to stay on this side until the water receded—and that might be some time.

Funeral Of John I. Mitcham

John I. Mitcham, 87, who died at a Colville hospital Feb. 13, was a pioneer preacher of the northwest and for many years a republican political leader in Idaho. He had lived in Colville the past 18 months, his daughter being Mrs. Mary E. Foster.

Mr. Mitcham was born April 7, 1848, in Indiana. He was educated in Indiana and at Taber college, Iowa. He became an ordained minister and took up religious work in the northwest for the United Brethren and Methodist churches. In 1883 he located at Kendrick, Idaho, and became a member of the last territorial legislature of that state. Later he was state senator and was instrumental in locating the Idaho university at Moscow and the normal at Lewiston. For many years he was postmaster at Kendrick and served in many civic capacities.

Funeral services were held at the McCord and Cory chapel Sunday with Rev. E. R. Hunt officiating. Mrs. Lester Cohrs sang. Pallbearers were A. Jackson Henry Haas, Alex. Beasley, Harry Beck, Henry Kammerman, Walter Gardner and W. E. Jackson. Interment was at Newport. In addition to his daughter here, he is survived by a son, John, at Lincoln, Nebr.—Colville Examiner.

100 More Elk For Idaho

State Game Warden A. H. Eckert said that 100 elk from Yellowstone national park have been distributed in Idaho in the last few weeks to restock areas in Bonner, Shoshone, Lemhi and Blaine counties.

The only cost was the trapping and transportation.

Eckert was busy making arrangements for a meeting of the Idaho wild life council, which will vote on a proposal to join with Montana and Wyoming in the formation of a regional organization that will be affiliated with the national wild life group organized at Washington, D. C., a few days ago.

WORK OR STARVE, ORDERS HARRY L. HOPKINS

Wenatchee, Wash.—"Work or don't eat" was the edict issued here to indolent WPA workers by foremen following receipt of written orders from Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, Washington, D. C.

The famous order issued by Captain John Smith during the colonization of Virginia applies to foremen as well as common laborers, Harry Isler, public works foreman, said.

Isler said that 50 men refused to work today when he made a call on them. It was snowing. In a basket on his desk were reports on those who had been refusing to work and also the case of an agitator who admittedly had tried to influence other workers.

Whether laziness is hereditary or acquired, it will not be allowed under Hopkins' orders. Isler's office staff mimeographed 300 copies of Hopkins' order for distribution among the WPA workers now on three projects here, including Fancher field.

If a foreman can not or will not obtain a fair day's work out of men in his crew, he will be discharged, suspended or demoted, under Hopkins' edict.

"My hands have been virtually tied in the past," said Isler.

"This new order has teeth in it. Lazy workers will be discharged and then they'll have to rustle for themselves."

Slide Hits Road

Melting snow caused a slide on the Spalding-Myrtle sector of the Lewis & Clark highway Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, tons of rock and earth precipitating from the hillside and covering the highway for 50 feet and to a depth ranging from 20 feet at the inner edge to a few inches at the other side. Fortunately no vehicles were in the path of the slide but State Traffic Officer Harry Clark was only a few hundred feet outside the danger zone when he heard the crash. The slide is a quarter mile east of Spalding on the newly constructed highway. Warning signs were posted by the bureau of highways and traffic is being detoured over the old road from Arrow to Myrtle. Earlier in the week a small slide occurred where that of Friday took place and the debris had just been removed.

Hotbed Of Communists

Columbia University, Chicago, headed by the "famous" Nicholas Murray Butler, other than whom there is no worse communist outside Russia, is a hotbed of communism, socialism of the Red form, and many other forms of anti-government propaganda and should be suppressed the same as any other institution that is seeking to undermine the government of the United States. There should be some way of suppressing their teachings and if they were in Russia (where they properly belong) and would undertake to spread propaganda that would undermine the Russian government, they would be placed against a wall. If they are bound to teach Russian ideas in this country—they should be given the "whole works."

Four At Lewiston Burned

Four people were badly burned and $5,000 damage done to the R. A. Peterson home, Lewiston, when a jug of gasoline, which had been mistaken for vinegar, exploded and very severely burned four people and gutted the house Monday afternoon. Mrs. Peterson was so badly burned that it was necessary to take her to a hospital. The others received lighter burns.

Honeymoon In Spokane

Miss Audrey Clemenhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clemenhagen of Big Bear ridge, near Deary, Idaho, was married to Jack McCrea of Spokane at Lewiston, Idaho, recently, and left immediately for Spokane for a few days' honeymoon. They will make their home for the present in Mason City, where Mr. McCrea, who is a contractor, is working on the Coulee dam.

Deary Bank Pay Dividend

E. N. Johnson, state bank liquidating officer, said Friday that a 17 1/2 per cent dividend totaling $12,951 will be paid depositors of the defunct Latah County State Bank at Deary, Idaho, as of February 16.

A dividend of 12 1/2 per cent previously was paid. The payment is on $74,075 third class claims filed at the time the institution closed.

The P. T. A. book shelf is being organized and books will be on display at each meeting. It is hoped that a considerable number of books may be added to it from time to time.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs supplied the program of the evening. The report cards were handed out Thursday at noon.

The Physics class are now taking two experiments a week.

Attendance has been very good during the past week. May it become perfect.

Hawkshaw On Duty

Last week's article brings us a profusion of thanks from Mr. Emery, who says that he is very glad that somebody is on his side.

Coasting has been swell, but not half exciting enough for Weeks and Rider. They would much rather step inside out of the cold. After that we don't know, because they turned the lights out. Three parties are under the rail, but as to the fourth—ask Rider. * * * I wonder should "ye slinkin' rat" tell the old maestro??? It's fun to go to league, but much more fun to walk up the hill hand in hand immediately afterwards * * * yeh—at 10 p. m.

For any information on above see Weeks, Rider, Locke & Company!! Hawkshaw?

A Fast One On Borah

Ray McKaig of Boise sprung a fast one on his friend, Senator Borah, when he announced in Washington Sunday that he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for senator in Idaho.

His announcement was so phrased as to convey the impression he had had assurance from Senator Borah that he would not be a candidate for the senate, thus leaving the way open for any who desired to contest for this seat. To make assurance doubly sure, McKaig gave the impression he was making his announcement following a conference with Senator Borah.

The fact is that Senator Borah knew nothing of McKaig's announcement until he read it in newspapers the next morning. He said he had talked with McKaig, but during their talk nothing was said by McKaig about his intention to make a statement to the press. McKaig took a train for the west immediately after giving out his interview.

Evening Bridge Party

Friday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey entertained a number of friends at bridge—the game being played at three tables.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of play by the hostess. High scores for the evening were awarded to Mrs. F. H. Rider and J. M. Lyle, Jr.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rider, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith and Mrs. Ullie Hardeman of Peck, a house guest in the Keene home.

Afternoon Bridge Club

The Afternoon Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. H. B. Thompson Thursday afternoon. Bridge was played at three tables, after which a delicious lunch was served.

High score for the afternoon was awarded to Mrs. Roy Ramey. Mrs. Ullie Hardman was an invited guest.

Buried Under Snowslide

The high Cascade mountains are not the place where they have snowslides. Last week Paul Richardson of Fix ridge was out coyote hunting, and while going along the edge of a rather steep hill, the snow gave way and he was precipitated down the hill for a considerable distance and was buried beneath the snow several feet. He finally dug out, but the report has it that the gun he was carrying is still beneath the snow. Mr. Richardson said it was a very peculiar sensation, anyway.

LATAH COUNTY PENSIONS HELD UP BY ATTY. ESTES

Word has reached Kendrick to the effect that the recent social security act, which has been handed down from Washington, D. C., to the different states, and which has received the O. K. of Idaho state officials and the Latah board of county commissioners and the board appointed for the handling of old-age pensions in Latah county with the exception of Prosecuting Attorney Murray Estes, who is a member of the board, and who says the law is unconstitutional, we are informed.

It is not up to us to say whether Mr. Estes is right or wrong, but it would seem that so long as it has received the O. K. of higher authority it should be complied with in the counties until it has been shown in the courts to be unconstitutional.

Under the social security act the government gives $15.00, $10.00 comes out of the state sales tax and Latah county would be required to give $5.00 per month to each pensioner, making a total of $30.00 per month for each dependent person past the age of 65 years.

We doubt very much if the county could get by with the small sum of $5.00 per month for each dependent person past the age of 65 years in any other way and it is to be hoped that Mr. Estes will reverse his attitude in order that many needy old folks may get what they are rightly entitled to under the old-age pension law.

Water Main Broken

Wednesday morning residents of the school house hill awoke to find they had no water—many believing their service pipe frozen—but an investigation revealed that this was not the case—that sometime during the night a water main had broken and the reservoir emptied itself through the break.

Work was started immediately in tracing the trouble out and the break located about 2 o'clock between the main line of the railroad and the siding near the Farmer's National warehouse. By 10:00 a. m. the hill residents had water by closing the valves on various feeder lines, and fire protection was again available.

School was not held all day Wednesday, however, as the water supply was inadequate for that high point, but Thursday morning the reservoir was again full and all on schedule.

Eight-Eight Bridge Club

The Eight-Eight Bridge club met Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvie Cook.

Refreshments were served, after which bridge was played at four tables. High score for the evening was awarded Mrs. E. A. Deobald and F. B. Higley. Low score went to Mrs. H. B. Thompson and W. B. Deobald.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald were invited guests.

Only 374 licenses have been issued for motor vehicles in Latah county up to 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, said Walter Q. Taylor, county assessor. Of this number, 292 were for passenger car licenses, the remainder being commercial, farm truck and transfer plates. The deadline for issuance of license plates is March 31.

The Women's Republican club will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Helpman.

IDAHO DESERVES A POSTAGE STAMP ISSUE

Idaho has never been recognized in any way in the national publicity given through a postage stamp issue. Perhaps that is because no occasion of enough importance in the state merited this distinction. However, the time has arrived when the commemoration of a century of civilization in the commonwealth of Idaho by such a fitting tribute to those pioneers Reverend Spalding and Eliza Hart Spalding, responsible for the establishment of the first home church, first school, first grist mill, first printing press, first orchard, first family, first crops and first education of the Indians has come.

A vigorous campaign is being waged throughout the state to direct the attention of Postmaster General James A. Farley to the historical drama connected with the request for the stamp and a most worthy undertaking it is.

The history of Idaho in retrospect contains some of the most dramatic episodes of western lore. It has been of supreme importance to the United States that the Spaldings came into the northwest and established the first home in what is now the State of Idaho; it has been of importance that their example encouraged others to follow so that by 1861 gold had been discovered; the gold that helped save this nation's credit in the crisis of the Civil war; it is important that it was the Spalding and Whitman expedition that was directly responsible for the acquisition by the United States of that great territory now embraced in the states of Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana and Wyoming.

If no other reason exists for a stamp, except as a tribute to pioneer womanhood, it is justified. Eliza Hart Spalding and Narcissus Whitman were the first women to have the courage to cross the Rocky mountains, the stability to make homes and rear families in the great wilderness. And it is the more remarkable that these women did this because they were not the type injured to hardship. They had been reared in genteel homes and were especially well educated, Mrs. Spalding being a linguist of note. She collected a botanical exhibit of the grasses and flowers of Idaho for Harvard college. She translated books of the Bible into the Indian language. By her fortitude and diplomacy she won the hearts of the savages among whom she made her home. Narcissus Whitman's lot was no less difficult and her end was martyrdom at the hands of the Indians whom she had befriended.

The State of Idaho has purchased the site of the Spalding mission, 12 miles from Lewiston, and will dedicate it as a Memorial park on May 10, 1936.

All through the eastern country the traveler comes across shrines, restored landmarks and monuments to the honored dead and the occasions when stamps have been issued to pay tribute to outstanding characters in the history of the eastern United States are numerous. The northwest asks for this one stamp, which would mean no outlay of money on the part of the government nor would it be of any monetary benefit to those who have requested it.

Soil Office To Be Established

The formation of a district office of the soil conservation service in Moscow began Friday morning when truck loads of furniture and office equipment arrived in Moscow from Pullman. The new district office will be located at 123 N. Main street, housing the present SCS warehouse. The front rooms are being converted into offices.

Creation of the district office in Moscow is a part of the decentralization policy of the soil conservation service and will localize operations by providing an intermediary between the regional office, at Pullman, and the projects.

Four conservation projects, each manned by a technical staff and a CCC camp, will be under the direction of the Moscow district. One of these is the 100,000-acre Palouse area which has been divided into two projects with camps located east of Pullman and south of Moscow. The two other projects are located near Genesee and Worley.

The Moscow district SCS office will be under the direction of J. W. Thaanum, who has been acting project manager of the combined Palouse project. Under him will be a complete technical staff.

the Oklahoma advocate of controlled inflation observed: "We can't make the president do what he doesn't want to do." Back in his mind was the apparently insurmountable obstacle of a two-thirds vote necessary to over-throw a veto.

You will be surprised at the "drawing power" of a small ad. in the Gazette. They get results.

"Big Broadcast of 1936" at Theatre
This Friday and Saturday nights,
February 28 and 29, the Kendrick Theatre will show a truly new and delightful picture—not only new but different. On the screen you will meet many of your favorite celebrities
—Jack Oakie, George Burns, Gracie
Allen, Lyda Roberti, Wendy Barrie, Bing Crosby, Mary Boland and Charley Ruggles and Ray Noble and his band—as well as hosts of others.
It's a truly lavish production, with a delightful semi-comic love story running through it all—and it's laid on a palatial yacht and a south sea island—no your wrong, there is no shipwreck.

It's new, it's different and it's worth seeing.
There will also be the 13th chapter of "The Roaring West," besides the other regular features.

Farmers' Evening School
M. C. Grover, instructor in Smith-Hughes work (agriculture) in the Kendrick school, is holding evening school for farmers twice a week, holding a school of instruction on Bear ridge each Tuesday evening and at Cameron each Thursday evening, with an average attendance of 15
at each place.

The school is for the purpose of studying soil management—erosion, weed control, etc., with a study of weed "mounts" and weed seeds for the purpose of making analysis, and the latest method of control of perennial weeds.

These schools are very helpful to farmers and Mr. Grover has been and is giving much time to the study of the above subjects. All farmers interested can attend without cost.

Have Taken Apartment
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawald and family have removed from the Mc-Dowell house in the western part of town to an apartment in the Kendrick Hotel building.

Among The Sick
James Emmett, Mrs. Nick Brocke,
Mrs. Lester Crocker and Rev. T. E.
Poindexter have been reported confined to their homes the past week with illness.

A fox terrier pup, lost in Colorado last spring, traveled 400 miles to get back to his master. That is more than a lot of wives will do.

weather has changed maybe we will all wake up and cause a little news.

Dan Ziemann made a business trip

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

We have plenty of snow at present.
It has been badly drifted in places, making travel hard. Most of the roads have been broken out, however, so folks can get about.

Frank Chladek of Pasco, Wn., is here visiting with his sister, Mrs. Elwood Brock.

Mrs. Asa Choate has been quite ill for some time.

Robt. Harrington went to Virgil Peterson's Monday, and brought up a load of oats for feed.

Little Marie Preussler fell against the stove last Friday and burned an arm quite badly.

The Ladies Aid will meet this week at the home of Mrs. Orval Choate.

Our mail carrier gets here with the mail every day now. There were several days when he could not get through because of drifted snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Groseclose came home the first of the week from Oregon, where they had been since the middle of December. They report a wonderful vacation, and a fine time visiting their children and friends, but were glad to get home even though they had to shovel snow for an hour before reaching the house. They decided there is no place like home even if it is about snowed under. Carroll also came home with them. He finished his diesel course at O. I. T. and is now ready to go to work.

The cold weather and deep snow is hard on young stock. Wm. Groseclose lost several Angora kids, but has saved several by watching them closely.

Mrs. Lottie Brock called at the Wm. Groseclose home for a short visit on Monday.

Few Beans Moving
The Kendrick Bean Growers association shipped two cars of beans to the coast this week in addition to a considerable amount shipped out by truck.

Do your trading in Kendrick. The tores sell just as cheap!

"Sprig, sweet sprig is cobing, cobing, bud and slush are eberywhere — so I got a gold in by ead." — Is the national song of all of us at this time of the year — and cold's cost money to fight — sometimes lots of money — so why not have the necessary finances to fight those colds by selling us your cream? It's so simple and easy to do—just bring the full can to us—get your check and take the can home with you in just a few minutes.

Ask Parent Cooperation

Since the District Basketball tournament is to be held in Lewiston next week, Wednesday evening to Saturday evening, inclusive, and since a large number of students attend this event, inasmuch as Kendrick is participating this year, Mr. Lyle asks that the parents of the students attending or desiring to attend, send an excuse to him signifying that it is satisfactory with the parents that their children attend. The reason for this is that frequently students attend when they are low in their work and as a result parents are given to blaming the school for excusing the students. We are glad that the students have an opportunity to attend, but we want an understanding with the parents first.

If the parents will cooperate to the extent of sending in this permit for their children to attend it will be greatly appreciated.
