NO. 18

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Boise—Norman Young, 65-year-old lumber company bookkeeper, was fatally injured Wednesday night of last week by an automobile driven by Governor C. Ben Ross. The governor, who assisted in taking Young to a hospital, was visibly shaken and made no comment. City Patrolman Earl Conn, an eyewitness, said Ross was traveling at a moderate speed and that the aged man had walked into the car. The accident occurred as the governor entered the city after driving from Nampa, a nearby community, where he had addressed a meeting of county planning boards. Officer Conn said the aged man was struck by the spare tire on the governor's car. Young died enroute to the hospital.

Washington—The house naval affairs committee, despite navy department opposition, approved unanimously a bill to authorize construction of a Tongue point naval aviation base near the mouth of the Columbia river in Oregon. The approved bill would authorize an expenditure of not more than $1,500,000 to construct hangars, ramps, storehouses, barracks and other facilities. The original bill called for $3,000,000. The committee unanimously accepted an amendment to cut the amount in half, proposed by Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.).

Ethiopian warriors fought a desperate battle against time and Italian airplanes Thursday to destroy a road to Addis Ababa before fascist motorized columns could clutter into the capital in triumph. Segments of the tortuous road between Dessye and the capital were being blasted out in rugged mountain passes. There Emperor Haile Selassie is preparing for a final stand against the invaders. Italian airplanes rained bombs on the Ethiopian workers, flying out from Dessye to spot them. The Ethiopian government issuing one of its few optimistic communiques of recent weeks, asserted raids by Ethiopian guerrillas were threatening Dessye, at one time Haile Selassie's general headquarters.

Boston—The Post says department of justice agents were concentrated Friday night in Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire after discovery that more than $20,000 of the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom money was found in that section. Clarence D. McKean, head of the Boston bureau of the department of justice, denied, however, any of the ransom money had appeared in this section. "There is absolutely nothing to it," he insisted. Since Bruno Richard Hauptmann died in the electric chair at Trenton, N. J., for the kidnap-murder of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's infant son, the money has appeared at two banks in Albany, N. Y., Northampton, Springfield, Worcester and Greenfield, Mass. Officials who declined use of their names said they believed other bills are about to be cashed in southern New Hampshire. The Post says indications were that persons traveling northeastward from a point near Albany, N. Y., disposed of the ransom notes in bills of $20, $10 and $5 denominations.

Boise—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York City thinks his friend from Idaho, William E. Borah, still has "as good a chance as anyone" for the republican presidential nomination. Borah's showing was significant in Illinois, because he piled up a big vote without much of a campaign or without the support of a real political organization," the mayor commented. The mayor was enroute by plane from Portland, Ore., to New York.

New York—Col. Frank Knox telegraphed Senator Borah that he knew of no effort to persuade republican convention delegates from Illinois districts carried by the Idaho senator, to vote for Knox. The Chicago publisher's message was in reply to a telegram from Borah declaring that such an effort was being made and asking if it had Knox' approval. "You must be well aware," Col. Knox' reply stated, that almost every delegate chosen in Illinois primary publicly made known his personal intention if elected, to vote for me. I know of no effort, such as that referred to in your telegram and am sure you agree with me that the delegates will follow the dictates of their own consciences." Borah's campaign managers have claimed 26 of the 50 Illinois district delegates.

He—It wouldn't be much trouble for us to marry. My father is a minister.

She—Well, let's have a try at it anyway; my dad's a lawyer.

4-H Club Girls Broadcast

The Kendrick 4H club presented a program consisting of groups of songs, readings, piano solos, and a story of club work, over station KWSC, Pullman, Wednesday evening, of this week, at 8:00.

Among those taking part in the broadcast were the Misses Ethel Fraser, Beatrice LaHatt, Arlene Deobald, Evelyn Farrington, Jewel Cummings, Mary Belle Mattoon, Clara Mattoon, Enid Hill, Lida Jane Carroll, Betty Boyd, Annabelle Deobald and Lois Deobald.

BIDS BE OPENED MAY 8 ARROW-DEARY HIGHWAY

Some three years or more after the building of a highway up the Potlatch canyon from Arrow through Kendrick to Deary had been promised the people of this section, bids have at last been called for by the commissioner of public works for the building of 2.897 miles of super-highway, beginning at the present highway at Arrow and running thence north up the Potlatch canyon toward Juliaetta and Kendrick.

By super-highway it is meant that the road will be built according to government specifications: with a 66-foot right-of-way, a 30 foot roadbed and a gravel surface of 24 feet. A new bridge will be built across the little creek just this side of Arrow, the width of which is said to be 30 feet and it is expected the road will come straight from where it leaves the present highway to a point almost north as straight as an arrow, eliminating the dangerous curve at the little bridge where a number of near-serious accidents have occurred.

The bids will be opened at Boise on May 8 and work will start as soon thereafter as proper arrangements can be completed.

Death Of Betty Ellen Tachantz

Betty Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tschantz, was born at Southwick, October 28, 1929, died at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, Idaho, April 22, 1936, age six years, five months and 24 days.

She leaves besides the parents to mourn their loss, six brothers and one sister; a grandmother, Mrs. N. C. Donaldson, Pomeroy, Wash., and an aunt, Mrs. Lloyd Eckman, Juliaetta, Idaho, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Betty Ellen entered the Southwick school on Sept. 9, 1935. From the beginning she was loved by every member of the room. At first she was very timid and seemed lost among so many strangers, but before the first week was ended she was right at home and ready to play and talk with anyone. Her absence will be felt by all, for to know Betty Ellen, was to love her.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at Southwick on Friday, April 24, at 1:30 p. m., the Rev. Walter Platt officiating, assisted by Rev. Presnall and Rev. G. W. Benjamin. Music was furnished by W. J. Henderson, Milton Benjamin, Mrs. Clarence Henderson and Mrs. Christine Cuddy, assisted by Mrs. Harold Whittinger at the piano.

The body was laid at rest in the Southwick cemetery. Pallbearers were brothers of Betty—Chris, Henry, Willie and Pete.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled.

We wish to thank all who assisted in any way during our sorrow and the loss of our loved one, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tschantz and Family.

Water Works Progressing

Edgar Long, village marshal, and foreman of the WPA-Village water works project, stated Monday that satisfactory progress was being made on the work, despite the fact that his crew had dropped to three, and that he expected to have water flowing through the new pipes the forepart of next week.

Many little details will have to be taken care of following the coupling-in of the pipe, but the project is nearing completion, anyhow.

Tom Blevins To Hospital

Tom Blevins left Thursday morning for Missouli, Mont., where he will enter the Northern Pacific hospital there to undergo a major operation. Mrs. Blevins accompanied him as far as Spokane.

Mr. Blevins is section boss for the N. P. at Kendrick and has been an employe of the company for the past 30 years.

R. E. NORDBY AGAIN ELECTED HEAD OF AAA

Officers of the AAA board which will have direct administration of the new agricultural conservation program in Latah county were chosen from the group of community committee chairmen who met with G. T. McAlexander, county agent, Saturday.

R. E. Nordby, Genesee, became the president; Paul Carlson, Troy, vice-president; Ralph Naylor, Moscow, third member; Martin Anderson, Palouse, who represents the Kennedy Ford district, alternate; Mr. McAlexander, secretary, and Mrs. Gladys H. Olson, Moscow, treasurer.

Other community chairmen are Arthur Cameron, Moscow, head of the Cornwall section; William Smith, Deary district; Clarence Jensen, Farmington; John L. Woody, Kendrick. The whole AAA board of directors, other community chairmen, and the three committeemen in each district—form the complete organization of the Latah County Agricultural Conservation Association.

"Laying the provisions of the soil conservation program right on the doorstep of participating farmers, the board of directors will administer the plan so far as it applies to Latah county," Mr. McAlexander said Saturday. "They will arrange for measuring the acreage of soil conserving crops compared to the 1935 soil depleting base on lands of farmers who make application for payment; they will see that the farmer receives payment in the extent to which he complies with the program."

Three important changes in rulings and interpretations of the plan's provisions Mr. McAlexander has announced to farmers. They concern the failure to achieve full performance of the 15 per cent diversion, the classification of plowed-under peas, and the relation of the 1936 wheat contracts to the agricultural conservation act.

To permit increased participation in the program, a new ruling has come to the rescue of the farmer, who applies for Class 1, soil-conserving payment, but fails to divert the required 15 per cent of his soil-depleting base to a soil-conserving crop. Under the original interpretation, even if a farmer failed slightly through oversight or error to reach the 15 per cent diversion, he would be penalized by forfeiture of his entire payment.

"A farmer does not forfeit entire benefits now," explained the county agent, "but for every acre by which he fails to achieve full performance, one and one-half times the acre rate of soil conserving payment will be deducted. Take for example, a man who has a 100-acre soil-depleting base and plants only 13 acres in a soil-conserving crop. If the Class 1 payment is 15 dollars an acre, he would receive $195 for his 13 acres minus $45 for the two acres by which he failed to meet the 15 per cent diversion—a net of $150 for Class 1."

Mr. McAlexander pointed out that $15 an acre has not been established definitely as the benefit rate.

"Agricultural conservation program has nothing to do with wheat contracts," said Mr. McAlexander. "It is possible for a farmer to receive two benefit payments on the same piece of ground—one for desisting to raise wheat under the 1936 contract and the other for diverting the plot into a soil-conserving crop under the new AAA."

With the adoption of the soil conservation process and the government's accompanying agreement to pay wheat farmers who signed crop control contracts before January 1, 1936, when AAA was invalidated—it was feared that the 1935-1936 wheat base might be deducted from the total soil depleting base for individual farms. Regardless of soil conservation activities, the government will pay 2 1/2 cents a bushel crop reduction payment on average production as full settlement to farmers who complied with the 1936 wheat adjustment program before AAA was outlawed by the supreme court.

Planting Shrubs

Mrs. George Leith has been about the busiest woman in town for the past few weeks, planting flowering shrubs on their lot where they have recently enclosed what will be a very pretty English-type cottage when it is completed.

Finished Sheeting Garage

The Raby garage has just finished putting sheet-iron on the front of the building, which, when painted, will make a very nifty-looking place. It takes all these little things to make a town look pretty.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The monthly P.-T. A. meeting will be held on Monday, May 4, at the school. After the regular business meeting, the last for this year, there will be an exhibit of the work that has been done this year by the various classes and students.

On Friday evening, April 24, the annual Junior Prom was given. The big building was decorated in boughs with a rock garden effect. Voted the most successful affair of its kind for the past several seasons. It showed much hard work on the part of the Juniors. Everyone concerned in its planning is to be heartily congratulated.

On Wednesday, April 22, the Senior class took its annual sneak. Arising at 3:00 a. m. they motored to Worley, where they visited and were breakfast guests of Mrs. Brians, a former teacher here. Later in the day they visited Coeur d'Alene, Liberty Lake and Spokane. Upon their return they reported a most enjoyable time. The Juniors, who were busily engaged in decorating the gym, did not follow them, but went to Lewiston in the afternoon.

The General Science class are studying how the world was formed. They are planning a field trip to study various rock formations. Geometry class has been studying the measurements of triangles, squares and other figures.

The Ag. class have been grading grain and judging dairy cattle.

Grade Notes

Lois Deobald, Evelyn Farrington and Kenneth Hill were in Lapwai attending the declamatory contest.

Grade school children from all the rooms attended the Music Festival in Moscow, Saturday, April 25. After eating their lunch in the Moscow park, they sang as members of the large group of grade school children in attendance at the festival.

The fifth and sixth grades boast of nearly 20 different kinds of flowers on their "Flower Chart."

Members of the first and second grades, under the direction of Miss Hockaday, plan a picnic some afternoon next week. It will be held after school in the form of a field trip.

Evening Bridge Party

The ladies of the Afternoon Bridge club entertained their husbands at a delightful 6:30 dinner, followed by bridge at six tables, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson Monday evening.

The rooms were dressed with beautiful spring flowers and the colors in the salad and dessert bore out the suggestion of spring.

High scores for the evening were won by Mrs. George Leith and W. L. McCreary, with low award going to R. L. Blewett.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, Mrs. Ethel Emery and Mrs. Helen Boyd.

Cedar Creek Work Progressing

A few men have dropped off the Cedar creek WPA project, there being but 39 at present as against 42 a week ago. However, work is going forward at a satisfactory rate. The mat for a cattle pass near the Mary Riley farm was poured Thursday. Workers also state that a fill some 70 feet high on the lower side has been made near what is known as the old coal mine. And while this may not allow moving forward so fast, it means that a lot of dirt and rock are being moved.

Clover Seed Land Classified

At a recent meeting of the Kendrick community on the Soil Conservation program, an important point of general interest to local farmers was still undetermined at that time. This was: whether clover seed acreage would be classified as soil conserving or soil depleting. It has just been announced that clover seed acreages are to be classified as soil conserving crops.

Republican Women's League

The Republican Women's League will meet next Wednesday, May 6, at the home of Mrs. R. H. Ramey. A group of Moscow ladies are expected down to put on the program.

Parents Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. D. Peel of American ridge are the parents of a bouncing eight pound baby girl, born Sunday, April 26. All concerned are doing nicely.

Latah Delegates Pledged

Latah county's republicans and democrats elected delegates to the state conventions Saturday, with the former pledged to Sen. William E. Borah for president.

The democrats commended the Roosevelt administration and bound their 14 delegates to cast their seven convention votes as a unit.

The republicans elected 20 delegates and 10 more will be named by the executive committee. The delegation will have six votes in the state conclave at Moscow May 9.

JUNIOR PROM OUTSTANDING DANCE OF THE YEAR

The Junior Prom, annual first line social event of the school year, and of the town, for that matter, proved to be an unusually successful event this year—not from a money standpoint, but from a social one.

The big gymnasium was beautiful with its wall trim of evergreens, reaching some eight feet or more above the floor, and woven through with flowering wild shrubs.

Concealed and colored lights were used, and the rock-effect paper used throughout the base and about the seats completed the effect. The stage, whereon sat the orchestra, was similarly decorated.

Free checking for wraps was provided, as was free punch.

Admittance was by invitation only, and John King, Junior class advisor was in charge of the door and G. P. Barnum directed the grand march and was floor manager.

The gym and the dance itself showed the effects of many hours of careful planning and work and the class and its dance directors are to be congratulated on the finest dance held in Kendrick in a long time.

Millions For Idaho

Idaho has had an allotment of $17,314,000 for Federal Public Works Administration projects out of funds made available under the National Industrial Recovery Act and the Deficiency Appropriation Act of 1934, according to tabulations released by W. T. Lockwood, state director of the National Emergency council.

Approximately $11,000,000 of this allocation has been spent as of December 31, 1935. Seventeen state-wide and twenty-four local projects have been financed with these funds. The state-wide list is comprised of Bureau of Public Roads, Forest Service, Blister Rust control, Park Service and Reemployment service projects. The local projects consist of drainage systems, reclamation dams, roads and bridges, repairs on government buildings, construction on the Fort Hall Indian reservation and are widely distributed over the state. This program of Federal projects has provided seven and one-half millions man-hours of labor.

Centennial Stamps Be Late

According to a telegram received by E. M. Brower, president of the Spalding Centennial association from Senator James P. Pope, stating because of technical difficulties it will be impossible to issue the Spalding and Whitman stamp in time for the celebration. It is stated that it is the desire of the postal department to issue the stamp on some date between the Lewiston and Walla Walla celebrations, perhaps about July 4. The hope had been expressed by those in charge of the celebration that the stamp would be issued in time for the opening of the celebration at Lewiston, May 7 to 10.

An invitation has been sent to President Roosevelt to attend the celebration, which was printed on the first printing press ever brought to this section of the country. Of course his presence is hardly expected, so he has been asked to speak by telephone set-up, with loud speakers installed so all can hear. Whether this arrangement can be consummated remains yet to be seen.

F. F. A. Buys Seed Potatoes

Forty-three hundred pounds of Nette Gem certified seed potatoes were delivered to the Kendrick Chapter of Future Farmers last Saturday. The seed was purchased from Mr. Henry at Craigmont. Most of it will be used by boys taking agriculture in the Kendrick High school.

Taken To Veterans' Hospital

Frank Castor, who has been confined to his home on American ridge with pneumonia and later with rheumatism, was taken to the Veterans' hospital at Walla Walla, Wash., in the J. E. Pickard ambulance Sunday.

CROP PROSPECTS UNCERTAIN—FEED GRAINS FIRM

Uncertain new crop prospects were dominating influences in the domestic grain situation during the week ended April 24 and markets were rather unsettled, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Continued lack of moisture over important winter wheat areas maintained a firm market for winter wheats but spring wheats lost their recent gains despite delayed seedings. Feed grains maintained a firm tone influenced principally by the strength in corn resulting from an active feeding and shipper demand and late planting. Rye was barely steady to slightly lower but a good inquiry prevailed for milling types. Flax was slightly weaker, influenced by lower oil prices and prospects of some shifts to flax from wheat because of the late spring.

Winter wheat in the United States suffered further damage from lack of moisture. Deterioration continued in western Kansas and Oklahoma and the crop made slow progress in eastern sections of these states. Showers were helpful in Missouri but more moisture was needed. Growth was slow in the Ohio valley with some yellowing reported in heavy soils.

The crop made good progress in the more eastern states. Unseasonably low temperatures delayed spring wheat seeding but some progress was made, particularly in southern sections of the belt. Work was about completed in southern South Dakota and was well along in west central Minnesota. In all sections of North Dakota, soil moisture is ample for seeding and germination.

Spring wheat markets were unsettled but with moisture conditions generally favorable. May wheat at Minneapolis declined 2c and closed April 24 at $1.03 1/2 per bushel.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were unchanged to slightly firmer. Mills at Denver were bidding 98c per bushel at the close of the week for No. 2 hard winter, 15 per cent protein and No. 2 northern spring FOB Colorado county points. Mills at Ogden were offering 76c for No. 2 soft white, 95c for No. 2 hard white and 89c per bushel for No. 2 hard winter FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

Marketings in the Pacific Northwest continued light and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled only 203 cars. The Portland market was dull with a slow demand from all classes of the trade. Flour business continued slow with sales to the Philippines under the indemnity plan placed at slightly less than 64,000 barrels. Occasional lots of high protein wheat moved to California but no sales were reported to other outside markets. At Seattle, western white was quoted at 88 1/2c, western red and hard winter at 87 1/2c, with hard white (baart) at $1.17 per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked.

Oats shared in the upward trend of other grains, particularly corn, and with a fair inquiry for the moderate offerings. Pacific Northwestern markets were quiet. White oats strengthened although both local and outside inquiry remained very slow. Gray oats were in light supply and current offerings moved readily to cereal mills at steady prices. On April 23, No. 2 gray oats were quoted at Portland at $1.15 to $1.17 1/2 with No. 2 white oats at $1.07 1/2 to $1.10 per 100 pounds, sacked basis. The San Francisco market was quiet with current offerings in dull request and relatively heavy stocks holding prices near the low point for the season. Red feed oats were quoted at 87 1/2c to 90c per 100, with red oats at $1.00 to $1.05 per 100 pounds.

Domestic barley markets displayed a slightly firmer tone during the week ended April 23, influenced by advances in other grains and continued light offerings from growers, which were meeting a fair demand according to the Weekly Barley Review. Foreign markets maintained a steady tone despite limited trading. Corn tended upward as moderate offerings moved readily at higher prices and continued unseasonal weather delayed planting. Oats gained strength in sympathy with the upward trend in corn but also reflected a good inquiry for current offerings. Grain sorghums were higher with light market receipts in good request.

"Modern education is certainly progressive," says the Rt. Rev. Mr. Wiley. "The youth of today is mostly concerned with the shortest distance between two joints."

"The Littlest Rebel"

Everyone loves little Shirley Temple and her charming ways. You loved her in "Curley Top," and perhaps other pictures in which you have seen her, and you'll love her even better in "The Littlest Rebel," which will be shown at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights. It's the best story Shirley's ever had. A drama brimful of emotion, adapted from America's most beloved play... with such stars as John Boles, Jack Holt and Karen

Morley. She's for you and you're for her. Shirley's flag is the stars and bars and her daddy is an officer in gray. You'll cheer when she defeats the whole Yankee army, and you'll love her as the little belle of old Virginia. She smiles, she sings and she dances—and you'll love her in all of them. She's captivated millions... she's set up a kingdom in the hearts of young and old. Other regular features—cartoon, comedy and in installment of "Tailspin Tommy."

CRESCENT CLIPPINGS

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Winegardner entertained the John Darby family Sunday in honor of their wedding anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Winegardner have been married 21 years Thursday, and Mr. and Mrs. Darby 14 years on Sunday.
School was dismissed Friday to permit attendance at the track meet at Southwick. Owing to severe colds and a rain storm, not many attended, however.
Mrs. C. L. Trail was taken to Moscow one day last week with a lame hand. She had injured it in some way and it became swollen and discolored and was very painful. After it was lanced and drained it felt much better, but she stayed in Moscow for further care.
Miss Frances Farrish and Chas. Zimmerman visited Sunday at the Stewart Wilson home.
Those who have been absent from school lately with severe colds are Warren and Robert Helm, Theodore Dorendorf and Amy Darby.
Fred Zimmerman called at the Julia Ekman home Sunday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Clem Israel called Monday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. John Darby.
Several friends of Mrs. L. A. Watson met at her home Thursday evening in honor of her birthday. An enjoyable time was reported.
Mrs. Julia Ekman visited with Mrs. Claude Craig Saturday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greenwood were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Helm.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dorendorf and daughter visited Sunday at the Mike Forest home.
Lloyd and Robert Kimbley visited Sunday afternoon at the Frank Souder's home. They, with Marion and Marvin Souder, went sucker fishing in the evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Claude Craig were Moscow visitors Tuesday. Mrs. Anna Kimbley went with them as far as Kendrick.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman and daughter Wilma and Miss Alberta Matthews went to Lewiston on Saturday. They took Miss Wilma to a doctor. She is feeling much better, we understand.
(Delayed)
Frank Helm was elected trustee of Crescent school at the school election on Saturday, April 18, and Dick Winegardner was reelected at the Cedar ridge election. Crescent voted for an eight-month term next year and Cedar ridge for nine months.

Eighth Graders Entertained
Members of the eighth grade class of the Kendrick school were delightfully entertained at a 12 o'clock luncheon by Mrs. Ira Havens, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Ramey, on the Havens lawn Wednesday, and a very delightful time was had by the students.
The invited guests were A. L. Dabwald, eighth grade instructor; Lloyd Farrington, John Brewster Thompson, Jimmy Kuykendall, Kenneth Wolff, Frank Candler, Wallace Fraser, Laurence Biddison, Eunice Hender-son, Maxine Bigelow, Barbra Long and Marie Havens.

WELL, FOLKS—Seems we've been "Building Up For An Awful Letdown" so far as the weather is concerned, but we got that much-needed rain anyhow. Pastures are greening and growing very rapidly—and with it will come an attendant increase in the cream production—and that's the stuff that helps the old income. Yes, you bet we buy that cream—and right-now payment. No waiting, no fuss, no bother. Have you tried our delicious ice cream? Your sure to enjoy it. Make in all standard flavors. Any kind frozen to your order.
