ATTY. GENERAL TAYLOR WRITES OF TAX PROBLEMS

(Article Two)

The layman will perhaps sometimes wonder at the comparative assessments on public utilities and private property including the farms and homes. Probably the private citizen wonders and puzzles about this not a whit more than the members of the Board of Equalization. Property other than that of utilities is supposed to be assessed at full cash value, but it is obvious that the valuation is not made on that basis. It is difficult to tell what the cash value of any property is during a depression when no sales have been made for a considerable time and nobody is able to purchase property no matter how much he may desire it. In such cases the value assessed in good times is generally carried over. In the case of utilities, however, the situation is somewhat different. Our courts have held that the value of a public utility depends in large measure upon its net income. Consequently when times are hard and the income of a utility decreases, under such ruling the value must be fixed accordingly.

However, income has nothing very directly to do with the valuation of other kinds of property. The farmer or the manufacturer may be losing money in his business efforts, but that is not given any practical consideration by the assessor who levies only the physical value of the property without regard to the profits of the enterprise. This is a constant thorn in the side of the Board members but they have no way of changing the set-up and must follow the course indicated by the courts. As a result we sometimes see assessments of utilities go down, especially in hard times, while other assessments are unchanged or perhaps raised. Utilities are also more ably represented before the Board because their records and accounts are kept by experts who have made a lifework of representing the companies by whom they are employed. In the short time at the command of the Board there is little opportunity for a complete and careful analysis of all the figures, tables and graphs presented to establish the value of public utilities and for this reason it is necessary to accept them largely at face value.

Here again, I may say, the task is for experts and not for a group of citizens drawn from private life and put upon the Board of Equalization with practically no training or experience in handling such matters. The assessments throughout the entire state would be made upon a more equitable basis both as to the property of public utilities and that of private concerns if a body of experts were employed throughout the year to devote their entire time to the consideration of the comparative values in tax matters. The comparative value of land in different counties could be investigated along with other conditions like the improvements on business and residence lots and the value of farm machinery. The Board of Equalization has neither time nor opportunity to inquire fully into such matters and injustice frequently arises from this fact.

Fine Tomatoes

B. C. Custer, one of Juliaetta's foremost tomato and melon raisers, brought to the Gazette office last Friday 11 tomatoes that weighed an even 8½ pounds, one in the lot weighing 17 ounces. They were not only large, but firm, smooth and delicious in flavor. They were of the John Baer variety.

Firetruck Turns Over

Mrs. N. E. Ware received word Monday night from Ellensburg that her son, Percy Ware, was in an accident there and had an arm broken.

Mr. Ware, who is employed by the Fire Department there was answering a call to a fire with his company, when the fire truck on which he was riding, collided with a car driven by a woman.

The woman was seriously injured and her car demolished, while the fire engine turned completely over, throwing out the occupants. Percy received a broken left arm between the shoulder and elbow and a severe gash in one leg. He was taken to the hospital and last reports were that he was resting easily and would recover satisfactorily.

Birthday Party

Little Patricia Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Long, was a proud hostess last Friday afternoon when her mother invited a number of little girls in to help celebrate her fifth birthday anniversary.

A gleaming birthday cake with candles, ice cream and little crepe paper doll favors were the center of attraction.

Those invited were Marilyn Schupfer, Patricia Brocke, Marian Davis, Phyllis Harding, Phyllis and Myra Raby.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

Agriculture is thought of in a much different way at the present time than it was formerly. In the past it was thought that anyone could farm, even though they had no education. That day has passed and people now look upon the farm as a business. They realize that the farmer must use good judgment and careful management if he is going to compete with his neighbors and at the same time make a profit.

Some farm soils are rapidly becoming depleted; competition is becoming keener each year; marketing problems are changing daily; portions of our farms are being infested with insects—consequently agricultural training is more essential than ever before.

The standards of rural living are much higher today than in the past. At the present time many farm homes with their modern conveniences are just as attractive as the finest of city homes.

Vocational agriculture can play an important part in rural life through the encouragement of better methods, better homes, more conveniences and a greater enjoyment of leisure time.

Correspondent Wanted

We are in need of a correspondent for the Gazette at Cameron. This week will end the notes from our correspondent from this thriving community and as we have a large list of subscribers in that section, we are anxious to secure someone who will be willing to send in weekly notes from there. They will not only be of interest to your neighbors and friends, but we also have many former Cameron residents on our list who have moved away to other parts of the country and they enjoy the "home" news as much or even more, than you will at home. Call us up (Phone 641), come and see us, or drop us a line, and we will tell you all about it. We furnish everything that's needed. Let us hear from a good live-wire from that community, please.

Snowing, returning to Boise Thursday morning, whence all will drive home.

Grouse Season Opened

The grouse and native pheasant season officially opened Wednesday morning, and we guess "officially opened" is about right from all reports. Plenty of hunters were afield but the only one to report a single bit of game was Elbert Long, who reported "one of the runtiest natives you ever saw."

Several hunters reported seeing grouse, but all said telegraph blanks would have been the only way of reaching them, as they were very wild—and plenty scarce.

NEVELYN WHYBARK MEETS DEATH IN WOODS ACCIDENT

Nevelyn Whybark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whybark, pioneer residents of the Gold Hill section, was instantly killed Friday, August 27, at a Three Bear camp of Potlatch Forests, while engaged at his work as a sawyer for that company. He, with his brother, W. H. Whybark, were felling a large tree. As the tree fell, it brushed against another tree standing near, breaking from it a large dead limb. This limb, in falling, struck Nevelyn squarely upon the head, fracturing his skull.

Nevelyn Whybark was born in Boise, April 22, 1906. During that same year he came with his parents to live near Kendrick. In 1933 he was married to Miss Viola Sadler at Juliaetta, Rev. Geo. Calvert performing the marriage ceremony. There was one son, Donald LeRoy, born to this union.

Mr. Whybark, at the time of his death, was 31 years, four months and five days old. Funeral services were held at the Gold Hill church Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock, with the Rev. C. E. Lichty, Twin Falls, delivering the sermon. Interment was in the Normal Hill cemetery, Lewiston. Pallbearers were five brothers and a brother-in-law: W. H. Whybark, Quentin Whybark, Raymond Whybark, Freeland Whybark, Arlie Whybark and Earl Gaskell.

He leaves to mourn their loss his wife, Mrs. Viola Whybark, and a 14-months-old son, residing at their home in Lapwal, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whybark, five brothers, W. H., Quentin, Raymond, Freeland and Arlie, all of Gold Hill; two sisters, Mrs. Earl Gaskell of Canada, and Miss Elsie Whybark, at home.

Prayers were offered by Rev. Ruth Leland, pastor of the Gold Hill church, Rev. Ralph W. Bolick and Rev. Geo. Calvert. R. W. Seters of Lewiston, rendered a solo, "Nothing Between." The trio composed of the Misses Vera Fix, Thelma Davis and Ruth Frisbee of Juliaetta sang two numbers, "Some Day We'll Understand" and "It Is Well With My Soul." The singers were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. S. Taber, also of Juliaetta.

The esteem in which the deceased was held was manifested by the many tributes of beautiful floral offerings.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the Kendrick business men who offered cars; to the singers and pianist; to those sending flowers and to neighbors and friends for kindnesses and words of condolence. Mrs. Viola Whybark and son, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Whybark and Family.

May Have Special Legislative Session

Boise—Requests for a special session of the state legislature to consider liquor and relief problems were increased by three Saturday, and another point, the housing problem, was included.

Governor Barzilla W. Clark was confronted with a letter from Gem county commissioners, Mayor C. D. Bucknum of Emmett, and the American Citizens' Protective association.

The letter sought chiefly a session of the legislature to make Idaho available for funds under the Wagner slum-clearance act, and to set up a housing commission under the act.

It was doubted if there were sufficient slums in the state to warrant such action, and Idaho has not received any funds from FHA during the two years it has been operative.

The state has passed no laws authorizing municipal housing authorities.

On the other front, this time from the democratic side of the state legislature, doubt was expressed that the present house and senate would ever pass laws legalizing sale by the drink of liquor.

Senator Alvin H. Denman, Bonneville county democrat, said he believed a special session of the legislature would be more likely to result in absolute prohibition instead of further liberalization.

This would probably happen, he said, unless sentiment of the legislature has changed since last winter.

An Extra-Hour

Polls in Maryland and Pennsylvania show a majority opposed to daylight saving, notwithstanding that it provides an extra hour to strike.—Detroit News.

Alkens-Wittman

Miss Agnes Alkens, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alkens, and Joe Wittman, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wittman, both from Cavendish; were married at the Orofino Methodist parsonage on Wednesday, August 18. The wedding was a surprise to friends and to their parents. They are making their home at Orofino.

They were tendered a rousing charavari on Sunday, August 22, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alkens.

KENDRICK SCHOOLS ALL SET FOR OPENING SEPT. 6

The Kendrick Schools will open on Monday, September 6th, at 9 a. m., for the purpose of registration and to notify the students of the necessary books and supplies needed for the beginning of the term. School will be held for half the day on that date and regular classes will start on Tuesday morning. School will start, for a time at least, at 8:50 a. m.

There will be a meeting of the teachers at the school building on Saturday morning to get the necessary arrangements made for registration and other details worked out for the school year.

A registration fee of $2.00 will be charged high school students and will be paid at the time of registration. This amount will include a ticket good for all school activities in athletics and will also include admission to five entertainment features which will be held throughout the year. These programs have been arranged so that all students may attend.

There is one place available where a girl may work for part of her board and also a few rooms where students may "batch." These rooms are in a private home with good surroundings. Any other information concerning these places may be obtained from Mr. Lyle at Phone No. 462 or 422.

It is requested that all students be on hand Monday for the registration so that all may be cared for on the opening day.

Visit At Eichner Home

Mrs. Kenneth Hunter, Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Eichner and daughters of Palouse, Mrs. Bertha Eichner, Lewiston and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Simpson and daughters of Craigmont, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Eichner and family at their home on American Ridge. Heinrich Eichner accompanied Mrs. Hunter to Spokane, where he will spend several days and then return to Long Beach, Calif. for the winter. Mrs. Bob Krguse and daughter of Spokane, who spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Wm. Cox and other relatives. They accompanied Mrs. Hunter as far as Moscow Saturday morning, returning to Spokane with her Sunday evening.

Three Homes Sold At Juliaetta

According to news coming up from Juliaetta, three homes have changed hands in that place recently. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, Potlatch, having taken possession of the William Kingen property which they purchased; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell have purchased a home from Mrs. Grace Stinson; and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hughes have purchased the property occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Carlson from Frank and Ary Erwin. They plan to take possession Oct. 1.

Changed Residence

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg and family have moved from the west part of town to the Plummer residence.

It is next to impossible to find a place to live in Kendrick, which also seems to be the case in all other towns and cities. Where everyone lived before the depression is a mystery that is still unsolved, but there doesn't seem to be a house of any description that can be rented.

Grand Master Visits

Earl Bushnell, grand master of the Odd Fellows lodge, was in town Saturday night and a special meeting was held in the Odd Fellows hall, where he was welcomed by a goodly number of the local members of the order.

Mr. Bushnell was entertained in the Ramey home Saturday night, going from here Sunday to Elk River, where he took part in an Odd Fellows picnic and celebration.

Buy it in Kendrick.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER — INQUIRY MORE ACTIVE

Wheat markets tended somewhat firmer toward the close of the week ended August 27, but corn declined with improved crop prospects and increased offerings of new grain, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A more active inquiry in the cash market as a result of improvement in the flour trade, was an important strengthening influence in the domestic wheat situation, but firmness in foreign markets as a result of continued dryness in Argentina and the strained political situation in the Orient was also a factor. Beneficial rains with lower temperatures improved prospects for corn. Oats and barley were steady to firm as marketings decreased and demand broadened.

Despite somewhat firmer markets at the close of the week, considerable uncertainty prevailed in the general wheat situation. Prospects of abundant Russian crops with sizeable exports and continued dull European trade, were weakening influences, which were overshadowed by the critical political situation in the Orient and continued dryness in Argentina.

A Russian crop as large as that of 1935, which was officially estimated at 1,132,000,000 bushels is now forecast by trade agencies, with estimates of probable Russian exports of 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels. During the past five years exports have ranged from 2,000,000 to 34,000,000 bushels.

Military activities at Shanghai have prevented arrivals of local wheat and shipments of flour and have resulted in almost complete inactivity in wheat and flour markets in that area. Mills, however, have continued to operate in a small way and flour stocks at Shanghai were reported ample for current needs for several weeks with wheat supplies sufficient for an additional two or three months requirements. Local wheat was quoted nominally at the equivalent of 97c per bushel but no quotations were available on foreign wheat. Flour was quoted at $1.20 per bag.

Domestic cash wheat markets strengthened toward the close of the week with some improvement in the flour trade following recent declines in wheat prices. Marketings of spring wheat increased materially with 2,731 cars received at Minneapolis and 2,297 cars at Duluth. Only about half of the Minneapolis receipts graded No. 3 or better since about 55 per cent of the arrivals had test weights under 55 pounds. The crop in general also shows fairly good quality from a milling standpoint. At Minneapolis, September futures advanced 2½c for the week and closed August 27 at $1.16.

Durum prices advanced more than bread wheats with the Duluth September futures up 5c and closing August 27 at $1.02½. About 60 per cent of the Durum receipts at Minneapolis graded No. 2 or better. Mills were active buyers of the current offerings and the better milling lots sold at 10c to 15c over the Duluth September futures.

Canadian markets gained less than United States markets with pressure of new crop offerings and a slow export inquiry weakening factors. Threshing was well under way in Manitoba with yields reported mostly good but with quality lower than last year. Cutting was almost completed in Saskatchewan with yields running from less than seed requirements to as high as 25 bushels per acre in the better areas. Harvesting in Alberta has been delayed by rain and dry weather is needed to hasten ripening of the crops. Receipts at Winnipeg during the week totaled 2,837 cars.

Marketings of winter wheat continued to decrease with a total of 2,293 cars at the principal terminals. A good demand prevailed from mills, elevator interests and industrial buyers and prices strengthened. Most of the soft winter wheat continued to grade No. 3 or lower at the principal terminals. At the close of the week No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Kansas City at $1.07 to $1.12. No. 4 hard winter sold at $1.00 to $1.05 and No. 4 soft winter at 98c to $1.02 per bushel. At Chicago premiums on contract grades were increased 1c per bushel with No. 2 hard winter quoted at $1.12 to $1.15½ and No. 2 soft red winter at $1.09 to $1.12. At St. Louis No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at $1.10 and

Killed Black Bear

B. N. Emmett and Ed. Nelson brought a fine black bear to town Wednesday just after noon which tipped the scales at 275 pounds. They were going after a load of grain above Cameron and spied Mr. Bruin "shinning" up a pine tree near the Wes Lowe place as they went out, and when they came back he was still there, so they went over to the John Schwarz place and procured a rifle—and brought the big black gentleman back to town with them.

He was properly dressed, or undressed, and placed in the cooler in the Thomas creamery for future reference.

If you trade in Kendrick your dollar has a good chance getting back to you again. Out of town—no!

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER — INQUIRY MORE ACTIVE

No. 4 at $1.04 to $1.06½. Receipts of No. 2 and No. 3 soft red winter remained light.

California markets were rather irregular. Prices declined 1c to 2c at San Francisco, as a result of a slow inquiry both from millers and feeders. Growers were mostly limiting marketings to wheat still in the field but offerings were difficult to place as Bay region mills were purchasing only limited amounts.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were somewhat more active although offerings at current values continued light. Little interest was apparent in malting types from both local and middlewestern interests. Arrivals at Portland during the week totaled 12 cars. Inquiry from feeders continued fairly good and prices held unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 bright western, testing 45 pounds per bushel, quoted at Portland on August 27 at $1.37½ per 100, sacked basis.

Pacific Northwestern oats markets were steady, reflecting the firm holding tendency of growers who were reluctant to sell at current prices. Feeders were showing an inclination to substitute feed oats and barley for commercial feedstuffs at prevailing prices. Offers to growers in the Willamette valley were around $1.00 per 100 and No. 2 white oats testing 38 pounds were quoted at Portland at $1.15 per 100, sacked basis.

The Big Prize Fight

The Farr-Lewis prize fight Monday night gave the entire country the surprise of its life when it learned at the end of 15 rounds that the "Brown Bomber" had met his match in Tommy Farr, champion of the British Empire. It was one of the best battles of its kind that has taken place in the United States in many years, if there is any best to what some people might call brutality. However, if the fighters like the emoluments derived well enough to have their faces and bodies look like fresh hamburger — well, that's their business.

There were evidently many in the large crowd that thought Farr should have been given more points, although it was generally conceded that the "Bomber" out-pointed him. Louis was given eight rounds, Farr five, and two were called even.

Summer is always bad enough with its dog days and hay fever without congress sticking on the job.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—This is dog-gone funny weather. First hot, then cold. Frosted beans and beans not touched—but anyway, old bossy didn't get frostbitten, so why worry about that? She is one sure-fire money producer if you give her half a chance. Let her produce—bring the cream to us and take the cash home, or, better yet, buy what you need from the local stores.

We believe we manufacture the finest butter you ever tasted. We want you to try it if you are not already a user. Get it either at the creamery or at the local stores.

As a restraining influence, "conscience" gets a lot of credit that really belongs to cold feet!

A note to Teacher: Miss Brown: You stop teaching my Lizzy fistic torture she needs yet readin and figgers mit sums more as that if I want her to do jumpin I can make her jump.

Janey: Mother, is it correct to say that you "water a horse" when you give it a drink?

"Yes, dear, that's right."
Janey: "Well, then, I've just milked the cat."

opportunity of a lifetime. Aside from a few miles of roads which touch the borders of the area, access by means of motor vehicles is impossible. For those equipped to fly, however, three Forest Service landing fields at Moose Creek, Shearer and Fish Lake are available for use of the sportsmen.

Pack trips into the area can be arranged with local guides and guide ranchers.

For the purpose of thinning overcrowded elk herds in the area, 1,500 hunters will be given the privilege of shooting one elk of either sex. Applications, accompanied by a fee of $1.00, must be mailed to the State Fish and Game Warden at Boise, Idaho. A public drawing will be held on August 30 in Boise, and the first 1,500 applications drawn will be honored. In the event less than 1,500 applications are received prior to the drawing, applications thereafter will be honored in their numerical order to complete the number. Fees paid by unsuccessful applicants will be refunded.

Sportsmen taking part in the hunt will not only have an excellent chance of "bringing home the bacon" but will be actively contributing to the welfare of the herd. Due to an acute shortage of winter range and heavy concentration of elk on the area, thinning of the herd is immediately necessary.
