A SEASONAL MESSAGE

In May, of 1904, The Kendrick Rochdale Co. was incorporated. and has served the people of this community continuously since that time. A great variety of things are bound to happen over a period of thirty-two years, and when they do, so many friends stand forth and so many friends stand by. We heartily acknowledge and appreciate their continued loyalty and most sincerely do we extend to them our gratitude.

All of our thrity-two years have not, of course, been profitable; that is, materially profitable. But everything considered, is the difference between a profit and a loss as important as the ledger would have us believe? We doubt it. And is it not of more importance to feel, and perhaps here and there to know, that there are inspirations and Ideals to be found in the honorable conduct of business, one with another? We like to think so.

NOTICE TO MILK USERS Due to the increased cost of feed, forcing us to pay more for our milk, it will be necessary for us to raise the price of retail

Beginning January 1, 1937, milk will retail as follows:

Customer: "These eggs are a bit stale, aren't they, Miss?" Waitress: "Don't ask me. I only laid the table!"

She: "Now what are you stopping your car for?'

He: "I've lost my bearings." She: "Well, at least you're original. Most fellows run out of gas."

Once upon a time there were three Co-eds who were very tired and wished to go to be. So they went to their rooms. Suddenly:

"Someone's been sleeping in my bed," said the great big Co-ed in a great big voice. 'Someone's been sleeping in my bed," said the medium sized Co-ed in a medium sized voice. "Good night, girls," said the little Co-ed in a little bit of voice.
