NO. 29

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Germany and Austria, allies of the World War, who have since been at odds since nazis assassinated Austrian Chancellor Englebert Dollfuss almost two years ago, declared their mutual friendship Saturday. There were three main points:—Germany reaffirmed its recognition of Austria's independence. Austria announced continuation of its general policy but declared itself "a German state." Each nation agreed not to try to influence the other's internal affairs. The first point answered a question often asked in European capitals, more frequently since the unsuccessful nazi putsch in which Dollfuss was shot down July 25, 1934—would Germany attempt to seize Austria?

Moscow.—Soviet Russia and the United States agreed today to extend for another year the trade accord under which Soviet purchases from America more than doubled in the past year. Charge d'Affairs Loy W. Henderson, who negotiated the prolongation, confirmed a soviet promise the U. S. S. R. would buy at least $30,000,000 in American goods in the next year, beginning July 13. Soviet imports from America last year actually totaled $37,000,000, exceeding the $30,000,000 promised in the agreement signed by American Ambassador William Bullitt and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff July 13, 1935.

Washington—Looking to an intensified drive against trusts and combinations in restraint of trade the justice department has set up a special "general staff" to direct investigations into alleged violations of federal anti-trust laws. John Dickinson, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, said today he had formed the nucleus of his special staff to map out the justice department's activities. The principal activities of the anti-trust division are in the enforcement of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust acts and other statutes involving alleged unfair practices, combinations in restraint of trade and monopolies.

Tokyo—the war department office announced Sunday night that fifteen leaders of the bloody rebellion of February 26 had been executed. No explanation was forthcoming as to why two others condemned to death were not shot. They are Yoshiaki Nakamura, former communist and Asaichi Isohe, former quartermaster captain. Expiating the unforgivable crime of rebellion and disobedience to the orders of the emperor, whom Japan reveres as more than mortal, the 15 former officers and cadets were executed early Sunday morning somewhere in the Tokyo area. It was assumed Isohe and Maranaka were still alive. Both were among the earliest plotters of the uprising, and although they did not directly participate in the resultant assassinations they led the seizure of the war minister's residence and played a leading role in all negotiations between the rebels and army leaders.

Washington.—The administration decided Friday to pay railroad pensions out of the treasury, although a recent court ruling left it without immediate means of collecting taxes for the retirement fund. The decision of the railroad retirement board was predicted on these three factors: Judge Jennings Bailey of the United States district court did not rule unconstitutional a measure providing for payment of the pensions, although he held invalid a companion law levying taxes to create the pension fund. Congress, enacting law to replace a previously invalidated railroad retirement act, appropriated $46,685,000 for payment of the pensions for one year. This was on the assumption that the appropriation would be returned to the treasury from a 3½ per cent tax on railroad payrolls and a similar levy on workers' salaries.

Commercial Club Seeks Listings

In line with the present policy of trying to make the best use of productive ground, and believing that the more people that surround a town, the better that town—the Kendrick Commercial club is asking all those in this section who have land for sale to list it with the chairman of the Industrial committee of the club, M. O. Raby.

This is not a money making scheme in any way. No filing fee, no commissions or any expense whatever is attached to this request.

It is for the purpose of answering requests from farmers and settlers from the drought areas regarding this section. If you have land for sale—list it, together with a brief but adequate description.

Save Boys Life

Two Kendrick misses qualified for lifeguards at Arrow Monday when they rescued a small boy from drowning in the Clearwater river, there.

Jeanne Ramey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, and Phyllis Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, were the girls. The name of the boy, reportedly from Lewiston, as not learned by the excited girls.

The lad had taken to the water near the depot, and appeared to have become exhausted, when the girls, who were swimming nearby, noticed him, went to his aid and brought him to shore.

SPORTSMEN STUDYING WINTER GAME RANGES

More than a score of Idaho and Montana men started this week on two trips that will take them into some of the most famous wilderness areas of the United States. Their journeys will require ten days.

The parties, made up of leading sportsmen, State and Federal game officials and Forest Service representatives, will visit the winter elk ranges of the Moose Creek country at the head of the Middle Fork of the Clearwater river in northern Idaho and the South Fork of the Flathead river in western Montana. Most of the travel will be by horseback and pack train in accessible territory.

The Idahoans taking off from the road at Selway Falls will see a portion of the Nezperce National Forest where there is at present no overgrazing on winter range. Then they will go to the Moose Creek area and see by comparison the effect of too heavy concentrations of the animals there. In this section a reduction in the size of the elk herd is indicated necessary, since after all the physically usable winter range is devoted to this purpose, there is not sufficient to meet the needs of the present numbers.

This party will include: Clarence Jenks of Moscow, Lauren Johnson of Orofino, Robert Erb, Dr. E. G. Braddock and Owen Morris of the U. S. Biological Survey of Lewiston; Ernest Conger of Nezperce; G. J. Eimers of Grangeville; Glenn A. Davidson of Stites; State Game Warden Amos Eckert and Deputy Warden O. W. McConnell; J. K. Dwinelle of the Regional Office of Wildlife Management, Forest Service, Missoula, Montana, and Assistant Supervisor R. A. Coster of the Nezperce Forest. Later Supervisor G. M. Brandborg and District Ranger Ed McKay of the Lolo National Forest will join them, coming in from the Montana side.

Two Missoula sportsmen, Dr. F. G. Dratz and Luther Powell, and two from Kalispell, Dr. Dodge and Forrest Rockwell, with Glenn A. Smith, Assistant Regional Forester in charge of Range Wildlife Management, Missoula, and Supervisor J. C. Urquhart of the Flathead National Forest, Kalispell, will make the Flathead trip. Mr. Rockwell is chairman of the Big Game Committee of the Flathead Sportsmen's Association, and Dr. Dodge chairman of the fish and game committee of the Kalispell Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Powell is a director of the western Montana Sportsmen's Association.

This party will visit the winter elk ranges along the Spotted Bear River, Big River and the South Fork of the Flathead. They will examine the effects of too heavy concentrations of big game there. A substantial reduction in the number of elk in the Flathead district appears essential to protect the physically available winter range.

The purpose of these trips is to view first-hand and study and consider on the ground some of the serious problems of wildlife management that confront the States of Idaho and Montana, and advise together on the steps that must be taken to put wildlife maintenance on a sound basis.

Harvest Rapidly Approaching

Harvest is rapidly approaching, it being estimated as being only about two weeks, until the golden grain will start to flow from the spouts on combines and threshing machines.

Harvest here is assured, the ground containing plenty of moisture for maturity of the grain. Beans are looking good and Juliaetta tomatoes are starting to appear on the local market.

On Camping Trip

Mrs. Wade Keene and son Tommy left Monday morning for Red River Hot Spring on a vacation trip of a week or ten days. They plan to camp, fish and swim.

COM. CLUB HOLDS VERY INTERESTING MEETING

The Kendrick Commercial club met in regular session at the Raby Hotel dining room, and following a delicious dinner, served by Mrs. Paul Lind, the regular order of business was taken up—Vice-President Walker presiding in the absence of G. P. Barnum, president, who was representing the club in "Northwest On Parade," and a fine job he did of it.

M. O. Raby reported for the highway committee, giving a brief resume of the executive committee meeting in which Bear Ridge delegates presented their highway problem. He reported that petitions are being prepared by Bear Ridge residents asking the state to extend the present highway approximately five miles to the Steele school house to enable year-round transportation of school children by bus to the Kendrick school. This petition also carries the signatures of the county commissioners, and on motion the club unanimously passed a resolution to be sent to Gov. C. Ben Ross, asking that this road be built. James Nelson, Bear Ridge representative, was present at the meeting and his explanation of the steps taken in obtaining and presentation of the petitions explained.

Mr. Walker then reported on the progress being made on various road projects about this section, saying that dirt would start moving Tuesday morning on the Waucher gulch road to Cameron and Southwick. That drilling and brush slashing had been going on for some two weeks and very good progress made. The Arrow road construction is moving forward at a rapid pace and gave every indication of being a top-notch road. The Cedar Creek WPA project was the "fly in the ointment," however, it being some 40 per cent completed. The highway district, however, is running very low on funds towards its share of money needed in the work, requiring some $1,500 a month or more. It is estimated that $7,000 more will be needed for its completion, which includes culverts, and unless money becomes available from the state, as seen at present, the project will have to be discontinued, which would indeed be a catastrophe. On motion the club voted unanimously to send Mr. Walker to Boise to see if such funds could not be obtained in some manner.

Marvin Long reported for the Fish and Game committee, stating that he had asked for some 200 chinese pheasants for planting purposes, but that the amount had been cut to 100. He also suggested the purchase of bundle grain at this time for winter feeding of the birds, and was given power to purchase such food and store the same as he might see fit.

Mr. Lyle reported for the Educational committee, saying that no instructor in Smith-Hughes work had yet been secured to take Mr. Grover's place, but that a good one was being looked for. The vacancy caused by the resignation of John King had not yet been filled, but no difficulty was expected in doing so.

H. B. Thompson then introduced O. E. Havens, cashier of the Farmers Bank, and a new member of the club. Mr. Havens stated that he liked our town and people very much, expected to make it his home and would do all possible to assist the club in any way possible. He was given a real hand by those present.

Wm. Watts reported on the Kendrick Pioneer picnic, held last Sunday at Pullman, some 200 being present. Wade Keene also said a few words on the subject, and both agreed they hadn't realized what a fine place Kendrick was to live until the old-timers sang its praises. The next Pioneer picnic will be held at Coeur d'Alene next year.

Round table discussion then started on the government rehabilitation program. The large farms about the Potlatch were discussed, and a suggestion made that if our section had more people it would be a better business and residential community. The chair then instructed the Industrial and Agricultural committees to combine and see if the correct government bureau could not be contacted—looking toward the setting of some of the drought-moving farmers in this section. A report will be made at the next meeting.

Discussion then switched back to road situation again and it was decided to ask Bear Ridge to send a representative with Mr. Walker to Boise on the Bear Ridge highway extension.

There being no further business to come before the club adjournment was taken until next month.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE FOR LATAH COUNTY

An informal luncheon was held in the Hotel Moscow on July 11, to discuss the possibility of a Public Health Service for Latah county. Dr. W. V. Halverson of the Bacteriology department of the University of Idaho acted as chairman of the meeting. Present were three representatives of the Idaho State Department of Public Welfare—Dr. J. D. Dunshee, director of public health; Dr. L. A. Lambert, director of local health work; and Dr. C. D. Thompson, director of maternal and child health and crippled children. There were also a number of other doctors and school representatives present.

Dr. Dunshee introduced his co-workers from the Idaho State Department of Public Welfare and told how they had left responsible positions to come and work in Idaho. He said that with federal aid the state was in a position to pay up to one half of the cost of whatever public health service would be deemed most desirable for the county. A full-time county health unit consisting of a full-time physician, sanitary inspector and nurses, would undoubtedly be the best but often we find that a less elaborate system will pave the way for a more complete service. Full time units of this type have been established in Nez Perce, Twin Falls and Bannock counties. It is possible that a well organized public health nursing service and sanitary inspection, might meet our needs, especially since we are adjacent to Nez Perce county where an experienced full-time health officer could give supervision. Such public health nursing service would provide not less than four nurses for the county. One of these nurses would act as supervisor, but each would be assigned a certain district with a proportionate population so that the entire county could be covered. Their duties would be primarily disease prevention, which, of course, would concern mostly the pre-school and school children, for it is in this group that communicable diseases occur. The sanitary inspector would work with milk and water supplies, food handling establishments, and other items of sanitation.

It was the unanimous opinion that a program should be worked out for Latah county. The group present was organized into a committee, with David Ross to act as chairman in making a survey of the public health needs and methods of financing such a program. Dr. Dunshee assured the group that this program could be started immediately if the county was ready and that Dr. Lambert would be available in the very near future to assist in making the survey. The county, school districts, towns, civic organizations, as well as philanthropic individuals, might well join in helping to put this program over.

Big Butter Shipment

Harold Thomas, on Sunday morning of this week, made what is probably the biggest butter shipment ever to leave Kendrick—10 tons of the golden product of cream that delights everyone.

Everett Crocker took the big shipment to Lewiston, whence it will go by refrigerator truck to Seattle for use on the meal tables of that town.

It speaks well of the Potlatch section that such quantities of butter fat are available here—and of the Thomas Creamery, which but a short three years ago was merely a cream receiving station, with a tiny can washing boiler fed by 12-inch cord wood and a cream testing heater with a tiny gasoline burner.

Now this plant is a very modern one indeed, with its big churn, two pasteurizers, ice plant, cold storage lockers, ice cream freezing equipment, modern steam sterilizing tables, electric cream testers, and all the other modern and sanitary gadgets that go to make up a thoroughly modern creamery.

Unlike many creameries, Mr. Thomas invites inspection, invites visitors to watch the production of butter, ice cream and cottage cheese from the arrival of the cream or milk in the can, to its final depository in the cold storage rooms. Mr. Thomas says he is proud of his plant, proud of the sanitary way in which everything is handled and welcomes visitors.

Visiting Parents and Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster and son of San Diego, Calif., are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster, and other relatives. Mr. Foster is in the navy, and is stationed at San Diego.

Leaving For New Position

M. C. Grover was in town Tuesday and Wednesday, gathering in the odds and ends of his unfinished work here as Smith-Hughes instructor, and bidding good-bye to friends and pupils before leaving for Rexburg, Idaho, to take up his new duties there. Mrs. Grover and little son are visiting her parents in Moscow, and they will leave from there Thursday morning. Mr. Grover says that it is with regret that he leaves Kendrick, as he likes the town and people, but that he did not feel he could afford to turn down a chance for advancement in his line of work.

Boys Lose Ball Game

The Kendrick ball team lost another game last Sunday to the Ahsahka Indians at Ahsahka by a score of 10 to 9. The boys played good ball except for the 4th and 8th innings.

Kendrick scored in the first inning when Flesman hit the first ball for three bases and Blewett singled. Kendrick had runners on bases in every inning but consistently hit into double plays or drove the ball into fielders hands.

Koopp pitched steady ball for six and a half innings, allowing but five hits. Three errors in the fourth, however, allowed Ahsahka to put over four runs. He was relieved by Flesman, who had had hard luck in the eighth frame, walking two men and allowing three hits to tie the score at nine-all. Kendrick failed to score in the ninth and Ahsahka's first man at bat lost the ball among the pine trees for a home-run and the game.

Kendrick goes to Gifford next Sunday.

GRAIN MARKET ADVANCES DUE TO DROUGHT IN EAST

Grain markets made the sharpest gains in recent years during the week ended July 10, influenced principally by further deterioration in spring wheat, oats and barley and threatened extensive damage to corn unless very generous rains are received within the next few days, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat advanced 10c to 12c per bushel with active trading in futures and a broad milling demand for cash grain. Marketings of winter wheat were unusually heavy but were readily taken by mills and shippers. Oats advanced 6c to 7c per bushel, influenced by the higher corn market and unfavorable new crop prospects. Barley was up 12c to 15c with drought damage spreading to the malting barley producing areas.

Lowering in crop prospects in North America and important European countries was the dominant feature of the wheat situation during the second week in July. Prospects at the first of July were for a Northern hemisphere crop 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 bushels below the 1935 harvest, but drought, particularly in the United States and Canada, has cut yields below the July 1 estimate. Prospects in the United States at the first of July indicated a spring wheat return of only 126,314,000 bushels, which, if realized, will be the smallest output since 1909 with the exception of 1931 and 1934. The condition of durum wheat in the four main producing states at the first of July was only 64.7 per cent of normal and indicated a production of only 9,610,000 bushels compared with an average output (1928-1932) of about 54,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop was estimated July 1 at 512,085,000 bushels giving a total United States production of 638,399,000 bushels which is about equal to average annual domestic requirements.

The Canadian spring wheat crop has suffered further damage since the first of July when the condition was reported at 82 per cent of the long time average. An output of about 275,000,000 bushels is now unofficially forecast compared with 277,339,000 bushels harvested in 1935. Further deterioration occurred in several European countries during June and indications now point to the smallest European crop outside of Russia since 1931. Present indications are for a harvest of about 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 bushels under the 1935 output with increases in the Danubian countries not sufficient to offset decreases in France, Spain, Italy and other important producing areas.

Prospective smaller harvests in the Northern Hemisphere this season assumes added importance because of the rather sharp declines in stocks of old wheat to be carried over into the new crop year. Incomplete figures suggest that stocks of old wheat this season are around 300,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago. At the first of July supplies available for carry-over in the southern hemisphere were about 55,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago, while total stocks in the United States and Canada were approximately 100,000,000 bushels below those at the corresponding date last year. Trade and official estimates place European stocks around 150,000,000 bushels below the quantity carried over last season.

Cash wheat markets gained with futures despite heavy marketings of winter wheat. Over 15,000 cars were received at the principal central western markets, compared with 5,500 cars for the corresponding week last year. Receipts at Kansas City alone totaled 5,731 cars. The quality is average good with good protein content. No. 2 hard winter being quoted at $1.11 to $1.16.

At Fort Worth No. 1 hard winter was quoted at $1.30 delivered Texas common points, with offerings light and demand good. Demand was also good at St. Louis where daily offerings were readily taken by mills and order buyers at sharp increase. No. 1 hard was quoted in that market at $1.13 to $1.14½. Soft winter gained slightly less than hard winter with No. 2 quoted at St. Louis at $1.09 to $1.11 and at Kansas City at $1.07 to $1.09.

Spring wheat markets gained 10c to 14c per bushel, with the sharpest advance in durum. Receipts were only moderate with 689 cars reported at Minneapolis and 33 cars at Duluth. Premiums were demanded largely by quotations on Canadian wheat since the American spring wheat market

George Dennler and daughter Frieda were Kendrick visitors Tuesday.

Gave Fine Talk

The address given by Geo. P. Barnum, president of our Commercial Club and representing Kendrick in "The Northwest on Parade," a presentation of the Davenport Hotel at Spokane, was indeed a fine one. Mr. Barnum had selected his material very carefully, and the manner of presentation would almost make one believe he was an old hand before the "mike."

The reception here was considerably marred by static, however.

Toenail Good Fish Bait

The large right toe of Miss Zena Brown, a vacationist, was bitten off while she was swimming near Binghampton, N. Y., last week. Colonel Elmer E. Johnson, who rushed her 14 miles to medical aid, said he believed a bass, pickerel or a snapping turtle was attracted by red paint on the toenail.

Rumors Will Fly

Wednesday at noon rumors drifted to town to the effect that Archie May, prominent farmer of the Leland district, had been killed in an automobile crash on the Cavendish-Ahsahka grade. On running down the rumors, we found that the car driven by Mr. May was forced from the road by another.

The car went over the grade, but was undamaged and Mr. May was unhurt, however, the excitement of the accident brought on a heart attack, causing the erroneous report of death. He was revived and taken home and is none the worse for the accident, although still in a weak and shaken condition.

Kendrick Couple Married

Charles C. Cox and Minnie McCoy, both of Kendrick, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the Rev. Orval D. Peterson, Lewiston. Sylvia Burrus and Mrs. Peterson were the witnesses. They will make their home in Kendrick.

"Storm Over The Andes"

The Kendrick Theatre this week presents something unusual in the way of flying pictures, "Storm Over The Andes," starring Jack Holt and Mona Barrie, Antonio Moreno, Grant Withers, and other well-known players.

The scenes are laid in South America, where Kent (plade by Jack Holt) is flying for the Bolovian government. War breaks out, and then the thrills start, one of the big scenes being a vicious "dog" fight high in the air over the Andes mountains.

A series of selected short subjects will also be shown.

GRAIN MARKET ADVANCES DUE TO DROUGHT IN EAST

are now on an import basis. A cargo of 160,000 bushels of No. 5 Canadian western amber durum was unloaded at Lewist during the week and further substantial purchases of Canadian durum were reported. Mills were active buyers at Minneapolis with 58 pour-c No. 1 dark northern quoted at $1.32.
Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets strengthened materially, influenced principally by the advance in the central west. At the close of the week Denver mills were bidding 97c for No. 2 northern spring and No. 2 hard winter. New wheat from northeastern Colorado testing about 60 pounds with good protein was received during the week. Some new wheat arrived at Ogden during the week where No. 2 soft white was quoted at 90c, No. 2 hard white at 91c and No. 2 northern spring at 90c per bushel FOB Utah-Idaho common points.
Marketings in the Pacific Northwest remained light with receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling 274 cars. Harvesting of winter wheat started in the northwest and the first car was received at Portland during the week. Prices advanced around 8 1/2c per bushel with No. 1 hard white (bluestem) 13 per cent protein quoted at Portland July 10 at $1.26, 12 per cent protein at $1.16 and 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at $1.11, with soft white, western white, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 95c per bushel, all basis No. 1, sacked. The indemnity payment on the new Philippine flour agreement was $1.05 per barrel on July 10. Mills were the principal buyers but at prevailing prices considerable movement of new northwest wheat to middlewestern markets was in prospect.
California markets gained 3c to 5c per bushel, influenced by advances at eastern points since good crops are in prospect and local demand was not active. Bay region mills continued to limit purchases to cover needs but inquiry for feed wheat increased with the sharp advances in barley and corn prices.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets shared in the strength of the general situation although new crop prospects in this area continued favorable. A good local inquiry for the light market offerings was an additional factor. Some California feed barley was moving into Oregon districts and also into the Portland market at prices slightly under quotations for local grain. On July 9, No. 2 bright western barley, testing 45 pounds, was quoted at Portland at $1.25 to $1.27 1/2 per 100, sacked basis. Eastern Washington barley was being quoted at Seattle at $1.27 per 100, sacked.
Oats markets were higher with other grains. Demand at Portland from local and nearby mixed feed manufacturers was fairly active but light offerings from growers limited trading. Remaining supplies of old crop oats were only moderate and were firmly held. Willamette Valley No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.22 to $1.27 per 100. At Seattle No. 2 white oats from eastern Washington were quoted at $1.25 and Puget Sound oats at $1.10 per 100, sacked basis.

ITALY'S WAR COST EUROPE $500,000 A DAY

Premier Benito, Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia cost Europe, excluding Italy, more than $500,000 a day.
Italy's own bill for the East African war remains largely a secret. But her extraordinary appropriations alone, amounted to almost $1,000,000,000.
Italian's in public statements, have sought generally to minimize the effect of sanctions. It is known, however, the measures have meant loss of some foreign markets which may be regained later; a tremendous effort to develop Italian raw materials and substitutes; a change in the nature of Italy's imports which has eliminated luxuries and nonessentials almost entirely; diminution to the decrease in imports and exports; and an appreciable drop in tourists expenditures.
League of Nations figures made public last month showed exports from Italy to 28 countries fell from a gold value of $131,200,000 in March, 1935, to $6,200,000 in March, 1936. The non-sanctionists nations of Germany, Austria, Albania and Hungary were included in the compilation.
The cost of more than $500,000 daily to Europe, estimated from an Associated Press survey, extended from the time of the Italian invasion of Ethiopia to the fall of Addis Ababa.
Europe's burden has been felt in many ways, from triple increases in prices of lemons in Denmark to disappearance of a lucrative coal market in Wales.
Great Britain, occupying the dual role of important trader and mistress of the mediterranean, shouldered the brunt.
In seven months, the Italo-Ethiopian conflict cost the United Kingdom more than $75,000,000, of which over half was a direct charge on the taxpayer for the cost of the special military, naval and aerial defense precautions.
From the British taxpayers' pockets also came $45,000 paid to compensate Yugoslavia for her losses in enforcing sanctions.
On the export side, British trade with Italy dwindled during the six months ending March 31 to $4,000,000 compared with $24,500,000 in the same period in 1934-1935.
France was second in the list of heavy losers, as business estimated its losses from sanctions at approximately $21,000,000.
Exporters say sanctions have:
1. Tied up in Italy $26,400,000 due the French exporters for goods sold in Italy before financial relations were severed.
2. Cost hundreds of millions of francs in canceled contracts, figured in the estimated trade loss.
3. Decreased employment.
Denmark's losses were figured at least $1,000,000.
Switzerland's exports to Italy in the first six months of sanctions dropped approximately $15,000,000 under the figure for the corresponding period a year earlier.
Turkey was regarded as one of the few countries which profited during the sanctions period, because she was able to supply goods, particularly coal, which was not on the sanctions list, due to her $9,000,000 debt to Italy for two submarines and several seaplanes previously purchased.
Belgium's coal exports to Italy increased nine times, but the drop in other trading through sanctions was estimated to have cost her nearly $10,000,000.
Austrian trade increased. Germany whose exports of coal, iron and steel products increased perceptibly, counted her gains as small because of the difficulty of obtaining payment.

"Ziony" Has Some Rep.
Chris C. Wilkins, Seattle business man, just returned from a cross-country automobile tour, had this to say:

"Everywhere I went people noted the Washington license on my automobile and had some pertinent remarks to make about the actions of Congressman Zioncheck.

"Every time I wrote 'Seattle' on a hotel register the clerk would smile and say something about Zioncheck. People seeing my automobile parked on the street would throw in copies of local newspapers relating the latest exploits of my congressman.

"Mrs. Wilkins was stopped by the police in Jacksonville, when they noted the license. They said they were looking for Zioncheck."

HAPPENINGS AT CAMERON

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schultz and daughter Viola spent Sunday near Elk River on a huckleberrying trip.

Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Meske of Lind, Wash., arrived last Wednesday for a visit with their son, Rev. T. Meske. They were accompanied by Rev. T. Meske's grandmother, Mrs. Sonneberg, and his aunt, Mrs. Lueneburg, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. On Thursday evening Rev. H. G. Meske suddenly became seriously ill and passed away at 10:45 p. m. Saturday evening. The body was taken to Lind, Wash., Sunday morning, and the family also left immediately for that place, where the funeral will be held.

Miss Gladys Webster returned to her home at Lewiston on Friday, after spending the past week with Wilma and Viola Schultz.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Wegner and family and Harry Wegner spent Sunday at Bovill visiting at the John Groh home.

Many people from here have gone huckleberrying during the past week. Most of them have had good luck.

Rev. Finke of Southwick spent Friday evening at the T. Meske home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blum and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenn were Lewiston visitors Saturday.

Howard Ehlers of Lewiston is spending a few weeks here with relatives. Miss Wilma Schultz returned home Wednesday after spending the past week visiting in Leiston.

Stomach Ache

Turn your mind along the path of memory and you may recall this childhood jingle:

"A little fly flew past my door,
Right into the grocery store.
He ate so much jelly cake,
It made his little belly ache."

The verse says nothing about the "bellyaches" that afflicted humans after eating fly-blown jelly cake and other foods, but there were plenty of them. The old-time grocery store, as a matter of fact, was an unsanitary marvel. The storekeeper customarily brushed the flies off the cheese before cutting you a slice. His cakes and breads were exposed to the ravages of any passing insect, as were many other items. What a chemical analysis of his cracker barrel would have disclosed in the way of foreign elements is hard to imagine.

Contrast our Kendrick stores with those of yesterday. Foods are protected by glass. Refrigeration keeps perishables in the best of condition. Breads, pastries and crackers come in cellophane and wax-wrapped packages, cheese comes in glasses and foil-wrapped packages, or is kept under glass with refrigeration. It's pretty thin pickings for a present day fly in a Kendrick store.

4-H CLUBS TO MAKE WIDE STUDY OF TIME USES

A nation-wide study to improve rural and small town social and recreational life is to be a major objective of 4-H local leaders and members in the next few months.

The program seeks to discover the best ways by which the youth of a community may use its leisure time and thus offset tendencies common today which are destructive to the development of the finest manhood and womanhood.

Guides for the study are being distributed to 75,000 state, county and local club leaders of the United States by the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' club work, which is launching the project.

The guide is in the form of a report blank and calls for information on such activities of 4-H clubs as contests and personal growth opportunities as indicated by school records, reading habits, music participation and use of radio, church and secular programs. Other desired data is on picnics, camps, tours, public entertainments, discussion groups and community enterprises like park and playground development, libraries, fire prevention and cooperation in local fairs. Conservation and social service in all of their aspects complete the list of subjects for which information is desired.

Reports of local clubs are to be completed and filed with county extension agents for the selection of a county champion club early in October. The records of the county winning clubs are to be submitted to the state club leader in time for the selection of a state champion club by November 9. State reports in each of the four extension divisions of the United States will be judged to choose a winner therein, and one of these four will be named national champion.

County winning clubs each receive a handsome year book to record its activities. The leader of each county champion club receives a gold medal, and its respective county extension office a silver plaque. The state winning club receives a library of 100 phonograph records selected for recreational use and a record player. The leader of the club receives a $100 fully equipped radio.

To each member of the four regional winning clubs up to ten members and their leaders is awarded an all expense educational trip to the fifteenth National Club congress to be held in Chicago November 27 to December 5 in connection with the International Livestock Exposition.

The members of the national champion club receive a gold medal, and to their county goes a combination radio-phonograph and 416 selected records valued at $1,550. Two 500 college scholarships complete the prize list which are to be awarded each to a boy and girl participating in the contest who best typify the objectives of 4-H clubs.

A Denver Fish Story

Denver, Colo.—The state game and fish commission tells this "milk-fed" fish yarn" with tongue in cheek.

Al Burnett, who lives seven miles from Salada, had noticed for several days, the commission said, that his cows were giving less milk. Determined to learn the reason, Burnett followed the cows down the little Arkansas river where they usually drank. Suddenly one of the cows started kicking and splashing.

Burnett found four, foot-long trout attempting to get a ration of milk. The other cow, standing placidly in the stream, seemed perfectly content to be milked by four other trout.

Burnett, the fish and game department said, now keeps his cows in the barn.
