HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Reporting crime in general has declined in the last three years, J. Edgar Hoover intensified efforts against the white slave traffic with a request that "public spirited citizens" inform against violators in this field. The director of the federal bureau of investigation said reports from police departments showed all types of crime except criminal attacks declined in 1935 compared to 1933. Robberies dropped most of all, from 45,925 to 33,747; murders declined 13.6 percent and automobile thefts decreased from 388 a day to 286. Despite the declines, Hoover estimated approximately 1,500,000 serious crimes are committed annually in the country. An indication of the proportions of the white slave traffic, against which the federal government long ago directed a law forbidding the transportation of women from one state to another for immoral purposes, was indicated in a report of Hoover's own bureau. It said federal court convictions for white slavery were more numerous in June this year than in any month of the last three years. The $42,830 fines imposed in these cases was described as the largest total in a decade.

Chataqua, N. Y.—Expressing "deep concern" about tendencies abroad, President Roosevelt spoke out for world peace but at the same time warned that this country could and would defend itself and "defend our neighborhood." "I hate war," said the president in close clipped phrases, in a foreign affairs speech urging a building of public opinion neutrality "if war should break out again in another continent." Some, he said, would seek to evade neutrality to gain riches. "If we face the choice of profits or peace," he said, "the nation will answer—must answer—we choose peace." The chief executive spoke from the raised platform of a wooden amphitheatre sunk into a tree-studded hillside near the shores of Lake Chataqua. After describing at length the friendly relations of the nations of North and South America, Mr. Roosevelt expressed apprehension over conditions abroad. He spoke particularly of the "bitter experience" of witnessing the violation of both the spirit and letter of international agreements "without regard to the simple principles of honor."

Seattle.—Darkened and silent, the strike-closed Post-Intelligencer building attracted crowds of spectators who watched squads of police on patrol and the picket lines established by the Seattle chapter of the American Newspaper Guild. Executives of the newspaper which suspended publication indefinitely Saturday night because of a newsroom strike called by the guild said they had no plans for opening immediately. With the plant vacated by all employees except guards, the picket lines were quiet and there were no disorders such as resulted in three beatings and five arrests the first day. The last of the newsroom employees who refused to go on strike were removed under police escort early Saturday morning with the understanding they would remain off duty until called back to work.

Cleveland.—The National Union for Social Justice formally named the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit its first president last Friday and endorsed Representative William Lemke of North Dakota and Thomas C. O'Brien, candidate for the new union party for president and vice president. Endorsement of Lemke and O'Brien occasioned a noisy demonstration by the delegates, but the election of the Detroit priest was made quietly by acclamation. The resolution endorsing Lemke said that, "since the president has issued mandates for must legislation and has been instrumental in gagging congress, it behooves this assembly to endorse a candidate for president. Inasmuch as President Roosevelt has notoriously broken his promises, and Mr. Landon appears imbued with the same philosophy which reduced us to want in the midst of plenty, it behooves this assembly to endorse Messrs. Lemke and O'Brien." Father Coughlin maintained complete control of the organization under the constitution adopted. He appoints the nominating committee whose choices for other officers are final.

Parents Of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Heimgartner of Juliaetta are the proud parents of a 6½-pound son, who arrived at their home last Sunday. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Beans A Fair Crop

Some farmers already have their beans in the shock, but the larger majority of them are yet to be cut. It is said that the general average will be from 2 to 4½ sacks per acre, the latter amount being the exception rather than the rule. Early beans this year, will yield better than the late planting, as the heat and dryness caused many bloom to drop instead of setting on.

FOREST FIRE TAKES 60 ACRES TIMBER AND WOOD

Fire, also suspected to be of incendiary origin, since it apparently started at two places simultaneously, destroyed about 60 acres of fine timber and pasture, Sunday, before being brought under control Sunday evening by a large crew of CCC men from Pullman, Moscow and Genesee. The fire was reported to Harold Thomas about 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and he immediately called the Moscow CCC headquarters for men. About 5:30 two truckloads arrived and went to the fire. The officer in charge took one look at the blaze, placed his men and then called for more. At one time 14 truckloads of CCC men from the three camps were on the job.

Late Sunday night the fire was brought under control, but at the time of going to press crews are still watching the flames, which are burning in old snags and down timber.

The fire apparently started about 100 yards inside the Freytag boundary line, and rapidly ate its way toward timber owned by A. F. Wegner and Harold Thomas, most of the loss being sustained by Mr. Freytag and Mr. Wegner. Mr. Freytag lost, in addition to his fine standing timber, an undetermined number of cords of cut and seasoned wood, which was ready for market.

At the time of going to press the exact starting time or place of the fire had not been determined, but those seeing it in its early stages said it seemed to come from two points at the same time, and gathered headway rapidly. It would almost seem from the number of recent unexplained fires that we may have a firebug loose in our midst, and residents would do well to exercise caution, especially at this time of the year. The wanton destruction of another man's property is next to murder and severe punishment is sure to be meted out to anyone proven starting such fires.

The loss sustained by Mr. Freytag and Mr. Wegner is severe, but that of Mr. Thomas in this case, light, since the fire but edged his timber.

Former Kendrick Resident Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Otilie Pauline Malnarich, 56, who died early Sunday morning at St. Joseph's hospital where she was being treated for cancer, was held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Genesee Lutheran church. Burial was in the Genesee cemetery.

Mrs. Malnarich was born in Germany and came to America when she was four years old. She was formerly a resident of Sweetwater and had lived here for the last 16 years.

Survivors are her widower, Louis Malnarich; six children, Fred, Cornick of Genesee, Mrs. Ella Herman of Genesee, Mrs. Mabel Frazier of Orofino, and Irvin and Edna Malnarich of Sweetwater; two half-brothers, Charles Brown of Weippe and August Tetzloff of Portland; four sisters, Mrs. August Woodman of Spokane, Mrs. Ira Crandell of Pullman, Mrs. A. Swanson of Cedar Creek and Mrs. Bumgard, who resides in the east, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of Pullman.

The Malnarichs formerly lived on a bench farm between Kendrick and Juliaetta.

Brings 'Em In Alive

Jim Emmett is about the only real representative, living in these parts, of the famous Frank Buck, wild animal hunter, who brings 'em in alive. Jim didn't exactly bring in an animal, but he was exhibiting a real live hawk around town last week which he had captured near the Herman Schupfer residence. The bird had a wing spread of some 46 inches and had a mean beak and claws.

Jim said: "Shucks, it wasn't nothin'. Why, when I used to live down in Missouri—" Well, we just haven't space for the many accomplishments Jim had down in the "Show-Me" state—but anyway, he actually had the hawk to prove he can bring 'em in alive.

FIRE DESTROYES HOME AND DAIRY BUILDINGS

Fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, completely destroyed the dairy ranch buildings of Harold Thomas in the east part of town, just across the Bear creek bridge, Saturday evening, the siren sounding at 8:40 p. m. At the time the fire was reported and residents arrived to help, the entire home was a mass of flames. There being no fire plug on that side of the bridge, and the nearest one the school house, nothing could be done but salvage feed piled in the barn and watch the flames leap from the house to barn and destroy it, thence to a small shed.

The home occupied by Mrs. Gentry nearby was saved by a bucket crew carrying water from the R. L. Blewett home across the road and the Stevenson home nearby.

Two weeks ago today (Thursday) the fire siren sounded for a fire in the same house, which was put out by a garden hose. At this fire it was discovered that a front screen had been split from top to bottom and the wire bent as though someone had pushed their way through the split.

At this later fire, early arrivals said the whole back of the home—three rooms across, appeared to have burst into flames simultaneously—and that, coupled with the previous fire—leads Mr. Thomas to believe it was set, but for what reason he does not know. The barn contained about four tons of hay, which was destroyed. It also contained 22 sacks of mill feed, 17 of which were carried to safety before the flames drove workers away. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowling, who occupied the house, were both away at work at the time, and it is said no fire had been in the house since early morning. Mr. and Mrs. Bowling lost all personal belongings—everything but the clothes they were wearing at the time.

The buildings on the place will not be rebuilt, as arrangements have been completed for L. A. Bartlett to take the cows. Mr. Thomas will purchase the milk from Mr. Bartlett, bring it to the creamery plant, where a new pasteurizer will pasteurize, cool, bottle and cap the milk, all without opening the machine. Milk and cream delivery will be just as formerly. No insurance was carried by either Mr. Thomas or Mr. Bowling, and the loss is rather a severe jolt to both.

Fire In Warehouse Building

Fire of undetermined origin did minor damage to the old cold storage warehouse owned by Harry Driscoll of Troy and used by Goodfellow Brothers, contractors, as a storage warehouse, Tuesday morning about 8:00 a. m. The local fire department was on the job in a moment, and the fire extinguished after doing only minor damage. Just how it started is not known, but a small boy was seen there Monday evening smoking a cigarette, and that may be the explanation.

Much Wheat Moving

Not only are the warehouses in Kendrick about the busiest places to be found at this time, but the railroad also is doing a "land-office" business in shipping. Up to Wednesday evening, August 19, 48 cars of wheat have been shipped from Kendrick.

Trucks are crowding each other at both the Kendrick Rochdale and the Lewiston Grain Growers warehouses and many haulers are insisting on making it almost a 24-hour job for the warehousemen.

There are few sections of the United States that are favored as is the entire Potlatch section this year and for the first time in several years the farmers are getting something near what they are entitled to from their farms.

Julius C. Giese Passes On

Julius C. Giese, 70, prominent farmer of the Fix Ridge section, Juliaetta, passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon after an illness of six weeks. He had resided near Juliaetta for 36 years.

He is survived by eight children: Mrs. Charles Austin, Twin Falls; George Giese, Moscow; Julius Giese, Grants Pass, Ore.; Adolph Giese, Peck; Alfred Giese, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Fred Albright, Herman Giese and Carl Giese, all of Lewiston.

Funeral services were held from the Lutheran church at Juliaetta Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The body will rest in the Fix ridge cemetery.

DANGER RECORDS TELL OF CRITICAL PERIOD

With attention focused on the explosive conditions in the forests east of the continental divide, the aggravated fire-danger situation in western Montana and northern Idaho received secondary notice by the public. Officers of Region One of the Forest Service were keenly aware of the western situation, however, the story being told in daily fire-danger measurement.

Just how serious that situation was during the latter half of July is revealed by the periodic report of the Priest River, Idaho, inflammability measurement stations of the northern Rocky mountain forest and range experiment station for July 21 to 31.

"Conditions were more dangerous in every respect, except for wind, than during the same period in 1934," said the reports. "The period was especially bad because the measurements show that the dryness has penetrated even into the dense timber, which normally remains less inflammable."

The year 1934 was an especially bad fire season, climaxed with the Pete King-McLendon Butte fire in the Lochsa river drainage in northern Idaho, where the flames covered 240,000 acres before they were conquered.

Rainfall during July at Missoula was only half of the normal precipitation, and at Spokane only a tenth of normal, according to the U. S. weather bureau. The average relative humidity for the air for July 21 to 31 was the lowest ever measured at Priest River, and forest-duff temperatures reached 167 degrees, an all-time record. Vegetation has cured rapidly, being fully a month ahead of last year and changing from a fire-retardant to a fire-accelerator. Wood cylinders used in fire-danger measurements showed the forest fuels at elevations above 3,100 feet were extremely inflammable day and night, the moisture content being under seven percent continuously. Ordinarily these moistures rise to 15 or even 20 percent during the cool, moist nights.

Obviously, conditions were such that fire would spread rapidly. During this critical period, 276 fires were started in Region One, the western portion having 224 of them. Of the western forests' 224 fires, 201 were held to one-quarter of an acre, 15 attained sizes ranging from one-quarter acre to ten acres, and only eight exceeded ten acres. Alertness on the part of lookout and speed in getting men to fires is responsible for that performance and fire control.

Carelessness Draws $18 Fine

Forest Ranger James E. Kauffman, stationed at Dixie in the Nez Perce national forest, Saturday arrested Alfred Moat, prospector of Elk City, charged with throwing a lighted cigarette stub from an automobile into forest material. Moat was taken to Grangeville and before Justice Archie Howard. He was fined $10 and costs of $8. Because of the fire hazard prevailing, with the timber dry as tinder, forest service officials are taking every available step to prevent possible spread of flames.

All of the newer cars have ash trays, where cigarette butts may be deposited with safety, but few of the drivers seem to realize this fact, for more than 90 per cent of them still throw their matches and cigarette butts out of their cars as they drive along—supposedly from a long-continued habit.

Flames Destroy Wheat And Cars

Flames alleged to have started in the elevator operated by Lewiston Grain Growers, Inc., at Sweetwater about 6 o'clock Thursday night of last week brought about destruction of the string of warehouses, the burning of 16 freight cars of the Camas Prairie railroad and the loss of thousands of bushels of wheat owned by farmers in one of the most destructive blazes in the history of rural Nez Perce county. The loss was estimated at about $150,000 to $200,000. Because of the fact that much of the wheat delivered at the warehouses was still the property of the growers and that no warehouse tickets had been issued, the loss is a matter of conjecture. The elevator and two grain warehouses were a total loss.

Duck Hunting Season Shorter

Duck hunters will have a 30-day season this fall, under what the department of agriculture announced as "rigid and drastic" reductions. In Idaho this season is from November 1 to 30. At this time it is not known whether on "stagger" or straight days.

Juliaetta Resident Passes

James J. Groseclose, 73, resident of Juliaetta more than 34 years, died there Tuesday night. Mr. Groseclose was born May 1, 1863, in Virginia. He is survived by his widow and by four sons and two daughters—Leslie Gussie, George, Everett, Lewis and Etta Mae, all of Juliaetta.

The body was taken to the Short chapel, Moscow. Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Juliaetta Methodist church, the Rev. F. O. Sapp in charge.

THOMAS CANNERY STARTS OPERATION SATURDAY

The newly installed cannery, owned and operated by Harold Thomas, started a trial run Saturday morning with a crew of 25 men and women employed in canning tomatoes. The real run of tomatoes will not be on for a week yet, but many are ready at this time, and the cannery will operate enough each day, to care for those ready to can.

This institution is a new one for Kendrick, and great interest is being shown in its operation, both by those wishing work and interested residents. This venture should prove highly successful, since no finer tomatoes are raised than those grown in the Juliaetta section and on the bench farms surrounding. In former years one was operated very successfully at Juliaetta, until destroyed by fire, and operations transferred to Lewiston. Rough roads and brusing dockage made transportation there impractical so Mr. Thomas decided on the installation of one here, and all indications point to a very successful run. The brand "Potlatch Pride" is being used, and the stacks of cans are growing larger hour by hour.

Mr. Thomas states that if the tomato run proves as successful as now anticipated, he will can prunes and perhaps apples this fall.

Such an institution adds to the payrolls about town—let's all pull together to help make this institution a success.

Slumber Party

On Thursday evening of last week Mrs. Thorvald Nelson entertained a number of young ladies at a slumber party in her home.

The evening started off with a sumptuous dinner, for which Mrs. Nelson is famous. Later in the evening Mrs. Nelson displayed her many lovely collections of art and fancy work. At a late hour the ladies decided it was time to slumber and donned pajamas.

Guests were Rilla Davidson, Maxine Keene, Allene Rider, Elma Jones and Orene Hardeman.

Has Broken Ankle

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cox arrived in Kendrick Monday afternoon from Potlatch, where Charley had been confined during the past week with a badly mashed left ankle and leg bones, caused by a log rolling on him. The accident happened last week while he was working in the woods, at Three Bear.

Weiner Roast

Miss Elma Jones entertained some friends at her home with a weiner roast and slumber party, which took place out of doors, last Friday night.

Those present were Maxine Keene, Orene Hardeman, Margaret Lien, Margaret Leland, Allene Rider, and the hostess.

Will Open New Store

M. O. Raby is remodeling what was formerly the dining room of the Raby Hotel and expects in a short time to open a men's and women's ready-to-wear shop. No definite time has been set for the opening as he has no positive information as to just when his stock will begin to arrive.

Underwent Tonsilectomy

Dean Hunt, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldie Hunt of Southwick had his tonsils removed at the office of Dr. D. A. Christensen on Friday of last week.

Clarabelle Powell of Lenore also had her tonsils removed in Monday.

Sells Home

A deal was completed last week whereby Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stout purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Daugherty, to take possession September 1.

Mr. Daugherty's future residence has not been decided upon.

Judge: "And why do you think I should be lenient with you?"
Culprit: "It's my lawyer's first case."

GRAIN MARKET CONTROLLED BY CROP PROSPECTS

Uncertainty as to final harvest outturns continued the dominant influence in the grain situation during the week ended August 14, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat markets fluctuated with varying conditions in important marketing areas. Spring wheat declined despite prospects of a short North American crop, influenced by increased offerings of new grain both in the United States and Canada, some slackening in inquiry for flour and a less urgent demand for Canadian wheat towards the close of the week. Winter wheat markets, however, remained firm with a sharp reduction in receipts and a continued active inquiry from mills and shippers. Oats were steady. Barley futures declined but malting types were independently firm in cash markets.

August 1 condition confirmed the serious drought damage to crops during July. Conditions August 1 indicated a spring wheat crop of 113,648,000 bushels of which only 9,031,000 bushels is durum. The winter wheat crop was placed at 519,097,000 bushels, indicating a total production this season of 632,745,000 bushels. No official estimate is yet available from Canada but trade agencies place the outturn in the Prairie provinces at 190,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels.

The smaller wheat harvest this season is accentuated by a decrease of around 250,000,000 to 275,000,000 bushels in world stocks of old crop grain. The United States carryover of 150,000,000 bushels July 1 had been reduced to 114,000,000 bushels at the first of August. Stocks in Canada on August 1, were the smallest since 1929 and totaled 108,747,000 bushels compared with 203,273,000 bushels a year earlier while bonded Canadian wheat in store in the United States totaled 19,268,000 bushels against 11,750,000 bushels a year earlier.

Domestic cash wheat markets were somewhat unsettled with prices influenced by local market conditions. Spring wheat prices declined slightly despite the short crop, with increased offerings of new grain and some slackening in the flour trade the principal weakening influences. Receipts totaled 1,279 cars at Minneapolis and 50 cars at Duluth. Of the Minneapolis arrivals, 253 cars were winter wheat and 77 cars durum.

Durum prices declined sharply with the Duluth September down 8c from a week ago. Premiums held about unchanged with as much as 25c per bushel premium being paid for good colored high protein amber durum. At the close of the week No. 2 amber durum, ordinary protein was quoted at Minneapolis at $1.02 to $1.05 per bushel.

Winter wheat markets continued to strengthen, influenced principally by reduced marketings and a continued active milling demand. Receipts at the principal markets were less than half those of the previous week and totaled 2,334 cars. Growers were less inclined to market remaining stocks because of the prospective shortage of feed grains and the upward trend in prices. At Kansas City, cash wheat advanced 2c to 3c per bushel, with No. 2 hard winter quoted at $1.20 to $1.24. At Fort Worth No. 1 hard winter was quoted at $1.37 delivered Texas common points, with trading restricted because of scarcity of offerings. Mills and buyers for outside concerns competed for the limited offerings at St. Louis with interior milling concerns the principal buyers at Chicago. Purchases "to arrive" decreased materially and current receipts were only about half those of the previous week. Premiums were advanced about 1c per bushel, with No. 2 hard winter quoted at $1.18 to $1.22 per bushel. Soft winter wheat advanced with hard winter and No. 2 was quoted at Chicago at $1.13 to $1.15, at St. Louis at $1.18 to $1.19.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were firm to somewhat higher as a result of good local demand. Rains interfered with threshing in the Idaho-Utah area but marketings of new wheat were nearing the peak with shipments well under a year ago. Prices advanced to 92c for No. 2 soft white, 95c for No. 2 hard white and 98c for No. 2 northern spring. FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

The Portland market advanced 1c to 2½c despite increased receipts which totaled 1,386 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals. Mills were active buyers of wheat as a result of improved demand for flour but increased takings by Atlantic

Range And Livestock Conditions
Idaho ranges are reported in good condition. Although declining from 92 per cent of normal on July 1 to 90 per cent on August 1, condition is now about eight per cent above the August 1 ten-year average. The condition of cattle and sheep improved slightly during July, the condition of both is now higher than the ten-year average for August 1.

July was very warm. Temperatures in many sections averaging higher than for 50 years or more. Precipitation on the other hand was also in excess of normal, which has aided range conditions.
Cattle are generally in good condition. The proportion of cattle to be held over will depend upon later prices but will probably be about normal. Most late lambs are reported heavy and in excellent condition.

All Voters Checked

Genesee News, Genesee—If the present system of nominating candidates for election continues as it is practiced in Genesee under Idaho's direct primary, the time will soon come when it will be difficult to get a sufficient number of voters to the polls to hold elections, it appears that voters are entitled to a secret ballot, but with the present system of being required to state which ballot shall be marked, the voter often dislikes making public his or her choice. Then too, with an extra person at the polls to check each person and the ballot they choose seems to most people that they are being deprived of their rights. With only 180 persons appearing at the polls in Genesee Tuesday to vote signifies that they dislike the direct primary and having someone check on which major political party ballot they select.

Looking over the election laws under Sec. 33-1107, counting of ballots is defined, and provides that such counting may be witnessed by one representative from each of the political parties represented upon the official ballot, which representatives shall be designated in writing by the chairman and secretary of the respective county central committee, and who shall each take and subscribe an oath before one of the judges of election that he will not, prior to the closing of the polls, communicate in any manner directly or indirectly, by word or sign, the progress of the counting nor the result so far as ascertained, nor any information whatsoever in relation thereto; and such representatives and the judges counting the ballots shall be confined to the room or place provided, and shall not leave the same during the count except in case of necessity, and then in the custody of the constable of election; nor shall any such election officers or party representatives in any manner, directly or indirectly, by word or sign, disclose or communicate the progress of the counting, nor the result so far as ascertained, nor any information whatsoever in relation thereto, until the polls are closed.

Any person who shall intentionally ascertain or attempt to ascertain the progress or state of the count before the close of the polls, and any officer of election or party representative designated as aforesaid who shall violate any of the provisions of this Section, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the penitentiary for a period not to exceed one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

From the above it is clearly understood that witnesses may be present in the ballot counting room, but a number of voters of both parties are wondering how a person can be placed in the room where the election supplies and booths are located to keep a count on the ballots used and the party to which each voter subscribes at the nominating election.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY

and central western buyers were a further strengthening influence. Additional sales were reported to Liverpool and inquiries were received from Japan. Steady sales were reported to gulf ports and Minneapolis and Kansas City areas. California buyers took some high protein wheats and were inquiring for soft wheats. At the close of the week, hard white (Big Bend bluestem or baart) was quoted at Portland at $1.16, 12 per cent protein dark hard winter at $1.14, soft white and western white at 98½c, hard winter at $1.02 and western red at 99½c per bushel, all basis No. 1 sacked.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets developed further strength, reflecting a good inquiry for both malting and feeding types and lack of selling pressure from growers. Recent sales were reported at around $1.55 per 100, net to growers at country points. Receipts at Portland during the week totaled 26 cars, bringing the total since July 1 to 89 cars, compared with only 28 cars for the same period last year. Prices were up around 7½c for the week, with No. 2 bright western quoted at Portland at $1.55 per 100, sacked basis.
Oats markets were firm, reflecting the strength in the general feed grain situation. Pacific Northwestern oats markets advanced 7½c to 10 per 100 over a week ago, with light offerings the principal strengthening influence. No. 2 white oats testing 38 pounds were quoted at Portland at $1.47½ per 100, sacked basis. Inquiries from the Atlantic Seaboard for Oregon oats were a strengthening market factor and fairly liberal sales were reported to Texas ports.

A dispatch tells of paper being made from skunk cabbage upon which newspapers may be printed.—Just the thing for the big political campaign.

TO WATER USERS

Three Shows On Schedule
Most picture fans like a western—and Zane Grey's are all good. This time it will be "Drift Fence," which will be shown at the local theatre this Friday and Saturday nights, with Larry (Buster) Crabbe and a host of others. Rustlers mixing it up with Texas rangers and quick trigger fighters of the ranges in a romance of the Old West at its rip-roarin' best.
In addition, there will be another feature film that will give all a thrill. It's mostly about two youngsters, fugitives from a "baby farm," when they start to find a mother for Tiny Tim. Their wanderings take them to the spotless home of Miss Vilda Cummins, the village spinster, who grudgingly allows the children to stay, and in return for which Tim tries to do a man's work. It's a picture all will like.
Both the above pictures will be shown at the price of a single admission.
On next Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 24 and 25, "Magnificent Obsession," said to be one of the finest pictures on the screen, with Irene Dunn and Robert Taylor in the leading roles, will be shown. It is said to be "the picture of pictures." As a book its pages seared the souls of millions. It's on the screen now with greater power and beauty, to hold you spell-bound with its beautiful love story. Don't miss seeing it.

WELL, FOLKS: Now that we have threshed our crop of political candidates and have them sacked ready for treatment at the general election this fall, let's get down to business and consider your money harvest. Are you getting the most out of it? If you're not caring for old bossy and bringing the cream to us you are overlooking a very fertile source of income, and can you afford to? Better give the matter serious consideration. Are you serving our cottage cheese on your table? If not you are overlooking a delightful and nutritious hot weather food.

"Do you think it pays to put much money in clothes?"
"Not if your wife gets up in the middle of the night to see if there are holes in the pockets."

"Why does a person always lower his voice when asking for a loan?"

"I suppose for the same reason he raises it when he doesn't get it."

"Pa, what does it mean here by 'diplomatic phraseology'?"

"My son, if you tell a girl that time stands still while you look into her eyes, that's diplomacy. But if you tell her that her face would stop a clock, your in for it."

Why Shell Horsehide (Though Soft As Buckskin) Outwears All Other Leathers!

IF YOU want to get longer wear and greater comfort out of work shoes, we recommend that your next pair be Wolverine Work Shoes—made of Shell Cordovan Horsehide. This leather outwears all others because it includes an inner shell found only on the horse's hips (about one-sixth of the hide). First you wear out the leather—then you wear out the shell. No wonder many say Wolverines wear two or three years!

remains scuffproof; has fifty per cent greater resistance against acids; and is almost impossible to rip and tear.

We predict that after wearing one pair of Wolverine Horsehides, you'll never be satisfied with anything less in wear and comfort. Ankle-lengths to knee-highs... grease-filled or flexible soles... we've got them all—at mighty reasonable prices. Why not come in today and try on a pair of

And that's not all. Shell Horsehide as tanned by Wolverine dries soft under all weather conditions;
