HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Atchison, Kas.—Completion of the first "farm fuel refinery" in the United States, a plant to manufacture 10,000 gallons daily of "power fuel" from farm crops was announced at a meeting of the Atchison Chamber of Commerce. The plant is expected to begin production within two weeks. It is the first gun in a campaign planned by the Chemical Foundation, Inc., of New York, to test the commercial feasibility of selling alcohol to mix in gasoline as a motor fuel. The experiment is part of a plan to create new markets for American farm crops. The alcohol plant was built and will be operated by the Balfour Manufacturing company, one of the old farm machinery firms of the midwest. The Chemical Foundation has contracted to buy the entire output through the Chemical Foundation of Kansas, an organization created this week. The new foundation has requests for more alcohol than the new plant can supply. These requests are from gasoline dealers interested in trying the blending experiment, some of them already selling alcohol and gasoline. The alcohol to be made by the new plant is slightly different from any now on the market. It is grain alcohol, "anhydrous," that is, without water, and is 199.5 proof.

Washington—A $440,000,000 road program was approved by the house without opposition and sent to the senate. The only contention was over additional money wanted by Representative White (D.-Idaho) for park roads and the insistence of Representative McClellan (D.-Ark.) that financially distressed states like his own be granted highway money without matching it. The bill would extend the Hayden-Cartwright act for 1936 and 1937 and authorize the amounts the federal government may spend for the fiscal years ending on June 30, 1938, and June 30, 1939. In addition it includes two new features. One is authorization for $25,000,000 each year for farm-to-market roads, to be matched by the states. The other is provision for $50,000,000 each year for grade crossing elimination.

Chicago—Rival claims to 24 of the delegates elected in Illinois Tuesday of last week to the republican national convention issued from the camps of Col. Frank Knox and Senator Wm. E. Borah of Idaho. Managers for Col. Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who held a slightly better than 80,000 majority over Borah in the preferential vote in latest compilations, said all but three of the 49 delegates chosen in the primaries were tagged for him. They conceded one Chicago and two down-state delegates as favorable to the presidential aspirations of the Idaho senator. But Borah's boosters brought forward an entirely different count. Carl G. Bachmann, head of the Borah-for-president committee in Washington, asserted 27 of the delegates elected were Borah men. The Illinois statute on the preferential vote provides that district results shall be "advisory" upon district delegates. Latest totals on the Borah-Knox vote from 6,648 of the state's 7,426 precincts gave: Down state: Knox, 202,119; Borah 231,614; majority 24,495 (Borah). Total: Knox, 439,253; Borah, 358,454; majority, 80,799 (Knox).

Warren, P.—Police Chief George Haehn said a man answering the description of William Mahan, sought for the kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser in Tacoma, purchased hair dye of the type known to be used by Mahan in a Warren drug store. Haehn said a drug clerk told him the customer resembled a photograph of Mahan on circulars distributed by the department of justice. The police chief ordered all of his men into a search of the immediate vicinity and notified officers in all surrounding towns to watch for the suspect. He said the drug clerk was unable to learn whether the customer was driving an automobile or walked to the store. The chief added the hair dye (B. Paul's Henna) is of a little used type.

Denver—Gov. Ed. C. Johnson declared martial law in a one-mile wide strip along the southern border of the state to keep out aliens and indigents. The governor said he ordered martial law after learning that railroads were shipping in track laborers and that representatives of sugar beet companies were importing field workers from New Mexico and Texas. He also said that alien sheep herders were being imported into the state. The governor ordered Neil W. Kimball, adjutant general of the Colorado national guard to mobilize

Bridge Luncheon
A lovely 1 o'clock luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Geo. Leith Thursday afternoon. This party brought to a close the regular afternoon meetings of the club.

Following lunch bridge was played at three tables, after which gifts were exchanged according to one's score for the year, high score drawing first, etc.

High score for the afternoon was awarded to Helen Boyd and low to Mrs. W. A. Watts.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. H. B. Thompson and Mrs. D. A. Christensen.

DR. RUSSELL TRUITT, PIONEER PHYSICIAN, PASSES

Dr. Russell Truitt, M. D., was born January 10, 1853, in Green County, Illinois, and departed this life April 19, 1936, at Summerville Home, near Lewiston, Idaho, aged 83 years, three months and nine days.

Dr. Truitt claimed the dean of medical practitioners of central Idaho, and a pioneer of the west, and had been associate physician at the county hospital for several months, making his home there with his wife.

He came west in 1877 and practiced near Portland, later moving to Walla Walla and then to Idaho, where he has resided for about 40 years, first locating at Cottonwood, where he practiced several years, then to Southwick about eighteen years ago, where he spent the remainder of his life with the exception of about four years, which was spent in Reubens, until last fall, on account of failing health, he went to Lewiston for the winter.

He was a brother of the late Judge Warren Truitt of Moscow. He leaves to mourn their loss his wife and one son, Norman, of Cottonwood. His oldest son, Warren, who was a practicing physician in Seattle, preceded him in death about two years ago.

Dr. Truitt was a most conscientious physician, honored and respected by his many friends and patients. The entire community feels they have suffered a great loss.

Funeral services were held at Southwick, Tuesday, April 21, the Rev. Walter Platt officiating, assisted by the Revs. Benjamin and Pressnall. The body was laid to rest in the Southwick cemetery.

Hymns were sung by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Southwick, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Pressnall, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Whittinger, organist.

The pallbearers were John Stalaker, T. C. King, B. W. Pressnall, William Lawrence, J. J. Lettenmaier and J. E. Hoppe.

Cedar Creek Road Going Forward

Late reports from those in charge of the building of the Cedar creek road are to the effect that work is being pushed as fast as two shifts can make it go. There are 43 men working altogether, putting in five days each week per shift, making 13 hours per day for the two shifts. There is something like half a mile of road built to date and it is intended to keep right on until completed.

Of course there are instances where it is feared that work will be stopped on certain projects before completion, but it is hoped that this will not happen to the Cedar Creek job as it is badly needed—as are several other roads in this section of the country.

Double-Eight Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Higley entertained the Eight-Eight bridge club Thursday evening.

Delicious refreshments were served, after which bridge was played at four tables.

High scores for the evening were awarded to Mrs. H. B. Thompson and W. B. Deobald. Helen Boyd and Lester Crocker were low.

Real Summer During Week

The Kendrick section has been visited with real summer weather during the past week, the mercury having reached a high of 92—and there wasn't any low. Anyway, prognosticators for this section say we have had only two seasons—winter and summer.

4-H Girls To Broadcast

The 4-H Club girls will journey to Pullman on Wednesday, April 29, to broadcast over station KWSC, from 8:00 to 8:30 p. m. Be sure to have your dial tuned to hear them on that evening.

ARE SURVEYING ON KENDRICK-TROY ROAD

As an up-shot of the visit of the Troy and American ridge delegations at the last meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club, when they asked for the endorsement of the Kendrick Commercial club for a better road between these two points, a surveying crew is now at work on this route.

A meeting was held in Kendrick on Wednesday of last week, when E. A. Johnson, district engineer, met with them and advised that they ask for a farm-to-market road, with state aid, which advice was heeded and further proceedings will be along this line. A committee of Troy men, consisting of F. C. Brocke, Herman Krier and Tony Eichner attended the meeting and presented the Troy point of view.

A good farm-to-market road between Kendrick and Troy would give Troy people easy access to this section of the country and would also give Kendrick people a good road to Moscow, via Troy, and every effort will be put forth to make it come to pass.

We are aware of the fact that Moscow has been against any road up the canyon from Arrow to Kendrick, for fear it might at some future time cut across to Deary and Harvard and give an outlet to the north (an all-Idaho road) and Moscow might miss selling a gallon of gasoline. However, it is a known fact that, no matter where another road might be located, all tourists that go through Moscow go over into Washington, where they can get onto a paved road, thus depriving Idaho of the sale of that gallon of gas and other perquisites necessary to an auto trip—but then we're used to Moscow fighting everything and everybody that isn't Moscow!

Lewiston isn't so gaga about having a road come up the Potlatch canyon, for that matter, but we believe it is coming one of these days—as sure as fate—an all-Idaho road for Idaho people.

There are a few people in this section of our state who would profit them anything.

Death Of James H. Butler

James H. Butler, 67, a resident of the Juliaetta section for the past 25 years, and among the best known men on the Potlatch ridge, passed away at 4:15 o'clock on Thursday, April 16, at his home in Juliaetta after an illness of several weeks. Death resulted from paralysis. He was engaged in farming.

Mr. Butler was born at Galena, Mo., August 30, 1868.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, Veda B. Butler; a son, James Raymond Butler, and six daughters, Mrs. Sylvia Burrus, Mrs. Gil Erlewine, Mrs. James West, Mrs. Henry Freytag, Mrs. Ray Birge and Velma Leah Butler. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lissa Mathes at Payette and Mrs. Ida May, at Three Forks, Montana, besides his grandchildren and numerous other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Juliaetta, Friday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. F. O. Sapp officiating.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Walter Cochran, Mrs. Jess Cox and Mrs. Clem Israel, accompanied by Mrs. Halliday. Interment was in the Wild Rose cemetery on Bear Ridge.

The pallbearers were Clem Israel, Joe Perry, Claude Browning, James Farrington, Clyde Weyen and Dave Gentry.

Catches Real Fish

George Crocker was about town Monday evening showing a real fish caught in Cedar creek. The big salmon trout measured 23 inches in length and weighed three pounds, nine and a quarter ounces.

It was taken with a wet fly and light bamboo pole, and it must have been real sport landing such a fish.

Potlatch Receding

The Potlatch has been receding gradually for the past two or three days, although it is yet a muddy and turbulent stream. The drop has been occasioned by receding snows and slightly cooler weather, although it is understood that much snow yet remains in the remote hill sections.

Visit Deobald Home

Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary Deobald on American ridge were Mrs. Dora Dougharty and son, Laurence, Mrs. J. J. Groseloc of Juliaetta and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family of Kendrick.

Grade Notes

The third and fourth grades are framing pictures that have been clipped from magazines.

The third grade was entertained at a party by the fourth grade, who lost the health contest.

The seventh and eighth grade state exams will be held on May 6 from 8:45 until 3:00. The literature test will not be included this year.

The first and second grades have begun another contest between the "Snakes" and the "Pumpkins."

The White Caps, losers of the fifth and sixth grade health contest, entertained the Red Caps, who won, at a picnic on April 20.

Entertain At Cards

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, just west of town, was the scene of a very delightful card party Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Blewett and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts were joint hosts and hostesses at eight tables of bridge.

Following delicious dessert served at 7:30 play went forward at the eight tables, with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bacharach receiving high score for the evening and Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, second high. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary received low scores.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Higley, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyle, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bacharach, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rider, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dawald, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Miss Rilla Davidson and Miss Caroline Roos.

Regiment To Appear

Among other attractions at the Idaho Spalding Centennial Celebration at Lewiston on May 7, 8, 9 and 10, will be the scheduled visit of the Tenth Field Artillery of Fort Lewis, Washington, which will arrive on the second day of the celebration. This regiment is known as "The Support on the Marne" and spent 13 consecutive weeks on the line during the World War.

The regiment has been at Fort Lewis since 1921 and was completely motorized last year. The unit will appear in the Centennial parades.

Twenty-three communities have selected princesses to represent them in the Royal Court of the Centennial Queen. The coronation ceremony will take place at the opening of the pageant, "West on the Lolo Trail," on the evening of May 7. Gov. C. Ben Ross will crown the queen and the princesses will have a part in the ceremony.

School Election Quiet

The school election held in Kendrick last Saturday, re-elected E. A. Deobald for another term of three years.

The office of school trustee is a thankless job at best—about the only "pay" one gets out of it is criticism. However, Mr. Deobald has four children in school and is a heavy taxpayer, therefore is more than qualified to sit on the board. His friends congratulate and sympathize with him.

Canyon Pretty Sight

The Potlatch canyon is rapidly taking on its annual coat of green, many wild flowers are in bloom and the choke-cherry and wild thorn brush is just starting to bloom, as are some cherry trees. The canyon at this time is well worth a second look and will be for the next month or six weeks—perhaps longer—depending upon the rains we may or may not have.

Wants Better N. -S. Highway

Wallace, Idaho.—A "good all-weather highway from northern to southern Idaho" drew the endorsement of William P. Whitaker of Pocatello in a speech here in his campaign for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. "One of my first acts, if I get into the governor's chair," declared the Bannock county commissioner's chairman, "will be to go about the construction of a decent highway between northern and southern Idaho. It is absurd that Idahoans should be forced to leave their own state and travel in one or two others to go from one end of Idaho to the other."

P. W. A. WOMEN ARE DOING GOOD WORK

Our local Women's Sewing project, under the P. W. A., has been working since December in the basement of the Community church. Up to this time approximately 1042 yards of material have been turned into garments, including clothing for both children and adults: sheets, pillowcases and quilts. When the work is finished it is taken to Lewiston, where it is turned over to the F. S. R. C., where it is distributed among the needy and those unable to obtain other clothing.

The project is serving a double purpose. Besides furnishing clothing for those who need it, it is furnishing employment for a number of women in the community, and teaching them how to sew. At the present time they are making shirts and nightshirts.

Mrs. Humphreys, district supervisor from Moscow; Miss Wiswal of the Dependent Children Project, and Ruth Gladheart, all of Moscow, had lunch Wednesday noon of this week with the workers at the church.

The church is open anytime during working hours to anyone who would like to inspect the work that is being done.

Three Lose Lives In River

The annual toll of lives in the Clearwater has started with the death of three by drowning in that swift stream during the past week.

John Bramlett, aged 27, lost his life at Cherylane last Wednesday while snaring driftwood from the stream, which was at flood proportions. Seeing several large logs piling up in the stream, Bramlett waded out about ten feet from shore, where he apparently lost his footing and was swept down stream and the body has not as yet been found.

Two more lives were lost when shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday evening, a car driven by Ernest Webb, one of the victims, plunged down a steep embankment, about two miles east of Orofino on the Greer road. John Riggs, a passenger, also lost his life. Another man and woman were in the car but they managed to swim ashore. It was thought a blowout might have been the cause, the car taking a sudden swerve toward the river as this is not considered a dangerous place in the river road. One tire was torn from the wheel and the tracks made on the highway before the car plunged into the river indicated that it had swerved sharply at excessive speed. Neither of the bodies had been recovered at last report.

14 Die On Roads Since Jan. 1

Boise—Six persons were killed during March this year to bring the 1936 death toll to 14 on highways and city streets in Idaho, reported T. P. Graham, law enforcement department statistician.

Last year during the same month eight persons were killed and the toll for the first three months was 19.

Other figures for March this year and March last year were: Injured 13, and 19; number of accidents, 29 and 32; property damage, $3,125 and $4,500.

Of those killed during March this year, four were pedestrians, one was a bicycle rider, who collided with an automobile, and another was the driver of an automobile that crashed while traveling at high speed.

Four of the six fatalities were on city streets.

GRAIN MARKETS HIGHER—UNFAVORABLE PROSPECTS

Grain markets strengthened materially toward the close of the week ended April 17, influenced by further deterioration in winter wheat, delayed seeding of spring grains, tenseness in the political situation abroad and some broadening in demand, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Domestic wheat markets were independently firm with prices up 5c to 7c from a week ago. Unfavorable prospects for winter wheat and delayed seeding of the spring crop were principally responsible for the gains in futures, while lighter offerings and a more active demand strengthened the cash market. Rye advanced with wheat. Oats and barley followed largely the trend of the corn market and were otherwise rather featureless. Flax was slightly higher, influenced by strength in wheat.

Crop conditions were again the dominant influence in the general wheat situation. The domestic winter wheat crop deteriorated rather rapidly in most of Oklahoma and Texas and central western Kansas as a result of continued drought. Progress was poor in the Ohio valley and improvement was slow in most other areas. Seeding of spring wheat was under way in southern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota but snow furries and continued low temperatures continued to delay seeding over much of the remainder of the spring wheat belt. The lateness of the season and the limited supplies of good seed wheat are tending to reduce acreage below earlier intentions. Winter wheat also deteriorated in Europe and northern Africa.

Domestic cash wheat markets were stronger with futures but were influenced also by a more active milling inquiry and lighter offerings. Marketings of winter wheat were only moderate with a total of 565 cars received at the principal markets. Millers were more active buyers and storage concerns became more interested as the relationship between current and deferred futures became more favorable for storing. Cash prices advanced 7c to 7½c per bushel at Kansas City with No. 2 hard winter quoted at $1.04 to $1.07. Premiums held about unchanged at Chicago with cash prices making about the same gains as futures. Sales to interior mills were rather substantial with No. 2 hard winter selling at $1.03 to $1.06 per bushel. Mills were the principal buyers at St. Louis where No. 2 hard winter was quoted nominally at $1.09 per bushel. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Fort Worth at $1.18 per bushel. Soft winter wheat advanced about the same amount as hard winter with No. 2 soft winter quoted at Chicago at $1.00 to $1.03, at St. Louis at $1.08 and at Kansas City at $1.05 per bushel.

Premiums on spring wheat were advanced and cash prices gained more than futures, influenced by a broader milling demand and rather light offerings. At the close of the week, the Minneapolis market was again in line for purchases of Canadian wheat, with No. 2 northern Manitoba offered at practically the same as the quotations on comparable lots of domestic wheat. Minneapolis May wheat advanced 7c during the week and closed April 17 at $1.05. Durum advanced about the same as bread wheats with the Duluth May closing April 17 at 98c.

Intermountain and Pacific Northwest markets were firm and higher along with eastern points but California markets were independently weak. Prices at Ogden were advanced to 76c for No. 2 soft white, 95c for No. 2 hard white and 89c for No. 2 hard winter FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

The Portland market was up about 5½c per bushel with dark hard winter quoted at $1.11, with soft white, western white, western red, hard winter and northern spring all quoted at 89c per bushel, basis No. 1, sacked. Marketings were light with only 202 cars received at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals. Local prices were out of line for shipment to central western and gulf markets and only occasional lots were taken by California mills. Government purchases of relief wheat were only moderate and local mills bought only occasional lots of high protein grain.

California markets held practically unchanged with strength in outside markets offset by a slow demand and generally favorable prospects for the new crop in central California and in the Imperial valley. Mills were operating principally on stocks accumulated early in the season. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at 90c and at Los Angeles at 85c per bushel.

Foreign markets strengthened influenced by the unsettled political situation in Europe, reduced southern hemisphere shipments and a somewhat broader demand. Argentine shipments totaled only 364,000 bushels, the smallest since July, 1932. Australian shipments amounted to only 1,935,000 bushels in recent weeks but the in-have dropped to around 3,000,000 bushels in recent week but the increased takings of Canadian grains have reduced supplies in that country and stocks of wheat in Canada at the first of April totaled 246,023,000 bushels compared with 283,032,000 bushels a year ago.
Oats advanced with other feed grains and a steady inquiry for the moderate offerings at the markets. Pacific Northwestern markets were quiet reflecting the slow demand. Growers were not pressing offerings and movement of white oats was light while the small offerings of gray oats moved to cereal mills. At the close of the market April 16, No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.07 with No. 2 gray oats at $1.15 to $1.17 per 100, sacked basis. Eastern Washington oats were quoted at Seattle at $1.07 and Puget Sound oats at $1.05 per 100 pounds, sacked.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets were slightly firmer with light offerings from growers in the Willamette valley an important strengthening influence at Portland. Slackening in offers of California feeding barley reflected the unsettled labor conditions at San Francisco. Local and nearby mixed feed manufacturers were taking on an occasional car to supply immediate demands. No. 2 bright western barley was quoted at Portland April 16 at $1.15 per 100 pounds, with eastern Washington barley, sacked, quoted at Seattle at $1.12 per 100 pounds.

"LITTLE INTERNATIONAL"
U. OF I. CAMPUS, MAY 2
The Annual "Little International" Livestock Show sponsored by the students in the college of agriculture at the University of Idaho and the Engineers' show, sponsored by the engineering students has been scheduled to take place on the University campus at Moscow, on Saturday, May 2.
Manager Wade Wells, Gooding, and Assistant Manager Claire Hunt, Emmett, are making final preparations on what is believed to be the best of the 24 Ag. shows previously held. They are ably assisted by 36 chairmen, of whom 32 are farm-raised boys, with the other four interested in Idaho's agriculture, as any farm boy could be.

The Little International is staged each spring by the students in the college of agriculture. There will be judging contests in sheep, swine, beef cattle, horses and dairy cattle; judging and identification contests in dairy products, entomology, plant pathology and agronomy.
At noon the students will be hosts to live stock growers and farmers at a luncheon.

The parade will start immediately following the luncheon and will go through the business district back to the University campus. The parade will feature floats showing activities of the various agricultural departments and over 100 head of the Universities' livestock, fitted and shown by students.
In the evening the Little International show will be held in Lewis Court. Final judging in the fitting and showing will be announced as will the winners of the various judging and identification contests.
A large number of cups, cash and merchandise prizes are given by individuals and prominent northwest business concerns.
The show promises to be one of exceptional quality and should be of interest to every livestock or grain grower in the northwest. A cordial invitation is extended to each one to be present on the University campus on that day.
In addition to the Little International the students of the college of engineering are staging their annual "Engineers' Show." They promise a day of robots, electricity with its many uses, tricks in chemistry and a car show held with the cooperation of local car dealers.

"Nurse," said the patient, "I'm in love with you. I don't want to get well."
"Don't worry, you won't," she said cheerfully. "The doctor is in love with me, too, and he saw you kiss me this morning."

PINE TREES INJURED
BY SUDDEN COLD WAVE
Brown is the spring dress for many of the ponderosa and white pine trees of western Montana and north Idaho. It is expected, however, that the habitual green will replace the brown later on in the year.
The reason for the somber hue now prevalent in the forests is found in the sudden and damaging drop in temperatures recorded near the close of last October.
October 28 was a bright, sunny day. Forest firefighters were still on the lines in several localities and Region 1 forest officers were anxiously scanning the horizon for signs of the usual break in the weather which signals conclusion of the forest fire season.
The break came—a cold wave on the wings of a snowstorm. Temperatures tumbled. At Kalispell, Montana, the change was from 49 degrees above zero on October 28 to seven degrees above on the following day. Butte, Mont., temperatures skid-ded 61 degrees lower from a reading of 59 degrees above zero. At St.
Maries, Idaho, the change was from 58 degrees above to 28 degrees above zero. Low temperatures continued a couple of days longer, minimum readings being four degrees below zero at Kalispell, 19 below at Butte and five below at Priest River, Idaho.
Although the damage caused by the subjection of growing trees to such rigorous temperature changes is not expected to cause wide-spread damage and timber losses, some of the trees have been damaged beyond recovery. Pine trees usually carry their needles for about three years. If the terminal buds are not damaged, a new crop of needles will appear on the ends of the branches, but it will be three years before the foliage is fully recovered.
A similar occurrence, a precipitous drop in temperature on December 15, 1924, caused even greater damage than resulted from last October's plunge. Ponderosa and white pine all over Region 1 of the Forest Service bore brown foliage, and serious losses were feared. Most of the trees recovered. In 1909 and 1917 similar injury occurred in Montana, although not so wide-spread.

The pie social held in the Community church basement Wednesday evening was quite successful, although the attendance could have been considerably larger. Approximately $12 was realized from the pie auction, and approximately $3.00 in fines, for various misdemeanors in dress and actions.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary were awarded the "best dressed" prizes.
