A LONG AND USEFUL PIO-NEER LIFE COMES TO END

Lewiston, May 4th, at the age of of Kansas and was married to 79 years, eight months and 27 days, Celestial Paralee Gilkey, in the year where he had been since March 16 with a fractured hip.

He was one of the first settlers on Big Bear ridge and probably one of the best-known residents of the entire Potlatch country, having lived on Big Bear ridge for the past 60 years.

He was the first son of Oscar and Anne (Wolsey) Morey and was born in Henry county, Illinois, near Rock Island, Aug. 7, 1857, in which state he lived until the age of ten years, when with his parents, two sisters and one brother he moved to Bates county, Missouri. While still in the east Mr. Morey joined the Presbyterian church. He remained in Missouri until the age of nineteen, when he came west on an immigrant train. He came to Idaho and for a time burned charcoal in the Seven Devils country to be used in smelters. Upon leaving the Seven Devils country with their summer's wages he and his partner were pursued by bandits. The hammer spring was broken in their gun. They escaped and moved further back into the timber. In the fall of 1877 he came to Big Bear ridge and located on a pre-emeption, one-half mile east of the present family home, now owned by W. H. Fairfield. Later he homesteaded a little farther east from that point. The place is now known at the McKee farm, and is owned by Lonnie Wilson. He improved both places until 1892, at which time he sold them and purchased the present home, where he lived for 45 years—until his death.

When he arrived here the country was very wild, there being many animals such as cougar, deer, bear and all kinds of game birds. His meat supply was easily procured,

Mr. Morey was an ardent sportsman and a great lover of the outof-doors. In his younger days he was a perfect marksman, usually killing deer for his neighbors, as there were no game laws at that time.

Mr. Morey survived many hard-

COMMUNITY AID HOLDS DELIGHTFUL TEA PARTY

The Ladies Aid of the Community church held a very lovely dessert party in the church basement Friday afternoon of last week.

There were 12 tables, each table representing a month of the year. Dessert was served, after which each table was called upon to give a number in entertainment, of some sort. Those taking part were Mrs. R. L. Blewett, Mrs. W. B. Deobald, Mrs. L. Crocker, Mrs. J. B. Help-man, Mrs. W. O. Orr, Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mrs. D. A. Christensen and Mrs. Poindexter, Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. N. E. Walker, Mrs. H. C. Schupfer, Mrs. Ira Havens, Mrs. H. Galloway, Mrs. E. A. Deo-bald and the Eighth grade trio, Betty Boyd, Annabel Deobald and Mary Havens.

The program started with January, at which "table four white-haired ladies were seated. Their table was adorned with a large snow man, who looked very real. The ladies said the Lord's prayer in unison. February's table was romantic and gay with hearts and valentines and flowers. The table representing March was colorful, with shamrocks and everything to make one think of St.

April's table stood for Easter and was very dainty with flowers, Easter bunnies and Easter eggs.

The table for May was exquisite with a minature May pole, sur-rounded with a wreath of flowers. June's table was lovely with dolls dressed to represent a bride and groom. Sprigs of apple blossoms enhanced the setting.

July's table was patriotic with candles and streamers of red-white and blue.

The table symbolizing August was centered with a minature pool surrounded with moss, ferns and flowers. A tiny diving board and doll extending from one edge indi-cated the swimming season.

September's table brought to mind the beginning of school with a little red school house and place cards depicting youngsters on their way to school.

The table for October was very clever with a witch, her broom stick and black cats made from prunes and raisins, were very much in evidence, indicating the Hallowe'en season.

November's table, of course, repreed with a large turkey in the center and smaller ones for place cards. December's table was cheery and gay, witha minsture Christmas tree that gleamed with lighted candles. All-in-all, it was a very delightful afternoon for the ladies and their friends. 🦟

After discussion of other interesting topics, the meeting adjourned to meet again June 14, when it is hoped there will be as much interest manifested in public affairs as was the case last Monday night.

Cooking School Interests Many

The cooking 'school 'sponsored' by the Washington Water Power Company, and in charge of Miss Helen Frederic, held last Thursday afternoon in the basement of the Community church, was very well attended.

A very modern and entirely electrical kitchen was assembled in a very attractive way, and Miss Frederic demonstrated how the food is taken from the grocery boy's basket and without a single lost motion delivered to the dining table, attractively and deliciously prepared and ready for the meal.

Several complete menus were prepared and cooked-a new and fast method of making bread, which was quite startling, was completed during the afternoon.

OLD RAGS - BOTTLES OLD WATER HEATERS OLD STOVES!

TIME TO Electrify YOUR KITCHEN

Yes, Mam...it's time all right! The old stove and water heater served right well in their time....mebbe you could get a year or two more out of em, but Mam, what's the use...like as not it'll cost more'n they're worth!

It's time all right, to switch to a modern electric range and water heater....for the same reason you switched to electric lights, an electric iron and an electric refrigerator....because they're better, easier, simpler, always dependable.

Hundreds of folks all over the Inland Empire are modernizing their kitchens with these thrifty electrical conveniences. See the new model electric ranges... learn the fascinating story of automatic hot water....this week! These special tradein allowances for a limited time only. Better hurry!
