WHAT GOV. CLARK AND LEGISLATORS ARE DOING

Boise (Special Correspondence)-With the legislative session past the the largest crowds to attend a half-way mark, members this week dance in Kendrick for many-a-day. still faced the two major problems of every session—the appropriations bills and the tax measures that will provide the funds for the former.

With considerably less than the changes, and then received from the fers with infantile paralysis. House the portal to portal mine bill, which promises additional fire-works.

Next administration measure to test its strength in the session is the much discussed power bill, which was thrown into the hopper this week. The measure provides for the formation of power districts, authorizes so-called utility revenue bonds, and provides for the exercise of the right of eminent domain by such districts desiring to acquire power road from the end of the new road sites. The measure also provides near Arrow to Kendrick. that districts may consolidate after formation.

Although the four-year Pocatello fight seems out of the way for this session, the question of what to do state. As said before, Mr. Chevrier with Ricks college will still be before the members to influence their working at all times for the good mental reactions to many measures of Idaho. He returned last week from still to be debated.

Rumors that the administration would support a measure to put the state into the phosphate business continued to circulate, as did predictions that the abnormally quiet atmosphere of both house and senate indicated a storm brewing beneath the quiet waters of the sur-

Appointment of James W. Porter, of Twin Falls, to succeed the late Adam D. Barclay as judge of the eleventh judicial district, was announced Monday by Gov. Barzilla W. Clark, Judge Porter, who was formerly commander of the American Legion at Twin Falls, is Democratic state committee member of that city.

Mayor H. A. DeNeal of Buhl, appointed state senator from Twin Falls county to succeed the late T. Dan Conner, has taken up the duties of senator.

Appointment of a commissioner of public works is the next task facing the governor and although considerable energy has already been expended upon the appointment by applicants, supports and the governor himself, the place still remains vacant. That it will probably go to northern Idaho is the prevailing belief.

They Really Aid

Did you ever stop to think that the critics of advertising who are fond of stressing its "cost" entirely overlook the part that "ads" have played in making this country a more pleasant and agreeable place in which to live? All manner of fun may be made of those which seek to sell those things which do not fall under the head of necessities, and yet many of those things have done more to raise our standards of living than we can estimate.

Without modern advertising many of the labor-saving devices found in the average home might never have been there, for it was through advertising that their existence became known. Advertising created a demand for them, just as it does for certain necessities of life. That demand made possible a price within the reach of the average citizenand the article desired changed hands. Almost every new invention brings added comfort to those who eventually come into ownership of it, but if it were not for advertising those comforts would be lost to the public because it would not know anything about the invention.

Biggest Thing In 1936 Ask your neighbors what was the biggest thing in 1936 and watch them scratch their heads for the answer. And yet it is easily answered The same question was put recently to 48 newspaper editors in 48 states by the Associated Press, and 72 percent of them declared that the weather was the biggest thing of the year in their respective states. Though two national conventions and and a presidential election were held; though Hauptman was electrocuted and Edward deserted a throne, the savage blizzards of last January, the March floods of the middle west, dust storms west of the Mississippi and the most torrid weather in the memory of the present generation were experienced, the weather interested the average citizen far more for her. than the "man-made" occurrences. And that's the answer. The weather was the biggest thing in 1936, just as it is pretty certain to be this year.
