BABSON IS STILL BULLISH AND EXPLAINS REASON WHY

Babson Park, Mass.—Bankers and brokers doubtlessly commit many sins. We all do for that matter. It is not their fault, however, that people reach for stocks when the market is high and active, as in September, 1929 or July, 1933, and because people refuse to pick-up stocks when the market is low and dull, as during the past few weeks. The sad fact is that the vast majority of those who purchase stocks use no sense or logic as to when to buy. They buy only when stocks are high and boiling. They should invest when stocks are low and listless. That means that now may be a good time to buy.

Why I Am Bullish

For over thirty years I have studied the Babsonchart of Business Conditions. The compilation of this measuring-stick of business has cost me many hundreds of dollars. This chart has a normal line representing the growth of the country. Above this normal line are black-ink prosperity areas, such as existed from 1912 to 1914, from 1916 to 1920, and from 1923 to 1929. Below the normal line are red-ink depression areas, such as existed from 1914 to 1916, from 1920 to 1923, and from 1929 to 1936. During the past year the country has crossed normal and is in the beginning of another black-ink prosperity area.

It is true that ordinarily the stock market reaches its peak in the early part of a prosperity area. No one, however, really knows what this "early part" is until the entire area is completed! All depends upon the length of the area. If the new area is to last some years, then we certainly have not reached the stock-selling point. In view of the extraordinarily long depression area through which we have just passed, I believe that the new prosperity area is good for some years to come. Money is exceptionally cheap, a big housing shortage exists, and several new industries are on the point of becoming big businesses.

What About Politics?

Many readers will say: "Your statistics do not prevent Roosevelt from killing the goose which has just again started to lay a few golden eggs". My answer to this is that the President cannot now afford to do so. He wants this country to enjoy good business more than you or I, or anyone else. The democratic party can remain in power only so long as business remains good. The President has tried various quack schemes from the NRA to cornering the gold market. He sees that all these have failed.

Mr. Roosevelt has now come to the conclusion that the best way to have good business and reduce unemployment is to let business make all the money it reasonably can and then make it distribute the money through greater taxes, higher wages, and especially enforced dividend payments. This is now the official administration program. It may not appeal to wealthy people. It may keep them from buying stocks, forcing them to buy non-taxable bonds. This program, however, should greatly benefit the great mass of newspaper readers. It means that you can buy stocks in good companies and be sure of good dividends, and yet not have the income taken away from you by high income taxes.

Balancing The Budget

During his first administration, President Roosevelt was not interested in balancing the budget. He was willing to have the government go deeply into debt, believing that this excess debt could be paid off during the next period of prosperity. Now this time has come for paying off the debt. Only one way exists for doing so and that is with increased Federal taxes. Federal taxes come only from imports, sales, profits, and incomes. To get taxes from these sources, business must be good. The administration's whole financial program will collapse unless we have prosperity from now on. The President's future depends solely thereon. Another decline now means death to the democrats.

"Why then, does not the President stop these strikes?" you ask. Probably one reason is that he owes something to Lewis and is, perhaps afraid of him. Another reason is that the President honestly thinks higher wages will mean more purchasing power and ultimately result in better business. Moreover, in this

Troy Planing Mill Burns

A $4,000 fire, which was thought to have started when sparks from an engine kindled shavings, Monday morning destroyed the new Ray Rauch planing mill at Troy. There was no insurance on the structure. The fire was the second within a year to destroy Rauch property. Early this spring a blaze razed a similar structure and its successor had been just recently completed. The flames apparently spread with great rapidity, fanned by a light wind from the southeast.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held Monday evening in Fraternal Temple, with President D. A. Christensen in the chair. A splendid dinner was served at 6:30 by Mesdames Paul Lind and Edgar Long, after which minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. There were 17 present to take part in the meeting.

One of the main topics of discussion of the evening, as usual, was roads, but it would seem that we are about "at the end of the road" business. The Arrow-Kendrick road is in terrible shape and while the state, a short time ago, agreed to maintain this particular section, from Arrow to the top of the Bear ridge grade, nothing has as yet been done and there are holes in the roadway almost as large and as deep as a tub. However, it seems there is no way of forcing the issue and it also seems that the state is not interested in roads in this section.

The statement has been made that there will be some road work done at the top of the Bear ridge grade; that gravel will be put on the old road for a few miles, which will give a very good road in that section, enabling the school bus to reach Kendrick without too much trouble. We were promised some four or five miles of new road in that section, but promises is about all one can get out of Boise.

As everyone knows, who has had occasion to travel the Cedar creek road, that it is at present in very good condition and that the work of graveling is going forward as fast as possible with the limited crew they have.

While several subjects were discussed at length and many recommendations made, no concrete action was taken regarding them. The committee reports were few, but the new "Civic Improvement" committee, of which H. B. Thompson is chairman, had several worthwhile recommendations and they will no doubt be brought to fruition in due time.

One of the committee's recommendations was that a temporary bridge be put across the Potlatch so that people might be able to reach our new park-site across the creek—the beautiful hillside just to the south. Another worthy recommendation was to ask the city council to pass an ordinance requiring people to keep weeds and tall grass cut from vacant lots and parking strips, which is indeed a splendid thought. Another important recommendation to the city council is to buy a dump ground and have refuse taken away once a week. The committee also asked that the city and community look into the feasibility of building a concrete tennis and volley court, and, later the building of a sanitary swimming pool and the more adequate lighting of our streets.

The above are all splendid suggestions and, while it will take time to bring them about, it can be done and we hope the entire community will stand side by side with this committee in trying to make Kendrick a better place in which to live. Several committees were appointed to look into the various suggestions made. Marvin Long reported that the Latah County Wild Life Federation would meet in Kendrick July 27, further notice of which will be given later.

Proctor-Weaver

Miss Rainey Proctor of Akron, Ohio, and Stanford Weaver of Gold Hill, were married at Kallispell, Montana, July 3, by the Rev. Rickets of the Presbyterian church of that place.

The happy young couple returned to Kendrick July 7, and will make their home at Gold Hill.

HOW ABOUT THE "ACCIDENT PRONE" LOCATION?

"Accident prone" means tending to produce accidents. We have heard a lot about the "accident prone" driver and the efforts being made to control him by legislation, education and enforcement. The "accident prone" location, as the National Conservation Bureau reminds us, must be considered with equal seriousness.

Where communities are far enough advanced in the processes of traffic control to keep accurate and scientific records of their traffic health, they have learned that accidents tend to happen most often at certain locations. We call these bad spots "accident prone," and in a few places we are doing something about them. We have pointed an accusing finger at the reckless driver, but have too often overlooked the public carelessness which allows accident breeding hazards on our streets and highways to exist as a threat for all of us—the careful and the careless alike.

In the majority of cases it is the location itself and not the motorist that breeds the accident. It is simple work for traffic engineers to improve the design of such locations and build in safeguards which make accidents virtually impossible.

We must deal with the "accident prone" traffic location as we deal with the fire trap—by applying proper safeguards to the location itself. We can transform a location that is "accident prone" to one that is "accident proof." In doing so we can not only reduce accidents, but we can ease traffic congestion and speed up the movement of both motorists and pedestrians. That is the dual purpose of traffic control: To move all traffic to its destination with a minimum of danger and a maximum of speed.

Attend Kendrick Picnic

The annual Kendrick Old-Timers' picnic, held this year in the park at Coeur d'Alene, was quite well attended by Kendrick folks—but the usual crowd was missing—the consensus of opinion was that not all knew of the exact date or location in time to make their plans to attend.

Those in attendance from Kendrick were Mr. and Mrs. John L. Woody and Scotty Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and Kenneth Marker, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Ingle, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Keene and family and Rilla Davidson. The latter car going through over the Lolo trail to Missoula and return via Coeur d'Alene, leaving here Saturday at noon.

Many of the cars returned by way of Lake Chatcolet and Potlatch.

All reported a very delightful time.

Surprise Birthday Party

Last Friday afternoon the home of Mrs. Ira Havens was the scene of a very pleasant surprise birthday party, given in honor of Mrs. Wade Keene.

Bridge was played at seven tables, after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. High scores for the afternoon was awarded Mrs. Lester Crocker and low to Mrs. D. A. Christensen. There was also a small high prize awarded at each table.

Those present were the ladies of both bridge clubs and Mrs. Hiram Galloway, Mrs. Kermit Waide, Rilla Davidson, Mrs. John Waide, Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. L. S. Thurber and Mrs. H. B. Thompson.

The ladies gave Mrs. Keene a handkerchief shower at the close of the afternoon.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. O. E. Havens, Mrs. Ira Havens, Mrs. F. H. Rider, Rilla Davidson, Mrs. Mariposa Keene and Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

Ed. Lien was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, where on Sunday he underwent a major operation.

He was said to be doing nicely at last report.

Whooping Cough and Measles

There seems to be an epidemic of whooping cough in the northeastern part of town and several cases of measles in the west part of town.

Death of Elbert Kuykendall

Elbert Kuykendall, aged 42, died in a Moscow hospital Saturday morning, June 10, where he had been taken less than a week before. He had made a hard fight for his life at different times during the past few years, after having been injured in a mine accident some years ago. However, pneumonia was said to have been the immediate cause of death.

He was born August 26, 1895, at Leland and had spent the most of his life there, with the exception of the past ten or twelve years, most of which time he had spent in Kendrick. He was prominent in democratic politics and at the time of his death was justice of the peace and police judge for the town of Kendrick.

He is survived by his four sons: Lawrence in Montana, James, Stanley and Donald at Kendrick; his mother, Mrs. M. Kuykendall at Kendrick; three brothers, W. S. and D. V. at Leland, and A. J. at Butte, Montana.

Funeral service was held Monday morning at the Kendrick Methodist church with the Rev. Roy Metcalf of Leland in charge. Mrs. E. H. Ramey played the recessional and accompanied the singers, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Walker, Mrs. D. A. Christensen and R. H. Ramey, who sang, "My Jesus, As Thou Wilt", "Abide With Me", and "Asleep In Jesus".

Roy Morgan, Victor Blewett, J. M. Woodward, Silvie Cook, F. B. Higley and Herman Schupfer were the pall bearers. Interment was in the Normal Hill cemetery family plot in Lewiston.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the kind friends and neighbors who so willingly aided us in our bereavement in the death of our son, brother and father.

4-H Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the Kendrick 4-H club was held Friday afternoon in the basement of the M. E. church. A report was made on the candy sales at the local theatre, which was not so good, the expense of ingredients being so that little profit is made. However, the girls will continue to sell for a time.

Most of the girls have finished making their aprons and are now being taught how to make button holes.

The next regular meeting will be held Friday afternoon, July 23, at 2 o'clock in the basement of the M. E. church. The subject will be darning stockings.

HOSPITAL BOND ELECTION SCHEDULED FOR JULY 28

A two-thirds majority will be required at the election July 28 to vote interest-bearing bonds in the amount of $175,000 with which to purchase land, erect and equip a hospital for Latah county. The hospital proposed is to be located at Moscow and will have a 50-bed capacity.

Opposition to the proposal which has developed is now evident within Moscow, where the information was given out that interest alone the first year would amount to $100 per week if the bonds drew but three percent interest, which amount is undoubtedly less than the county is now paying for hospitalization on cases cared for by Latah county.

It is also pointed out that larger taxpayers, and especially landowners would be required to shoulder an unjust burden as individuals to construct and maintain an institution that will not benefit everyone outside of Moscow and it will those living in Moscow.

Taxpayers who first looked upon the proposal as relief for those living at the county home, have necessarily changed their minds for the reason that inmates of the home would still be cared for at the farm except where hospitalization was necessary. General hospitalization costs will not be lowered in the event that Latah county taxpayers decide to build, equip and maintain a hospital, and with the increasing costs of operation for every business and farmer, the levy for additional taxes would be very noticeable, added to that which has been placed on everyone during the past few years.—Genesee News.

The Gazette has talked with many tax-payers of this section of the county and, up to this time, has yet to find one who is in favor of issuing the necessary bonds to build a hospital for Moscow in Moscow, although most of them admitted they signed the petition for holding the election. There has never been any detailed account of the erection of the building only that a Moscow "Hospital Association" want the county to erect a nice 50-bed hospital for that city.

As stated by the Genesee News, above, if an indigent needs hospitalization they would naturally be taken there, but, too, it must be remembered that the statement has been made that the institution will not be run by Latah county, but will be leased to some organization, and, that being the case, the county would be charged for that indigent's hospitalization the same price as in any other hospital—thus making a double expense.

The fact has also been mentioned to us that a great many people think that if the county builds the hospital and it is paid for by the taxpayers, they would have free hospitalization, should they need it. This is far from the fact. No matter what amount of taxes you pay, if you needed hospital care, you would pay just the same price as if you went to any hospital in this section of the country.

New Methodist Minister

Rev. T. J. Pryor arrived from Lincoln, Nebr., last Saturday night to take the pastorate of the Methodist church here. He is now located in the Methodist parsonage. His family will arrive in about a month or six weeks.

Bolle, pioneer of this section, at the home of his son, Frank LaBolle, Kent Washington, Saturday, July 3. Interment was made Wednesday, July 7, in the Kent cemetery.

Mr. LaBolle was one of the pioneers of this section, and was also interested in the mining activities of the surrounding territory.

WHEAT SLIGHTLY LOWER—HEAVY MARKET RECEIPTS

Domestic wheat markets turned slightly downward during the week ended July 9, with near record receipts of wheat the principal weakening influence which overshadowed the unfavorable spring wheat situation, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Corn remained firm reflecting rapidly diminishing supplies. Oats held about steady but rye and barley declined as approaching harvests gave promise of abundant supplies.

Heavy offerings of winter wheat were the dominating influence in the domestic situation during the week under review, with receipts at the principal terminals totaling 21,766 cars, the largest weekly movement since 1931. The heavy receipts reflected the rapidly advancing harvest and favorable outturns. The July 1 official estimate placed winter wheat production this season at 663,641,000 bushels, a gain of about 150,000,000 bushels over last season's harvest and about 40,000,000 bushels above the 1928, 1932 average. Prospects for spring wheat, while much better than last season, were not up to average at the first of July, with conditions on that date indicating an outturn of 218,646,000 bushels, of which 29,766,000 bushels is Durum. Farm stocks of old wheat on July 1, were the smallest since 1928 and totaled only 1,850,000 bushels. Market stocks were the smallest since 1926 and totaled only 16,187,000 bushels.

Winter wheat has suffered some rust injury which is reflected in considerable light weight wheat but damage to the spring wheat cannot yet be determined and will depend upon weather conditions during the next few days. Extensive damage has occurred to winter wheat in central Indiana and central and northern Illinois. Rust was general on July 9 on winter wheat in Iowa, southwestern Wisconsin and southern Minnesota, with some damage probable, particularly in late fields. Spring wheat in the southern half of South Dakota is ripening or drying fast with some damage from rust reported. Stem rust has spread rapidly in northeastern South Dakota and is generally prevalent as far north as Fargo, North Dakota, but noticeably light northward from that point.

Drought and high temperatures caused further deterioration in Canadian spring wheat prospects with the greater part of Saskatchewan and northern Alberta most seriously affected. The condition of spring wheat in the Prairie Provinces at the first of July was off yearly estimates at only 51 percent of the long time average yield. The condition of winter wheat was placed at 101 percent. These conditions on the intended acreage for spring wheat and on the winter wheat acreage remaining for harvest, indicated the smallest outturn since 1919. Recent trade reports indicate heavy abandonment and forecast a crop well under 200,000,000 bushels. Prospects in Europe are quite variable with conditions in extreme Northwestern Europe fairly good and with prospects in Scandinavian countries indicating outturns about 20 percent over last season. Recent rains have improved conditions in Germany but short crops of both wheat and rye are in prospect. Polish harvests are well below average and trade advices forecast a French crop of only 256,000,000 bushels or some 65,000,000 bushels under domestic requirements. A harvest better than last year is indicated in Italy. Prospects have improved in the Lower Danubian countries but present indications are for outturns of about 50,000,000 bushels below those of a year ago. Recent hot, dry weather has caused some deterioration in winter wheat in Russia and spring wheat crops are also suffering from want of rain.

Domestic winter wheat markets weakened slightly as a result of the heavy offerings of new crop grain. Receipts at Kansas City were the second largest in the history of that market and were exceeded only by arrivals July 11 to 17, 1931. While unloading facilities were taxed to handle the grain, current arrivals moved readily into consuming or storage channels, or were diverted or ordered to other points. Protein averaged slightly above that of the previous week at 13.03 percent. The hard winter wheat graded No. 1 or No. 2, but the soft and mixed wheats

"One In a Million"

Almost everyone has heard of Sonja Henie, the Norwegian girl who has been several times Olympic champion skater, and Don Ameche, so long with the "First Nighters" on the radio. If not, they will have the pleasure of seeing both of them at the Kendrick Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, when these two stars "do their stuff" in "One In a Million." Miss Henie is a beautiful girl and a great skater, as her father was before her. She becomes attracted by a fine-looking newspaper reporter (Don Ameche) who sees in her unusual material for a "human-interest" story for his paper as well as being easy on the eyes—and right here is where the "human-interest" story starts, for Ameche immediately falls for the lovely skater.

There is a fine love story throughout the entire picture and if you have never seen this lovely skater, you will not wonder that Ameche fell hard.

There will be other interesting features to fill out the evening.

MISS MURIEL DAVIS MARRIES MOSCOW MAN

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Smith was the scene of a beautifully appointed wedding Sunday at 2:30 p. m. when Muriel Davis of Southwick became the bride of Roger Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Smith of Moscow.

As Miss Miriam Hughes played the Lhengrin wedding march the wedding party took its place in front of a beautiful array of cedar, banked at the rear of a long room. The cedar was intermingled with Madonna lillies.

The Rev. J. E. Hughes of the Baptist church read the ring ceremony. Harold Smith, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Bernice Baker of Colfax, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a becoming floor length coat dress of fresh lace over peach satin, and carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations, roses and sweetpeas. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue net with a corsage of bronze snapdragons. Just before the ceremony Judson Smith, a brother of the bridegroom, accompanied by Miss Miriam Hughes, sang, "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the Smith home. Mrs. Clara Dean and Mrs. Perry Davis assisted in serving.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. F. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Davis and sons of Southwick, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis of Weippe and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Miller and three children of Clarkston.

At 5 o'clock the young people left for Spokane to spend several days. They will be at home at the Sanders apartment, 204 East A street. —Star-Mirror.

WHEAT SLIGHTLY LOWER—HEAVY MARKET RECEIPTS

mostly graded No. 2 or lower, as a result of light test weight. Protein premiums held about unchanged.

At the close of the week, No. 2 hard winter, 12 percent protein, was quoted at Kansas City at $1.19 1/2 to $1.24 1/2 and 15 percent protein at $1.21 1/2 to $1.27 1/4. No. red winter was quoted at $1.21 1/2 to $1.23 per bushel. No. 1 hard or soft winter was quoted at Fort Worth at $1.31 1/2 delivered Texas common points. Export bids ranged around $1.30 1/2 per bushel FOB cars Galveston but purchases were unimportant and apparently only necessary over previous sales. Receipts of wheat were much larger at Chicago and were largely new crop grain. Shipping sales were reported at around 10,000 bushels with about 250,000 bought to arrive. The bulk of the current receipts were directly to mills with elevators taking most of the consignments. The movement of new wheat was still relatively small at St. Louis and the quality was rather disappointing because of the low test weight. Mills paid 1c to 1 1/4c per bushel premium for milling quality. No. 2 soft winter was quoted at 1.25 1/2 to 1.26 1/2 and No. 2 hard winter at 1.25 1/2 per bushel.

Spring wheat markets were rather unsettled reflecting uncertain new crop prospects. Milling inquiry was slow because of the slack flour business and expectation of some lowering of premiums with the arrival of new wheat. Receipts remained light with a total of 444 cars at Minneapolis. Of these, 182 cars were winter wheat. Trading shifted to the September delivery, with 58 pound No. 1 dark northern quoted at 10c to 16c over the September future which closed July 9, at $1.38 per bushel. 54 pound wheat brought 4c to 10c over and 50 pound wheat the September price to 3c over.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets fluctuated with local conditions. New wheat started to move in Colorado and was reported of excellent quality. Mills at Denver were bidding $1.08 FOB shipping points for No. 2 hard winter, and 12 percent protein No. 2 Northern Spring. Prospects were favorable for an excellent crop in southern Idaho and north Utah, with harvesting expected to start the last week in July. Mills at Ogden were bidding 94c for No. 2 soft and hard white and 95c per bushel FOB Utah-Idaho common points for No. 2 northern spring and hard winter.

The Portland market declined 4c to 5c per bushel reflecting principally the slow demand since offerings were light and receipts at Columbia river and Puget Sound terminals totaled only 188 cars. Farmers were selling slowly but some new crop sales were reported at around $1.00 per bushel, net, at country points, during recent weeks. Export and elevator interests were not actively in the market and demand California mills was seasonally light. The indemnity plan for flour sales to the Philippines was extended for another year and sales under the plan during the week totaled 4,900 barrels, with the indemnity payment July 8, reported at 5c per barrel. At Seattle, western white, western red, hard winter and hard white were all quoted at $1.12 per bushel.

California markets were rather irregular with prices up about 2c per bushel at San Francisco but down about 3c at Los Angeles. Harvesting progressed rapidly in central California but growers were reported storing a larger proportion than usual. Inquiry was fairly steady for the high protein types and firm prices for corn and barley strengthened the demand for feed wheat. Inquiry from all sources at Los Angeles was slow with millers and feed manufacturers drawing from previously accumulated supplies. No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.14 to $1.17 and at Los Angeles at $1.08 per bushel. No. 1 soft white sold at San Francisco at $1.11 to $1.12 1/2 per bushel.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets continued quiet with no carlot receipts reported at Portland during the week. Occasional cars of California barley were going to Willamette Valley points but trading at terminals continued dull. Trade advices indicate the most favorable crop prospects in the Willamette Valley in recent years. On July 8, No. 2 bright Western barley, testing 45 pounds per bushel, was quoted at Portland at $1.67 1/2 per 100, sacked or around 10c under a week ago.

Oats were unsettled with a much heavier movement of new crop grain slackening inquiry from feeders the principal weakening factors. Pacific Northwestern markets displayed a slightly weaker tone reflecting the favorable prospects for the new harvest, particularly in the Willamette Valley, which more than offset the light remaining supplies of old crop grain. White oats were quoted around 10c under a week ago, with No. 2 white oats quoted at Portland at $1.50 per 100, sacked, with gray oats nominal.

Political propaganda advocating city or district ownership and political operation of electric power and light systems is not new.

It is as old as the electrical industry..... and yet publicly owned systems do only 6 per cent of the electric business in the United States.

The privately owned electric utilities do 94 per cent of such business.

Time and again it has been demonstrated that, with rare exceptions, political management and operation of any business undertaking is expensive, extravagant and inefficient.

IDAHO DRY BEAN CROP FORECAST 1,464,000 BAGS

The 1937 crop of Idaho dry beans (including both edible and seed varieties) is forecast at 1,464,000 bags. This is larger than the 1936 crop of 1,248,000 bags, but about five percent smaller than the average crop of the five years 1928-32. Preliminary estimates place the acreage for harvest at 122,000 acres, an area 17 percent larger than the 1936 harvested acreage.

The crop was reported in fair condition on July 1, though much of the acreage was planted late. The growers in the important Twin Falls section fear damage from a heavy infestation of white fly, but it is significant that a high proportion of the acreage is planted to varieties which are relatively resistant to this insect.

Acreage by varieties is not estimated, but reports of growers and seedsmen indicate that about two-thirds of the state's acreage is planted to Great Northerns, about an eighth to small whites, a twelfth to small reds, a twentieth to other edible varieties, and about a twelfth to seed varieties.

The United States production, estimated at 13,163,000 bags, is 2,041,000 bags larger than the 1936 crop and 982,000 bags above the 5-year (1928-32) average. The factors contributing to the prospective increase are the 14.9 percent increase over last year in acreage and an increase of 22 pounds per acre in the indicated yield. The greatest increase in prospective production are in Michigan and California.

ATTY. GEN. TAYOR FURNISH CAPITOL NEWS EACH WEEK

The following article was furnished the Gazette by Attorney General J. W. Taylor. It is expected that these articles will be published in the Gazette each week, telling the people of the state just what is going on down in the capitol building at Boise—which should indeed be glad news, as very few people know just what is taking place beneath its dome:

"The most casual glance at world news makes it clear that popular government hangs in the balance; that there is a mighty movement on foot in Europe and Asia to destroy the guarantees of human rights and liberties so dear to all Americans who are sufficiently interested to give the matter thought. One weakness of our system is that the people generally regard democratic government as an end in itself. Once the forms of democracy have been established, people are inclined to consider all their problems solved and dismiss the matter of government from their minds. Nothing could be more untrue. Many men are prone to trickery, corruption and graft under whatever form of government they hold office. Republican government means only that the people themselves have been given the responsibilities of preventing such practices; and if the people lose their interest or relax their vigilance, good government will rapidly disappear.

"I am astonished at how little the people know of what goes on in our own state government. Time and time again when I have mentioned some phase of state business, people otherwise well informed exclaim: 'Well, we folks don't know anything about that, and the only way we have of finding out is when someone like you tells about them.' For this reason I am undertaking in a new sense, to bring the state government to the people—not by wheels, but by words, printed in the numerous local newspapers throughout the state. Each week I will offer to the editors of newspapers a discussion of some subject pertaining to state affairs, in order that the people may know something of how their business is being handled."

Fourth Branch Of Government

In a recent address, Bernard F. Weadcock, managing director of the Edison Electric Institute, discussed the "Fourth Branch Of Government"

Under the Constitution, we have three branches of government, each with delegated duties and powers—the Legislative and the Judicial. The fourth branch has no name—but it might aptly be termed the Bureaucratic branch. It consists of a long list of quasi-judicial bureaus and commissions which have not only been empowered to administer properly passed laws, but in many instances exert a law-making function of their own.

The American Bar Association states that there are about 1,300 separate instances of transfer to enact laws from Congress to Administrative agencies, and that there are 73 Federal tribunals exercising judicial power in 276 classes of cases. This fourth branch of government exerts its authority over great industries and affects the lives and livelihood of millions of citizens—yet it is hidden, and many citizens have never heard of it.

The growth of this power-seizing bureaucracy is one of the most dangerous developments of the times. In the interest of democracy, of liberty, of true Constitutional government, the fourth branch of government must be bridled and controlled.

Is Europe A Menace?

Some of you pessimists will say that another World War is liable to start at any time in Europe, or in the Far East. I do not say that such a war will not come some time. But I am sure it will not come this year. There can be no general war so long as England and France continue their present policies. Japan would like to unite with Germany and fight Russia, but neither can afford to do so just yet. Mussolini is making a lot of noise; but so does any animal when out on a limb. Some say England is cowardly; but let me tell you she is very, wise. When in doubt follow the English. Englishmen are now buying American stocks.

Only three men are threatening the peace of Europe today—viz—Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini. Reliable and confidential information has convinced England that sooner or later one or more of these dictators will die or see his crazy dictatorship blow up. This means that England need only to wait and let the people

Why Blame Congress

There has been a great deal of criticism of late of our national legislative body. "What is the matter with Congress?" is a query we hear on every hand when somebody points to the fact that our national debt has passed the thirty-six billion mark and we are still spending relief money like drunken sailors, although the depression is said to be over.

Perhaps a word may be said in behalf of congressmen, although no complete defense can be made of their apparent blind concurrence in great governmental expenditures.

Just why is the average congressman—there are some notable exceptions—falling in with swollen relief programs and seeking whenever possible to get more "gravy" for his own district? In answer it may be stated that the average congressman—while he doubtless desires to serve his country—likes nothing better than the prospect of being re-elected. He votes therefore for extravagant projects and tries to get as many swimming pools for his own district as possible because he knows that the people at home are demanding federal money. It is these people who do the voting. The congressmen naturally want to please them, and the result is bigger outlays for relief and more impractical public projects.

It is true of course that a statesman can show his real statesmanship by flying in the face of his constituency if necessary and seeking to return the country to a sound business basis and balanced budget. At the same time, it may be said that if he is to do this, in the face of political pressure, he ought to receive some encouragement from back home. The people themselves, who pay the taxes, certainly have some of the responsibilities of citizenship on their own shoulders. If they want efficiency and economy in government, let them set the example by demanding these qualities of their congressmen if they do miss a public building or federal park or two. So long as they take the position that while the getting is good they want to "get theirs" then they can expect their congressman, unless he is an extraordinarily bold statesman to follow the path they are mapping out for him. After all, the people elect the congressmen and shape their policies. Let the people use a little sound judgement of their own.

Why Not?

After watching it work, a local Tory wonders why the Wagner Act wasn't broadened to guarantee Belgium against invasion.—Bangor Commercial.

The Russian flyers passed the North Pole going so fast that they didn't have an opportunity to stop and paint it red.

BAKSON IS STILL BULLISH AND EXPLAINS REASON WHY

he may be right. The main reason for his apparent inaction is that business, stock prices, and especially steel output were increasing too fast during the winter. Some check was needed. Although the President has temporarily hurt business by flirting with the CIO, he is extending the prosperity area by so doing. Good times will now last longer than if business were allowed to hum along as it was doing earlier in the year.

Unexplained Merriment

President Roosevelt's comment on the suggestion that Senator Copeland would be nominated for mayor was "Ha, ha, ha!"

The last time that Mr. Roosevelt and Dr. Copeland came up together for election was 1928, when Mr. Roosevelt was running for governor and Dr. Copeland for United States senator. Mr. Roosevelt's total vote in the city of New York was 1,135,217; Dr. Copeland's was 1,178,650—43,433 more than Mr. Roosevelt's. The Copeland majority in the city was 549,401; the Roosevelt majority, 406,505.

Why, then, the "Ha, ha, ha!"?—New York Sun.

Lot of young folks used to think that their elders ought to be chloroformed upon arriving at the age of forty. But not any more—when it will soon be possible to live off the old folks' "social security" pensions.

Before and After

All summer, poor Mrs. Jones had to cook in her hot kitchen, while her friends enjoyed themselves. In desperation, Mrs. Jones had an electric range demonstration—

When she saw how COOL, clean and economical an electric range was, she chose a model right away....and one of the electric water heaters. Easy terms were arranged on both.

FAMILY SAYS HER COOKING'S GREAT!
 They clamor for more! The children eat vegetables now because they're so good cooked without water. Meat shrinkage is cut about 15%....natural food flavors are multiplied.

"My son went to Chicago ten years ago to make his fortune," boasted an old Southern Oklahoma hillbilly to a city visitor recently. "And what is he worth now?" "I really don't know for sartin' but the state of Illinois is offering $20,000 for information about him," boasted the old man.—Witchita Eagle
