VOLUME XXXV

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1936

NO. 40

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Cincinnati.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin declared here that "when any upstart dictator in the United States succeeds in making this nation a one-party form of government and the ballot becomes useless, I shall have the courage to stand up and advocate the use of bullets." He told a rally of the National Union for Social Justice also that "the red flag has been uplifted in America; we must stop, look and listen, lest disaster confront us." William Lemke, union party candidate for the presidency, preceded Father Coughlin with an assertion that "President Roosevelt is now talking about crop insurance when there has been a crop insurance bill before the house since he entered the White House, and he blocked it."

Washington.—Regulations under which western stockmen can share in the federal benefit payments vary from a top of $50 for each spring or seep of water development, down to 7½ cents an acre for killing prairie dogs and 5 cents an acre for infested rats. This program will be operative the rest of the year. A maximum for benefit payments on each range was fixed at $2 a head multiplied by the grazing capacity of the ranch. Thus on a ranch found capable of feeding 500 cattle the benefit limit would be $1,000. "This program is open to all stockmen in the states concerned," said George E. Farrell, director of the western AAA division comprising 13 states. "It will apply to privately owned and privately controlled land."

Pullman, Wash.—Extension service Director F. E. Balmer reported advice from the regional AAA office at Berkeley, Cal., that Secretary Wallace had authorized immediate purchase of 3,000 tons of Pacific coast sandard prunes. Balmer said 600 tons would be purchased in the Pacific Northwest and 2,400 tons in California. He said purchases "would be made from packers who agree to buy an equal quantity of unprocessed 1936 crop prunes from growers at prices not less than a 3½ cent basis. The government-purchased prunes will be distributed to families on relief rolls, Balmer said he was informed, and thereby removed from regular trade channels. Balmer said the purchase will supplement the 500 tons of sub-standard prunes included in the diversion program approved recently by Secretary Wallace and now being placed in operation by the Pacific Prune Products association, a non-profit organization formed by the industry.

Denver.—A September snowstorm, the worst in Colorado history, sent three persons crashing to their death in an airplane Monday and caused untold damage to trees and power lines in eastern Colorado. The center of the storm was over Denver and Colorado Springs and seven persons were marooned on Pike's peak, lofty sentinel of the plains that juts 14,109 feet high from the Rockies west of Colorado Springs. They were employees of concessions on the peak and were sheltered in cabins with food and fuel. Officials felt no anxiety for their safety. About mid-way between Denver and Colorado Springs, at Palmer Lake, the main north-south highway through Colorado was closed and dozens of motorists were marooned. State police were aiding in clearing the blockade and helping the marooned to reach shelter.

Marshfield, Ore.—There was hope in the once-green country of southwestern Oregon tonight (Monday). As though answering the prayers of 200,000 persons in this smoke-blackened country of natural wonderland, the wind died down. Reasonably favorable weather conditions brought encouragement to 5,000 men fighting the flames over a 400,000 acre section, that other cities would be spared the fate of Bandon, a heap of ruins where at least nine persons lost their lives. Coos County Judge McLain said property losses would be at least three million dollars. Added to this was the economic loss of lumber production. The majority of mills have been closed indefinitely to permit employees to fight fires.

Juliaetta Couple Wed
Marion M. Stevens and Erma Heimgartner, Juliaetta, were married Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Orval D. Peterson, Lewiston.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. A. Heimgartner, Evelyn and Albert Heimgartner, Mrs. F. Hoisington, Elsie Mitchell and Glenn Stevens of Culesac.

Bride And Groom Visit
Arnold Blackburn and Elsa Bell, both of El Centro, Calif., were united in marriage at Moscow by Judge L. G. Peterson on Saturday, September 26.

Mr. Blackburn is a grandson of Mrs. C. C. Blackburn and he and his bride came here for a visit with his grandmother and other relatives. Both Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn are natives of Idaho, Mr. Blackburn's home having been at Teakean and Mrs. Blackburn's was formerly at Rathdrum, before going to California.

THREE BEAR KILLED ON AND NEAR TEXAS RIDGE

Three black bear have fallen prey to the guns of hunters near Kendrick in the past week. Lawrence Barlett, living at the Pine Creek bridge, and his son, accounted for two fine fellows near their home Thursday afternoon of last week, a high-powered rifle and a shotgun being the implements used. One, a big male, dressed just 289 pounds, when brought to the Thomas Creamery cold storage, weighed and dressed, and when the hide was stretched out, measured almost seven feet from tip to tip. The other killed by Mr. Barlett and son was described as a long-yearling female, and dressed about 125 pounds. The hides on both were described as being prime, and the larger was sent to a Lewiston fur shop for tanning. Both were rolling in fat, and the meat, put into locker boxes, will provide the family many a delicious meal during the coming winter.

The other bear, killed Sunday morning by James Farrington and Louis Londers, was a male, and said to be about the size and weight of the big fellow killed by the Bartletts. The weight of this fellow was not learned, but it was also said to be very fat, and the hide in prime condition. The meat likewise went into the Thomas Creamery for storage.

An occasional bear has been seen about Kendrick nearly every year, but it is unusual for them to stray far from their homes in the hills, especially at this time of year. But stray they did, and they'll never again pick a huckleberry bush or root for grubs.

Canning Prunes

The Thomas cannery has been canning prunes during the past few days, the fruit having been bought from Dan Holbrook of Juliaetta. Mr. Thomas said they were of splendid quality and uniform size. There were about 250 cases of gallon containers put up in the run.

Next year Mr. Thomas expects to be able to handle much more in the way of fruit and vegetables and has demonstrated that "it can be done" right here in Kendrick. The cannery is an institution to be proud of and it is hoped those who are interested in selling their produce on the local market will inspect it and make inquiries regarding the possibilities it holds out to them.

Double-Eight Bridge Club

The Double-Eight Bridge club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker Wednesday evening. Dessert was served, after which bridge was played at four tables. Mrs. W. B. Deobald was high for the ladies and Sivvie Cook was high for the men, while Mrs. Cook was low for the ladies and James Cairns was low for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cairns and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Havens were taken in as new members. Mrs. M. Tully was an invited guest.

Afternoon Bridge Club

The Afternoon Bridge club held their first fall meeting in the home of Mrs. D. A. Christensen Wednesday afternoon.

Bridge was played at three tables after which lovely refreshments were served by the hostess. High score was awarded Mrs. W. L. McCreary. New members taken in were Mrs. L. J. Herres, Mrs. A. Dawald and Mrs. Roy Bacharach.

Miss Rilla Davidson was an invited guest.

Ladies Aid Meeting

The Ladies Aid of the Community church will meet this Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. B. Thompson. The ladies of the community are cordially invited to attend.

Prof: Didn't I get my last haircut in this shop?
Barber: "I think not, sir. We've only been in business two years."

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL

There will be no school on Thursday and Friday of this week due to the fact that the Idaho Education Association meets in Lewiston on those dates and all teachers of the central Idaho district will attend.

The drive to secure funds for the North Idaho Children's Home at Lewiston is under way at the school. It will be finished by October 5. It is hoped that all townspeople will see fit to contribute as much as possible to this worthy cause.

At a teachers' meeting on Tuesday of this week plans for a carnival were discussed. This matter was taken up at an assembly in the High school and the vote was unanimous for holding the carnival and a tentative date set for October 16.

The first football game of the season was held on Friday afternoon of last week between Culesac and Kendrick High schools. The game did not show the teams to be in midseason shape. However, both teams made a creditable showing and the final score was Kendrick 13 and Culesac 0. A game was to have been played with Juliaetta High school on September 30, but has been indefinitely postponed.

The Little International Stock Show is being held in Portland this week-end and next week. As a result of this a large delegation of agriculture students of the Kendrick schools are to attend this worthwhile event. Through the cooperation of School Districts No. 32 and 38 the school bus which brings the children from these districts has been secured for the trip. This makes it possible for a large number of boys to make the trip, although only the regular number will be allowed to enter the judging on Saturday of this week. The boys, with Mr. Orr, left early Thursday of this week and drove to Portland. Friday will be spent in seeing some of the sights of the city and visiting points of interest. Saturday the boys will spend at the Stock Show and visit the interesting exhibits at that place. Sunday the return trip will be made. It is felt that the trip will be highly educational to the boys making it and it has been arranged so that they will be able to make the trip on a minimum amount of money. About 22 boys will make the trip.

On Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. the first of a series of programs to be sponsored by the P.-T. A. will be held at the High school assembly. The programs are put on by the National Assemblies and come very highly recommended. The feature of Tuesday's program will be by the Orendo Magic Co., featuring everything that goes with the magician's art. A slight admission will be charged and it is hoped that all townspeople and school patrons will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending this feature and at the same time help the P.-T. A. organization.

Don't Miss Sales Day
The entire countryside is asked to get out their calendar and refresh their memories regarding the big salesday to be held in Kendrick tomorrow (Saturday, October 3), when there will be a program of sports that should interest everyone. Then, too, in addition to the big free auction sale, which will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, there will be tossed into the air from atop one of Kendrick's "skyscrapers" a dozen fine chickens, any one of which would make a nice Sunday dinner for the average family. Anyone catching them may keep.

You are cordially invited to come early and spend the day with us. You will not be asked to buy a single thing, although you will find many bargains in the local stores for that day that will pay handsome dividends on the investment.

Our Serial Story
We have been asked many times why we did not run a serial story in the Gazette. The answer is, that the business done would hardly justify the outlay, since such stories are quite expensive, but we are willing to take a whirl at it anyway and give our readers a story by Peter B. Kyne—"Golden Dawn." This is one of Kyne's latest stories and should command the attention of every reader of fiction.

Peter B. Kyne is one of the best-known writers of today and we are sure this story will be appreciated by all our readers. Read the opening chapters next week—and you will not want to miss a single issue of the Gazette.

LIQUOR QUESTION BACK AS MAJOR ELECTION ISSUE

Wets and drys who thought that repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would eliminate the liquor question from the realm of politics and public discussion seem doomed to disappointment.

Although the republican and democratic candidates for president are quiet on the issue, at least a dozen states are now in the throes of bitter wet and dry campaigns.

Maine will be a patchwork quilt of wet and dry territory as a result of the recent local option election, and "as Maine goes, so goes the nation." Drys in Maine are claiming a great victory in the large number of towns which voted dry.

Liquor forces have been steadily losing ground in Ohio, where more than one-half of the townships have already voted dry under a local option law. More than a hundred additional townships and municipalities will ballot on the question Nov. 3.

For the seventh time in four years wets in North Dakota are seeking a vote on the liquor question in November. Drys won a similar election in that state by a majority of 27,495 last June.

California, termed the "wettest state in the nation," will have two liquor control measures on the ballot November 3, one of which would declare beer non-intoxicating and the other which would set up the machinery for local option.

New Hampshire voters will ballot on two questions in November, under a mandatory clause in the state liquor law. The election will determine whether towns which now permit beer and state liquor stores shall have that privilege for two more years, and whether towns without beer licenses and state stores shall have an opportunity to change to the wet side.

More than 50 precincts in Chicago will ballot on local option in November. Always, it's majority rule.

Wreck Causes Tie-Up

About midnight on Friday of last week the "highball" freight from Lewiston to Spokane was derailed one mile west of Troy, tying up traffic for 24 hours. Only five or six cars were derailed, caused, it is presumed, by a gondola car, loaded with lumber, swaying and climbing the rails. About half a mile of track was torn up, necessitating the replacement of some 1,000 ties.

Owing to the length of the train, which had four engines, the derailment was not noticed until much damage had been done to the track. No damage was done to the cars and no one was hurt. A wrecker was brought from Spokane and trains were running again Saturday night.

Little Frost Damage

A telephone call from Juliaetta on Wednesday morning informed us that very little damage had been done to growing gardens in the Juliaetta section and that they were still picking cucumbers, tomatoes, green beans, watermelons and cantaloupes and that squash vines had not been injured on the bench farms surrounding that place. We had reported considerable frost damage in the Potlatch section, which, of course, would naturally be supposed to include Juliaetta. We are glad to learn that "green goods" may still be had from that much-favored garden spot of the Potlatch valley.

Bean Shipments During Sept.

There seems to have been somewhat of a mix-up on bean shipments from this point, according to various reports, so we have taken the one sure method of getting at the exact number sent out, with the exception of truck shipments.

According to the freight shipment records at the N. P. depot, there have been shipped exactly 31 cars of the fruit from Kendrick. This includes both cleaned and "dirt" beans—from all places doing any shipping. This is up to and including the 29th of September.

First Elk Reported In

Bill Wadd and Ed. Deobald returned Monday morning from the Powell ranger station, near the Montana line, with two fine big bull elk, each with a set of horns that are the pride of the hunters, as well, undoubtedly, as were the proud animals that wore them. The hunt at this time was made possible by a special license permit, before the opening of the regular elk hunting season.

Bob Chilberg Married

An article published in the Lewiston Tribune of Thursday of last week said: "A marriage license was issued at Spokane yesterday to Robert Chilberg of Southwick and Dorothy Candler of Juliaetta."

Bob's friends in Kendrick have wondered at his absence from town but failed to grasp the idea that he had any serious intentions until the news came from another town. Anyway, they all wish he and his bride much happiness and contentment on their journey through life together.

CHARLES LETTENMAIER DIES AT OREGON HOME

The following item was taken from an Oregon City, Oregon, paper:

Charles George Lettenmaier, well-known grocer of Bolton (Oregon) where he had lived for the past 14 years, passed away at his home there on Thursday morning, September 24. He was born January 28, 1866, in Germany, and had come to the United States over 50 years ago. Before coming to this vicinity, about 20 years ago, he had farmed in Minnesota, North Dakota and Idaho. He was a member of the Zion Lutheran church of Oregon City.

He was married in Minnesota to Elizabeth Ollig, who became the mother of eight children, all of whom survive. They moved to Southwick, Idaho, in 1903, and she passed away there in March, 1905. Later, Mr. Lettenmaier married Martha Pompe, who survives. Three sons were born to this union, one of whom, Ewald, died in 1910.

Survivors include the widow, Martha Lettenmaier, Bolton; seven sons, John J. Southwick, Ida.; Henry G. Dishman, Wash.; Joseph C. of Genesee, Idaho; Hubert and Philip of Boise, Idaho, and Karl and Edward of Oregon City; three daughters, Elizabeth Heick, Moscow, Ida., Marie Holwege, Portland, and Frances Teeple, Oregon City; five brothers, Christ of Sanbow, N. D.; John, Aurora; Fred, St. Paul, Minn.; Gottfried, Wacoma, Minn.; Jacob, Wagona, Ore.; two sisters, Caroline Kuhn, St. Paul, Minn., and Rose Kander, St. Paul, Minn.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Zion Lutheran church, with Rev. E. G. Wuest, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Riverview cemetery, Portland.

Mr. Lettenmaier was a former resident of the Southwick section, where he resided until going to Oregon some 14 years ago, and was well known in this entire section.

About Our Roads

Road information is something everyone is seeking just at this time and while there is not a great deal to say, it may be said that things are going forward as well as could be expected on all the projects in this section.

Work on the Cedar creek road is progressing nicely and it is expected graveling operations will start in a short time and graveling was started on this end of the Wauncher gulch road last week, which is indeed encouraging news.

The first coat of gravel has been completed on the Arrow road and it is understood the last coat will be of treated gravel, which is expected to keep the dust down, at least. However, people who have traveled that road before and after the present three miles were built, are not complaining about loose gravel and dust, the improvement making them forget their former jolts.

Improving Property

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDowell have let the contract for the remodeling of their two houses on Main street to Carl Hartung and sons and work will be commenced in a short time. New roofs, new porches, new paint all around, inside and out, foundations repaired, and both made into modern homes. The yards are being terraced and many flowers have been planted. Japanese creeping vines will also be planted and the yards seeded as soon as weather conditions are favorable for such work.

Improvements like these are what keep our little city to the fore and cause visiting strangers to remark: "This is one of the prettiest little towns I have ever seen."

Ladies Made Neat Profit

The Ladies Aid of the Community church served lunch at the Hiram Galloway sale Tuesday and wish to report they took in $45, of which a good share is profit.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER — FEED GRAINS ARE SLOW

Domestic grain markets remained unsettled during the week ended September 25, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat advanced 2c to 3c per bushel, reflecting gains in foreign markets where prospects of increased European imports this season were a strengthening influence. Oats were in only moderate demand and prices were slightly lower. Barley remained practically firm with an active demand for both malting and feeding grades.

Prospects of larger takings by European deficit areas this season, were the outstanding feature in the wheat situation during the current week. Trade agencies placed European import requirements at 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels above early forecasts. Disappointing yields from 1936 European harvests, together with unfavorable harvesting weather, which resulted in considerable unmillable grain, accounted principally for the prospective increases in imports. Unfavorable prospects for southern hemisphere harvesting were additional strengthening factors and were reflected in more active demand for Canadian and Pacific Coast wheat.

Domestic cash wheat markets mostly followed the advance in futures, with offerings only moderate and milling demand fairly active. Receipts of spring wheat were somewhat larger with 298 cars reported at Minneapolis and 107 cars at Duluth. Trading increased with some improvement in labor conditions. Minneapolis futures advanced 3¼c and closed September 25 at $1.29 per bushel. Premiums were well maintained with 58 pound No. 1 dark northern selling at 12c to 18c over the December and 54 pound wheat 4c to 11c over, and 50 pound wheat at from 4c under to 2c over the December.

Durum futures prices gained about as much as those for bread wheats but premiums for cash wheat increased, particularly for Canadian offerings. No. 2 amber domestic durum sold at Minneapolis at 10c to 12c over the Duluth September price of $1.28, while No. 2 Canadian western amber brought 55c to 60c premium over the Winnipeg price of $1.10.

Marketings of winter wheat were somewhat larger with growers more inclined to sell as a result of the higher prices and improved new crop plantings. Receipts at the principal winter wheat markets totaled 1,517 cars compared with 1,286 cars for the previous week and 2,887 cars a year ago. Choice milling lots moved readily but the less desirable types sold slowly as a result of dull demand from both shippers and warehouse interests.

Soft winter wheat, advanced with hard winters, and No. 2 was quoted at St. Louis at $1.21, at Chicago at $1.18 to $1.22 and at Kansas City at $1.21 to $1.24 per bushel. Seeding of winter wheat made considerable progress in most of the soft winter wheat belt and in sections of the hard winter wheat area, where moisture was sufficient for conditioning of the soil.

Seeding was reported one-fourth to one-half done in most of western Kansas and was progressing in other sections of that state. Much of the new crop is up to good stands in Oklahoma and in northern portions of the winter wheat belt. In parts of Minnesota, southern Illinois and western South Dakota, soil has been too dry for seeding.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were influenced largely by local conditions. Harvesting was nearing completion in southern Idaho and northern Utah and marketings were fairly heavy. Oregon mills lowered quotations to 86c per bushel for No. 2 soft white and 96c for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 dark northern spring FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

The Portland market strengthened and prices advanced about 1½c per bushel during the week. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals dropped off slightly with a total of 935 cars but offerings increased slightly at the higher prices. Threatened labor difficulties at docks toward the close of the month, when present agreements expire tended to restrict trade. Advances in foreign markets have placed Pacific Northwest wheat on an export basis and 1,000 tons were reported sold for export during the week to Japan and the same quantity to Rotterdam and 5,000 tons to Italy, mostly for Oct.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER — FEED GRAINS ARE SLOW

October shipment. Local milling inquiry was only moderate and very little grain moved to California.

A moderate flour business was reported to the Philippines under the indemnity plan with sales since July 1, totaling about 185,000 barrels. The indemnity payment at the close of the week was 40c per barrel. On September 25, hard white (Big Bend Bluestem or Baart) was quoted at Portland at $1.06½, with dark hard winter at $1.14, soft white and western white at 98½c, hard winter at $1.02½ and western red at 99½c per bushel, all basis No. 1, sacked.

California wheat markets were independently weak as a result of relatively heavy local supplies and a limited demand for both milling and feed wheat. Mills were mostly working on previously accumulated supplies while feeders were turning to relatively cheap grain sorghums. Soft white wheats reached a shipping basis to North Atlantic ports for the first time in recent years. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at 97c to 99c, No. 1 soft white and No. 1 white club at 96c per bushel. Both hard and soft white wheats were quoted at Los Angeles at 99c to $1.00 per bushel.

Oats markets were fairly steady with the moderate receipts to terminals in good demand and light offerings by growers tended to offset the slow inquiry at Portland and prices held unchanged at $1.50 to $1.52 for No. 2 white oats and $1.45 per 100 for No. 2 gray oats, sacked basis. At San Francisco No. 2 red oats were quoted at $1.55 to $1.65 per 100.

West Coast barley markets, while generally maintaining a firm tone, fluctuated with local grain supply and demand conditions. The San Francisco market was slightly firmer, influenced by a more active demand for choice malting types for export and somewhat better demand for feed types. Offerings from growers were light and local buyers were purchasing only for immediate needs. No. 2 bright western for prompt shipment, was quoted at the close of the week at $1.62½ to $1.65 per 100 pounds, sacked basis.

Delegate To Convention

A clipping from a Richmond, Calif., paper states that A. W. Hartung, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartung of Kendrick, had been selected as delegate from his home-town lodge to the grand lodge annual encampment of the I. O. O. F., held at San Jose October 12.

While Mr. Hartung has been in California for the past several years, he is well and favorably known here.

Rogers "In Old Kentucky"

It is hardly necessary to go into detail when a Will Rogers picture is announced. On this Friday and Saturday nights you will have the opportunity of seeing his latest and best picture, "In Old Kentucky"—the real Will Rogers as you like him best—in a glorious romance that surges through your heart with its pounding hoofs, mellow humor and tingling thrills, he again reveals that simple, unassuming Americanism that endeared him to everyone.

"In Old Kentucky" is a real Kentucky race-horse picture and gives Rogers an opportunity of bringing out all his love for his favorite animal, the horse. And, too, there is a romance running through the picture that will interest old and young, for Will, as he always does, makes everything come out all right. With Rogers is Bill Robinson, a tap dancer that will make you sit up and take notice. Other features will be shown as usual.

This picture will be shown as a Salesday matinee Saturday afternoon.

Was It Black Widow Spider?

Just how serious is the bite of a black widow spider?

That question is uppermost with Stephen Vaudrey, Lewiston Orchards, head janitor at the senior high school who is watching results from a bite while attending to his duties as custodian of school property, said Sunday's Tribune.

Mr. Vaudrey was bitten on the left wrist above his little finger Wednesday evening while gathering grapes on his orchard and garden tract in the orchards.

A small member of the dreaded spider family hopped to his hand and managed to puncture the skin in two places before Mr. Vaudrey could rid himself of the pest. He treated the wound with a liberal dose of iodine and was able to be on the job Thursday and Friday.

Friday Mr. Vaudrey displayed a small lump surrounding the marks but said he felt no ill effects.

THE NEW DEAL IS DESTROYING The FARMERS' MARKET

Through Its Destructive Reciprocal Trade Treaties

The following figures, which were taken from Government records as shown in the Monthly Summary of Foreign Commerce, prove conclusively that we are taking the American farmer out of the foreign market and putting the foreign farmer in the American market.

The drought in the Middle West is the only thing that has saved farmers from further ruin. This act of Nature resulted in a shortage of crops, which temporarily increased prices on some farm products. It has caused a momentary lull in the destruction going on at the hands of the New Deal. And, even under drought and crop shortage conditions, the reciprocal tariff continues to hold farm prices down.

You can help reverse this situation and restore American Markets to American Farmers. Vote on November 3 for a "SQUARE DEAL" for America's millions of farmers.

Palm Tree Taxed
Before the English occupied Egypt, in the last century, every possible use of the palm tree was an excuse for some tax or other, and the tax on this most important tree grew so heavy that many rooted up the young seedlings rather than pay taxes on the trees year by year.
See the home merchant first.

Speaking Of Errors
There are only a few of us who are absolutely perfect and most of us make mistakes of some kind, at some time, and this happened in the Gazette office last week, when an error crept into the ad. of N. B. Long & Sons store, which rather spoiled the meaning of a paragraph or two. The error was made when corrections were put in place.
But that is a sure way to know whether people read the ads or not. If there is an error of any size the office is always reminded of it—thus we know that people do read the advertisements of the local merchants—and many of them benefit thereby.

Beautiful Fall Weather
They may be able to raise a few more varieties of bananas, etc., down in California than can be raised in the Potlatch section, but we defy them to match their foggy weather against our sunshine during the past few weeks. The weather has been ideal for everything except plowing, the ground being a little too dry. However, a few nice showers, which we should have soon, will make things just as they should be.

Dr. Simmons Has Busy Day
Dr. Charles Simmons put in a busy day here Tuesday taking care of the optical needs of his patients. Due to the heavy demand for his services several were unable to have appointments. Ahsahka Bridge Open To Travel

The new three-span steel bridge spanning the north fork of the Clearwater river at Ahsahka was opened to traffic Sunday, according to an announcement by District Engineer E. A. Johnston. The contract on the 300-foot structure has been completed by Jack Konen, Lewiston. The work has given employment to a crew of 25 to 30 men during the summer. Approval of the contract has been granted by the bureau of public roads.

Work was started Monday tearing down the old brige, the middle span of which will be dismantled and transported to a CCC road up the south fork of the Clearwater. The two short spans will be donated to Clearwater county for use wherever deemed best by the commissioners, according to Engineer Johnston.

A state rock crusher has been set up at the summit of the Whitebird hill and crushed rock is now being distributed on the grade from Grangeville to the top, a distance of about eight miles. Six men are employed.

Duck Hunting Be Good

In about a month Idaho hunters can open fire—at 7 a. m., November 1—on the quacking, honking, fast-flying, south-bound migrations over bird-dom's sky lanes.

"The number of ducks and geese will be greater in Idaho than in recent years," said Amos Eckert, state game warden.

"So far there has been little evidence of disease among the ducks or geese, many of which succumbed last year to ailments common to their kind."

The hunting season, fixed by the United States biological survey, will begin in Idaho November 1 and end November 30—with shooting permitted daily between the hours of 7 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The limit—10 ducks or four geese. Federal regulations, said T. B. Murray, Idaho agent of the biological survey, provide:

"That $1 federal hunting stamps must be attached to each hunting license; that no live decoys may be used by hunters; that no guns larger than 10 gauge shotguns may be used; that automobiles, airplanes and power boats cannot be used to move directly into shooting range of the birds, and that pump or automatic shotguns may not be loaded with more than three shells at one time.

"Agents of the state game department and the biological survey will enforce the regulations strictly in the interests of conservation," Murray said.

Went "Prospecting"

Wade Keene and Tommy went to the Big Island section of the Clearwater country Sunday, "just on a prospecting trip" Wade said. Just what they were prospecting for has not been fully explained, but Wade did admit the fish didn't care for their particular kind of bait. There were plenty of birds, they said, but failed to report how many they brought home. Anyway, they had a battle in the dark with a porcupine, which gave many thrills—not to mention quills.
