ATTY. GENERAL TAYLOR WRITES OF STATE PROBLEMS

In the last article I called attention to the fact that frequently when times are improving, labor is forced (mistakenly written "first") to engage in strikes to recover the standard of wages laid aside during hard times. However, during good times wages are occasionally lowered, especially for those engaged in seasonal occupations, by reason of poor management and sometimes by design. When the time for fruit picking, pea picking or other crop gathering arrives, it is a common practice of employers, chambers of commerce and other organizations, to create the impression in other states that there is great need of harvest laborers in Idaho. The consequence is that many unemployed persons leave their homes and spend all of their money to bring themselves and families to Idaho, for the purpose of obtaining employment. In many instances two and even three times the required number make application for work and the counties and local charitable organizations are forced to take care of the new-comers for whom there is no work. Wages are forced down for the Idaho laborers who should have received the benefit of the work to be done, and the state is burdened with the care of the unemployed.

There is no real excuse for such a condition. The advertising for such extra help, when it is necessary, should be handled through the office of the Labor Commissioner and handled in such a way that only the necessary amount of temporary labor would be brought to the field of activity. It seems remarkable that our state government should, year after year, see such an invasion of outsiders, gaining nothing for themselves and injuring men and women who are helping to build up the State of Idaho. This is only one instance of the benefits that could be obtained through the Labor Commissioner's office. Other things are the conditions that prevail in lumber and mining camps where people are frequently compelled to live in unsanitary and wretched conditions never contemplated and not to be tolerated in a land so blessed with resources as ours. Politicians and economists seem unable to understand why the people of this great republic should ever tolerate such political ideas as Communism and Fascism, in view of the opportunities which we are taught to believe confront every citizen of our country. In recent years such opportunity has been restricted to the possible chance of obtaining a square meal from day to day. It cannot be expected that our working classes will long be content when deprived of the reasonable standards of living which flourish regularly in the oratorical flights of politicians at election time only.

A working man or woman has every human instinct which animates a millionaire, and unless a certain number of such natural urges are satisfied, there is likely to be discontent, strife, and even danger. It is all very well to condemn a man by calling him a Bolshevik or a Fascist, but when any of these systems will offer to our people a greater security in their employment, a larger percentage of the goods which they create, and more leisure for the enjoyment of life, the working man will care little what it is called. He cannot be blamed for seeking and endeavoring to secure a more abundant living for himself and his loved ones.

I am not endorsing any of the above mentioned European excrescences and I do not believe in any of them. I think this is the best country that has existed or is likely to exist—provided that it is conducted in such a way that all of its citizens will receive just consideration and fair treatment. Those entrusted with the authority and power of government would do well to consider the value to any nation of the contented and happy working class.

Re-Shingling Home

Lester Crocker is busy during his spare time from the Kendrick State Bank working on the roof of his home, where he is laying a new shingle roof. Mr. Crocker, like many other Kendrick residents, has made many improvements about his home. Most Kendrick people take pride in keeping their homes looking their best.

Return From Hunting Trip

Archie, Warney and Walt May returned Monday morning from a big game hunting trip into Canada in search of the wily moose.

They bagged one of the big boys but owing to warm weather and lack of refrigeration, were unable to bring back but one hind quarter of the meat, giving the rest away. They reported all could easily have killed, but did not dare to because of inability to care for the meat during the warm weather. They said that garden stuff had not even been frosted in that section.

MISS MARGARET LIEN WEDS RAY O. CLICK

The following item was handed us last week too late for publication: "At a pretty wedding Sunday, September 5, at 2 p. m. at the Big Bear Ridge Lutheran church, Miss Margaret Lien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lien, became the bride of Ray O. Click of Usk, Wash. The Rev. Arthur L. Swenson, of Our Savior's Lutheran church read the ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

Just prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Crystal Carper sang, "At Dawning," and as the bridal party entered the church Miss Edna Aas played the Lohengrin march. Miss Alma Aas was bridesmaid, Mrs. M. Morton, maid of honor, and Robert Click, a brother, best man.

The bride wore a becoming gown of pink taffeta with finger-length veil, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses. The bride's maid wore a blue organdie gown with a corsage of roses, and the matron of honor wore a cream lace gown with a corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms and tables were decorated with flowers in pink and white. After a several days' trip they will be at home in Spokane.

Returns From South

Herman Schupfer returned Monday morning from a week's trip to Arizona and California points. Leaving Kendrick on Saturday, September 11th, in company with A. Wilmot, an old-time Kendrickite who had been visiting friends here, he went to Tempe, Arizona, Mr. Wilmot's home town, by car. After a short visit there he went to Los Angeles by train and from there to Portland, Oregon, riding one of the big air-liners that ply the Pacific coast, making the trip to Portland in just six hours. The distance is 955 miles and the big 21-passenger plane whizzed along at an average speed of 165 miles an hour. From Portland he came home by train, arriving here in just 25 hours from Los Angeles.

On their downward trip they stopped at Buhl to see the "sunken canyon," or whatever they call it. He said that most of the newspaper stuff you read is "bosh;" that while there is considerable ground that has sunk down, there isn't an inch of it that ever had anything on it but sage brush, so far as they were able to see. It costs 25 cents to get inside the fence the farmer has erected around the patch of sunken sage brush and he is making more money than if he had been farming all this time.

Barnum was right.

1937 Tax Levies Fixed

Tax levies for 1937 have been set by the board of county commissioners to total 19.58 mills. These were based upon the $13,872,000 assessed valuation of county property and will raise necessary money for four funds.

Following are the funds and their respective levies: Hospital and indigent, 3 mills; current expense, 4; school, 7.88; state, 4.7. Amounts to be raised by the four in order listed are: $41,616; $55,489; $109,313; $69,000.

Total of last year's levies was 12.54.

Games were played and a good time was had by everyone.

The fifth and sixth grades have formed a hobby club of hiking.

The Junior class is now choosing a play, which they will present some time in the near future.

Horned Toads On Display

Lester Crocker has on display at the Kendrick Garage three fine specimens of horned toads, set to him Tuesday evening by Harry Ameling, from Arizona. They are said to be of the smaller variety, and look like they might be a cross between our toad and a lizard. But horns and stickers they have—lots of 'em. The reptiles could well fit into the song so popular a story time ago, "Pink Elephants."

The cooperative is expected to embrace approximately 9000 consumers.

P-T. A. MEETING MONDAY NIGHT VERY INTERESTING

The P-T. A. held its first fall meeting in the H. S. auditorium on Monday evening.

There was a short business meeting in which it was decided to continue membership in the National P-T. A. and the setting of dues at 50c per person.

The objective or project for the coming year will be the securing of as much playground equipment as possible. The school has made arrangements for more complete leveling of the playground. With that complete, cinders will be spread over the entire surface. Don Lyle, Agricultural instructor, offered his help and that of the F. F. A. boys to set up old equipment and a committee was appointed to see about securing a slide.

Mr. Holsington gave a short talk on the prospects for our school band. The students are very enthusiastic, but there is a shortage of instruments. He stated we could have a forty-piece band if six more instruments were obtained. Anyone knowing of a horn of any kind that is not in use, please get in touch with Mr. Holsington, for we are very anxious to give every student interested an opportunity.

Mrs. R. L. Blewett, chairman of the program committee, gave an outline of the program for the year. Supt. Lyle gave an interesting talk on traffic safety, admitting our traffic problem was excessive speed on the school hill.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee in the D. S. room.

Putting Up New Signs

Edgar Long, village marshal has just finished the installation of two new "School, Slow" warning signs at either side of the Main street hump, which terminates the school house hill road.

Drivers in the past have been in the habit of flashing over the hump at high speed. This is especially dangerous, as it is the main school crossing of the town, and the warning signs were put there for that purpose. Mr. Long further states that these signs will be enforced—better watch your step or you may have a chance to contribute to the Village funds via. the Judge Lind route.

Miss Iome Reiman, public health nurse, has been ill the past two weeks and unable to carry on her work.

WHEAT MARKET WEAKER — REFLECTING SLOW DEMAND

Wheat markets turned downward during the week ended September 17, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Futures dropped to the lowest point of the season, reflecting slow domestic and export demand and some improvement in wheat prospects in the southern hemisphere. Feed grains were steady to firm with smaller marketings, and an active inquiry for current receipts.

Exporters were the principal buyers and sales were mostly from storage stocks. Offerings were somewhat heavier at Chicago but cash premiums were generally well maintained and cash prices followed the changes in futures. No. 2 hard red winter was quoted at $1.08 to $1.11 and No. 2 soft red winter at $1.06 to $1.10.

Prices at Portland dropped about 1½c per bushel with hard white (Big Bend bluestem or baart) quoted at 93½c, dark hard winter at $1.03½, soft white and western white at 98½c, hard winter and western red at 94½c and local northern spring at $1.13½ per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, sacked. Country marketings dropped sharply and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled only 675 cars, consisting largely of consigned grain. Local demand was limited and only occasional lots of high protein grain were sold to California. A small move, mostly of hard winter wheat, was reported from interior points to Minneapolis and moderate sales were made for export. Sales of 1,000 tons to United Kingdom and 3,000 tons to Rotterdam were reported. Flour sales to the Philippines totaled 4,312 barrels with the indemnity payment September 17 at 10c per barrel.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets continued to display a steady tone with trading and movement considerably heavier, receipts for the week at Portland totaling 81 cars. A considerable portion of the current receipts were malting barley. No. 2 bright western weighing 45 pounds per bushel was quoted at Portland at the close of the week at $1.37½ per 100.

Pacific Northwestern oats markets remained steady although trading and movement at Portland were light, only nine cars arriving during the week. On Sept. 16 No. 2 white oats weighing 38 pounds per bushel were quoted at Portland at $1.15 per 100, with No. 2 gray oats nominally quoted around $1.30 per 100, both sacked basis.

Another Big Double Bill

Patrons of the Kendrick Theatre have been getting their money's worth with double bills, and again on this coming Friday and Saturday nights they will have another big double bill, one of which will be The Jones Family in "Big Business." Fired with the get-rich fever, America's favorite Jones family launches its ship of dreams to sail a sea of oil, when suddenly the boom goes "bang." If you ever bought any phoney oil stock you know just how the Jones family felt. It's the most human adventure in happiness these lovable folks have ever brought to the screen. It's a wild-cat oil boom for dad—but a gusher of laughter for you.

The other feature picture will be Ralph Bellamy in "Wild Brian Kent," adapted from Harold Bell Wright's "Recreation of Brian Kent." A big and thundering drama of the west with a brand-new kind of he-man hero.

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Here it is with harvest almost over—and more than ever time to think of winter income—and you can be assured a good one if you will properly care for your cows.

Butterfat has been climbing steadily in price while wheat and beans are dropping—so why not cash in on that rising market at our place of business?

Remember—there is no fuss or bother. We care for it all—even to returning a steam sterilized can—ready for use without even bothering to wash it. Try us.

"Ah sho' does pity youu," said the colored pug to his opponent as they squared off. "Ah was bo'n wid boxing gloves on."

"Mabbe you was," retorted the rival, "An' you is gwin die de same way!"

"At the masque ball last night my girl represented the firm she works for, and she was dressed in a ninsurance policy costume."

"I'll bet she looked pretty nifty too, didn't she?"

"I'll say—there were only one or two things the policy didn't cover."
